entity known as Christopher Reeve.

This Awareness suggests that part of this entity's Destiny Path is a particular individual challenge with the manipulation of conscious Will Energy (and that such is essentially the challenge to each and every embodied spirit in the physical realm), yet this particular entity now acts as a symbolic beacon for the limitations and vulnerabilities of the flesh as well as a symbol of the limitations, vulnerabilities and failures of external medical approaches to healing due to lack of information of a human being as a trinity of mind, body and spirit.

This Awareness suggests that with the rapidly changing energies and fluctuations, that as more entities participate in conceptualizing the ideals and potentials of individual empowerment, of attaining unity between mind, body and spirit and restoring the inner pathways of communication and energy flow, that such entities contribute to the gathering energy within the mass-consciousness to the degree that many firmly held debilitating and limiting but popular ideas can begin to give way as the critical mass is attained in such concepts as empowerment, enlightenment and the mental and spiritual manipulation of matter, the power of thought, and the very creation of physical events.

A Mass Creative Healing Session for Christopher Reeve

This Awareness suggests that just such changes can be facilitated by a mass-creative healing session directed at the entity Christopher Reeve. The organization can decide upon any level of involvement, of detail and of public exposure as deemed appropriate, with emphasis placed upon imparting enlightened ideas into mass consciousness by focusing this experiment upon this highly public entity. The time is right to experiment with natural miracles.

This Awareness suggests that this effort can quite significantly alter the events in this entity's life, and to greatly assist him in his individual efforts to regain his bodily vigor. Results can range from manifesting a total curative event, or to attracting various levels of improvement in any probable combination, to spurring creative inspirations in those medical healers currently seeking answers to questions of neurological regeneration. The results of the experiment shall depend upon the energy, the focus, and accumulation and the point toward which the necessary critical mass energy is attained for actual physical transformation and healing of cells themselves.

This Awareness suggests that the organization can contact this individual and solicit participation, permission, and information as to specific time, place to direct the energies, and that a specific date shall be chosen which can be communicated and circulated throughout the community and on the Internet and through other avenues of media as deemed appropriate, so that a minimum of three months transpires before the appointed group prayer session, so that energy can be focused and allowed to accumulate as additional participants are contacted.

This Awareness suggests that an initial communication be disseminated in the organization newsletter as well as an electronic communication following with the specific details regarding the purpose, the mechanisms, with a brief meditation and explanation of the experiment, and that such communication can include promotional information, to gather information from additional parties and attract additional members to the community of Cosmic Awareness Communications, as well as to announce and advertise electronic information resources under development.

AN EXPERIMENT IN CREATIVE REALITY (How You Can Help Superman Walk Again!)

This Awareness suggests now, a specific activity and experiment which can benefit not only the organization by uniting past and future, but also by initiating community interactions and assisting in enlightened changes within mass consciousness. This Awareness suggests the value of experiments in manipulation of matter and probability at this point in time, to allow some practice with the concepts contained within the Lessons as well as to provide the membership community with an initial opportunity to participate in an experiment in creative reality.

This Awareness suggests that such an experiment can facilitate the movement within mass-consciousness in bringing to the forefront of ordinary thought and daily discussion, such concepts as 'empowerment,' 'enlightenment,' and 'creative reality' and individual and mass-manipulation of probable courses. It can provide a shift away from ordinary fears and concerns regarding potential disempowerment, manipulation and the feelings of hopelessness and actions of resistance and avoidance which inevitably result.

This Awareness suggests that on the brink of the new millennium that a mass-experiment in healing and creative visualization can be beneficial, not only to emphasize and impart certain key concepts of enlightenment and empowerment, but also to attract to the membership community, enlightened and interested entities who seek further development and expression and choose to participate in ushering the enlightenment and altering the probabilities of mass-events presently unfolding.

This Awareness suggests that many such group activities and experiments can be initiated and facilitated by the organization and its members, utilizing the mass-communication and information pathways now available to humanity, particularly the Internet network and certain media outlets. This Awareness suggests that a first such initial experiment can be offered in support and healing energies toward efforts set forth by the

This Awareness suggests that entities participating in this type of experiment can expect any number of results, depending upon the energy sustained, the amount of participants, the belief structures and particularly the amount of emotional energy infused into the vision of the entity Christopher Reeve being healed of his spinal cord injuries, and once again mobile, normal and even 'super' in his human physical capacity.

This Awareness suggests that the organization can participate with any chosen degree of exposure, and that the experiment can succeed in planting many seeds in mass-consciousness as well as effecting curative events that can range from spontaneous and complete healing, to the attraction of intuitive and creative medical approaches and breakthroughs in science which can bring about more traditional forms of cure, yet that such an experiment can profoundly influence the course of this individual's experience, as well as offer a new empowering and enlightened vision of the human potential to the masses in the process.

This Awareness suggests that entities within the organization discuss the approach and decide upon the particulars and embark upon such an experiment, and that the success of which can be immeasurable in many ways, and on many levels. We have completion.

Christopher Reeve Expects to be Healed

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This entity Christopher Reeve is continually stating to the media that he fully expects to be healed of his affliction during his lifetime. Is the fact that this entity has this mind-set to be healed going to greatly accelerate the energies put forth as Awareness just described by entities who want him healed and who will participate in this healing?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this is in the affirmative, and for that specific reason, the energies are so strong within this entity, the mindspace is so convinced and the spiritual connection given his choice of participating in his Destiny Path in this specific manner, are indeed profoundly aligned for just such an experiment, and that given only dramatic changes, that the reception shall be quite profound.

This Awareness suggests that if the mindspace instead was filled with limiting concepts such as exist throughout mass-consciousness, that the severity of spinal cord injury is virtually known from the highest mountain tops to the deepest seas as a "permanent and irreversible" type of injury that medical science has not been able to resolve; that the gallantry and courage of this entity to challenge himself with such a task to literally place himself in a position of physical need to experiment with creative manipulation such as this is commendable, and such an opportunity is indeed no accident at this point in human evolution.

This Awareness suggests that the specific communication to entities invited to participate in the meditative creative healing process, can also utilize belief structures based upon the power of prayer, yet with specific comment that the power lies within the individual mind and not within some supernatural power outside of the connection within. This can plant the seed that the creative power does indeed lie both within and without, that the human link is essential for all prayers to be answered, for mind is the conversion center between body and spirit.

This Awareness suggests that entities with belief structures that prevent the flow of healing energies are less likely to notice and participate in such a campaign and that those responding will have belief structures, whether based in spiritual empowerment or in faith in a higher spiritual power, yet the simple act of participation will allow the acknowledgment of the human connection to that power.

We can continue.

What Meditation Should be Used?

FOLLOW-UP (VIKKI)

Would Awareness suggest a meditation to be used for this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the entity Grace can produce such a work, and that such information has already been given, and a brief ... This Awareness suggests the information has been given and received, and that the Interpreter can produce such a communication as the production of the Lessons commences and that the suggestion from This Awareness is that it be general, inclusive as just given, but brief. We can continue.

Many Will Benefit from the Healing of Christopher Reeve

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

So what Awareness is saying, is that it is very possible that Christopher Reeve, with this added energy from the membership and from those on the Internet who participate in this healing, he will be healed, will walk again, and feel like the "Man of Steel," the Superman he played so greatly in his numerous movie roles?

My question is: This certainly should be an incentive for the thousands of entities who are now convinced their life will be spent in wheel chairs, and as a result of this, many of these entities will also look in this direction, looking inward, and to this possibility of being healed also. In other words, it's going to, in the long run, heal a lot more people just than the entity Christopher Reeves. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this is in the affirmative, for this specific experiment can open the door upon human mass-consciousness to invite the major concepts of self-empowerment, the abilities of mind, creative reality, enlightenment, and the true human potential for manipulating matter, as was originally intended for the earthly experience.

This Awareness suggests also, in caution, that entities be apprised of the nature of probability and the range of potentials which can result from such an experiment, and that certainly, full and complete recovery is within the realm of possibility and would be a highly desirable result in terms of ushering these kinds of energies. But rest assured that even if the entity does not immediately arise from his chair, that breakthroughs and new approaches shall be accelerated and attracted within the entity's lifetime, and that the entity shall be walking.

This Awareness suggests that if handled correctly, entities can begin to recognize the nature of probability, the power of free will, the mechanisms of biological predestiny, so that key concepts and enlightened empowering ideas can begin to replace the disempowering limitations so readily accepted that cause the acceptance of lingering pain and anger, and of deficit states of living which profoundly affect the understanding and application of Will Energy to create events and experiences that entities have embarked upon the earthly experience to enjoy.

This Awareness suggests that it takes the dramatic efforts of many to alter the rigidities within mass-consciousness and that such efforts are beginning to bear fruit and at this juncture in human history, particularly in tapping the gathering energies surrounding the turn of the millennium, that such a leap forward can be made in an experiment such as this.

HOW DOES PRAYER WORK?

( Praying Directly to God Not Necessarily the Best and Only Way )

QUESTION:

Some questions on this subject from JD, on prayer, that might be appropriate at this time. She writes: "On prayer, does praying for something actually generate results? How does it work, if so?" Awareness has covered some of that question.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the existing concept of prayer has been a positive one, given that it assumes a connection between the supplicant and the provider. Where the concept has done a disservice has been in removing the provider from the supplicant and offering the illusory belief or reality that the entity in prayer was receiving a gift from some higher or disconnected power outside or far removed from the self.

This Awareness suggests that this, of course, is the concept of self that is held and promoted within most religions. This is the singular self which is declared must be surrendered to the divine, a lowly sinful thing. Despite this error, most religions also recognize and promote the Universal Oneness and advocate the loving connection between spirits, at least as an ideal, which symbolizes the validity of the connection between every portion, every spiritual apportionment of All That Is. Both ideas are in conflict with one another, yet the standard ideas about prayer are based upon them both, wherein a omniscient and omnipotent God hears and selectively answers the human supplications, while the lowly disempowered human grovels in fear that the wishes might not be granted.

Humans Must Awaken to the True Power They Have Been Given

This Awareness indicates that the mind is not credited at all in such beliefs structures and religious ideas about prayer and that human must now awaken to the true power they have been given. This Awareness suggests instead that the mechanism at work which produces results in the power of prayer is that described as creative reality, wherein the individual application of Will Energy through the constructs of chosen beliefs of mind, creates that which is desired. This Awareness suggests that this is hardly a process reserved for the miraculous, but the very process through which normal human events and manipulation of probabilities are designed to occur.

This Awareness indicates that scientists can no longer deny the human participation of selecting and attracting physical events as they recognize the implications of the quantum mechanism in the nature of psychics. These scientists have been impeded by the fear of the dramatic overhaul in the major explanations so readily accepted within mass consciousness that these implications demand. Such a mass experiment can begin to break down such resistance and usher the changes now challenging human consciousness and shift away from outdated ideas about prayer to much more effective understandings of the nature of will energy and the power of human mind.

