WHAT ARE OUR MAIN MISCONCEPTIONS CONCERNING OUR EXISTENCE?

Question (3/11/96) Paul Shockley, Interpreter

A question from JD in New York. She writes "Cosmic Awareness says things which would seem to indicate that our so-called 'reality' may not be as we believe it to be, i.e., a physical 3-D space in which planets and stars whirl around in space, with other experiences perceptible at other vibratory levels.

"What are currently our main misconceptions concerning our existence in the universe?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the main misconception that entities have is that there is solid matter in the universe, when in reality there is vibration everywhere, and the vibration gives the illusion of solid matter because your senses tend to see the vibration as being substance. This Awareness indicates it is likened unto seeing a cloud from a great distance and thinking it is a solid piece of white material.

This Awareness indicates that as you move closer to the cloud, you realize it is not solid at all. When you are in a high position above the cloud looking down, for example, from a spaceship, or airplane, it may look like a nice billowy cotton mattress that you could jump into and land on very softly, but if you were to try it, you would find yourself going right on through toward the ground itself.

The 5 Senses Misrepresent What is Really There

This Awareness indicates that it is because the senses have a way of misrepresenting what is there, and if your senses look at a steel ball and you see the solidity of the steel ball and you feel its solidity, you would swear that it is solid, and nothing could pass through, but if you look at it through some kind of special microscope that sees through and into the atomic level, you will see all kinds of space leading through the ball, with very little substance or matter within the atoms themselves.

This Awareness indicates that by realizing that your senses lie to you and give you false information and give you a misrepresented image of reality, you can begin to use the mind more to recognize the reality of vibration as the ultimate end, and begin to see that all things are created out of these frequencies of the Resonating Electromagnetic Scale, and that solid matter is but part of the illusion, because of the Tree of knowledge and the 5 fruit of the senses.

The Fruit from the Tree of Wisdom Proves There is no Death

This Awareness indicates the 5 fruits known as the senses are the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge which allows entities to experience that which appears to be death, as described in Biblical terms. This Awareness indicates that partaking of the 5 fruit surely leads to death, but if your reality does not believe in the 5 fruit, and sees these as simply tools for limited use in evaluating reality and does not rely on the 5 senses totally, and if you can, with your wisdom, (the fruit of the Tree of Wisdom), look through the matter and see the vibration, then you realize that the consciousness which is permeating the entire realm of existence does not die. It continues eternally, and there is no death anywhere.

The Tree of Wisdom allows entities to experience an awareness, and the experience is eternal. This Awareness indicates that this may allow entities to see a different kind of reality than that which they come to rely on when using the 5 senses alone. This Awareness indicates it is nice, however, to be able to see, to smell, to taste and to feel things and to hear things. The beautiful music that can be made available for the ears, the great taste in foods, the beautiful sights, the enjoyable texture and touch of things can be greatly appreciated while you still understand the reality is not limited to those senses.

HOW IS CLASSICAL MUSIC EXPERIENCED ON OTHER PLANETS?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Does something like great music, great classical music as we've come to know it, or something similar to it exist on other dimensions and on other planets, and if so, do entities hear it or feel it, or how do they perceive it?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that entities in other dimensions also have their sensual apparatus. They are not deprived of this, but they may have a greater reliance, proportionately, in the use of wisdom, the consciousness and awareness that leads beyond sensual data. This does not mean they cannot enjoy the 'music of the spheres,' or other singing or other sounds or tastes.

This Awareness indicates it is just that their sensitivities are greater for the understanding of the frequencies and vibrations, so that they are not fooled into thinking the frequencies and vibrations are solid matter, in some of these realm. This Awareness indicates of course, there are also realms wherein matter is much more solid, and entities have much more gross sensitivities.

What Perception is Like in Realms of Lower Frequency

The realms in these lower vibrations would not perceive music of harmony. They would simply hear sounds: clangs, bumps, noises and so forth, and this to some, in those lower frequencies, might seem to be music to their ears. This Awareness indicates that tastes might be quite limited and gross in comparison to what others in higher frequencies would think of as tasty.

This Awareness indicates that at any rate, the senses, even in the angelic realms, are very strong and yet these entities also know the wisdom of the experiences based on frequencies and vibrations, and do not rely solely on the senses for evaluating data. In other words, a person with higher consciousness does not give up the five fruit associated with knowledge just because their consciousness is more acute.

This Awareness indicates in fact, their more acute consciousness can help them to better enjoy the fruit of knowledge, the 5 senses.

WHAT IS "THE MUSIC OF THE SPHERES"?

QUESTION:

Some of the romantic poets and others over the years have often made reference to 'music of the spheres'. If there is such a thing, would Awareness please describe it?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that all things are vibrations. All vibrations can be heard if there is an apparatus or sensitivity attuned to hear the vibration. Human ears only hear within a certain vibratory range, but angelic ears can hear things of a much higher frequency than those frequency ranges for humans. This Awareness indicates that likewise, there are beings whose hearing can attune to frequencies associated with what would even be called 'consciousness'.

The Ultra, Ultra High Frequencies Beyond Light

In other words, the ultra, ultra high frequencies, beyond light, can be heard by some entities who are evolved enough to perceive these sounds of these ultra, ultra high frequencies that exist at greater rates than the speed of light. This Awareness indicates that some entities can hear light, and certain other vibrations that are beyond the range of physical sound, but these entities are rare in terms of earthly humans, and the more highly evolved the entity, the more likelihood of being able to hear those sounds of light, but it should be understood that all of it is vibration, and therefore, if the hearing range of an entity is acute enough, the entity could hear light vibrations in the frequencies of light.

HOW DID CREATION BEGIN?

(Did Something Come From Nothing?)

QUESTION:

Another question from JD in New York. "The creation myths are clearly limited and fanciful. Please give us the general overview of existence, dimensions and life in the omniverse, how it originated, if indeed it did, and when and how the physical fragment we perceive began. Include the origins of the intelligent upright biped, and the humanoid type."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the beginning of life, the beginning of the universe, or what may be termed the beginning of creation, can be looked at from a question that all entities wonder about; the question being: "Did something come from nothing?" This Awareness indicates that if something came from nothing, how did it do it? This Awareness suggests that the further question would be: "What was there in nothing that evolved into something?" And this Awareness suggests that entities have pondered: "How could something come out of nothing?"

If God Created Everything, What Created God?

This Awareness indicates that further considerations are: "What is God? Where did God start? If God is the First Beginning, the First Cause, then where did God start? If God created everything, what created God?" This Awareness indicates you can ponder forever trying to decide if something came from nothing and "How did it happen?" "Did God come out of nothing?" And then the question is also: "Where did the "nothing" come from? How did nothing ever get here in the first place?"

This Awareness indicates entities may wonder: "What is nothing? How could there be nothing? How is it possible for nothing to fill everything, to fill the entire reality, or ever to have done so? This Awareness indicates if you can try to imagine a universe that is filled with nothing, then of course the question comes up: "What is it that holds the nothing? Is there something there that holds nothing, like some universal vessel holding nothing?" How big is that universal vessel? Is it a sphere that holds nothing from which something came?"

How Big Is "Nothing"?

This Awareness indicates these are questions that entities want answered, but cannot imagine a clear and meaningful answer to. This Awareness indicates that the question may also be asked: "How can there be a container for nothing?" "And if there is no container, how big is nothing?" This Awareness indicates it becomes a question that can have no answer. The mind is incapable of perceiving an answer, or an understanding of these questions. Therefore, this Awareness suggests that these be set aside as the unanswerable questions about reality.

This Awareness suggests that you may go to the next step. If you cannot answer the ultimate question of the beginning: "Where did nothingness come from?" or "Where did something come from to begin everything?", then what is there that is next in line in terms of the Creation? This Awareness reminds you that the Old Testament begins with "God created the heavens and the earth," and goes on to explain the Creation in regard to the creatures, the heavens, the planets et cetera, and the creatures inhabiting these.

"In the Beginning Was the Word, and the Word Was God"

This Awareness indicates the New Testament begins in the Book of John with the phrases "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God, and the Word was with God" and describes the sound or the word with being synonymous with the concept of God. This Awareness indicates that in other words, it is speaking of vibrations, the frequencies, the Universal or Creator's Word, the Word of the Creation, the Vibration of the Creation was God and was with God.

This Awareness indicates that It has previously indicated that the highest frequencies in the realm of ultimate reality are the frequencies of God Consciousness, the Creator's Consciousness. This Awareness indicates that the Creator's Consciousness is a vibration, and may be thought of as God's word or God's frequency. This Awareness indicates that because we cannot ask, "Which came first? The vibration or the nothingness upon which the vibration appeared?", we cannot find the answer no matter how long or how thoroughly one looks. We must just settle for the vibration itself and consider it to be the First Cause.

The Vibration was the "First Cause" or the Creator

This Awareness suggests that assuming the First Cause is the Word or vibration known as the Creator, then you can proceed with the rest of the Creation. The vibration is a movement of energy and that movement of energy is aware. In other words, it is the mind of God as well as the word of God and the will of God, and it is the Creator, creating the Creation, and as It vibrates and moves, It creates a reaction to Itself. If something moves in one direction in part of the vibratory action it creates a pressure in that direction. If it releases, it goes back and the pressure is released, and it creates another pressure in the other direction.

If this is put into motion to a greater degree, the pressure and reaction become stronger, the vibration becomes stronger, and if these vibrations strengthen, then the Creator is intensifying Its presence, Its business, Its essence. This Awareness indicates that as the Creator intensifies Its essence by vibrating more profoundly, it helps to create a different degree of essence or Isness.

This Awareness indicates that the more It intensifies Its essence, the more the vibration increases, the more something is made to act and react, and that action is the cause, and the reaction is the result, and as it continues intensifying, the polarization increases and something begins to happen so that there is a greater more noticeable existence than when the frequencies were extremely subtle and barely perceptible.

The Universal Sound of the Universe is the AUM

This Awareness indicates that these increases in the vibration lead to a different set of vibrations, more pronounced, which in turn are a creation different from the original, the original nearly imperceptible vibrations of the First Cause. This Awareness indicates that supposing these vibrations begin to swing even greater yet, causing fast movement of a vibrating nature, causing a kind of hum in the sense of the Universal Sound that has been called the Sound of the Universe known as AUM, and this becomes identified with the Word of God as a Creator, being of greater sound than the original frequencies of God, the original sound or word.

