KILLING A SPIDER IN THE HOUSE: ANY SIGNIFICANCE?

QUESTION: (11/11/94)

A question from Mari Bentley, East Hampton, CT. On two different occasions I have noticed a big but magnificent spider approaching me in my house and top dead in its tracks. We both look at each other for a few seconds. Neither one of us moves. Both times I felt some sort of recognition, communication, or something similar. Then I killed the spider, both times out of fear, especially the second time when the spider was very close to me on the couch.

"Immediately I felt bad, because I don't like to kill anything. But they didn't act harmless. Two questions: Am I breaking a law or acting dishonorably by killing the spider or not recognizing something more, and is it possible that either the spider or some other being, presented itself to me for some sort of lesson using the spider's body? If not a lesson, then for what purpose?"

"I feel the loss for a few days after. Please explain what is happening, if anything."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is not a major situation. You may think of this as liberating a being from an unenjoyable body. The entity who was trapped in the body of the spider did not particularly have an en-joyable life, and you liberated that entity. This Awareness indicates that there are so many insects of various types that beings sometimes incarnate in and they do not particularly enjoy being stuck in those insect bodies. Therefore, they are not usually disturbed or upset at being liberated from them.

How Would You Like Being a Spider?

The important thing is not to make the insect suffer needlessly in the process of dispatching it. This Awareness indicates that too many people assume that all living creatures really like what they are. How would you like to be a spider? This Awareness indicates that it is not necessary to feel guilty about something like this. There are too many other things in life that can cause more meaningful guilt.

This Awareness indicates that It does not see any entity trying to communicate with you. It appears the spider was simply there and noticed that a large being was present, and became confused as to what it should do and stopped, and did not move, in order to avoid causing itself to be noticed. It stopped, it froze, and waited in its observation, and in the process, you saw the spider, recognized it could be dangerous to you, and it was not where it should be (namely outside) and your response was to kill it before it could harm you.

This Awareness indicates obviously, there were certain options that ran through your mind, such as trying to catch it and take it outside and the vision of such an action brought forth the possibility of the spider getting away and running onto you, up your sleeve or something, where it might bite you, and the simplest approach was to simply dispatch it with something so that you did not have to take the chance.

This is not something to feel guilty about or to worry about, for the entity within the spider did not have a great attachment to that body and was just as content to be out of it as you were content to have it out of your environment.

She Sees Faces on Walls and In Trees

QUESTION:

Another question from Mari Bentley. "I often see faces which suddenly seem to come into focus on common things like wood paneling, trunks of trees, clouds and other common things. Many of them have dark deep-set eyes, long noses, and don't look like they are of the earth. Are these beings from other dimensions and are bleeding through? Do they see me? Please give comments on what this is."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates in some cases, they are projections from your own mind onto the object. It is likened unto a painter who is capable of projecting a picture onto a screen and then painting the picture he sees. This is a very common way by which many Oriental painters create their pictures on the canvas.

This Awareness indicates that this is indeed a carry-over from an earlier life in which you were such a painter, whereby you would stare for long periods of time at a blank canvas and then, after you had seen the entire painting you wished to create, you would very quickly sketch it and paint it with your brush, and be finished with it. It is likened unto staring 20 or 30 minutes, staring at the screen until you see the full picture, then grabbing your brush and within one minute or two minutes, you have the entire painting on the canvas.

This Awareness indicates that these projections of your consciousness are part of your carryover from that previous lifetime into the present, and you may find it an interesting talent that can be developed again in this lifetime, whereby you could paint in this manner. You could even sell such paintings. At the least, it could be very enjoyable to you

This Awareness indicates that you may also find that in certain wood grain, such as from a lumber yard, you could use this method for painting on the wood grain of a piece of lumber, after staring long enough to see a clear image of something, either landscape or a face, or some other object, and put it in the wood grain so that the wood grain becomes part of the painting, part of the image.

Bleed Through From Other Dimensions?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Although not in her case, is it possible that in other cases, beings from other dimensions "bleed through," as she suggests?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this requires an entity participating mentally in seeing such and attributing the image. It would be a kind of hallucination encouraged by the viewer or recipient. It is not so much that there is an effort on the behalf of beings from another dimension to project through clouds or through other textures and material, but there is a strong possibility that an entity staring at clouds can help to visualize or pull an image out of another dimension.

This Awareness suggests this not be something entities are encouraged to work at, or that entities do repeatedly, as it can cause an entity to become obsessed with hallucinating and visualizing spirits and so forth, and would be an unhealthy practice.

This Awareness indicates that there are some entities who can slice a stone and see a face inside the stone. That does not mean there is actually a being in the stone, even if there is what appears to be two areas that look like eyes, and a dot or two that give the impression of a nose, and a sweeping line that might be construed to represent a mouth. This does not mean there is a being there.

It may simply be an accident, a coincident that spots appear in a certain order, like the Man In The Moon, which is really not a man at all, but if entities stare long enough and let their mind have certain freedom of imagination, they could get to the place where they saw the Man In The Moon as being a real entity who is up there all the time watching the earth.

They could even feel the energy being emanated from the Man In The Moon, but it would still be merely a subjective presumption on the mind of the observer and the Man In The Moon would not have any true essence as a being or a man, but would still remain just shadows and texture of landscape.

This Awareness indicates in other words, entities can cause their minds to hallucinate and to see things that are not reality, but can convince themselves that the hallucination seems to have an essence and seems to emanate reality. It is still just hallucination, regardless of what one subjectively does with his or her mind and imagination.

When a Child Sees Someone in Her Room at Night

This Awareness indicates the child who turns off the light in his or her bedroom and opens his or her eyes to look across the room and begins to imagine seeing some entity there standing in the dark, and the more the child looks, the more real that entity appears to become, until that entity, the child, begins to feel the presence of that person in the room.

The child then becomes frightened, and the child keeps looking with greater and greater focus at the entity standing in the room, and then the child becomes so frightened that he or she screams "mommy! Mommy!" and the mother comes running in and says "What's wrong?" "There's someone in my room!" and the mother says: "Where?" and she turns on the light.

The child is pointing at the lamp, the lamp that stood there silently with a slight reflection from the window, of the outside moonlight. It simply was a lamp, mixed with the child's imagination, and the child forgot the lamp was standing there and saw it as someone standing in her room.

This Awareness indicates that this kind of thing can happen, not only to children, but to people who have a strong imagination, so that entities can see things that are not real, and the mind can play tricks on them to make them think that what they imagine is indeed real. Thus, a cloud may take on the appearance of someone you recognize.

Seeing People You Recognize in Clouds

This Awareness indicates one entity may look at billowing clouds at night and see historic figures: "Winston Churchill is over there, Roosevelt is over there. That person over there in that cloud is Ghengis Khan! And look! There is my grandfather!" and these entities may look perfectly real to the observer with a good imagination, and the entity may even feel the presence of these beings and feel that the clouds are showing him or her the ghosts of people from the past, and there are real beings emanating energy from the clouds.

But, if the lights go on, or if the entity shakes his head and wakes up fully and discharges the imagination or somehow turns on a spotlight, you will see that they are just clouds and there is no one home. There are no faces. There are no eyes looking at him. Just clouds.

Always Have Control Over Your Imagination

This Awareness indicates that it is good for entities to have an imagination. An imagination is truly a wonderful thing, but only if it is something that you control. If the imagination controls you, you are in trouble. You must learn to stay in control of your imagination, and to use it as a great tool, for it is a great tool, but you must never let the imagination take control of you.

You must never feel you are the victim of things you imagine, for it can be very dangerous when your imagination takes over your own rational consciousness and leads you to believe something is true which is indeed false. You must be able to step aside, step out of imaginary things and know the truth, and only enter into imagination as something to be used for your own creative work, and not let it create your reality for you.

The Concept of "The Bogeyman"

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

In the example Awareness gave of the child seeing what appeared to be an entity in the darkness, was it something like that long, long ago which created the concept of the bogeyman?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that it depends on which bogeyman or which child you are speaking of, but in general, this is quite common with most children, to visualize something in the darkness which later is named the bogeyman in their vocabulary, and they come to recognize that the bogeyman is that thing they fear in the darkness.

Richard Shaver's Research on Rocks

QUESTION:

In relation to images on rocks, Richard Shaver published a book of photographs that he took in a research study on rocks, and he claimed that you could see demonic figures and Deros in the pictures on these rocks. Is there any truth to that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there are textures, curves, movements, swirls of energies, and if these are sufficiently prominent, an entity looking can project on those swirls and energies the image of a face. This Awareness indicates that in many cases the face is obvious. It may be a profile from the side, or perhaps head-on, or perhaps it is slightly turned, but these faces are just textures and colorations on the rocks, until you seek to make them something familiar.

The mind tends to make textures familiar, and therefore, the things can be seen also as simply textures and lines on the rock, but with some good imagination, you can see faces. Which is it, in fact? A picture of a rock, or a picture of a demon that inhabits the rock?

It may be a lifelong question. How can you prove it is only a rock and there is no being there? Of course you know that before the rock was cut, these textures may have had other shapes within the rock. There may have been lines, circular or spherical in nature within the rock, but the cutting of the rock into a flat surface left what appears to be an eyeball or an eyebrow or a forehead here, a chin there.

How do you know for sure that this isn't some kind of entity embodied in a picture on a rock? This Awareness indicates it is a matter of subjectivity. Which do you want to see? The entity embedded in the rock, or a rock that is cut in such a way as to allow you to find a picture?

QUESTIONER

Shaver never claimed that there were Deros or entities in the rocks. His theory was that somehow, some type of photographic process or something similar created or actually photographed these entities from underground and the images appeared on these rocks. These were particular rocks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as being a presumption of spirit influence on the photograph, and a presumption that the photograph caught the essence of Deros and spirits. This Awareness indicates that this is likened unto the entity who could stare into a camera and project his thoughts and images onto the film. The entity could think of a city or a particular scene, stare into the camera, and the film inside, when developed, would reflect whatever he was thinking of.

This Awareness indicates that this is a factual action or event that has puzzled many people who have witnessed this. It is indeed something that can be done, wherein the mind, in some instances like this, is able to project something onto film that doesn't make logical sense, but still has an effect in terms of reality. This Awareness indicates that likewise, an entity's mind can look at a cloud to make it dissolve or to cause it to change shapes. This does not mean that everyone can do this, but there are some entities who can, and quite a large number of entities can make a cloud dissolve while the surrounding clouds remain intact. This Awareness indicates that the mind does tend to have the ability to affect the movement or placement of photon energy in the physical reality so that pictures can be formed in the physical reality and in this sense, it is possible for the mind to affect images in rock or in clouds or in other things.

This Awareness indicates that it is a phenomenon that happens. With an understanding of the ability of the mind to manipulate photons, to manipulate the unseen energies of light forces, matter can be maneuvered. This Awareness indicates that it is difficult to explain because that which serves as a connection between the mind and the more subtle energies of matter have not been demonstrated to most people, have not been understood by most people.