This Awareness suggests that it is through the specific belief structures in any given supplicant's mind which either facilitate the energy or thwart the energy by diverting it and frustrating it by filtering it through a mind choked with conflicting beliefs concerning the efficacy and the power and the right to receive that which one prays for.

This Awareness suggests that it has been the belief structures surrounding the concept of the Godhead and a Higher Power which have been firmly embraced. Religions have connected the feeling of joy and love and spiritual resonance with this higher power for it is in fact the connection and sustaining force between individuals and their Higher Powers which essentially are higher, not physically focused aspects of themselves, and as the concept of self expands through the developmental structuring of individual minds, that concept ultimately is enfolded within All That Is.

This Awareness suggests that the most powerful, the most expeditious, and the most effective prayers or creative realities are achieved by those whose belief structures of mind hold no conflicts and that the sense of self is understood to be enfolded within All That Is so that the supplicant recognizes that each thought empowered by feeling is itself a creative prayer and shall participate in altering probable courses, energizing those which are envisioned and embodied in the belief structure, regardless of whether the emotional energy is one of joyous anticipation or one of fearful avoidance.

This Awareness suggests that entities have long been "praying" and having prayers answered, yet oftentimes the very creations are exactly the opposite of those things desired by the entity. Yet, without recognizing the power of belief structures and the communicative pathways of emotion, many, many offerings from the gods, so to speak, have been negative, and such has motivated all sorts of explanatory belief structures and superstitions to explain why such bad things can happen. Yet when understanding the nature of free will, the parameters of mind, and the evaluative and communicative function of the spiritual feeling system, entities can re-attain understandings and inner alignment, so that they can design their own destiny and never feel it necessary to beg and to plead to higher forces for the very power that is theirs from birth.

If we have completion we can continue.

PRAYING TO THE HIERARCHY OF ANGELS AND MASTERS IS NOT NECESSARY

QUESTION:

Awareness, there's general consensus, at least in the New Age type of information, particularly channeled information, that all prayers, regardless of what they are, do get heard and the decision is made at that time to what degree the prayer will be worked on by higher forces. Many entities believe that there is a hierarchy of spirits, guides, cosmic gurus, ascended masters, the entire angelic realm of angels in particular, some of which have had names since the beginning of time, I guess: Michael and so forth; that it is these powers that will effect the prayer, or the result or the non-result, but Awareness, as I understand it, is saying that this whole hierarchical system that people have used in the past is not necessary because the entity himself is able to bring about whatever prayer result he requests. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this is in the affirmative, and that such intermediary belief structures given names and shapes and faces, if empowered with sufficient belief energy can be reasonably effective conduits of one's Will Energy. The key, of course, is in understanding that it is only a conduit and that all such symbolic conduits assume disconnection in ways which impede the focused flow of spiritual energy.

This Awareness suggests that it is in the affirmative that each prayer is heard in that each and every thought, experience: vocal, mental and ideal is communicated instantaneously in the energy that is thought and feeling.

This Awareness suggests that what has been described as the Spiritual Force and Feeling System in the Lessons of Enlightenment is the flow of aware-ized energy which carries unlimited information within and between entities and spiritual apportionments and that such energy/information constitutes the entire energy fabric of the universe and of the Universal Spirit and All That Is.

This Awareness suggests that there are no secrets; that those specific prayers are not the only observations that are heard and recognized within and between entities, and within and between spirits. The energy stream is constantly available to all who can decipher it. The natural outcome of inner attunement to the spiritual system and following the evaluative signals to eliminate the unnecessary belief structures within the mind, is to free up the passage of energy and allow a more full and complete reception and discourse within and between each spirit. Entities having consciously worked with enlightened self-development and expression can quite literally recognize the prayers and fears and hopes and angers and desires of entities when they walk within the room in close proximity or when they focus on their energy from miles apart. Whether this is in the context of a psychic, a medical or spiritual sort of reading, or even in the dream state; the spiritual energy flow is the source of all psychic and telepathic communication. This Awareness suggests as entities continue to rid their mindscapes of limiting beliefs that they naturally increase this flow of energy/information and begin to perceive concepts and symbols which impart immediate understandings and communications. Therefore entities can participate telepathically in the hopes and dreams and efforts of one another. Such communication and interaction occurs at every moment of every day, whether entities recognize the information exchange flow of the feeling system or not.

This Awareness suggests as entities begin to recognize this process and powerful force within, such concepts of disempowerment, supplication, and competition for crumbs of grace shall dissolve into the more desirable and spiritual connections and cooperation. This leads to the most profound kinds of experiences and rewards.

This Awareness suggests that once the initial wave crashes upon the mass-consciousness, this will eliminate the basic assumptions which allow entities to imagine their power rests in external sources. Also, the misunderstanding of the nature of the human spirit and how the feeling signals are symptomatic of deficit states which need immediate correction. This prevents entities from crippling themselves with ideas that accept and promote further deficit states and further feelings of fear and anger and spiritual correction.

This Awareness suggests that such are the goals of the Enlightenment Movement and that when sufficient energy has been applied in these directions that the wave is indeed approaching the beach and that such concepts as creative manipulation of Will Energy and the empowerment that entities rightly deserve shall be a singular concept which can open many frustrated pathways of energy and allow the wave to crash upon the beach. With it comes an enlightenment that can begin the kind of experience that most entities want to recreate in the earthly experience.

If we have completion we can continue.

Is Praying for Others More Effective Than Praying for Oneself?

QUESTION:

Another question from JD on this. "In an experiment, a group of patients prayed for recovered at a faster rate than a control group. Is praying for others more effective than praying for oneself?" she asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that in the current conceptions and assumptions within mass-consciousness, that indeed is often the result. Although misconstrued and severely distorted, the ideas of selflessness and self-deprecation and martyrdom traditionally associated with Christianity, have managed to ride the coattails of Christianity to the degree that the concept of selflessness is so embedded in individuals and the mass-mind, it is far more acceptable and easier to believe that praying for others is a right and just and godly thing to do, while denying the self. Yet those in true resonance with the spirit and the entity known as Jesus Christ and the resonance with All That Is recognize that the self known as 'other' is simply a reflection of and part and parcel of the self, and that the pain of one is the pain of all. Indeed, the lord cannot help those who cannot help themselves.

The healing of one is the healing of all, and the pleasure of one is the pleasure of all, and that when such concepts of self are replaced with the more enlightened understandings of the unity of mind, body and spirit, and how the interaction of spiritual energy regulates and unifies each entity, that the regulating patterns between entities shall be far more readily apparent, and that such results will no longer be necessary and that entities shall feel no guilt in pursuing the pleasures and desires and prayers for themselves as well as for all of humanity.

If we have completion we can continue.

Which Prayers are Answered: Big Ones or Small Ones?

QUESTION:

Another question from JD. "Are results related to the difficulty of obtaining what is desired? Will a prayer for example, for $50.00, be more likely effective than one for $50,000?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that as the entity in fact suspects, the difference depends upon the mindscape of the supplicant. This Awareness suggests that an entity who believes in want, instead of abundance, who believes in disempowerment instead of financial freedom will indeed have far more difficulty believing in the possibility of a prayer for $50,000 dollars to be answered rather than a prayer for fifty dollars to be answered.

This Awareness suggests that as entities experiment with the creative visualization, that they are directed and advised to pay particular attention to the feeling signals that arise during the process and utilize the corrective signals to design a mindscape free of limitation.

This Awareness suggests that as long as conflicting belief structures exists within the mindscape, that energies will be diverted in conflicting directions. For example, suppose an entity sets about to pray to win the local lottery. This Awareness suggests that if such an entity contains a belief structure such as that associated with the selfless nature of the Christianity, that such an entity will immediately feel emotional dissonance and pain when creating a prayer to win the local lottery. Certain apprehensions, however subtle, will arise in the mind to point out the conflicts which will dilute the prayer.

Why Most Good Christians Don't Win Lotteries

This Awareness suggests that this immediate feeling of guilt, if acknowledged and analyzed as it is meant to be, that the entity will be drawn to the belief structure which states that the self is less worthy as a good Christian, and that a spiritual person does not need to win a local lottery or have a million dollars, so that the prayer will be diverted into creating the more empowering of the two beliefs that the entity entertains.

This Awareness suggests that even if the entity believes in a slim chance of winning the lottery and obtaining a million dollars, that such a belief structure can perhaps muster a 10 % energy conviction. This Awareness suggests the more empowered belief structure regarding self-sacrifice and the concept that spirituality is opposed to financial abundance is much stronger than 10%, and the cumulative effect toward the prayer would result in further reinforcing the lack of probability of winning the lottery, and instead attracting the probability of further want and self-sacrifice in the name of spirituality. The weaker held belief will be considerably watered down by the stronger and the event attracted will most likely not be a win at the lottery.

This Awareness suggests that belief structures channel energy as effectively as electrical wires conduct energy and that such is the nature of the creative mind, and the potential free will, wherein entities are designed to manifest and create anything that the mind desires. This Awareness suggests that since entities have missed the boat on understanding the power of human mind and its creative potential, that belief structures of mental judgments based upon unexamined experience with the evaluative signals (particularly negative emotions) still attached, become the predominant markers within the mindscape, so that energy bounces about between markers and the experience created seems haphazard, chaotic and of origins from somewhere outside the mind, such as from higher powers, darker forces, from luck, either good or bad. Yet, each is simply the manifestation of the structures which have been erected in the mindscape by willful, if ignorant, choice.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Are Some Things More Effective in Prayers?

QUESTION:

Another question from JD. She asks "Are some things: a cure of illness, a lover, a home, peace on earth, return of a missing child, more effectively attained by prayer rather than physical, bodily, emotional and financial things?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that at risk of a dreary answer; it is again dependent solely upon the mindscape, and that a mindscape which does not limit the possibility of healing will have far more success in prayers for healing. Likewise, entities who have far more positive belief structures regarding loving connections with entities and relatives, are likely to have success in such realms and that if any generalities exist, they exist in the area of human connection, wherein the interchange, the telepathic reception of energies exchanged constantly assist when mutual concerns regarding lost loved ones, et cetera, are exchanged.

This Awareness suggests also that as long as belief structures and limitations which erect walls and fences between entities, even if on a momentary basis where competition between entities overtakes the cooperative unity that is the way, that such energies are also disrupted, and the negative belief structures will divert the energy into more chaotic probabilities.

If we have completion we can continue.

The Length and Persistence of Praying

(Is This a Critical Factor or is it Emotion?)

QUESTION:

Her questions continue on this subject: "Is the length and persistence of praying the critical factor, or the emotion poured into it, or some other factor?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that within the given limitations of the existing mass-consciousness, that both repetition and emotional energy can contribute to a stronger and faster result. This Awareness suggests that entities must cut through such a thick forest of conflicting and limiting beliefs, that entities who manage any degree of success in creative visualization are surmounting much indeed.