This Awareness indicates that the greater the vibration, the more noticeable, and the notice is that which calls to the consciousness a sense of presence. Something is there. It is noticeable. It is happening. And these vibrations set off a chain of reactions throughout the entire emptiness of space, so that all of space is vibrating concurrently and with resonance to that sound that was let loose into space, to vibrate throughout existence.

This Awareness indicates that the intensification of the vibration eventually creates those little overtones in the sound, in the frequencies, those little overtones that become vibratory vortices here and there, so that these vortices, which are just sounds or frequencies, begin to coalesce together in clusters and give the appearance of something that is more solid or more substantial than the mere vibrations that were invisible before. They now begin to assume an appearance of substance, likened unto a cloud of vibrations, or a cluster of vibrations.

These clusters and sounds are more solid than the spacious vibrations that occur elsewhere. This Awareness indicates that as this sound rages through the universe as vibration, or light if you prefer, (it is all the same at different frequencies), the light begins to create more and more of those little vortices, those little clusters of sounds and vibrations and they begin to take on more and more an appearance of matter or substance.

This Awareness indicates from this continued existence of vibration that increases ever and ever more powerfully, matter became a reality. This Awareness indicates that once matter became a reality, other areas of consciousness vibrating at a different rate were able to perceive that reality. This eventually caused the matter to form into bodies of living substance or vibration that made use of the frequencies to develop certain kinds of internal devices with certain frequency and consciousness levels that eventually evolved into what may be called "eyes" or "feelers," or "ears" or some other kind of perceptive devices in those clusters of vibrations, so that these things could perceive the vibrations around them, the vibrations that were happening in other clusters, so that bodies were formed, perhaps very ethereal types of bodies, and perhaps the bodies were not fully humanoid or anything of this nature, but these cloudy bodies might have features vibrating that could in time become likened unto eyes and ears and so forth, to hear, to perceive, to see, to smell and so forth, to be aware as a being of clusters of vibrations.

This Awareness does not wish to get into Darwinism and the development of the different types of species. This has been theorized by people from Aristotle up through Darwin and others, and there are many different theories and studies and sciences attempting to understand this. It is not this that is the mystery, and there are many disagreements as to what came from the evolution of what, and therefore, this Awareness does not wish to get into these discussions of what animal evolved out of what creature, et cetera, nor does It wish to go into the evolution from the amoeba to some other creature.

This Awareness simply wished to explain the creation of the substances of things that eventually came out of vibration into manifestation, and as what later took on the appearance of a being or creature. This Awareness indicates that the etheric beings eventually became more solid, more physical, and over eons of time took on shapes that helped to give them a means by which they could function better in terms of their seeing, in terms of their self-control, in terms of their ability to survive, and this led to them having legs or arms, various organs for digestion, for eating, for seeing, for speaking, et cetera.

This Awareness indicates that this is sufficient for the discussion raised by the question. It is not necessary for this Awareness to discuss bipeds, or how one creature evolved out of another. These are things for science to speculate on and to study.

The Humans on Earth Before Neanderthal Man

QUESTION:

One recurring question is the reference of "man" as such. The reference that man existed on this planet before the time of the Neanderthal man, who appeared later. Could Awareness discuss a little about the humans that were on the planet before that time?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

First, this Awareness wishes to indicate the word 'man' is from Sanskrit, and man in Sanskrit means 'mind'. Man is the outgrowth of mind. This Awareness indicates that man evolved out of consciousness and this Awareness suggests that there were etheric people before there were physical people. They have etheric bodies. They were vibratory frequencies and bodies and they took on a more gross physical nature after they became involved in playing with matter.

When they began to polarize consciousness to become more positive and more negative, creating the poles of positive and negative, they began to throw the balance of the etheric realm out of kilter so that matter became more gross and some of the etheric beings fell into materialization by becoming entrapped within the polarized energies, and therefore became material beings. Some of these retained a higher degree of spirituality; others became more gross and more fundamental.

When Curious Entities Entered Into Animals

It is also from these playing activities; playing with the polarization forces of consciousness, that animals were created, and when animals were created, some of the beings entered into the animals; first hovered over the animals, then began to identify with the animals until they entered into the animals and began to become trapped within the bodies of animals.*

Over periods of time, some of these entities trapped in the bodies of animals began to have an effect on the animals, causing them to undergo change in terms of physical appearance so that there was an evolution that occurred. Not everybody entered into animals. Some of the entities stayed in the etheric bodies and there were many who were in between in one degree or another.

Thus, there was the Neanderthal, which was a pretty gross type of animal that had evolved to some extent from the bodies of entities within who had been entrapped in the body of the so-called Neanderthal type, but there were also those entities of a higher quality, and there were some who were even lower, and their entrapment in more grossly defined animals or creatures kept them locked into lower levels of the evolutionary chain.

This Awareness indicates that the concept of the Creation of Man as that which this Awareness has described, and which the entity Zecharia Sitchin has described in his works associated with the Earth Chronicles, particularly in regard to the book The Twelfth Planet. These being entities who were extraterrestrial, visiting the earth and using genetic engineering to change the nature of earthling animals into the Cro-Magnon type humans, that became a prototype for what is called the First Man: Adam.

Adam and Eve Prototypes for the Cro-Magnon Type Beings

This Awareness indicates Adam and Eve were simply prototypes for the Cro-Magnon type being, the Homo Sapiens. This Awareness indicates that the Homo Sapiens were developed by these extraterrestrials to serve as a mutant outgrowth of the Neanderthal and other similar type creatures that had not fully evolved into the more familiar humans that are now known on earth, and this Awareness has discussed this before, and there is little need to go back into repetition of this information.

*Ed's Note: Awareness has indicated that it gave much of the above information to Edgar Cayce in regard to those entities who hovered over the animals, became curious about the sex life of the animals and became entrapped. This information is in the last chapter of Thomas Sugrue's book, There is a River, entitled "Philosophy". This book is available from CAC. Please refer to Book Price List.

HOW EXTRADIMENSIONAL BEINGS HELPED BUILD THE PYRAMIDS

QUESTION:

Long ago, Awareness mentioned that certain Awareness Movement entities were present or active, perhaps even active in the construction of the Great Pyramids of Egypt, and at that time, the entity David Worcester* was present, but he was not actually manifested as physical, but was still in a sort of etheric form. Would Awareness discuss that issue a little bit?

*David Worcester was the Interpreter for Cosmic Awareness before Paul Shockley came on the scene.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is seen as a time in which there were extraterrestrial entities from other dimensions that could manifest their etheric bodies into physical form, but not totally, or if they did manifest totally, it could only be temporarily so, and this entity was present as one of these from another dimension who was assisting in the construction of the pyramid by certain information that he knew and by helping in the use of antimatter to levitate some of the blocks for the pyramid as it was being built.

The Rod that Levitated the Stones to Build the Pyramid

This Awareness indicates the entity had a rod that served to levitate stones, and this worked from the use of antimatter. The antimatter as that which was partly available from the merger of the two dimensions, and the two dimensions coming together allowed for these stones to be levitated and gravity to be usurped from these activities of extradimensional beings.

This Awareness indicates that this entity, in a later lifetime, became known as Pharaoh Ikanaton; that this entity was responsible in part for bringing together the concept of the One God that became associated with much of his reign.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

These entities were extraterrestrials. Could Awareness tell us a bit about where they came from?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that it would be better to call these entities 'extradimensional'. They were from an adjoining dimension and had the ability to merge the dimensions in certain areas of space for short periods of time. This is in reference to the question relating to David Worcester and the pyramids and his work as one who helped in the building of the earlier pyramid.

This Awareness indicates in reference to The Twelfth Planet, Zecharia Sitchin's material on the creation of the N-Magnon type man; these entities were from Sirius, previously discussed. These were extraterrestrials.

The "Firmament"—Will It be Re-Established?

by Biblical Characters Like Methuselah Lived such Long Lives)

QUESTION:

A rather strange question from Ralph P., Westminster, N.J. He asks: "Can you inform us about the Firmament? The possible re-establishment of the Firmament, that is. Religious television has their version, which I recall indicated a layer composed of some kind of metallic gas. The layer would protect us from harmful radiation and provide for a very helpful oxygen-rich atmosphere.

"The other version is a recent channeled material indicating the layer would be composed of two layers of water vapor held in place by some kind of earth-based temple-structures now being built. Is the re-establishment of the Firmament going to take place soon?", he asks, and "What can we expect to be the effects for us here on earth?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this reference to the Firmament is that which refers to a kind of canopy-like structure reaching up into the heavens to shield the earth from certain radiation, which allowed many of the ancient patriarchs of the Old Testament to live long lives, such as Methuselah, because they were protected from certain types of cosmic radiations.

The Dolphin People Suffered When the Firmament Collapsed

This Awareness indicates that the concept of this shield or canopy-like structure is that there was once a firmament shielding the earth, protecting the earth, allowing it to have good weather, and this Firmament eventually was destroyed and collapsed, due to the negative activities of certain extraterrestrial beings. It is said that the Pleiadians took part in the activities that led to the collapse of the Firmament, and it is said that the Dolphin people were greatly harmed by this collapse and lost much of their clout in the affairs of man during this time.

This Awareness indicates that there are some theories that the Firmament was created by certain metallic qualities that allowed ice to be formed from gaseous, metallic energies so that a structure of gaseous metal could be created to reach into the heavens, though ever-so-thin, to still be stable enough to protect the earth from these negative rays from outer space that cause the aging process.

This Awareness indicates that in reference to the question, 'Whether this Firmament would be rebuilt soon?'; this Awareness suggests it is not seen as anything that would be rebuilt within the lifetime of entities presently on earth; that the likelihood is slim or nil, except for the possibility of extraterrestrials lending a hand in this action, which appears to be quite remote. This Awareness indicates that it could be a potential at some time in the greater future, particularly coming from Pleiadians who might feel a karmic need to recreate the Firmament since their activities led to its collapse.

Why Did the Pleiadians Collapse the Firmament?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

What was the reason for them collapsing it?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there was a conflict at the time about the ruling powers. It was a conflict between the Pleiadians and the Sirians and also there was some conflict relating to the protection of the Dolphin type people, who at the time had chosen to live in the waters. These were mammals, and they did not want to participate in some of the conflicts that were developing, and chose to live in the water, but their consciousness was of such high level that they did have great influence in the affairs of humans, and there was some conflict between the Pleiadians and their Atlantean associates.