Chondrianas are a very subtle energy that are part of the light and vibrational force of material things. How do you describe the effect of mind on such things as the aura or the subatomic energies of material things when entities' senses do not perceive these energies clearly?

This Awareness indicates it is difficult to explain this kind of thing, but it is possible that when a rock is cut, a picture can be formed, particularly if that is what the entity cutting the rock seeks, for the mind of the observer can have its influence on the observed, if the mind is strong enough in its intention.

This Awareness indicates that mankind is only recently aware of quantum physics and there is much to be learned about quantum physics before humanity is able to truly perceive the realities of a quantum physical world. So far, most minds live in a paradigm that is based on Newtonian and other earlier types of physics in which the senses are used to explore what is perceived to be as reality and matter.

Entities are only recently grasping the concept of antimatter, of matter made of light, and entities have not yet learned to look beyond what appears to be physical matter as perceived by the senses, to recognize a matter that is atomic and is spatial, wherein the spaces between the atoms are far greater than the atoms themselves, so what appears to be solid mass is indeed very porous, wherein there is very little matter in the make-up of a rock, in the sense of the parts, of the atom, compared to the space between those atomic parts.

The nucleus, the proton in the atom are likened unto footballs on a football field in terms of size of substance to space. This Awareness indicates that these things are so small that the senses perceive them in a rock as being something quite solid, but it is well known that there is enormous space between the particles found in the atoms, and the particles are likened unto small pieces of dust in a great space, and these atoms, added together, can look like something solid when they are compressed or collected together to make up that which is the rock.

This Awareness indicates in understanding this, entities should be able to grasp the reality that what seems to be solid mass is only an illusion, and that the mind may have the ability to move those atoms by manipulating the space within the atoms, by a mental force of mind. This Awareness indicates mind is consciousness, is vibration, is frequency, and if this frequency can manipulate and move the space, then the parts within the atoms also can be moved.

ED's Note: Most of the stuff Awareness gave discounting the likeness of entities appearing in rocks is not consistent with information I gave previously on this subject. Awareness may be deliberately withholding information, or Paul was ignorant of certain facts and was blocking the information that should have been given in answer to my question. For in the following year, July, 1995, in a question I asked about Wilber the cat carrying an aspect of Sam Millar, Awareness got into the subject of how most Limbo entities end up inside rocks and trees:

"This Awareness indicates usually those in limbo are found either in rocks or in trees. Entities can even exist in rocks, but it is more common that they exist in trees, if they have a certain type of limbo experience requiring lockup of the time a tree grows, to the time of its death.

Entities who require longer terms in limbo experiences might exist in a rock, living in that rock until it is dissolved by erosion of air, wind, rain or other environmental influences. These are for those entities whose behavior was so extreme negatively that they are not allowed to reincarnate for thousands of years perhaps. They are put into rocks, they lose all memory of self."

The rap goes on at length about life in limbo, but my point is that for some reason Awareness totally avoided giving us this information when I asked that question about Shaver and the rocks a year earlier. For more on this please refer to "Revelations of Awareness" issue No. 95-12 (The Secret of the Grand Canyon); $3.00 from CAC.

Although not currently listed in our Book Price List, CAC still has a few copies of "The Secret World" by Ray Palmer, which includes "The Ancient Earth—Its Story in Stone," by Richard Shaver. This book was published in 1975 and has never been reprinted (probably on order of the government), but the information it contains and the incredible photographs, many in full color, of these limbo entities trapped inside rocks, males and females, all Dero-looking, represents a strange and fantastic world that few entities could conceive existed. If you want this book for your collection, the price is $39.95 plus $3.00 postage. (It's a big book). Send your order to Vikki and ask for "The Secret World." (See Page 9 for an illustration of one of Shaver's rocks he cut.)

"CONSECRATED GROUND"—WHAT DOES THIS MEAN AND HOW IS IT DONE?

QUESTION:

A question from John Stroker, of N. Kingston, RI. He writes: "A few weeks ago I sent the question: It is suggested that the ground be consecrated before making use of it. How is this accomplished, or what is the procedure? Has Awareness ever answered this? Is it considered general knowledge the readership should have at their disposal? We all either garden, build a home, bury our dead, or otherwise have a need to clear ground."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that you consecrate ground simply by making it special with some kind of personal attitude. You can express a ritual. You can turn a shovel full of dirt, or you can make a statement that this ground is sacred for this or that particular purpose.

Consecrated ground simply means that you mentally pledge it for a certain purpose. It does not have to have a methodical ritual or it is not necessary to make special clothing or go through any particular ceremony. It is simply a mental action, just as when you launch a ship, you Christen the ship.

It simply means you express an intent in regard to the ship. In this case it is your intention in regard to the ground. Whatever manner of ritual you wish to use is satisfactory, if it satisfies yourself and expresses your intent.

You Could Urinate to Mark Your Territory to Consecrate It

This Awareness indicates that a dog or a wolf would urinate on the corners and consecrate the ground as their territory. This Awareness indicates that you may find a different way to pledge the ground or mark the ground as your territory for your intention.

Consecrating the ground simply means you don't use it for something different. In other words, if you consecrate the ground as holy ground or as special ground, then you don't want to start dumping your garbage on it. You don't turn it into a garbage dump if it is intended to be a special place for something else.

If it is to be a special ground for some intended purpose other than a burial ground, or other than a place to dance, then you don't want to bring in bodies and bury them, or call for a dance on the ground. You use it only for that which you have consecrated it for.

This Awareness indicates how do you consecrate ground? You select the purpose for the ground and stick with that purpose.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Does the energy of the ritual or the statements used in consecrating ground actually change anything, the atomic structure, or make the ground any different, or is it just in the minds of the consecrators?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is simply a dedication by the person to use the ground for a particular reason, a particular purpose. If you consecrate ground for a burial ground, then you use it for that purpose. If you consecrate it as a park, you use it as a park. If you consecrate it as a shrine, then you use it as a shrine. If you consecrate it as a place of meditation or as a holy ground, then you use it for that purpose.

The ground doesn't change. Its use changes according to what your consecrated intention is. If somebody else comes along and says, "This looks like a good place for us to dump our garbage!" they have violated your consecration and you must communicate with them that they cannot dump their garbage there.

The Main Purpose of Any Ritual

This Awareness indicates that the main purpose of any ritual is to inform the public that this is the purpose for this ground. It does not change the ground just because you have consecrated the ground. What changes is that the use of the ground becomes defined, and in defining the ground you may keep others from misusing it for other purposes.

BAD NEWS IF THEY BURY YOU IN "UNCONSECRATED GROUND?"

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

When Vicki and I were in England, one of the things we did was journey to this cemetery where George Fox was supposedly buried and when we got there, we found that he wasn't in that particular cemetery that the books had said he was, and we talked to an entity who supervised the place, and he said that one side of the cemetery was consecrated ground, and it had a lot of big-wigs, famous literary people more or less, like John Bunyon on that side, and on the other side, which he said was "unconsecrated ground" is the one he said George Fox and other people were buried; but during the London blitz, these plots were blown up, and we found George Fox's burial ground across the street, where the Quakers had made a little park, with benches to sit on and meditate.

The question is, I know the Catholic church made a big to-do about consecrated ground, implying somehow that if you didn't get buried in consecrated ground it was bad news for you when you died. Is there any truth to that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is implying that the ground is more sacred than other ground. This Awareness indicates that this is simply a way by which entities can pretend that one piece of earth is better than another piece of earth. They can pretend by adding, for example, that "We have prayed over this earth! Therefore it is better than that earth over there, which our priests have not prayed over!"

This Awareness indicates by labeling this ground consecrated, and that ground not consecrated, they have tried to define the two different pieces with different definitions. It is all a matter of who's defining and who believes who has the authority to create a more meaningful definition of something that is totally neutral.

The ground is neutral. It does not take on a greater importance than any other part of ground, but the people give it more importance, just as an entity can project an image on some screen with his or her mind. It doesn't mean that the screen had anything special or different from any other screen or canvas that is blank.

This Awareness indicates that entities can look at a Coke bottle, as in the movie The Gods Must Be Crazy and think the Coke bottle is sacred, and they can find all kinds of sacred uses for the Coke bottle, such as crushing grain or pounding sticks, but the Coke bottle is still just another Coke bottle.

By saying the ground is sacred, or is consecrated, it simply influences others as to how to think about that ground. The ground is still neutral. It doesn't know that it's sacred. It doesn't know that it's consecrated; it is just earth. It may have a different chemical make-up. It may have a different substance in it than the substance in the ground across the street, but that does not mean it is following some kind of physical law that makes it better than any other ground that has the same chemical make-up.

Is the Wood in a Cross More Sacred Than Other Wood?

This Awareness indicates it is amazing that entities have trouble understanding this. It is like thinking the wood in a cross must be more spiritually evolved than the wood of a railroad tie. The wood may be the same. It may even come from the same tree. Is the wood that makes up the cross more sacred? or is this not simply something for the manipulation of the minds of people?

Is not that which is defined as sacred ground merely designed to manipulate the minds of entities into presuming that the ground has some special quality that the ground 5 feet away does not have? It is just a way of manipulating people's attitudes.

It is like picking up one marble and saying, "This marble is sacred!" and putting another marble next to it and saying: "This one is not!" and educating the children to keep the two marbles distinguished: "Remember! The one is sacred! The other is not! Never play with this marble, for you might chip it! That marble you can play with! For this one is sacred, and that one is not!"

This Awareness indicates any intelligent kid will say: "Why is that sacred? What makes it sacred? It's no prettier than the other one. It doesn't appear to be any different!" but the teacher is simply manipulating the children in their beliefs. If they want to play the game, they play the game through cooperating with the teacher and pretend that this marble is more sacred than the other.

The entity says: "Why is that marble more sacred than this one?" and the teacher says: "Because it's consecrated, you idiot! This one isn't!" "How did it get consecrated?" asks the child. "We consecrated it!" says the teacher. And the child asks: "How did you do that?" And the teacher says: "Don't ask so many questions! Just believe us! Accept what we say! That one is consecrated, that one is not!"

And the children now speak with hushed voices. Then the priests turn to each other and say: "Isn't that right, Brother George?" And Brother George says, "Yes, of course! Now run along children! You have learned your lesson for the day!" The priests agree with each other. The children have to acknowledge that the priests, since they agree with each other, must know what they are talking about. "That marble is consecrated! This one is not."

THAT "HOLY WATER" USED IN CHURCH?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Would the same apply to the so-called "Holy Water" used in the churches?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates if you recall the activities of stage magicians, of stage hypnotists, you may recall that a stage hypnotist will pour a glass of water from a jug into the glass, and tell the hypnotic subjects: "This is alcohol. If you drink this, you will get very drunk!" He could pour water into another glass from the same jug and tell others: "This is just plain water. You can drink it and it won't make you drunk."