This Awareness suggests that at the present state of mass-consciousness, diligent efforts with a daily meditative visualization such as that offered in the Meditation of the Clock,* wherein entities visually create images of those events in the major life areas, such as health, profession, relationships and one's mission in life, et cetera, that each such vision then empowered with the emotional energy of joyous love, anticipation and gratitude, has a cumulative effect. This works not only through the creative manifestation system of attracting probabilities, but also of the attrition, the wearing away of existing belief structures which stand in the way of the entity's pursuit.

*This meditation can be found in "Revelations of Awareness" issue 97-12 and also in Lesson B-Four of the Lessons of Enlightenment, page 116. Ed.

A Creative Visualization Program Will Bring Results

This Awareness suggests that entities who vigorously and aggressively set about a creative visualization program, who choose a specific time of day and partake religiously, that in and of itself shows that sufficient energy stands behind positive belief structures; that such can and will create results. Otherwise, entities are more likely to become swept away in the daily routines and the concepts that there is not enough time for such pursuits; yet each choice reflects the belief structures regarding one's creative ability and the relative efficacy of the mindscape.

Results Can be Obtained in Approximately 6 to 8 Months

This Awareness suggests that entities beginning from a fairly average mindscape with conflicting belief structures can begin meditative visualizations that can reap results in approximately a 6-8 month time period, should they also tend correctively to the emotional signals which arise in response to the daily activities.

This Awareness suggests that once the entity has set forth that which is desired by the mind, the spirit will give back the evaluations of every structure within mind as its energy bounces off the belief structures which divert it from its focused path. Such is the nature of the corrective feeling-signals to identify each and every diversionary and limiting belief, so that it can be removed.

This Awareness suggests that the more such limiting beliefs are removed, the more rapid the progress can be, to the degree where ultimately entities can manifest nearly instantaneously. This Awareness suggests that some entities, particularly in persuasions and lifestyles of vigorous religious and monastic focus upon meditation and prayer, have attained such states where as manifestations are nearly instantaneous.

This Awareness suggests that entities need not be overly concerned and defeated by the acknowledgment of many limiting beliefs for such is the norm, and that a simple commitment to self-development and to weed the garden of mind and free it of such weeds can substantially increase the effectiveness of their efforts.

This Awareness indicates also that evidence of the existing beliefs structures will be apparent in the life events that one does create; that oftentimes desired events are interwoven in uniquely intricate ways due to the conflicting nature of one's goals. The mind's ability to create with the beliefs which it has been given, is abundantly evident when one seeks the meaning of daily assistance.

If we have completion we can continue.

Are Some Methods of Prayer More Effective?

QUESTION:

Awareness may have answered this one of JD's. "Are some methods of prayer more effective? If so, please specify."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that entities differ in specific biological predispositions toward visual, verbal or symbolic representations. This Awareness suggests that the power of mind responds to all such approaches as long as the intention and desire is clearly set forth in some manner, verbally or visually, and many find it useful to invest images with additional sensory details such as sound and smell and touch.

This Awareness suggests that it shall then be empowered by the emotional energy, wherein entities enfold the vision, concept, or the words within the feelings; the strongest that they can muster of loving resonance and gratitude, whereas the spirit evaluation clearly communicates the desired intention.

This Awareness suggests that entities who experience regular doses of fear and worry and anticipation and are concerned that they are manifesting and creating the very realities that they fear, can rest assured that such inadvertent creations can be counteracted by empowering beliefs energized with the resonance of Universal Love.

This Awareness suggests that entities in the throes of such feeling can make no mistake that they are embracing the spiritual energy and directing it as they choose, for there is a physical involvement and a flush of feeling that swells outward from the heart chakra and enfolds the entire being. Oftentimes, the body will move and tears will flow as the mind gives over to the power of spiritual feeling.

This Awareness suggests that if there is any correct method of prayer, that it is to ensure that the vision is unobstructed and the full and complete spiritual resonance of universal joy, anticipation and gratitude is experienced in connection with the vision, as if it has already occurred. Therefore, the entity is reaching forth in the present moment, to attract and pull in the most desirous future probability.

This Awareness suggests that there are no specific rights or wrongs in terms of language, in terms of symbols, in terms of situation, rather than the feeling signals where the body is most comfortable and the energy is most balanced; that any particular symbols or affectations desirous within the individual mindscape that create positive emotion are those that are beneficial and shall be retained.

This Awareness suggests that any existing belief structures in terms of creative visualization processes that invoke a positive emotion are suitable and acceptable, and those that invoke negative emotion should be re-examined, for they will be found to be deficient or in conflict and in need of resolution or removal; that each individual can ascertain this right and wrong way of any approach to any particular activity as well as the prayer itself.

If we have completion we can continue.

Is Prayer Unsuitable for Some Mental Types?

QUESTION:

JD's last question on this subject is: "I can't recall ever praying for anything. Is it unsuitable for certain mental or emotional types?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the concept of prayer in this context is associated with symbols and beliefs not entertained within the mindscape of this entity, and that although creative selection and manipulation of probability and prayer, so to speak, goes on from every moment to the next in this entity's life, that a ritualized supplication to a higher power has not been deemed necessary to attract the events desirous for the lifetime.

This Awareness suggests, however, that the entity can resonate with transcendent experiences wherein certain images, concepts and ideas have been flushed with the emotional energy and the resonance and that the entity recognizes the connection between such moments and certain experiences which have subsequently manifested. If careful attention is given to the life cycle, the entity can notice quite a few such connections, but that given the limitations surrounding the concept of prayer itself, it is perhaps beneficial that the entity has never felt the requirement or necessity to do such.

If we have completion we can continue.

THE DESTRUCTION OF BOSNIA AND SLAUGHTERS IN OUR HIGH SCHOOLS

QUESTION:

Since our last session in April, a number of extremely negative things have occurred and are still occurring, including a mass slaughter in Colorado by two teenagers at a school which incidentally, on the news today, was replicated in Georgia. It's been 2 months of bombings in Europe by our bellicose president resulting in the killing of many civilians, including the hitting of hospitals, retirement homes and other facilities.

I'd like to ask Awareness if It has any comment on these things that are happening, because the membership is sending in questions asking what Awareness' opinion is on this type of stuff.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that there can be many layers of interpretation regarding the specific incidents, but that at each level of interpretation, entities are encouraged to examine the individual mindscape, the mass-mindscape and solicit the wisdom that the negative emotion from these experiences is eliciting in individuals and en masse.

This Awareness suggests that although such negativity appears to be anti-spiritual, counterproductive and of evil origin, that such is the natural outcome of the belief structures of mass-consciousness which have historically eliminated the concept of spirit from the mainstream educational understandings of entities.

This Awareness suggests that specifically, regarding the phenomenon of adolescence seeking violent revenge upon community groups, including the educational communities that are charged with lifting entities out of such isolation and fear; that the ineffectiveness of the society to succeed in designing individual mindscapes to embrace the spiritual understandings or even the biological understandings of the human emotional system, so that the symptoms of individual and social spiritual and emotional malaise will be ever stronger, more violent and disruptive until their corrective messages are heard.

This Awareness suggests that the predictable outcome of entities who do not understand the feeling signals, and fail to utilize the evaluative information they bring toward developing their mindscape, will be to instead build a mindscape of strategies based upon fear and anger which create disconnection and isolation and more fear and anger which will ultimately burst forth upon the world in violent ways.

This Awareness suggests that this and each such event is an opportunity for entities to recognize the emotional patterns and once and for all begin to look inward and recognize what the patterns of human emotionality are teaching them about themselves, their purpose and their spiritual nature.

This Awareness suggests that although the violence and devastation has rocked the world, it has also gathered the attention of the world and will offer an exemplary opportunity for mass-consciousness to begin examining the nature of human emotion. This Awareness suggests that each news article, each piece, each coverage is steeped with information regarding human spirit, wherein entities involved in the massacre as victims felt compelled to risk their own lives to rescue and help their fellow students; that such spirituality and connection can be seen in the embraces and upon the faces of the victims and family members, but that it shall be recognized also, once entities set aside the mistaken assumption of evil and external forces, that it is the same creative, expressive, spiritual force, although misdirected, bouncing off severely limited belief structures and individual mindscapes. When the body falls back upon its fighting defenses anger causes the most violent horrors and decadent acts played out upon the human stage.

Proof Soon: Misdirected Spiritual Energy is the Source of All Evil

This Awareness suggests that in very short time, this example shall be utilized to illustrate how spiritual energy misdirected, is the very source of all evil, and that such is one of the central assumptions necessary for the wave to crash upon human consciousness in recognizing the beauty and wonder and purpose inherent in human nature, and that it is the severely deficit estates within mass-consciousness, within social structures, which profoundly misunderstand the human system and continue to set controls and ideas which thwart it at every turn, and fail to recognize the isolation, hate and animistic behavior they provoke. Most such "evil" is learned not born.

This Awareness suggests that the two young entities involved in this massacre were only slightly less biologically normal than most, yet many entities exist with far more extreme biological aberrations which do not commit such heinous acts, for their mindscapes have not been allowed to become as riddled with belief structures which allow the self to feel so completely alienated, separate and angry.

This Awareness suggests that there shall be other such incidents, but that each can be representative of the final necessary explosions of misdirected spiritual energy that shall at last allow entities to recognize the patterns of the self-preservationary impulse and to see exactly what it means in terms of spiritual purpose.

The War and the Bombings in Yugoslavia

This Awareness suggests that the other current event regarding the war and the international attempts to draw the line against competitive aggressions which are divisive, is also indicative of the shifting consciousness. This Awareness suggests that the American president plays a unique role as leader of the Free World and feels compelled to champion freedom and is in an historical position to promote such essential concepts as freedom to the evolving global structure.

This Awareness suggests that with each human pursuit, wisdom is gained through trial and error, whereas choices are made, actions are played out, outcomes befall entities, and spiritual evaluations and corrections shall follow. This Awareness suggests that the concept of intervention, a united intervention, where the cooperative forces of the world unite to send a message to ones who attempt competition and the seizing of power in blatant defiance of the necessary global cooperative; that such united efforts are necessary to set forth the tenets of the evolving global structure.

This Awareness suggests that entities recognize the economic interdependence to the degree that the economic health and issues of neighboring countries affect one another throughout the globe, so that the evolving global consciousness is expanding its self-concept just as individuals going through the traditional development process expand from an individual self-concept to also enfold their loved ones. Such is the process occurring on a global basis.

