THE KEEPERS OF THE GARDEN ("Imprinting" in the Spirit World)

11/3/93

QUESTION:

Jack Manuel, from Paramus, New Jersey, sent in some copies of pages, all of which I'm not going to read, from a book called Keepers Of The Garden, and he wants me to ask some questions about it. It relates to the concept of "imprinting," which he says: "To my opinion it is a valid one, which could explain how several entities could claim to be an incarnation of the same person."

The Keepers Of The Garden is written by Dolores Canon, and is published by Ozark Mountains publishers, in Huntsville, Arkansas, and evidently it's one of these question and answer things where they're communicating with some spirit entity beyond the veil. And the questioner asks this spirit:

"Have you had very many lives on this planet earth?" And the entity replies: "This is my first physical life, my first true incarnation on this planet. I have had imprints from many others and been assistant to others. However, this is my first true physical incarnation on earth."

And the writer, the questioner asks: "Wait a minute! What did he mean by that? The imprinting?" And he adds: "The other ones we discussed were not real?" And the entity replies: "They were imprints and assistances. They were not true physical incarnations."

And later on the questioner asks: "Would this explain the question of parallel lives, two lives apparently occurring at the same time, overlapping each other?" And the entity answers: "Yes. This is how the paradox or the contradiction arises about parallel lives. It is simply a matter of acquiring societal experiences: law, regulations, customs, in order to carry out effectively in one's incarnation."

And the questioner asks: "How is it decided what imprints you are going to have or someone else is going to have? Are certain imprints chose for certain individuals?" And the entity responds: "The imprint is determined by what the incarnation's goals are to be. For example, if one were to become a leader, a president, for example, one might have imprints from various levels of leaders, from tribal leaders on up through possibly past presidential leaders on up through possibly past presidential leaders, maybe a mayor, maybe a leader of thieves."

"If the emphasis is on leading, many imprints of a leading nature could be used, so when the entity is familiar with the aspect of or the idea of what the job of leading is. There is also the secondary and tertiary advantage of learning humility, patience, fun and entertainment. All of the multitude of experiences are in these imprints."

The questioner asks this spirit; he says: "This is causing me confusion. Are you saying that there is no such thing as reincarnation as we know it?" and the entity replies: "Let me say there is a progression from body to body. There is also the imprints. Someone may have lived actually five lives, but yet have the experience of 500. It's a combination of effects."

And the questioner says: "In other words, that is information you have at birth, and it's utilized by you during your lifetime." And the entity replies: "The imprints are complete at the time of birth but extra imprints are also available whenever necessary. This would be"Um, well, these pages don't appear to be in order, but the basic question Jack Manuel asks is if there is any validity to this imprinting concept? Would Awareness go into it and expand on it, please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in the Development Classes that this Awareness has given for Its ministers, It has effected an exercise referred to as the Transpersonative Technique. This is an action in which an entity attunes to the energy of another. It is likened unto looking at another entity, and psychically moving into contact with that entity, whereby you experience looking out of the eyes of that entity, back toward yourself or out toward the world as seen by the entity.

This Awareness indicates that most people can experience transpersonative activity by visualizing themselves, imagining themselves looking out of the eyes of another person. Visualize the eyes that you look from in your imaging as being the eyes of that other person, and looking out at the world from the eyes of that person you will find that in doing this, not only can you imagine what it looks like outside of the person through his or her eyes, but you will also begin to feel what the entity feels behind those eyes.

Your feelings will absorb an imprint of the entity's feelings. This Awareness indicates that in this sense you take on the feelings of the entity, you transfer your person into that entity long enough to experience that entity's experience and feelings. This Awareness indicates that this is not something too difficult for entities to experience and suggests that you may wish to practice this with a friend.

This Awareness indicates that in doing this, you can absorb for a moment the experience of another being, and you can, in this experience, live momentarily in the life of that other being, experiencing the feelings, experiencing the memories even of that entity, to some degree. Of course, the more this is practiced, the more pronounced is your experience. This Awareness indicates that for an entity to have such an experience would be akin to creating the potential for memories of past lives of that other entity, or at least of experiencing the life of that entity in present time.

This Awareness indicates that it is possible that an entity in a future incarnation might confuse a transpersonative experience, or what this entity refers to as an imprint as being a previous lifetime or incarnation, but this Awareness suggests that it is also a somewhat different kind of feeling from recalling one's own past-life experience and anyone who is capable of past-life recall is not likely to get these two experiences confused.

The Concept of the Split Soul

It is possible there could be some confusion however. This Awareness indicates that the concept of the split soul is more commonly the cause of a being having or sharing a past life with another, and the split soul can occur wherein an entity in his or her soul levels, his or her identification levels, splits into different directions, as with a schizophrenic person, wherein one personality or one aspect of the soul incarnates in a being, and the other aspects incarnates in a different being. This Awareness asks you to visualize, for example, the entity made famous in the story of The Three Faces Of Eve, wherein it was later discovered that there were quite a number of personalities, more than three.

This Awareness indicates that imagine if this entity were to pass away and these different personalities are now out of body, one might think they are still stuck together. This Awareness suggests, however, that these personalities, having come together to share the same body, leaving that body, are now free to go in different directions. This Awareness suggests that since these personalities shared that same body for a lifetime as three separate distinct personalities, three or more, consider what happens when each of these entities attaches to another being that is about to return to a new incarnation on earth.

Now you have three or more individuals, each claiming or capable of claiming to be the reincarnation of Eve. This Awareness indicates that indeed, the reincarnation of Eve is correct, and each is claiming correctly, for each could be that one entity, although each personality may have only experienced Eve individually, intermittently, while others were allowing the experience to occur. They took turns inhabiting her body.

This Awareness indicates that you cannot say that these three entities are false because someone else also is claiming to have inhabited her body. This Awareness indicates you may see from this example that several people can be the incarnated entity resulting from a previous schizophrenia, or previous sharing of the same body.

How Numerous People can Honestly Claim to Have Been Cleopatra or Napoleon or Other Famous Figures

This Awareness indicates that likewise, an individual such as Napoleon or Cleopatra may have had in a subsequent lifetime, some experience in which they became schizophrenic, so that another entity entered into their body, experienced their experiences and tapped in to the previous incarnation as Cleopatra or as Napoleon, and when these two split personalities reincarnate again, each one can claim to have been the reincarnation of Cleopatra or Napoleon, without falsifying, because each will have, on a subconscious level, the memory of the previous information of Cleopatra or Napoleon, depending on whether or not they could recall while in that subsequent incarnation, their life as Cleopatra or Napoleon.

In other words, Cleopatra would not have to be schizophrenic herself in her life as Cleopatra, but the incarnation of the entity in a subsequent incarnation might find herself locked in the body with an intruder who also made claim to the body so that a split personality in the subsequent incarnation of Cleopatra could present two entities, both claiming to incarnate back to Cleopatra.

Tuning In to Frequencies: How to Tune Into the Statue of Liberty

This Awareness indicates that these also are reasons for some entities to have a claim to Cleopatra, which is parallel or which is shared with others. This Awareness indicates that another way whereby entities often perceive themselves as having incarnated from another is by the tuning in to a frequency or collection of frequencies associated with an individual.

This Awareness indicates that entities for example, can tune in to the Statue of Liberty and visualize themselves standing there being the Statue of Liberty. You can feel the crown on your head. You can feel yourself holding the torch. You can even feel the fire coming from the torch. You can feel the wind blowing on you. You can hear the waves of the ocean around you. You can witness the ships sailing by. You can almost see out of the eyes of the Statue of Liberty.

This Awareness indicates that this of course is an inanimate object, but entities are capable of psychically attuning to such and to what it stands for, to its very vibration. You can even visualize yourself as a rock, and feel the vibration and experience of a rock. You can feel the seasons on yourself as a rock as the snow comes and melts, as the heat of summer comes to you and as water drops on you in rain, and you can understand the feelings and the vibration of a rock because you can experience that simply by psychically moving into the rock and viewing it from the inside out.

Tuning In to Socrates or Other Historic Figures

This Awareness indicates it is even easier for entities to tune in to an historic figure. Take the name Socrates for example, and what you know of Socrates. Visualize yourself standing outside the door of a building wherein there are people who have come to talk, and you are Socrates. You are standing there, concentrating on some philosophical idea and the snow is coming down, but you are so focused on your concept, you do not feel cold. You do not pay attention to the snow. You are simply staring at this idea, this concept, and attempting to understand it.

This Awareness indicates that you are Socrates, and you know that there are many students who are interested in speaking with you, and at the moment, you do not wish to speak to anyone. You simply wish to focus on this idea, this concept. And as Socrates, you notice yourself. You notice yourself standing, focusing, and you realize you are standing in snow, and snow is coming down and starting to stick on you, and you are covered, and you are white and you move and the snow falls from your coat, and from your arms, and you experience what it is to be Socrates.

This Awareness indicates that having attuned to the energies of Socrates so completely, you now understand Socrates, and when you move into your other self, you may be faced with someone who says: "Can you imagine what it's like to be Socrates?" And you can look at this person and say in all honesty: "Absolutely, I was Socrates once!" And you may even suspect that you had an incarnation as Socrates.

The Story of David Worcester Welcoming Jesus

Perhaps it was only an attunement to Socrates, but you may think that you were indeed Socrates in a previous lifetime. This accounts for many entities who focus on Jesus so completely and empathize with Jesus so completely that they wipe out for certain moments the memory of self. Because they are so attuned to Jesus they forget self, and when asked, they might even claim: "I was once Jesus! I can feel the thorns on my head! I know exactly what he went through! I am certain that I was once Jesus! I am the reincarnation of Jesus! I know from my OWN experience, from my own attunement to my past life!"

This Awareness indicates this has happened to a number of people, particularly entities who can focus so well as to attune to the Jesus vibration with completeness to such a degree that they totally let go of their own self in doing so. This Awareness indicates that there was once an entity who came to David Worcester with this claim, and he explained in introducing himself that he was the reincarnation of Jesus, and David, himself having experienced this same type of vibration, stuck his hand out, welcomed the entity and said: "Welcome to the club, Jesus! I am one of you too!"

This Awareness indicates that both these entities experienced having been a reincarnation of Jesus, but both of these entities were also capable of attuning to the vibration of Jesus, and thus, fooled themselves into thinking they were attuning to their own past-life vibration. This Awareness indicates that this is a common way whereby entities experience past-life vibrations erroneously, and attribute to themselves a past-life historical being, which may not in fact have been themselves, but to which they may have attuned.

Why So Many Napoleons Are Living in Mental Hospitals

There are many such entities in mental hospitals who recall having been Napoleon or some other great historical name, and much of this is simply caused by their having the kind of mind and consciousness that lets go of self-identity and attunes to some other historical figure which they admire or which they may even dislike. This Awareness indicates that this can be misinterpreted as a reincarnation from that entity.

It is not so strange that this would happen. If, for example, you were to be very tired and disoriented, having not slept for several days, or if you were on some kind of drug that affected your consciousness, either prescription or hallucinogen, and you saw yourself as a large Indian, and you recognized the Indian you were looking out at the world from as being Chief Joseph; is it not likely that you would think: "I must have been Chief Joseph in another lifetime. I can feel myself as Chief Joseph!"

