THE GOTHS AMONG US

(The Reason for Bizarre Behavior and Fads Among Youths?)

QUESTION:

A question came in over the Internet from Michael Hanna. We don't know his address. I'll read his statement. "I have some questions for the Awareness regarding the recent popularity of music and "lifestyle" of Gothic fashions or "Goths" as they like to call themselves. They are youths who wear black clothing all the time and like to pierce their bodies with rings. I know some who are fascinated with both paraphernalia, such as Anne Rice books, Goth comic books and Goth music.

"I'm a little concerned about them. I know for a fact that being 23 years old and a member of this age group, that most of these individuals have a great desire to be unique and distinguish themselves amongst the crowd. Also, many youths in my generation have a very defiant and rebellious stance against established social institutions. Is this an expression of this? Or perhaps it's just a reflection of their inner state? Or is it just a harmless form of playing dress-up?"

"Such extreme forms of expression seem to only polarize and frighten other social groups. It seems their only objectives is to scare others, like they feed off of such negative attention. Marilyn Manson, a Gothic singer and self-proclaimed philosopher, sends deeper messages in his songs, but do they get noticed? Are the messages, in the discernment of the Awareness, at all positive? They seem to me that they simply criticize and don't create a constructive alternative.

"Is any of this Goth business normal and healthy at all? Can such a movement create positive and lasting change? It seems they are rebelling against nothing. Is that the destiny for all rebellious youth? Perhaps this is a reflection of the original separation or Rhyee. Could Awareness please comment on this?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this kind of behavior, with variation, has been occurring from ancient times up to present. Even in the time of Socrates, there was this reference to the youth in a way that sounded it was speaking of youth of present modern day. This Awareness indicates that these entities are for the 90's, what the Beatniks were in the 50's and what the hippies were in the 60's.

This Awareness indicates they each have their own cultural appearance, of course, finding ways to shock their parents and the society in general. This Awareness indicates much of it is just to get attention, and much of it is to get the approval of their peers by being unique, different and weird, and of course, they do want the approval of their peers, so there is a definite style involved in the bizarre dress and dress code.

There is a kind of code involved in the apparel and behavior of the entities. This Awareness indicates hopefully, it will not take on more negative qualities, where the entities become over-fascinated with the macabre and negative behaviors associated with such things as vampirism or other types of dark energies, which often occurs as a movement progresses in a certain theme; that the youth will take the theme to its extreme.

Teenager Create Hostility As An Excuse to Leave Home

This Awareness indicates that hopefully, this will be a fad that does not get into extreme darkness or macabre areas to the extreme. This Awareness indicates that the criticism of the society in general is not uncommon of youth in their early twenties or late teens. The tendency of most teenagers, as they approach the time to leave home, is to find criticism of parents and those in authority, so that it becomes easier to leave the nest, to leave the home. You cannot leave home as long as you are happy and pleased with your parents and your family. You have to have some kind of hostility toward them to make it easier to leave your home and your security. Therefore, many entities begin to become extremely critical of their parents and their parent's values, and in this way they can more easily leave home without the emotional trauma of such separation.

This Awareness indicates it is kind of a procedure for leaving home. If you can create a situation that makes it impossible to stay home, then it becomes much easier to leave. This Awareness indicates often this is the reason for these bizarre fads and behaviors of young people at that age level.

As these entities get into the real world and begin to find how difficult it is to survive without the help of someone who cares, they then later may begin to appreciate their parents and the society in general which can be of help to them, but until they realize the difficulty of just staying alive, they can be very critical and have nothing to lose from it.

This Awareness indicates that essentially, this is an unusual new fad or way of behaving and new dress that does appear as though it will probably catch on for awhile, just as the home-boy style caught on during the last decade. This Awareness indicates there is a generation of young people growing up with a kind of fascination around concepts of death and ghosts and macabre type of ideas and imagery, and part of this is related to that which entities have become focused on.

Movies such as Are You Afraid Of The Dark? On television, and the Goosebumps books have helped to feed this kind of fascination with fear and negativity. This Awareness indicates also, the various role-playing games have contributed to this also, such as Dungeons & Dragons. This Awareness indicates that for the most part, entities can go through this without any true negative problems, and if they can take it in a light way or just for the fun of it, it will probably not have any lasting negative effect on them.

Batman in Gotham City

If however, they become overly focused and obsessed with the roles they are playing, then these entities might become psychologically disturbed and go overboard in their fascination with the macabre. This Awareness indicates the lighter levels of the gothic atmosphere would be that which began with the Batman movies and the cities of Gotham. This Awareness indicates that this is not of any great negativity, but entities can take the gothic theme to an extreme, to where it becomes too negative, if they so choose, and some of the young people are quite likely to do so.

This Awareness indicates a recent murder of a family in the Seattle area by two teenagers who were fascinated with death, who talked about death, whose peers and classmates referred to them as always being fascinated with death and talks about death, have admitted to the killing of the family, and have indicated that it was because they wanted to see what it was like to kill.

This Awareness suggests that this indicates something wrong with the philosophy that these children have been fed, have been given, or allowed to accept in their lives.

Ed's Note: Since this reading was given in Jan., 1997, the hope of Awareness that the fad would not be taken to extreme, was dashed, as these Goth entities were involved in the slaughter of children two years later in several schools in the U.S.

Body Piercing Today: Any Significance?

QUESTION:

Awareness, what is the significance of so many people now piercing their ears and their nose and their lips with these little brass rings and so forth? I've heard on talk-shows that women even pierce their nipples and sometimes their private parts. Originally, I thought, when the rings started showing up on the ears of males, that it was a sort of code that homosexuals had among themselves indicating what they were in to, but now it seems like almost everybody you see, young people, have some kind of body-piercing jewelry.

Is there anything particularly significant about that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that essentially, it is simply attention-getting. Entities who do not have a strong individuality seek to get attention in different ways. This Awareness indicates that in handwriting analysis, such entities will dot their 'i's with a circle or perhaps a square or something unique to attempt to show their own individuality; that they are something different from the ordinary.

This Awareness indicates that this is just another way of doing the same thing: trying to assert one's individuality. "I am different from you! I have my ears pierced!" "Well, I am different from you! I have pierced my nipples!" "Oh wow! How impressive!" This Awareness indicates that these kind of behaviors are intended to shock and also seek admiration.

Much of it is like the old motorcycle gang behavior where the cyclist would wrap a chain around his shoulders. Another would wear an eye-patch. Another would have a certain kind of spurs on his boots, when simply riding a motorcycle instead of a horse, where the spurs were unnecessary, but could be used in a fight, if necessary; to indicate that this entity was 'special,' was 'tough,' was different from the others.

This Awareness indicates that this kind of paraphernalia of individuality is, of course, artificial and does not indicate a person has any special traits. It just is the dress-code that tries to give an impression. Trying to impress others is common for entities who haven't yet discovered who, in fact, they really are.

For those who wish to be something important, or something unique, but haven't yet accomplished anything unique or important, they can put on the airs, or paraphernalia, to make it appear that they are something with an identity, with a purpose, with some kind of special agenda.

Tattooing the Body Another Form of Mutilation

Thus, by dressing in a way that shocks others or in a way that impresses others, according to those things which they feel are impressive, the entity finds a way to fit in with the crowd. Hopefully, the crowd accepts the entity with his or her weird paraphernalia. This Awareness indicates that it is not something new to this generation. The very beginning of tattoos was the same kind of behavior.

A person who needed a tattoo in order to feel that he was something special, was simply mutilating the body in a way to impress his peers or those whom he felt were easily impressed by such mutilations. Now, it is changing to where entities not only pierce their ears, but pierce their nose, lips, et cetera.

This Awareness indicates that in a mystical sense, in the early primitive stages of societies, in the more primitive cultures, people would pierce the ears or pierce the nose or the lips to ward off spirits from entering into those holes, into the body. It was believed that spirits could enter into your body through the ears, the nose, the lips or other orifices, and that jewels could help to ward off those negative spirits. Thus, they would pierce the skin and plants jewels in those areas, to ward off negative spirits.

A Pierced Ear Could Cause Vision Problems Later

This Awareness indicates this of course has no basis in reality; no bearing in truth. In fact, it can be hazardous, not only for infections or getting caught and torn, but also in terms of acupuncture. The meridian lines can run through certain areas such as in the ears, where entities often have the ears pierced. This is a meridian point and line that affects vision. Were this to be right on that spot, a pierced ear could cause entities to have vision problems at some stage in their life.

Those Who Crucify Themselves on Easter

This Awareness indicates that the same may occur for other types of piercing also. This Awareness indicates it is also similar or related somewhat to the same attitudes which lead those Philippine entities to place themselves on a cross for Easter, to parody the crucifixion of Christ. This Awareness indicates that every Easter, you hear about these entities who have themselves nailed to a cross, like the entity Jesus of the Easter celebration.

This Awareness indicates that it is really just for the getting of attention of an entity's peers and the affection or approval of the society that the entity wishes to impress. This is regardless of what the entity may claim. The entity may claim that he is trying to please God, but there is no evidence that God wants the entity to suffer a crucifixion in this manner, and thus, the entity really is just trying to show his courage and his willingness to suffer for his beliefs, and for his culture.

Likewise, the children who pierce themselves to gain approval from their peer group is much the same kind of head-space or attitude.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

If a person has pierced ears, for instance, and then has a vision problem, if they let the ears grow back, will the vision get better?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This would appear to be in the affirmative, although whether the ears would close completely without leaving any scar or scar tissue in the area, may still not bring total remission of such a problem, but whatever nerves were torn or broken might be helped if the ears grew back in a manner that closes the meridian and point of the ear where these energies can then flow more freely across that path.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, it would perhaps help. It might not help 100% to restore the energy flow. This Awareness indicates in most cases, the pierce does not necessarily land on the spot of important sensitivity and nerve flow that would affect the vision, even though it might be very close. If an entity should begin having vision problems after the piercing of the ears, it might be related in some way.

This Awareness indicates that there are doctors trained in acupuncture who can point out the exact spot for stimulating and improving the vision. This spot being on the ear lobe, and in this way might help an entity to avoid piercing that spot, because the piercing of the spot in a permanent sense could damage that nerve flow, and the energies associated with good vision.

This Awareness indicates it is not too uncommon for young girls having their ears pierced to develop vision problems within two or three years following such piercing.

MUTILATING THE TEMPLE

QUESTIONER:

Awareness I was taught that the physical body is what houses the soul, and that it was a violation to abuse your body with things like piercing it and shooting it up with needles, with drugs and that sort of thing; that somehow there would be some kind of spiritual consequences you'd have to pay because of this. Is there any truth to that? Or is the karma just 'instant karma' when entities abuse their body like that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that was a way of protecting you from physical abuse or violation. This Awareness indicates that karma is cause and effect in a case like this, and the cause of piercing the body will have an effect; therefore, there is that which you may term 'instant karma,' or if the effect is prolonged over long periods of time, such as something affecting the meridian lines, or acupuncture lines, that causes other physical difficulties or problems such as vision problems or whatever, then of course there is karma related to that.

This Awareness indicates if you are speaking of some kind of spiritual punishment for having poked yourself deliberately in the finger with a needle or something of this nature, God is not going to punish you for doing that. The punishment is in the act itself.