He has simply named two different things and given suggestions regarding them, yet, when one of these hypnotic subjects drinks the water labeled alcohol, he gets rip-roaring drunk, because he was told and his mind was manipulated into thinking this water was alcohol, or this water was holy, and therefore, if he thinks the water is holy, it becomes holy in his manipulated mind, his hypnotic state. Otherwise, it is just water, just like in the other glass.

Grander's Water Used by "Lord Maitreya" to Fake Miracles

This Awareness indicates there are some circumstances in which water can be different from other water, and in some cases, special waters are given special roles, such as the "Living water" from Europe as promoted by Professor Grander, and as used by "Lord Maitreya" for his fake miracles. This Awareness indicates that these waters are unusually different from most water.

There also are waters that are toxic, therefore, some entities might say: "This water is good. This water is bad," and it is not a matter of mental manipulation, it is a matter of fact. But in most cases relating to so-called Holy Water, it is simply plain water that has been blessed and therefore labeled as something special.

It may not be any more special than tap water, than if the priest took the water from the tap. But if entities are persuaded that it is special Holy Water as opposed to ordinary tap water, they may receive some kind of enhanced effect from the use of the "Holy Water." The enhanced effect may be merely from the suggestion, just as with the stage hypnotist's suggestion that "This water will make you drunk!"

This Awareness indicates that in other words, in most cases, Holy Water is simply plain water that is blessed, and therefore, has a different role in the influence of the minds of the followers of that religion. They think it is special, therefore, it is special, but in terms of scientific content, it may be identical to the tap water, from whence it actually came.

Dowsing "Demons" with Holy Water

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

There are supposed to be recorded accounts down through history of priests in the exorcism of demons, or possessed entities, and vampires and so forth, that by tossing this holy water on the entity, that it shrieks and hollers and retreats and cowers and sometimes leaves the body of the entity. If these reports are true, is this because the obsessing spirit believes that the priest actually has power and the holy water has some effect on him?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in most cases, the so-called spirit is just an evolved energy from a suggestion and the suggestion, becoming strong enough, repeated long enough, drawing from the energies of those who buy into the suggestion, gives the impression of being something real, and the entities buy further into the suggestion, and it gains energy from the repeated and enhanced suggestions, to take on the appearance of something real.

Energy Grows as Energy is Projected

In other words, energy grows as energy is projected, and the appearance of the demonic creature is really just the result of powerful suggestions by entities recognizing the spirit. Thus, the suggestion of "holy water" and of a powerful priest administering "holy water" on the suggestion of a "demon," can be a powerful way to remove the "demon."

This Awareness indicates that it is simply a matter of conjuring up Phillip and playing games with Phillip, giving Phillip greater and greater power, then calling a priest, attributing great power to the priest, and giving the priest "holy water," attributing great power to the "holy water" which is dumped on Phillip.

This Awareness indicates all of it is based on projection and suggestion. The demons don't really exist, but the suggestion has an enormous amount of power to influence and affect entities, and the projection of that suggestion and the description suggested in the projections, can create the appearance of something really powerful, so that you have to have something equally powerful to counter it.

This Awareness indicates they are all playing with the energies of consciousness, keeping in mind of course, that consciousness is everywhere, and if you pick a cube of consciousness and begin to attribute and project qualities to that cube of consciousness, and you do it repeatedly, in such a way that it seems to be increasing-and growing more powerful, before long you have what appears to be a powerful cube of consciousness that is doing something, and then you must find a way to either direct it or diminish it, so that it quits doing what it was doing, and to make it quit doing what it was doing, you need to have some kind of powerful energy that is more strong than it is.

These are all just the workings of Universal Consciousness and the minds playing with energies. They only exist according to the intent of those who create, recognize and manipulate the energies.

You can always just say "Hey! There's really nothing here! It's all just a game! Phillip doesn't exist! The ghost, the demon; they're all just a game!" But if others cannot buy into your new reality and your dismissal of those energies, they will continue to feed the energies and keep them alive.

So, you may have to come up with some strong energies of your own that you can persuade the others to accept as being a remedy, or stronger than the energies they see as real, so that your new energies are perceived as being more powerful than the energies they have witnessed or recognized. So you say: "My god is greater than this entity! My energy is far greater than this energy that you recognize!"

And you say: "My god or my energy has powerful water." Or you can say it has "powerful cotton candy that will, just by touching the area near that energy of yours which you recognize as being a powerful demon; my energy field, my god, can touch your demon with cotton candy and turn it into nothing! Make it disappear!" If you are convincing enough, those whose minds are feeding the demon will be convinced, and the demon will disappear.

If holy water is believed to be powerful as a remedy against the demon, it will be just as effective as the cotton candy, or perhaps even moreso, depending on how convincing you are. This Awareness indicates that it is all a matter of suggestion, just as with the stage hypnotist playing with water and getting his subjects drunk, or giving a subject a drink of water that makes him a genius. one who can spout mathematical formulas even though he may not normally be intelligent in regard to mathematical problems.

This Awareness indicates that stage hypnotists can teach a lot about religion if you are willing to recognize how their power of suggestion parallels the powers in the suggestions of religion. For these energies are simply using quantum physics, and the movement of consciousness by the mind that understands the power of suggestion.

Will the Atlanteans Get Together Soon?

QUESTION:

A question from Ben H., of Tigard, Oregon. I'll read his statement. "The 94-13 issue of CAC, was quite enlightening, concerning particularly the Dalai Lama. I can verify from my own information that this discussion by Awareness is valid.

"In about 1980 I began recovering memories of past lives. By 1985, I had set them to verse. Rather than repeating those memories, I will just send you the verse which resulted. I have no memories of having been the Dalai Lama, but I do have the memories as given in the verses.

"After I discussed these memories with a psychic, he said that before that time I had been the Dalai Lama for several lifetimes. All this is neither here nor there. The precise lines are not important. They are more like a report-card of one's early years in school. It tells where I've been or think I have been in previous times.

"What is important is the context and how closely it agrees with the statements of Awareness. I believe I am here on earth to finish a job which I was destined to complete. That job concerns the progress and evolution of mankind. It is a job which cannot be completed in this lifetime, or by me working alone.

This leads to another bright spot in our future. In my contacts, I have met hundreds of others who claim memories of Atlantis. This leads to my first question. Is there something in the future which will bring many of the Atlanteans together to work on this evolution?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this will occur as entities begin to awaken spiritually in terms of their memory of who, in fact, they really are. Their past-life memories will become more conscious to them, and they will meet with entities with whom they have previously been in contact, and will tend to recognize each other and draw together. Gradually the memories will become more and more clear.

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be something that will begin to occur perhaps in the near future, but will also continue, even up to and beyond the year 2012, or 2013, when entities will pass through the veil into the next dimension, wherein they will be more or less fully awakened.

HE KNOWS WHERE VAST STORE- HOUSES OF GOLD ARE DEPOSITED

QUESTION:

Another question from this entity. "I have also been given much practical information which mankind needs today to pull himself out of the quandary we find ourselves in, particularly in society, in Politics and environmentally. I find that the vast majority is not ready for it.

"One of these pieces of information concerns a vast storehouse of gold and previous metals still to be found here in the United States. A small part of it has been found in the Klondike in 1898. Now I have the rest of that story. There was a massive fast-moving flood, which I believe occurred in 373 B.C., as a result of a passing asteroid.

This flood destroyed 95% of the human population of North America in a matter of six hours. It tore out whole mountain ranges and re-deposited the gold and heavy metals in the lowest ground then existing, which were the existing streams. It filled the land with hundreds of feet of material over these streams and then cut new channels in many places, leaving sections of the original streams intact, although buried.

"This is what happened in the case of the Yukon and the Klondike gold strike. This information on the flood is based on viewing the geological signs of it and is not psychically based. It is based then on my interpretation of the geological signs. This leads to my second question.

"Is this history of the flood generally correct?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates in a general sense this is correct. This Awareness indicates that in specific detail, it does not matter. The generalities are what are of importance in your evaluation. In other words, whether it occurred in the year 373 B.C., or some other year is of little or no consequence. The fact of its occurrence is that which is of consequence.

The precise details do not matter. The general information does.

He Wants to Use the Gold to Destroy the Federal Reserve

QUESTION:

And his final question: "With all the greed, avarice and lust so rampant, this could cause it to become worse. Perhaps that is the way it is supposed to work. I know the gold is there because I found small quantities in many logical but easily accessible locations.

"I believe these gold and precious metal deposits are there for the purpose of putting the United States financially back on its feet. The existence of this gold is being disclosed at this time for the purpose of extracting the US government from under the Federal Reserve Bank."

And he asks for any further comment. But the question: "If the story is essentially correct, is there danger in releasing this information, or how should this information be released?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is not likely to be of any value in releasing this to the masses, for it is not seen that the masses will rush to the Klondike, hoping to find the gold. It is more likely that the release of the information to a few entities who would be willing to work with you or support you in your effort to find this gold, or whereby you could work as an advisor for someone who is willing to go there and search; this might be the more appropriate approach.

This Awareness indicates that in the sharing of the information, you may wish to form some kind of group under contract, wherein all parties are part of the contract before you disclose too much of your information. This Awareness indicates that in so doing, you may wish to make the contract legal and binding so that the parties would gain nothing by violating each other or anyone in the contract.

This Awareness indicates when people pursue gold or great wealth they often become irrational as the wealth gets closer. There will be no problem while pursuing at a distance, but when entities get closer to the reality, they begin to lose rationality and become obsessed with greed, and often are willing to resort to violence toward one another in order to get more of their share. This is a problem.

This Awareness indicates therefore, you must think of some kind of safeguards to prevent this type of thing from happening if you are to share your information with others. This Awareness indicates if you have extremely close friends with whom you can work and if you can do so secretly or quietly, this may not be necessary. This Awareness does not see a great benefit in your throwing out the information and watching people scramble to find the gold.

It appears that this approach would only cause chaotic scrambling and competition at best, or total ignoring of the situation at worst. This Awareness indicates it may be reversed. Perhaps the worse may be the competition in trying to find the gold. Perhaps the best would be ignoring your information entirely. This Awareness indicates, however, whatever the case, it does not appear to be of great benefit to throw it out and step back and have nothing to do with the pursuit yourself.

It appears you should be involved in the pursuit because you have the greatest understanding of the situation.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Wouldn't the logical thing to do at first, since he knows where the gold is, is to stake some claims, and then get some backers and form a corporation or a non-profit organization?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this would be a beneficial approach; that it should be done in the way that is legally protective and binding for his work and effort, and the formation of the corporation could be such as to allow entities involved in the pursuit to have their positions not only defined by personal communications and contracts, but defined also within the corporation, either as shareholders or partners or however the entity chooses to express the particular way of defining the organizational arrangement.

The photos below are representative of what Richard Shaver discovered when he cut open certain rocks. This from the book "The Secret World" as discussed on page 4.

HOW DOES ONE HELP TO IMPROVE SPIRITUAL CONSCIOUSNESS IN OTHERS?

(More on the Concept of Reconciling "Yes and No")

QUESTION:

A question from Stan Whitehead, of Manchester, England. He writes: "More and more in the news these days they have cases such as Waco, Texas, the French Dynamite School case, mass-graves in Bosnia, and disturbed people world-wide. The mind of humanity seems to be fracturing in devastating ways.