It would be quite common for an entity to assume that he was the reincarnation of Chief Joseph, rather than simply that he might have slipped into the vibration of Chief Joseph for a second or so. This Awareness indicates in other words, there are several different ways whereby entities can get the impression of having reincarnated from an historical figure and whereby other entities might also have the same impression, so that a number of people could sincerely, if not honestly claim to be reincarnated from that entity.

Imprinting Direct from the Akashic Record

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION)

I'd like to read a little more from this book called The Keepers Of The Garden because it brings up some interesting concepts that haven't shown up before. The questioner asked: "Do you mean that some souls when they come into a life, rather than having lived these exact past-life experiences, they take from these imprints?" And the entity replies: "They can withdraw information from the Akashic records and imprint this information into their soul, and it will then be their experience."

Other researchers have said that the Akashic records contain no mention of time, only the record of events, emotions and the lessons learned." Does Awareness see that information as being valid?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks that you point out the part of the information that you are asking about.

QUESTIONER:

That they can take, they can extract, the new soul can extract information from the Akashic records and imprint this information into their soul and it will then be their experience.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. Essentially this is the same thing as tuning in to something, and the experience of the attunement then becomes the experience of the individual who attuned to that something. Thus, you can attune to a rock, experience "rockness" and experience the rain or the various happenings to the rock, and it will be your experience also.

What Exactly Is the Akashic Record?

Essentially, the Akashic Record is simply the collective memory of the vibrations and the memories of the events that are recorded in the vibrations. Therefore, if you attune to someone's vibration under a particular name or concept, you can extract information from that concept and have the experience of that concept.

In this way you can read the Akashic Record in regard to that particular concept. The reading of the Akashic Record is generally simply an experiencing of the vibration.

LIVING MANY LIVES ON A PLANET BUT NEVER BEING THERE

(QUESTION CONTINUES):

In this book, the questioner says: "Well, can you tell me how I can tell the difference when I do work like this?" And the entity says: "No. Because even I can't tell the difference. If I am in an imprint, that imprint is as real as if I had actually experienced it. All the emotions, the memories, the feelings, virtually everything about that life is in that imprint, so from my point of view, I would be unable to tell because I would be completely absorbed in the experience. This is the whole idea of imprints. This is the ability to live thousands, hundreds of thousands of years on a planet, and actually never to have been there before."

And the questioner says: "What would be the reason?" And the entity says: "If one were to come to this planet from another planet or dimension, without the aid of imprints, one would be totally lost. One would not understand customs, religions, politics, or how to act in a social environment."

"This is the necessity for imprints. In the case of Star People coming to this planet, there is no previous earthly experience of human existence in their subconscious. In order for this person to feel comfortable and at ease, there must be something from which to draw on and compare those day-to-day experiences which one is encountering. For if this were not so, the feeling of being totally out of harmony would be virtually present every single day, until there arose that time when one could look back and see some semblance of history."

"That is in the later part of life. However, the confusion and disharmony from having to experience this would negate any learning, for always there would be the disharmony, which all learning would have to filter through. All learning would be colored with this disharmony and would be, in effect, no learning at all. So there must be this imprinting to allow the vehicle to feel comfortable in his new surroundings and in those experiences which would be totally alien."

"For even such simple things as an argument would become so terrifying to the vehicle as to render him totally void. The Star People have no experience with anger or fear as you know it. It would incapacitate them. It would paralyze them. They would be totally traumatized."

Is that information valid?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is more or less correct; that it has much to do with patterns that entities are capable of recognizing either for the first time or gradually, over a period of time in a new environment. This Awareness indicates that an entity can come into a new environment and begin very quickly picking up on patterns, and patterns then can be recognizable as they repeat themselves so that the entity begins to learn and orient himself to the patterns so as to become capable of knowing what to expect next.

Recognizing Patterns to Get You Oriented Quickly

This Awareness indicates if you entered into a room which was totally foreign to you, you had never been there before, but found patterns appearing all around you in the room, supposing these patterns were nothing more than geometrical shapes, but they kept repeating and you saw similarities in the pattern, in the timing of their appearance, you would begin to feel more at ease as you recognized more and more of the patterns. It may not be any different from when you came in the room, but because you are recognizing the patterns, the rhythms, the appearances and disappearances of these patterns, you are beginning to know what to expect and in this action, there is a kind of stability.

The rhythm itself becomes a stabilizing force and the shapes of the patterns, when repeated, offer a kind of stability, even if they are in constant change. This Awareness indicates anything that repeats itself, maintains itself, or is presented in a similar pattern, creates for the mind that is observing the phenomenon a kind of hook to put its attention on and the mind can become more at ease as the patterns are repeated.

Why Young People Like Ghost Stories and Scary Movies

This Awareness indicates that a mind that has never experienced emotion or fear might be quite anxious and frustrated at the first sight of fear, but if the fear is repeated, gradually the mind gets used to it, until it is no longer frightening. This is one reason why often young people like to go to scary movies or like to tell ghost stories to one another. They are actually working on overcoming the fear that they are experiencing.

They want to be frightened, because they want to get through that fear, so that they no longer have it. Once they are familiar with a frightening scene, they know what to expect and it no longer controls them. This Awareness indicates that most young people, in facing a fear, want to face one that has a kind of control on it so that it cannot actually harm them and therefore, a safe distance from the actuality of a fearful event is what is ideal for these entities.

So, by watching a fearful event being enacted by someone else, or being enacted in a movie, allows them the safety of an observer rather than as a participant in a fearful event. Rather than fighting a gorilla itself, you will pay money to watch someone else fight the gorilla. Rather than wrestling with a huge snake, you will pay money to watch someone else wrestle with that huge snake, and thus, your fear can be gradually diminished by observing vicariously the actions of someone else facing your fear.

This is why many young people participate in watching fights. When they could perhaps help discourage entities from fighting, they will stand around and encourage the fight instead. It is partly because they don't want to experience the fight, but they want to diminish their fear of being hit by someone, by watching a friend or an associate get hit instead of themselves, so they encourage someone else to fight and watch vicariously from a safe place.

The Reason for Vicarious Experiences From a Safe Distance

This Awareness indicates that the imprint that entities experience directly or through vibrations of course is not the same as the vicarious experience, wherein entities step back and let someone else do the real experience, and they participate only as observers, vicariously, or with sympathy, or empathetic involvement. Thus, entities gather around to watch two large men fight and they visualize themselves as the large man fighting their opponent and their muscles twitch when a punch is thrown as if they were inside the body of that fighter and they feel it when the other opponent punches their man in the face; they may cringe slightly.

The twitching of the muscles in the entity, the cringing, the fighting that goes on subconsciously within the observer, indicates the entity is attempting to deal with the concept of such a conflict and visualizing himself involved in the conflict, and therefore, is vicariously experiencing what it is like to be in such a fight. This Awareness indicates that entities will pay money to have such a vicarious experience from a safe distance.

It is as though they are hiring someone else to fight their battle for them and their battle is that of facing a powerful opponent and these entities become symbolic of their own personal struggle in life. This Awareness indicates of course this is not precisely the same thing as an imprint, but it is a kind of reflection and is related to this same concept in a vicarious sense.

A Hierarchy of Spirits and a Huge Computer

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

One other thing from this book that brings up a question. The questioner, who happens to be a psychologist and hypnotist, asks: "Are you saying then that the energy of life is as though stored in a book, and placed in a library and is available to be imprinted into other peoples' lives if they so desire to use that information?"

And the spirit entity replies: "That is accurate. There is not a limitation on how many can use one particular life. Thousands of people could imprint the same experience simultaneously."

So the questioner asks: "So, it would be possible for me to regress more than one person to a particular life if it just so happened that the imprint was available to both individuals?" and the entity replies:

"This is true. The imprints are chosen before the incarnation. There is a method which is far too complex to understand, but you can say that there is a computer, a master computer which has access to all the lives, everyone previous, and so the information is fed in on what is to be expected of this life, and the appropriate imprints are then selected and overlaid. There is a hierarchy of spirits whose job it is to do this, a council which oversees this. They assist the soul. This computer, or council is given all the information regarding the mission and the past experiences of the vehicle from which to draw from, and so there is a choosing between that previous lifetime which has been deposited into the records, and a match between that which pertains and the experience which is about to begin.

"All memory, all thought, all senses, everything that a real existing life would have is there intact. It is a hologram, a three-dimensional summation of that lifetime. All experiences, remembrances, emotions, are imprinted into that soul and become a part of that soul. This information is then carried after the incarnation is over and is a gift from having lived in this realm of existence, and so then becomes part of the permanent record of the soul."

Is that information accurate?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates also, that such drawing from an imprint does not occur only or exclusively prior to entering into a body, but that an entity, in the middle of life in an incarnation, can look back on an imprint of an entity and draw from that entity into his middle life experience, such as an entity, for example, who might in mid-life run into a situation and say to himself: "I wish I had the strength of Abraham Lincoln. I wish he were here to help me!", and the entity can tune in to the vibration of Abraham Lincoln and believe and feel that Abraham Lincoln as a spirit is now entering into his work, into his body, and is helping to guide him.

Tuning in to Elvis for a Healing

There are many entities, for example, who attributed to Elvis Presley many kinds of influences in their lives. There are some who say: "Elvis Presley, though he has died years ago, has changed my life. His spirit came to me and altered my life!" And some have even claimed to be healed by the spirit of Elvis Presley. This Awareness indicates that this was because they draw on the vibration of the entity with a certain expectation and a certain belief that he had some kind of power to bring about a healing or bring about benefits that they needed.

This Awareness indicates that essentially what these entities did, was they drew upon the imprint of the entity's vibration and directed it to do what they needed it to do. This Awareness indicates therefore, entities can draw on concepts or on images or vibrations. The very basis of Christianity is built on this, drawing on the imprint or vibration of the entity Jesus and making these vibrations into those of healing their life spiritually, or health-wise or in other ways, according to their expectations.

Actors Patterns and "Conjuring Up Philip"

This Awareness indicates that not only do entities do this in reality, whereby they pull on some past pattern; in this case the word "pattern" is being used to describe an entity or a force or a vibration, but actors and actresses will do this also. They receive a script, the script will have a character; keep in mind that discussion this Awareness once had about the conjuring of Philip. Philip was nothing more than a concept. It had no reality. It was not a spirit, but it was a collection of attributes that were put together in a pile by people who sat around a table writing up attributes for this hypothetical character named Philip.

Now, these attributes were placed on pieces of paper to describe. Each attribute came from a different entity sitting around the table so that none of them had a clear picture of what Philip was, until after the pile had been assembled. Then Philip took on a personality that was based upon the attributes that had been conjured up or artificially created, and Philip then became a complete and real spirit.

This Awareness suggests that you visualize now an entity who is given a script whereby the writer or writers present this character and call him Philip, or you can call him Citizen Kane or whatever other name you wish for this example, and this entity creates in his writing of the script a character based on certain attributes which make up a pattern. This pattern is not an imprint from an historical character, but from a fictional character.