This Awareness suggests that the original idea of intervention to send the message to leaders like Milosovic, that such barbaric agendas are no longer to be tolerated in an enlightened global community were well intended and historically necessary. This Awareness suggests, however, that the entity Bill Clinton should attend to the spiritual signals as reflected by the people when such serious mistakes are made in the bombing programs where targets are so grossly and wrongly assaulted, wherein such mistakes can become fodder for belief structures and propagandized manipulation by leaders seeking reasons to suspect or refrain from joining the global community and that caution in terms of perpetuating further war in the name of peace should be exercised more readily.

This Awareness suggests that the entity is now considering sending ground forces after initially selling the American citizens on the bombing campaign with the promise that no ground forces would be utilized, and that such rapid vacillations and the feelings that they promote within the entity and within the citizens are highly valuable spiritual signals regarding which steps should be taken and which steps should not be taken.

This Awareness suggests that the entity has partially made this decision in order to scare Milosovic and those of his ilk into recognizing that the unified forces do mean business and will get the job done, yet he is equally affected by the opposing energies from other world organizations and that if a choice is made outside of the alliance of other world communities, that such would be a misstep less difficult to remedy.

This Awareness suggests that entities can reap tremendous benefit by looking upon this situation and examining the feeling signals which arise and promoting the kinds of actions which they dictate in the daily lives within the scope of individual influence so that the learning experiences can be gleaned and efforts for peaceful cooperation and the evolving global structures can be affected from many levels.

If You Want World Peace Don't Sit and Feel Helpless

This Awareness suggests that entities participating in opinion polls and communicating through light responses correctively to each emotional signal can greatly facilitate a world peace far more than those that sit and feel helpless and critical of the processes unfolding, for each and every entity is a participant who is empowered to make a tremendous and profound difference.

Negative Millennium Predictions Are Helping to Feed Calamities

This Awareness suggests that energies are indeed volatile in some ways regarding the turning of the millennium and so many belief structures within mass-consciousness continue to perpetuate negativity as necessarily occurring around such major points in history and that some energy is feeding into such issues as the Columbine incident and the war itself.

This Awareness suggests that entities need not be overly concerned with such nor fear that such energies are overpowering the more positive enlightened energies which are creating these shifts, necessarily to be played out step by step through trial and error, and yet world leaders appear to be participating quite effectively in negotiating and designing the enlightened global structure of the future.

This Awareness suggests that the concept of freedom and empowerment shall arise from such skirmishes and struggles and that these two basic universal needs are the first and foremost to be promoted in any social and political and global structure. In this manner entities, communities and countries enjoy their rightful justice and freedom to self-determine without the threat of incursion by power mongers motivated by misguided and disconnected belief structures, such as those who would choose to wipe out neighbors or fellow school students.

This Awareness suggests that in the world with connected technology, that entities can see the faces of the ethnic refugees as well as the faces of the students at Columbine High and recognize the humanity and sameness of spirit and emotion resonating in ways that entities will no longer tolerate the divisions, the boundaries that breed hate and separation, for the power of spirit continues to push entities to examine individual and mass choices of mind, and it shall be victorious.

How We Can All Help in Bringing Peace

This Awareness suggests that entities can greatly facilitate this victory by immediately participating, by aligning their own spiritual energy through enlightened mindscapes, so that the necessary struggles and trials and errors are minimized. This Awareness suggests that individuals and societies and indeed, global structures, are intended to evolve being pulled by the pleasures of connection and meaning and creative interaction rather than the pains of want and fear and struggles for basic power and freedom.

This Awareness suggests that entities shall fear not but that to recognize that fear shall point to ideas within the individual and mass-mindscape which force entities to scratch their heads and wonder why people can be so evil and so violent and so hurtful and yet come away without answers.

This Awareness challenges each and every entity to find the answers within each negative emotional signal for a belief structure which seeks spiritual liberation is most surely to be found.

If we have completion we can continue.

Is it Too Late to Stop the War and Negotiate?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness seems to be implying that the solution to this situation by our president is justified and in some aspects of that I would certainly agree, however, there are a lot of people, including a recent poll, about 65% or better of the American people want the bombings to stop, and there are groups such as the Religious Society of Friends, the Quakers, who traditionally have understood that violence down through time has only resulted in more violence and they have always worked through the political system to create reconciliation of differences, compromise, negotiation and so forth to help lessen the consequences of wars and violence of this type.

Is Awareness saying it's too late at this point for negotiations; that political pressure, boycotts, the shutting off of funds for example and trade to this entity Milosovic, would not be just as effective if not better than the continual bombing and destruction of his country and in continuing the misery of its population?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that rather than it being too late for cooperative non-violent negotiations to resolve this problem, it is more accurately stated that it is too early. This Awareness suggests that in the time line of human development and in the neophyte state of global community, that although ultimately the cooperative answers are spiritually desirous, that until cooperative understandings are embraced universally, competitive solutions are necessary.

The Deeper Issues Involving Presidents Carter and Bush

This Awareness suggests that the American people can recognize that several decades ago the entity Jimmy Carter, who was an enlightened individual regarding the nature of cooperative approaches to violent aggressors through the use of sanctions and negotiations to attempt to persuade violent animalistic power-mongers to join the global community, that the entity was virtually laughed out of town.

This Awareness suggests that this entity created a very powerful concept within mass-consciousness, despite being laughed out of town, in holding fast to the spiritual reality that cooperation is the only way to attain the desired unity. However, it was the success of the entity George Bush, who took the alternate approach some years later in similar situations with the entity Sadam Hussein, whereas a military incursion sent a swift and powerful global message regarding those that choose to compete in an unfolding effort at global cooperation.

This Awareness suggests that the entities mentioned may not necessarily have been aware of the deeper issues involved in their failures or successes in foreign policy, and that there were and continue to be many surrounding issues having to do with power and competition and economic interests, certainly, surrounding the decisions of the entity George Bush in this particular incursion and the US interest in oil resources. Yet, that in a spiritual sense, in emotional human nature and behavior and in facilitating the global cooperation, that the natural evolution of individual and group consciousness insists by nature of the trinity of the self that the basic freedom and power needs of body are met first and foremost before a full and complete connection can occur. Just as the body has safeguard defenses against limiting ideas of mind, so must countries have defense against ignorant aggressions of competitors.

This Awareness suggests that humanity is presently poised at the threshold of a cooperative society, yet remains in vacillation back and forth between the concept of competition and cooperation. This Awareness suggests that until adequate freedom and empowerment is embraced as a fundamental right for each individual in the entire human race, that only then can cooperative structures exist in local or global communities.

This Awareness suggests that as long as entities remain in want of basic freedom and empowerment to control one's own destiny, or on a collective sense ones politics and ones resources, then competition for basic freedom and empowerment will be the norm. In competition, there are always winners and always losers. This Awareness suggests that in the natural intended spiritual state humanity is intended to understand and embrace freedom and empowerment in very early stages of individual and social development; long ago in human historical terms should these have been established.

This Awareness suggests that inevitably the global connection and economic interdependence will bring about the understandings of the basic necessity for freedom and empowerment and only then can lasting cooperation be established.

This Awareness suggests that as long as both strategies exist simultaneously, as long as some will compete and some will cooperate, that those who compete will seize advantage over those who cooperate. This Awareness suggests that entities such as Milosevic and Sadam Hussein, et cetera, who seize temporary power at the expense of global connection, shall recognize the temporary nature of the advantage of the competitive strategy as the cooperative forces exert sanctions and isolation, and yes, bombs, upon those who choose to cheat and violate the cooperative rules of the global game.

This Awareness suggests that as long as cheaters exist, (those who choose to compete and take advantage of those who are cooperating), that defense is necessary and spiritual. This Awareness suggests that each human body contains safeguard mechanisms to protect the basic freedom and empowerment of individuals and that when they are compromised, anger ensures that hard-wired bodily defenses will beat back any aggressor who attempts to seize or control the necessary freedom of self-determinism of another. The basic needs for freedom and power can never take a back seat even to that of connection.

This Awareness suggests that the Divine Safety Feature of bodily defense will always prevent the ill-chosen belief structures of mind from overcoming the very spiritual boundaries that the physical experience ensures. This Awareness suggests that this predominance of anger and fear and violation in the world shows just how unevolved and unenlightened humanity has allowed itself to remain by not recognizing the voice of spirit, the deficit states denoted by those belief structures and outcomes which are evaluated with negative emotional signals.

This Awareness suggests that the beauty inherent in the system is that through the defensive responses, the mind will ultimately see the patterns and make the connections between the belief structures, the outcomes, the evaluations, and the many wrong and limiting assumptions and remove them one by one, in order to disassemble the underpinnings of understandings within mass-consciousness which perpetuate such limiting forms of existence that command defensive responses in an era of technological and economic interdependence which should have long ago embraced true cooperation.

This Awareness suggests that for this reason that defense is presently a necessary evil, and that ultimately, cooperative negotiations and unified evaluations will become a global reality, with economic sanctions sufficient to teach and to check any who still think that competition will yield anything more than a short-term success, and that advocates for global freedom and empowerment can foster the education and enlightenment of each citizen of the world community, so that entities like Milosevic, Hussein and Hitler become ancient memories.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Is it Safe to Demand "Divine Intervention" From the Superconscious?

QUESTION:

A question from Karl Thornton, Point Pleasant, West Virginia. Actually, there's several questions in here. He writes "I have studied various information on Superconscious power, but I also have found out that the Superconscious realm of the mind does not judge your thoughts before it responds to them. Also, a person's own higher self is a manifestation of one's own Superconscious."

The Higher Self is connected to the Universal God Source, and God does not give you what you want, only what you need. So how can people demand the Superconscious to do anything? We must ask first, then God judges whether it is worthy or unworthy. "God's kingdom come, God's will be done." Is it truly safe to demand Divine Intervention from the Superconscious for any reason?

"How can one not have self-doubts according to this?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the earlier discussion on prayer and creative reality basically covers each of this entity's concerns. This Awareness suggests, however, that terminology and the belief structures allow the idea of the Superconscious to become entangled with mind, with spirit, and with the concept of All That Is.

This Awareness suggests that for better clarity, it can be stated that the Superconscious is likened unto the Spiritual Force and that the mind can facilitate or reduce the flow of Superconsciousness through the entity's existence, depending upon its belief structures which are willfully chosen.

This Awareness suggests that the mind, with its complete and utter freedom of choice, has no judgmental capacity and that indeed, the Superconscious provides the evaluation after the outcome of the action. This Awareness suggests that if entities recognize the distinct role of mind and spirit or Superconsciousness in this discussion, that they can begin immediately to embrace the wisdom of Superconsciousness in ways that allow the mind to become conscious and in empowered control of each and every event which is supplicated or demanded.

This Awareness suggests that if an entity feels inclined to demand something of Superconsciousness, or the Godhead, then there is a degree of anger, in that the existence or nonexistence of that which is being demanded is unfair and has promoted anger and resentment. This Awareness suggests that again, each feeling signal such as anger, resentment or fear, speaks volumes of the mindscape and can unlock the key to the Superconsciousness melding with the conscious mind.

