THE COSMIC AWARENESS HEALING TECHNIQUES BEYOND TYPE 9 (What Are They and Where Are they?)

QUESTION:

We received a letter from T. Michael Roberts, of Saint Marys, Ohio, several months ago, and he has several questions about healing techniques which I don't have the answer to, so I'm going to read part of his letter, and ask Awareness about this. He writes, "I've been interested in the healing techniques as given by Awareness for quite some time, in particular types 3 and 7. I have some material from the Servants of Awareness group on each type, up to type 8, which I understand to be central to the other types.

In addition, I have a partial glimpse of what type 9 healing deals with from the entity Neil Martin. I have unsuccessfully tried to research the advanced types --10 through 17-- by trying to contact various entities suggested by Neil Martin as being involved with these types earlier. No success in this either. Apparently some of the earlier individuals have no wish to communicate about this, or else for other reasons do not respond by mail.

Someday, god-willing, I plan to become a New Age physician, and would like to apply some of these techniques in healing the sick, and sharing what I can with the true brotherhood of healers. I think it is important to understand the extent and effectiveness of each healing technique that Awareness has given, because there are so many different kinds of entities in states of dis-ease. I've always been interested seriously in this. There's lots to learn and do. Perhaps you can fill me in on some of these questions such as:

#1) Have all of the healing techniques beyond type 9 been already fully developed? Now to my knowledge they haven't."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is negative. This Awareness indicates that many of these healing techniques deal with areas which cannot at present time be released or disclosed. This Awareness indicates that this dealing with certain types of alchemy, mind control techniques, using hypnosis, also use of certain types of programs which could be misused or which might be dangerous if used improperly. This Awareness indicates that essentially, you are fortunate to have received the number of healing techniques which have been made available to you. This Awareness indicates that many of these healing techniques may be made available at a later time, after the Development Classes have been given and entities have been made ministers.

This Awareness indicates that from healing type number 3 and upwards, the release of these healing techniques was limited to ministers.

COMMENT BY AVATON:

Yes. To my knowledge, most of that information has never been put together, that different entities, no longer associated with the Awareness groups, have bits and pieces of these various healing programs.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there are some entities who have the material in a near complete form. This Awareness indicates that the material is not complete in every instance; some of the types as not having been completed, but in the sense of some entities having all of the techniques; this is in the affirmative, though not all of the techniques are complete. This Awareness indicates that this ... the use of these healing techniques as that which can be brought together at a later time, when the projects are brought into manifestation, whereby entities are trained as ministers.

Ed's Note: To my knowledge Paul Shockley never delivered any of the Healing Techniques through his channel; these all came through the Interpreter Ralph Duby. Today, twenty years after this reading was given, all of Ralph Duby's readings have been computerized (thanks to the tireless effort of Tom Krueger). Because of this, we hope one day to have more of these healing techniques available in the CAC archives.

THE PRACTICE OF BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS AS A HEALING APPROACH ( Things You should Know )

QUESTION:

Michael has one other question. (It's a long statement): "Recently Awareness stated that the present entity Ronald Reagan appeared to have overcome the danger of developing a possible case of hepatitis due to the massive blood transfusions he received in surgery after his assassination attempt. This leads to the question: Does Awareness care to comment on the present medical practice of blood transfusions as a healing approach? In many emergency or accident cases it seems beneficial, and indeed, lifesaving, to replace lost blood volume and deliver fresh oxygen via properly cross-matched donor red blood cells, and yet there are problems with this approach; possible hemolytic transfusion reactions or other immune reactions to foreign red blood-cells, inherent dangers of transmitting disease such as malaria, hepatitis, syphilis, or possible bacterial infection directly into the circulation.

Clinical blood-banking has developed into a rather extensive science, with a vast array of workers at both the clinical and research levels, dealing with applications and questions in this area. With modern technology various blood components can be separated and prepared for other medical uses besides acute blood loss, such as in certain leukemia and various anemia conditions. The safe blood transfusion at present involves many people at various stages; physicians, nurses and medical technologists. Attention must be given to careful blood donor selection, proper collection of the blood donor unit with good sterile techniques, proper testing of the donor unit for blood-type and RH and hepatitis screen, proper donor unit storage at the proper temperatures, proper ABO and RH type and cross-matching of the donor unit with the proper blood sample from the entity to be transfused.

Also required is an antibody screen of the serum of the proposed transfusion candidate in order to hopefully detect unexpected antibodies which may cause a transfusion problem. If such antibodies are found, further investigations are required to screen various blood-bank units on hand, or at a reference center, to find the most compatible blood. On occasion, there are general transfusion dilemmas about which blood donor unit is the proper one to give. Obviously, any undetected clinical or technical error may have serious or disastrous consequences for the entity who is to receive a blood transfusion.

Various artificial blood substances are now being researched in order to theoretically eliminate many of these problems, but as yet, artificial blood is only in the experimental stage in this country, not FDA approved of course. As a medical technologist who is frequently deeply involved with such clinical problems, I would like to see great improvements for all concerned in this area. Will magnetic or color healing or perhaps some other advanced healing technique beyond type 9 accomplish the same purpose in healing without the inherent dangers of blood transfusion? Is there a suggested time-table about when this may come out for closer study?"

Ed's Note: At the time this reading was given AIDS was completely unknown and had not yet been created.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the research relating to the artificial blood and plasma substitute as that which is progressing rapidly, and will within a short time be introduced and allowed in this respect. This Awareness indicates that it is correct that there are dangers involved in the use of blood transfusions, that it is also dangerous when an entity's blood level is so reduced as to require transfusion in order to allow the entity to survive. This Awareness indicates that it is not the best of programs, but it is the best of a bad situation at present.

The Psychic Connection Between Blood Donor and the Receiver

This Awareness indicates another danger in regard to blood transfusions is in reference to the connection associated with the donor and his or her blood being in another entity's body. This Awareness indicates that this exchange as that which has an effect, other than the chemical reaction. This Awareness indicates this as having a kind of psychic reaction. This Awareness indicates that this as an unknown aspect of blood donation, that wherein through the Law of Substitution whereby an entity has in possession a quality belonging to another entity, the one entity is somewhat influenced by the other, even though entities may not be totally aware, particularly wherein this substance or object is racing through the veins of another entity.

Psychotronic Energies: How The Principle of Radionics Work

This Awareness indicates that essentially, when one entity gives blood to another, the first entity will receive a kind of response based upon the attitude and development level of the entity who receives his or her blood. This Awareness indicates this as associated with the principle of radionics, wherein, if an entity has a drop of blood of another, or a photograph, or a piece of hair, saliva, or a picture of another entity, and places this in the radionics machine and sends certain thought forms through this object, by attuning the machine to the vibration of this blood, saliva, picture or hair or fingernails; the attunement of the machine to the vibration of this object belonging to another entity wherein the operator's mind is focusing on this part and sending a thought for purposes of healing, then that other entity will be affected by the psychotronic energies emitted from that machine.

The Same Principle Is Used In Voodoo

This Awareness indicates that this being the essential basic principle of psychotronic technology or that which is known as radionics. This Awareness indicates that it is the same principle as is used in voodoo, whereby thoughts are sent through the neutrino to the subject, and the thought-image carried has its effect on the subject. This Awareness indicates that in the Huna philosophy, that of the Kahunas; this as the same as the aka-cord whereby through this aka-cord, energies or images are sent to another.

This Awareness indicates that when entities have a blood transfer they are linked together by this same type of principal or aka-cord connection, so that whatever happens to another entity is psychically experienced by the other to some degree. This Awareness indicates that entities who give blood can often experience future difficulties, problems, or can become more susceptible to problems which are associated with the entity who received the blood. This in effect, as being the result of the psychotronic exchange and the mutual tie created from the aka-cord relationship of the transfer of blood.

A New Cosmic Awareness Ritual to Overcome the Negative Effects of Donating Blood or Organs

This Awareness indicates that to assist an entity in overcoming such ties, a ritual may be given that would assist the subconscious of an entity in cutting off all connection with that blood which had been given. This Awareness indicates that this could be used also in relation to organs. This Awareness indicates that such a ritual, wherein the subconscious is contacted, such as in hypnosis or in deep meditation or through emotional or physical-ritual activities, whereby the entity makes a special ceremony of having given this gift and no longer ever again wanting to have any contact with the gift which was given.

This Awareness indicates that in giving this gift of blood to whoever was the receiver, the entity then visualizes the blood being cut off from the self, and changing, to become the other entity's blood, no longer part of oneself. This Awareness indicates that an action of creating a vision of the blood moving from one self into another, and that at a certain point the blood as having reached its destination; the entity then may visualize wrapping that receiver in circles of light, and wrapping the self in circles of light, and seeing a great blade, imaging a great blade coming down and severing these two entities apart from each other, creating a great schism or great separation between the entities so that this separation is created whereby everything on one side of the blade moves off into the universe in one direction; everything on the present side of the blade moves in another direction, as if two continents were being split apart, and a great chasm was left between.