Actors Tune in to the Imprints of Fictional Characters

This Awareness indicates the actors are now asked to play this character, and other fictional characters that are also created in the script. The actors are capable of attuning to the vibration of the conjured up Philip, or of the artificially created Citizen Kane or of any of the other characters, whatever they may be, in terms of the attributes assigned to them. Basically the actors are tuning in to the pattern of the fictional character, for that pattern also has its vibration, its frequency, and this pattern becomes for these actors a kind of imprint so that they can take on the character, just as one might lie down on a mold and take on a printed pattern on the back of his or her cloak, and step up and carry that printed pattern with him in his role.

This Awareness indicates, however, that instead of a printed pattern, it is a personality pattern, a character pattern, and the entity carries this character on stage and portrays the character from the imprint that was taken off of the page of the script, onto the stage. This Awareness indicates that it is all basically the same principle. This Awareness indicates if you find yourself in a situation in which you need expert help, tune in to some expert, some authority in the field that you are dealing with and experience the vibration of this entity to gather the courage, the focus, the determination, or whatever other qualities are needed, and you will find yourself able to better handle the situation that you are faced with.

It does not mean that this will make you an expert in taxes or in legal situations, but if you are involved in a legal situation, tune in to the vibrations of some legal giant, or some giant in business, someone who has had great expertise in these concerns and you will find yourself becoming more confident and more capable of dealing with the situation, just because of the pattern of vibrations to which you have attuned.

Healing Yourself or Others by Tuning in to the Divine Healer

This Awareness indicates if you find yourself in some situation in which you are faced with health problems, by tuning in to the concept of a Divine Healer, and the vibrations of that Divine Healer, you may find yourself experiencing the courage, the faith that you yourself can be healed, and by tuning in to the Divine Healer and looking at your own illnesses from the vibration of that Healer, you may find yourself healing yourself, or healing another by the identification or imprint with that Divine Healer.

This Awareness suggests that It generally wishes to caution entities not to brag about healing abilities, but to do what they do. Talking about being able to heal can usually get one in serious trouble, but healing someone will not likely cause serious trouble.

Those "Miracle Healing" Evangelists: How They do It

This Awareness indicates that many of the miracles portrayed on the stage by evangelists in their healing shows are because they identify with the concept of a spiritual healer. They can pick up on and carry the imprint of Jesus as a healer, and holding that imprint or transpersonative vibration, wherein they feel Jesus operating through them, they can touch another and expect the healing, and the healing will often take place.

This Awareness indicates that if this entity begins taking credit for himself as a healer, the vibrations are no longer strengthened. The imprint is no longer as powerful because the entity is making these claims for himself, and the entity changes focus from the vibrations of the Healer, to vibrations of himself, and thus the healing vibrations become weaker and the entity finds himself without those vibrations.

Thus, a good healer would need to keep the image, keep the feeling of the vibrations strong, and this is why these fundamentalist healers must give credit to the concept and imprint of Jesus as the Healer, or whoever they draw from. This Awareness indicates that in doing so, they keep that vibration strong in their consciousness and the frequencies and vibrations of this Healer will act through them.

This Awareness indicates that the faith of the patient is not really as important as the faith of the healer. By faith, this Awareness means the expectation of the healer that is experienced because of the carrying of the imprint or transpersonative vibration with the Healer. In other words, the Healer takes on a kind of spiritual robe of vibrations of the imprint. The imprint is not a flat energy or pattern; it is more likened unto a collection frequencies forming a pattern for a particular purpose.

Thus, the pattern of Lincoln and what it stands for in consciousness is quite different from the pattern of Jesus and what the Jesus energy stands for in consciousness. If you want stability and poise and honesty, you draw on Lincoln. If you want miracles and faith and healing and compassion, you draw on Jesus for your energies and the imprint in which you clothe yourself.

Putting on Your Particularly Magic Robe to Do Your Magic

Thus, by taking on these vibrations of Jesus, or taking on the vibrations of Lincoln, you accomplish different ends, different purposes. This Awareness indicates that you can think of this as putting on your particular magic robe to do your particular work magic, if you wish to think of it like this, and it will be fairly accurate.

This Awareness indicates that it is a way of simplifying the concept so that you can experience the results of the event in a way that the mind can comprehend and understand. It is relatively important for the mind to have a pattern to follow in its methods of doing things.

This Awareness suggests therefore, in the future when it speaks of putting on your robe, your magic robe, you will understand that this Awareness is speaking of taking on the vibrations of some concept, imprint or pattern that allows you to perform the miracle you need.

Using an Imprint of Einstein and Surpass Him

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This idea of imprinting an entity before it incarnates for an earth experience is rather fascinating. Could this, for example, as I think it implied that in this book, that suppose somebody decided they would like to come down to the earth plane and become a nuclear physicist, for example, that would go beyond say, an Albert Einstein, and so before they come down, they would make an imprint of Albert Einstein, so they would understand this great thinker's theories and be able on earth to go beyond Einstein, using his information as a jumping off point?

Now, is this valid? Does this actually occur?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is a way whereby an entity can attune to certain frequencies and vibrations to gain the knowledge, to gain the wisdom, to gain understanding that will be used by the entity. It is a way whereby the entity's vibrations attune to the kind of physics, to the kind of concepts and gives the entity a propensity toward that type of thinking.

It does not mean the entity as a child comes in quoting Einstein or quoting formulas and theories, of $E=MC^2$, but that the entity has a tendency toward these things and is drawn toward this kind of study so that the entity might eventually understand Einstein through his desire to research these things and his compatibility with the concepts; and the entity might go on beyond these studies after having understood Einstein and his theories so that the entity eventually surpasses the work of Einstein.

Mozart Came Here With the Aptitude for Understanding Music

In other words, as with Mozart, the child did not come in with the understanding of music, but came in with the aptitude for the understanding of music, and the aptitude led him into a fascination, an obsession with music, and allowed the entity to learn music at a very young age.

This Awareness indicates if you wanted a child to become a great musician you could start very early imprinting the child with some great musician, telling the child how great this entity was, exploring with the child the music of the entity, and the very fact that you put your energies into this with the child, gives the child a special enjoyment because every child wants to be close to his parents, and the child will associate the music with the closeness to his mother or father and begin to think fondly of the music.

This Awareness indicates that then the entity gradually begins to absorb the vibrations of the master musician until the entity feels these vibrations as part of himself. The entity eventually will become more and more attuned to the vibrations of that master musician so that he cannot tell the difference between himself and the master musician, except by the work, and then he will begin to study the work, because his vibration is so much attuned to the creator of the work.

Gradually, the entity will learn what the master musician did to create and compose the work, and will begin composing on his own. This Awareness indicates in other words, give the child the vibrations that you want the child to explore, and the vibrations will lead the child into that field of study.

A Child May Become the Vibration You Surround Him With

This Awareness indicates of course, if the child is surrounded by vibrations of Ninja Turtles and receives nothing else, the child is likely to become obsessed with street talk and karate and possibly pizza. This Awareness indicates that if the child is surrounded by Ghost-Busters, then the child may take on some interest in the humor and the intelligence or pseudo-intelligence associated with the Ghost-Busters, and also with mystery and with the supernatural.

This Awareness indicates if the child is surrounded by vibrations of religion, then the child will take on a kind of vibration that reflects on the religion which has surrounded him. If the child is focused on violent movies, the child will take on the vibrations of that kind of violence and act it out accordingly. If the child is attuned to music or theater, drama, the child is likely to move in a direction of acting out scenes, creating humor or playing music.

This Awareness indicates it is simply a matter of the vibrations which surround the child, are picked up by the child and influence the child, just as food is ingested in the child to influence how the child grows physically. This Awareness indicates that there are healthy foods, there are combinations of food that help the child to be well-rounded (pardon the pun) and also to help the child be strong and healthy.

There are also vibrations that help to fill the child's life with a variety of experiences, with a variety of understanding, and if given in certain proportions, to direct the child toward a particular vocation. All that is necessary is to impress upon the child the vibrations that are important in directing the interest of the child. Thus, the impression that a child receives from a particular pattern, has its influence on the child. If the pattern is music, and with music the child gets an impression it considers ugly, it will not like that type of music.

Never Spank a Child Listening to Classical Music

For example, if while a certain type of beautiful type of classical music is playing, the child is spanked or abused in some way, the child will not like the music any more than he liked the abuse. Therefore, mixing negative vibrations with positive vibrations can only discolor the negative and positive vibrations.

This Awareness indicates in other words, give the child what you want the child to appreciate in a feeding that the child can't help but appreciate. By giving the child positive vibrations in a positive setting, the child will appreciate those vibrations and see them as positive, so that in teaching the child some particular lesson, for example, a piano lesson, the child needs to receive this in a positive situation, not in a situation wherein you strike the child's finger when the child hits the wrong note, not in a situation where you stand over the child with a ruler, and slap the child on the head when reading a word wrong. If you want to teach the child to read, make reading fun, make reading enjoyable.

This Awareness indicates so it is with all other aspects of teaching a child.

For an Actor Tune Into Your Character First

This Awareness indicates that in terms of theatrical use of these principles, the attunement to a character should be the first action of a good actor. Tune in to the vibrations of your character, to the feeling and frequency of the character as you perceive him or her from the script. Tune in also to the vibrations and frequencies of the other characters in the script, but not to the same extent as to your own character, but so that you can have a feeling for the other characters as viewed from your own character and his or her vibration.

Tune in also to the vibration of the script. How does it feel? It is a pattern. Read the script, recognize the pattern in the script, and all the ins and outs of the relationships between the entities, and tune in to that frequency or vibration, that collection of energy fields, then, once that has been clearly experienced as a frequency and vibration pattern, then tune in to your own character in a deeper way, in a more isolated way, as a kind of separate thing from the script, because all entities are somewhat separate from the life that they observe, and feel your character, as if it was part of you, as if it was in you.

This Awareness indicates, of course, if you have an extremely negative character, such as a serial killer, you do not want to become too obsessed with this kind of experience; you want to keep in mind that you are not the character. You need to keep a separation between real self, and play self, or character self. This Awareness indicates that in this way, you can play your character with more sensitivity and realism than if you are simply playing yourself, trying to be a character in a script.

By imprinting or attaching or putting on the clothing, the vibrations and frequencies of your character, you then enter the play of the script and your character falls in line with the character of the script.

Do All Souls Use the Imprinting Process?

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

In regard to an entity before birth imprinting itself so it can perform a particular job on earth or do something that it wants to do in the field of arts or invention or whatever, is this a very common thing or, let me rephrase that: Do all souls that reincarnate, do they go through this imprinting process, or is this imprinting process a rare thing for certain specific entities who want to accomplish something in their next lifetime?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is something that occurs more on an unconscious level with most entities. The action is not normally a formal method, but it is normally a method that happens almost haphazardly. For example, an entity may die, pass over and go into one of the bardo states, perhaps even into the Clear Light, then the entity may begin moving back toward reincarnation.