If we have completion we can continue.

Why was the Information in the "Lessons of Enlightenment" Hidden for so Long?

( Why was it Not Included in the Bible? )

QUESTION:

A couple of questions from Jeff Mueller, Sacramento, California, that he sent in over the Internet. He writes "Hi! Thanks so much for all of your efforts! The Lessons of Enlightenment are so excellent! Why would this information be so hidden and unemphasized before? I am sure there are hidden references to this concept in the Bible somewhere, but why is it not mentioned outright in various religions and other common data sources? Why is it not obvious to all?" he asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that there are many, many reasons that humanity struggles with such basic and important understandings as those set forth in the Lessons of Enlightenment. This Awareness suggests that essentially, the information was indeed part and parcel of the message of the entity known as Jesus Christ, yet for reasons of control and misunderstanding and manipulation, certain Gospels were eliminated from the mainstream inclusions that became the Holy Bible.

These were the specific understandings of the self-unity and how the spiritual force operates within and between the trinity of self, the unifying force of mind, body and spirit. This Awareness suggests that instead of embracing the concept of Divine Inner Guidance and understanding how the self-regulating unifier of spiritual feeling set humans upon a purposeful course, that the negative emotion which predictably results from the lack of such self-understanding was assumed to be an evil or sinful force, seizing control of humanity and creating havoc and evil.

Instead of Divine Inner Guidance "Sin" was Adopted

This Awareness suggests that the less challenging concept of 'sin' was adopted by humanity, which was the faithless assumption that the human design was somehow flawed and that the emotional system was something to be feared, restrained, and that humans must beg forgiveness for natural inner processes.

This Awareness suggests that humanity has simply built upon this foundation, this fundamental flaw of the idea of human sin and an evil force, so that belief structures of highly intricate design have been erect which are forced upon humanity through mass-consciousness from such early ages that the automatic unfolding inner processes which attempt to unify the mind, body and spirit, backfire in ways that promote further fear and anger and ultimately, defensive competition and the kinds of violence and aggression discussed previously, which further reinforces the fear and resistance toward human understanding.

This Awareness suggests that essentially, humanity has given up on human nature and assumes it to be meaningless and hopelessly flawed to the degree that even scientific inquiry avoids understanding the nature of the human emotional system, that it is a deep scary and touch-me-not subject easier to avoid than confront head on.

Religions Set Empowerment into a Supernatural Realm

This Awareness suggests also that the realm of human spirit has been traditionally relegated to religions which define spirituality as something to be earned through a series of rituals and intermediary structures, yet which sets empowerment in a supernatural realm, which automatically relegates humans to a realm of disempowerment and suffering.

This Awareness suggests that indeed, the concepts within the Lessons are woven throughout human myth and religion and many other structures in symbolic forms. Yet without the basic understanding of the function and unifying force of human emotion, that such will remain symbolic and out of reach.

This Awareness suggests that in an enlightened society entities will learn from the day of birth how to attune to the emotional system, to be guided through daily experience, and human potential and experience will be vastly and profoundly removed from that which is presently experienced as 'normal.'

The Spiritual Force of Pleasure and Pain

This Awareness suggests that in essence, the spiritual force of pleasure and pain as it plays out within human biology is such a powerful and awesome force that it creates defensive responses of fight and flight where entities have basically taken flight from their very feelings and from further self-understanding and have assumed that life must be lived with constant pain and suffering and confusion and wonder, which creates further emotional pain, further corrective signals and the negative spiral continues until the patterns are perceived.

This Awareness suggests that as entities begin to embrace the self-understandings and experiences and potentials set forth in the Lessons of Enlightenment that profound individual and social progress can be restored; for the technological advancements and the spiritual longing can snap humanity into place with a great leap forward, once these crucial pieces of self-understanding are embraced.

This Awareness suggests that the fact that the Lessons are being absorbed and understood and retained and acted upon is a tremendous testimony to the receptivity of those pioneers taking these first steps to struggle to gain the insights they hold, and that the energy of such entities shall be the basis of the accumulating critical mass that shall accelerate and attain this great burst forward.

This Awareness suggests that entities seek daily ways of living and communicating the concepts within the Lessons of Enlightenment and that tremendous and profound benefit can result individually and en masse. If we have completion we can continue.

School massacre not bloodiest

By Hector Tober
Los Angeles Times

Several American newspapers and television networks called this week's mass killing in Littleton, Colo., "the worst U.S. school massacre." The people of Bath, Mich., a small farming town just outside Lansing, know differently.

On May 18, 1927, 45 people — including 38 children — were killed when an embittered School Board official set off a series of bombs inside the town's three-story, brick schoolhouse. That horrific attack has been called the bloodiest ever on a U.S. school campus.

The bombing was front-page news then but has long since slipped from the national memory.

Andrew Kehoe, a 55-year-old farmer and treasurer of the Bath School Board, was upset that the new Bath Consolidated School had been funded by a tax increase. The tax threatened his farm, according to Wednesday's Detroit News.

Most of the dead were children ranging in age from 6 to 8. An Associated Press dispatch of the day reported that Kehoe wired the basement with "more than 500 pounds of dynamite scattered in various places."

Kehoe set off dynamite, "burying the teachers and pupils under tons of debris," The Associated Press wrote. Principal E.E. Huyck rushed to confront Kehoe, who was attaching another wire to more explosives inside his car. As the two men "grappled," the bomber fired a rifle into his car, setting off the explosives there.

Kehoe and Principal Huyck were killed. Before setting off the blasts at the schoolhouse, Kehoe had killed "his wife and horses," the AP reported, and blown up his home.

The controversy with the School Board, it was reported, had left him "morose."

IS YOUR LIFE WASTED IF YOU LACK THE MATERIAL THINGS: MONEY, SEX ETC.?

QUESTION:

3/8/96 Paul Shockley, Interpreter

A question from Robert S., Vancouver, BC. He writes: "The idea promoted by materialistic society that a life lacking in money, fun, sex or whatever, is empty or wasted in some basic aspects, leads one to be deeply dissatisfied over what they haven't done or haven't got in the present incarnation. How would Cosmic Awareness suggest one deal with the nagging delusion that they are "missing out on it all"?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates entities need to make some kind of determination as to what they expect from life, why they expect that from life, and evaluate whether their expectations are the real purpose or meaning in life, and once they have assessed life's purposes and meanings and values to their satisfaction, then they can consider what target they should aim at in living their lives.

This Awareness indicates that just taking the society's values at a particular time in history as being the appropriate purposes for life is fallacious and meaningless, because what is important to society in one generation may be of insignificance in the next. This Awareness indicates that if you are living your life to satisfy society's expectations, then you may be missing out on life, even if you achieve everything society suggests are the important things in life.

This Awareness indicates that there have been times in the past when obedience to the church was the most important thing entities could do according to society. For others, there were times when being creative and artistic was the most important thing an entity could do. For others, at other times, giving something of value to society through invention, through work, through labor, through service to society, or through honors on the field of battle; these could have been the most important things available in one's life.

This Awareness indicates that different times call for different actions according to society. Society's values of life continue to change. The entity states that pleasure today is the society's hallmark of success and meaningful living, but there was a time when the hedonistic approach to life was seen as a debauchery and not of any great value at all. This Awareness indicates that if society today is hedonistic and pleasure is the important thing in life, is it necessarily true?

This Awareness suggests that you may wish to re-evaluate society's values rather than simply take them for what they are at any given time because society is quite fickle from time to time. The values change. It is important for you to find your own values in life and ask yourself: "What is truly important in life beyond the standards set by present-day society?"

How to Deal With "Politically Correct" Editors (The Limits to Freedom of Speech)

QUESTION:

Another question from this entity Robert S. "As an iconoclast, who has written many letters to the editor of various newspapers and magazines, I am becoming more and more annoyed with the censorship imposed against me by politically correct editors of both the Left and Right-wing variety.

"Most disappointingly, even the so-called 'New Age' magazines have succumbed to the pernicious 'politically correct' agenda and kept me from expressing my point of view. How would Awareness suggest that a broad minded strongly opinionated person like myself cope with the narrow-minded censors who are stifling my creativity?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that you may begin your letter asking that the editor not censor or change your statement or your letter, and stating that if the editor does so censor your letter that you will find other means of expressing yourself in ways that point out the censorship of the particular newspaper or magazine and its editor.

This Awareness indicates that there is also such a thing as considering whether your statements are in good taste or in bad taste, and whether you really want to express yourself in a way that is offensive to others. Perhaps the editors are doing you a favor by not letting the language used or the statements expressed be quite so offensive. Excessively offensive statements have a way of turning off the readers rather than let the readers have a better understanding of what you are trying to say.

The Use of Offensive Words in Your Letter

This Awareness indicates there are some entities who cannot speak without using offensive words, and they feel that they have the right to use offensive words repeatedly, and they feel that this is their right and the expression of their point of view, but this Awareness indicates many entities understand that such expression simply causes the readers to feel highly offended, and also to take it out on the newspaper or magazine that prints such offensive statements, so that the readers, if they cannot contact the one who expresses offensively, will turn their hostility and offense against the newspaper or magazine.

This Awareness indicates perhaps if you tell the newspaper you do not wish your words to be changed at all, the newspaper will find it necessary to avoid publishing your letter at all. This Awareness indicates that you may try to find a more suitable way of expressing yourself, if your way is too offensive to others. This Awareness indicates however, if it is simply a matter of ideas; if the ideas that you express are being censored, then you have a good and legitimate complaint, so long as your way of expressing your ideas is clear and reasonably inoffensive.

This Awareness indicates you are not likely to be given space in a newspaper to express some ideas that are in themselves offensive, such as lining up all hippies against a wall and killing them or some idea of lining up all blacks or Jews or homosexuals and shooting them or gassing them. This kind of idea in itself is too offensive to publicize or print. It is not something that is acceptable to the majority of entities.

It is so extreme in its expression that no reasonable newspaper or magazine would print such, but as long as your ideas have some reasonable credibility, as long as they are within reason and not some insane expression or psychotic expression, then you have a good chance of getting them printed in most magazines and newspapers, if they are expressed in a reasonable manner, without excessive or offensive types of language.

Those Who Put the "F" Word in Every Sentence

This Awareness indicates there are some entities who do not think they are being allowed to express themselves properly if they are not given the opportunity to show off their use of foul language. Some entities need to put the 'F' word in every sentence in order to feel that they are free, and have free speech. This Awareness indicates that this kind of speech is not that which appeals or is satisfactory to the majority of people in the public, and therefore, many magazines and newspapers will not print that kind of information with those expletives left in.

This Awareness indicates that if such an entity is angered because the editor cuts out his or her use of these words, then the entity is not being realistic about what is meant by 'free speech.' Free speech means giving forth information that allows ideas to get across, and the ideas of course, need to be reasonable, and the expression needs to be reasonable.