This Awareness indicates wherein this is imaged clearly and strongly it can cut off the effects and vibrations of the connection between these two entities.

WITHOUT A RITUAL HOW LONG WILL THE PSYCHIC CONNECTION LAST?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

Awareness, is there a natural end to the effect of transference without this ritual after a long length of time?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this can subside quite slowly to a point where its effect is minimal but as this subsides, the effects which have been felt by an entity may have already taken root and be growing in the entity's body or consciousness. This Awareness indicates that in some instances it may take 5 or 10 years for the effects of another's problems to be felt by the one who donated blood to that other, and though the blood connection or the sympathetic relationship between the vibrations of these two entities may have grown weak, still the effect which has begun to grow in the body of the first entity may have grown stronger during that time.

This Awareness indicates that by using a ritual such as this, even though time has passed, it can assist; not necessarily totally erase all forms of reactions, but can assist in eliminating much of the effect of having this sympathetic relationship of one's blood in another's body.

When Children Do a "Blood Brother" or "Blood Sister" Ritual

This Awareness indicates that the ritual of being made a blood brother or blood sister as is often done by children, or by certain cultures of the past; this ritual as that which had more meaning than the mere formality, symbolism and the psychological factors; this as being based on an old principle which was understood by the ancients, whereby the two entities merged in some manner, some degree of their being.

Mingling Auras and Sexual Intercourse Also Merge Souls

This Awareness indicates that the merging of the blood of two entities in this manner as that which created some form of genetic reaction or encoding whereby to some degree a kinship of souls developed. This Awareness indicates that blood as not the only way whereby entities tend to merge their souls. This Awareness indicates the actions of sexual intercourse, and also, just being associated wherein auras meet and mingle; also these have their effects of assisting entities to take on qualities from each other.

The Ancient Ritual of Cannibalism Had Effects

This Awareness indicates the ancient rituals of cannibalism, eating one's enemy in order to gain the strength that the enemy had held, or eating the other in order to gain certain qualities as that which did have some effects. This Awareness indicates, however, that these actions as having been overrated and the reactions of a negative nature were even greater than anything gained, for to eat one of a powerful nature who had been slain in hostility or anger, or in making one a victim for one's desire; then to eat that entity, or drink the blood of that entity would simply cause the one indulging in such to receive not only the essences and qualities of that entity's soul to some extent, but also to receive the poisonous frustration and agony which the entity experienced; this agony as that which would in time create a suffering equal for the one indulging in such.

A KID SUCKING BLOOD AS A JOKE
(What About Those Who Eat Animal Meat?)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

Awareness, when I was in gradeschool I took great enjoyment out of freaking out my friends by, uh, whenever they had a cut or something, claiming I liked the taste of blood and sucking any blood from them. Was I picking up more than just blood?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the action of eating flesh and blood as that which does have its effect in a psychic level. This Awareness indicates, however, that the action of eating blood and flesh as indicated in cannibalism or in carnivorous behavior, as that which is not quite the same as that of absorbing living blood into one's bloodstream. This Awareness indicates that when eating the blood it does digest and the life force leaves the blood to become digested in the stomach and passed on through the bloodstream in a somewhat different fashion than the injection of live blood into the bloodstream, or undigested blood into the bloodstream.

This Awareness indicates that in either case, there is certain amount of what entities could call karma in the sense of cause and effect, wherein to some degree, any form of flesh eating carries with it a karma or effect associated with the essence or life qualities of the being which has been devoured. This Awareness indicates that you may recall the experiments wherein the worm was trained in certain actions, then chopped up and fed to another worm by being injected into the second worm, and the memory of the first worm then was noted in the second worm.

This Awareness indicates that memory essentially can be passed on subconsciously through the absorption of another being into oneself. This Awareness indicates these energies are of a relatively subtle nature, therefore, are not always recognized. This Awareness indicates however, they are present. This Awareness indicates it is for this reason that many entities suggest that eating any form of flesh as carrying certain karma. This Awareness indicates these levels of karma as being of a level depending on the evolvement of the flesh, so that the higher on the evolutionary scale, the greater the karma involved.

Concerns of Karma When Eating Meat

This Awareness indicates that the concerns for this level of karma, in terms of eating meat as that which is at present less significant than greater activities such as war and violence which are of a greater concern, yet, there will be a time wherein the eating of flesh shall be the more serious problem upon this plane. This Awareness indicates that many entities in present society are beginning already to move away from flesh-eating and toward that of the vegetarian diet. This Awareness indicates that there are differences in entities; in part this depends upon their structure, their past-life culture, and upon their blood types.

Meat Eaters Belong to Certain Blood Types

This Awareness indicates that entities of the '0 Positive' type as being more inclined and having a greater necessity to indulge in meat eating than those of the type 'A' blood. This Awareness indicates that more vegetarians being of the 'type A' blood, while more of the carnivorous entities being of the '0 Positive' types. This Awareness indicates that those of the '0 Positive' types, in abstaining from the use of meat would suffer more reaction of a physical nature by such abstaining, while those of the 'A' types would suffer more from indulging in meat eating than if they abstained.

This as being a general rule of thumb, not in every case; for each entity may have specific conditions which would alter the above principles.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS RETURN AS A HOG?
(Cows Know In Advance What Their Destiny Is)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (AVATON):

Awareness, somewhere I read or heard that the karma of the heavy meat eater is to one day return to this plane as a cow or a hog, and be grown and raised and eventually slaughtered. Is there any truth to that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as negative. This Awareness indicates that this may occur. This not necessarily so. This Awareness indicates that as previously given, certain emotional energy of individuals may move into animals. This Awareness indicates that many animals, contrary to popular belief, do tire of being in physical animal forms, and seek to be liberated. Many of these animals do not actually enjoy long lives as animals, and at certain points desire to leave the form. This Awareness indicates that many of the cattle know far in advance as to what their destiny is; this being that which they are aware of from the beginning of their life.

This Awareness indicates that animals essentially do not experience the extreme terror as is experienced by humans, at the thought of death. This Awareness indicates that some animals do react in terror at the pain which they may experience in the death process when it is of the type that inflicts such pain.

This Awareness indicates that in the action of overcoming the desire to partake of flesh, this Awareness indicates that entities may gradually undergo transmutation of certain qualities within the appetite, and this in turn will rearrange the metabolism so that the body no longer craves the essences of flesh. This Awareness indicates this as an action which does not occur overnight, but takes several years, or in some cases, many months to occur. This Awareness indicates in other cases it may take several lifetimes. This Awareness indicates, however, that entities upon this plane shall in time begin to alter their basic makeup.

Awareness Suggests Entities Move Toward Vegetarianism

This Awareness indicates that it was only a brief few decades past that nearly all entities in the United States and in the Western world, were under the belief that eating flesh was essential and necessary to be healthy. This Awareness indicates that most entities were taught that not having enough flesh would lead to weakness and starvation. This Awareness indicates only in the past 15 or 20 years have entities begun to realize that there are many types of protein dishes which can be used that will bring about sufficient nutrition for entities to survive long and healthy lives. This Awareness indicates that the Seventh Day Adventists in particular, over long periods of time, have demonstrated that the body can survive long and well without using flesh, using various types of protein. This Awareness indicates that also those Eastern countries which do not indulge in flesh eating, particularly certain cultures of India, have indicated that entities can survive and live relatively healthy lives without such.

This Awareness indicates that Seventh Day Adventist's life span as that which is longer and is more free of disease than that life-span of those who indulge in flesh eating. This Awareness encourages entities to think about ways whereby they may move from flesh eating into the use of other forms of protein. This Awareness particularly suggests that entities move away from pork and beef and those red meats, and that the entities using fish and fowl, particularly fowl, that this be accepted until the entity feels it is capable of giving up the use of fowl, and then that the entity may move to the use of sea food, and gradually, away from sea food into the other forms of vegetable protein; that seaweeds type foods and combination grains and other foods can eventually be used.

This Awareness, however, does not intend to create guilt trips, or feelings of inadequacy or guilt on entities who are not yet capable or ready to move into vegetarian lifestyles, for each individual must develop at his or her own pace, and there are some individuals whose physical health would suffer if moving too quickly in these directions. This Awareness indicates that It has witnessed flesh eating for many thousands of years upon this plane, and that It is capable of allowing decades for the change to occur.

THOSE UNDERSEA COLONIES OF THE SECRET GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

QUESTION:

Robert Baran would like to ask Awareness if It would give some information on the undersea colonies established by secret government agencies?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these as being yet relatively small and essentially on experimental basis in various places, whereby research is occurring, relating to the ability of people to become adapted to oceans depths, research also in relation to the environment in these areas. This Awareness indicates there are also experiments in communicating with undersea creatures.

This Awareness indicates that it appears also there are other types of experiments occurring associated with scientific and physics experimentation dealing with the earth, with magnetic fields and with communication devices and microwave technology. This Awareness indicates that this does not appear to have any great military purpose at present, but the findings may in time be related to certain military projects.