"Those of us who read Awareness may be able to bask in Divine White Light, but how does one help to improve spiritual consciousness in those who are not "aware," those who are immersed in their own personal worries?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness reminds entities of certain simple concepts that in the very nature of the concept promote healing. This Awareness suggests, for example, the concept of reconciling "yes and no"-- the reconciliation of opposites. The very action of presenting that concept to an average mind is that which causes an entity to think along different lines, for the mind has been trained to create separateness, to create opposites.

The mind is trained to think in opposites, and to speak of reconciling opposites or oppositions is that which is new to the mind. It can become fascinating. It can become a hook on which the mind begins to think along different lines. This Awareness suggests therefore, you plant these seeds, these unusual concepts in consciousness wherever possible, reconcile the "yes and no," reconcile the differences, the oppositions.

The Concept that Every Human Face is Every Other Human Face

This Awareness indicates that in reconciling polarities, entities will find themselves moving those conflicting energies toward a reconciliation. Just do it in consciousness and its effect will manifest in the physical. This Awareness indicates another concept that can be of great value to entities is the concept that every human face is every other human face.

Of course, entities know that each human face is unique, but by pronouncing "Every human face is every other human face," it forces entities to look and ask, "What does this mean?" And once you ask, "What does this mean?" you begin to think along different lines. You perceive things slightly different.

You perceive things in such a way as to recognize that each human face shares something similar with each other human face, and you see that there is a need to determine what is equal for each of these human faces, what they have in common, and in the process of that exploration, you begin to find commonality between each human, and you begin to see these commonalities that humans share which may have been overlooked before, which may have been ignored because you were seeing the differences between individuals, and seeing how this person was different and how this difference leads to problems.

This Awareness suggests that rather than exaggerating and focusing and pointing out the differences, if you can begin to point to the similarities, then entities can find unity among themselves. They can find some kind of commonality, something they can share together. Thus, by seeing every human face in every other human face, you force entities to think along different lines, and in so doing, it helps to reconcile the differences that entities may have felt.

The Concept: Where There is Mercy, There Can be No Wrong

This Awareness indicates that another concept: "Where there is mercy, there can be no wrong" or: "Where there is mercy you can do no wrong." This Awareness indicates that this creates another concept that entities may find affects their way of thinking. For if entities begin to focus on the term "mercy" it can have a profound effect in consciousness.

If entities can promote the term or the concept of mercy it can be such that where there is mercy there can be no wrong. How can there be wrong when entities are merciful? This Awareness suggests that as entities present these words in those war-torn countries, if entities can promote these words in the language of those countries, so that the words are seen everywhere, the concept of mercy is expressed here and there on walls, on telephone poles, in pamphlets, in writings, or mowed in lawns, words that are printed, pasted, scratched, carved, or written in smoke in the sky, so that entities see the word "mercy" wherever they look; how can they see such words and still promote violence with the same vigor?

Introduce the Concept of Mercy in War-Torn Countries

This Awareness indicates the concept of mercy being saturated in a war-torn country can do much to bring down the level of violence. It can also be helpful in your own home, where this word is plastered upon walls here and there, on mirrors, on the telephone, on the window, on doors, so that wherever you look, the word "mercy" is reminder of a way of life.

This Awareness suggests that this can help reduce hostilities when it is a constant reminder for entities. This Awareness indicates that such actions, the use of such words is far more effective than taking a devastating weapon around and ordering everyone to stop fighting, ordering everyone to be nice, for you cannot use such threatening tactics to bring about peace, to bring about harmony. What brings harmony is when entities think along different lines, when they choose harmony over competition and violence.

"SOUL-DAMAGED WANDERERS"--ANY BIBLICAL CONNECTION?

QUESTION:

Another question from Stan. He writes: "In issue 414 there is a mention of "soul damaged Wanderers" which reminded me of the authorized King James version of the Bible: Matthew 10:28: "And fear not them which kill the body that are not able to kill the soul, but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell."

And his question is: "Was this entity to whom this quotation is attributed aware of this kind of situation in those times?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that entities who are capable of perceiving beyond the physical senses and limitations imposed thereon understand that the soul can be harmed, can be injured, could even be destroyed. It is difficult to destroy the soul. The soul, when destroyed, it is mostly by internal means, whereby an entity's soul becomes destroyed or injured because of its own improper action, whereby it self-destructs or injures itself by not being pure and truthful and clear in its purposes.

This Awareness indicates therefore, it is important for entities to be true in their own integrity, true to themselves, even if not true to others, but it is also noted that entities who cannot be true to others are not inclined after some time of being untruthful to others, to be true to themselves. Entities who are not true to themselves can seldom be true to others. Entities who are not true to others gradually become false to themselves. This Awareness indicates therefore, be truthful to yourself, for it strengthens your soul, and the energies thereof.

How Dark Forces Can Injure an Entity's Soul

This Awareness indicates there is, of course, another form of damage that can be done to an entity's soul, of injury to a soul, and this has to do with violence, of dark forces acting upon an entity's deeper and inner psyche to the point where an entity loses all sense of spiritual integrity, wherein an entity ceases to recognize the Divinity within and without the body, wherein an entity fails to understand that there is Divinity within and there is Divinity outside of oneself, and wherein an entity instead takes it upon himself as an individual to be the master of his ship and soul and fate, and does not credit any higher force with having any influence or right of influence over his or her soul or body, emotions or mind.

This Awareness indicates that when an entity feels that he or she is the beginning and end of self, that entity leaves himself or herself vulnerable to attacks from darker forces without the protection of higher, more spiritual forces, and thus, the soul can be damaged. This Awareness indicates that entities who wish to strengthen the soul can best do so by focusing on those higher spiritual energies and feeling the soul unite with those spiritual energies, seeing those spiritual energies as a kind of field that strengthens one's inner being, that strengthens one's inner soul.

This Awareness indicates that these fields of energies known as the higher frequencies are everywhere present, but can only be tapped if entities recognize the higher spiritual aspects of consciousness and surrender their being to those higher spiritual aspects of consciousness. This gives food to the soul and recharges the soul's batteries.

This Awareness indicates in this manner, a soul becomes stronger because the soul has merged itself with the spirit of the Divine Energies.

Was This the True Message of the Scriptures?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Stan wants to know: "Did the entities know then, (referring to the last question) of these alien forces mentioned by Awareness? Was this the true message of the Scriptures? To warn people of alien forces at work? This theme seems to run through other sacred books in a hidden way."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates you must understand that in these ancient writings, they did not refer to these beings as "aliens." They were referred to as demons or as inimical beings or some other terminology according to the language used in that time period. This Awareness indicates that essentially, however, the essence was the same.

These entities were aware of beings, or energy fields, that were of a negative nature, and they were aware also of the energy fields that were of a positive nature, and wrote in terms that were understood at the time so that they encouraged the alignment with positive energies and discouraged alignment with negative energies.

Can Nuclear Explosions Damage the Soul?

QUESTION:

(by Chris Locke, from Japan attending this particular CAC session):

I have a question for Awareness in relation to soul damage. It's a question I have heard different answers to, and I'd like to hear what Awareness has to say on the matter. The question is: Can the energies unleashed by nuclear explosions damage or destroy the soul when it is in close proximity to the explosion?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there can be a damage caused by the misalignment of subatomic levels of the soul, in that there is what may be seen as a fulcrum or focal point of energies of a being or of a being's soul which can be disrupted and thrown out of place so that the soul does not remain assembled correctly.

Carlos Castaneda's "Assemblage Point" and the Soul

This Awareness indicates that the entity Castaneda speaks of the assemblage point on an individual which can be knocked out of place to allow the entity to go into another state of consciousness, or into another place in consciousness. This Awareness indicates that this assemblage point is a kind of fulcrum or hub or central energy field for all of the nerves and other energies that go out from that center, and when addressing the soul in this regard, if that fulcrum or assemblage point is knocked off its axis or center, then the soul is knocked out of balance.

This Awareness indicates in the same way, nuclear energies can affect each atomic particle of the soul so that on an atomic level, the soul is disrupted, and every atomic particle or subatomic particle that goes into making up the soul, may be off balance. This Awareness indicates in this sense, the soul will take quite some time to rebalance all of these subatomic particles, and the entity may find great amounts of time passing while the soul is repaired.

Some Beings in Higher Frequencies Can Help Repair Souls

This Awareness indicates that in some cases, certain beings in higher frequencies or dimensions can assist in repairing these damaged souls, if they are aware of and in presence with these souls. This Awareness indicates that there are of course some souls who have been damaged who have had to wait for long periods of time to get help from others.

This Awareness indicates it is the nature of the soul to heal itself, and if the entity's consciousness has not been overwhelmed by negative forces that linger, to cause havoc, the soul can begin to repair itself and will do so much more quickly than would the human body. It is possible for the soul that has been damaged to reconcile itself within a matter of days in human terms.

Simply by surrendering to the Divine Forces, forgiving any forces that caused the violation and loving all entities involved in the soul's experience; this brings harmony to every cellular level of the soul. This Awareness indicates that the term "cellular level" refers more to subatomic levels and anti-material or antimatter levels of the soul rather than bodily cells.

The Bonding of Three English Friends

(How Energies from Atlantis have Carried Over to Today)

QUESTION:

(From Will Berlinghof from England attending this CAC Session)

Awareness, while we have the energies of Stan Whitehead with us; before I left England he asked me if I could ask a question of Awareness. It is most personal, but I feel it may have larger ramifications. A few years ago, Stan Whitehead, Chris Locke and myself met for the first time in England and there was a very strong bond that seemed to be between us.

Could you perhaps comment on what that bond was between the three of us and if it has further ramifications for larger groups?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be a kind of alchemical energy that comes from many lifetimes back, wherein the three of you were together in a project relating to a kind of spiritual unity, a dedication to the Divine Energies. This appears to have come from a time in Atlantis, wherein the three of you worked as priest students in a kind of university and your dedication was not so much to teach as to discover, and you worked together to discover what you could about the very nature of consciousness itself.

There was no term at the time for consciousness, and you used a term similar to that which would currently be called the study of life, life being your term for what entities today might call consciousness. You were aware of life as being something that protruded beyond the physical body as a kind of ocean or field of consciousness and the three of you, after many, many hours of discussion came to the realization that consciousness was life.

Of course these terms were not part of the language you used in your discussions. You understood that consciousness and life, as one and the same, extended as far as the mind was capable of projecting, so that life was not limited strictly to the earth. It was extended out into space, just as consciousness extended out into space.

You also concluded that consciousness extended into space, and would go as far as one would imagine, and if one could imagine an end, one could imagine a movement beyond that end, and thus extend consciousness even further, so that in reality there was no limit to the expansion of consciousness, and when it reaches a point, the point is meaningless because it could still be but a starting point for consciousness to continue to expand.