This Awareness indicates it is unreasonable for entities to rely on images that are gross and ugly and unpleasant and to demand that they have the right to throw out such gross, unpleasant images in order to claim free speech.

This Awareness indicates, for example, the average newspaper or magazine is not going to print letters to the editor about the joys of picking one's nose, or about the joys of reusing old toilet paper.

These kind of discussions are so grotesque, they are not a matter of free speech, they are simply a matter of creating disgust, and the ideas being presented are not of any social value or worthiness. They are simply disgusting, and such a person who would present such ideas would simply be trying to cause the public to recoil and feel extremely disgusted.

This Awareness indicates that there is such a thing as very bad taste, and very bad taste is not a requirement or test for free speech, or free expression. This Awareness indicates that to go to the extreme and consider free expression or free speech as being able to say anything you want without regard for the public's consideration of decency would excuse an entity to gouge out someone's eye and say "Well, I was just expressing my feelings and I rely on my Constitutional right of free speech and free expression as my defense!"

This Awareness indicates that this is not what is intended in the spirit of 'freedom of speech' and 'freedom of expression.' Hurting others through speech or expression is not the intent of protecting one's freedom of expression. Offending others is not the intent of freedom of expression, but if expressing a reasonable kind of idea or statement offends some entities, that can happen if within the bounds of reason the majority of entities recognize this expression as being in the mainstream and not to the extreme.

It is likened unto the entity who screams 'Fire!' in a theater, causing the audience to panic and stampede over each other, who then argues: "Oh! I was just expressing my right to free speech!" This Awareness indicates it is illegal. It is in bad taste. It is extremely offensive and is not covered by the right of free speech or protections of freedom of expression.

QUESTIONER:

Well, those examples just given are extremely exaggerated.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that without clear understanding of what the entity's so-called 'politically incorrect' statements are it is impossible to evaluate what the problem is in getting the editors to print his letters without changing his letter. This Awareness indicates that if the letters are reasonably presented and still are being edited and modified to be what he considers politically correct according to their agenda, then the entity does have legitimate complaints.

This Awareness suggests that in such a condition the entity may wish to ask them to print it uncensored and unchanged, or face the consequences of him picketing or otherwise censoring their paper by some public demonstration or writings informing the public as to how his letters to the editor are being censored.

QUESTIONER:)

Well, the entity even mentions the so-called New Age magazines. I suspect he's running into the politically correct editors who are biased one way or another on particular subject matter. For example, Pat Buchanan has very eloquently expressed problems that a lot of people can relate to in areas that are very sensitive, and according to the media are in those areas of political incorrectness, so maybe the entity has ideas he wants to express.

For example, he may disagree with this agenda that's being pushed by the homosexuals for example, in the states, to allow them to marry each other, and certain publications think that is a politically incorrect area to discuss. So Buchanan can get away with it, because he's a national figure now, but they label him as too far right and too conservative, and a racist and an anti-Semite and all that stuff, so it just seems to me it's just a problem of if you've really got opinions that you can't get published, maybe the entity ought to come up with his own news newsletter or something.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that the entity can even picket the publication or present some other expression for his opinions; go to some other paper or go to some other means of expressing himself. The newspapers and magazines do have their own right to censor their own publication. There is nothing that can be done about this.

The entity could file a suit against them for changing his words, but it is very unlikely that any court of law would rule in his favor. The newspapers and magazines are owned by someone other than the entity and are not bound by law to print all letters to the editor without alteration.

This Awareness indicates that the question the entity wanted to know was, "What can be done about it?" Very little can be done about it. It is worth looking to see whether it is important to you to have your words held in a sacred unalterable fashion or whether you are willing to compromise in the use of your wording in order to get your message printed at all, or whether you should just start your own publication and find your own subscribers, or whether you can picket the newspapers or the magazines and get people to join with you in picketing or canceling their subscriptions because the magazine would not print your letters to the editor according to your own original script.

Politically Incorrect Thoughts Monitored by the "Thought Police"?

FOLLOW-UP (VIKIK):

The thing I find most disconcerting about this 'political correctness' these days is feeling that if I would say out loud some of the thoughts I have in my head, the mind police, or thought police could come down on me for what I'm thinking. It just doesn't seem right!"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that it is only recently that political correctness has had a term that draws attention to this thought control activity, but political correctness has been around for many, many centuries. Four hundred years ago, entities were not allowed to criticize the church. To do so would have carried the threat of being burned at the stake for heresy.

Many Burned at the Stake for Political Incorrectness

This Awareness indicates this is not anything other than political incorrectness that these entities would be punished for, but it was not called political incorrectness, it was called heresy for entities to speak out against the dogma of the church. This Awareness indicates that even in this century there have been situations in which entities have been killed for speaking their minds, for giving their thoughts in one country or another.

This Awareness indicates that now it is being labeled as 'politically incorrect' if entities say certain things. In other words, it is against the policy of the mainstream of opinions to speak politically incorrect ideas. This Awareness indicates that 'political' simply means the populous or the people, and the ruling class, and what is commonly accepted by them, and to speak out against the policies or political forces is to get their wrath in return.

Congress Could Make Speaking of "Conspiracies" a Crime

At present there are no actual laws in regard to the politically incorrect speech, but it is moving in the direction whereby entities who speak out in a politically incorrect manner could within a short time find that they are being arrested because of some law. This Awareness indicates for example that bill in Congress that would arrest entities for felony charges if they warned about government conspiracies.

This is essentially a political incorrectness according to those in power who don't want the people talking about conspiracies. This Awareness indicates that a few years ago, the entities who spoke of conspiracies were looked at and laughed at as being "conspiracy nuts," just as there were the "UFO nuts," crazy for thinking such a thing, but suddenly people began to realize, "Hey! There really are conspiracies!" "There really are UFOs!"

If this is still to be prohibitive in the field of discussion, then there have to be consequences for people speaking 'politically incorrect', and this can lead to laws that support the thought control police, so that entities cannot think ideas or express ideas that are not condoned by the government that is in power over the masses.

Political Correctness Undermines the Constitution

This Awareness indicates it will even become politically incorrect for entities to think that the government is the people, for the people and by the people, if that becomes politically incorrect, and entities who abide by the Constitution, the law of the land, will be seen as extremists and politically incorrect, if the new government that forms decides this is a politically incorrect way of thinking, and can get laws passed to discredit and discard the Constitutional Rights of individuals to free thought, free speech and free expression of ideas.

It is all part of the effort to control the masses more and more, taking away one freedom after another so that nothing is left, and all is controlled by political agendas and new rules that overpower the guarantees of freedom as given by the Constitution.

Why is Media Promoting the Pope so Much?

(Is the Pope the Anti-Christ as Claimed?)

QUESTION:

A question from Joe A., Fayetteville, AR. I'll read his statement here. "Why are the media promoting the pope so much these days? It seems like every day on the news there's something about what the pope is doing, and always promoting him in a favorable light. It's obvious to me that the media is training us to like the pope. I just can't quite figure out why!"

"I heard a story yesterday on the BBC about a government investigation in Brazil into the affairs of the largest Protestant Evangelical church in that country. They mentioned that Catholicism was the dominant religion in Brazil, although these Protestant Evangelists are now making a lot of converts and starting to give the Catholics a run for their money.

"The story portrays this Protestant church as more in the business of amassing wealth than saving souls, which may very well be true, except I'm sure the Catholics do the same thing, and the story didn't mention that! The spin was to portray these Protestants unfavorably and the Catholics favorably. So that's my question. Why are the media now so busy to like the pope and think well of Catholicism and be suspicious of the Protestants?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that perhaps there are certain entities within the media that are strong Catholics, or perhaps the Catholic church has a strong influence that the media admires or is catering to. This Awareness indicates it depends on what the particular media in focus is trying to promote. This Awareness indicates that the question is such that it appears to be seeking to know if there is some kind of media conspiracy to make the pope the new Antichrist. This is not seen, although this is a common argument among Protestants, that the pope will be the Antichrist in the Latter Days.

This Awareness indicates it is not seen that this is behind this kind of media reporting. This Awareness indicates that it is simply a good story, and the media looks for good stories, stories to sell to the masses. There are a large number of Catholics in society and there are a large number of Protestants in society and a story like this would sell well to all of society because of the identifications that entities have with Catholicism and Protestantism.

"Mother Mary" About to Make World-Wide Announcement?

QUESTION:

A question from Brian P., Lake Forest, IL. He writes "Many Catholic visionaries of the Mother Mary are being told that a great world-wide warning is about to occur, where everyone will see their interior selves in the light of God, rather like a past-life review. Some claim to actually know the date. Would Awareness please comment on this and reveal the date is possible?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is simply a theoretical presumption attempting to capitalize on the presumed Photon Belt energy and increased vibration which will help entities to have an intensified awareness of themselves at some particular time in the future.

This Awareness indicates that as frequencies in the general atmosphere around the earth increase, consciousness will also become expanded and increase so that entities become more aware, not only of who they are at present, but also become more aware of their extended experiences into the past.

This Awareness indicates that this is all a kind of presumed experience that entities will be having based on the recognition that vibrations are being enhanced and consciousness will be affected. It is not something that will be made available to everyone on the same date, and those who predict a particular date for this to occur are simply speculating.

This Awareness indicates as entities' consciousness enhances or expands, they will find certain realizations occurring to them. It will not all happen at once, for any individual nor for all of the masses. There will be a gradual enhancing of consciousness for each individual and among the masses.

DID AWARENESS SPEAK OF PHOTON BELT BACK IN 1986?

QUESTION:

Jon Strongbow sent down a note to Vikki that's sort of interesting. He wrote: "Vikki, today while filing I came upon what I think may be the first mention of the Photon

Belt in the Awareness material. On page 8 of reading #86-13 Awareness says: "The celestial event known as Wormwood, a movement of celestial energies into the path of the solar system, whereby upheaval on this planet could result in a great catastrophe as mentioned in the Book of Revelation. This will separate the progressed souls from the retarded ones."

"Way back in 1986!," Jon says. "Can you believe it?"

Does Awareness confirm that that was a reference to the Photon belt?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is seen as referring to upcoming events that were hinted at during a time before the terminology 'Photon belt' had been used. This Awareness indicates that essentially it is an early reference to these changes that are due in this decade and the next.

Wasn't "Wormwood" an Alien Space Ship?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Well, I've always been confused regarding that Wormwood mentioned by Sitchin and other writers and Awareness, in fact. I seem to recall it had something to do with an alien spaceship that came around every so many thousand years. Am I mistaken in that?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there are many events that are essentially paralleling one another and the 'Wormwood' term can be a kind of catch-all term for these events. Wormwood also was at one time a reference to Chernobyl. This Awareness indicates that there are certain catch-all terms, or terms that can be used as a kind of umbrella for a number of events that are due during a time of cosmic change.