This Awareness indicates that there are experiments in the Atlantic, in the Pacific, not far from Hawaii. This Awareness indicates that there are other research programs occurring near the North pole, and also there have been research programs at the South pole, but these appear to have diminished in recent years. This Awareness indicates there are also seen certain research programs in the area of ... this as off the coast of Florida. This Awareness indicates also in the Indian Ocean.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF RUBIK'S CUBE

QUESTION:

One final question from this entity. He'd like to know: "What is the deeper significance of the Rubik's cube which is sweeping the world right now?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in terms of the cube itself there is seen only that which is already apparent; that this is a very complex three dimensional puzzle. This Awareness indicates that its effect on the minds of entities is that which is the greater phenomena, in that it has assisted in helping many entities to create greater mind/hand coordination, and has allowed the mind of those who understand the operation of this cube to expand and grow significantly to think in a greater dimensional level. This Awareness indicates that whereby a mind is capable of seeing the moves ahead as necessary in solving this puzzle, it strengthens the ability of the mind in other ways to also see several moves ahead.

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that in recent times, many of the youth of the world have begun moving more to the intuitive aspects of consciousness, away from the rational. This Awareness indicates that the Rubik cube, as that which has to some degree assisted in bridging the intuitive and the rational. In another sense it has shown entities that a rational approach to this as that which in itself is somewhat limited. This Awareness indicates It also has indicated that an intuitive approach, wherein entities simply try without understanding to solve the cube as that which likewise is difficult.

This Awareness indicates that a combination of, or merger of the rational and intuitive sides of the brain as that which assists the entity in most quickly solving the puzzle. This Awareness indicates that it is in this sense, that entities can gain certain mental growth by playing with objects such as this. This Awareness indicates that this as being much more of an educational fad than that of the hoola hoop, or other fads which have occurred in the past. This being a more beneficial and healthy type of game.

The Pro and Con of Video Games

This Awareness indicates that the video games as that which also requires a keen attunement between the mind, the eye and the hand, this as developing quick reflexes and assisting entities to become coordinated mentally and physically. This Awareness indicates that it has certain limitations as to its ability to assist entities, for after a fine coordination has occurred, continuous repetition and improvement, in terms of the game-playing can become a type of behavior that creates a habitual video game addict, so that other things in the entity's life may suffer.

This Awareness indicates, however, that except for the excessive obsession with such games, these can be beneficial in the sense of physical/mental coordinating influences.

The Law of Gratitude is given)

Ed's Note: coming out of trance, Paul saw these games as programming kids for war. Maybe question later.

REINCARNATION REMOVED FROM THE BIBLE (Review of "According to Thomas" by Bruce McDonald)

QUESTION:

One of our members, JD Rabbit in New York, got a hold of a book called According to Thomas by Bruce F. McDonald, and she wrote the author, suggesting that he send CAC a copy for possible inclusion in our book list for the membership. This book arrived the other day and I started reading it, and the author, McDonald, who I believe was a lawyer and was looking for answers, and he walked into a New Age bookstore a few years back, and he picked up a few books, and it turned his whole head around, and he got into meditation, and over a period of 4 or 5 years I believe it was, his meditation seemed to identify with the Apostle of Jesus named Thomas, and out of this work, this meditation which he started making notes about, it dawned on him that this was becoming a full book, a unified piece of work, and although the entity does not presume or imply that he was the entity Thomas himself, the reader is left with the impression that he must have been or he would not have had such intimate conversations with the entity Jesus.

I'd like to read just a little sample of this and ask Awareness to comment. He says:

"And he guided us, each one in our own way, for he said that the way is one, that each of us has a different path within the way. You do not understand this life," he said, on a later occasion, "you do not understand what you can achieve. You think that you are born and die, and have only the time in between to live. The Sadducees do not even believe in the resurrection, and the Pharisees and Essenes believe you are saved or are damned on the basis of what you do here in this life, so you judge and forsake love in order to enter heaven, yet I tell you that the father has many heavens and many homes for you. This in not your only life, and these are not the only things you have to learn. You will have lives in other times and places.

"Do you judge the prostitute? You may have been a prostitute. Do you judge a Roman or Greek? You may have been those. The Father wishes you to know the life of the world in all its conditions so that you may be able to love those in all conditions. He wishes you to learn poverty and wealth, weakness and strength, sickness and health so that in all these you may seek him and find him."

This book shows a different frame of reference from this entity, than the normal Bible does. I'd like to ask Awareness to comment on this.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that as has been given before; the passages in the Bible have been altered at the Nicene Council, wherein all of these references to reincarnation were intended to be stricken from the New Testament. This Awareness indicates that there have been a few references which were inadvertently left in. This Awareness indicates that essentially, this present writing is more to the teaching of Jesus; that entities may wish to look again at those references in which Jesus told his disciples that Elias had returned and they knew him not. This Awareness indicates that this entity was referring to John the Baptist as the return of Elias.

This Awareness indicates that the disciples, in answer to the question of Jesus: 'Whom do they say I, the Son of Man am?', responded that: some thought he was Elias, and others thought he was John the Baptist, who by that time had been heard of, but they mistook him; some had mistaken Jesus for being John the Baptist. This Awareness indicates that the reference to Elias as that prophet who had passed on several hundred years before, whom Malachi had prophesied would return, the prophecy of Malachi being 400 years previous to the life of Christ.

This Awareness indicates that in Jesus responding to this, the reference to Elias as having come and they knew him not, and did to him what they wanted, was a reference to the beheading of John the Baptist, and referred to John the Baptist as being the reincarnation of Elias. This Awareness indicates that this as a passage which they inadvertently failed to remove because it was not clear enough in itself to be recognized as a statement of attesting to reincarnation, without going back and checking to see who Elias was and relating it to the earlier reference by Malachi, the prophet.

This Awareness indicates that it is this reference in the New Testament that many entities in churches try to ignore or try to say that Jesus was simply speaking poetically, or allegorically, as one would speak of as calling a friend Babe Ruth, such as saying: This baseball player is a real Babe Ruth, or: This entity is a real Elijah. This Awareness indicates that it is obvious in reading the message that that was not the intention. This Awareness indicates that also, historically, the documents used in Biblical compilation of the Bible were altered in the Nicene Council.

This Awareness suggests that the Interpreter be brought from trance, that the energies as being disrupted by a pain in his side.

IS IT TIME OR IS IT APPROPRIATE TO MARKET HIS TELEPORTING MACHINE?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Leonard Hascall drove up the other day and we had a long talk. One of the things he told us is that he has worked out a formula and the means for building a machine that would actually teleport physical entities into these other dimensions. Awareness had just been discussing. I was questioning the motive of people who would use such a device at this critical time on our planet, and he agreed that he didn't feel right about putting out a machine like that, as it could cause a lot of problems. Does Awareness see the inventing or marketing or development of such a device at this time as being of any use?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that It does see that the use of teleportation machines will be part of the next century; that it will become common, that the entities will be able to traverse from place to place on this plane. It does not see that these entities will be using a system to transport into other dimensions during the near future, but will be able to transport themselves from one place to another as a form of quick travel. This Awareness indicates that this much likened unto that which is exemplified on the television movies Star Trek.

How the Teleportation Machines Will Work

This Awareness indicates that the means of doing this is not far away in terms of technological development, and in fact there are already some efforts in this direction to create teleportation machines. It will be done by frequency alteration; the tuning in to the frequency of the individual and to the place of the individual and speeding up the individual's frequency to the point of invisibility, then tuning in to the location, the frequency of the receiving teleportation center, and at that point, bringing down the frequency of the individual into materialization back to the exact frequency that the entity vibrated to.

This Awareness indicates, however, that in this manner the parallel movement of the two frequencies, that of the individual and that of the teleport center can be moved in such a manner as to transfer the individual's frequency from one teleport center to another. This Awareness indicates that this appears to be something which will be less than uncommon by the mid-part of the next century. Thereafter it will become more and more common. It does not appear that this will be developed for mass-use much before that time, although there will be perhaps some interim-development experiments between now and then.

Teleporting Into Other Dimensions Will Come Later

This Awareness indicates that eventually there will be the ability to transfer or teleport into other dimensions or other times, likened unto that which would be termed a time machine. This would occur only when entities understand that past is a vibration; that this is difficult to explain, but what is occurring at any moment never truly ends or disappears. The frequencies of that moment simply fade further and further into a more distant nature. This Awareness indicates it is likened unto the ringing of a bell in which the sound fades further and further away, yet, no matter how many years may pass, that sound is still there if you have the means to hear it, although it has become more and more quiet over the years.

The Mind Moves Faster Than the Speed of Light

This Awareness indicates it is the same with existence. At any time the moment begins to fade and what is termed 'past' is merely the faded image that was once present and it still exists although you cannot hear and see or feel it. Your mind can chase after the past and recall it. You can do this consciously because consciousness moves so fast, so much faster than physical movement, thus, you can remember things in vivid clarity because the mind moves faster than the speed of light. All the present experiences fade at the speed of light, so each movement of present experiences is fading at 183 thousand miles per second, but the mind moves faster than that, and therefore, you can chase after an experience and remember vividly that experience.