This Awareness indicates if you are speaking of shooting yourself with drugs, then of course that carries its own kind of karma as a result of the use of drugs, and whatever might result from the needle injection. This Awareness indicates there are some entities with diabetes who must shoot themselves with insulin daily, and this does not carry karma of a spiritual sense. It can actually save their lives and eliminate suffering that would otherwise follow if they did not give themselves the insulin injection.

But the foolishness of vanity, by piercing one's nose, one's cheek or ears; this is simply foolishness and is not necessarily immoral in any sense, but indicates a person who is essentially weak in character. They seek through some cheap artificial approach to be important to others, by trickery of self-mutilation, which does nothing for anyone, and which does not portray a person of great character or talent or skill, or any other high quality of being.

It is simply a cheap way to get attention through some offering of a momentary act. And the attention that is gained is usually not one of approval from the majority people who see the mutilation. There may be a few entities who admire the pierced nose, or the lip ring that hangs from the entity's mouth, but this is not that which would be considered as real character building or classy appearance. It is not glamorous. It is simply shocking and disturbing to many entities.

Some entities want to disturb because they can't please, and to wear such disturbing paraphernalia shows the entity is rather weak in character and is not happy or willing or able to learn how to please others.

Awareness indicates that some entities do it simply to get approval from their friends. It is not from rebellion. Others do it simply because they want to be rebellious toward someone, usually a parent or guardian.

The Influence of Marilyn Manson

QUESTION:

His question from Michael Hanna, one area was covered. He asked about this gothic singer, a male named Marilyn Manson, of all things, "a self-proclaimed philosopher who sends deeper messages in his songs, but do they get noticed? And are the messages, in the discernment of the Awareness, at all positive?"

I suppose that could apply to music in general now days.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that whether words are positive or negative depends on how entities perceive them. The words of one song can be perceived by one entity as encouraging something of a negative approach. The same words could be perceived by another as encouraging the entity to act in a positive way.

This Awareness indicates for example, "Oh my darling, oh my darling, oh my darling Clementine, you are lost and gone forever, dreadful sorrow, Clementine!" This Awareness indicates that this was an old song from the past which most entities have heard at one time or another, lamenting the loss of a loved one. Is this negativity? Does it encourage fascination with death? Or does it express love for that entity who was once present and is now gone?

This Awareness indicates that the Rolling Stones' song "Paint it Black" where he speaks of the car going by carrying his loved one and how the world is now red and should be painted black, and that everything should be painted black, because his loved one is gone, is just another version of the same story, but entities often hear this and perceive it as something demonic. "Paint it Black," and they see this as almost a satanic attitude being portrayed by the Rolling Stones in this song.

This Awareness indicates it is simply a question of poetry. The poetry of expressing the loss of his loved one to the point where he feels his world should be painted black because she is now gone, and what is left? Why should red be there? Why should any color be there when she is no longer with him?; this is an actual poetic expression of great beauty in one sense.

This Awareness indicates, however, another person sees this as satanic. The same can be said for many of the words in songs. That they can be perceived from different attitudes and either be negative or positive. This applies also to the music in question by this entity. Some of his music can have deeper meanings. The words can have deeper meanings and can be either positive or negative, depending on how the entity perceives the words.

ED's Note: Marilyn Manson, a New York Jew, has spawned a "gothic" subculture fixated on darkness, death and anti-Judeo/Christian values. His music has been linked to the Littleton massacre and other carnage by adolescents. In the June 7, 1999 issue of The New American, I quote:

"Witness the following example of Marilyn Manson's message of hate and rebellion, which morally rudderless teens all over America are eating up and emulating in their dress, their attitudes, and, unfortunately, their actions:

"I am so all american, I'd sell you suicide I am totalitarian, I've got abortions in my eyes..."

"Let's just kill everyone and let your god sort them out..."

"I'm gonna f--- you 'til somebody better comes along..."

"The living are dead and I hope to join them too..."

"Got no religion...I wanna die young and sell my soul..."

Is "Fat-Free and Skinny" the Only Way? (Teenage Girls Are Buying the Commercial Hype)

QUESTION:

A question from Lois Hollis, Chesapeake, Virginia. She writes: "What is happening at this time of teenagers, especially girls, having eating disorders? My 16 year old child has unfortunately bought into the commercialism that fat-free and skinny is the only way. This obviously leads to anorexia. As we all know, fat-free is dangerous to good health and if these children do not get their essential fatty acids and oils, they are going to suffer from malnutrition."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

QUESTION CONTINUES:

"Is this what is intended by the so-called Dark Forces? Or is it some type of group karma, or do these spiritual children have a heightened sensitivity to toxic foods on this planet at this time?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that much of this has come from the fashion modeling business. This Awareness indicates there is a song by Leonard Cohen, where he speaks of "First we take Manhattan, then we take Berlin," and he is talking about conquering the world of fashion, with 'drugs that keep your sister slim' or keep the models slim.

This Awareness indicates that he is singing about this fashion business that uses people to make their fortune, and how he wants to conquer the fashion world. This Awareness indicates that it is a song that is very poignant in regard to this question and this topic, which also indicates the kind of attitude that leads young girls to focus more on their figure and their shape than on good health and growing up to have a nice happy childhood.

Make-up and Lipstick: Robbing Children of Their Childhood

This Awareness indicates many of the fashion people promote lipstick or make-up for 7, 8, & 9 year-old girls so that they start off early, trying to be glamorous, trying to be the fashion model types. This Awareness indicates it is simply robbing children of their childhood and of their right to grow in a healthy environment because they are being forced into some kind of cultural mold, to look a certain way, to be a certain size and shape, and weight.

This Awareness indicates that unfortunately, too many young girls fall into that trap. This Awareness indicates in some cases, the parents encourage the girls by talking about their beauty: "Oh, you are so cute! Oh, you are so lovely! Oh, you should be the queen of the school!" All of these things talking about appearances and looks are not healthy for young girls. It is best to compliment them on things they do: "Oh, you did that so well!"-- things of this nature, rather than "Oh, you are so pretty!"

If you compliment the child on looks, then the child thinks the looks will get them what they want in life. This Awareness indicates if your child goes around asking you or others: "Do I look okay? Am I pretty?" or acting in such a way as to appear to be modeling or posing, you have probably given too much emphasis on appearance and the child is not having a healthy self-image, for the appearance, the looks should not be the main focus of the child.

Prayer for Balance

Start your day and end your day by saying the following aloud:

I AM ONE WITH ALL THAT IS!

Thank you God

The Main Focus of the Child Should be Activities

The main focus of the child should be activities: doing things that are interesting which can be educational, or helpful around the home and enjoyable to the child.

This Awareness wishes to tell another story relating to the Interpreter which is probably somewhat embarrassing to him, but it fits into the point this Awareness attempts to make. When the entity was in the army, he and some friends went to a movie on base and when standing in line, he turned to the fellow behind him, a friend of his, and asked "Is my hair combed all right?"

His friend, who was a few years older, looked at him and said "Paul, this may come as a shock to you, but not everyone is looking at you. Most of them are concerned about their own hair." This Awareness indicates it was a real lesson for the entity to realize that his concern about his appearance was over-exaggerated and that 90% of the people did not even notice or care whether his hair was combed or not.

This Awareness indicates that once the entity realized this, he became less paranoid about appearance and simply relaxed. Likewise, the same is for others. Young girls should not be made to constantly think of their appearance, nor should young boys be made to worry about their appearance. A reasonable amount of attention is necessary, but if it becomes excessive, then the entities need to be encouraged to quit worrying about such things.

A Problem About Eating Eggs in Some Areas

QUESTION:

A question from Marie Templeton, Easthampton, MA. She writes: "Can Awareness comment on the problem we are now facing concerning how our eggs are making so many of us ill and causing death in some cases? The scenario unfolding today sounds like a New World Order tactic, where if they put enough of a scare into us, they can control the food consumption.

"After all, eggs are used in all baked goods, not to mention the All-American Breakfast. The Center for Disease Control reports since 1987 there has been an outbreak of a "rare bacteria" that hides inside fresh eggs, where 400 people got sick and had to be hospitalized, then next they claim that 1 out of 40 people will become infected on a regular basis; that there have been 500 thousand illnesses related to this problem recorded as of 1996, and some 200 deaths as a direct result of this rare bacteria.

"The Center for Disease Control says that a mutation allows the bacteria to hide in the chicken's digestive tract and we now have to be aware of the temperature of the egg, not the air in the room around it. We have to keep all eggs cold at a 45 degree Fahrenheit or below, whereas 45 degrees and above is bad. That is what will cause the Salmonella poisoning that leaves the victim extremely ill and even dead in some cases.

"I have this terrible feeling that the CDC is a front, or is funded by the Draconians, and this is just another New World Order tactic, like the AIDS virus the CDC was instrumental in creating as a ways and means of wiping out most of our people by the year 2000. Now when I see stacks of eggs in the local supermarket, I get upset, because this is an illness waiting to happen. I foresee all CAC members taking copies of this question and Awareness' answer, and presenting it to store managers across the country, and possibly all over the world, so as to make those in control in these places aware of the situation, and hopefully they will do something about it."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests the question be repeated.

Not the entire message.

QUESTIONER:

She's assuming that there is a problem with the eggs today.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this appears to be something that has been a problem in her area. It does not appear that it is universal across the United States or across the world, but that in a certain area there has been a problem in regard to eggs and chickens. This Awareness indicates that it, of course, could spread to become more of a widespread problem.

This Awareness indicates that this is but one of many different scenarios or ways by which the population could be reduced by spreading disease throughout the country or throughout the world. This Awareness indicates that whether this is caused by CDC or some other agency, or whether it is something that just came about because of the way the eggs are hatched or the way chickens are raised in hatcheries, depends on whether there is an actual conspiracy to implant food for the purpose of ridding the earth of some of its population.

Global 2000 Program May Include Lethal Purple Rash Flu

This Awareness indicates that the Global 2000 program indeed was set up for the purpose of reducing earth population, and different programs or projects within that program could use a variety of methods for bringing about the death of individuals. The spread of a flu that could lead to the death of many is another way.

This Awareness indicates there is a flu going around already which is quite often fatal. If entities get this flu, which is accompanied by a rash, by the time the rash turns purple, it is too late to save the entity. Therefore, if you have the flu, and you also have a rash, you had better get to the doctor quickly, because if that rash becomes purple, the doctors can do nothing for you.

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be another of those new types of diseases that suddenly appears from Who Knows Where, but which is most likely spawned by some agency working to reduce the population of the earth.

This Awareness indicates that in regard to the eggs themselves, it appears that when this bacteria or virus in the egg is present, it does not necessarily follow that the egg, being well-cooked, and not runny, would be free from the bacteria. It appears that the bacteria can withstand a certain amount of heat, enough that could turn the egg white. Therefore, the egg could be cooked or scrambled and still have the bacteria.

This Awareness indicates entities simply need to be alert and aware of the dangers of eggs in general, particularly in certain areas where this has become a topic of concern. Usually, if someone has a problem, it will make news rather quickly. Of course, if you are the first to have the problem in your area, then what can you do? You cannot wait for the news report, because you are the first one, and the news report will be about you having eaten this egg that was contaminated.