Some of those in Atlantis wanted to have greater control over the masses and over the running of the affairs of mankind and this led to conflicts that eventually resulted in the activity that collapsed the Firmament. In other words, there was a kind of power struggle that resulted in this collapse.

HOW WERE THE DIFFERENT ALIEN GROUPS CREATED?

QUESTION:

A question from Jennifer R., Milford, Ct. Awareness may have answered this. She writes: "The different alien groups were created before mankind, but how were they created? Were they ever a part of the heavens, like the Cherubim angels?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there were many entities who came through the etheric level into manifestation. That the star system Lyra as being one in which etheric entities took on physical bodies by going through a kind of rainbow-like step-down or ...there is a term in electronics having to do with stepping down of frequencies. (Transformer?) It is in this manner that those from Lyra moved down the frequencies using color to become more physical from the etheric levels, and these entities also being closely allied with those from Vega, were partly instrumental with helping the Vegan system to take on more physical qualities rather than being quite so etheric in their existence.

This Awareness indicates that many of the extraterrestrials in their early origins were etheric beings who learned to become more physical in their forms. Some are still etheric and take on physical bodies at will or as necessary.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This process would also apply to the original Reptoids and Greys would it not?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is in the affirmative; that these entities become more physical long before the early origins of the extraterrestrials from Lyra and Vega; that many of those from Lyra and Vega originated outside this universe in times after the Reptoids have already come to be formed in physical being within this universe.

It is for this reason that the Reptoids often have hostility toward the Vegans and the entities from Lyra and other more recently settled extraterrestrials; that these entities coming into the universe through etheric bodies, taking physical form, are seen by the Reptoids as likened unto intruders into their domain.

WHAT IS "REMOTE VIEWING"?

(Dr. John Mack's Book "The Cosmic Voyage")

QUESTION:

A question from Edith M., Parma, Ohio. She asks: "Has anyone asked Awareness about "remote viewing" and to what extent the government is doing this? Courtney Brown, Ph.D., says in his new book Cosmic Voyage that scientific remote viewing can target fantasies, and even God. Although much in the book is believable, such as aliens being here and remote viewing being taken to new vistas, viewing fantasies and God seems a little far-fetched." And she asks if Awareness would comment on that book.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates remote viewing is simply another term for clairvoyance, but wherein clairvoyance is the seeing of something at a distance, remote viewing is making claims that it can not only see things at a distance, but see things in detail that are scientifically accurate. This is a claim that is questionable, because it would depend on how qualified a clairvoyant is, and much of this kind of remote viewing is not substantiated with any clear evidence of accuracy.

To say that one can view a god appears to be a claim that is difficult to substantiate, and you end up having to take the word of the so-called 'remote viewer' based on his claim of being scientific. This Awareness indicates it is possible for entities to be trained to view things in a clairvoyant manner. Of course, they do not call it clairvoyance, and it is possible for a certain degree of accuracy to occur.

The old Life Spring and Silva Mind Control techniques of the Seventies used this kind of activity in training their students. They would have a student think of some place they have been, and the partner to the student would be told to close his or her eyes and pick up on what the student, who is recalling the place, sees or is envisioning, and the entity thinks about some spot while the student, trying to view the spot with eyes closed, begins to describe what he or she sees, and the description quite often is accurate.

The question is: Is this really remote viewing or is it simply telepathy of reading another person's mind and finding some degree of accuracy? This Awareness indicates it appears that the government decided to get into this activity and to work to see the effectiveness of it, and to train entities to use it for purposes of spying on others, if possible. The Communist government worked with this for quite some time in order to get spy information or secrets from the U.S. government, using entities to remotely view the Pentagon, for example, going into the Pentagon, looking for information.

This Awareness indicates there is some indication of accuracy in remote viewing, which is essentially the same thing as clairvoyance, but perhaps with a more carefully monitored assessment so that the testing of the accuracy could be made more or less complete in order to evaluate the effectiveness of the remote viewing. Most clairvoyant viewers do not bother to test their work, but rather simply look from their clairvoyant viewpoint and use it for their own satisfaction to understand something they wish to see or experience.

This Awareness indicates that the problem with remote viewing is that if you want something to be true, and you have preconceived ideas of it, you can often simply imagine it and you can't tell the difference between imagination and remote viewing. You cannot prove that something is a correct view, when it might only be your imagination, unless you can go there to check it out to see if you saw it correctly in your so-called 'remote viewing.'

Thus, when the entity remotely views Venus or some location in which there is supposed to be a god and describes this, and claims this method is scientifically valid, it is questionable, because there are scientifically valid examples of remote viewing, wherein one can view something remotely and then go there and evaluate the accuracy of it, but to say, "This is what happens on the planet Venus; these people live there and do this and that;" or to say, "This is what is going on with this god over on this part of the universe..."; there is no way to evaluate the accuracy of this and it may simply be an entity's strong imagination, and if an entity has come to trust his other remote viewing, it doesn't prove that this remote viewing is anything more than imagination.

So, it becomes the same thing: a matter of whether you believe the clairvoyant just because he calls it a different name and claims it is scientific. Nevertheless, it can be interesting, and entities can enjoy studying or reading the results of an entity's remote viewing claims.

Is CAC's Interpreter "Remote Viewing"?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Would our Interpreter interpreting the communications from Awareness be classified as remote viewing?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is somewhat different because it is not looking at something from a remote placement. This Awareness indicates that Awareness is everywhere present. It is ever-so-close to the Interpreter in terms of vibration and frequency. It is not the same as being remote. This Awareness indicates that the terminology for remote viewing means viewing something that is out there elsewhere, away from the entity's viewpoint, away from the entity's ability to see something except in regard to this technique called remote viewing.

In other words, the entity in one building looking into another city, into another building, would be remotely viewing what is in that other building in the other city. This Awareness indicates the idea originally was to have Russian remote viewers see what is going on in the U.S. Pentagon building, and the U.S. in its experiments could do the same thing. This Awareness does not live out there elsewhere, somewhere, and therefore is everywhere present, and therefore, close to the Interpreter, and the Interpreter simply reads the symbols and images and sensitivities promoted by this Awareness for the Interpreter to perceive and to interpret and analyze.

WHAT ARE CATS WITH WINGS?

QUESTION:

On a more mundane level, there's an article in Fate Magazine called: "Wonderful Things Are Cats With Wings!" I'd like to read some of this and ask Awareness if It can explain this phenomena.

During the mid-1970's the Manchester Evening News, an English newspaper, published a photo of a most amazing cat. It had lived for several years in a Manchester firm of builders called Banister, Walton, and Company, which had adopted it as an unofficial and extremely unusual mascot.

What made this cat so odd was that it possessed a pair of furry wings. Sprouting from its shoulder, each of these astonishing appendage measured 11 inches, thereby yielding an impressive 22 inch wingspan. Incredible as it may seem, this remarkable creature is far from unique. Over the years, quite a number of winged cats have been reported, and photographed too, from many different localities.

Back in June, 1949, a sizable winged cat, weighing 20 pounds and possessing a 23 inch wingspan was shot in Sweden when it leaped at a child. A zoo in Oxford, England, housed a distinctive black and white specimen for a time during the 1930's following its capture at a local stable in 1933. This cat could actually move its wings up and down, though it never truly became airborne, unlike a bizarre flying feline from Alfred, Ontario, that in June, 1966, was allegedly observed soaring through the air according to several eye-witnesses.

When brought down to earth permanently, with the aid of a .22 caliber rifle, it was found merely to possess a couple of clumps of matted fur which could not possibly have enabled it to fly. So how can its story be explained? Was it just a hoax? Or could mass-hallucination have been involved? Who knows?

On August 22, 1985, Wyn Williams saw a handsome black and white winged cat on a farm on the Welsh island of Anglesey. Each wing was roughly seven inches long and sprouted from just in front of the cat's haunches. The wings had begun to grow during the previous year when the cat was four years old. By March, 1986, however, it had shed them. Even today, winged cats are still being seen. In April, 1995, while vacationing in the Cumbrian village of Backbarrow in Northern England, Martin Milner was surprised to encounter a large friendly tabby cat with a very distinctive pair of fluffy wings. Inquiries revealed that it belonged to the village's retired postman.

Until recently, the scientific explanation remained undisclosed. During the early 1990's however, while researching this fascinating subject, I uncovered the answer: Winged cats exhibit a rare genetically induced skin disorder called feline cutaneous asthenia (FCA). Cats suffering from this possess abnormally elastic skin that stretches at the slightest touch, especially when the cat grooms itself or rubs itself against furniture.

The skin stretches out on either side of the animal's shoulder, back or haunches, yielding a pair of long furry wings. Sometimes these extensions also contained muscle fibers enabling the cat to move its wings up and down. Moreover, the skin of cats with FCA is also very fragile, so that the wings can fall off easily without any bleeding taking place. This explains instances of winged cats shedding or molting their wings."

Would Awareness comment about these cats, and did this entity discover the answer?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that essentially, there is a looseness in the skin that allows it to become more elastic and the spreading of the cat's paws or arms, allows it to have a certain benefit when jumping because of the skin that fills the gap between the shoulders and the body as a kind of parachute-like fur that helps the cat to be airborne longer in its jumps. These particular cats referred to as the winged cats are simply freaks of nature in that the skin is even more evolved in this way than on the average cat.

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be a throw-back in genetics whereby the cat was created in Atlantis, and part of its genetic make-up came from owls. This Awareness indicates the owl genes used in the creation of the cat have some influence in this phenomenon, as it develops in some of the creatures as a kind of freak-of-nature.

Is There a Cat Serial Killer on the Loose?

QUESTION:

One last question. This also taken from the Fate Magazine. In an article called "Is something stalking your cat?" I'll read just a little bit of this.

A serial killer is on the loose in the U.S. and Canada. No one knows who this murderer is, or what monstrous motives underlie the violent acts. There are no suspects, and no one in police custody. Dumfounded experts offer fanciful theories that amount to nothing more than desperate speculation.

What we do know is that since the 1990's, the killer has moved from city to city, plying a gruesome trade beneath the nose of the local authorities. We also know the victims--innocent house cats. The killer may be Canadian, American, or considering the incomprehensible nature of the crimes, a citizen of some place not of this world. Except for the mutilated corpses of victims, this monster leave no calling card. The murderer works at night and seems to have a vampiric interest in blood.

The killer's work made international news when dead house-cats began to appear in Vancouver, Canada. People found their pets cut cleanly in half, with blood and vital organs removed from the unfortunate animal's body cavities.