And in your studies and exploration, you also realized that as consciousness was capable of infinite expansion, likewise space itself was capable of infinite expansion, and did not have any limitation that could not be stretched further by the use of consciousness. Thus, you realized that space and consciousness were very much the same thing, and that as you expanded consciousness, you also expanded space, and that the universe could expand as far as your consciousness was capable of expanding.

This Awareness indicates that this early research and study by such entities became the early forms of what later was called philosophy, love of life. It was not the same as modern philosophy. It was an innocent and rudimentary exploration in the mind to discover infinite reality. The infinity was recognized because you always understood that wherever there was a finite ending, it was not really final. It could easily be seen as another point of beginning.

This was perplexing to you, but at the same time it was logical and real, and therefore, would be what entities understood later to be philosophical explorations in consciousness. This Awareness indicates the three of you became priests and students of life, and wrote, books based on your contemplations, and these books became the basis for many other writings that followed.

This Awareness indicates this appears to have been a time of approximately 20,000 B.C. The three of you came back together many times since in different lifetimes, experiencing a kind of union, a rejoining of energies, a refocusing of purpose, and a sense of unity, because of your deep explorations into the unknown sea of consciousness in that ancient time.

This Awareness indicates that at present time, there is still a bond reaching back over 20,000 years that holds you together as deep devoted friends and associates. It gives you a strength, an inner strength based on that deep friendship which causes you to experience a deeper meaning in your individual lives so that as you explore experiences in this personal life, you have a sense of greater purpose than you have actually acquired in this present life.

This sense of greater purpose comes from these ancient experiences and researches into consciousness.

The Symbol of a 3-Spoked Wheel

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION: (WILL B.)

Thank you. At that time Awareness, we found a symbol that seemed to represent this unity for the three of us. It was what I would loosely describe as a three-spoked wheel, which comes from Celtic backgrounds, Japanese background and other sources. Was this somehow significant for the three of us?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this as in the affirmative; as a kind of Triune or Trinity of energies. This Awareness indicates it symbolized the three of you in your individual consciousnesses, along with the effect of three forces acting in collective consciousness to bring about the reality of life.

This Awareness indicates that it is likened unto the ancient symbolism of fire, air and water which are the elemental qualities of creation: radiance, vibration and magnetism, which when added together create the fourth element of earth or stability, a foundation of substance.

The concept of the wheel being that which refers to these three qualities cycling infinitely throughout the universe and throughout all time.

Editor's Update: When Vikki and I went to England to meet our members there, Stan Whitehead had come down from Manchester and was waiting for us at our London hotel when we arrived. He had brought goodies and our room was festooned with flowers. Chris Locke, an Englishman living in Japan and teaching college, lived through the devastating Kobe earthquake a few years ago. Will Berlinghof, now back from England and living in Canada, is now giving readings to CAC members through his psychic Tarot interpretations. Like so many other CAC members, these entities are spreading the word and sharing their Light.

THETA AND DELTA: ARE THEY LINKS TO COLLECTIVE CONSCIOUSNESS?

QUESTION:

A couple of questions from Chris Largent. Awareness has touched on this before. I'll read his statement here. There's several questions within it. He writes: "First, I think, though I'm not sure, I asked Awareness to do a rap on Beta, Alpha, Theta, and Delta, after the ones we got in reply to our questions about the mind machines on the market now. That is, while Beta is fairly well-known and Alpha is much researched, little is known that we can find on Delta or Theta.

"Are they links to other levels of consciousness? And here's the part I may have asked already; that is: Is Theta a link to collective human consciousness? Is Delta a link to Cosmic Consciousness, or, what's going on here? What is this spectrum of consciousness? And what are the functions of each part of the spectrum?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the Alpha consciousness is that which is more or less aligned with higher consciousness. The Beta with the normal consciousness. Delta consciousness equates closely to subconscious levels, and Theta consciousness as that which is associated with supernatural or creative levels of consciousness.

In some cases, this is the Dark Force. In other cases, it is the Light Force. It is a kind of collective creative energy in the universe that can be used for almost any motivation or purpose. Theta consciousness is such that an entity entering into that frequency level can, if desiring to do so, see almost anything he or she wishes to see.

In Theta Consciousness You Can Trip In Heaven or Hell

One can see angels, or demons, devils or gods. One can attune to fairies or elves or any types of hallucinatory creatures. One can see landscapes of greater beauty than earth has ever produced, or one can see the raging fires of hell, and in whatever case, they can see these things with such vividness that they would swear it is true, because they have witnessed it.

This Awareness indicates, however, that this is Theta consciousness. It is not easily tapped into. It sometimes just happens for entities. This Awareness indicates that in Theta consciousness, entities can also move into the past or into the future and see past or future, and these visions are not necessarily linked to the present. They may vary completely from present reality.

Delta Consciousness is Known as the Subconscious Level

This Awareness indicates that Delta Consciousness is more aligned with the reality on subconscious levels; symbolisms and energies that are in motion in a real sense, so that an entity in Delta consciousness may be able to communicate with another on a subconscious level. This Awareness indicates that the Delta consciousness has been researched and explored deeply in the field of psychiatry under the name of "subconscious mind."

Individual Vs Collective Consciousness

(What is the relationship?)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

A second part of Chris's question: He writes "Second: What is the relation between collective human consciousness development and individual development, specifically; do individuals: Buddhas, Leonardos, Mozarts, Gandhis, come along to push collective development or does collective development move in patterns that call forth these great individual achievements? Or is it a bit of both?" he asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it appears to be a merger or culmination of both energies, whereby certain energy fields in collective consciousness begin to bulge and assert themselves and someone comes along who is capable of tuning in to these bulges of consciousness, these fields of consciousness energy, and from that attunement, give voice to the experience, to the consciousness levels, and in so doing, become a representative of that collective consciousness energy, whereby they may serve as a kind of spokesperson for the energy, and this entity may become well known for being the spokesperson for that collective energy.

This Awareness indicates of course the collective energy as that which gives itself and its energizing to the individual and the individual serves that collective energy as a spokesperson for the energy, so that the two are basically inseparable. This Awareness indicates that usually, one could say, "If the entity had not shown up, another entity would have shown up to speak for that collective energy."

IS THIS WHY SOME INVENTIONS ARE CREATED SIMULTANEOUSLY?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Is this the same reason why great inventions, for example, the telephone, was invented by three or four entities at the same time? Only one got the credit however. Is this ...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be in the affirmative in general, not necessarily in every instance of such simultaneous creativity, for in some cases, a certain idea may be presented wherein the entity coming up with the idea may not have followed through all the way, may have not been able to see the full extent of his or her idea; but another entity may come along and read or hear of that idea and leap to a conclusion that if this is so, then most likely such and such will logically prove out to be true also.

This Awareness indicates that another entity might see the idea at the same time and come to the same conclusion without meeting the other person who has come to that same conclusion so that the two entities may feed off of the same idea without ever knowing each other and take an invention to its completion simultaneously, even though they may not have realized they were feeding off of the same idea, and even though they may not have communicated with each other at all.

This Awareness indicates it can happen in that way, or it can happen that the entities tune in telepathically to an idea that is emerging in collective consciousness, and though they may not have any real substance in their attunement to a concept, though they may not have a direct line of mental attachment to an idea, they may have a kind of intuitive attunement to the idea, so that being miles away from the idea, each party tuning in intuitively or psychically, may come up with a discovery or concept which they work on, develop and invent, so that the inventions of each comes out into being very much the same, close to the same time, and having very similar qualities, even though they may have never come across the same idea in a physical sense or communicated with each other regarding the idea.

In other words, they may have telepathically picked up on the same idea, acted on their telepathic or subconscious energies or visions and developed similar inventions near the same time.

"Light Workers"—Who Are These Guys?

(More on Wanderers on This Plane at This Time)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Chris Largent's question continues...."Which leads me to question about "Light Workers." Awareness has mentioned such individuals sometimes as "Wanderers" and has said there are a lot around today. It makes me wonder what's everyone else doing here? Working off karma? Maturing to do their own "Light Work" later, providing material for Light Worker's efforts? All of the above?" he asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that each Wanderer operates at his or her own pace and each may be operating in an entirely different way from that of the others. This Awareness indicates in some cases, the Light Worker may not fully understand his or her purpose and may be simply getting along, and the greatest aspect of their purpose may be simply in talking with friends, helping friends to cope, or doing something that could, at some later time, prove to be valuable to humanity.

Not All Light Workers Realize They Do Light Work

Not all Light Workers recognize they are Light Workers, nor do they necessarily always understand their purpose. You cannot simply walk up to an entity and ask: "Could you be a Wanderer? Are you a Light Worker?" They might not be able to answer such questions. They might instead be focusing on some particular mundane concern such as fixing a car, so that it will run better, or attending some sick person's needs, or they might be doing any number of activities. It may be that they will awaken some day after some traumatic event and realize that they are here for a purpose, or it may be that they will never discover they are here for a purpose.

This Awareness indicates that they are Light Workers because they came to work for the Light of the Divine, to bring about peace and harmony and a deeper understanding on this plane, and in that action of being more enlightened, they spread some energy to those who come in contact with them, which helps them to have an example or have a moment of calmness, or a moment of inspiration for having spoken with the entity.

This Awareness indicates there are many ways Light People function without knowing that they are necessarily spiritual beings or Light Workers. This Awareness indicates in most cases, an entity who is a Light Worker, who discovers this or feels that they are a Light Worker, will not give it a great deal of thought. They do not go around thinking: "I am a Light Worker! Therefore, I must do this or that or leap this building, or run faster than a speeding train."

This Awareness indicates they do not think about being a Light Worker as an occupation. They simply act in accordance with impulses or obligations, commitments or intuitive directions that they feel compels them to do something or influences them to do something. This Awareness indicates in other words, a Light Worker does not necessarily even recognize that he or she is a Light Worker, and if they do recognize this, they normally are so concerned about doing whatever it is they do, that they don't take the time to stop and think about being a Light Worker, for that would not be of any great interest them.

They are more concerned with the doing than with the labeling of themselves as "Light Workers." They are more concerned with working for the Light or in the Light than getting a title to hang around their neck which states that they are a "Light Worker."

Where Does One Find "Light Workers"?

(Even Some Prostitutes Carry the Light)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Well, I believe Awareness just answered his next question, but I'll ask it anyway. "Does Light Work occur in any and every area of life? Are there Light Workers in corporations, politics, science, the humanities, and everything from the film industry to truck driving?" he asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. Any entity who works to make things better on this plane, to improve things for others, to lessen the tragedy and bring about harmony and joy for others, to enhance higher frequencies and vibrations of a spiritual nature; these entities are Light Workers and this can be found in every field, every occupation.

This Awareness indicates that this even includes prostitution, and other occupations that entities might think of as negative in nature. Wherein an entity attempts to improve the life of others, bring greater harmony, and particularly if it is done with a long term and totally committed action of improvement and spiritual dedication, it is worthy of being labeled as working in the Light.