This Awareness indicates therefore, it is simply a matter of being cautious. There is always some risk in living. Entities must decide whether to forego one food after another, as these things become recognized or known to be hazardous.

"PATIENT GRADUALISM"

(Happy People Can Be Happy Slaves)

QUESTION:

In the September issue of the Bob Livingston Letter, it had a small little essay on Patient Gradualism that I found interesting, and I'd like to read it to Awareness and ask if it could expand on this or comment. It goes:

"Few of us understand Patient Gradualism. We live and have our being within a few years, and mostly in an unconscious automated state of mind.

People in power are long-time planners. They absolutely understand human nature and how to channel it to the evolution and refinement of the authoritarian state.

"Authoritarianism is based on long-term planning. Authoritarianism is a philosophy of collectivism. Some call it 'Democracy.' Some call it 'Communism.' Some call it 'Fascism.' Some call it 'National Socialism.' But it is all collectivism or authoritarianism. It is collectivism in economics and economic power; i.e., the state controls the creation and control of credit (money). It is collectivism socially as in the philosophy of "brotherhood." And yes, the authoritarianism is collectivism spiritually, as in the movement toward Universalism and union of all faiths or religious beliefs.

"So, the Tower of Babel is still under construction and has been for thousands of years. This construction refers to the building of the spirit man, and his gradual merging into spiritual collectivism. The goal is perfect docility and perfect harmony with authoritarianism (economic, social and spiritual). Then rebellion and confrontation is impossible. We seem to be very close to this now.

"Patient Gradualism was a concept that the signers of the Constitution fully understood. If one closely studies their religion and their philosophy of government, he would observe that these men were long-term planners. They knew and were conscious of the fact that the signing of the US Constitution was only the beginning and that it would take hundreds of years to evolve the 'spirit' of the new government.

"They saw our day and beyond. I believe we have the government that the planners dreamed of. They knew full well that when they built the "temple of man," (the spirit-man) over hundreds of years, they would have invisible authoritarianism. In America, we unconsciously call our political system "Democracy."

Democracy is more a state of mind that evolves when the people and the state become One. I call it Benevolent Totalitarianism. We have clamored for our chains. It has happened patiently and gradually and imperceptibly over 200 years.

All governments throughout history were, and are basically the same. But so-called civilized governments of the modern era have gained such a sophistication under a benevolent cloak that the greatest number of people cannot discern the difference in freedom and slavery. Happy people can be happy slaves, although this is inconsistent in the public mind.

Regimentation of human resources is no longer the work of concentration camps. Rather, regimentation is accomplished with a modern form of exploitation called "psychic persuasion." This is a system of getting us to imagine that the price of liberty is to support authoritarianism (democracy). Quite a contradiction that few perceive. The great mask of modern authoritarianism is "representative government." Representative government does not exist except as it applies to commercial interest. The principle that representative government guarantees life, liberty, and property of the individual, is a myth that has concealed 200 years of consistent abuses, and has now even turned into declared war by the government on the people.

"We are now so used to regimentation that we need no fences or chains. We are programmed for conditioned responses as scientifically as the modern computer. We can no longer evaluate reality. We embrace tyranny as democracy. It has all happened patiently and gradually. That which is hidden shall be found out!

"We are commanded to search the Scriptures daily. Why would we not question the government authority in order to determine our relationship? How can we make intelligent choices in our private lives if we are powered by deception? We can live peaceably within the system with a minimum of exploitation if we can somehow trigger our conscious minds to inquire into the semantics of conventional wisdom. Most are too far gone, but you're not."

This concept of Patient Gradualism, this also would apply to the Illuminati and their long-termed plan which is coming to a climax today, would it not?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that the entity appears to be correct in much of his evaluation, although it appears that his blanket indictment of the founding fathers as endorsing some kind of long-range authoritarianism may be in error, because the Constitution itself was very much tailored in words so as to prevent totalitarian controls, and to keep the government in check.

The reservation, for example, of all rights not given to the Federal government, being retained by the states and people, would not have had to be in there, if these founding fathers wanted a totalitarian system. There are many phrases and many amendments and clauses within the Constitution that could have been left out, and it would have been much quicker and easier for a totalitarian country to evolve from the over-zealous use of the Constitution for governmental controls.

This Awareness indicates, however, because it was written in such a way as to curtail the powers of government, it is even today a document that could return the power to the people if it were simply followed as the law of the land, but the government forces are ignoring the Constitution. They do not acknowledge it or bring it into play when they break into a home or search and seize. They simply ignore the Constitutional Rights of entities, and do what they want to do.

This Awareness indicates that the law of the land is only as powerful as its ability to be enforced is powerful, and since there is no enforcement of the Constitution, it is losing its power very quickly to a totalitarian government. This Awareness indicates this is what the entity is concerned about; that the totalitarian government is not held in check by the Constitution of the United States, and the entity perhaps feels that it is the fault of the founding fathers, who did not write the Constitution properly.

This Awareness indicates, however, it was indeed their intention to curtail the power of government, to give the power to the people, and it has been the generation since who have allowed these powers to be usurped by an over-zealous authoritarian government.

"And to the Republic for Which It Stands"

This Awareness indicates that the concept of democracy in the United States usurped the earlier power of the people which was founded on a Republic. The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag originally spoke of "And to the Republic, for which the flag stands," this country was a Republic. A Republic is a form of government that recognizes the individual as sacred and sovereign, and that the individual rights are what is important.

It obviously follows that if an individual's rights are important, then every individual person in a society has certain rights that are important, and by protecting those individual rights, or the rights of the individual, all entities are going to be likewise protected.

This Awareness indicates, however, changes began to happen when it became a democracy. A democracy generally is one where there is the vote, and the majority rules. The majority, ruling over the individuals, took away the rights of individuals and replaced it with the right of the majority, and of course, having representatives to act in behalf of the majorities, made it so that the individuals claiming to act in behalf of the majorities, were the ones who were actually acting in expressing the rights of the majorities. But in actuality, many of the majorities were not being properly represented because once the entity was in Washington to represent them, he or she might also be representing some lobbyist or some other agenda than that of the people who elected him or her.

Therefore, corruption of the system began causing the system of the Republic to fall apart, and then even causing the Democracy to fall apart, so that eventually it led to the totalitarian/authoritarian type of country and government that now is in power, wherein the people have very little power and are simply pushed around here and there by those who hold the power.

This Awareness indicates that at this stage there are few who think of the people being the government, even though they may spout the words and slogans: "We, The People," "We are the government," "A government of the people, for the people and by the people!"; these are simply words that are like unto slogans, but they have very little meaning today.

If the government comes in on you while you are spouting such words and tells you to shut up, you would probably shut up and do whatever they say. Therefore, the spouting of such words being very little. It is just a way of puffing up one's confidence, likened unto the old "Dare To Be Great" seminars where entities would start shouting about their greatness and their ability to go out and sell more "Dare To Be Great" memberships.

This Awareness indicates that "We The People" are essentially terms that mean very little because entities do not actually stand for the rights to govern themselves and will sit if the government comes in and tells them to sit, or will stand if they are told to stand.

This Awareness indicates, however, the time may come when this behavior is reversed, when entities see that things have gone too far, when entities are backed into a corner and can go no further to appease the government; then they may stand up to be accounted for, and take charge of their own lives again.

SUN-MOON & HIS UNIFICATION CHURCH

(What is the George Bush Connection?)

QUESTION:

We received over the Internet from the Conspiracy Nation, a sort of newsletter called the "Letters To The Editor, from the latest Rumor Mill News." There's sort of an interesting one I'd like to read and ask Awareness if It could comment on this. Somebody writes in: "Dear Rumor Mill News: You have mentioned the Moonies and mind control more than once. If they are such a bad church, then why is George Bush giving so much of his time to them?"

And Brian Redmond answers: "Thank you for asking this question. I have clipped out an article and was going to write about it this month but I forgot about it until your note. Sun-Moon was financed originally by the Rockefeller Foundation. It has always been my belief that Sun-Moon is being set up to be the Messiah of the New World Order religion.

"A few months ago George Bush traveled to Korea to attend a function hosted by the wife of Sun-Moon. Many say that she is being positioned to take his place when he passes into Godhood. I don't know how much money George Bush was paid to attend the meeting. I also don't know how much Bush was paid to fly to Buenos Aires over the weekend of November 23-24, but he was the guest speaker at a banquet late Saturday to launch Moon's new publication called the "Times of the World."

"Bush then traveled with Moon to neighboring Uruguay, where 4200 young Japanese women are being initiated into the Unification Church to spread the word across Latin America. As you know from reading the lead article in this month's RM News, a new war is looming in the Korean peninsula. If it is allowed to start, I don't expect it to be over for 2 to 3 years. It is my belief that the war has been planned for many years. I expect that Sun-Moon will play a major role in stopping the war, and maybe even become a POW in North Korea for awhile. If he is killed, i.e., "crucified" for his beliefs, the North Koreans will be playing right into the hands of the New World Order slave masters.

"Recently there has been heavy UFO activity sighted over Korea. I believe the Koreans are being prepared to be confronted with Operation Blue Beam. Blue Beam is the plan to create a holographic image of the New Messiah in the sky. The New Messiah will probably be accompanied by Jesus, Krishna, Mohammed, and a whole pantheon of great saints and spiritual leaders from all the religions. If the North Koreans have killed and martyred Sun-Moon, then Sun-Moon's image will also be projected as part of the holograms.

"The New World Order religion is supposed to be a balance of the Yin and Yang, the female and the male. This is why Sun-Moon is so named. The Sun represents the male energy, the Moon represents the female energy. Supposedly, the church will blend the male and female energy and this is why the widow of the martyred founder will so easily be chosen as his successor.

"In other words, the religion is not a patriarchy, it is a balanced religion; at least, that is the picture they want you to believe. In reality, the religion is a slave religion. To become a member of it, you truly have to sell your soul and your individual liberty and freedom. You are worn down by an exhaustive work schedule, and bombarded constantly with the propaganda of the church until you become a programmed zombie."

COSMIC AWARENESS: (INTERRUPTING):

This Awareness wishes to comment here. Also, the diet of these entities in the programming process is designed to make them more passive and more easily subjected to controls and more easily placated so that they do not have the energy to resist. The diet being mostly carbohydrates. Continue.

QUESTIONER CONTINUES:

One final paragraph. "It is one of the longest running, largest and most effective mind control operations that has ever been launched by the New World Order. The only one that equals it is the one that is still partly on the drawings boards. This is the Wackenhut prison operation in Texas, for turning prisoners into Robo-Cops, the police force of the New World Order."

Would Awareness comment on that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Wackenhut Prison Slave Labor Program

This Awareness indicates that the reference to the Wackenhut Prison program has to do with the plan to turn prison management over to corporations instead of government or state operations. These would be managed by corporations. Already, some have occurred, where the corporations are managing some of the prisons. These are likened unto private prison operations, and already prisoners are being used to do slave labor type of work, to help pay for their keep.

The voters in Oregon and other states, for example, have voted to put prisoners to work in the prisons. Seeing they are going to be there anyway, why not let them work to help earn some of the money to offset the costs of the prisons? This Awareness indicates, however, it is actually creating slave labor within the prisons, which can become much worse when political prisoners are added, and especially if this country becomes totalitarian, likened unto Nazi Germany, and people are being arrested simply for their political opinions or for failing to bow down and worship the gods of the new religion, or if people simply do not accept some edict pronounced by the government or resist in some way the government controls on their lives.