In the process of moving back toward reincarnation, the entity begins picking up some of the values which were discarded in terms of emotional and astral aspects of the entity's previous self, and the entity, still clinging somewhat to the Clear Light, begins taking on some of the aspects of self that have been discarded. In the process, the entity may also pick up some of the heroes in his previous life, the strong influences of his previous life, and impress these into his new soul expression as something desired, which he wants to take back with him.

Thus, the entity may have been impressed by his uncle, and take on certain qualities of his uncle. The entity may have been impressed by some major politician that he really liked and backed, and thus carry much of this appreciation into his new life, and in this way he is accepting the imprint of these entities.

The entity may not have had a great sense of appreciation for major history personalities, and may simply draw on his own personal experience from the previous life to incorporate certain people he knew into his new personality and new life, and thus when he reincarnates, he may simply be a composite of his uncle and the great politician he liked so much. These may be the qualities that are most impressed or imprinted on his soul in his new life.

In the meantime, as a child, he may get other influences that imprint their frequencies or vibrations on him to give him new appreciations and new vibrations which influence his life. This Awareness indicates that another entity, however, may have died and gone into the various realms, and begins to reincarnate, and in the process of re-drawing from his discarded astral and emotional shell those parts of himself that were important in his previous life, he may still have certain hungers or desires that he wants to perform.

Creating a Composite of Many Respected Entities' Imprints

He might, for example, want to become a writer or perhaps a news broadcaster, or perhaps some kind of national leader or leader of a certain group of people, and he may know that he still doesn't have the right qualities for that, and in his preparation for reincarnation he may think of the person he would like to be very much like, and he may decide that he wants to be very much like George Patton, and George Washington, and perhaps like Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson, and so the entity imprints these vibrations by simply focusing on them.

It is easier when out of the body to take on those vibrations than when in the body. Therefore, it is easier prior to birth to attune to those patterns that would be accepted by the entity, and he tunes in to these entities and he incarnates and has strong qualities that were once associated with these four entities.

This Awareness indicates that he may have taken on too much and he may have very strong qualities in himself that are at odds with each other, but the entity did what he thought was best, and therefore is stuck to work with these energies that are now a composite of imprints within himself. This Awareness indicates that if he can balance out the conflict within himself, he may go on to do great things as he desired.

Can One Forget his Imprinted Mission?

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

It's possible then for a soul that has been imprinted, to hopefully perform a particular service to humanity in its next incarnation...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

(FOLLOW-UP CONTINUED):

It is also possible then if the entity would find himself in the wrong family or the wrong environment, as Awareness suggested, the television mentality type, would this necessarily hold him back from his job, or is it possible he could totally forget what his purpose was because of this situation?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is unlikely. This Awareness wishes also to clarify something in this regard. It does not wish to give the impression that entities should not watch or enjoy the Ninja Turtles, or any other groups such as the Ghost-Busters. It was using this as an example. This Awareness indicates that it is not good to rob children of their play and fantasy.

When Children Identify with TV Characters

This Awareness indicates that the Ninja Turtle mentality may be quite important to these entities at a very young age, for it gives them a sense of personal empowerment. They identify with the Ninja Turtles or with the Ghost-Busters as heroes and in the process they feel stronger than they might feel if they had not had these entities as heroes.

It is a temporary thing, a temporary fixation of children and they grow out of it, but the personal empowerment stays with them, and as they grow older and face other types of conflicts and obstacles in their life, they may draw on this personal empowerment that they were given when they enjoyed as children the stories of the Ninja Turtles or the Ghost-Busters.

This Awareness indicates that It sees little or no harm in these Ghost-Busters or Ninja Turtle stories. They have the effect of giving the children self-confidence and personal empowerment. It is not these stories in themselves that could be harmful to children, but if the children learn somehow, or somewhere, to hurt others with their personal empowerment, then there is a problem.

The Vibration: Treat a Child Fairly and He Will Treat Others Fairly

This Awareness indicates that along with the personal empowerment, they also need to be fair, to be just, and to respect others. This Awareness indicates therefore, wherein they receive fairness and respect from their parents and from those around them, they also learn. There is vibration in their treatment at home, and that vibration becomes part of them, and the child who is treated fairly generally learns to treat others fairly.

The child who is treated with kindness and respect generally learns to treat others with similar respect and kindness. The parent who yells at the child, who hits the child, who abuses the child, teaches the child to hit and yell and abuse others who are smaller than him. This Awareness indicates that it is simply a matter of: What kind of vibrations are you handing your child? And this Awareness wishes to clarify the fact that a child's enjoyment of Ninja Turtles can be quite helpful to the child.

Even if you want to educate the child into physics or music or some other career direction, the very fact of having a little self-empowerment as a 3-year old or 5-year old is not going to hurt the musician or the physicist to come.

A Dysfunctional Family Raising Children

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

That was a poor example. I meant a dysfunctional type family, where there was nothing but confusion reigning, like so many families nowadays seem to...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that most entities come from dysfunctional families because most families are dysfunctional, partly because of the economic conditions in which most families must operate. There are very few families that have the right economic conditions for raising healthy children.

This Awareness indicates that even with the dysfunctional families, the main result of which is to raise children who are somewhat dysfunctional, but who insist on controlling others, the dysfunctional families can somehow survive when there is enough love for each other, or when the child can find someone out there who gives them proper love and respect.

This Awareness indicates that often these entities will need some kind of counseling or special assistance from professionals, if the family is extremely dysfunctional, but for most entities who are not in the extreme dysfunctional family, the child can overcome the difficulties of some very tough situations, especially if the child has been given some kind of self-esteem or a feeling of personal empowerment or a feeling of being loved by someone, somewhere.

Without Grandparents the World Would be Sad

(Even With Doting Indulgence It's Still Quality Time)

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that the world would be a very sad place for children without grandparents; that the grandparents often fill the need of children far more than most people realize. The grandparents are a kind of force in the child's life that appears in most instances to truly care for the child. The child will almost invariably have disagreements with the parent or the parents, and these disagreements are more easily remembered than the enjoyable relationship with the parent.

Many times the child will grow up thinking and remembering only the conflicts and forgetting the good times that were shared with their parents. Also, the child often forgets the sacrifice made by their parents, but because the grandparent does not have so much responsibility in raising the child, nor does the grandparent have to spend so much time with the child and all the potential annoyances that a child can bring, the grandparents can take the time with the child and make it seem much more of quality time.

The grandparents can dote on the child, they can give the child candy and cookies when the mother or father knows that candy and too much sugar makes the child hyper, or makes the child hard to get along with, or creates cavities which result in more expenses and so the parents generally will either deny the candy and cookies or will give it to them with a lecture or with some kind of hostile remark about the candy or cookies; yet the grandparent gives the child the candy or cookies with a loving smile that just makes the child so happy, and recognizes the grandparent as being such an angel.

This Awareness indicates that this kind of doting does have a beneficial effect on the child, even if the child does get more cavities from it, because the child knows that the grandparent at least recognizes his greatness as a child, his wonderfulness as a child, and the grandparent then becomes a kind of verifier to the child of his great worth.

This Awareness indicates that this of course is very important to the child because every one knows that the grandparent is the parent of the parent of the child, and therefore, since parents know everything, the grandparents must know even more than the parents who don't seem to appreciate the child as much. This Awareness indicates that in this way the grandparents have a very special role in raising the child by giving the child a special form of self-esteem.

The mothers and the fathers of course may view this as "spoiling the brat."

The Importance of Good Questions

OPENING MESSAGE: (2/27/94)

This Awareness indicates the questions in this series of readings as those which were of a good variety. This Awareness suggests that entities continue to send in good questions; that this is often a problem when the right kind of questions are not available. This Awareness indicates the questions are as crucial to the readings as any other elements.

This Awareness appreciates those entities who can and who do take the time to send in questions to be asked. This Awareness suggests that in some cases entities, without realizing, may send in questions that have already been presented and in some cases these questions may have been missed by the reader or questioner in previous readings.

This is not a situation in which the editor is negligent about asking a question for a reader, but one in which he is aware that the question has already been asked. It is not to be taken as an insult or as the editor being negligent in asking the question. Generally, the editor is aware of the questions that have been asked, and is appreciative of questions that can be restated or re-asked in a different way.

This Awareness indicates that if the questions had already been asked, they will not likely be asked again, unless the editor thinks there is a different way of asking or a way of getting a different viewpoint on the subject. This Awareness suggests therefore, if you can send in further questions for these readings it will be appreciated and unless the question has already been asked, it will, in all probability be asked for you at the appropriate time.

AN INCREDIBLE DISCOVERY INSIDE THE GREAT PYRAMID

QUESTION:

There was an interesting article in the November/December 1993 issue of Ancient Skies which is the official publication of the Ancient Astronaut Society. I'd like to read a little of this and ask Awareness to comment. It's called "Sensation Inside the Great Pyramid" written by Erich von Daniken. And he writes:

"The videotape playing in front of me is well worth 4 million dollars. It shows the greatest sensation in the last 1200 years! In 821 AD, Kalif Abdullah al-Ma'mun, son of the famous Harun al-Raschid, sent a raiding party to the Great Pyramid of the Pharaoh Cheops at Giza near Cairo, Egypt. After an incredible amount of effort and pain, the men hacked a passage into the thousands of years old stone structure. It is the same passage which tourists today use to enter the pyramid.

During the last 100 years, Egyptologists have thoroughly explored the inside of the Great Pyramid. Were there still secrets? Still hidden channels and passageways and obstructed chambers, as claimed by old Egyptian records? "No," the experts stated. "No more dreaming."

But now the German Engineer, Rudolf Gantenbrink (born 1950), succeeded in a stroke of genius. Gantenbrink constructed a sophisticated robot, a small caterpillar-like vehicle, with a lot of electronic, laser beams and a built-in miniature video camera. Technical support for the project was supplied to Gantenbrink by the Swiss firm ESCAP in Geneva (specialty motors), HILIT AB in Vaduz, Liechtenstein (drilling techniques), and by the GORE Company in Munich, Germany (specialty cables). Gantenbrink's remote-controlled robot moved like a voracious miniature monster through one of the narrow passages leading from the Queen's Chamber towards the top of the structure. The beam from the headlight at the bow of the robot illuminated scenes which no humans have seen for at least 4500 years. Cheops, the supposed builder of the pyramid, ruled from 2551 to 2528 BC.

Meter by meter the technical miracle worked its way past smoothly polished walls, overcoming small accumulations of sand and natural stone, and then, after the incredible distance of 65 inclined meters from the Queen's Chamber, there was a sensational find—a broken-off piece of metal was lying on the floor! Never before has metal been found inside the Great Pyramid. Shortly thereafter, the robot's camera caught some kind of sliding door which had obviously led into the shaft from above. In the middle of this door were two metal braces, one of them partially broken off. Gantenbrink steered the robot toward the door and aimed the laser beam at the lower edge. The beam disappeared under the door. This was proof that the sliding door was not firmly resting on the floor. The path of the robot, however, was now blocked.