More often, such fields as prostitution and negative activity are not associated with Light Work, for the benefits of such effort to work in Light for entities through these fields is normally very limited, short-lived and only capable of giving momentary pleasure rather than true spiritual upliftment.

This Awareness indicates, however, there are such entities in such fields who have something more to offer occasionally to an individual and who can, by helping an individual in a time of crisis, influence that individual to make certain changes in life that reflect the actions of a true Light Worker.

For example, such an entity might encourage someone to get back together with his or her wife and family, and make things work. This Awareness indicates that these kinds of actions are not usually associated with such fields as prostitution, for example, but the question was: Can it be found in any walk or any type of life-style and this Awareness indicates that it can.

This Awareness of course is not encouraging entities, and in fact, discourages entities from occupations of a negative nature, because it is extremely difficult to be a true Light Worker while involved in activities that are basically harmful and negative in nature.

This Awareness indicates that it is not the occupation that determines whether an entity is a Light Worker. A cab driver may be a Light Worker, or the cab driver may not be a Light Worker. It depends on other things, other actions and attitudes of the cab driver. One cab driver may go out of his way to help others. Another cab driver may be hostile, bitter, and greedy and cause much pain to other people, yet they have the same occupation.

This Awareness indicates it is the same case with any and all occupations; that the occupation does not determine whether an entity is a Light Worker or one who works for Dark Forces. A spiritual leader is not necessarily, by occupation, determined to be a Light Worker. What the entity does, will determine whether he is a Light Worker or a force for darkness, regardless of the occupation involved.

"Light Workers in Films

QUESTION:

One final question from Chris Largent, which was a personal aside note. He writes: "Which reminds me, did you two see the film Dave? (No, we didn't) Denise and I really enjoyed it, and we wonder, is it worth a question to Awareness whether it's the kind of "Light Worker" film coming along to help change consciousness at this particular time?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appear to be true for many entities who see this film. Some entities will not gain enlightenment from such a film. However, it appears the majority of entities who see this film will feel it is an enlightening experience, and therefore, of great value.

This Awareness suggests the Interpreter be brought from trance.

SHE THINKS GOD DOESN'T CARE WHAT HAPPENS TO US

QUESTION:

A question from Wilmah, in Fredonia, New York. She writes: "I have a question. If I read Awareness correctly, It said in essence in a recent issue that God doesn't care what happens to us. My son Max and I have discussed this a bit with no conclusions, naturally. I am a constant user of the White Light and it is easy for me to understand that Divine Energy gives out its power without attachment, yet even energy can feel withdrawal, or can it?"

"My question is: To whom or what was the Christ referring when he talked of "Our Heavenly Father"? He spoke of such things as "He knows of the fall of a sparrow!" How much more does he care for you? Again, he says: "In my Father's house are many mansions" and "Our Father who art in heaven." There are many more, but you get the idea."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is at a loss to understand to what the entity refer when it says the Heavenly Father doesn't care about entities. This Awareness indicates that the entity much have misinterpreted some message or something. This Awareness indicates that It would not be involved in giving information to entities, to ease their pain, to give them understanding, to help them to comprehend their lives with greater depth and understanding if It didn't care.

This Awareness indicates it appears the entity has misinterpreted something and is putting words in the mouth of this Awareness that did not come from this Awareness, or was misinterpreted in the process somewhere.

FOLLOW-UP BY QUESTIONER:

It was a question several months back which we published by an entity who gave a long rap and he tied it up by saying essentially "God doesn't really give a hoot," implying because It can't interfere in the lives of entities on this plane, and then he asked if that particular line of reasoning was correct, and Awareness indicated in the affirmative with the following exceptions, and then it went into a long rap about how the Father in Heaven of course did love and care for all of Its children down there and so on.

I think that's where she's getting this question from.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that It does not interfere directly, to alter the course of entity's karmas on earth. The very reason for most entities coming to earth is to learn from the karmic lessons that they bring to earth, and if this Awareness took this away from entities short of their learning or short of any remorse that they may need to learn from, their whole purpose in living would be of no value.

This Awareness does not interfere with entities' karma in order to make things easier for them, and yet the majority of entities think that their purpose on earth is to be pampered and pleased, and they do not even comprehend that they may personally have some kind of karma that they are working off.

This Awareness indicates that it is likened unto prisoners in a prison who believe that their whole purpose in being there is to be served by guards and the warden so that they can have a nice and easy life without putting forth any effort on their own, and thus, the entities complain or beg for special treatment.

The Purpose of Being on Earth for Most Entities

This Awareness indicates that life on earth for many entities or most entities, is very much like that, and yet, their purpose in being on earth in almost 90% of the cases of people on earth, is to work off some kind of karma. There is something they are here to learn, and if they do not learn it, then they will be destined to repeat the life again and again until it is learned, and they may go through the same hardships again and again until they have learned what they are here for.

As the saying goes, "Nobody said it would be easy," or if anyone did say that, they were perhaps misinforming you. This Awareness indicates that even those who advocate that the spiritual life is supposed to ease your pain should realize that the spiritual life only eases the resistance to the pain, and entities may still have to endure their existence, but they may, by being spiritual, find that they are less resisting to the difficulties of life and therefore, the whole experience becomes less painful because of their attitude toward it.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This line in her question: "I am a constant user of the White Light and it is easy for me to understand that Divine Energy gives out Its power without attachment, yet, even energy can feel withdrawal, or can it?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that energy can withdraw and energy can experience, and energy can evaluate withdrawal. When something is withdrawn from the energy or when the energy withdraws from something it can experience this as a feeling. It is not clear as to what the entity means by "energy can feel withdrawal." Is the entity speaking of the energy itself experiencing withdrawal from an entity, or the loss of some of its own energy?

This Awareness indicates that the question is not clearly stated, and therefore, cannot be clearly answered. There are too many interpretations of the question.

Actor Michael York's Life Saved by Crystals?

QUESTION:

In the last session we were discussing people getting mugged and there was one more question I wanted to ask about this. It was a story clipped from a tabloid about the actor Michael York. It says: "Dashing actor Michael York used a pair of magic crystals to fight off a vicious gang of armed thugs who attacked him and his wife.

"I know it sounds silly, and a lot of people will laugh, but I firmly believe we were saved by the supernatural power of the crystals," says Michael. The attack was on the streets of Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, where Michael is filming Discretion Assured and his wife Pat is researching a book.

The couple was jumped by 6 men wielding razor blades and knives. "A few days before the incident, Pat interviewed a very imminent healer about the curative powers of crystals and he gave one to each of us for protection," says the 50 year old actor. "We had these crystals on us that night and I believe they summoned up some kind of power that saved us. A friend who lives in Brazil says these gangs will kill you in an instant without thinking."

My question is: Is there any truth to that theory that the crystals he had on him summoned up some kind of power that saved their lives?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the entity's reliance and faith in the crystals may have given him a certain confidence or the entity himself may have had a certain kind of confidence that discouraged the muggers from taking a risk, and this Awareness indicates that there are many instances where entities' attitudes project a certain kind of energy that puts off the mugger or the violator simply because the psychic energy of a person is stronger than their own.

The Chi Factor More Than the Crystals was Involved

This Awareness indicates that this is commonly understood in the area of martial arts, especially in the more disciplined types such as the higher forms of martial arts, whereby an entity's Chi factor can be strong enough to frighten or persuade a potential enemy to turn back, without the entity who has the high amount of Chi even raising a finger toward self-defense.

This Awareness indicates it is this, more than the crystals that affected the incident, but if entities have a belief or faith in crystals, then indeed those crystals helped to strengthen their Chi or their confidence and the energy that accompanies self-confidence. This Awareness indicates that Chi is essentially the mana or the auric energy that surrounds a living body.

THE ELECTRIC WOMAN

(She is Bad News When Around Anything Electric)

QUESTION:

We received an interesting letter containing a question or two from Cindy Urbanowitz, Winnipeg, Manitoba, which I'm going to read, and ask Awareness about this, or to comment. She writes: "I am a 35 year old mother of 3 children. Eight years ago I first started becoming aware of the effect I seem to cause around things that are electric. Also around cars.

"It was just 3 months after my son was born that my car burned in my garage as well as my garage and some damage to the house. Prior to it burning, I would experience my headlights going off and on at night when I would be driving it. When it was brought down for service, it always checked out okay, yet they said cause of the car burning was electrical.

"This fire though, was a bit of a turning point in my life because for a short while of being trapped in the burning garage with a gas tank full of gas and a propane tank that was also full, I could think of nothing but trying to find my way out through the thick black smoke, to my baby inside the house.

"I made it back in, gathered up the baby and got out. Two months later, I was in bed at the time, I heard my father and his best friend come into my home. They were in spirit. They were talking to one another and went into my baby's nursery. It was almost as though my father brought his friend and was showing off his grandson. I felt it was important to mention this incident as after this experience I started searching and found the path that I am now on.

"I did, however, have other psychic incidents as a small child. The earliest I remember was that of being taken up to the ceiling in my house and almost like playing ring-around the rosy with beautiful angels. I also would see faces appear on the walls.

"Then again, when I was around 11 years of age, I had quite a bad infection in my top lip. While I was lying in bed, propped up with pillows, a spirit doctor, dressed like he was from the early 1990's, came into my room, paused by my bed and then passed through.

"He left me with the impression that I must hold very hot wash-cloths up to my top lip, where I had been bitten by a hornet. I called my mother and instructed her to do this and the infection let go and I got better. While growing up, I always felt different. I felt a lonely longing, like I was waiting for something. I felt I was adopted, although I was not.

"Today though, these are some of the things I seem to have shorted out: Vacuum cleaners, one month old; hand-held mixer; had to have two computers at work replaced; watches don't run for long when I wear them; had to have two micro-wave ovens replaced; two extension cords, both brand new, popped when I plugged them in on November 24".

"This past Spring, yet another car of mine, my Mustang, is now doing the same thing. The lights go completely off when I drive it at night. I have to pray them back on. I find that this past Spring, these occurrences have become most strong. The Mustang started to "short out" and it almost burned while my son and I were in the car driving.

"A tow-truck operator was just a few cars behind us. He saw all the smoke and rushed beside us, pulled some wires out and said "She would have burned right here, ma'am." The car had to be totally rewired, although all summer long, I still experienced the lights going on and off while driving at night.

"When I drive through storms, and lightning, the lights go off. This summer and onwards though, new things are now happening. Sometimes, when I pass by or sit under my dining-room light, it power-surges. When I sew on my sewing machine, sometimes it power-surges. I fear now that I have somehow affected my house, as not all of my outlets work. Sometimes they do and sometimes they do not.

"Yesterday morning I had another experience with yet another car. My Mustang had been in for mechanical repairs: carburetor and gaskets and so on, so I was using a Cougar that my sister and brother-in-law had left me to use as a back-up as they had moved away. I had only been driving this car for just a few days. I started that car, and again, smoking and burning wires: a smell which I know too well!

"I had to leave the car quickly with my children. I called the fire department because the car was in the garage, but by the time they came the smoking and burning had stopped. Everything seemed fine. They instructed me not to park it in the garage because with electrical problems, it could happen again.