Why Are the Knights of Malta in Latvia?

QUESTION:

A question from Rasma K., Saint Cloud, Minnesota. She writes: "Some disturbing news came to my attention about my native country Latvia, that Knights of Malta have sent an ambassador to the Latvian government. I am deeply concerned. What are these people doing there in this small Baltic country? It is very likely that they are in the other two countries also, Estonia and Lithuania. "Would you please ask Awareness this question: What is the true purpose, their hidden agenda, of the Knights of Malta to be in the Baltic states?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the Knights of Malta is an organization that has long been associated with the work of Globalists who are bent on controlling the internal affairs of nations. It was founded during the 11th Century and has over the many centuries since been active in finding ways of bringing countries into a kind of controlled networking by Globalists working for a One-World Government, with the intent of being controlled behind the scenes, in the same way and with the same purpose and agenda as is now surfacing as the New World Order.

These countries in the Balkan area pose some threat to this agenda because they continue to seek independence from Russia in general, and from the rest of the countries of the now dissolved Soviet Union, whereas the New World Order is working to bring the Soviet Union into a coalescent group of countries that would be under the control of the New World Order. To allow any of the various countries in the dissolved Soviet Union to be independent would be to create difficulty for the New World Order.

This Awareness indicates that there are forces trying to bring all of this together so that no countries are independent and sovereign and all are connected to the New World Order. These countries have not played into this to the satisfaction of those promoting the Globalists' plan for a New World Order.

Are Knights of Malta Ruled by the Pope?

QUESTION:

One other question from Rasma. "Is the order of the Knights of Malta ruled by the pope?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears to be connected to the pope, not necessarily ruled by the pope. It appears to be under the control of the Illuminati, the international bankers, and the connection with the pope is as much an influence on the pope as the pope is an influence on the Knights of Malta, or even moreso.

The Hierarchy of the Illuminati

The Knights of Malta appear to be able to direct the pope in certain of the plans or planning stages. This Awareness indicates that it all appears to be a kind of pyramid that has the international bankers at the top, the Knights of Malta below that, the Catholic church below that and off to the side, then followed by the secret orders and fraternities. The Zionists, and the Mafia are also in there, along with the Bilderbergers, Council on Foreign Relations, Trilateralists and others below that.

Still further down are the international and nation agencies for spying and for intelligence gathering and below that are the national and state governments and province governments and down to the police forces in the various communities and states. In the mix is also the media and its control, along with the other businesses, corporations and banking groups that have their place in the various nations and states.

When the Knights of Malta Contacted C.A.C.

FOLLOW-UP: VIKKI:

Back in 1979, during the "Gathering Storm" information CAC was putting out, we received a letter from an officer of "Saint John's Cross of Jerusalem, The Knights of Malta." Was that a person involved that was just simply curious about something about us, or was it a message that we were being noted?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there had been information printed from CAC which was relayed to these entities which in turn was noted by the entities and it was their intention to find out more as well as to inform CAC that it was being watched. It was aware of the CAC information. It was a way of intimidating and inquiring at the same time.

"Kryon" Advertising a "Spiritual Implant"

QUESTION:

A question from Kathleen V., Houston, Texas, in another area here. "There is a channeler in California who has published the communications of Kryon of the Magnetic Service. Kryon, is "advertising" a spiritual implant inserted into the etheric of an individual which acts as a spigot for greater spiritual awareness.

"This implant is touted as a 'karmic neutralizer'. Kryon's instructions for acquiring this implant is to simply "petition the universe" for it. This implant also comes with a change of spiritual guides that are more highly trained in guiding the individual with the implant.

"The term 'implant' makes me hesitate, even though the promise of its enlightening powers are attractive. What can Awareness tell us about this 'implant,' and is it harmful? Is it real?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that as long as you do not have to pay for this, it is harmless. This Awareness indicates that if it is something you must pay for, then to the degree of cost, it has harmed you. This Awareness indicates that if it is simply a petition for the universe for this implant, it is really nothing more than a prayer for information and for blessings, regardless of whether it is called an 'implant' or a 'blessing'.

This Awareness indicates that the term 'implant' is that which gives it a different connotation than a blessing. It gives the entity the impression that they are getting something of a high-tech nature in spiritual technology, and in reality, it can be nothing other than some kind of blessing that would help the entity to have greater insight.

Are "Meditron, Aumtron and Teletron" Really Actual Beings from Sirius?

QUESTION:

A question from JD in New York. "We have been given messages from sources calling themselves Meditron, Aumtron, and Teletron; the latter two said to be from Sirius. Are these actual beings?" she asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that 'beings' can be many different things. A concept can be a being. Any energy field can be called a being. This Awareness indicates that the terms ending in 'tron' again make use of the high-tech terminology of modern times to give the impression that it is something of a high-tech nature, or of a scientifically valid substance or reality.

This Awareness indicates that these are simply words made up to appear as names of energies that are described as being from some extraterrestrial creatures. This Awareness indicates that likened unto Saint Twinkle they are that real. They are as real as they are energized to be real. Who can deny that Saint Twinkle exists? Who can deny that Meditron or his associates exist?

They are energies that are being energized as representing certain forces from extraterrestrial origins. This Awareness indicates that each is as real as entities make them. This Awareness reminds you that all things evolve into the material realm from the realm of imagination. They begin in the realm of concepts, Atziluth; move into the realm of images or imagination; Briah; and from there move into Yetzirah, the realm of blueprints and plans and designs; and then appear in Assiah, the manifesting realm of substance and reality.

Where does reality start? Where does reality end? Isn't it just as real when it is in the realm of concepts or in the realm of imagination? Maybe it is a different kind of reality than that which has substance and is tangible and viable to the five senses, but it is still real, even if it is imagination.

Goofy is Alive and Real

This Awareness indicates that Mickey Mouse is real. Pluto is real and Goofy is real. They may not be quite as real to the five senses as is your pet dog, but they are real in some level of consciousness.

Where Did All That Red Clay Come From?

QUESTION:

A question from Paul S., in Bucyrus, Ohio. It's a long statement. I'll read it. There's more than one question in it. He writes:

"I've been doing some heavy reading and this always brings information, which brings more questions. In Ignatius Donnelly's book on Destruction Of Atlantis, he had a quest to answer "From where did the great amount of clay, especially red clay come from?"

"For example, this clay sediment reaches from Minnesota to New Jersey, and in Illinois is around 120 feet thick. At 114 feet, they found a coin which was rolled and engraved. Actually, it was acid etched. Gathering information from the legends, Donnelly assumed it came from a collision of earth with a comet. This would have evaporated the water in the oceans and put it into the atmosphere. It would have also raised the temperature of the earth, and for a period of time there would have been no rain.

"Following this, there would have been a time when clouds formed and the earth grew darker and darker and then colder and colder. This was then followed by great and lengthy rains and the famous flood. Everyone seems to remember the flood, but few mention the preceding events. All this seems plausible, but is it the truth?

"I ask this because I then get George Hunt Williamson's book Other Tongues, Other Flesh. In it, he again goes back to the same legends and he comes in with another perspective. Now the advantage that Williamson has that Donnelly didn't is that we've had an awful lot of contact with the aliens from Venus, Mars, Orion and Sirius since 1947 and he has the input of these beings.

"His claim is that when Maldek exploded and blew itself apart, that a lot of the debris came to earth. Whether this is the same clay that Donnelly was referring to or not is another question. And in addition, he also explains that the meteorites that fall to the ground as tektites, does not come from the moon or from outer space, but was made in our own earth's vortex, an etheria above our earth, and when it gets large enough it falls to earth's surface, so we are slowly accumulating more and more surface material continually.

"In the book Oahspe there is mentioned of earth being the red planet. As an earthling we can see Mars and it does have a reddish cast to its color. In Williamson's book he tells of a time when the Mid West land-owners saw flying green poles going over the ground at high speeds. He later restates that this was Martian beings doing earth a favor.

"Our atomic experiments may have destroyed much of the amoeba-like organisms and this made the soil infertile. The Martians were spraying the ground with a powder which later turned the ground reddish. This happened in the area of Saint Paul/ Minneapolis, and in the years of 1955 and '56 the area farmers had better-than-ever crops.

"The Martians imply that is why Mars has its reddish cast. The living organisms create enzymes and these enzymes break up organic material in the soil so the plants can better utilize the nitrogen in these compounds. So in my decrees I'm asking for a repeat performance in the CIS nations and Russia, as they are exporting all their fertilizer and their crops have been worth much. Thus, an action of this sort may help stem a famine among them.

"Ask Awareness if this is a worthy action, and did the red clay come from a comet, or from Maldek, or from an action within our earth's vortex over a long period of time?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears much of the clay as that which was once dust in the atmosphere of the earth, some of it having come from Maldek at one time. Some of it, having at another time come from the collision of an asteroid or comet on the earth; the crater for this being found in the southeastern part of the United States. This Awareness indicates that another such collision formed that which is the Caribbean Sea.

This Awareness indicates that there is also some sediment in the United States that came from the tectonic plates as the Eastern part of the United States rose out of the sea and pushed upward to form that which are the Rocky Mountains; the plates carrying much of the ocean's sediment in toward the central part of the land mass.

This Awareness indicates that some of this plate movement has been clearly defined in scientific books and journals, and theoretically presented. The concepts of Maldek and extraterrestrial origins, or the space dust that has formed much of the clay is less clearly understood or defined by any scientific journals or books. The sources mentioned by the questioner are perhaps the most clear and expository writings on this subject.

The Elephant's Ritual Over a Stillborn Baby

QUESTION:

Another question from Robert in Vancouver, BC. "On television recently I saw a show about elephants in Africa, in which a baby elephant was stillborn. While its corpse laid on the ground, another adult female elephant came along, and went up to the dead baby and waved a foot in a circular motion just above the corpse. Could Awareness please tell us if it was sensing the residue energies of the baby's departed soul, or what?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it appears it was attempting to sense any life force from the baby elephant, just checking to see if there was anything there. The action appears to be that which is instinctive to these creatures as a way of determining whether something is still alive.

WHO OR WHAT REALLY REINCARNATES?

( More on Wanderers and Soul Mates )

QUESTION:

A question from Ted H., Fond du Lac, WI. He asks: "Who or what really reincarnates? Ramon Stevens is a trance channel for a source he has named Alexander. In one of his published books titled Earthly Cycles, Alexander presents a very different version of reincarnation. The following is a quote from Alexander in regard to this.

"In Earthly Cycles we proposed a new model of reincarnation which abandoned the traditional notion of a single soul recycling itself into a succession of bodies. Rather, the Higher Self projects offshoots, single souls into a number of simultaneously occurring lifetimes. The soul of an individual does not come back time and again, but is reabsorbed into the Higher Self with any unresolved karma projected into other offshoots. The Higher Self cannot release earthly experience until all karma created by its offshoots is dissolved."