Until now the Egyptologists have assumed that the quadratic tunnel, with sides measuring only 20 cm, had to be an air shaft. That illusion is gone. One of the puzzles of history, hidden at least 4500 years ago, is behind that mysterious, closed metal-plated door.

In 1987 a highly qualified team from Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan, X-rayed the Great Pyramid with electronic equipment. As a result, the Japanese succeeded in locating a whole maze of heretofore unknown corridors and chambers. The Egyptologists did not take the Japanese readings seriously, but now with Gantenbrink's precise video recordings, their position will have to change. Although Rudolf Gantenbrink succeeded in making a sensational discovery, he is not seeking publicity. His concern remains in preserving antiquities. He would like to lend new impulses to archaeology and wants to make archaeological research once again attractive."

QUESTION:

The article goes on and on. He states that the Archaeological Institution calls the discovery complete rubbish, and what the tunnels found were merely air shafts and the mini-robot had only been used to measure humidity. It was known that the Great Pyramid did not contain any other chambers. And it is, generally known that every treasure in the pyramid has long been plundered. "There is no chamber behind the door!" other so-called authorities said. Anyway, would Awareness comment on this expedition with this mini-robot? Is this fiction or is this true? And what is behind the door?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there appears to be a room of some size. It appears to be that which would allow entities to walk within that room. This Awareness indicates that it appears there are certain artifacts from earlier times that were placed in that room. This Awareness indicates that it appears there is indeed a piece of what appears to be metal; that this has come from a ship used by aliens at the time of their assistance in the construction of the pyramid.

This Awareness indicates that these entities, in the construction of the pyramid, were perceived as gods or divine entities from the heavens who had come down to earth, and these entities were perceived as having great wisdom. In fact, it was their blueprints and their guidance that helped put the pyramid together.

Cheops Not the Builder of the Great Pyramid

This Awareness indicates that Cheops was not the builder. He was a political Egyptian figurehead at the time who helped organize the people for the task at hand. The technology used in the building of the pyramid was in part human and in part alien technology. This Awareness indicates that within some few years, more information on this room will come to light as more sophisticated robots are created for other forms of exploration in that room.

This Awareness indicates including a camera for the robot.

The Hitat Manuscript: Is the Information True?

(Who was Hermes and What Role did he Play)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

There's another part, later on in the article I'd like to question on. It talks about "Kadir ben Mohammad al Makrizi (1364-1442) had compiled into his work Hitat. In Hitat one can read things which strike us like fairy-tales from the 'One Thousand and One Nights.'

For example: "Then the builders had put 30 treasure chambers of colored granite into the western pyramid, that were filled with rich treasures, with instruments and picture columns of precious stones with equipment of fine iron, like weapons which do not rust, and glass you can fold without breaking, with strange charms, various kinds of simple and mixed medicines and with deadly poisons."

And who should be responsible for the building of the pyramids according to the Arabian records? In Hitat it is reported "The first Hermes was called 'Trinity' because of his function as prophet, king and wise man. It is he, called Henoah by the Hebrews, son of Jared, son of Mahalalel, the son of Kenan, son of Enos, son of Seth, the son of Adam and he is Idris. He read in the stars that the flood would come. In order to protect his belongings, he had the pyramids built and hid treasures in them, learned writings and everything else he was concerned about that could get lost and disappear.

The record that the Old Testament prophet Henoah (Enoch) might be the same person as, on the one hand, the son of the god Hermes, and on the other hand the progenitor of the Arabs, Idris, is very exciting. It could hardly be pure fantasy, otherwise Henoah would not have been listed with all the names of his ancestors. In addition, Henoah (alias Idris, alias Hermes) is not named as having built the Great Pyramid in Hitat alone. The Arabian explorer and writer Ibu Battuta (14th century) is assuring us of the same:

"Henoah erected the pyramid before the flood, in order to preserve in it books of science and knowledge, as well as other valuable items."

Exactly on target, however, is the 12th Century scholar Muhammad ben Abdallah ben Abel al-Hakam, who wrote: "In my opinion the pyramids could only have been built before the flood, because had they been built after it, mankind would be informed about them."

Can Awareness comment on that information?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the information appears to be accurate as an evaluation of the interpretation in terms of references to the names as indicated. This Awareness indicates that it also assists in helping to show the origin of some of the Old Testament teachings and Scripture.

This Awareness indicates it appears there is considerable amount of research that has been done in regard to this and this will serve to fill in many blank spots in the knowledge available. This Awareness indicates that it appears the information will come to light and be accepted more as time goes on.

This Awareness indicates the means of preserving information in those times fell mostly on the scribes and priests and those priests often were not made privy to all information available in cultures other than their own. Much of what they wrote of was taken from other cultures, and in some cases, the transcriptions would be altered slightly, either for purposes of clarification, or of changing the language, or of making the information appear to be more compatible with other similar writings of the time. Therefore, there were often some discrepancies in terms of names or in terms of times and places. This Awareness indicates that small discrepancies of this kind do not necessarily imply that the scribes were speaking of some other time, place or event, for often the story or the situation is nearly identical, though the names may be altered slightly from one story to the other.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

The predicted flood is significant as implied here as the reason for building the pyramids?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this does appear to have a role to play; that if the flood was well-planned prior to the event, it may certainly have been part of the plan to build the pyramids so that ships navigating could have a clear landmark at a future time, and know from those pyramids, directions of other areas of the known world.

The Flood was Intentionally Created by Aliens as per Sitchin

This Awareness indicates of course (this refers to the references by Zechariah Sitchin and others that the flood was intentionally created by extraterrestrials who wanted to destroy the creation of man and start over. This Awareness indicates that the new prototype of man had not met the complete approval of some of these aliens, and there were those who wanted to destroy that prototype and start over, creating a new prototype of man.

The purpose of man's creation by these entities was to use the energy of mankind for mining and for other chores dictated by the alien culture. This Awareness indicates that by creating a flood, which would be based on melting the ice caps, the aliens could then destroy a great portion of mankind and weed down the number to an amount of people who could be more easily controlled.

The Role of Hermes Thrice Blessed

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This article, which claims that in Hitat, it is reported the first Hermes, who was called Trinity because of his function as prophet, king and wise man. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that later interpretations referred to Hermes as Thrice Blessed, or Blessed Three Times. This is in reference to the same information, but is worded in a somewhat different manner. Continue.

QUESTIONER:

Well, I was going to ask: They call him a "god" here, and I always thought that Hermes was a myth.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears there was an original entity of alien origin who used the term Hermes as a descriptive term or name, and that following this entity's presence and place or mark in history, there were many other entities who used the title 'Hermes.'. It was, likened unto a title of importance such as "Lord" or "Mister" or "Sir" or likened unto the term "doctor" in reference to a philosophical PHD doctor.

This Awareness indicates it was not as though the term meant anything specific, but was applied to people of great wisdom and great authority in terms of having ability or authority in a particular culture. This Awareness indicates that this Hermes title has been used by a great number of entities. In some cases it was bestowed upon them by those who saw the entity as having a great purpose in life or in society. They were more or less given a doctorate or a Hermes title.

This Awareness indicates that others were given that name just as a child might be given a name which included "Junior" or some specific qualifier. This Awareness indicates to call a young child Hermes would mean that the young child was under a certain kind of tutoring to make the entity grow to be a very wise person with very high education.

This Awareness indicates that usually, the entity adopting the name Hermes would have studied long, many years under the tutoring of someone very wise, who could give the child that kind of necessary training that might lead him to serve as a king or Pharaoh or some person of high rank.

This Awareness indicates in other words, the term "Hermes" had different applications, according to different times in history. At the time of the building of the Great Pyramid, it was given to the name of one of the great architects who was of alien origin, and at the time later, when Egypt was thriving, the name would be used as an entitling name to signify a person of great honor and intellect.

This Awareness indicates that later it became a more common name that could be applied to any person without interference from authorities. Thus, a child might be named Hermes simply because the parent liked the sound of the name or thought it was a good name for their child; that it implied an honorable child. This might have taken place over a period of several thousand years where this name was being used for certain purposes, or purposes would be eventually nonexistent other than as a name that pleased the parent.

Hermes Trismegistus: Who Was He?

QUESTION:

Is this Egyptian Hermes the same Hermes Trismegistus?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Trismegistus means thrice, or three times blessed.

QUESTION:

He was the one to whom they credit the Hermetic philosophy?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This entity had certain training from the extraterrestrials who were involved with the building of the pyramids. The entity Hermes Trismegistus was the offspring of alien and human parents.

QUESTION:

He was one and the same as this Egyptian Hermes we've been reading about here?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is the Egyptian Hermes. This Awareness indicates, there was, however, a Hermes who was totally alien in his origin. This entity appears to have been of Sirius origin and this entity had a child of a human mother, and the entity was later known as Hermes Trismegistus, or hermes the Three Times Blessed.

"DIGITAL HEALING"—HOW EFFECTIVE?

QUESTION:

A question from Gunnar Z. in Ohio. He writes:

"The Bio-Magnetic Education Foundation of Marcos, Colorado, trains people how to heal others, but not self, by touching certain designated areas of the body using the index and middle fingers of both hands.

Their specific procedures to heal specific problems are very effective and use only the fingertips and nothing else. I have read that such methods of "digital healing" have been used by the Rosicrucians, adepts and healers throughout history.

Also, some past writings prescribe a specific hand and fingers for treating specific ailments. Please ask Awareness to comment on the effectiveness of the procedures the foundation employs, now called the TRIOM(sp) method, and whether or not the fingers used make a difference in healing."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this relates very closely to the Chinese acupuncture system and its various meridians. The meridians also are effectively involved in the healer himself, for each finger is a particular meridian on the lines that run through the arms and down into the hands.

This Awareness indicates that in taking a certain finger, certain types of energies are transported to the chosen place on the subject's body. This Awareness indicates that essentially, the method makes use of the meridians on the body of the patient and on the body of the healer, so that for different reasons or different particular healing needs a certain finger might be used by the healer, touching a certain spot on the patient to effect a kind of situation necessary for a proper healing.

This Awareness indicates of course It can't go into all of the details because it is much too complicated and there are countless variables in terms of which spot to touch with which particular finger, but this Awareness suggests that this is the general principle of this type of healing and it does appear to be effective.

After Death Being Taken on Board a Starship

(The Book "Angels In Starships" Says It's True)

QUESTION:

A question from Kate R., in Arizona. She writes:

"I probably would never have asked a question like this, except for some information Awareness has given recently on Ron Rummel which gives it some validity. "Over the past couple of years, I've read most of Colonel Windelle C. Stevens books, partly through my interest in UFOs and partly because he lives and works in Tucson, Arizona.

"Recently, I came across a copy of "UFO Contact From Angels In StarShips," 1990. It covers two UFO cases. Angels In Starships by Georgio Debitonto, a little known manuscript on an early Eighties contact with extraterrestrials. It may give some substantiation to contactee George Adamski's much scorned story of the Fifties.

"The second half or last, really, of Steven's book is "We Met The Space People: the story of the Mitchell sisters, by Helen and Betty Mitchell, originally published by Saucerian Books, of Clarksburg, West Virginia. I've not read the Mitchell Sister's book yet, but it was nice to read of positive contacts in the first section.