This Awareness indicates that much of these higher technologies will occur when entities learn how to alter the frequency of atoms and molecules by creating adjustable frequency tuners that change a frequency into unlimited higher octaves, whereby the vibration can be speeded to higher and higher octaves or brought down into lower and lower octaves of frequency, at an extremely high rate, or within a very short period of time; that this is the way the teleportation machines will work, through the fading in and out of a particular octave of frequency, by moving that frequency into higher or lower dimension on a harmonics resonating to that octave.

This Awareness indicates this as difficult to explain in terms of proper words, for there are no clear words at this time to describe systems that would be needed. This Awareness suggests that if you can visualize capturing the pattern of an entity's vibrations, this includes not just a single vibration, but all of the vibrations in the entity's makeup in terms of a pattern, and if you were able to quickly alter that vibration into higher and higher octaves, passing perhaps thousands of octaves holding that pattern but raising to higher and higher frequency so that the pattern now may be as much as a thousand octaves higher; this could dissolve the entity's body in one place, and then bringing that frequency back down to the same octave in another place, could teleport the entity to that place.

The reason for the many different octaves is because the entity's pattern does not vibrate on one octave alone, it vibrates on a multitude of octaves, and it is necessary to capture all of those octaves at once in order to have the full pattern of the individual.

TRAVELING THROUGH SPACE TO OTHER PLANETS WITHOUT A SPACE SHIP

FOLLOW-UP STATEMENT:

That teleportation device sounds like the ideal way one day that entities could travel through space, say, to other planets, without having to go through the long, long periods of actually traveling in a space ship.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative, however, the entities could also teleport their space ship, with all entities involved, to another place. This Awareness indicates the advantage would be that once there you would not need to walk over rough terrain. You could simply fly your craft around to the place where you want to go from place to place to visit the tourist attractions and so forth. This Awareness indicates that in this sense you could use a craft built for a particular type of planet which would serve on the planet to which you were traveling; teleport that craft to that planet, then have it for a vehicle. This Awareness indicates on the other hand, perhaps there would already be vehicles available for rental. Who knows, but perhaps Hertz is already there?

SHOULD LEONARD CONTINUE DEVELOPING THIS MACHINE AT THIS TIME?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Should Leonard be encouraged to develop his teleportation machine at this time, or if he did, would it be confiscated and possibly used for military use?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this entity could be encouraged to continue working on it; that there are many details that have not been completed; that there is much more to be done; that this entity could be one who contributes a great amount of knowledge to the development of these and similar machines. This Awareness suggests that the entity does not need to begin on a large scale or work to develop a teleportation machine for individuals, but the entity can begin with a simple device that teleports something that is not complex in terms of its frequency or octave vibrations, such as perhaps a piece of metal being teleported to one place to another, because that metal has a more limited frequency, it could serve as a demonstration and be done with much less expense than the attempt to do such with a living creature. Even the mouse has a multitude of frequencies in its pattern and would cost enormous amounts of money to develop a teleportation machine to the mouse as compared to something of a more simple nature with less octaves in its frequency level.

SAME METHOD THAT MADE A SHIP INVISIBLE? (Stealth Bomber Bends Light to Make Itself Invisible)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Is this similar to, or related to Einstein's Unified Field theory, I believe Awareness indicated was used when the military experimented during World War 2 and made a ship invisible?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this as in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that there have been experiments already along this line and that there are, in fact, means by which cloaking device, or that which is invisibility has been made possible through altering of frequencies. This Awareness indicates that the so-called Stealth bomber as not simply something that evades radar, it bonds the light so that it is not visible, and this done through actions that are associated with altering of frequencies by ionizing energies around the craft.

WHAT IF AN OCTAVE IS LEFT OUT?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

This may be a stupid question, but what if you get all the octaves in this teleportation handled but you leave one out or leave one aspect that doesn't get transferred?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this would create a disturbance, and depending on what aspect was missing, the entity would be altered to that degree. This Awareness indicates the means by which the pattern would need to be accessed is not to simply locate or find or mirror every single vibration an entity emits, but to in some way capture the entire field through some kind of receiving force, just as one records sound and all the vibration of the sound immediately in one action.

It is not like you hear music and you individually record the piccolo, the violin, the bass, the trombone, clarinet and each instrument separately, or individually in order to compile them into a recording of the music; the recording device automatically records everything at once intact, so that there is nothing left out. This Awareness indicates that it would need to be a similar type of action in which the frequency or vibration of an individual is recorded intact and in total, and then, that pattern may be used as an identifying code for that individual.

Each individual's vibrations are totally unique so that the individual would not come out different, but would come out as an exact pattern of himself or herself.

Ed's Note: I found Leonard on the Internet and asked him if this project ever got off the ground, did he have a company and sell stock, etc. He replied:

"Avaton. I have thought of you and Vikki quite often and wondered how you were. I contacted Paul about a year or so ago and he evidently didn't care for my introduction of Vibration Math and Creative Force Vibration Astrology and cut me off from any email correspondence. My work is very accurate however, and many are benefiting from it. I prefer that people do NOT contact me relative to a Teleportation machine, other than those who are in a position and have a deep and sincere desire to create such a device. No, I do NOT have a company, do not sell stock or have any to offer. I do not, and/or had any money to use for developing a Teleportation device. I would be pleased to offer my free consultation to those who are seriously interested, have a great desire and are in a position to create a time and/or teleportation machine. A good working knowledge of Vibration Math is essential. Vibration Math and My Math constants, and the Creative Forces Vibration Zodiac design is a basic necessity. I'll be 76 within 30 days, and it's a bit too late for me to get physically involved in such an undertaking."

Those seriously interested in a teleportation machine and can meet the requirements outlined above, please contact CAC and we will forward the information to Leonard.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed Itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

THAT ELOHIM COMPUTER HIDDEN DEEP WITHIN THE EARTH: WHAT IS ITS NATURE? IS IT STILL RUNNING?

(More on the Cyclopeans)

One other question from Gary Drake. "Awareness indicated in at least two readings back in 1979 that the Elohim placed a very advanced and highly prized computer deep within the bowels of the earth. This was approximately one million years ago. This computer was apparently the envy of our neighboring space civilizations and its possession remain to this day one of the chief reasons for wanting to conquer and control planet earth.

"In a reading from May 1990, Awareness indicated that the Cyclopeans were the ones who planted and left that computer deep within the earth. My questions to Awareness are these: "What is the nature and purpose of this extraordinary computer and is it still functioning to this day? And are the Cyclopean members or a class of the Elohim?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that they are a class of the Elohim in a group that helped in the programming of the cro-magnon creation after the Draconian entities under the direction of Enlil abandoned their creation and after the Sirius being Enki entered the picture. That the Cyclopeans were in association with Enki and worked on the technological construction of the computer in central earth, while Enki worked on the genetic structure of humanity so that there was a compatibility developed between the computer in center earth and the vibratory rates of the DNA genetic structure of humans.

The purpose of all of this was to create a kind of living information center, a cosmic think tank for processing information from the rest of the cosmos that would be experienced both through cellular structure and levels in the bio-system of mass consciousness and also in the biosphere, wherein consciousness was spread in a collective sense, which could be picked up by the computer in center earth through harmonic resonance to the vibrations of the mass consciousness.

This Awareness indicates the sympathetic vibration of the computer which is made mostly of crystals and that of the mass-mind or mass consciousness or is frequently called the biosphere or collective unconscious vibrates information in a collective sense or in a sympathetic vibratory sense so that the computer picks up the thought-forms or energies on the surface of the earth that emanate from the masses of living beings and rebroadcasts this information to those who are sensitive enough to pick up those vibrations from the inner earth computer.

It serves as a kind of mirroring of consciousness, even as it amplifies the frequencies of consciousness. It is especially useful to extraterrestrials who seek information from the experiences of humans on earth. In this sense it has been referred to as a living library and it is said that the purpose of the computer and people on earth are to serve as living libraries for the rest of the galaxy.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, the information is still stored in living beings on earth, is reflected into the computer and the computer amplifies the vibrations and information which can then be read or picked up from off the earth by extraterrestrials who then examine and experience the frequencies and information emanating from entities on earth.

It is a way whereby they read you like a book and know your experiences and learn from your experiences. This Awareness indicates that the planet being filled with living books, or entities who are read by the computer that amplifies its information out to other researchers in the galaxy. It is for this reason that the computer is so valuable, because many cultures throughout the galaxy have an opportunity to learn from the experiences of those who live on earth, and thus, they may not need to indulge in those experiences themselves if they can vicariously experience your experience through the aid of this computer.

This Awareness indicates essentially, the earth is an information center or library for the rest of the galaxy, and as the human creature evolves and goes through changes, the rest of the galaxy learns and processes information that emanates from these experiences.