Pearl Perehudoff discovered her missing cat in two pieces one July morning in 1994. Georgiana Taylor found only the rear half of her mutilated pet in 1992. Vancouver was littered with cat halves from 1991 to 1994.

Sometimes owners found the front half, sometimes the back. Often they found both pieces in close proximity to one another. Nine mutilated cats were found in 1993, five in 1994. The halved body of a dog was also discovered in 1994. Police were quick to blame coyotes and other predatory animals, but the evidence didn't reflect a wild animal attack.

Authorities found little blood at the kill sites, and the wounds on the cat's bodies looked like they had been made with a sharp instrument. Veterinarians confirmed this, which led to dark speculations about Satanic cults." And it goes on:

"Around the same time that the cat mutilations were occurring in Vancouver, the phantom sadist was at work in Plano, Texas; Falls Church, Virginia; Gulf Breeze, Florida. Dead and missing house cats were regularly reported in the local media, 20 in Falls Church alone. In many cases, the animal's torsos were sliced in two and vital organs were removed with what was obviously surgical skill.

No blood was visible on, near or inside the dead cats, nor was there any evidence of struggle. The corpses were almost always deposited in parks, on private lawns, or along well-traveled paths. Whoever was killing the pets was proud of the work and wanted it to be noticed. Coyotes, owls and wild dogs got the rap as usual, though the kill patterns definitely suggested a human rather than an animal assailant.

No one was apprehended or detained, and a short time later, the murderer moved on to fresh killing grounds."

It 's a long article that goes on documenting more of this, but can Awareness explain these cat murders? Is there a pattern or are these isolated incidents?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it appears to be a matter of isolated instances caused by several entities, not one particular entity involved in all of these, nor is it in any way related to extraterrestrial cattle mutilation type activities. It does appear that it may have some connection with Satanic cults. It does not appear that this is a prescribed activity or policy of these Satanic cults, but it does appear that some entities having connections with Satanic cults have been involved in this action and the blood-letting for these entities appears to be a kind of quest for power through blood sacrifice, and rather than using human sacrifice, the entities use animals for sacrifice.

This Awareness indicates that this is not, however, seen as being an explanation for all of the different instances of this kind of action. Some of these entities involved in this are simply kids who have a desire to get their kicks from sacrificing cats. They do not particularly like cats. They are the kind of person who would, if driving a car, speed up to catch a cat crossing the road if possible.

Awareness Encourages More Good Questions

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that the readings given in this session are those that have been very informative, mostly due to the good questions that entities have sent, and this Awareness wishes to encourage entities to continue sending questions. It is important to realize that without the questions, this Awareness cannot respond for the newsletter. It is important to have a quest for this Awareness to respond to if any messages are to be made available.

This Awareness indicates that occasionally there will be a quest in the situation of life which this Awareness can address, but for the most part, it is the questions that entities send in which allow this Awareness to respond.

UNDERSTANDING THE CONCEPT OF TIME

(What to Know When Contemplating the Future)

OPENING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that there is that concept of time in which entities tend to use as a kind of measurement for memory purposes, whereby they place events in a straight line on the line of time, in order to understand sequential movement. This Awareness suggests that entities at this time look back to another time, the year 1978, in the fall of this year. This Awareness indicates that this being during the Carter Administration, when the hostages were being held in Iran; this being near the time of the Jonestown Massacre. This Awareness indicates that this be perceived in terms of your memory, in terms of the events as you recall the feeling of that time period.

This Awareness suggests that you now understand the experiential quality and distance from that time period to your present time period is approximately equidistant to the next century, from this time period. This Awareness indicates it being less than 11 years to the year 2000. This Awareness indicates while this appears to be quite some distance away in terms of time, it is really close, and that when you reach that time and look back upon this year, it will not be that much greater or that much more unusual than your present experience of looking back on 1978.

The Difference Between Past and Future

This Awareness indicates the distance, in terms of time in the future, always appears to be farther away, always appears to be longer than that of the past, because the past is known and the future is still unknown, and there is nothing to measure the future time with, in terms of events. The future is only a concept, naked and void, without measurement. The past has measurement. It is known, it is familiar. Therefore, you are able to more easily retrace, retrace and accept the past. This Awareness indicates it is much likened unto the entity who travels over an unfamiliar road to reach a new place to live, or to find some friend. It often appears to be of great distance as one searches to find the place to which one wishes to go, but once that road becomes fully familiar, wherein the entity has traveled that road, the distance is no longer so great. The distance seems closer for some reason. The entity is not searching, is not alert, is not so uncertain as to what comes next, and therefore, time becomes less meaningful, and the entity simply observes the events, observes the passing of scenes, and the entity's trip along the path, along the road, becomes one more of sightseeing than of anticipation and concern for the distance traveled. This is so in terms of past and future. The past is much closer in one's mind than is the future, because the future is yet unknown, is void, is empty, is uncertain, and the anticipation is ever-greater.

Both Hope and Dread When Entities Move Into the Future

This Awareness indicates that as entities move into the future, there is that greater anticipation and certainty. There is also a kind of dread, along with a certain kind of hope. Entities expect much out of the future. They often expect much in terms of negativity or in terms of positive experiences, yet, the future often contains boredom and routine, just as was found in the past. This Awareness indicates, of course, there is always the unexpected, that event that no one anticipated, which comes up so suddenly and is then over and one is stuck with the results of that event; this sudden experience of the uncertain nature, that one did not anticipate, but which leaves entities marked from that point on. Many of you have experienced such events in the past, and many will experience such events in the future, wherein your life is suddenly changed, permanently changed.

How Not to Become a Victim of Unexpected Events

This Awareness indicates it is important that entities be wary when moving toward the future, be prepared; have themselves, their attitudes, their habits, their behavioral patterns adjusted in such a manner as to give them the greatest amount of quality in life, the greatest advantages in terms of a pleasant and meaningful life, based on concepts and ideas that will serve when the times become difficult, for if entities are not prepared, if entities have not prepared their minds, their principles, their morals, their values, when the unexpected comes, entities often become victims of that unexpected event, and may draw on baser qualities rather than those of the higher level.

It Is Not Easy to Anticipate the Future

This Awareness indicates that one cannot easily anticipate the events of the future, even on a day-to-day basis, for these events may occur suddenly and have great meaning; more likely and more often, days pass with such tedium and such insignificance that entities don't even recall what happened to them in these passing days, from one week to another. In looking back an entity may not even recall what one did three days before without great effort, or two weeks before, without some written documentation. Entities often find themselves passing from day to day with nothing of any significance occurring, and entities find their lives passing year after year with a kind of repeated routine, much as the seasons pass, almost reflecting each other in their passing.

This Awareness suggests that this is for some, the means whereby they can have stability to work on other things in their lives, to read certain books or material, to study certain projects, to make meaningful gains in one way or another, while their lives are on a kind of even platform of movement; for others, there are those who seek adventure and change in their lives so that they have great variety of experiences and can easily recall what they were doing last year at this time, in some foreign action, foreign land, unusual situation.

This Awareness indicates these are ways whereby entities cope with life, moving toward significant events that are easily remembered, or accepting the stability of routine, while working on other aspects of life that are interesting to them, such as personal growth, soul growth, intellectual growth, emotional growth, relationships, studies of new information or making something that has a more permanent place in their lives, such as an artistic endeavor, or entities may put their energies into serving others while keeping their personal routines active, to give them the security of a base from which to operate.

Finding a Bridge When Relationships Become Incompatible

This Awareness indicates that relationships between entities often are disrupted or are incompatible because the one entity seeks to have adventure, the other seeks to have security and routine. This Awareness indicates that these can be areas which may require some kind of bridge to allow each entity to be separate, to be individualistic, to have that which he or she needs, even though they are not fully compatible in what they want from life. The bridge may be found in those areas of harmony between the entities, in which one moves into the adventurous activities but respects the right of the other to remain in routine experiences, and vice versa, and whereby they come together to share experiences, whereby one shares the findings of information gained through reading of books, or through pursuits and studies, and the other shares information gained through adventures, escapades or Physical activities from travels.

Each Can Gain From the Other by Sharing Information

This Awareness indicates that each can gain from the other through the sharing action, even though their lives may be quite different. This Awareness indicates that likewise, such entities may also find themselves totally incompatible, uninterested in what the other has learned or extracted from the experiences, and such entities may simply have little to offer each other, and may part, seeking others with whom to associate. This Awareness indicates that these movements, in terms of personal differences often make or break relationships. It all depends on whether there is something within each entity that respects and vicariously values what the other is doing, or whether the entities resent what the other is doing and feel hostility toward that entity for his or her expression.

Why Many Entities are Drawn to Each Other

This Awareness indicates that many entities become intolerant of each other for not being what they themselves are. Many entities are drawn to each other because they are different from the other. What one likes, the entity may be unable to do, and may be drawn to another entity because that entity is capable and able to do those things which the first entity cannot do, and the second entity may be drawn to the first because the first is more timid or more quiet, or more stable, and thus the entities are attracted because of their differences, because there is something about their opposites attracting them to each other, and yet, when they are attracted and come together, they find themselves being driven apart because of those very things that first drew them together. They feel great insecurity in being around the other who is more flashy, or the entity who is more flashy may become bored with the one who is quiet, who is unobtrusive.

This Awareness indicates this is very common in relationships, that the very thing which attracted entities to each other becomes the very thing that drives them away from each other. This Awareness indicates that as entities begin to work with these qualities, if they can learn to share, they may take on some of the qualities of the other in such a manner as to meld or be drawn together in closer harmony, expanding within themselves to include qualities of the other, to include those features which first were attractive and to find within each other qualities worth embracing, unto themselves, and this then leads to an enriched life for each of the entities.

Relationships are a Test of the Individuals for Growth

The one who may have been outgoing and flashy may find himself taking on some of the more humble and quiet calm feelings of the other, and the one who was timid and calm may find himself or herself taking on more assertive and expressive forms. This Awareness indicates that this is the value of relationships; that these values carry always the seeds of their destruction as well as the seeds of fulfillment. This Awareness wishes entities to understand that relationships, attractions entities hold for one another are essentially testing the individuals of that relationship to determine whether or not they grow from the experience, giving them the opportunity for such growth through the absorbing of the other, not in the sense of possession, but in the sense of embracing qualities and values held by the other which can be of benefit.