"One point that was mentioned in Angels In Starships is that upon death when entities pass through the tunnel and into the Light, that some souls are immediately taken aboard ships to be transported to other realms. Recently a new acquaintance of mine was nearly killed in an accident near Santa Fe, New Mexico. She had already had contacts with Arcturians, she claims, and when found with no heartbeat and two-thirds blood volume gone, had a near death experience, she attributes her survival and fairly rapid recovery to "being taken aboard the ships."

"I would like to ask Awareness if people crossing over do sometimes enter flying craft, or if that is just a modern perception of the death experience?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is a very rare circumstance, but it does occur. This Awareness indicates that when such entities do move into these flying craft, they are generally moved with full memory of previous life experiences into a different dimension. They are very seldom brought back to earth.

QUESTIONER:

Well, that sounds suspiciously like some of the so-called "Space Brothers" information they put out back in the Fifties.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. That in some instances this occurs.

"Lunar Sex"—You can Choose Boy or Girl

QUESTION:

There's a book called Many Moons by Diana Burton. I spotted an interesting little thing called Lunar Sex. I'd like to read this and ask Awareness if this is valid information.

"The moon has always been said to determine the sex of a child. Eugen Jonas, he of the lunar contraception, found that he could predict a child's sex with considerable accuracy, according to the moon's position in the sky at the time of conception.

"If intercourse was in a "male" sign of the zodiac (e.g., Aries), the child would be a boy. If in a female one (e.g., Taurus), it would be a girl. He apparently told 8,000 women who came to his clinic at what phase of the moon they should conceive if they wanted a child of a particular sex, and 95% were successful.

"According to Lyall Watson, the reason could be that the moon produces changes in the earth's magnetic field which in turn influences the semen and sorts it out into some kind of polarity."

Would Awareness comment on that please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the information regarding the selection of male or female sex of the fetus is correct. The only problem involved is that often entities cannot be sure when conception took place. This Awareness indicates that the analysis that this somehow affects the semen is not precisely correct. It affects the aura around the semen and egg as they come together.

This Awareness indicates the aura or magnetic field as that which carries the influence and vibration that determines the outcome of the child. The semen and the egg involved in the fertilization are but physical carriers of the aura or magnetic field. Without the aura and the magnetic field, the semen/egg connection would be simply dead tissue.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Well, it seems like 8,000 women came to this clinic and they had their baby according to schedule. This would appear to be almost a fool-proof method for people...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates however, you cannot always be sure that the conception will take place at the time you choose. In this sense it is not necessarily a fool-proof method. It will increase your chances greatly. This Awareness indicates that it does not appear that the 95% success rate is always correct. It appears that the average success rate for this kind of effort would be closer to 80% because the conception might not take place every time an entity attempts it.

Did a "Walk-in" Take Mary's Place During the Conception and Birth of Jesus?

QUESTION:

A question from Gloria K., in Gresham, Oregon. It conflicts with information Awareness gave years ago, but with all the changes, meaning all the information coming out now, anything is possible, so I'll read this question. She writes:

"Another question for Awareness, as I have never seen this mentioned in any of the readings: Is it true that when Mary was to conceive Jesus, she decided she could not go through with it due to her beliefs, so a "Walk-in" took her place, during the conception and birth?

"After the birth, Mary returned. The Walk-in then walked back out. The Walk-in was the, what has been termed "Twin Flame of the entity" ..—"Angel" that impregnated "Mary" (the Walk-in). If this is true, the truth would probably never be accepted by the masses. It may even not be accepted by the consciousness of Paul who interprets.

"This is what was told to me by another channeler and then verified by those of which I speak. Yet, I am curious as to what Awareness will say, for I always check and double-check, and in this case, triple-check information. I was told Joseph was aware of the truth of this conception."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there are many aspects to this question. This Awareness indicates that Joseph was made aware of the approach of the angel in the manner of conception, and approved because he saw this as a representative of God, and also knew that he was himself incapable of giving Mary a child.

The Angel who Impregnated Mary was an Extraterrestrial

This Awareness indicates that in reference to the word that was not deciphered, this was referring to the angel that impregnated Mary. This Awareness indicates that the angel who impregnated Mary was essentially an extraterrestrial and that is the basic story of the entity in her impregnation and the birth of the Holy Child.

This Awareness indicates there is an aspect of interest here in that it broke, in a symbolic sense, at least, it broke the blood-line of Adam, his sin to have an angelic father, for no human participated in the fathering of this child, and according to the understanding, man was 'born in sin' as a result of his father's sins, in this case, going back to the time of Adam, who had fallen from grace because of his disobedience to God.

Thus, the child would be more pure, since the blood-line contained no contact with any fallen man, and was angelic in nature. This Awareness indicates this was the argument. This Awareness indicates that in reference to the entity's other part of the question, relating to the Walk-in, this is not seen as being valid. This Awareness does not see the Interpreter as having any fear to pronounce this as valid if it indeed were, as the questioner implies.

This Awareness indicates It just does not see this as being valid. It sees this as a conceptual idea, grabbing from different sources: the concept of walk-ins, the concept of Mary not wanting to give birth, and it being a good way to describe how with her reservations, she could be bypassed by having someone else enter her body to conceive the child.

This Awareness sees this as a clever fantasy but does not see any reason why there would be any great controversy among metaphysical people about accepting such a concept, but this Awareness simply does not see this as being correct. It is a clever idea, but it is not seen as correct, nor is it seen as necessary in any way other than perhaps someone wants to believe this. What is the point? What does it prove? Does it have any significance?

This Awareness sees no real significance in its truth or lack of truth, but this Awareness does not see it as true.

THE TALMUD OF JMMANUEL (JESUS) —HOW VALID IS THIS INFORMATION ?

(All About the "Multiple" Jesus's and Their Roles)

QUESTION:

A question from Arthur Horn, Mt. Shasta, Calif. I can't extract the question without reading the entire letter. He writes:

"Dear Awareness, I'd like to ask about the Talmud of Immanuel. The Talmud was supposedly written by Judas Iscariot, a disciple of Immanuel (or Jesus) who, according to this document, did not betray Jesus, Immanuel, and was the only disciple that could write.

This document was supposedly found by Eduard Billy Meier and a friend, with the help of Meier's Pleiadian friends. The Talmud of Immanuel claims to be the true teaching of Jesus, Immanuel, and contains many events of the life and teachings of this entity, that vary considerably with the canonized Gospels of the Bible.

"For example, Immanuel of the Talmud has clear connections to the "Celestial Sons," ETs of the Pleiadian variety. Immanuel did not die on the cross, and he lived several years in India after the crucifixion. Overall, Immanuel of the Talmud impresses me as much more powerful, logical and believable spiritual than the Jesus of the Bible.

"You have commented, and it is well known to scholars, that the life and teachings of Jesus were distorted considerably by the church fathers of the early church. I know you have commented on the entity Jesus several times, most recently in issue # 420. In this issue you state through the Interpreter that Jesus did not die on the cross and imply that he and friends escaped to Europe after the crucifixion as argued in the book Holy Blood, Holy Grail.

"In the past you have commented favorably on the work of Billy Meier and his Swiss Pleiadian friends. (Now we get to his question!) Does the Talmud of Immanuel represent the true life and teachings of Jesus, Immanuel, as it claims, or is it but another clever attempt to distort the truth about Jesus, or are we referring to "multiple realities" with regard to the entity Jesus?

"I would be most grateful if Awareness would comment on the authenticity of the Talmud of Immanuel."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that you are talking about multiple Jesus's. This Awareness indicates the name Jesus was not really applied to this entity until the Council of Nicea, the Constantine-directed council which was directed to put together a composite religion for the Roman Empire which later became known as the Holy Roman Catholic religion.

The Biblical Jesus was a Composite of Many People

This Awareness indicates that the entity Jesus as presented in the Nicean Council's final composite was one who was made up of many different individuals. This Awareness indicates Krishna became a model for part of the story of Jesus, and Jesus of Nazareth became another part of the composite. This Awareness indicates that when It speaks of Jesus of Nazareth, the name at the time was not Jesus. It was Josephus.

This Awareness indicates that likewise, Immanuel as another name for one of the so-called Jesus's. The entity was a composite of many different holy people of the time and these various religious sects were ordered to come together and form one Holy Roman religion, and the name they chose after the story was compiled was the name Jesus, because the name meant "Neither He Nor She," but "It."

There Were Many "Christs" Before Jesus

This Awareness indicates Jesus is a non-sexual name. It was intended to be neutral. And the name Christos was a title. It had been used from the time of Atlantis to imply a holy man, one who had been Christed or crested. There were many Christs before Jesus. This Awareness indicates that the name Jesus Christ is not even that which was used in the Council of Nicea, for it is an Anglicized name, as though Jesus were the first name and Christ were the last name.

This is a modern distortion. It was earlier known as Heysoos (phonetic spelling) the Christos, or the Christed man, Heysoos. This Awareness indicates that in other words, yes, there was one of these entities who went to live in India, and one of these entities who followed into the Western direction, who crossed over to Spain and France and went to England.

Jesus and Mary Went to England Protected by Templars

This Awareness indicates that the entity who went to England was directed and carried and protected by the Templars and this entity went with Mary Magdelene. The story of the entity who befriended Mary Magdelene and became friends with Joseph of Aramathea was the story of the entity who later became described in Holy Blood, Holy Grail.

This Awareness indicates that this movement of the Holy Blood, Holy Grail scenario was designed as a way of protecting the holy family and the blood of the family, and the entity's offspring through Mary Magdelene. It is not the same entity as described in the New Testament, for the entity in the New Testament was a composite of various entities.

Apollonius was the "Jesus" Who Went to England

This Awareness indicates there is another entity who has been mentioned previously whose name does not come clear at this time, who performed many of the deeds attributed to Jesus, about whom the story was written (Apollonius of Tyana Ed.) and this was the entity who went to India and lived out the remainder of his life in that area. This entity's name is not seen at this time, but has been discussed previously by this Awareness.

QUESTIONER:

Apollonius?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. Apollonius; this appears to be of Tyre. This Awareness indicates that the aspect of the story whereby Jesus was said to have been born of a virgin and crucified on the cross was taken from the story of Krishna, who was born of a virgin, came into the world to save man from his sins and was finally crucified for his efforts. The cross was an alteration of the story of Krishna.

The Influence of the Helios Religion

This Awareness indicates there was also a religion at the time of Rome, the Helios religion, which was a sun-worshipping religion, and this added the aspect of the "sun of god with 12 disciples." The Helios religion had a sun and 12 signs, and the 12 signs became the 12 disciples in the Christianized version of this religion which was added together to compose a common religion for Rome that would incorporate all of the religions to their satisfaction.

The Holy Family's Treasure Is Buried on Oak Island

This Awareness indicates that the entity who traveled from Nazareth, who was the son of a carpenter; this entity being protected by the Templars, later known as the Masons, fits in the category of Masonry, wherein carpentry and Masonry are equivalent, as basically the same thing, and the carrying of this entity into a protected society, bringing the family through Rome and up into England, and eventually over to Canada, to Newfoundland and that island known as Oak Harbor, wherein the treasure that was carried by this Holy family lies buried.