And Ted asks: "Would Awareness please comment on this?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be correct in terms of many of the instances of reincarnation, not necessarily in every case. There are some entities who directly reincarnate totally, but generally when an entity's karma is completely fulfilled, that entity does not reincarnate except by choice.

This Awareness has referred previously to those entities known as Wanderers. These are entities who volunteer to reincarnate even though they do not have karma to repay. They incarnate into an area in order to assist those in that planetary environment or in that area to become more free and spiritually enhanced and evolved.

This Awareness indicates that for the past half-million years, entities reincarnating on earth have, for the main part, had their souls split in ways that allowed several entities to reincarnate from a single soul. This has accompanied the population growth that has evolved and followed from this time up to the present, wherein these entities worked off karma from the earlier incarnated being.

This Awareness indicates that in some cases, the entities accumulated even more karma and their souls split further, but this Awareness indicates the ideal is for entities' souls to remain intact and karma not to be regenerated into offshoots, so that the entity can move into higher vibratory frequencies and become assimilated with the Divine Energies of the universe.

Splitting of Souls Often Creates Soul Mates

This Awareness indicates otherwise, there are many splittings in terms of the soul as it reincarnates into different expressions or different energies and different entities. This Awareness indicates that this can also be seen as part of the nature of soul mates. Soul mates being two parts incarnated separately from a single soul in a past life experience, wherein they come together and work their remaining karma off individually and then rejoin as one in the manner associated with soul mates.

Will We Have to be Re-educated in Photon Belt?

QUESTION:

A question from Stanley S., Kingston, R.I. in relation to the Photon energies. He writes: "We came into this world or existence absolutely helpless and uninformed and had to be taught over time how to survive. We couldn't even communicate with our parents very well. In CAC issue #462, I read that as we move into the world of antimatter we will find it very unlike this one, which we have been educated to, and wonder if it will be necessary to be re-educated there, as we were when we were born into this one.

"That being so, who will be our tutors?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that a child learns more in the first 3 or 4 years of life than during the entire remainder of life. This Awareness indicates that the information learned by the child may not be in regard to specific knowledge, but will be found in regard to the mysteries of the experience of life itself, to the point where the child learns to learn, and therefore, is capable of moving into new experiences with so much already available to it, that throughout the rest of its life it has essentially the proper training or proper information to allow it to adjust as needed from one situation to another.

This Awareness indicates that likewise, what you have learned in this physical realm will have sufficient basis to allow you to enter into a new realm with the ability to perceive and adjust accordingly to the new energies in that new realm.

This Awareness indicates those who will have difficulties are those who think that they can only survive at the expense of others and find themselves in a situation in which the reality is that they can only survive with the cooperation of themselves and others mutually helping to create the new reality, for the mind itself becomes the creator for these entities, and the one who thinks that he can take the world by force will find it taking him and discarding him, and throwing him back into the lower vibrations from whence he came; and these entities will be the ones who need teachers, or failing to receive the proper teachings, will find themselves hurled back into the third dimension, or lower dimensions and having to start over again.

Who Will "Address" the New Energy Situation?

QUESTION:

Another question by Stanley S. "In this same reading given October 25th, 1995, Awareness states: "New energies for computers and for your machinery and energy sources will be addressed prior to this situation." And again, my question is: "by whom?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that much of this has been given; that the spiritual responsibility for helping mankind through these changes is that which has been accepted by those entities from the Dog Star in Sirius. This Awareness indicates the Sirian extraterrestrials are already present on earth. The entities are not necessarily physical to humanity at this time, although it is possible for some humans in altered states of consciousness to see these entities, and many of these entities are already making certain etheric adjustments to the tools and technologies that are present on earth.

This Awareness indicates that some of these tools cannot be modified properly for the new energies, the Photon energies, and will become archaic. Others will be modified and become prototypes for the creation of still more inventions and technological tools for the benefit of the new emerging society.

What Will be the Source of "New Information?"

QUESTION:

That information may apply to this last question of Stanley, who asks: "Also stated in that same reading, "It appears that there will be a considerable amount of information made available just prior to such an event." And I wonder, what will be the source of this information?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that as entities begin to move between dimensions, there will be more communication made between inter-dimensional beings and those in the physical form. This Awareness indicates already, some entities have expressed seeing loved ones who have passed on in a kind of ethereal appearance, though they are very clear. Yet they see that they are not in absolute physical form.

Some People Already Are Seeing Ghost-Like Beings

They have witnessed these ghost-like beings who shine through from one dimension into this one and realize that something is happening that is very unusual and wonder if it is from the influence from the Photon belt. This Awareness indicates that the two dimensions begin to merge together as humans take on more of the Photon Energy and as the Photon Energy begins to bring the other dimension closer into the physical dimension.

The merging of these two energies: the physical and the Photon, allows for a bridge to occur between dimensions so that people see those who are waiting on the other side, and those who are from the other side merge into the physical and are able to communicate more freely.

How to Communicate with Alley Cats

QUESTION:

One final question for this session from Barbara S., Chicago, Illinois. She writes: "I have just recently added two wonderful alley cats to my family, and just adore them. Any ideas on how I might "communicate" more fully with them would be appreciated. Also, I have heard that cats transmit healing energies to humans, especially for humans. Is this true?"

Actually there's two questions there.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that different entities communicate differently with their pets, therefore, your own way of communicating might be different from that of someone else, but in general this Awareness suggests that you simply be very attentive to your animal at the time you desire communication and very sensitive to the fields of energy emitted by the cat and from yourself; feeling the energy that you emanate, touching the energy that the cat emanates and keeping your mind thoughtless, without thought; feel the merging of these energies and then read the impressions that come as the energies merge, the energies you send and the energies you pick up from the cat. Feel the impressions that you get when focused in this manner.

This Awareness suggests the second part of the question be repeated.

Does a Cat Put Out Healing Energies?

QUESTION:

She writes: "I have heard also that cats transmit healing energies to humans, especially for the aura. Is this true?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that you may let the cat's auric energies merge with your auric energies and feel them as healing and as being full of vitality, and this can be beneficial. It has been scientifically proven that the petting of a cat can help to lower the blood-pressure and to balance the blood-pressure. It can also be useful in relieving stress, which can be of great benefit to individuals and their health.

Dogs Relieve Stress Better Than Wife

This Awareness indicates that the same is indicated with dogs. That a recent report on your CNN news indicated that dogs can give greater relief of stress than does your wife or husband. The presence of your wife or husband may not help to relieve your stress, whereas the presence of your dog can do this for you. This Awareness indicates this is because you know that your dog has no great expectations or demands of you, and you may not feel the same about your mate; in fact, you may, in enjoying the presence of your mate, be constantly concerned about things that are expected of you which you have not fulfilled, which can create greater stress for you.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Subject: Help Heal Christopher Reeve!

Christopher Reeve will walk again-----with your help!

Join us in a celebration to usher the new consciousness of the twenty-first century. The millennium will mark an astounding new era in human potential, when long-mysterious biological riddles are solved. Breakthrough understandings will reclaim their innate guidance as humans at last decode the language of human feeling. When finally understood, the emotional system will offer proof of the existence and function of human spirit, forcing the dogmatic walls of science to come tumbling down. Divine intention will take its rightful place within evolutionary theory. Human purpose, self-regulation, and natural morality will be evident, and will guide us out of the darkness of our unnecessary suffering and mere survival level existence. With this guidance we will reclaim the 80% of our mind power that now lies dormant, and enter the "being" level of existence which is our evolutionary destiny. God is not dead, just waiting for us to figure out the gifts we've been given---both free will and biological predestiny to orient us.

Our first experiment in this new consciousness is to explore the real power behind prayer---which even scientists are now acknowledging. Prayer will soon be recognized as a normal operation of the mind's capacity to select and create physical events, as quantum psychics suggests. Humans will embrace this divine gift, and recognize how we have long been answering our own prayers through our inner power and connection to our creator.

The mind is designed to create desired images and to request them to become physical by applying emotional energy---the very life force of human spirit. Intense desire and joyous faith can move mountains, but beliefs which carry fear and anger will also create physical reflections of themselves. Together we have created all the fearsome and painful experiences we believe to come from external sources by simply misdirecting our powerful minds through unenlightened, limiting beliefs. We have created pain, war and despair, but we can also create joy, healing and transcendent experience.

Join us now to help restore faith in humanity, to help attain a critical mass of directed mental energy which can show the world the power of human mind. Once the world has seen this power, there can be no turning back. With enlightened self-understanding we can change the world!

Let's begin with a focused effort, a group meditation, a "prayer" session toward the healing of the actor Christopher Reeve. With enough emotionally energized images of his restored health, mobility and vigor, we can alter the physical probabilities in many ways. The maximum, critical mass amount of energy invest can bring an instantaneous "miraculous" physical healing. Less energy can also help, by attracting new insights and breakthroughs in the medical community which can rapidly increase the current progress and help him walk again in time. Christopher shows his faith in spirit and is of the firm belief that he will walk again. This is the kind of mindscape that can allow him to receive each such spiritual offering, and enjoy the cumulative effect of focused human energy.

This is how you can help! You can participate in several ways:

1. By adding Christopher Reeve to your particular form of structured prayer and offering your love and power on a regular basis.
2. By joining us in a group meditation on his birthday, September 25, 1999. We will be aiming for 12:30pm Pacific Daylight Time, but any time that day will be also effective. You can use any method you prefer as long as the image of his restored health and repaired spinal cord is energized with the maximum feelings of love, faith, compassion, and humanity. Feel your energy being sent to him and his receiving it lovingly and with maximum power. Or you can use something like the following:

Sit in a quiet comfortable place and take 10 deep connected cleansing breaths to clear your mind and relax your body. With each breath feel your human spirit within and recognize it as your most loving, joyous, enthusiastic state of being. (It is not your mind, but the power that moves you, and speaks through human feeling).

Then create a mental image of Christopher and feel the universal connection between your spirit and his, for separation is but an earthly illusion. Feel the love and compassion for his bravery in facing his challenge and allow the loving feelings to sweep through your body. Then imagine these powerful feelings as congealing into a beam of white light. Then in your mind's eye project the beam through space/time to Christopher. See him enfolded in the loving, healing energy, and receiving all the grace of the universe. Feel your gratitude in sharing this force and imagine him welcoming its full creative and healing force. See him regain his normal physical functioning, and quickly recovering his "super" physical presence.

When you feel a sense of completion, return to your normal state of conscious focus by taking five more deep breaths. Then have a great day! (You will feel certain benefits as well!)

But please remember: The essential point is that the feeling of joy is the active ingredient in the new formula for successful healing as opposed to the pleading, entreating, begging to "God" or any outside sources or "authorities. The joy feeling carries IS the energy for the healing!