THAT MYSTERIOUS HUM IN TAOS NEW MEXICO THAT'S DRIVING SOME PEOPLE TO DESPERATION

(Is Jesus Behind this Phenomenon?)

QUESTION:

Richard Sauder, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, has a question. He sent in an article from the Albuquerque Sunday Journal on this, and I also saw this on a Current Affairs TV story. It concerns a mystery sound that's humming away in Taos, New Mexico. I'll read a little of this written by Tom Sharpe, Journal staff writer, dated July 5, 1992:

TAOS—UFOs, spiritual rebirth, earthquakes, faulty sewage plants, secret underground mining, high-voltage power lines and weapons testing are some of the theories being sounded around here to explain The Sound.

For more than a year, residents in this mountain community have complained and speculated about the cause of the pulsating hum that's disrupting their sleep and lives.

Of 12 Taos area residents the Journal interviewed recently, nine reported hearing the sound.

A Denver acoustical engineer who set up instruments south of town earlier this month says she recorded an oscillating hum—from 17 to 70 cycles per second—but it will take more studies to pinpoint the source.

Catanya Saltzman, 44, who is leading efforts to silence the sound, said she began hearing it in late May 1991 at her home eight miles south of town.

"In the middle of the night, it woke me up and I started running all over the house for a place to get away from it, but I couldn't," she said. "At first, I thought somebody was digging a well or something."

Saltzman's photographer husband Bob, 47, couldn't hear anything initially, then "snapped to it," he said. "Once you've heard it, it's all over for you."

The sound has been noted over a wide area—from Tres Piedras on the west to U.S. Hill on the east, and from some 10 miles south of Taos to a couple of miles north of town. It has been heard at all times of the day, though many say it's most noticeable during the night and early morning hours.

The Saltzmans said for months they suspected a faulty electrical transformer, but when electricity in the area was cut off briefly, they continued to hear the electrical-like drone.

Bob Saltzman said he has heard bizarre theories about the sound, including "Jesus is making this sound to wake you up," space aliens and weapons testing at Los Alamos National Laboratory, some 50 miles away.

"The military conspiracy is the only one which I haven't entirely ruled out," he said.

But Catanya Saltzman said the pulse isn't funny to those who hear or feel it.

"People are suffering from this," she said. "It's real. Your concentration is thrown off. My hands shake. It's hard to put words together..."

"The hostility that's been directed at us is coming from the people who can't hear it and don't want to know about it," she said. "It's like ostriches sticking their heads in the sand."

The Saltzmans said since going public they've heard from dozens of others troubled by the sound and received two anonymous threats—a telephone call warning them to "hold off" and a letter to the local newspaper that did not name them specifically.

The letter, published in the June 18 edition of the Taos News Weekly newspaper, said: "Stop snooping where you don't belong as far as 'the sound' is concerned. Someone may end up getting hurt, so you'd better cease before it's too late. We mean business. Don't pry into matters that don't concern you. You may find something you don't want to know. Beware."

Editor Jess Williams said the unsigned, typed letter with no return address and an Albuquerque postmark could be a joke or a serious warning either to the Saltzmans or to his own newspaper.

Acoustical engineer Dana Houglund of David L. Adams Associates, which has worked on sound insulation on 2,000 homes around Denver's Stapleton Airport and recent modifications of the city's Boettcher Concert Hall, said her expenses for her first visit were paid by a half-dozen Taos area families, including the Saltzmans, concerned about the pulse.

Houglund said she isolated a steady primary tone of 17 cycles per second or hertz—just below the 20-to-30 range that is the low limit of normal human hearing—with a rising "harmonic" reaching up to 70 hertz. Houglund said she could hear the sound.

She plans to return when atmospheric conditions are calm to attempt to pinpoint the source through a "triangulation" method which would take readings at three locations.

The article goes on and on, but that's the major gist of it. Will Awareness please explain what is causing the sound? What does it indicate? What is the significance?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this as extra-low frequencies which comes from underground sources that relate to the cave or tunnel work that comes from the Dulce base, toward the direction of Almagordo. This Awareness indicates that this appears to be that which is referred to as a tunnel machine or giant bore which bores out tunnels underground.

This Awareness indicates there is a picture of such a machine in the Hamilton book Alien Magic, which discusses the Dulce base in New Mexico and the underground tunnels to different places and directions from that base. This Awareness indicates that the tunneling machine being deep underground, echoes into an entire region so that people in wide areas will witness the sound.

It is extra low in frequency, which makes it difficult for some entities to hear while easy for others to hear, and it is very disturbing because it is the ELF frequency which causes much disturbance to the nervous system of entities. If it was somewhat lower in frequency it could shake the nervous system apart, even dissolving an entity's entire being, if it were too low in frequency.

This Awareness indicates that fortunately, it is not likely to lower its pitch or frequency because its purpose is simply to bore tunnels and is not capable of boring tunnels if it slows down to a slower operating speed.

THAT HUM IN HUEYTOWN LA.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

On July 3rd of this year on a TV program A Current Affair there was a similar hum in Hueytown, Louisiana. It began in December and continues. The residents say they're going crazy. The hum goes up and down the scale sort of, one resident described it. Checks of abandoned mines and help from university experts could not turn up the source of the overwhelming loud hum that seems to be coming from deep within the ground, particularly at night.

Many believe it is a secret UFO base beneath the town. Is this another example of the tunneling?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates there is an entire networks of tunnels running throughout this nation which allows the aliens to move from place to place through these tunnel networks. It is likened unto an underground highway system. Connecting from place to place communities or bases that have been built underground for and by these entities.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Approximately how many feet beneath the surface are these tunnels?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these can be as deep as three or four hundred feet, or as shallow as one hundred feet, generally not much more shallow, unless moving toward the surface for exit purposes.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

How do they deal with ground water and aquifer?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates these machines boring into earth and rock create such heat that they literally melt the sand, rock, or earth on the sides, creating a kind of plaster on the sides of the tunnel as they go. It essentially seals up the walls of the tunnel. This Awareness indicates that they generally know when there are rivers or streams that are deep and will go deeper to avoid running large bodies of water.

In some cases, they tap the water sources for their purposes, for drinking or for mechanical needs or other needs, so that the tunnel might have a side-pocket where water is available.

ANY RELATIONSHIP TO EARTHQUAKES AND ALIEN BASES

QUESTION:

A couple of questions from Val Valarian, down in Yelm, Washington. Awareness has given this earthquake information, but I'll read it. It might have a new angle here. He writes:

"A question: In June 1992, there were two sets of earthquakes that were quite interesting. The first set was a pair in California, one of which involved the Emerson Fault, just west of 29 Palms Marine Base, which has a known alien related facility in the northwest corner.

"The second set was an unprecedented earthquake that had its epicenter 75 miles North of Las Vegas, which is where the Dreamland, Area 51, S-4 facilities are. One recalls the alleged nuking of alien facilities in 1991. Is there a relationship with the earthquakes and these restricted areas that can be commented on?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these appear to have been the result of nuclear underground explosions. The one in late June or early July that occurred in Yucca Flats as that which was a 3.5 megaton bomb and the local residents are aware that it was such because a military individual released information on television locally that this was the cause of the earthquake.

This information was not broadcast outside of the area, but residents in the area and entities who called into the area by telephone were given this information. This Awareness indicates that it appears there is some effort by some force to create underground disturbances in these areas, either as ways of dealing with the alien presence, or as efforts to create earthquakes.

The energies on this are not especially clear, but it appears the purpose had more to do with nuking alien underground bases than creating earthquakes. The earthquake in Northern California, near Eureka as that which was brought about by certain vibratory techniques that used a kind of humming effect which went deep within the earth triggering the earthquake.

This was an intentional action of creating an earthquake and was part of a long-range plan that fit in the alien agenda, which will continue and will eventually lead to the more massive earthquake in California wherein the Western part of California splits and moves outward into the ocean, as the San Andreas fault creates a schism with the mainland, a kind of long-shaped island resulting as part of California separates into the ocean from the mainland.

This may take a number of years to occur, but a major quake is likely within a year to start the action.

WILL VALARIAN'S BOOK MATRIX 3 EXPAND MASS CONSCIOUSNESS?

QUESTION:

Another question from Valerian. "In May, 1992, Val Valerian released Matrix 3, the psycho/ social/ chemical/ biological and electronic manipulation of human consciousness. Is it seen that this book will have even more influence in expanding mass consciousness than did Matrix 2?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be a book of greater depth and greater information in this sense; the material being so prolific and detailed, that only the more serious researchers will be likely to read the material, however, it appears that it will have a profound effect not immediately, but over a long period of time.

This may take several years for entities to fully read and digest and fully understand this information, but it does appear it will have a profound effect on those who do read and understand the information. This Awareness suggests that the book appears to be quite expensive as books go, but quite well worth the cost.