These entities being thrown in prison would be an asset to the work force within the prison, and the corporations that run the prison would not have to reach out to foreign countries such as Malaysia and China to find cheap labor. They would have it right here in the prisons. This Awareness indicates that they would have the ability and the right to run the prisons as private corporations, being as ruthless and forceful toward the prisoners as any slave labor camp in Nazi Germany ever was.

This Awareness indicates that it is all part of the plan of the New World Order to bring about slavery for humanity and have this controlled in such a way that the government of the United States itself can be dissolved and the corporations take over the management of the world, and the slave labor therein. These slave labor corporations would of course be working for the extraterrestrial New World Order government. National governments would be dissolved.

When Dr. Beter Said the Corporations Were Being Robotoided

This Awareness reminds you of the statement some years ago in which Dr. Peter Beter informed the Interpreter and others that he didn't understand the reason for it, but the corporations were being taken over by synthetics and Robotoids. The synthetics being cloned replicas of the corporate officers. He didn't understand why this was happening; that these entities were being replaced by clones.

The clones looked like them, but they were not the same person. Dr. Beter again later told the Interpreter that he was up in Massachusetts at a hotel there and he met David Rockefeller, whom he knew, but it wasn't really David Rockefeller. He was with a lady who paid for their dinner with a credit card, and David Rockefeller just stood there as she did so, and then they left. But Dr. Beter said "This was not the real David Rockefeller. This was a clone! He didn't even recognize me until I reminded him who I was, and he should have recognized me. It wasn't actually him!"

This Awareness indicates this confusion on his part as to why these entities were being replaced is clear today. The corporations are the powers behind the New World Order and they are controlled by alien stand-ins. The stand-in replicas or clones are working in behalf of the extraterrestrials, who are setting up the New World Order and the corporations are being run by these extraterrestrial stand-ins or clones.

This Awareness indicates that you can imagine how this is going to develop when the prisons are all controlled by corporations and the governments have been dissolved.

IS SUN-MOON BEING SET UP TO BE THE NEXT MESSIAH BY GEORGE BUSH?

QUESTIONER:

Would Awareness comment on this part of the article that implies that Sun-Moon is being set up to be the Messiah of the New World Religion by George Bush?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entity George Bush as being one of the highest of the key players in this New World Order, having inherited his position through his father and through his alliance with the Skull & Bones Society which was closely related to Skull & Bone Societies in Nazi Germany. The Bush connection was at Yale University, and keeping in mind that Adolf Hitler was the first to promote the concept of the New World Order; this entity as being the main power in the United States promoting the New World Order, has not ceased in his efforts simply because he is no longer president. He is still running things.

He is running things in so far as President Clinton is concerned. He is running things in other levels and influencing the various programs that are promoting the New World Order in this country, but he also works in a more subordinate position to certain foreign interests and groups, and this entity, in promoting the Sun-Moon situation is helping to further the control over religions which is one of the key factors of the New World Order.

The Catholic Church Also is Vying for New World Order Position

The Catholic Church also is vying for position in the New World Order, seeking to be the main church of the New World Order. Therefore, there is the potential for a conflict, and eventually these two forces will have to settle the conflict or there will be a crisis in terms of religions in conflict.

This Awareness indicates of course this may also be part of some agenda relating to the New World Order, having the Catholics in a battle with the Sun-Moon groups, but it is more likely that the two will be allowed to rise to certain heights of power in the New World Order for a period of time, perhaps even reaching into several hundred years before a merging would occur.

This Awareness indicates essentially, the purpose being to get rid of genuine religions and create religions that can be controlled by the framers and administrators of the New World Order.

What About Benjamin Creme's Maitreya?

QUESTION:

Does that mean that Benjamin Creme's Maitreya is out of the running?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is the Rothschild candidate for Messiah. There is the Catholic powers, the George Bush powers which represent Sun-Moon, and of course the Rothschild candidate for Messiah, all of whom may have their day in trying to capture the center-stage for the Messiah.

"WHY BUSH MUST BE DESTROYED"

QUESTION:

In the Lyndon Larouche newspaper, the New Federalist, for December 16th, 1996, he ran an editorial called "Why Bush must be destroyed!", which I'll read. It says: "The fact that George Bush was able to get his picture plastered on the front of one of the largest circulation magazines in America, the December 1st edition of Parade, should underscore our point: George Bush and his machine are a live threat to the continued existence of the United States!

"Bush is planning to build a dynasty in these United States and place his son in a presidency and he has been backed by no less a British authority than the London Economist. The Parade puff-piece, of course, was full of lies, some of them quite telling. The most egregious was the statement that Bush is not joining boards of directors or anything that ambitious. By omission, of course, the lies were even greater, since Bush failed to mention the hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of dollars which he is receiving for services rendered to the cult of the Reverend Sun Yung Moon.

"It would be hard to find a more ambitious man than George Bush, or one who is more venal, vindictive and incoherent. The evidence to back up these charges is abundant. We refer you not only to EIR's recent Special Reports which document in great detail the former Vice-President's role in supervising the crack cocaine Contra connection, and his links to an international mercenary army of thugs and gun-dealers, which has been responsible for dozens of known murders. But we also have an even deeper dossier of evidence against Bush, which has appeared in other Special Reports (one on population reduction, and another on the drug cartels of Ibero-America) and in the 1992 book, The Unauthorized Biography of George Bush. This latter book, which the New Federalist serialized earlier in that year, played a significant role in Bush's 1992 electoral defeat."

Does Awareness see most of those claims as being accurate?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

QUESTIONER:

He does plan to put his son up as president?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

Whitley Strieber's Abduction by Greys

(Info on His New Book "The Secret School")

QUESTION:

A question from John Snyder. This will be our last question. "On the television program "Strange Universe," there was a story about Whitley Strieber, who wrote the best-selling book about his abduction experience called Communion. He is writing another book called The Secret School, in which he details memories of his childhood abduction experiences in which he and other children were taken from their bed at night to a place in the woods where they received instruction from mysterious hooded entities.

"An illustration from the book showed him being carried through the air by a Grey alien. I would like Awareness to discuss the ideas taught in these secret schools and their purpose before the Interpreter reads the book, to avoid any chance of contaminating the reading because of front-loading the author's interpretation before Awareness has a chance to comment."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks that this be repeated. Is this intended to be a test of the depth of trance for this Awareness, or is this simply the way by which the entity wishes the information to be presented. This Awareness indicates the question be restated.

QUESTIONER:

I'm sure that it's the latter that he wanted me to ask the question before the Interpreter had a chance to read the book.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests the question be repeated.

QUESTIONER:

He says: "I would like Awareness to discuss the ideas taught in these secret schools and their purpose."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that if this information is available in the book, then this is simply a test for the depth of trance the Interpreter would be experiencing. This Awareness indicates if the entity genuinely does not know what messages were being taught, and wants to know what was being taught in these meetings, then it is of a different nature altogether in terms of the question, and there is a kind of energy in this question that is disturbing the level of trance.

This Awareness needs to have this disturbance settled before any proceeding can occur.

This Awareness indicates that It is bypassing any motive of the questioner to test the Interpreter. Essentially It could say It is ignoring that aspect of the question and focusing solely on the part of the question asking about the messages that were given to these children through these aliens who abducted them.

This Awareness indicates it appears that the messages were transferred telepathically to the children and that the messages basically had to do with the importance of the children and the mission that was in store for them in regard to the communications that the meeting would bring between themselves and the extraterrestrial beings.

This Awareness indicates that it appears the message had to do with calming the children so that they felt comfortable, being with the extraterrestrials, with these Greys, and also, telepathically indicating to the children that they were angelic and benevolent beings here for a good purpose to help humanity and that the children were going to help them do that which they came to do.

This Awareness indicates it appears that they were trying to befriend the children, make them feel comfortable and important, and also attempting to instill in the minds of the children that there was a very important job ahead for all of them, so that when the children saw them again, they would see them as friends.

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be the first communication of the meeting described. It appears, however, that there were other meetings, as time passed, which this entity, and many of these other children experienced later in their contact with these Greys. This Awareness indicates it does not appear that these contacts were always in groups, as in this case.

Is Divine Intervention Coming?

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates the intrigue that goes on behind the scenes in regard to the New World Order, carries much energy with it, in such a way that many entities involved in these various intrigues are so entrapped by the energies involved, that even if they wanted to escape from their involvement, they would not know how to do it.

This Awareness indicates that therefore, these entities do not even consider any alternative other than obedience to those who hand down the orders from above. This Awareness indicates that the changes that are necessary in order to free entities from this projected programming will need to come from the people themselves as things develop.

There will come a time when the people will simply refuse to go further in the herding toward the New World Order, and it will be likened unto a shock to those who expect total compliance, and it may be such a shock that they do not quite know what to do. That becomes the moment in which the energies can turn around, and entities can put those world leaders on the defensive.

This Awareness indicates that there is seen a Divine Intervention, but it is not seen as a physical intervention so much as an intervention in consciousness that helps to preserve humanity from the potential enslavement being promoted by this New World Order.

Thanks for participating in the Christopher Reeve Healing Meditation on September 25th of this year. So far we have not heard that Superman is walking. If the energies were not strong enough to actually heal him, Awareness has indicated the meditation has given much energy that will hasten the medical breakthrough that will heal entities with such spinal injuries, including Chris. Reeve.

WHAT MADE JD AND FRIEND ILL?

(Something Came Out of the Sky)

QUESTION:

JD writes: "Wednesday, 30th of June, 1999, my friend Jana was in Burlington, and was puzzled to see the sky over Lake Champlain crisscrossed with wide feathery white trails, not contrails, far too low, and not like any clouds she had ever seen. Shortly thereafter she became quite ill with a severe asthma attack, the first time she had ever had one without a known trigger substance.

The next day, Thursday, when that air from Burlington would have reached this area, I was working outdoors and began to have extremely bizarre symptoms, so much so that I am at a loss to describe them in words. I stayed indoors awhile and then went into town, where, while I was outdoors, the symptoms resumed and were so alarming that I went to the hospital emergency room instead of my Haikido class.

They ran the appropriate tests and could find nothing wrong aside from the low blood platelets. I returned home that evening, against medical advice and felt fairly normal until I went outside to work the next day and the symptoms hit me again. This had continued as long as the overcast persisted. Today is Monday, and after the sky cleared at midday, I found I could go out without experiencing this strange condition.

What my friend described perfectly fit the description of the mysterious "chem trail/contrails" in the sky which have been reported making people ill across the country. This is not a conspiracy question! Something made the two of us quite ill, and we want to know what she saw in the skies on Wednesday, why it made both of us so ill, and why, although doctors reported higher levels of calls reporting respiratory distress and bizarre symptoms, the populace at large was not more widely affected?

Needless to say, we'd love to find out just what those things she saw were, how they got placed there, by whom and why?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the event described was a manifestation of aircraft technology and the exhaust patterns often spewing chemicals, toxic to the human form. This Awareness suggests that both entities experiencing heightened response, had commonality of both physical sensitivity and specific belief structures regarding persecution and physical oppression.