The Real Measurement of an Entity

This Awareness indicates that as entities live together and share each other's values, they can draw from each other those values of higher quality which are suitable to their needs. It is important, however, that they not take on the karma of the other by drawing those values which are more base, which are more low and which are of lesser value and quality. This Awareness indicates that entities may be seen as being measured essentially by that which is not their greatest achievement, nor their more base qualities, but by the full range that exists between their highest and their lowest. That is the measurement of an entity.

However low the entity is, however low the entity sinks, is not the measurement of the entity, but the range between that lowest level and the highest level the entity attains, that is the measurement, and wherein you live with another, and can draw from that other the highest values, the highest qualities and embrace them and take them as your own, while avoiding those lower and more base qualities and while working on yourself to eliminate your own base qualities and to promote your own highest qualities, this then becomes the means whereby each entity can grow, can develop, can evolve into higher life form.

This Awareness indicates when living with another, if you can encourage, stroke, and assist in the growth of those higher qualities, while removing or ignoring or helping to diminish those lower qualities in your mate, serving as a conscience, while also serving to enhance those higher qualities, to bring them out into fulfillment, this then serves to help the entity gain the most from the relationship with you. In this manner, relationships can be of great benefit to entities, but for those entities who look only at the lowest qualities of their mate and who find themselves getting down into the same level, being drawn into those lower qualities and lower levels, the relationships suffer. The relationship becomes one which drags entities down from the full potential into the more base and degrading levels, and the relationship surely will come to no good.

Entities Must Learn to Draw on the Highest and Best Values

This Awareness indicates that entities in conjunction with each other's values, must learn to draw on the highest and best from each other, encourage the highest and best, promote the highest and best without being jealous of the other's successes, and discourage those lower more base qualities expressed by the other and work on yourself so that your lower and baser qualities do not surface and come out in the relationship and are not enhanced because of the relationship. This Awareness indicates in this manner, entities relating together, evolve together.

The Purpose of Life is to Provide Entities With Many Experiences

This Awareness indicates that time passes quickly on this plane, and though the future seems far off, the future arrives and entities have either grown and evolved, or remain much the same, with similar circumstances and similar ways of reacting to those circumstances without having learned anything significant, even though much time has passed, and many circumstances have come and gone. This Awareness indicates the purpose of life is to provide entities with many experiences whereby they can grow, evolve, develop, learn and become greater from having lived. Many entities fail in this purpose.

This Awareness suggests that you not let this be a wasted life, in which the purpose is unfulfilled, but that you use every moment, every day, every year, every decade, to evolve and grow from the experiences which you encounter, whether they be to your liking or not, for without such growth, your life has had no meaning.

HOW TO DEAL WITH A HANDICAP

QUESTION:

This is a personal question, but there's probably something universal in it. I'm going to read it; it's from Armando M., Torrance, California. He writes: "This is my first time writing to you, but I've subscribed to your newsletter for about 5 years. I have found the communications from Cosmic Awareness amusing, interesting, enlightening and sometimes confusing. Actually, the last issue of CAC I received prompted me to write to request some help from Cosmic Awareness. In issue 88-16, Its explanation of the Piscean Age seemed so clear to me and the coming New Age so hopeful, but my problem is personal.

All my life I have had a partial facial disfigurement that several operations have failed to correct. The doctors who operated have all stated that the operation is a fairly simple one, but they can only do so much, and the rest is left up to God. Through the years this situation has caused me great problems with my self-esteem and to date, even depression and vision problems. My question to Cosmic Awareness is: Is there someone or something that can help me with my problem once and for all?

I was told once that I did not choose this life, but that it was chosen for me. Am I doing what I should be doing with my life?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there are many aspects in regard to this particular situation that are not covered in the question; many are not understood by the questioner. This Awareness indicates that one who has a physical handicap often feels that in some way they have been violated and shortchanged in life. Many entities feel that they have been singled out, by some force, be it Divine or genetic or parental, hereditary or environmental. There is a kind of attitude of resentment because of the shortchange in life which they feel.

There are Many Ways to Deal With a Handicap

This Awareness indicates that they may look at another who is more perfect in regard to the particular problem or situation that handicaps them. This Awareness indicates that other entities who have a handicap look at this in a totally different way, and use the handicap not as a feeling of deprivation, but as a challenge, whereby they work to overcome that handicap. They work to get around the handicap, to prove themselves in some way as being superior to those who do not have that particular handicap; and such entities are driven because of the handicap, to greater heights than they would have ever achieved, had they not experienced or been given the handicap.

This Awareness indicates that history is filled with such individuals. This Awareness indicates that other entities feel that if the handicap can be corrected, they would then have a perfect and harmonious life. They feel the handicap is that which deprives them of all happiness. This Awareness indicates that while It encourages entities to take whatever steps are possible to improve their situation, to overcome the handicaps, directly or indirectly, that this Awareness also suggests wherein this cannot be accomplished, that the way of overcoming the handicap is through a substitute that makes the entity still highly prized and valuable in spite of the handicap.

Countless Numbers of Things are Possible With a Handicap

This Awareness indicates that this handicap does not prevent you from doing countless numbers of things. It does not prevent you from writing poetry, from writing books, stories, from doing things that do not depend on facial features. It does not prevent you from working with others who are handicapped. It does not prevent you from teaching those who do not have handicaps that you are also a human being with beautiful qualities; that these qualities have a right to be seen in spite of any facial handicap which you may exhibit.

This Awareness indicates that still It encourages you to find that help, when available. It appears that this kind of help as that which will become more available in the future, whereby facial features and handicaps, even the growing of arms and legs will become possible in the future, but many of these benefits at present are deprived, are not here, are not available, and entities must make the best of what they have to work with. This Awareness indicates that you do have qualities, capabilities that can be exhibited and expressed, that can be enhanced through proper training, through practice, which can put you far and above the rest of the crowd, if you set your mind to it, and that handicap which you see is not sufficient to hold you back. It is only the attitude you have toward yourself that can hold you back, or that can propel you forward to be what you can in fact be.

This Awareness indicates that lamenting the deprivation of some physical flaw, or seeing something as a handicap gives little incentive or value or help to an entity in his or her life. It only creates bitterness, resentment, and serves as an excuse for failure to do other things that do not depend on such handicap. This Awareness suggests therefore, do not indulge in this concern, other than to do what you can when the time is right to overcome that handicap, and meanwhile to work around it, and do what you can in those areas which are not influenced by the handicap.

An Example of a Handicapped Entity Succeeding

This Awareness indicates that it is like the entity in Colorado, who was in a motorcycle wreck in which he slid under a truck and caught fire, and his face was badly burned; the entity being told he would always be disfigured. The entity as having gone from great wealth, having lost his wife, his job, his business, and finally having lost his good handsome looks. Most entities at that state would have given up, would have felt that the Divine Forces were against them and would have felt it useless to continue trying to do anything, but this entity decided to run for office, and in running for office the entity used as his campaign slogan; "I'm not just another pretty face." The entity almost won, and served as an example for many others, that they too could benefit, could do things even with disfigurements.

This Awareness indicates the entity is still active, still working, still accomplishing, even though he did not win the office he set out to acquire in a political sense. The entity then moved on to something else, and is successful in other accomplishments. This Awareness indicates one only fails, and one is only stopped in their ambition and goals when they themselves determine to stop, when they themselves decide they have lost and failed. This Awareness indicates that entities can be knocked down again and again, but so long as they continue getting up and going back into the race, they are winners. As long as they see themselves as winners, regardless of whether they are knocked down or not, they are still winners at heart, and that indeed is what counts and determines the difference.

Many Pretty Entities are Disfigured Within

This Awareness indicates that there are many entities who have greater disfigurements inside themselves, even though their outer appearance is that of great beauty, and such entities are far less fortunate than might you be. This Awareness suggests you be proud of what you are, in terms of your highest and best qualities, and that you not fear the approach to others. This Awareness indicates that most entities only feel apprehension and embarrassment upon communicating with one who has a handicap, because they do not quite know how they are supposed to react to the entity, and the apprehension is from that uncertainty. Even though the entity who has the handicap may see this as rejection and repulsion, most of the time it is more of an uncertainty as to how they are supposed to react, whether they are expected to exhibit sympathy, or to ignore the handicap, or to pretend not to even notice the individual, or to relate directly and speak about the handicap or to avoid speaking about the handicap.

Sometimes the Handicap Should be Mentioned by the Entity

It is the best approach for the entity who has the handicap, upon sensing an embarrassment or nervousness in another, to mention the handicap in such a way as to alleviate any uncertainty as to how the entity should relate. This Awareness indicates, for example, if the entity you are speaking to appears to be nervous and you sense it is because of your handicap, it is best to bring out some statement or question: "Does it bother you, looking at my face?" or ask the entity whether or not he is curious about how this disfigurement occurred. This Awareness indicates by bringing it out, it alleviates the nervousness, for if the entity senses that you yourself are not nervous, then the entity knows also that he can speak or reflect or acknowledge the problem and the entity also ceases to be nervous.

This Awareness indicates that this allows the entity to move beyond the feature that stands as a kind of obstacle to clear communication, and allows the entity and you to communicate regarding other things that are more meaningful between human beings.

The Handicapped Comedian Uses Humor

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

I believe there is a comedian who is handicapped, and his act is largely concerned with poking fun at his own handicap and breaking the ice. Using a little humor might be another approach.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates the key is to relieve the anxiety of others when being confronted by the obstacle to clear relating between yourself and others. If you feel that this disfigurement creates an obstacle in your relationship with someone, it is important to bring it out, let it be discussed, and then the problem is put in its proper place and other things can be discussed.

Consider the Movie: "The Enchanted Cottage"

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This handicapped entity might also take a look at an old movie that came out during the 40's; I believe it is available on video tape now. It was called The Enchanted Cottage with Dorothy McQuire and Robert Young, I believe, and it concerned a handicapped young woman with a really bad facial defect, and a disfigured ex-soldier who was wounded pretty badly, and they come together in this cottage, and while they're in this cottage, neither sees the other's handicap, but when they're outside in the world, the handicap is visible. I always had the impression that on a certain level in that movie that these entities were seeing their Higher Selves when they were in the cottage, and this was so beautiful to them that their physical handicap no longer mattered.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative; that once entities understand how a handicap came to be and that you are accepting it and that you do not hold them responsible to react or to sympathize or to be concerned about the handicap; most entities tend to look beyond that handicap and consider it simply as a part of your character, or your personality, of your features, and do not thereafter make a significant thing of the feature. This Awareness indicates that it is only when they do not know how to react that entities make it significant and allow it to disturb them. When they do not know how to react, they often feel embarrassed and wish to get away or look away or somehow avoid further contact.