The Blood-Line of Jesus in Canada and in Oregon

This Awareness indicates that these Templars helped to bring many of the concepts of Christianity onto the shores of Canada and inland, long after the principles had passed on. The principles of this blood-line moved into Canada, particularly in that area of Montreal and over into British Columbia and down to the city known as Oregon City. The offspring from this family set up a major post or church through the work of Father Blanchette.

This Awareness indicates that there were others scattered along that trail who were members of the family carrying the blood-line in an effort to keep the blood-line alive, as though it was something sacred.

This Awareness indicates that it may have been given greater significance than necessary, but it was a very sober aspect of Templar concern, and to this day, there are many who know about this blood-line and who come together every so many years; this is approximately every 60 years to determine where the blood-line has gone and to determine where certain artifacts are to be kept.

This Awareness indicates it is taken quite seriously. Even though the Templars no longer exist as an organization, and even though Free Masonry is an offshoot of the Templar movement, these energies are still being nurtured.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

So, essentially the book the Talmud of Immanuel is what it claims, and it is not an attempt to distort the truth about Jesus as she asks in the question.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates it is, however, not the absolute full story of the New Testament Jesus, which this Awareness has given in synopsis form. There is more to it than just the Talmud, and more to it than just that which was given in Holy Blood, Holy Grail.*

WHO IS "RAEL" AND WHAT IS HIS SOURCE OF INFORMATION?

QUESTION:

A question from Jack Manuel, Paramus, New Jersey. "The French entity Claude Vorilhorn (aka: Rael) the founder of the Raelian movement, claims that he has been taken to the planet of the Elohim and entrusted with a message for mankind. He tells all about this in his book The message Given To Me By Extraterrestrials.

"His Raelian Movement centers are located in Canada and the United States and he appeared several times on the Geraldo Rivera TV show." (I'll read the questions, cause they all sort of tie in together, and then go back and ask them).

Question: "Is this entity a fake or is he telling the truth about himself?"

"Is he bringing a false message or a true one? Did he really make contact with the Elohim, as the Elohim were identified by Awareness in previously readings? Or has he really contacted the Greys and the Reptoids who are masquerading as the Elohim? This entity writes: "There is no God, and no human soul which escapes the body at the time of death!"

And he put the emphasis on mankind as being created scientifically in laboratories by the Elohim. Apparently he is mixing falsehood with some truth and he is at the service of the Rockefellers and the Rothschilds and the likes. Would Awareness be so kind as to clarify this point?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the entity does appear to be reflecting teachings that he has received from the Reptoids or the Reticuli or the Orions, in that they, too, do not believe in a soul, partly because they do not have a soul, so to speak. This Awareness indicates that the soul is a magnetic field which carries the Life Force for the human body and which carries the memory of past-life experiences as previously mentioned.

Much of this is in archive condensation forms so that it is not easily retrievable. This Awareness indicates, however, that the entity appears to have some sincerity in his beliefs. He believes in those programmings and indoctrinations that he has received, and the entity also is aware that some of his message is distorted truth, but does not disclose this fact.

This Awareness indicates that It did not suggest this as preferred reading or as required reading for it is mostly misinformation. This Awareness indicates, of course, there is some truth in some of the information the entity gives, but it is only there to substantiate what you already know and cause you to think: "Yes! I realize that's true! Therefore the rest of his message must be true also!"

This Awareness indicates that the pertinent parts of his particular message do not appear to have any real substance and appear to be designed to mislead and misinform readers and followers.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

THE CONCEPT OF EVIL

OPENING MESSAGE:

6/12/97

This Awareness indicates that the Law of Love just given, should be communicated on a regular basis to the membership, with the understanding that love is the essence that denies 'evil', and that although man is capable of apparent 'evil' acts, that this is attributed to the limitations that he's placed upon himself within the cultural realm of his knowledge.

This Awareness indicates that there has been a preponderance of fear and disempowerment due to the concept of 'evil' which has become unwieldy and out of hand, and has been given much more power and energy than it in fact deserves. This Awareness indicates a returning to that close affinity in which 'evil' is denied; for 'evil' as it is defined does not exist outside of the realm of human culture, but in the mind of man.

This Awareness suggests that entities reconceptualize their place in the universe; place the faith and the trust in the love that they experience and that they embrace, and internalize the tenets of the Law of Love.

There is no further opening message.

Can a Person Attend His Own Funeral?

QUESTION:

A question from Vera K., in San Francisco. She writes: "A lady recently advised me that her departed mother comes to her in dreams and gives her advice on problems and so forth, which are helpful to her. One of the things she was told was that when a person passes over, they are given permission to attend their own funeral.

"Is this true? And could Awareness expand on this subject?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there is an energy state, transitional, which can be lingered within at the Will of the entity, wherein a tremendous amount of freedom to interact with the physical realm from a different perspective is a likely choice. This Awareness indicates that many entities upon their passing, attune to the emotions of loved ones and seek to instill comfort and appear to them in dreams and inspirations, communicating and impressing upon them with their energy the fact that they still exist in some alternate form.

This Awareness indicates that many entities, however, become so enthralled with the totality, the wonder, utter bliss, that awaits them at a higher energy level, that there is not the over-emphasis upon the lingering for many entities, but that the choice remains within the power of the Will, which maintains its connection to Spirit throughout the evolutionary transition to a higher state of vibratory existence.

This Awareness indicates that entities who have experienced a predominance of negative emotional energy, who are disconnected with the meaning of such energy and how it is intended to direct the attention to the belief systems within the individual and effect needed change; it is often misunderstood and ignored, allowing a preponderance of negative emotional energy to become the dominant factor, motivator and probability attractant in an entity's lifetime.

This Awareness indicates that such entities, upon passing, exist in this material state of a vibratory level which is slower and more dense that causes for the transitory process to take more time. These entities are often in this transitory state, still maintaining emotional connections which are perceived and come across as what has been perceived by living entities as 'spiritual presence,' 'ghosts,' 'poltergeist' activity. It is the emotional energy from such individuals that underlies this phenomenon.

This Awareness indicates that Ms Kondratich's information was based on a particular emotional level of her relative upon passing, together with the choices she opted, and her enjoyment that she experienced while on the physical plane, to embrace the last few moments of physical experience through the emotional system before entering higher vibratory levels and moving on.

When a Departed Loved One Calls Your Name

QUESTION:

Another question by this entity, which may have been answered by Awareness just now, but here's the question: "What does it mean when one hears a departed loved one call their name? Is the departed person trying to tell a relative that everything is fine and not to be concerned? Or are the departed souls lost and having a problem in transition?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in these particular situations it is usually the Will of the entity, no longer oriented in physical existence, communicating or helping facilitate an understanding that the embodied entity has challenged himself to obtain. This Awareness indicates that there is usually a karmic relationship between entities in addition to the overall totality of oneness that constitutes All That Is, but that particularly loved ones are those entities with karmic ties and tacit, if not verbal agreements on some levels, to facilitate each other's development process.

This Awareness indicates that such communications are quite common, with the receiver receptive usually in dream states, and in subconscious enlightenment, illumination, creative impulse, and that oftentimes the tie itself, the communication channel itself is important for the entity to communicate to the embodied entity as a reminder that such communication is possible, necessary, and resonant to their relationship.

This Awareness indicates that from the perspective of the disembodied entity, there is a painful awareness of the enmeshment and entanglement of physical material realm and the mind of man, such that there is emphasis and desire to give what can be likened to a swift kick in the pants to those entities so enmeshed in that part of their consciousness which is embodied in physical form.

This Awareness indicates that entities nearing the end of their physical existence become attuned more to the higher energies of disincarnate loved ones. Messages often become much easier to heed, such that audio-clairvoyance and imagery can provide a more direct communication than more ordinarily when entities are more mired within their day-to-day living challenges, operating upon their cultural knowledge base, acting upon habit and not accessing the higher levels of intuitive energy available to them.

This Awareness suggests that entities pay attention and attune to such signals and communications, and become comfortable with the mechanism at work, such that they will become more attuned to Universal Energy itself.

There is completion.

When Does the Soul Enter the Body?

QUESTION:

Another question from Vera; "It has been given when the personality enters the body, but when does the soul enter the body? At birth or conception?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is some distortion do to the many multiple definitions and concepts of such terms as 'personality'. The concept of soul is more universal, as an enduring or permanent quality which is often likened unto the spiritual realm, much moreso than the definition of personality which contains many conflicting ideas throughout the many possible usage's of this particular term.

The Concept of "Personality"

This Awareness seeks to clarify in groundwork for the coming Lessons, the concept of 'personality,' in which the term 'personality' itself, although generally conceived to include all attributes, any dispositions that the entity was born in possession of, any innate dispositions; this general conception crosses this boundary of innate inherent qualities and adds to it those qualities of the personality that have developed through the life experiences through the cultural orientation of the entity through the knowledge, the memories, experiences and habits; all of these concepts are intertwined into the term in its common usage of 'personality'.

This Awareness suggests that the word 'personality' shall be reconceived as simply those aspects of the entity's character which begin at birth and develop over the lifetime. This Awareness indicates that the term 'personality' belongs in the realm of human mind, and is affected completely and is constituted completely of cultural information, man-made effects upon the entity, the development of habits, the development of activities, the limitations which affect the entity's behaviors. What has been referred to as the 'ego' also shall fall into this category.

The Concept of the "Soul"

In a separate category belongs the concept of 'soul'. This Awareness indicates that the soul realm includes those qualities of an entity's character that exist before birth, that are present at birth and are enduring and unchanging throughout the lifetime. The terms soul and spirit both refer to these enduring aspects of the individual.

This Awareness indicates that certain qualities of the individual are intended to remain enduring and unchanging. These are the qualities of the Spirit that manifest themselves as essential human needs. This Awareness indicates that human beings have certain universal spiritual needs with which they enter the physical world, which are to be honored, respected, and accommodated within whatever cultural realm exists for that entity within the mind of man.

This Awareness indicates that there is a very important difference between the realm of soul, which is the inside self, which is enduring, everlasting, and not subject to change, which should be valued, developed and expressed. This Awareness indicates the use of the word 'development' in this context is such that external aspects of self, the personality, be developed such that the manifestation of the internal enduring qualities are allowed to become expressed in the physical realm.

This Awareness indicates that the personality, or outside self, is very significant in its characteristic condition, which is exactly opposite the enduring permanent condition of the Spirit, for it is a temporary ever-changing developmental aspect, which adapts itself so that the Spirit can present its innate potentials, capacities and inclinations.

This Awareness suggests that it is the language of the Spirit that speaks through human will, human feeling, that ensures that the needs, the will and intention of the spirit will be developed and expressed in the physical realm. It is through the changing and the development of the personality which exists as a raw lump of clay which is subject to change from one environment to the next, regardless of where the entity might find himself or herself.