This Awareness suggests that the combined action of such belief structures can invite symptoms of this magnitude and stronger. This Awareness suggests that the entities take a two-pronged approach to minimizing such events in the future. This Awareness suggests that the entities work purposefully to identify fear-producing belief constructs and adapt the mindscape with more inclusive and faithful constructs in the perfection of nature, the empowerment within the unified self, and the creative potential within humanity.

This Awareness suggests secondly, that these entities recognize the relationship between the sensitivity of the physical form and the Destiny Challenge which it evidences. This Awareness suggests that an incarnation with such sensitivity serves the particular purpose of attaining balance within the overall entity specific to the dictates of mass-consciousness and the direction of the species.

This Awareness suggests that entities with such sensitivity can obtain dramatic and empowering and impressive results through the creative use of free will, such as the dramatic manifestations experienced as negative health crises. This Awareness suggests that a more enlightened and empowered mindscape can utilize this creative energy to manifest similar more powerful healing type and miraculous physical transformations and that such is the challenge of the sensitivity and the message and meaning within the events described.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Is the Government Inoculating The Public Against Anthrax by Spraying?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

In regard to those contrails, they're being sighted so often that there's even a Website which has "contrail of the week" and one of the entities, Steve Windgate, UFO Director of California, is filing them, and he came out and said: "You know they are putting chemicals in these which inoculate us from deadly anthrax and other biological weapons soon to be released as part of the cleansing process." Is there any truth at all to that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that energy not be put in this specific direction, for the underlying assumption is yet again the belief construct that external forces can and do control the individual destiny, when in fact, it is the belief structure itself with energy applied that does indeed create the individual reality for the entity involved.

This Awareness suggests that entities feeling compelled to attune to such informational Websites should do well to inspect the emotional signals promoted and utilize the information offered to best develop the inner capacities which shall forever release the entity from any such external manipulation and control.

If we have completion we can continue.

RELATIONSHIPS, MARRIAGE & FANTASY RELATIONSHIPS

QUESTION:

A letter from M.J. of Eugene, Oregon, which has a series of questions within one basic question. I'm not certain what the basic question is, but maybe Awareness will perceive it. I will read his letter:

"I have some questions concerning relationship and marriage. Many times I have wondered what it is that attracts people together. It appears to be so much like a fantasy at the initial stages of a relationship, then the boredom, or 'reality' sets in, and a new fantasy is pursued. With so many choices of fantasy at hand, the individual has no concept of commitment for an enduring relationship. How do you keep the fantasy level in perspective and what do you commit to, other than commitments to values and protection of individual liberties? [I'll finish the letter and then if Awareness wants specific questions re-asked, I'll ask them].

"Is it possible to go a step beyond with lessons of relating well? The lessons on Psychic Vampirism, Choosing a Mate, and Unrequited Love were extremely spectacular and beneficial. To continue further on these lines; I have felt drained and weary from relationships and it felt like the "Womb Man" were living a fantasy through me and absorbing my vitality, even without sexual encounters. How can the Womb-Man's role be enhanced? There seems to be a very fine line between giving and taking. This is my confusion. I am not sure if I feel drained because I'm not giving enough or I'm being blood-sucked. Many times I don't know if I am giving or taking or if there is any real difference between the two concepts. Is the drained feeling the karma involved with vampirism, or a need to maintain a certain isolation of the individuality, which appears selfish and unmotivated at times? Could Awareness give some guidelines on giving and taking and sharing and caring? How can one give more and maintain balance and equilibrium? Or am I asking too much of you?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this feeling which entities often, in some relationships notice between one another, whereby one entity seems to feed off of the psychic energies of another, is that which may be visualized more clearly as two different magnets or poles of a magnet or two different types of expressions. That wherein one entity draws energy from another, like a psychic vampire drawing the vital energies of one's aura, this may be equated to a magnetic person, -one who needs to, or assumes to need, to draw from others for their vitality. This generally occurs when an entity is cut off from their own Higher Self, from the Light Within, and needs to feed from the light of another.

Magnetic Attraction is Explained

This Awareness indicates that wherein one's contact with the Light within, or the Higher Self is clear, that entity draws energy from the atmosphere, or from the Higher Self, taking it right out of the ether or space, rather than taking it from another entity, and that entity in drawing from the higher vibratory rates, radiates that energy out toward others in his or her aura. Such an entity who radiates energy is, in common terms, felt to be magnetic. This Awareness indicates that there are those who speak of entities who are radiant beings, or have animal magnetism and are attractive to others; that this often is in fact, radiant energy rather than magnetic energy, but it is magnetic in that it draws those who are weak and who need that radiant energy, and these entities often cling to that radiant being.

This Awareness indicates that in your particular case, you have the ability to draw energy from your Higher Self and have strength within to such a degree that you can radiate outward through your aura an excess of energy; that this in the majority of time, though there are also times wherein you have a magnetic need which draws energy from others. In your particular case, the need to draw energy from others is relatively rare in comparison to most entities.

Psychic Vampirism at Work

This Awareness indicates that the female who comes close to you and needs that energy may draw from you, and you may feel, when asleep, that you have had a very restless night, wherein you are almost as tired in the morning as you were when you went to sleep. This Awareness indicates that this entity then may awaken and feel fully rested, having taken much of your vitality. This is simply a kind of flow of vital energy from you to this entity, which recharges the entity, but which drains you, because unconsciously in your sleep you are not drawing from higher spiritual energies, but are simply letting go and allowing the energies to be drained from you, while you, yourself, are off in dreamland.

This Awareness indicates that the problem here is one wherein the partner has a need, deep within the psyche, which needs to be released. This Awareness suggests that this can be released best through certain counseling techniques, which allows this entity to relive certain experiences which have left traumatic memories within the entity's subconscious, and as these memories are released, the entity will release those blocks which also will allow the energy flow from her Higher Self to enter and to vitalize her own aura.

How to Deal With Psychological and Emotional Dependency

This Awareness indicates that the entity also needs to discover her own independence and be given more room and opportunity for independence. This allows the entity to find her own source of energies, both psychologically, socially, and physically, so that she does not rely entirely on you psychologically, and emotionally, and therefore physically.

This Awareness indicates that when this entity draws psychological and emotional dependency from you, or finds herself depending on you for supplying psychological and emotional needs, the entity also is inclined to seek her vital energy by drawing this from you. This Awareness suggests that this can be attended best by assisting the entity in rediscovering some of her traumatic childhood memories, and reliving or re-experiencing these in present time. This Awareness suggests that this can be accomplished through mild counseling techniques, and in so re-experiencing these, memories can be triggered which will release the energies which are blocking the flow.

HOW DOES ONE KEEP THE FANTASY LEVEL IN PERSPECTIVE?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Will Awareness cover that aspect of the question where he asked: "How do you keep the fantasy level in perspective, and what do you commit yourself to, other than commitments to values and protections of individual liberties?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this depends entirely on the individual, for one individual may have fantasies which are completely unrealistic, another may have fantasies which are so realistic that they come true exactly as imagined. This Awareness indicates that a fantasy in the terms applying to this question is nothing more than an expectation or wish. This Awareness indicates that wherein entities bring expectations into a relationship, there is always the danger of disappointment, there is always the danger of projecting those expectations into the relationship and on the other partner in such a manner as to inhibit their right to be who they are by attempting to influence them to meet your expectations or fantasies. That this is not something which can be regulated by a formula or method, for every individual has certain fantasies about a new partner wherein they seek to have that partner fulfill their fantasies and expectations.

This Awareness indicates, however, that the more mature entity will not bring these fantasies or expectations into the relationship, any more than is acceptable to the other, and will discard these as is appropriate. The mature individual will be more concerned about discovering who this entity is, and less concerned about making this entity fit into "my fantasy or expectation." Therefore, it is a question of whether one is mature enough socially to discover and accept one for what one is, or whether one is looking for a kind of biological object which can be "molded and changed to fit into this perfect being which I have fantasized for my life to be associated with."

The Fantasy of Having the Perfect Spouse

This Awareness indicates that most entities, if they would examine their fantasies, would find that the fantasy is not only unrealistic, but that they themselves would never be appealing to such a fantastic being as they would desire, and that if they actually found an entity who met their expectations, the entity would in all likelihood be disappointed in them, and would not stick around. This Awareness indicates that entities tend to want their spouses to be absolutely perfect in all ways, accepting and loving, while having very few faults of their own, ignoring whatever faults you might have, and loving you in spite of all faults, while still taking criticism from you for any faults which you might notice in time. This, of course, is totally unrealistic; and it is because of such fantasies, that entities often find their relationship moving from the romantic stage into one wherein they are at odds with each other.

This Awareness indicates the more mature person does not project fantasies on the other, but simply attempts to find out, "Who is this person I am associating with? What is this person like? How can I become more acquainted with this person? Will this person understand me when I speak of this aspect of myself? Will I understand this person if this person discloses certain aspects of herself which are not necessarily beautiful to herself and perhaps not acceptable to me?" This Awareness indicates that wherein a person begins to question in this manner one's own ability to accept and discover and understand another, then the person is indicating a maturity of relationship. This Awareness indicates that in terms of that type of relating, one can then have expectations of a clear relationship with this entity and will not need expectations of fantasy relationships or fantasy experiences which have no basis in reality.

The Most Healthy Kind of Relationship

This Awareness indicates the most healthy kind of relationship is that which expects and demands of oneself to be clear and open and honest and sharing as much as the other will allow and accept of you, and to make the opportunity for the other to also be open, honest, and sharing, without blocking that entity's chances for such honesty. This Awareness indicates that the other aspect of this question be re-asked.

WHAT DOES ONE COMMIT TO?

(There is More Than Just Physical Attraction Involved)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

What do you commit yourself to in addition to value and protection of individual liberties, of course, as asked in the question?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the initial attraction between entities is not always physical, although physical appearance can often play some part, this particularly in situations wherein an entity has a natural propensity to be attracted to symmetry and beauty; that such an entity will not simply be attracted to beauty of this particular person, but will be attracted to beauty in general, and will have certain ideas about what beauty is. Therefore, the physical attraction for one entity may be different from the physical attraction of another.

This Awareness indicates that some entities will not actually be very much influenced by physical qualities at all, but will be more influenced by certain qualities of character or of social status or of some other aspect which is valued. That even so, such actions are not the primary cause for attraction, for if this were the case, entities would be able to select from a large number of other entities and would have many satisfying relationships.

The "Vibration" of an Entity and Its Influence is Explained

This Awareness indicates that besides the physical, social, and character traits, or others of this nature which attract entities to some degree, there is a quality which is even stronger, and this is that which in modern times is called the 'vibration' of an entity. Essentially, the vibration of one entity is to another similar to the vibration of one note to another; that if you walk up and haphazardly hit two notes on a piano, the notes will either harmonize or will be disharmonious, dissonant; that if you reach up and hit two more notes, these notes may be in even closer harmony. This Awareness indicates as many times as you strike two different notes haphazardly on the piano, you may find that some are pleasant and some are unpleasant to the ear.