It is equivalent to three or four books in terms of material and size. Therefore, the price is reasonable. It is something that entities would want to study over a period of time, and once having studied the book, would have a much deeper insight into the nature and qualities and control of consciousness itself.

ANY INFLUENCE ON THE ALIENS FROM VALARIAN'S MATRIX SERIES OF BOOKS?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

One last follow-up question from Val Valerian. "What does Awareness see as a comparative reaction from both the human world power structure and the negative alien hierarchy relative to the emergence of the Matrix series?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it serves the human community with sufficient information to allow entities to explore and have at their fingertips many answers to the mysteries relating to aliens and UFOs and other related factors. It allows entities to see areas which they may themselves research further and giving them such in-depth information helps them to grasp a new level of reality that may have previously been beyond their scope and understanding.

This Awareness indicates that it also gives them greater understanding of the alien phenomenon and types and their purpose and agendas. This Awareness suggests that in terms of what this does for the aliens, if they indeed are presented with this material or given opportunity to read the material, they begin to recognize in the material an evaluation of their place as viewed or seen by humans, and it helps to create the potential for the beginning of dialogue in this way, whereby problems and communicative potentials are made possible.

This Awareness indicates that it serves as a kind of mirror whereby they see themselves from the eyes of human researchers and their appraisal. It allows them to decide whether to make adjustments to appear in a better light or to accept the appearance as is. This Awareness indicates that when entities are aware that others are evaluating, looking at and assessing them, it causes them to do the same thing.

They begin to evaluate themselves, observe themselves and assess themselves, and in this case, it creates an understanding of human values that are involved in the assessment process, and as humans evaluate and assess the aliens, the aliens begin to have some sense of human value definition so that they know the kind of values humans hold and this can be very important to them, for if you are totally oblivious to the values held by another, if you have never held such values yourself, but you come to understand those values, then to some degree you accept; as you understand the value, you accept the value, and if you are judging yourself by that other entity's values which you have come to understand, you can see yourself more clearly from the eyes of the other, and can then recognize things that are acceptable about yourself or unacceptable, as viewed by the other.

This is the beginning of understanding and learning, the qualities associated with particular values. Thus, through this kind of reflective mirroring, aliens may gradually begin to take on some of the human values into their consciousness.

This Awareness indicates likewise, humans, in trying to understand the aliens and how they think and operate may gain some insight into their value system and better understand them, and their values.

This Awareness indicates that this Matrix series, when viewed by these two greatly conflicting cultures can be most helpful in bridging some of the lack of understanding and extreme differences in the cultures.

Ed's Note: CAC stocks all of the Matrix books but only lists Matrix 2 in the Book Price sheet. Prices are as follows: Matrix 1: $40.50; Matrix 2: $55.00; Matrix 3 (Vol. 1): $61.50; Matrix 3 (Vol.2): $66.00; Matrix 4: $73.00

WHAT IS "ENLIGHTENMENT?"

QUESTION

A question from Mario M., in New York City. He asks: "Is the term as used by the Buddha: "enlightenment," the realization of Cosmic Awareness in a permanent way while at the same time going through an integration process through the densities?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be an approximate meaning of the term enlightenment. The terminology in the descriptive terms having certain meanings that could be used, but which might be misconstrued by some entities. This Awareness indicates that in other words, "going through the densities" as that which could use further definition.

This Awareness indicates that essentially, in a general understanding, this could be used as a definition, but certain terms might need to be clarified. This Awareness indicates essentially, the concept of enlightenment as that which implies gaining an awareness of something, and in the case of the Buddha, it would be as high spiritual awareness that the entity would be speaking of, because such an entity would not speak of anything on a more mundane level.

WHEN DO WE HAVE TO FACE FEAR?

QUESTION:

Another question from Mario. "When do we have to face fear, and when do we have to get away from it?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this appears to be questioning: When do you face that which you fear and when do you retreat from that which you fear? This Awareness indicates that if this is not the intention of the questioner, if this is not the intended question, that the questioner should clarify.

This Awareness indicates that assuming this is the correct meaning of the question, you have a choice of facing that which you fear, when there is a potential or probability of your being able to meet the challenge or overcome the challenge. There is no point in trying to overcome fear when you have a street cleaner coming down upon you, or a locomotive on a train track heading your way.

You should not face your fear in such a case, but rather should retreat, because the odds are overwhelming that you could not overcome the threat and danger that is coming at you. This Awareness indicates that your courage would be foolishness, to stay and face your fear.

This Awareness suggests rather that you retreat from that which you fear when it is overwhelming and obviously an endangerment to yourself that could not be overcome, and you face your fear when you feel you have the courage and ability to overcome that threat or danger that veers down upon you.

This Awareness indicates that of course, the element of risk plays a great part in whether to face a fear. For example, you might recognize that you have a potential ability to stop a raging bull, but is it important to do so? Is it worth risking your life to do so?

On the other hand if you are put in a position where someone else's life depends on your stopping the raging bull, then it becomes important and it may be a situation in which risking your life is worthwhile in order to stop the raging bull. Perhaps you are protecting a child, for example, and you jump between the child and the bull.

This Awareness indicates that then is a time to face your fear. For one thing, you may have a greater fear of the act of the child being hurt by the raging bull, and it may be more fearsome to you than risking your own life, knowing that you stand a good chance of turning the bull away before it can do any harm. This Awareness indicates this is but an example.

Every situation may have its own different kind of raging bull or threat to your security which causes you to think in terms of facing your fear or escaping from that which you fear. This Awareness indicates in other words, if you have a good chance, and if the situation calls for courage and taking the chance or the risk, then it may be advisable to take the risk and face your fears.

If however, there is no risk, no reason to face something fearful; you will not gain, no one else will gain from your facing something fearful; for example, someone simply says, "I dare you to jump off this bridge!"-- you have no real reason for taking the dare. This Awareness indicates there is no point in facing your fear in such an instance and therefore it might be quite foolish to do so.

This of course depends on the various degree of danger and circumstances in regard to the danger that causes the fear. If the bridge is only ten feet above the water, that is one thing. If it is 200 feet above the water, that is quite a different matter!

This Awareness indicates in other words, to sum it up, you consider the risks involved before deciding to face your fear, or whether to step aside and let your fear manifest itself in some manner while you avoid confrontation.

This Awareness indicates there is sometimes a determining factor that forces you to face your fear. Other times, there is not reason to do so.

A STORY ON THE ORIGIN OF ISLAM

QUESTION:

I had a question relating to the last reading. It pertains to the forming of religions. Dr. George Shahbaz told me a very brief and simplistic story of the origin of Islam, when I asked him if he knew how Islam started. He told me that, I think it was Iran where he was born and raised, he said, "Everybody over there knows the story." And he started relating the story.

As I recall, It was really sort of a strange story. Basically, the story was that Mohammed was a college student and he had this Jewish friend who was very smart, and one day Mohammed was talking about the Christian Bible, the Christian church and all the power it had, and was thinking along lines that he would certainly like to have that kind of power to influence people, and this Jewish guy said: "Look, I can tell you exactly how to do it!"

"Within a year or two you can have just as much power!" Mohammed asked him how to do that, and he said: "You take the Christian Bible ( I think it was referring mainly to the Old Testament) and you go through it and these stories that are in it, and you convert them to our language, you change the names of the characters into Arab characters, and once you do this, you'll have a new holy book.

And so Mohammed did this. He took the Bible and he worked for many months converting the stories as suggested, and then his Jewish friend suggested, "Now it's time to bring forth to the world this new religion." He said "We have to go to Mecca, where tradition says the New Prophet will come from." So they went to Mecca, which at that time was basically an oasis with a deep well in it, and this Jewish man told him: "The next thing you do is you call all the leaders of the various tribes to come here."

So he did this, and the tradition was that they tossed rocks into this well, I believe George said, but the thing was, the Jewish guy went down into the well with the new Bible, which would be the Koran, and he hid on a ledge down there, and after all of these leaders had done some sort of ritual --I think it was throwing rocks down the well, and when it was timed just right that Mohammed did his part of the ritual, then up on the hoist of the bucket comes this new Bible that he'd made, and an uproar went out.

They started yelling: "This is the New Prophet!" and so forth. And then they also threw rocks down into this well, and unfortunately, one of the rocks hit the Jewish fellow down there and killed him. Now George had a straight face when he told me this story, and that briefly was what the story was, how Mohammed started the religion.

Does Awareness see there as being anything factual at all to that story?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness questions how the story got started. If the Jewish man who was the brains behind the story was killed at this point in time, did Mohammed inform someone of the origins, so that others would know how this story began? This Awareness indicates it appears that this story was to a large part conjecture.

It appears that the Koran, as written, may have many parallels to the Old Testament and that these parallels could have been taken from the Old Testament with alterations involved so that part of the story is based on truth, but it appears that much of the story is just conjecture.

This Awareness indicates it should be recognized that George Shahbaz, even when living in Iran, was of the Christian faith and it would be not unlikely that the story of Mohammed artificially creating a religion for greed purposes might circulate among those of the Christian faith, centered in a Moslem country.