Ed's Note: this reading was given ten years ago, but it is still timely. Recently, Grace told me about an experience that happened to her when she was going to college at the University of Washington and working part-time as a hair stylist to help pay her way. One day she was riding on a bus when a wild-appearing young man, obviously with a handicap, talking incoherently came aboard. As he walked through the bus, she noted that one arm was crooked, hanging grotesquely, the hand facing backwards, as he walked he dragged one foot behind him and his entire body jerked in exaggerated motion similar to spastics and some afflicted with cerebral palsy or similar exotic disease. The entity passed Grace and jabbering loudly found a seat at the back of the bus. Passengers stared at him and were repulsed.

For some reason, Grace felt intuitively that she wanted to talk to this entity so she got up and walked back and sat down beside him. She engaged him in conversation. When he spoke his face and mouth twisted, his eyes rolled and his hands and arms jerked about. It was very hard to understand what the entity was saying but Grace said that by giving him her full attention she was able to decipher his words. She asked him questions about his life and situation.

The entity, Rick, a promising musician, explained that some years earlier he was hit while on his motorcycle at high speed, his body sliding across the freeway and being mangled and his face disfigured in the process. He should have died but he lived. After months of hospitals he tried to restart his life but felt extremely bitter and victimized. He could find no work. His appearance and speech repelled the potential employers. Grace listened to his story and then informed him: "Rick, do you realize that you have a great sense of humor, considering your situation. Have you ever considered becoming a comedian?" He hadn't, but Grace went on and on trying to convince him that she felt certain the entity could succeed in that direction. She also included a cosmic rap in regard to one's "Destiny Path." When he got off the bus, Rick thanked her for the information and said he would think about it.

Months later she was working in the salon on a lady who simply raved about the hairdo Grace had just given her and she said, "I'm going to bring my son in here and have you style his hair. It looks terrible and I just feel you can help." Grace thanked her and in a few days the lady returned, dragging Rick behind her. (Talk about synchronicity!) Grace was delighted to see him again and as she worked on his hair he said, "I took your advice. I've been working with amateur comedy and I've worked up a routine based on my handicap. My friends say it's really funny." Grace handed him her card and told him to be sure and call when he made his debut and to keep in touch with her. She refers to him as her "brother." When he made his debut at a Seattle club, an excited Grace was there, rooting heartily for him. Rick brought down the house as he parodied himself on that stage. Since that time, Rick has been on the amateur comedian circuit and every time he is in the Olympia area he gives Grace a call, and regardless of what she is doing, she always finds space to catch his act. He was in Olympia last Fall and Grace invited Vikki to come with her to catch Rick's act. She went. Rick even invited Grace on to the stage and gave her a big hug, then told the audience: "I want you to meet the lady that gave me a life!" He asked Grace if she would play the piano for him while he went into his act. She did. Vikki gave them both a standing ovation. They both agree that one day Rick will go professional and we all can see him on TV or something like "Saturday Night Live." I hope so. We are all rooting for him. (Avaton)

How Does One Get Back Into the System?

(Some Problems After "Dropping Out")

QUESTION:

A question from a member, Don T., Sangor, Texas. He writes: "I know of many people interested in the question: 'How do I get back into the system?' After doing my best to avoid scrutiny, taxes and so forth, life is stabilized, and now the paranoia of waiting for the IRS to come knocking is almost worse than the actual act of being a part of the system, but we don't want to go to jail, just to eventually collect Social Security some day. I know a lot of people in this position. Do you have any ideas?"

This entity has been a member a long time, I believe, hasn't he, Vikki? He's gone under many names, and ever since the Gathering Storm information I believe he's moved around and had various names and he'd like to know how to go about getting back into the system now.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the IRS is not interested in entities who have been unemployed, until they earn something. This Awareness indicates that in the earning of income, it then needs to be declared in order to satisfy the wishes of the IRS. This Awareness indicates that there have been many entities who have been unemployed for many years and who have been either on welfare, or who have been working quietly on their own, at a level in which they were not required to pay taxes. This Awareness indicates that there is a certain amount which entities can earn before being required to pay taxes. There are many street people who do not earn such an amount, and yet they survive, and someday, those entities will need to get back on the roll by getting jobs and by being listed on W forms, and whereby they then will begin again to pay taxes. On the forms, they will simply place, when referring to the year before, that they paid no taxes because they were unemployed.

This Awareness indicates that this kind of situation is common, common enough that the taxes by these individuals which is due from their work can be paid without the IRS wondering about their previous years, what they have been doing and where they received their money to survive on, for many entities survived on some substandard funds or begged for meals and change. This Awareness suggests that it is to be more common that street people, in many cases, will return to the system, the work world, and will need to explain to the IRS, if questioned, that they have been living on the streets for various years or for a certain time or have been living off of someone else's earnings at poverty level.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

It's also true that if they have never had a Social Security number that it's easy to file a form and apply for one, and they give you one from the Social Security office.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates however, that entities must be cautious not to use false Social Security numbers, for this is a felony offense.

An Elasticity Enzyme: Can it be Made?

QUESTION:

A couple of health questions from A.J. Geiger of Columbus, Ohio. He writes: "My specialty is searching for the secrets of health and long life so I can submit some good questions in that field for Awareness from time to time. Here's a suggestion: You ought to tell Jim Fahey, who developed the super-high potency SOD tablet, that he should try to develop a similar high potency tablet of elastase enzyme. If that enzyme were available in 11 million unit tablets, there is a possibility that it might restore at least part of the lost elasticity to the skin of middle-aged and elderly people. You might ask Awareness if this would be so.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this does appear to be of considerable value in this regard.

This Awareness indicates that the question being whether or not this can be perfected. This Awareness indicates that it does appear that it could be perfected; that this information could be forwarded to this entity for research and development purposes.

Any Help for Those With Lactose Intolerance?

QUESTION:

He has a question on Lactose Intolerance. "Lactose Intolerance are people whose pancreases either never did produce, or have ceased to produce the lactase enzyme in order to digest the lactose in cow's milk. There are several million of them in this country. Is there anything these people can do which can cause their pancreases to produce and secrete the lactase enzyme, especially if the pancreas formally did produce the enzyme?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is seen some potential through the use of very small doses of watered down milk in such small quantities, that gradually build over long periods of time, coupled with the action of careful observation in terms of potential reactions to this ingested lactose in very small quantities. This Awareness indicates that if there is a reaction to any degree, the amount is to be diminished further; that the amount used, if not causing any reaction, may be then slightly increased until a reaction is experienced, then decreased to the point wherein no reaction is experienced, then the lactose in watered down amounts be used on a regular basis to stimulate the enzymes which might be available even in small quantity, thus exercising the pancreas to create more enzymes of this type.

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be such as to help the pancreas which has some enzymes available for this purpose, to begin functioning somewhat in this direction without the danger of increased demands for these enzymes. This Awareness indicates that there may be other ways through genetic engineering and through certain types of ingestion of enzymes to help stimulate the production, but this is not seen as available or feasible at this time with the technology available.

Are Cayce's Colors for the Chakras Correct?

QUESTION:

He had a question on the chakras; "Edgar Cayce reported that the pelvic chakra resonates to the color red, the spleen chakra to the color orange, the solar plexus chakra to the color yellow, the chest chakra to the color green, the throat chakra to the color blue, the pineal chakra to the color indigo, and the pituitary chakra to the color violet. Djwal Kul who performed your role with Madame Blavatsky, of the Theosophists, gave her quite a different list of colors for the chakras. The Rosicrucians proclaim another list. The psychic Paul Solomon gives a still different list, and no doubt there are others.

Was Mr. Cayce's list of colors for the chakras the correct one?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be the correct coloration in regard to these; that there are what may be termed other colors for the chakras, because each chakra has a kind of rainbow aura about it, the rainbow not being as the normal rainbow, but each chakra having four auras, and each aura being of a slightly different shade or coloration as well as density.

This Awareness indicates that various observers, according to their psychic abilities may see different colors for these chakras, but essentially, those given by Cayce are seen as being the more common representations in terms of the vibratory rates associated with the chakra qualities; the red being associated with the lower chakra, running through the rainbow qualities to the pituitary which is represented by the violet chakra.

That 8th Chakra of White Light

This Awareness indicates there is also that 8th chakra, of a White Light, which resides approximately 6 inches above the head of certain entities who are open in terms of the other 7 chakras.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

That was part of a follow-up question. He says: "I believe that in addition to the 7 major chakras listed by Mr. Cayce, and by virtually everybody else who deals with the chakras, there is also a chakra related to the thalamus and a chakra related to the hypothalamus, although no one else on this planet, has to my knowledge every suggested this. Am I correct?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is in the affirmative.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

He asks: If the answer is affirmative, to what color does the thalamus chakra resonate and to what color does the hypothalamus chakra resonate?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is seen as magenta; that there is also purple.

'Will Drinking Magnet-Treated Water Slow the Aging Process?'

QUESTION:

He had some questions on structurally altered water: "If a person is fated to die of old age, would he lengthen his life span if each day he drank one or more cups of water which has been treated with a magnet."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this can be beneficial, though it may not lengthen the lifetime to any great degree. It could serve to enhance the vitality and health of an individual somewhat. This Awareness indicates that this, however, can be such at any age; that magnetized water can have certain benefits and can enhance the health of individuals to some slight degree.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

He also wondered: If it were treated, would it be treated simultaneously with both poles of the magnet rather than with only one of the poles?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears the use of one pole, the North pole as that which would be most beneficial. This Awareness indicates that the degree of treatment is not seen as being of great significance. The magnetizing of water is not as significant or as important as the polarizing that occurs from the use of pyramids or the catalyst that is found in D-Cell and S-Cell water. This Awareness indicates that the S-Cell and D-Cell as having approximately 5 times the potency in the effect on water as does the pyramid; that this, can be seen in the photographs, the Kirlian photographs of the aura of a drop of water; that in reference to magnetized water, the pyramid water is approximately 5 times more potent in terms of its energy field than the magnetized water.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VICKKI):

Awareness, for the CAC Headquarters water, we have a Spring Life Polarity pillow over it where it's stored, and we have a D-Cell in it, or S-Cell, and I usually charge it with Sam Millar's polarizer. Are we getting too many conflicting things on it, or are all of these going to be beneficial?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these all are enhancers to improve the water; that there is seen no problem in regard to mixing of these energy fields.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Would it be of any benefit for entities to put a crystal, a quartz crystal in their water that contains D-Cell water? A number of people have asked that question.