This Awareness indicates that eventually, in striking notes in this manner, you may strike two different notes which sound so beautiful together to your ear, that you will want to remember which notes go together for this particular harmony. This also is the way it is with entities: that each entity has his or her own note or vibration, which is beyond the hearing range, but which, when coming in contact with the note or vibration of another, will tend to clash or will tend to harmonize. The harmony may be that which is of a certain quality and this may be of such quality that the entities find themselves forming a beautiful friendship, but it may never go beyond that level; whereas the entities, parting, may meet others, and suddenly find that the harmony in relationship with these others, is so much more beautiful that it goes beyond friendship and reaches into that which they term "love."

This Awareness indicates that this love and this harmony may feel extremely powerful and passionate because of the qualities involved in the vibration. That this passionate feeling may eventually become so much part of the relationship that the entities begin to feel they are totally committed to each other, and the passion may be so strong that the entities want to possess each other, and may even become jealous of each other, or possibly begin to become fearful of the quality and strength of the passion, and this then, may lead these entities into blowing their relationship apart, and separation eventually occurring.

This Awareness indicates that still another entity may come along, and the entities involved come together in a relationship which is both friendship and passionate and perhaps even comfortable, without great intensity involved, and the entities then may find themselves being drawn together in such a comfortable situation that it appears to be like being home. That this, too, can begin to settle into a stable situation which may be called a house of marriage, and homemaking.

This Awareness indicates however, that along comes another entity who strikes a note which creates a disharmony in the home, and before you realize it, this third party or third note, has created such dissonance that the harmony which originally existed and the peace which was originally felt is now in chaotic disruption. That now the third party's note, along with these harmonious qualities, may continue creating disruptions until the first party feels like "this is not home, this is a mad-house and I am forced to react with some intensity." Therefore the entity's vibrations may change, and the entity's intensity and note becomes stronger, which again sets off more dissonance in the relationship, and the second entity then may react to this new change of vibration by changing her vibration, and again the dissonance occurs, even greater.

This Awareness indicates that in such actions, these entities may find that they cannot find peace within their home, within their relationship, because of the dissonance and the experiences which have become so overcharged and so heavy and which do not seem to allow rest for either party. That meanwhile, the third force may invite in a fourth force, and this fourth note or force begins bringing about its influence until perhaps something occurs wherein the total situation becomes even more chaotic and blows apart, or becomes harmonious and settles down into a state of poise and acceptability for the different vibrations or notes.

This Awareness indicates that what has been described can be added to and augmented. There can be more harmonious notes coming together or more dissonant notes, and this description can be ordered and controlled and influenced by the order and commitment of the different parties, so that a general agreement is made that no matter what occurs, the entities will continue working together. If this occurs, then that which appears to be chaotic at times may move into a kind of harmonizing theme, wherein the melody of life between these notes flows through to the end of the stanza.

This Awareness indicates that if this does not occur and each note insists on having his or her own expectations fulfilled by other notes, the entity may simply become disgusted with not being able to create the proper music and theme in one's life and the entity may simply slam down the lid on the piano and get up and walk away and try to start anew somewhere else.

Before Committing to Another, Commit to Yourself

This Awareness indicates that the commitment an entity makes should not first be to another entity, but should first be to oneself. An entity may commit to oneself that "I will live my life first for that which is the spiritual needs of my own development, and secondly for my chosen mate and family." Another entity may make a commitment: "I will live my life for you throughout eternity, and will never, never, never look at another entity, so long as I live." Another entity may make a commitment: "I will stick by you as long as you stick by me." Another entity may make a commitment: "I will follow you as long as you give me what I want."

This Awareness indicates the degree of commitment an entity will make to another depends on the capacity of an entity to fulfill his or her own needs and to be committed to his or her own ideals and purposes; and when an entity is capable of supplying one's own needs through one's own communication with the Light within, and one's abilities in the society without, then the entity is also capable of making commitments to others and may be capable of keeping such commitments. This Awareness suggests, however, that entities be careful not to make commitments which cannot be kept or which cannot be changed if necessary, or making commitments which bind you to an action or course of action, but do not put any similar restrictions or binds on the other entity. For when you commit yourself to an entity who is not committed to you, you open the opportunity for that other entity to violate you while you are forced to be loyal and true to that entity.

Lopsided Agreements Often Occur

This Awareness indicates that this action is perfectly acceptable, so long as you understand that is what you are doing: you are letting yourself be chained for this entity, while the other entity is not chained to you. That likewise, wherein two entities say to each other: "I am committed to be with you once in awhile, so long as you treat me the way I like you to treat me, but I want you to allow me to be free to be with others, though I do not want to give you that right." If you agree to such commitment, that is alright, if that is what you want, and if you are willing to suffer the consequences of such a lopsided agreement. However, if you wish something more in life than that type of agreement, it may be to your advantage to be more careful in what kind of agreements you make, so that things are not so lopsided.

This Awareness indicates a good relationship, a harmonious agreement or partnership, is generally best experienced when both parties have approximately equal voting rights in situations and circumstances. But not all situations are like that, and some partnerships exist wherein one entity has 90% of the voting rights in circumstances, and the other has only 10%; that this also is alright if both parties are satisfied. But if entities tire of this kind of relationship, rather than lament your problems, and yet suffer through such problems, it would be more beneficial for the entities to re-negotiate the agreement to either get out of the partnership entirely, or bring it back to a more balanced, harmonious level.

Commitment IS Agreement

This Awareness indicates that commitment depends largely on what one wants and what one is willing to give in order to have what one wants; and in expressing what one wants, one negotiates with the other party to discover what the other party will give and what the other party wants in return; and when this is understood by both parties, then it can be possible for entities to reach a kind of commitment or agreement. For commitment is agreement, and the degree of agreement will determine how strong the commitment is,--whether it is permanent, or subject to future negotiation and change, will also be part of the commitment.

This Awareness indicates that when such agreements are made in such a way as to be re-negotiable upon request of either party, so that these agreements can be re-discussed, rewritten or changed, but only with the communication and agreements and negotiation with the other party, not by one party making a change without notifying or discussing the change with the other party; that when agreements are made so as to be mutual, and the commitment is such that both parties agree to discuss any change in the relationship and to negotiate the different feelings or commitments as these changes might bring about, then you have a relationship which can change, a relationship which can move from place to place, from type to type, and yet you always have that commitment of communicating and discussing and you always have a relationship which is clear between you and the other person, even though it may not be at this moment the same relationship it was ten years ago, or five years ago, or three weeks ago, or tomorrow. This Awareness indicates that the relationship and the commitments may change, but the negotiation and the communication must always be kept current.

This Awareness suggests also, that commitments, when changed, may carry certain consequences, according to the agreements which surrounded those commitments, and the agreements are those which need to be continually clarified and respected.

Avaton's Treasure Map: Did It Really Work?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

The list of fantasy expectations reminded me of the treasure map that Avaton composed to describe his particular requirements for his needed workmate. They included a physical description, "someone he could love and respect, who would love and respect him in return," and the time and place of delivery of the map request. Is this method a reasonable possibility for mate-getting for many entities, and how much did his requirements influence me, and how was this influence made, for instance, through guides?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that essentially, this was an action of clarification within his own mind, and that which also served as a kind of spiritual request, a defined prayer; that this closely associated with the planting of a seed-thought which would be energized and presented to the Higher Self. This Awareness indicates that by presenting the requirements in a treasure map, or upon a piece of paper, defining exactly what he wanted, this created a clarification in his own consciousness, so that the exact image of what he desired was made clear to the High Self, which helps to manifest in the physical plane that which is desired and requested.

This Awareness indicates that if the entity had requested a mate, but had not defined exactly what kind of mate, the entity would have probably been given someone who was simply a general mate; and this might have been satisfactory, or might not have been satisfactory. This Awareness indicates that as the entity put in his order with clarity, the entity received back the serving, exactly as ordered.

This Awareness indicates that there is another aspect to this: Subconsciously, the entity already had an image, deep within his psyche of your presence, and it was this inner subconscious realization that allowed him to formulate exactly what he wanted. This Awareness indicates that this also was guided to some degree by forces on the Inner Plane; this also as having been a past-life karma, whereby the two of you were in agreement to come together in this particular life.

ED's Note: although this is a personal thing between Vikki and myself, the magic involved is worth sharing. I don't believe anyone else knows about this. I had been married for a number of years to a lady (really nice one) and had a good relationship until I got involved with the Awareness work in the Seattle group called the Organization of Awareness. We both went through the Development Classes together, but my wife, Jean, did not understand what was going on. (Her grandfather was a Baptist preacher in Nebraska and she had never had any esoteric type teachings). Anyway, this type of new knowledge she somehow found threatening and rather frightening. About the same time the war in Vietnam was raging along, the war machine devouring more and more of our nation's youth daily. Nobody seemed to be doing anything about it. Those who discussed it were often looked upon as communist sympathizers, or at least certainly un-American.

Jean and I had six children,—two girls and 4 boys. The boys were getting into their teens, the mandatory draft was down the road but a few years. The war had been dragging on for many years and there was no indication in sight that it would ever end. I was literally driven to try to do something about it. I got involved in the anti-war movement and the underground railway system that helped those who did not want to go to the Vietnam slaughterhouse nor to jail, get into Canada. I was also into teaching and counseling draft age boys, explaining their legal rights and the fact that there was a higher law to be upheld other than the American draft law. There was also much work in distributing antiwar literature (I had an offset press that was kept quite busy at that) and considerable local publicity about my activities. (I once made the front page of the local paper marching with a church group that was protesting the bombing of Cambodia by Nixon. Some rednecks drove by in a pickup and threw buckets of red paint over me and the other eight Unitarians walking back and forth in front of the Federal Building in Olympia. To make a very long story short, Jean totally freaked when the picture appeared in the paper. She got very frightened and paranoid. Her friends told her I would end up in jail, that I was a traitor to our country, that I would lose my business in town etc. etc. In short, she kicked me out with an ultimatum that I must straighten out and return to civilized life like most other entities in town.

I couldn't do that, by now I was so polarized I could no longer relate to my friends and peers, I found I could only relate to hippie-type entities and young college men who were concerned about the Vietnam meat grinder. What really did it was the young man, Mike, who came to my office after getting his draft notice. He had a friend with him and he told me the friend had agreed to take an axe and cut off his big toe for him because the army would then not accept him. I told him there were alternatives, but at the time was not sure what they were. A few weeks later I saw Mike downtown with a bandage foot, walking on crutches. His friend had indeed cut off Mike's big toe. Years later, I heard that Mike's foot had somehow curled up and he was crippled for life. I found out about the "underground railway" to Canada and I got involved.

Jean divorced me. There were other reasons of course, but my antiwar activities and deeper involvement with the Awareness movement were the main ones.

My office became a local hangout for the antiwar people. We held many meetings and organized many things together. David Worcester became Interpreter after the death of Ralph Doby and he and I later started Servants of Awareness. Its headquarters was my office. At David's insistence, I got turned on to marijuana and had some LSD experiments. We went to San Francisco in 1967 to what was called "The Summer of Love". There was magic in the air. I knew real magic, real transmutation in consciousness was occurring there. (Awareness later confirmed this). I observed the creativity in San Francisco that summer,—New Age vibes were everywhere, literally: In the shops, in the music, in the posters, in the incense, in the young golden haired people that flocked to Golden Gate park and the Haight-Asbury, with flowers in their hair. Everyone seemed stoned. When you listened to the music of rock bands just getting started,—The Grateful Dead, Jefferson Airplane, Big Brother and the Holding Company (with Janice Joplin) etc. you could somehow read between the lines of the music and hear messages. A communication was going out and only certain entities understood what that message was. Many in San Francisco that summer understood the message. (Bob Dylan wrote a song about it once: "You know that something is happening, but you don't know what it is, do you, Mr. Jones.")