This Awareness indicates, however, in general, it appears the story as partially conjecture and not actually valid, even though much of the Koran parallels the historical Old Testament.

THE BOOK OF MORMON AND KORAN WERE DIVINELY GIVEN?

( Were Any Religions Divinely Given? )

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

The Mormon's claim that their Book of Mormon was divinely given to them. Does Awareness see that the Koran in any way was divinely given to this entity?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this does not appear to have been "divinely given" nor does it appear that the Mormon scrolls were divinely given. This Awareness indicates also that it does not appear the Ten Commandments were "divinely given". It appears that these things were passed down from very highly inspired thinkers, priests, in some cases from earlier generations such as with the Koran, whereby information was altered as in the story by Dr. Shahbaz, whereby the material was basically lifted from other writings, just as much of the Old Testament and the New Testament was lifted from other earlier writings rather than from Divine Source.

This Awareness indicates that there are stories of the Old Testament found in earlier writings, wherein only the names of the patriarchs have been changed. The Zechariah Sitchin books go into some of this, whereby legends from Sumer and Ur and other earlier civilizations contain information relating to Noah and the flood, but whereby the names are altered or changed in the subsequent Hebrew text, being somewhat different from those of the earlier texts.

Joseph Smith's Scrolls Were Manmade

Likewise, with the Moslem Koran, and also with the Mormon writings, these so-called scrolls found by Smith appear to have been created not by God, but by man. This Awareness indicates that there was information relating to this approximately in 1984 that made news, when scholars had determined that the claims that Smith had found certain scrolls from which the Mormon Bible was written to be a hoax, and the evidence was of such proportion or magnitude that the various experts in the field agreed that this was a hoax, and questioned whether the Mormon church would survive the fraud perpetrated in its origins.

This Awareness indicates it made some profound news for several days, then became old news and was soon forgotten and not brought up again, and the church continued on as though nothing happened and it was soon forgotten that the early scrolls which are the basis for the origins of the Mormon church were deemed to be fraudulent.

This Awareness indicates that once you build an empire on a false premise, it is almost as though you can pull the false premise out from under the empire and the empire is so well constructed that it doesn't matter whether it was built on fraud or not. It still exists because it's there, and entities can enter, wander around, touch its principles, philosophies, and see it working.

This Awareness indicates it is likened unto building a ball that is founded on a card whereby all of the parts of the ball are made up of more cards that have been pasted together, stapled together or taped together, sitting on a card that is perhaps irrelevant to the total construction which sits upon it. Therefore, when you pull out the foundation, the card on which the ball of cards sits, the ball of cards still remains.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, it is likened unto a castle built on sand, whereby the castle is so well constructed, that even if the sand is shoveled out, the castle still holds together, still remains. This Awareness indicates that a logical construction built on a false premise can still remain a logical structure even if the false premise is exposed and destroyed.

Normally one would see an entire logical structure collapse when the false premise is discovered, especially at the base of the structure, but if the structure is logical enough and well constructed enough, the false premise may be destroyed without the logical construction being disassembled or broken down.

To Many the "Star Wars" Stories are Real

This Awareness indicates as an example, the myth of the Star Wars movies, being really logically put together in a way that impresses entities, creates a frame of reference that has a certain reality of its own, so that if someone points out, "These are just imaginary! They are just fictional stories! They have no substance!" other entities looking at these stories, having seen them repeatedly in movies, still are not impressed that they are "nothing;" they are something of substance to many entities.

Entities see them as something real in their lives. But in fact, they were built on nothing but fantasy, and it doesn't matter to those who have indulged themselves in the Star Wars myths, that they were built on fantasy, because to them, they are real. There is something of substance involved in these stories.

This Awareness indicates that it is much the same with the Mormon and Islam religions. Even though they started from some fantasy, or misrepresentation, the structure became so fixed, so powerful, so real; the churches, the buildings, the Mosques are there. They appear to have reality. They appear to be tangible.

This Awareness indicates that therefore, to many entities, it doesn't matter if they were built on misrepresentation or fraudulent information, or if there was misinformation at the heart of the religion.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

The same could apply to the Christian religion would it not?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates this is very much the same.

QUESTIONER:

But it's so firmly established that no matter how much information to the contrary comes out, it probably won't change much will it?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is true. This Awareness indicates that even if it could be shown clearly, historically, with documentation, that this was formed by Constantine in the Third Century, and that it was put together as a composite of the various religions of Rome, it would not affect the churches that expound the Christian religion, nor would it change their teachings.

THAT MYSTICAL BOOK IN INDIA PREDICTS WHO WILL READ IT

QUESTION:

A question from JD. Actually several. "There is a book of Brigu, or Bregu, from India, reputedly about 7,000 years old. It apparently contains detailed information about the past, present and future of those who will come to consult it. People who had readings depict it as uncannily accurate. What is this book? Who wrote it and how? And why?"

"The reader measure's people's shadows to locate the exact passage concerning them. And how is this done?" she asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this works with the principle of symbolism much in the same way that the I Ching uses certain lines of information that are abstract enough to apply to many entities. This Awareness indicates that it is very difficult to explain this, but it is likened unto the entity who says, "Do you have a message for me?" and the so-called psychic, who responds, "Yes. I see you as a person with a strong desire and an emptiness needing fulfillment!"

This Awareness indicates the questioner might perceive this to be very accurate. The questioner should also realize it is likely to be accurate for anyone with a question. You approach someone with a strong desire, and a need to be fulfilled in some regard; it is very easy for someone to read this much without knowing.

This Awareness indicates by keeping things in a more abstract manner, the chances of missing a truth is greatly diminished. This Awareness indicates that further material might suggest that the entity in the search for fulfillment will find what he or she seeks after a long search, and that the entity is basically a good person but has made some mistakes in his or her life.

You will notice here, that by keeping this terminology in the abstract levels, you cannot really make a mistake in evaluating an entity. This Awareness indicates that to get more detailed, you are likely to make more mistakes. Therefore, in this book, the information being very broad and abstract, can be quite accurate, but if an entity attempts to get greater detail, such as a description of the color of eyes, of hair, of skin; they are likely to make more mistakes when based on something such as the length of a shadow.

Like the I Ching the Book is Based on Abstractions

This Awareness indicates that indeed, a shadow's length may indicate a certain passage, but the passage, being abstract, might apply to anyone of any length or height, so that the shadow of any length would suggest a passage in the book that could apply, regardless of who stands there, casting the shadow.

This Awareness indicates that these abstract messages are often of such a nature that entities can apply them to themselves and get something of value, just as tossing the sticks to get a passage from the I Ching will get you a message of value which can be applied to yourself. This Awareness indicates, however, that even without the sticks, just opening the page and reading a passage, you will find that it can be applied to yourself.

How Many "Psychics" Use the Abstract System

This Awareness indicates if you don't like that particular passage, flip to another page and the next will also apply to yourself. This Awareness indicates that when things are given in an abstract level, it is easy to apply them, and many psychics works in this manner. In some instances, the psychic will wait for feedback. For example, one can say: "I see two people of the opposite sex, who have an interest in you. One appears blonde. The other brunette. And then they will wait for you to respond, and if you say: "I don't know any blonde person of the opposite sex!" they might qualify their statement: "One is lighter than the other," and you will say: "Oh yes! They're both brunettes. One is a little lighter than the other." And the entity will act as though he or she has accurately picked up on the situation.

And the entity might continue: "Of these two entities, you like one better than the other, but there are certain things about each that attracts you, and certain things about each that causes you problems." This can be true of anybody, even if it's talking about your mother and your sister.

This Awareness indicates that you will note that the entity has not yet said these are romantic figures, and the entity will wait for you to describe who it is the psychic speaks of so that the psychic then begins to understand whether the two people being projected are lovers or relatives.

And the entity might continue: "There is a certain type of relationship you have with these entities. One seems stronger than the other. Is this not so?" And the entity may say: "Yes. That's true. I have a stronger relationship with the older person than with the younger person." And then the psychic might say: "Is the older person related to you? or is this some kind of unrelated friendship that has been formed?" And you will answer, and then the entity knows whether it is a romance, friendship or relative that you are focusing on.

This Awareness indicates in other words, by keeping the information abstract, and just detailed enough to give you a hint of something that you can apply to yourself and say to yourself: "This is true! It fits me! I know that person she speaks of," the psychic, or so-called psychic can lead you into giving just enough information to make it clear to the psychic, the whole situation of your life and your concern.

Occasionally questions might be uttered by the psychic to get further material or evaluation of the situation. This Awareness indicates that in other words, the use of abstract terms allows the entity who uses the abstract terminology to present information sufficient to convince the person who seeks information the opportunity to apply that abstract terminology to specific data related to his or her personal request.

If you need information, you simply reach out for the abstract material and apply it to yourself in the detailed manner you seek. This Awareness indicates therefore, by beginning with the most broad aspect, such as saying, "You have a quest, a need. You need something fulfilled in your life," this is extremely abstract, and the entity seeking will say, "Yes, indeed, I have a need. How did you know that?"