"I need some answers and help to know how to control this or use this in a positive way so that it is not dangerous. Please help me.

"I also wanted to relate a dream that my little boy had last week. He said he and I were driving back from Austin. It is a time I take him to each summer where he plays his violin in competition. (Also, this Summer, while driving back from Austin in an electrical storm, I kept losing my head-lights.) My son said, "My violin was supposed to be in the trunk, Mommy, but when we drove home and drove it into the garage, it was laying on the ground all broken up." This seemed to upset him very much.

He said: "We walked into our back yard and there was a large purple light. It was a UFO. Three beings came out and they picked up my violin, and just like magic, Mommy, they put it all back together. One being was a baby and he touched me on the nose and my whole body glowed purple, like someone drew with a purple marker all around my body."

"How did you feel?" I asked. He replied: "Remember the very first time that you took me into the crystal store and I almost fell over? That's what I felt like. Then I looked over to you Mommy, like two adult beings had their hands on each side of your head and you were glowing purple too. They told us that they would always be with us and that we would see them again."

"I trust that you know that all of these things I write are true. Please help me understand. I anxiously await your reply. I fear for my home and it is so scary when I am driving at night, and I lose my lights, sincerely, Cindy Urbanowitz."

Could Awareness comment on that letter?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there are some entities, this is quite rare, who have an effect on electrical appliances and can burn out electrical appliances just by being close to them. There are some entities who cannot get close to computers without causing them to malfunction. There are some entities who cannot wear a watch without causing it to stop running.

This Awareness indicates that it has something to do with the aura of the entity and the frequency or vibration involved, along with the strength of the entity's aura affecting certain of the electrical fields around an appliance or electric device. This Awareness indicates that it is not common, but it is not extremely unusual for such things to happen.

Astrological Energies are Part of the Problem

In your case, it is partly increased because of the location of Uranus and Neptune in a near conjunction in Capricorn at this time, affecting your own chart, and when Uranus moves on, which will be some time in coming, the energies affecting you will subside to that which is manageable. You may still find it not possible to wear a watch without it stopping, but the more extreme situations are likely to subside to a manageable level.

Visualize the White Light Protecting the Car

This Awareness indicates that you should consult a good astrologer in result to the times relating to this. This Awareness suggests also that wrapping your vehicle in White Light, psychically, before driving at night can be beneficial; the action being to visualize a kind of blue White Light likened unto a giant hoola-hoop going around your car. Visualize another one going up and over and underneath your car, and still another going up and over and underneath your car from front to back; one from across the sides, one from front to back and one horizontal to the floor or parallel to the ground.

This Awareness indicates that the two going around the car, vertical to the ground and front to back, vertical to the ground, and the one going horizontal or parallel to the ground goes around the vehicle, about half-way up the vehicle. Then visualize these three hoola-hoop circles of Light one by one being spun so that they go around the vehicle in a clockwise direction, from your viewpoint, and so that they create a kind of sphere of Light, and each of these spheres should be reinforced to three layers from three full spins.

Do that with each of those three hoola-hoop circles of Light. This Awareness indicates that this will protect your vehicle when you drive it and keep these energies from occurring, keep these shortings from occurring. This Awareness indicates in another manner, you may also find that dropping a cable, a short cable or chain, preferably a cable from your vehicle, down to the street, as a kind of grounding action; this too can be beneficial in helping to send any charge of energy or electricity from your aura, sending it down to the ground.

This will also be beneficial as a way of discharging those energies. This Awareness indicates it is a situation that is difficult. You apparently are a highly charged electrical person, one whose energies are quite intense at times, and when the Uranus and Neptune conjunction is finally passed, most of these events will cease to occur.

There is a mixture of astrological and electrochemical make-up that create a flux of energy in your aura which caused these problems. It is not supernatural. It is a situation that is not well understood by your earth knowledge or the scientific knowledge of those on earth. There are few entities who could understand how these things occur.

There is not a great deal that can be done for you in this regard except this Awareness suggests the methods given, grounding the energy from the vehicle and waiting for the energies to pass, astrologically. This Awareness indicates also, it appears that if you drink liquid, the drinking of water at a particular time can help to diminish the energies that you emanate, when such events are occurring.

A good large glass of water, or two glasses of water can help to diminish the electrical charge in your aura.

Can Her Power be Used for Healing?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Vikki and I saw a movie out at Jean's recently, about a young man who had electricity in his body and he noticed when he touched somebody they could feel a slight electrical feeling, and he accidentally put his hand on the head of some young kid that was complaining of a headache, and the headache went away and the movie evolved that way, that everybody thought he was a healer and they pursued him all over town trying to get healed and he did heal a lot of these people. I believe the movie was called "Mr. North."

My question is: In the case of this lady, could she use that power somehow for healing others?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates the entity has stronger polarity than the average person. The physical body operates on polarized energies. The right and left side are polarized. The various aspects of one's body are polarized, and this gives the body its strength and ability to move as an animated or life form.

This Awareness indicates that as entities become older and weaker, the polarities in the body also weaken, and entities reach a stage whereby they can sometimes barely move because they do not have enough physical polarity. This Awareness has often suggested entities reconcile 'yes and no,' and reconcile polarities.

This is in reference to emotional polarization and psychological and metaphysical polarizations, but as these are reconciled, entities become more spiritual in their movement and direction on the spirit and soul level, but as far as physical energies go, it is good to develop and encourage the polarities in the body.

In fact, there is an entire science or system of polarity in physical therapies whereby using certain exercises, touch and therapy, an entity manipulates the polarities of the body to gain greater health and strength. This Awareness indicates that in this entity's particular situation, she is already highly polarized physically. She is strong and healthy in this regard.

This Awareness indicates that these polarized energies could be used for the healing of others, and the entity could benefit from the information contained in the charismatic healing ritual, the booklet of the first three healings, which was put together during the time of Ralph Duby's earlier Development Classes which explains the charismatic healing and other types whereby entities charge and polarize their hands for the purpose of laying on their hands to heal others, of using the hands to locate energy leaks in someone's body; this kind of healing technique would be helpful for this entity in developing her skills and abilities in this direction.

This Awareness suggests that if this could be sent to the entity it would be most helpful for her to turn this into positive value and condition.

He Finds Alien Faces on His Fingertips

(More on the Way Some Spirit Guides Operate)

QUESTION:

Yes, we'll do that. A question from D. Parise, of Winnipeg, Manitoba. "In 1987, I had Kirlian photographs taken of three fingertips on my right hand. Much to my surprise I noticed that three faces appeared, one in each fingertip. The faces are non-human and have features that we would undoubtedly classify as belonging to space entities.

Since then I have often wondered whether or not these entities are guiding me in some way, and most importantly if they are benevolent or malevolent. Will I eventually be able to consciously communicate with them, or will they remain as an unseen guiding force. I am an electrical engineering student with a keen interest in the field of communications. Is it possible that these space entities will help to manifest a new technology for the benefit of mankind?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it appears that these entities are those which are space aliens, but are your spirit guides. That their faces more or less projected through the energy that came from fingertips, and thus appeared in the photographs of the Kirlian photography.

This Awareness indicates that it is not common for entities to have two-way conversations with their spirit guides. It is more common that if they discover they have a spirit guide, that they communicate to the spirit guide, but it is seldom that the spirit guide is able to communicate directly in return, although there are some situations in which two-way conversations could occur.

This Awareness suggests that you not worry too much about achieving a two-way conversation between yourself and your spirit guides; that you also be careful not to let your spirit guides become too lazy and not do their duty for you. They have a certain obligation to help you do things that are important in your spiritual growth and expression and sometimes these spirit guides become rather complacent and lazy, and need to be prodded to help in your direction and performance.

Therefore, if you do not feel that they are serving in this proper capacity, talk to them, tell them you want to get your spiritual evolution to develop faster or more completely, and that you want to know how you can better serve, and so forth.

Never Demand Things From Your Spirit Guides

This Awareness indicates that it is not always a good idea to demand things for yourself from your spirit guides, for that is not their purpose. They are not there to nursemaid you. They are there to drive you to become a better person, and therefore, you may wish to work on them to do their job so that you become a better person, stronger spiritually and socially and in all other ways, that are important to you.

This Awareness suggests that you not hound them to give you rewards for personal gain just because you have a guardian spirit as Aladdin might demand of his genie. It is not the same thing and their purpose is not the same thing. If you want something from your genie, you must contact your subconscious mind that is the genie.

He Was Covered With a "White Web" at Birth

QUESTION:

One other question from this entity D. Parise. He writes: "Also, there have been some peculiar happenings concerning myself before and at the time of my birth. Before my mother knew that she was pregnant with me, my grandmother told her information was given to my grandmother in a dream from her mother-in-law in spirit, that she, my mother, was to give birth to a baby boy, myself, and that a baby would be born with a "white veil."

A short time later my mother learned of her new pregnancy and at the time of my birth, she noticed that the top half of my body was covered in a stringy white material that resembled a web. Could Cosmic Awareness comment on the significance of this white material, and does it have any connection to the entities that appear on my fingernails?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this material appears to be a substance that is common in a few births, but not in all, and that there does not appear to be a connection. This Awareness indicates that it appears the substance that appeared as a veil was relatively unusual and that your grandmother in her dream, seeing this ahead of time, was very gifted in her ability, and did indeed see into the future.

This Awareness indicates that some people have that kind of experience in dreams. That too is rather rare, but not so extremely rare as to be unheard of. This Awareness indicates that It does not see any connection between the so-called veil and the entities whose faces appeared on your Kirlian photograph.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

This stringy white material that resembled a web, could this have been part of the afterbirth or something like that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates it is also related to that which may be termed ectoplasm, which is generally associated with the psychic web energies that come from or are connected with ghosts. This Awareness indicates that this energy is a kind of residue from strong spiritual and astral transitions.

Ectoplasm Manifests in Some Births From the Astral Level

When an entity of an astral level transits from the astral to the physical plane, it often creates or leaves a residue of white web-like matter, and that matter is called ectoplasm. It generally fades quickly, much in the way that foam would fade.

This Awareness indicates in this particular instance there was strong energy involved in your entering and accompanying the fetus into the physical plane. This white substance coming in part during a movement of your soul into the fetus and is seen as being connected more to the current electrical qualities of your being than as any other thing.

In other words, the electrical qualities of your being were present even prior to and at your birth and had an effect of influencing ectoplasm as you entered into the fetus and transited between the astral and physical plane at the time of your birth.

This Awareness indicates this is very difficult to explain so that the human mind understands. It can be seen, but it is difficult to find the words.

What in Supermarkets is Causing Bowel Movements for This Entity?