This Awareness indicates that human beings have become entangled within the personality such that they no longer understand the relationship and the function of the personality to the Spirit and/or Soul. This Awareness suggests this reconceptualization is a preliminary understanding for the forthcoming Lessons.

We have completion.

THE COSMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF ABORTION

(Does the Incoming Soul Reside on the Moon?)

One other question by Vera K. along these lines. I'll read her statement here: "If the soul enters at conception, then abortion would appear to be murder. However, if it enters at birth, then the fetus would simply be a vehicle without a soul up to that time, and abortion not considered murder. Is this true?" she asks.

"And I once listened to a tape by some psychic or person from the other side who said that "Until the child is born, the soul lingers beside the expectant mother, admiring the new vehicle it will inhabit and that sometimes, for reasons not given, it accompanies the father.

"Another version I heard was that the soul rests on the moon, and then enters the child at birth. Would Awareness advise what is true or false with these statements?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that entities who are about to manifest in physical form have the option at entering the fetus at whatever point they so choose. They often slip in and out of the physical form. This Awareness indicates that abortion in no way affects the entity in that situation. Wherein the realm of human culture, the mind of man has become so entangled, that there are so many situations in which the conditions are not ideal or even appropriate for the bringing forth of a child.

There is a great deal of negotiation between entities on a higher level of understanding regarding the conditions into which they are willing to be born. The preponderance of abortion is an example of the fact that entities realize the state of human understanding is so mired in our own ideas, human ideas...(This Awareness indicates the Interpreter shakes herself when she acknowledges her position in the Oneness, and uses the term 'us').

This Awareness wishes to assuage her concern, for she is part of the Oneness and need not be so upset by acknowledging such. She can relax. The words are not as important as the concept. Continue. This Awareness indicates that although abortion is extremely controversial in the realm of human understanding, it has little cosmic significance other than the fact that it exposes that the conditions of earthly living are lacking sadly, such that it would be necessary to make a choice as difficult as that one must be.

The Fetus Slips In and Out as if Trying on Clothing

This Awareness indicates that entities can opt to wait on the moon if they so choose, or any other area of physical existence, or not physical existence for that matter, open to their level of vibration, and that there is a great deal of slipping in and out of the fetus as it grows, as if trying on clothing. This Awareness indicates that there is a connection, an affinity between the parents; both the mother and the father, depending upon the awareness of the individual, the emotional understanding and vibratory level of the entity.

This Awareness indicates that sadly, there are entities, maternal and paternal, who are in states ill-prepared to prepare the proper environment necessary for the correct attainment and development of trust necessary for the physical operation of a fully developed human being.

This Awareness indicates that there are many entities who lack understanding and affinity with their own physical system, and emotional system. This Awareness indicates that this can be learned, but that entities who lack an initial understanding of what it means and feels like to be loved unconditionally, cannot experience the full realm of humanity, and that this is indeed a perversion of the intention of nature and of Divine Universal Energy.

This Awareness indicates that entities who have opted, who have made that hard choice to undergo an abortion, due to their higher sensitivities regarding the conditions into which they would be bringing the newborn; if the decision was made in the spirit of love and trust, that there should be no fear of retribution or karmic enslavement, and that the entity with which the agreement was initially made has been altered on some level, and that agreement and understanding has been achieved through the emotional intent behind the decision.

This Awareness indicates that if the same intent of love and trust and faith goes into the choice for bringing entities into the world, despite concerns that conditions are not yet right economically, or socially, or moralistically; that these entities, if they make the decision within the resonance of the spirit of love, acceptance, faith and trust, that they too are to be assured of the correctness of their decision, for they have received communication from the entity assuaging their fears and resonating with the Universal Love Force to assure them that events will transpire which will allow for the appropriate environment for the nurturance and love and care for the entity, whether or not the parents are aware of the possibilities at the time.

This Awareness indicates there is much degree of confusion, morality and judgment placed upon the practice of abortion, but it is yet another technological tool that exists within the realm of mind in the culture of man which may facilitate or may detract from the evolution of man and the destiny of humankind. It is the resonance with the Universal Divine Force through the experience of love, trust and faith and hope that entities know which technological tool is manifesting their intention or is thwarting their intention, depending upon their attunement with the feelings surrounding the situation.

She is Able to Stop Turbulence on an Airplane (But She Still Thinks her Prayers aren't Answered)

QUESTION:

A question Nibia Camacho, in Nassau, Bahamas. She writes: "When I am in an airplane and there is a lot of turbulence in the air, I usually ask, pray, pray to the Cosmic Forces to come under the plane and hold it steady. It always works for some 15 to 20 minutes, but then it starts moving up and down again. Why is the answer to my prayers so short? What can I do to have better results, if in fact I am getting results at all?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that Nibia is indeed a powerful entity who is very much attuned to certain energies available to her. She has been manifesting them in many forms, both in the manipulation of physical matter such as she describes, and the openness to illuminations, creative impulses and insight that allow her spirit to reign over her personality, which is as it should be.

This Awareness indicates that the success she is achieving is impressive, although she may think that 15 minutes is not impressive. For an individual, this is quite impressive, indeed. This Awareness suggests that there are most likely other entities empowering their creative impulse with fear energy rather than creative faith that she places in her own ability to change the situation rather than to acquiesce to the fear, the turbulence and the negative and unnecessary.

How Emotional Energies of Entities Affects Turbulence

This Awareness suggests if every entity on the plane were to do as Nubia did, there would be less turbulence encountered, or less of an impact experienced. This Awareness indicates, however, the turbulence patterns are also connected to the emotional energy of entities on land as well as those on the plane itself, and the turbulence patterns emanate from emotional energy from entities over specific geological locations, wherein certain patterns of thought and belief are manifesting a predominance of negative energy which is vented through physical forces that affect the weather, storm patterns and the wind, which affects the transportation technology through the stratosphere.

IS AN APACHE CURSE CAUSING PEOPLE TO DISAPPEAR IN ARIZONA?

QUESTION:

One other question from Ruth B. "In Cochese County where I live, several people have mysteriously disappeared, so I wonder if there is any connection between them and the result of, or bad karma from an Apache curse. They are Mrs. Sally Klump, wife of a rancher who fights the government; Wayne Klump; Bea Hessler, a jeweler; Paul B. Fugate, a ranger from Chiricahua National Monument; also, Mrs. Dorothy Pitcher and her daughter Danielle disappeared on the way home from the store in Sunezona." That's the end of her statement.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the situation described is not likely to be attributed to an Apache curse, unless any of the entities mentioned entertained a belief system in which they empowered and invested their own emotional energy in the Apache belief system. This Awareness indicates that great power can be attained through such devices as long as the entities involved have chosen to participate in that particular belief system as a whole.

This Awareness indicates that entities have lived and died through varying levels with virtually unlimited ritualistic accouterments ranging from voodoo to Roman Catholic rituals and much more mainstream (acceptable to Western culture) practices. It is the belief itself and the emotional investment in that belief which empowers the belief and brings about the event described by the belief system.

This Awareness indicates that one belief system cannot encroach upon another if it is not empowered with the emotional energy of the entity. This is the power of Spirit, the power of Will, which is the communicative device, that aspect of Spirit which carries out the intention of Spirit in physical form, manifested as emotional energy.

This Awareness indicates this is the power that entities have, yet do not understand. This Awareness indicates there is an overpowering belief system within the realm of human culture that external dictates and external events are causal and contain the power, rather than the validity of the power lying in the emotional energy which is at the Will of the entity.

It is the necessary evolutionary step to understand the Will energy at the disposal of entities and how subconsciously, this choice, this power, has been given away to external dictates, to external versions of reality which disempower the entity, and bring about concepts and the eventual mass-reality that chaos is the actual state of events, when chaos is in fact the absence of the order which also lies within the choice in the realm of Will of entities.

If the specific question is satisfied, we have completion.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Does Awareness see a pattern here of these disappearing entities? Is there something in common? Or can it tell what happened?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is a connective thread due to geographical location, but that this appears to be the only commonality. This Awareness indicates that there is an entity, a male entity involved in the disappearance of at least two of the entities mentioned.

QUESTION:

Is he one of the missing male entities?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is negative. The indication is that there is a male responsible for the disappearance of two of the entities. The entities are female that have disappeared at the hand of this particular male entity. He is not one of the missing male entities.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Is Jesus on Earth and Does the Pope Know?

QUESTION:

A question from JD. She writes: "I hear that Jesus has returned and been living in the outskirts of Rome some 4 years now. Obviously, of course, unknown, as such, to most. Is this true?" she asks, "and if so, is the Pope aware of this? And have they met and spoken?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that if this in fact were the reality of the situation, that the Pope would be least likely to apprise of the situation. This Awareness indicates, however, that the spirit manifesting itself as the entity Jesus Christ has in fact been directed, portions of this entity have been directed into a variety of entities now in earthly existence to help bring about the changes that are necessary at this time in the evolution of the human condition.

This Awareness indicates that this entity recognizes how the initial messages became distorted and mired within images, ideas, icons, rituals, and in the being himself, the man himself, rather than the ideas and their necessary evolutionary course. This Awareness indicates that the entity chose multiple incarnations in which various aspects would be available through a pool of awareness, a body of information of which different aspects would be available through different channels, through different entities, whereas each part could be assembled through the individual contribution, rather than have the attachment to one entity as did occur from the initial Christ existence, and that this approach can be more successful to bring about the changes at hand than what was successful to bring them about previously in his Christ incarnation.

This Awareness indicates that the Christ entity will be manifested in numerous individuals who will bring forth the information necessary to restore human beings to their intended evolutionary course, part of which is received through the channel Grace at this time, with this communication. This Awareness indicates that this is why it is necessary for a fragmenting, a narrowing of focus of varying consciousness, to pinpoint with laser clarity upon the particular task at hand for the entity Grace's part being played in the whole of the changes that are being brought about on the planet at this time.

If there is completion, we can continue.

Reiki: How Valid as a Healing Technique?

QUESTION:

A question from Lee Trippett, Eugene, Oregon. He writes: "Reiki is becoming a popular school in the application of the laying on of hands for healing. This system or school of thought was rediscovered in Japan and supposedly allows for Divine Energies to heal, according to the need of the patient. However, the results are often extremely slow or imperceptible.

"What specific suggestions could be made so that this healing approach would be far more efficient and effective?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that if the growing interest and growing practice of such as those described in the category in which Reiki falls is part of the growing necessity for entities to make a connection between physical energy, the emotional energy and how it can manipulate matter.

This Awareness indicates that all such practices are powerful and productive, and that if the understanding of the relationship, the emotional energy which is the one energy which is manifested both physically and mentally; if this emotional energy is utilized both by the giver and the receiver of the Reiki process, that the exchange of energy and its effect upon the matter can be increased substantially.

This Awareness has more regarding this situation which will unfold later, but at this time, the necessary understanding is that the emotional energy is that energy which is experienced both physically and mentally and that through the mental manipulation, visualization process can be directed through the emotional feeling to the body, to the area in which the malady or the correction is direction.

This Awareness suggests that the entity Grace be brought up from trance at this time.