Of the many things I saw that summer in San Francisco, the most astonishing were the long-haired young hippie girls, with blue eyes, who danced and sang the message of love as the young men burned their draft cards in the public park, as policemen on horseback quietly observed them. I began to wish I was 18 again. I wanted one. Back in Olympia, however, there was no time for courting anyone. By that time I was so deeply involved in the Awareness work and the antiwar activities that there was no time for anything else. I had read a reading from Awareness given to a man who had asked about a 'treasure map'. Awareness had referred him to a book written by Ophiel. It so happened that I had that particular book and had read it. I went back and read it again, following the instructions exactly.

I wanted a working mate who was in to my particular trip, who was interested in the same esoteric and New Age ideas that I was, and who could possibly become my wife later on if everything worked out. (It was the beginning of the 'trial marriage' in consciousness that has continued to this day).

I spent at least an hour writing up my treasure map. I carefully thought out exactly what I wanted. I wanted first a real worker who could assist me in running my office, which by now had become the headquarters of the Organization of Awareness. I wanted a girl of about 21, a good mind, one who could grasp the concepts I was working with and carry out various duties. I wanted a gal who could cook and who could keep house. (I was living in a two-room cabin in the woods and it was beginning to look like only pack rats lived there. Books, magazines and dishes were stacked everywhere. I did not know how to keep house. I wanted a woman about 5 foot 2 inches tall, blond hair, blue eyes, good teeth and a face that smiled all the time. I wanted her to like classical music as well as the Beatles and rock and roll. I wanted her to like to garden and to can the produce grown in the garden. I wanted her to like brown rice. I wanted her to be able to drive a car, and I wanted her to enjoy the simple things in life and not have expensive tastes or any desire to join country clubs or things of that nature. There were a few other things, but I can't recall what they were at this time. However, all the above mentioned things were written down in that treasure map. At the end of the map I wrote down a date, some six months in the future, that I wanted this angel to manifest into my life. I even put down the exact time of day. (Ophiel had stated that a minimum of 6 months was required). I then sat down, read the map twice, did a long meditation, and put the map away in a dark and secret place and promptly forgot it.

About 5 months later this lovely blond, blue-eyed angel walked into my office bookstore (One of the things I sold were Edgar Cayce type books), and she bought a poster or two and started up a conversation. Several weeks later she showed up again and asked me if she could have a job working for me. I put her to work helping Geraldine Morse, (whom Awareness had instructed me to hire as secretary/treasurer of Organization of Awareness) who promptly put her to work addressing envelopes, inserting readings and other things, sealing the envelopes to be mailed off to the many members receiving the communications from Awareness at that time. As it turned out, her name was Vicki, and she was attending college at the University of Washington, and worked for me that entire summer. Later that year she phoned me from school and asked me to come get her, she could not cope with the vibes at the university and couldn't relate to the people there, most of whom were into things other than the antiwar movement or the New Age activities. (She told me later that much of her time was spent in fighting off male students and even a few teachers, all of whom were into the new sexual liberation of that time). I went and picked her up, hauled her back to my cabin which she promptly took over, cleaned up and made livable for the first time. I did not realize it at the time, but in checking later, the night she moved in with me was exactly 6 months from the date of my treasure map, and the exact hour listed was the time she entered the cabin. We lived together for a year or so, then decided to make it legal. (The vibrations were compatible) As of this writing, Vicki T. and I have been happily married for 16 (going on 17) years. I think this is the first time this has been made public. (And to you seven members who have proposed marriage to Vicki T over the years by mail, all I can say is: Sorry boys, I saw her first. Go make yourself a treasure map if you really want one!

(Avaton)

Editor's update; This reading was given 20 years ago. I had typed it all up, including my personal editor's notation, and intended to include it in a forthcoming newsletter. However, when that time came and I re-read it, I felt it was full of too much personal information about Vicki and me, so I put it into a folder and forgot about it. I ran across that file in 1999 and mentioned it in one of my "More Wind From the Editor" tomes. Some of you readers wrote back asking me to publish it, that we are all one big family anyway, and there is nothing really to hide. Will Berlinghof agreed. Being a psychic (also a Tarot interpreter for CAC members) he wrote that the new millennium energies were sweeping in, that CAC was moving with these energies and it was important that a kind of "closure" on our "secret" relationship was necessary (both Vikki and I were founders of CAC) and by sharing this information with our CAC family out there, CAC will move forward into new areas in the new century starting this January.

So that's it, gang, the secret is out. Instead of being married 16 years as indicated in my note above, this May of 1999, Vikki and I celebrated our 30th Wedding Anniversary. I took her out for a rare lobster dinner, which, being a Taurus, she greatly enjoyed. We then went to see a very enjoyable movie, the latest version of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Later we laughed when she recalled meeting my mother years ago, who had taken one look at Vikki and said, "You're just too beautiful. You should be in Hollywood. Whatever do you see in my son? I give your marriage six months before you leave him!"

(Thanks a lot, Ma!)

About our marriage, an almost mystical thing occurred, which I shall share for the first time with our CAC family. Vikki wanted to have the marriage early in June. A month or so earlier we had driven to Centralia, 30 miles south to get our marriage license (neither of us wanted it published locally). So we planned for early June, but as it approached, Vikki happened to dig out the marriage license and noticed that it expired on May 26th. We were both too tight to drive down to Centralia again and pay to get it renewed, so the marriage date was set for May 26th to avoid this.

It must have been another El Nino spring because it rained incessantly the entire month of May. We wanted to have the marriage happen outdoors in the Arboretum in Seattle, a huge, beautiful park near the University District, festooned with many varieties of old growth trees and flowers of every kind. Vikki and I often went there just to lie beneath the trees and soak in the vibes. Glen Hallam, a close friend and a former associate of Ralph Doby was my best man. He had arranged to meet us at a New Age church close by ran by a really nice lady, whose name I have forgotten, so on the 26th of May, in a driving rain we headed for Seattle.

In the car behind was my oldest son, Jon, and Frank and Cammy Locy, two friends that I had helped set up a "head shop" in Olympia, which carried a large selection of anti-war posters, etc. Vikki was incredibly lovely. She was wearing a white, handmade dress which she had fallen in love with at an old antique store in Yelm. She later told me she didn't think it was a dress, but a slip or undergarment worn by some pioneer women who had come here ages ago by wagon train. It was a see-through garment with lots of lace and Vikki was the perfect "flower child" wearing it, with flowers in her hair.

As we neared Seattle, the drenching rain continued and the sky darkened even more and suddenly I noticed Vikki had slumped down and was crying. Before we had left Olympia, Vikki was really upset by the rain and the prospect of a ceremony in the pouring rain. I kissed her and said, "Don't worry about it. Trust me, the sun will be out." Then, like a damn fool, I added: "If not, it's a sign that we shouldn't get married. After all, I'm 22 years older than you and you know this will present problems later on in your life."

The sun was nowhere near coming out. In fact, there had been several weeks at least with no sunbreaks at all. I asked her what was the matter, "This is your wedding day and you are supposed to be joyous." She continued sobbing. "Remember, you said it would be a sign," she cried. I put my arm around her and pulled her to me as I drove. "I was joking," I said gently. "We're destined to get married. Stop crying, the sun will come out."

It didn't. We found the church, and as we parked, the rain suddenly stopped. We went inside to sign the marriage certificate and meet the minister. Glenn was there and they would follow us to the Arboretum. When we got back into the car, the rain resumed. It was noontime but the dark sky made it look like night. The drive was only about 15 minutes, but the rain was back in torrential amounts. I had the windshield wiper going full blast and it was still difficult to see ahead. Vikki had begun to cry again, and I had to reassure her, "The sun will be out for our wedding! Stop crying!"

And then the miracle happened. As we turned off the avenue into the Arboretum, the rain suddenly stopped. The sky opened up and the sun beamed down in front of us. The windshield wipers were still going and suddenly I could see very clearly. A half a mile later we spotted the grotto where our wedding was to take place. With the three cars parked, we all walked down a trail to a clearing surrounded by huge redwoods and riots of flowers glistening in the sunshine. Vikki was ecstatic and laughed so hard she started crying. The minister looked up at the sky and said, "Let's get this over with while the sun is still out." We did. As cameras flashed, I took my radiant flower child as my bride, and she took me for better or for worse as her husband, not "till death do us part," but "as long as we both shall love."

I was dressed in a bright yellow Nehru shirt and blue twill trousers. My hair was getting long but nothing like Vikki's long blonde hair which flowed down her back to her fanny. What was strange about the weather was that all around us in the distance we could see it was still raining and very dark, but this little glen was dry and the rays from the sun shone down on that little area like a spotlight. The ceremony took 20 minutes and after congratulations from the troupe, the sun suddenly started to disappear and we all got into our cars. As we left the park, heading toward the Space Needle to treat everyone to some fine dining, the rain reappeared.

Within minutes it was again a torrent. It stopped once again as we walked around Seattle Center toward the Space Needle as Vikki handed out flowers to passerby's. (She had picked a huge bouquet and had saved them for this purpose). "This is my wedding day," she sang as she handed a flower to a startled British tourist, who asked if she could take a picture of a real American "hippie." And so it went.

And when we came out of the Space Needle and said goodbye to everyone, we started off for Canada for a 4-day Honeymoon. As we hit the freeway, the sky darkened and the deluge began again. It rained continuously for 3 more days, but we no longer cared about that. We were now a legal couple and very much in love, and we both somehow knew that there was plenty of work ahead for both of us, but at that time we did not know what it was.

About raising another family, Vikki was emphatic from the beginning, she wanted no children. She said, "been there, done that" before, she was just certain and had dreams and psychic flashes. Years later Awareness confirmed this. She and I had been together in the 17th Century, both involved in the early Quaker movement. As the wife of Judge Fell, she had at least 10 children, and we finally married after the judge passed over.

Last year, a Quaker friend of mine insisted we both read a book he possessed. It was called The Peaceable Kingdom, written by Jan de Hartog. Vikki couldn't set it down. It was all about her in that lifetime and her relationship with George Fox, whom Awareness has indicated was yours truly in that particular lifetime. So if anyone out there wants to know who the real Vikki T is, I suggest you find a copy of this book and read it. It has been long out of print but should still be around in libraries and some used and rare book stores. I also spotted it on the Internet, a number of copies for as little as $5.00. < <http://dogbert.abebooks.com/abep/llist> >

Today Vikki is happy just to be "Grandma" to Jean and my 8 grandchildren, and Jean for many years has been Vikki's best friend, a fact that has astounded a number of people. I often take my "wives" out to operas, plays and dances, and particularly Halloween. And after my near-death experience last year, Jean often insists on going with Vikki and me when I have an appointment with my heart doctor. When Rodney King asked that famous question, "Can't we all just get along?" I can tell him the answer. And it is "Yes." But you have to work at it! (Avaton)

(Excerpt from a CAC General Reading in 1980. Paul Shockley Interpreter)

KETAMINE: A DRUG THAT CAN ALLOW SPIRITS TO SNATCH YOUR BODY

QUESTION:

A question from D. T., of Tucson, Arizona. "Many months ago, a friend of mine who claims to be very attuned, told me he observed a whole fleet of Alien Force ships arrive to earth in March of '79, and he claimed that there would be an increase of "spirit snatching." Beings like President Carter would be lured from their bodies and replaced by negative aliens, but also the Light workers would employ similar tactics, the next step above the robotoid-synthetic tactic. This friend, Sung So, now called Solunanda, also mentioned that these beings had brought with them a new drug called Ketamine that brings a person to a very expanded state of mind, far beyond any known psychedelic.