QUESTION:

A couple of questions from Sarah Lorenzo of Winnipeg, Manitoba. The first one is rather odd. She asks: "Are there many harmful chemicals in stores? I cannot figure out why I cannot shop in peace. When I go shopping I always have to run to the washroom for bowel movements. In an hour or two I'll run about four or five times and sometimes more. Is it chemicals, past experiences, or could you clarify it, please?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it may be more of a psychological and habitual development than chemical. It appears that shopping, having to do with certain cycles during the day, certain timing, along with certain exercising, arriving at a shopping center or place, along with the psychological assumption or remembrance or habit of having to go to the bathroom, which appears to have some connection to childhood memories and may be triggered in part by those childhood memories; it appears that all of these things combined together are the reasons for this.

It does not appear that chemical smells are the culprit, except in the event where certain chemical smells may have a psychological influence through memory or impressions that stir one subconsciously. This Awareness indicates it does not appear that the chemicals themselves are causing this situation.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Wouldn't the problem lie more in the entity and her routine of eating?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This in the affirmative; the time of day, the fact of walking can cause the digestive juices to start flowing more completely or freely. The psychological remembrances of certain events from childhood can be such as to trigger this kind of thing. The very act of shopping may stimulate a relaxation in her bowels, because of some subconscious memories or feelings.

This Awareness suggests the entity may wish to pick a different time for shopping if this is a problem, or may wish to attempt going to the bathroom before going shopping. This Awareness suggests the entity may also just simply choose a store where she knows the bathroom location, and not worry about the situation.

She Hears of Concentration Camps in Canada

QUESTION:

Her other question. She writes: "I have heard there are concentration camps in Canada's Northwest territories that were built by our armed forces and will be used to imprison Canadian citizens in a civil emergency. Can Awareness confirm and expand upon this?" she asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this appears to be correct. It appears that these concentration camps tend to be in the Northern territories of each province. That they are completed and would be intended for use at a time when the certain powers of the world prepare for a world-wide event that would allow foreign troops to enter each country under the auspices of the UN, and whereby these foreign troops would round up entities who might be a threat to the so-called New World Order.

The New World order being that which is an order of global world government controlled by certain families and beings, organizations and agencies that come under the Rothschild influence. These agencies being in all countries under their own various names, as intelligence agencies or as other organizations and government agencies that were set up and designed to be implemented during these particular critical times that will artificially be created, probably relating to an economic crisis.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness has indicated concentration camps in the United States, and now in Canada for this New World Order eventuality. Does It see concentration camps in other countries like say Europe, or South America, for this same device?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. That these are built in all countries for this purpose. This Awareness indicates that there are entities who do not wish to hear this information. There are entities that do wish to hear this information. It has just offended certain entities by giving this information. It apologizes to those entities.

For those who requested this information, It is happy to have done so, as it is important for them and their chance for future survival to know what is happening in their world. This Awareness indicates that it is such that to please one, you must displease another.

Sending Polluters to Another Planet

(Russian Scientist Receives Radio waves from Aliens on Altair)

QUESTION:

Audrey Patrick sent in a little article that appeared in the Columbus Dispatch called "Polluters From Afar," which I'd like to read and ask Awareness to comment.

"One way to avoid pollution is to put all industry on one planet while living elsewhere." So hypothesized Alexi Arkapov of the Karkov Radio Astronomical Institute to the government news agency Tass.

The Ukrainian astronomer had detected "mysterious sources of radio emissions in the Northern part of the sky near the star Altair." He says it is "100 million times more powerful than the energy the earth receives from the sun. He believes that aliens residing in Altair's solar system have created an industrial society so very powerful as evidenced by their apparent radio broadcasts that they must live on another planet.

Arkapov notes that interestingly, Altair, which is in the constellation Aquipa, was associated in the minds of the ancients with evil reptiles. Did our ancestors know something that should concern us?" the article ends, asking. Would Awareness comment on that, please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the planet or star Altair, being that same homeland of the energizer, Avaton, and the Interpreter, as a place which was indeed invaded and taken over by those Reptoids from Draco, and has indeed been conquered and civilized in such a way that there is a need for the industrialization, toxins and wastes to be stored on a neighboring planet from where the industries operate.

Altair One Reason the Interpreter and Editor Brought Together

This Awareness indicates the entity in his evaluation as being correct. This Awareness indicates that the planets of Altair being now under the control of these Reptoids, would not be suitable for the Interpreter or energizer to return to. That they both left this planet many, many lifetimes ago, when the situation became unbearable and this was part of the reason why these entities were brought together in this lifetime, so as to help as much as possible to prevent a similar thing from happening in the solar system with the invading Reptoids.

A Glimpse of the Life on Altair

This Awareness indicates that some of the entities who once lived in the Altair areas managed to create certain places of safety and high levels of civilization; the planets and entities on these planets living out of body, out of physical form so as to survive even during those times of occupation and war. In other words, there were two dimensions occupying the same time and space, one being that of the physical dimension and one being of a higher spiritual dimension, so that both spiritual and very negative civilizations occupied the same time and space in those Altair planetary systems.

This Awareness indicates that if the Interpreter and energizer were to ever return to their homeland or planetary origins, they would only be able to do so as astral or spiritual entities, not as physical beings, because the physical qualities of the planet are too much under the control of the Reptoids at this time.

ALTAIR EXPERIENCE SIMILAR TO OUR UPCOMING 2012 SHIFT?

FOLLOW-UP (VIKKI):

That double occupancy of the spiritual reality level and the physical Reptoid reality sounds sort of like what the earth may be going through with the transition around the year 2012. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. That there appears to be that which is to take a kind of space warp and whereby one part of space takes the physical earth in a dimension that carries with it all of those most negative forces on earth and the other part of space splits and takes a different dimensional route of entities of a more spiritual development, so that a separation of the wheat and chaff or good and more evil types occurs in a crossroads of dimensional energies.

It is as though a new dimension is being created and rather than shifting into another dimension, a fork in the road occurs and one dimension comes out of the other much like amoebas separate from one parent amoeba and the one amoeba will be positive and the other negative. The vibrations of those in the more positive direction will carry the souls of those who are more spiritually inclined and the souls of others will follow into the more negative dimension.

This Awareness indicates that this essentially is what occurred in the region of Altair, many light years back. This Awareness indicates that these light years have not yet reached this place in space, so that when the reflection and energies from Altair do occur and reach the earth in terms of light years, the light from that experience will have a reflective influence on the planet earth and the same process will begin in terms of vibrations.

These vibratory separations are on the verge of beginning at this time and will be completing at the time of separation by the year 2013, so that the two dimensions begin to separate, and those moving in to the more positive dimension will not be able to witness the negative for very long as it will fade from view, and likewise, the more negative dimension will lose sight of the higher spiritual dimension as it fades from view.

This Awareness indicates that It cannot see these things so much as separations in space. It is not likened unto the earth splitting into two different forms in the same way you might have a double exposure on television, or in a photograph, for the separation does not come about like a fork in the road. It is more of a change in the vibration, wherein the good vibrations become more meaningful to those who are attuned to those vibrations and the negative vibrations become more solidified for those who are vibrating to that same negativity, and the separation comes in consciousness more than in physical reality, and the consciousness of the higher frequencies simply causes the fading away of the lower frequencies.

Those lower frequencies are not really gone. They are just out of sight. And as for the lower frequencies, they wonder: "What happened? Where did all of those 'flowery people' go? Where did all those 'do-gooders' disappear to? Whatever happened to those people who honored their word and behaved so well? All we have now are violent people, hostile people, people like myself!"

And they will wonder what happened and they will not be able to see into the next frequency or vibration of the other dimension that has separated itself from them.

This Awareness indicates, of course, there will be some entities who will be vibrating close to the borderline between each of these separating frequencies and therefore, these entities in the lower or negative dimension will be able still to see those entities in the higher dimension for awhile, and some of the entities vibrating close to the lower frequencies or more negative, but who are in the higher dimension, will be able to see into that lower dimension for awhile, and there will be reports.

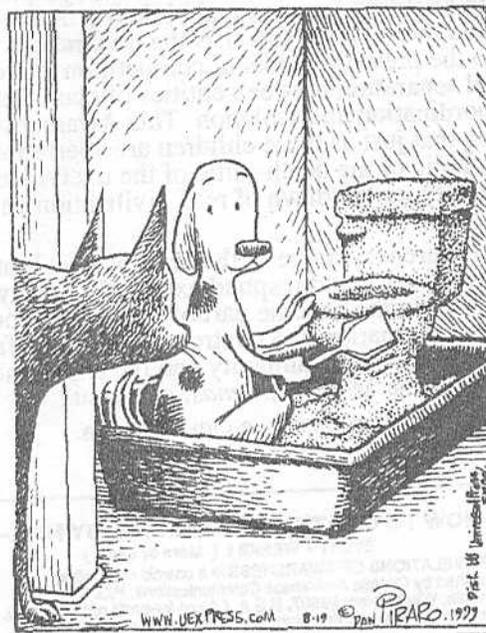

These will be much like reports from what might currently be called mediums. A medium being someone who can see into the next dimension. And these reports from mediums describing what is going on as these frequencies and vibrations begin to separate will allow some entities who have an interest in these areas to continue to understand and monitor the separation for awhile after it occurs.

This Awareness suggests the Interpreter be brought from trance.

IS THE NEW WORLD ORDER DILEMMA A REPEAT OF ATLANTIS?

QUESTION:

A question from Kathleen Villareal, in Houston, Texas. She writes: "From the stories we've heard of Atlantis and her social structure, are we not presently in a similar situation, where there is an attempt to separate the classes of the population, so that there is an all-powerful, all-knowing elite that wants to control the underclass? If the stories have any accuracy to them, we are also repeating the problem with the alien interference that Atlantis suffered with. Is it possible that our present dilemma with the New World Order is a re-enactment of Atlantis's dilemma and that we are striving for a different outcome of the drama here?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the striving for a different outcome is in the affirmative, and yes, such historical scenarios are replayed again and again until humanity understands the connection between the beliefs of mass-consciousness and the experiences and events created through such energy.

External Forces Can Control Us IF We Believe They Can

This Awareness suggests that what is referred to as a current situation has already begun to shift into a past-potential probability wherein certain domination over others shall not occur. This Awareness suggests that as long as entities choose to believe that external controllers and external forces are necessary and somehow more valid than internal ones, that such manipulation and competition and domination can and will occur.

This Awareness suggests that this is the perpetual state of human dis-civilization until the understanding and restoration to grace is attained. This Awareness suggests that this instead is the probability shaping up which shall usher a more rapid expansion of human consciousness and corresponding evolution of human civilization.

Aberrant Children Symbolic of Uncivilized Humanity

This Awareness suggests that like the symptomatic children wielding firearms and violating their communities and themselves, so exists the dominators who cling to the previous tenets of competition and domination and separation between entities of classification and the subordination and violation. This Awareness suggests that just as these children are aberrations, they are symbolic of the death-rattle of the uncivilized nature of humanity, as the dawn of real civilization yawns before humanity.

This Awareness suggests that as individuals attune to the voice of spirit and respond externally in ways that ensure such truths become part of mass-consciousness, that such domination and control will begin to fade from the consciousness of humanity and the experience of that civilization as spirit intends, can ensue.

If we have completion we can continue.