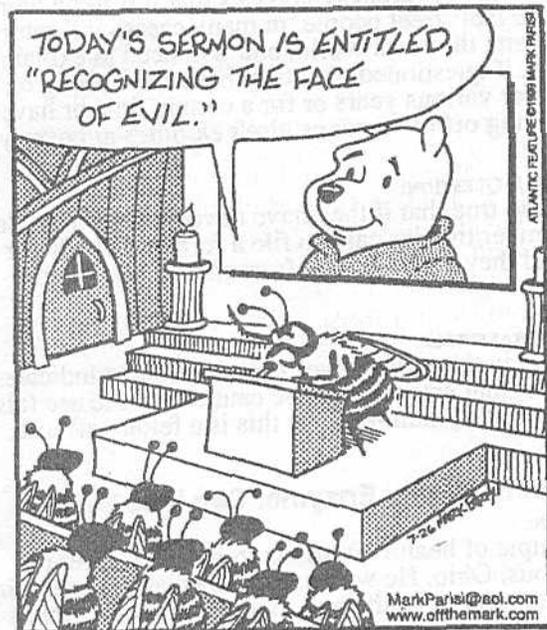

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this can depend largely on how the quartz crystal has been charged; that with proper charging, the crystal can be helpful. It is to much of a degree, beneficial because of the psychic energy involved in the charging process. This Awareness indicates that it is not something which will be felt in a profound sense or has an influence on the water that will give any great value, except to the degree that one believes in crystals, for one can take a crystal which one believes in, which one energizes and charges, and from that belief, perform miracles, experience benefits, and healings which were not actually inherent in the crystal alone without such belief.

The Action of Information Processing

This Awareness indicates, of course, this relates to that action known as information processing, wherein an object possesses certain qualities until information is added, then it possesses different qualities, thus, if one adds the information to a crystal that it is a potent healer, it then possesses that quality according to the strength of the belief and suggestion which one has endowed upon the crystal. This Awareness suggests the Interpreter needs to come from trance.

Thank you. (The Law of Gratitude is given)

Thank you God

Update on Christopher Reeve Project

QUESTION:

In regard to the Christopher Reeve healing in September, we've run into a problem with these prayer groups and so on, that are reluctant to participate. This E-mail from Linda Wilson, a publisher and editor of the Kaleidoscope Journal was pretty clear in expressing this. She writes: "I've just received information about the group prayer for Christopher Reeve. I have a concern about the prayer going out without Christopher's acknowledgment or approval. Have you expressed your idea about the global experiment to him or his family, and if so, what were their responses?"

I have a publication in the New England area and would love to publish the article reprint in the August/September issue, but feel wary because I want to make sure we are not solidly stepping on Christopher's higher guidance or spiritual progression. Also, I would not wish to become part of a karmic debt due to unrequested or unsolicited prayer on his behalf.

I have no doubt of the power of prayer, which is why I feel it is so important to be sure a safety net is thrown around this particular issue of praying for other people's highest good."

And we sent out about 6 personal letters to the various places we tracked down that were connected to Christopher Reeve, and we have not heard directly from him, giving his permission for this, which most people believe, is required. We did receive one letter from a spokesman at the Christopher Reeve Paralysis Foundation that is doing research on this type of thing, the breaking of the spinal cord, and she said that it was his policy not to get involved in this sort of thing, but if a prayer was going out, he wanted to make sure it included the quarter million paraplegics in the United States.

Does Awareness have any more information on this in regard to the karmic implications and so forth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this situation provides an excellent opportunity for discussion as well as experimentation with creative energy, recognition of limitations within mass consciousness, as it relates to existing belief structures and perhaps misapplication of Free Will, and how each facet of self interacts to achieve the highest possible expansion along the Destiny Path.

This Awareness suggests that given the nature of free will, that as entities embark upon a physical journey, that certain challenges described as 'karmic' in relationship, which establish broad boundaries for the initial environment and major event experiences into which the entity shall arrive, and that within the Destiny Goal of each incarnation lies a range of potential for manifestation, value fulfillment, self-expression and spiritual expansion which can be attained, depending upon the choices of free will in designing the mindscape as according to the evaluative guidance of the feeling system of Spirit.

This Awareness suggests that entities select specific challenges within the birth environment, within the country, the economic conditions, the culture, the religion, which can challenge patterns of habit and counteract experiences undertaken by reincarnational aspects of a given entity, so that each aspect can remain in constant communication through intuitive pathways, to the degree that the self regulation system is activated and developed.

This Awareness suggests that success in the physical realm can be equated to the amount of progress along the Destiny Path which manifests as the maximum amount of self-development and expression achieved. This Awareness suggests that the grand and supreme challenge and responsibility of free will is to recognize the power of the belief structures allowed within the mindscape and that initial constructs delivered externally by advisors, parents, religious leaders, educators, that do not allow the unfolding of the experiential development, that limitations will exist within the mindscape which create pain to signal their removal.

This Awareness suggests that such is the case for each and every entity earthbound, and exceptions are not made in the past, present or future, beyond time/space and that emotional pain in one incarnation, resolved in the moment of the present reverberates and opens further spiritual energy channels between and among each aspect within the overall entity.

This Awareness suggests then that the supreme goal of each and every incarnation is to develop a mindscape which minimizes negative feeling in every way. This Awareness suggests that as is now becoming a glimmer of understanding, that humanity is at a stage of evolution wherein there is minimal understanding of the mechanisms of creation, minimal understandings of the parameters and responsibilities of free will of mind, so that a very small percentage of Destiny path is successfully traveled in a given incarnation.

This Awareness suggests that entities who set forth specific spiritual challenges recognize these pitfalls and limitations and continue to send forth informational energy which falls upon inadvertently designed deaf ears. This Awareness suggests for this reason, the desires of an entity's spirit can very well conflict with the desires of an entity's mind, leaving the body as only guidance bringing fearful resistance.

This Awareness suggests that in the previous information given regarding the entity Christopher Reeve and the choices and challenges and opportunities that lied within this entity's particular Destiny Path, that the spirit of the entity Christopher Reeve is attuned to the importance of the changes within mass-consciousness and the quickening of energies which shall propel humankind forward to the destiny of being states and transcendent states that are the rightful experience of the physical realm.

This Awareness suggests that like all entities embarking upon the physical experience and donning the chemical cloak, automatically puts distance between the spiritual desires until the mindscape becomes designed through the evaluative feeling signals which are the most rudimentary forms of spiritual communication.

This Awareness suggests that at this point in time, this entity Christopher Reeve does indeed desire to participate on the spiritual level in this grand creative visualization experiment, yet the mindscape remains conflicted regarding which paths, which beliefs, which specific conflicting curative opportunities are to be publicly aligned with the entity and his public persona.

This Awareness suggests that this dilemma creates further conflict and pain within the conscious persona known as Christopher Reeve, but that the dilemma of aligning himself publicly with supernatural instead of natural and scientific cures is frightening to the personality, although desired by the entity.

This Awareness suggests that given the current state of mass-consciousness with the necessary scientific approach toward Universal Understandings, however limited in its pursuit, that mass-consciousness equates valid Universal Reality more with the scientific empirical paradigm than might be the case following the enlightenment when inner pathways to reality divulge far more predictable and valid information from beyond the camouflage of space/time.

This Awareness suggests that given the assertions of the entity Christopher Reeve, although indicative of these existing conflicts, that rightful respect shall be given in utilizing this entity as a cornerstone to test and validate what is known as prayer and what would more accurately be described as creative manipulation of physical matter and events, that the Cosmic Grace prevents the disregarding of this entity's wishes, although they reflect the limitations that this very experiment seeks to overcome.

This Awareness suggests several potential alternatives; the first being re-contacting this initial source with a request to utilize his name and image as a symbol of all such injured entities in accordance with his wishes, but also in acknowledgment that a central focal point will establish a necessary center for the magnetic energy as well as an empirical test target for humanity to recognize or at least to consider the power and effectiveness of prayer and creative visualization.

This Awareness suggests that if consent for this more peripheral role in the experiment cannot be obtained, then the experiment be broadened to focus on the entire community of spinal injury victims, if such a term can be understood without the distortion normally involved; that the experiment can still be effective and useful, yet further attempts can and should be made which more successfully and directly communicate to the entity Christopher Reeve the need for a public central accepting and spiritual figure as a focal point for said experiment.

This Awareness suggests that although there will be difficulties encountered in aligning the specific entities involved and timing the probability, to gain consensus, that it is indeed possible. This Awareness suggests that entities recognize the role of fear and resistance and how it can so easily and readily derail any highly beneficial, empowering spiritual undertaking.

This Awareness suggests were it not for fear in the mindscape of mass-consciousness as accepted in the mindscape of Christopher Reeve, that aligning with a rather supernatural approach to healing would automatically pit him against an indirect conflict with his belief structures and alignment with the established and respected medical community and the very tenets of scientific inquiry and empiricism.

This Awareness suggests that a mindscape that includes openness to both avenues of inquiry and self-understanding shall be one more inclined to be open and receptive and without fear and in fact, delighted anticipation to participate in such a grand experiment. This Awareness suggests that regardless of the probability which shall unfold from this specific experiment, that profound value can be found in each individual, recognizing such limitations and fears and conflicts within each individual mindscape, and recognize how profoundly disempowering the choices that they direct can be upon one's Destiny Path and negate one's rightful emotional reward.

This Awareness suggests that choices made in fear reinforce slivers of mind and beget further experiences which are accompanied by fear, for they create that image, complete with conflict and negative outcome, simply by misperceiving the corrective signal as a part of the event itself, and therefore, shall recreate each negative event until the mind grasps the understanding of the emotional message.

If we have completion we can continue.

Breaking the Spines of Thousands of Monkeys

(The Experiment in Creative Reality Could be the alternative)

QUESTIONER:

There was also posted on an unauthorized Christopher Reeve Website, a notice by the movie actress who played in The Exorcist years ago, Linda Blair, I believe it was. She apparently is now head of an animal rights group and she felt it was her duty to post on the Internet on his site, were people interested, that because of his spinal injury and the huge funding that has come up to solve the spinal injury problem, that literally thousands of animals, namely monkeys, are having their spines broken in the experiments to solve the problem in humans.