"Unknowing people who use this drug might be tempted to leave their bodies and be replaced by another spirit. I bring this question forth because yesterday I had the opportunity to try this drug, not knowing it was the same as my friend's. I experienced a very deep, high spiritual experience, losing all sense of identity, experiencing many silky delicious folds of dimensions; an incredible experience.

"In the midst of the experience, I realized that the potential was there to leave my body, and a hideous possibility of losing my earth identity forever arose. I had to deal with several fears and negative parts of me, and did so with ease. A great sense of unity came from this experience. The after-effects were weird. I had a strong sensation of extending far beyond my skin. My question for Awareness is this: Is Ketamine a tool of the Beast for spirit snatching? Is the tactic in use now on either side? And what is the nature of the unique Ketamine experience? It is a very seductive ladylike drug. I am resolved to keep away from it, and suggest that people inclined to use it do so with the idea in mind that it is a tool, powerful and dynamic, which needs lots of protection in its use.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be in the affirmative in regards to a substance such as this. This Awareness indicates that this substance is that which is of some extreme danger in terms of loosening the soul from the physical form. It appears this substance does not necessarily bring about the death of an entity in the sense of physical death, but can lead to the soul being separated, whereby the astral shell and the mental body, or mental shell and personality of the entity remains intact along with memories, but whereby the soul may travel on, leaving a kind of zombie-like creature behind to be manipulated, or used by other forces; that this can be used for such purposes. This Awareness indicates that in your particular circumstance this did not occur, that you were aware enough to maintain your identity, that a larger dose of the drug could have taken your identity from yourself.

This Awareness indicates that the use of this drug can cause physical death if used with wrong amounts and under some conditions, -these conditions being physiological or psychological in nature. This Awareness indicates that it should be avoided at all times, for it has no social redeeming value; that this as being more dangerous than LSD or other previously used hallucinogens and psychedelics.

This Awareness indicates that it appears that this substance is intended also in future times as a way of reducing the population in certain areas or certain groups or cultures and for ridding the culture of certain unwanted persons; that this can be used by the Alien Force to essentially commit murder or promote suicide without necessarily leaving a cadaver, for the body continues to move around in its familiar behavior patterns from the astral shell entity inhabiting the body. This also as a way whereby these forces can take control of a body and use that body for purposes of their own.

This Awareness indicates this relates somewhat to the synthetics and robotoid creatures; that these are created in a different manner, (as previously indicated), but essentially, the remaining creation is that which contains the parent memory, personality, and the astral shell of the entity without necessarily containing the soul of the entity.

Did Marsha Moore Dematerialize?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION::

A woman who was promoting the use of Ketamine, after a large dose of it, supposedly disappeared, dematerialized in front of her husband, and hasn't been seen since. Her name is Marsha Moore, author of the book Journey Into the Bright World, a book about Ketamine. Would Awareness please comment on what happened to her and where she is now?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears this entity has moved to the inner plane; that the entity apparently has absorbed a large amount of this substance, and her cells were capable of dematerializing in toto; that this entity appears to be capable of materializing in part at a later time to some degree, but it appears the entity will not return in toto.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

In a case like this, does anything adverse occur to the soul and its growth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that essentially it is a kind of interruption to the entity's purpose and direction. That an entity coming into this plane generally has a purpose, direction, or reason for physical involvement, and any interruption to that destiny or purpose is that which creates a kind of karmic situation which will later need to be relived for purposes of clearing out, and working out those activities which were not completed.

This Awareness indicates that the use of alcohol or drugs, or the action of escaping one's destiny or purpose, or the action of suicide, or the action of being killed by accident or by another, interrupts the flow and direction of the soul's progress, so that it will need to re-experience; and this can be a form of violation requiring a sort of retarding of one's progress, which will need to be overcome by further effort to again reach the point wherein the journey was interrupted.

THE CONCEPT OF "SPIRIT SNATCHING"

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness, that term "spirit snatcher" has occurred in occult-type literature for many years prior to the advent or knowledge of the artificial humans, the robotoids and synthetics, and I believe even the Indians and other primitives many years ago, used and believed in the concept of spirit snatchers. It's appropriate, is there any more information on this "spirit snatching" that could be given at this time?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this also relates to the term 'possession', wherein an entity is driven out of his body and it is possessed by another alien entity. That this can be done, and that as entities loosen the hold of their identification to the physical body through the use of drugs or alcohol, or through astral travel and other metaphysical means, it is possible for them to become more susceptible to being possessed. This Awareness indicates, however, that wherein an entity in having a clear understanding of the dangers, creates a situation whereby upon leaving the body, the entity programs his or her own mind to return, as one leaves an automobile knowing that the automobile belongs to you, and locking up the automobile so it cannot easily be snatched from you, so that when you do return, it will be there; then, in such cases, the entity may safely, or relatively safely, astrally travel or otherwise leave the body unattended for some time and find safety upon returning. This Awareness indicates that if entities think of the body as a vehicle to carry around the soul, it becomes much easier and clearer to understand how one can lose the control of one's body by indulging in drugs or alcohol, or from certain disease, or from attitudes wherein one seeks to escape from responsibility for one's body.

This Awareness indicates that wherein an entity has an automobile and leaves this unattended for some time in public places or in areas wherein the spirits are low in motive, one can almost expect the automobile to be stripped or stolen. Likewise, when one leaves a body unattended for some time, then one can also expect it to be stripped or stolen, unless one has taken precautions to protect the body. Such precautions can be done through creating a psychic shield around the body wherein, through one's attitude, one claims the body as being only your own and wherein you do not allow it to be possessed or allow yourself to be driven out by any other force, even though you may voluntarily leave that body and return.

This Awareness indicates that some entities, upon returning to their body, find it inhabited by spirits and do not have the fortitude to drive those spirits out, but simply feel themselves victimized by such spirits. That as this occurs, the spirits will then feel more identified with the body, and the entity must choose whether to give up the control of the body or drive those spirits out and inhabit the body, locking the doors so that the body remains closed from any interference. Such entities should avoid any use of drugs, alcohol, or any form of excessive daydreaming or escape mechanisms.

This Awareness indicates that wherein an entity has enough possessiveness of his or her body to be willing to fight tooth and nail to return to it, then the entity can generally, with some safety, feel capable of leaving the body without violating spirits coming near, for the shield or aura around the body will give a message that this body is owned. It is when the aura becomes weakened, generally through drugs, drink, or some form of mental escapism; it is when this aura is weakened that the spirits tend to wish to take over a body.

This Awareness indicates that this particular drug mentioned is that which is excessively powerful in loosening the soul and spirit from the body, and such that the aka-cord of connecting energies from the soul and spirit to the body can be broken by one's willingness or desire to do so. This Awareness indicates that this drug creates that which is similar to what entities have read about in regards to the death experience wherein an entity dies, leaves the body, but then returns to resume use of the body for another period of life in the physical. This Awareness indicates it is a dangerous drug in regards to the threat of losing one's use and control of the physical body.

This Awareness indicates that the experience can be meaningful, but the price is outrageous.

CAN YOU CREATE A LIGHT SHIELD AFTER INGESTING THE DRUG?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

If an entity were to put a protective shield around his body, having come into the use of this substance one way or another, perhaps having it given to them and they not realizing what it was; would they be able, after they're under the influence of this drug, to create this shield, or must the shield be created before the drug was ingested?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that energy follows thought: if the entity does recognize that something is happening and the entity does not wish to give up the body, the entity can create a field and attachment to the body of hanging on in spite of the tendency to let go. That this will be of great help in preventing the total slipping and loss of control.

This Awareness indicates, however, that if the entity recognizes that this strange event is happening and wants to hang on with all of his might, and realizes that he could lose control of the body and therefore is attempting to remain attached to the physical, but then becomes curious to find out what the other direction or action might bring, and in so doing looks the other way and lets go of the effort to hold on, or if the drug is so strong on the entity's consciousness that he or she no longer cares whether to return to the physical, or remain in the physical, or to go on, then the entity may find himself or herself moving into the other plane of existence, with no opportunity to return.

There is No Safe Trip In Regard to This Drug

This Awareness indicates there is no sure behavior pattern or activity which can guarantee a safe trip in regards to this drug. That this may be a one-way ticket, or one may find, through luck, that there is a return ticket also; but one, in taking this drug, cannot have that assurance upon leaving that he or she will return.

Creating the Shield with Light

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

In creating the protective shield, can this be done in the same manner Awareness described in earlier readings, by starting at the feet and winding light ribbons up around the body, clockwise, like a mummy?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as one way; this again following the rule that energy follows thought. An entity in creating a protective shield can visualize three strands of energy around, ten strands of energy around, or one million strands of energy around oneself; and the more an entity imagines around oneself, the more the entity will be protected by that protective shield which had been created by the thoughts. Therefore, one can also image the thought of being inside a bubble of light, and that light will create a protective shield. This Awareness indicates that one can image being inside three bubbles or spheres of light and those three shells or bubbles will create protective shields; that the more you put into creating a protective shield, or a series of protective shields, the more the protective shields will remain intact for you.

This Awareness indicates that as the thought begins to question whether these protective shields are really there or not, or whether they are strong enough to ward off this or that attack, then of course the thought is creating a crack in the protective shield which will allow for an opening. This again as related to the energy following thought. If one thinks the shield has a crack, then it does. If one patches up the crack created by the thought of a crack, then the crack is sealed. That whatever you think is that which occurs in the energy levels. Therefore, wherein entities are capable of thinking and creating shields strong enough, then that is effective.

This Awareness indicates that wherein an entity thinks that he or she can take such a drug, and by creating shields can outwit the drug, the entity may discover that the mind is not working the same under influence of the drug as it was when the entity first decided to take the drug and outwit it. The mind may change. It may change its mind and decide that the protective shield is not nearly as much excitement and fun as the thought of following this course of action to its utmost, and therefore the entity may simply open up the protective shield and leave the body for good.

This Awareness indicates the most effective way of avoiding this condition or temptation or situation, is simply to avoid the drug.

QUESTIONER:

The reason I asked this question is that there have been stories in the paper that this drug Ketamine is now in the streets and unscrupulous operators are actually adding it to other drugs and selling it to the kids under the assumption that it is a much more popular drug, something like LSD. Thank you.

ED's Note:

Those interested in this drug should check out the book, "The Center of the Cyclone," by John Lilly, for further information on personal experiences with the drug Ketamine by a much lauded scientist. Also his other book, an autobiography called "The Scientist." This reading was given in 1980. Today, 1999, Ketamine is listed in one report I read, as the most popular drug now in the high schools and colleges.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said.