So, I just figured that if people are aware of this, this is just another reason they should try the metaphysical experiment that Awareness is proposing.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is in the affirmative and this is indeed one of the energy aspects which contributes to the conflicting forces within mass-consciousness which have slowed human progress tremendously.

This Awareness suggests that the scientific goal is a noble one, of understanding the nature of the universe and the nature of all life within that universe, but that the scientific dogmatic assertion that empiricism is the only avenue to accurate information is grossly distorted and wrong-minded.

This Awareness suggests that just as religion has dogmatically resisted the goodness of humanity and awakened to the answers, which do indeed lie within (so readily accessible once mindscapes are not immediately limited with such dogmatic assertions); that some science has reached an epic level of dogmatism in its approach in complete denial of the intelligence and design inherent in the natural creation.

Consciousness Itself is the Source of all Matter

This Awareness suggests that the assumption that consciousness evolved from matter is a central tenet of near Biblical proportion to the scientist, yet it is a complete reversal of actual reality. This Awareness suggests that until entities recognize the obvious, that consciousness itself is the source of all matter and through its own purposeful Destiny Path creates form through conscious focus of various organizations and conglomerations of consciousness.

This Awareness suggests that in the name of science that such atrocities and lack of respect for the sanctity and sacredness of all life forms is that which perpetuates the mass-torture and slaughter of various life forms considered to be lowly and beneath the human being. Such an idea is also perpetuated by religious doctrines that exist, which suggest that the creation was made to serve man and that the resources and other life forms of the universe are to be utilized in any manner that humanity directs.

This Awareness suggests that humanity has indeed been given the supreme responsibility and empowerment through the form which contains the human mind and the vehicle of the maximum amount of free will.

This Awareness suggests that responsibility is imperative and cannot be carried out without the valid evaluative guidance of human spirit and that decisions made which violate the intentions and purposes of spirit are always experienced through the emotional signals of pain expressed as the angry rejection of such practices and that such pain will propel the evolution in more suitable directions but in a painful, chaotic and time-consuming series of painful experiences, rather than to pull it forward with the wondrous and meaningful creations which bring pleasurable feelings and a resonance among and between all spiritual forms.

This Awareness suggests that the entities communicating their distaste and displeasure in the violation of other life forms, including animals, in the name of medical research, are simply pushing humanity along toward more enlightened avenues and that all such expressions are validating and necessary. If we have completion we can continue.

The Solar Eclipse on August 11th

(The Grand Cross of Planets, the 4 Beasts etc.)

QUESTION:

There's a lot of information coming in over the Internet about the solar eclipse on August 11th of this year. We have a lot of astrologers in the organization, so we'd like to keep them informed, even though we know Awareness through Grace has toned down that aspect. This one is from Cheryl at the Spirit Site in Sedona. I won't read all of it, but it talks about the last solar eclipse of the 20th Century happens on August 11th. "There is a Grand Cross of planets in the fixed signs of Aquarius, Scorpio, Leo and Taurus. These are the 4 Beasts of the Apocalypse referred to in the Biblical Book of Revelation.

A Sun and Moon conjunction in Leo opposes Uranus in Aquarius. Mars in Scorpio opposes Saturn in Taurus; all planets Square each other." And it goes on with a number of reasons...a total of 8 out of 10 planets are in fixed signs, and so on. And "What does it all mean? This is an archetypal chart of massive and fundamental change.

Some astrologers call it an earthquake chart. It indicates a major cataclysmic event that will transform values. Sources of stability break and fall apart. There's an overflow of old political structure and a rebirth of a New Order. There's a possibility of a global financial meltdown and a massive redistribution of wealth that accompanies a new financial system.

Whatever is going to happen, the chart indicates it will attract international recognition. There's a quality of families being ripped apart by internal tensions and a sudden fall of the Father Figure. There is a possible outbreak of war over territorial disputes and an unpredictable chain of catastrophic events.

The movement of Venus on this day indicates a time of major social crisis. It's classically a time to dread with the utmost respect. Since this motion happens at the very moment of the solar eclipse, it sends the impact of this action off the charts.

Vernon Mahabal has studied thousands of people's palms and he has found that mid-August 1999 appears to be the beginning of major change in people's lives. He sees a time of great family turmoil and upheaval, geographical changes and mass-migration. People will begin to seek spiritual solutions to material challenges. They will learn to penetrate into the hidden underlying causes behind events.

There is a quality of re-spiritualization and the return of a personal experience with God. This includes an essential, direct relationship with a God who is a sentient being rather than a distant abstraction." And it goes on that "The solar flare cycle already is growing in intensity and many sensitive people are experiencing a strange combination of tiredness, heightened awareness of energy fields, loss of long and short-term memory, with an accompanying ability to stay present in the current moment, easy confusion and disorientation, and an intensified ability to discern problems."

Another report comes from Patricia Diane Cota-Robles, and she says that "A Cosmic Moment is fast approaching, and the present of God within each of our hearts is sending forth a clarion call, invoking us to our greatest hour of service." She says "We are standing on the threshold of the greatest influx of Light the world has ever experienced. After the tremendous influx of Light that will occur during the August 11th, 1999 Solar Eclipse, the earth and all her life will be held in the embrace of a Grand Cross by the planets.

This will be the final step of preparation before our shift into a new frequency of limitless physical perfection, which will occur during the 13th celebration of Harmonic Convergence." She goes on an on, but I'd like to ask Awareness, how much truth and how much hype is involved in this planetary thing that's going to occur on August 11th of this year?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the concepts of truth and hype can be likened more accurately to the relative clarity of the symbols offered, which bear varying degrees of both distortion and valid Universal Truth.

This Awareness suggests that entities are beginning to recognize that earthly reality is a co-creative process which can be experienced as highly individualized realities, as part and parcel of the gift of free will and the nature of the physical experience in the earth realm.

This Awareness suggests that as part of this co-creation, that mass-consciousness now contains a collection of many symbolic creations as avenues, as oracles, as predictive methodologies which all attempt to access through the various symbology, the energies of Universal Consciousness which fit specific mindscapes.

This Awareness suggests that astrology is one such symbolic package which is attractive to entities given specific spiritual bents and specific cultural mindsets and belief structures, just as palmistry to another, numerology to another, Tarot interpretation to another, and various other forms of prediction and fortune-telling which exist within mass-consciousness and various cultures of the world today.

This Awareness suggests that as energy is fed into each such symbolic package that the validity and clarity of its predictive symbology is increased. This Awareness suggests that astrology in particular, in examination of the rotations and patterns of the planets themselves, can indeed divulge energy patterns within mass-consciousness and unfolding probabilities as choices are made, individually and en masse, which shall affect the mass-events and unfolding of human history.

This Awareness suggests that in the past, energies from this Awareness have often been interpreted through this particular construct of symbology as fitting to the consciousness of the membership and of this historical time period, and that through this new and less distortive lens of understanding of the co-creation and individual empowerment of each and every entity, that such symbols can be recognized as valid energy shifts pertaining to the self-awareness and unfolding self-understanding and empowerment which shall be achieved through the inner understandings.

This Awareness suggests that the combination from various symbolic approaches, recognizing the turn of the millennium as a salient milestone, an historical transition point given the energy applied to such milestones by individuals and en masse, throughout human history, that all such patterns can be interpreted with either positive or negative connotations, depending upon the belief structures of the individuals who are attracted to the energy/information.

This Awareness suggests that as change occurs, the old must necessarily give way to the new; that oftentimes such symbols of the normal potential pain of transition are symbolized as catastrophic physical geological occurrences which are in fact energized by belief structures which channel Will Energy through a mindscape choked with limited belief structures and identified by the painful signals of the fear that they generate; that such mindscapes do indeed contribute to the very physical and social scenarios that they fear.

However, this Awareness suggests that as the Energy Quickening, and the Enlightenment is unfolding, that the scale has tipped away from the predominance of that kind of negativity to quite literally dis-empower such scenarios.

This Awareness suggests that the confluence of the planets around the solar eclipse of August 11th can become a symbolic point of reference for entities to attune to and visualize and predict and create the positive transformations described as that of the Harmonic Convergence by the questioner, as well as the general Enlightenment itself.

This Awareness suggests that entities in this organization, if experiencing frustration in the universal creative experiment with Christopher Reeve, can also carry forth a personal and mass-experiment surrounding the August 11th solar convergence, and taking the opportunity and energy contained within each of these symbolic constructs and attracting to the self the quickening, the receptivity, the enlightenment, the intuitive flashes, and particularly the emotional feelings as evaluative guides, to allow the unfolding of the inner mechanisms and self-regulating processes to be among the first to gain the Enlightenment which is so powerfully anticipated.

This Awareness suggests also, that entities who feel inclined toward the excitement or potential chaos of a catastrophic event which will ultimately usher enlightenment; that such entities shall examine the events which unfold individually and en masse, to recognize the creative nature of such focus.

This Awareness suggests that August 11th might be an appropriate time for entities within this community to visit the Temple of Light, and the envision the world of the next millennium wherein the spirit guides the mind and body within social constructs which perpetuate the spiritual flow, minimize the competitive fear-driven angry violence which characterizes the mere survival level of existence, and to imagine in great detail the world wherein compassionate, tolerant, cooperative, creative interactions bring experiences and events which unfold the maximum opportunity to progress along the Destiny Path, to strengthen weaknesses within the overall entity in past, present and future, and to enjoy the most meaningful creative, connected physical experience.

This Awareness suggests that such joyous existence is that which is characterized in symbology of religious traditions which promise heaven, and yet such potential awaits within, as entities can simply begin to recognize the incredible power of mind and the essential power of spirit to co-create heaven on Earth. If we have completion, we can continue.

The Death of John F. Kennedy, Jr.

(CLOSING MESSAGE)

This Awareness suggests that a lingering question in the air surrounds the recent demise of the prominent figure John F. Kennedy Jr., in the seeming continuation of tragedy and external forces cutting short promising young lives in this particular family. This Awareness suggests that there is indeed enlightening reincarnational information which can be communicated in the context of willful creative self-determinism as well as recognizing destiny challenges, reincarnational destiny, families and the interrelationships that the co-creations manifest and the interrelationships which can explain a great deal of seemingly fateful curse-like tragedies.

This Awareness suggests that in brief summation, in answer to the lingering energies, that such a Destiny Path was a willful personal choice on the part of the three victims of the tragedy, yet alternate Destiny Paths may well have been made manifest through mindscapes

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed Itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth.