And from there, you may further extrapolate and go into somewhat more specific areas: "There are seen two people in your life, and you have a choice to make. One person influences you in this way, and the other influences you in another way, and you feel torn and you need to be loyal in two directions, and it is difficult for you to decide who to be most loyal to."

This is an abstract concept, but it can be applied to a specific situation, for almost anyone at any time in their lives. It may be that the entity applies it to their husband and their grandchild, or to their wife and their daughter. Maybe there is a conflict between the wife and the daughter, and you don't know how to give your loyalties to both, but there is always something that this kind of broad abstract situation can be applied to.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, the magic of such an ancient book lies in the skill of the writer to understand these abstract situations and to present them in broad enough terms so that a reader can apply it to themselves and it will be perceived as meant for them, even though it may not have been meant for them at all, because it was written 7,000 years before the entity even existed.

This Awareness indicates this is essentially how such books, such artistic material can survive and be valid 7,000 years into the future. This Awareness indicates it is also how you can, if you so choose, assist others in deeper understanding of themselves by asking questions that can be abstractly applied by the other person so that they can take your abstract information and apply it to themselves in a specific way.

It will appear that you knew or know their personal lives, their personal information. This Awareness indicates that, for example, an entity may approach you and say: "My husband and I are having problems. Do you have anything to say that can help me?" All you need to say is, "Well, obviously, you and your husband have different desires. They are not compatible, and you need to discuss these more thoroughly with each other and reach some kind of compromise or reconciliation so that your conflicting desires become more harmonious and better understood and accepted by each other."

This Awareness indicates it is a very simple way of resolving the conflict. You know that if two entities are having a conflict, they must have desires that are in conflict with each other, and the best way to resolve the situation is to communicate. Therefore, it gives the appearance that you have special insight into their particular problem, even though you don't have any insight whatsoever into the cause of their particular problem. You simply understand the energies in an abstract sort of way.

This Awareness indicates that it can be most helpful to entities to have these things put into words, and it can help them to unravel the confusion they may feel to have someone deal with the energies in an abstract manner so that they can be applied specifically to their own situation.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

So essentially, whoever wrote or compiled this book did it because it was supposed to help people through the ages?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The entity appears to have been one who was capable of thinking abstractly and who was capable of recognizing that the abstract principles would be of benefit to entities who used the information. It does not appear that the entity expected the book to be around as it has been. The entity did not recognize the value of the book as much as subsequent generations did.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Did the reference to the I Ching answer JD's question where she says: "The reader measures people's shadows to locate the exact passage concerning them. How is this done?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it doesn't matter how tall the entity is or how long the shadow is. Whatever passage in the book is read would apply to any entity who reads any passage in the book. That is simply part of the mystery or mystique to add to the apparent phenomenon. Just as in the I Ching, it doesn't matter whether entities throw the sticks and find the passage or whether they simply flip to a page and read the passage.

This Awareness indicates nor does it matter if someone else casts the shadow for you, or whether someone else throws the sticks for you, or whether someone else flips the page and reads the passage for you. You will find that it still applies, for when things are in the abstract, there is always something that can be specified from the abstract terms that will have meaning for you.

THE COSMIC AWARENESS FORECAST... WHAT'S AHEAD FOR THE U.S. IN 2002?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the passing of each year offers a time for reassessments and reflections, reminiscences of past accomplishments, as well as for creative planning, purposeful revisions, course corrections and impassioned, imaginative enhancements for the future journey. This Awareness indicates that humanity continues to undergo the millennial quickening, the accelerated evolutionarily shift away from the lesser survival level of functioning toward the "being state" consciousness. Entities are now participating in a momentous event in the evolution of the species as the pendulum swings rapidly in a "righting" direction to compensate for negative imbalances that have thwarted optimal enfoldment.

Scientists will call this period a significant point of punctuated equilibrium, anthropologists will call it a juncture between one form of human to another, astrologists will attribute it to energies of the Photon Belt, theologians, perhaps to divine (or demonic) intervention, and many may live and die without recognizing the significance of the changes occurring in and around them, or the creative role they have played in the process itself. Indeed, to many, life still appears to be driven by chance, controlled by external forces, powerful cadres here and there within space-time, or by Gods and Demons, wherein "bad stuff" can seemingly happen to "good" or innocent people.

Predictions Are Largely Meaningless Today

This Awareness indicates that it is common human nature to wonder what "good" events will occur, which might bring opportunities, and what "bad" things are to come, so that I might steel myself in defense? There are common dictums such as "hope for the best, but prepare for the worst", or Murphy's Law which states: "anything that can go wrong will go wrong". This Awareness suggests, however, that predictions are largely meaningless, indicative of the antiquated scientific and theological paradigms that both attribute the causal creation of events outside of ones personal control. The most significant events are those that are unpredictable, sudden and with broad emotional impact---for this is how humans become aware. Indeed, as humans have gained increases in consciousness, predictions have become increasingly less accurate, for entities have exercised more of their own creative power.

Significance of Events is How they Fit Into the Spiritual Picture

This Awareness suggests that at this point in human history, the most significance is not to be found in the events themselves but how they fall together into a larger spiritual picture, that those with the broadest expansions of consciousness and enhanced multi-sensory awareness can perceive meaningfully. This Awareness indicates that the patterns of good and bad change, the patterns of interest to those who seek advance predictions as to what will occur and when, those that connect the economy, the Earth changes, the stock market, the weather, the political strategies, the international relations and conflicts---are all connected by the common emotional strand, and are all the direct result of the cumulative creative energies of all human entities.

Those enlightened humans at the forefront of the quickening are beginning to see the significance of the events, to feel the evaluative spiritual significance, and to hear the call to action. They will recognize that what is occurring is the evolution of species unity which is predicated upon reclaiming the natural spiritual value system.

Humanity is Witnessing the Eclipse of the Institution of Religion

This Awareness suggests that the patterns clearly show that before the universal spiritual values can emerge, there must first be the elimination of the many wrong-minded cultural values long embodied within religious traditions. What humanity is witnessing, and can greatly influence in a positive or negative way, depending upon individual thoughts and action, is the eclipse of the institution of religion.

This Awareness suggests that religion has served and outlived its spiritual purpose and has become a scourge upon humanity to the degree that it instills such feelings as fear, guilt, shame, contempt, mistrust, resentment, arrogance, and hate and utilizes them to limit personal liberty. Spirituality on the other hand, is founded upon the biological ethical system innate within every human being which delivers optimal values and cooperative interactions driven by such feelings as trust, love, gratitude, compassion, devotion, and faith---all the right and good services that religion has provided. This Awareness indicates, however, that all the maladaptive beliefs perpetuated by the limited values within religion and all the negative emotion generated by them are a powerful force which guarantees that religion will not go quietly into the night.

The Photon Energies Remain Largely Unexploited

This Awareness suggests that human consciousness teeters on the brink between critical mass enlightenment, yet the Photon energies are largely unexploited due to the existence of mind-narrowing negative emotion and its defensive responses. Unity is predicated on the absence of competitive defense and on the foundation of cooperative growth--but the direction of that growth is still subject to power struggles over cultural values, before the optimal True North human density path is apparent to all. Universal values--which are ever-present and available within emotional sensory perception--will arise like the phoenix from the ashes of the Holy wars, provided, of course, that the cooperative forces gain the upper hand and the species does not accomplish annihilation.

Election of George Bush Triggered Religious War

This Awareness indicates that nowhere is this more evident than the chain of events of the U.S. presidential election in 2000, and of Sept. 11th, 2001, which will continue to influence the enfoldment of 2002. The photon energies available at the turn of the millennium suggested that this probable course could be avoided, yet humanity still does not recognize that painful feelings and the competitive defensive behaviors that spur are error signals to be corrected by changing the mindscape. Instead, with so many entities still aligned more with the external control of religion, and allocating their will energies into scattered opposing beliefs, have created a cosmic showdown of sorts.

For example, the divided energies that manifested the highly contested and controversial presidential election. At the beginning of that year, energies suggested the probable course of a Gore win, on the continued centrist track toward a unified value system based upon individual liberty and the globalization of equal opportunity.

This Awareness suggests that even the liberties taken by the outgoing president during his term, were put in proper perspective when played out upon the world stage, allowing ethical higher values of live and let live to take their rightful place over moralizing dictates born of religious values. Unfortunately, there was insufficient absorption of that particular spiritual advancement for enough Americans to stay the optimal course; something more dramatic was necessary to capture attention of those who need to examine their beliefs concerning values and priorities, and religion must come under fire. Hence, events to bring about this alternate scenario, placed George E. Bush in power and his value system espousing religious moral authority, who then immediately set about destabilizing the global community, weakening the budding international trust, by flexing the muscles to demonstrate American superiority, in an act of arrogance. Such decisions to ignore, override, or even rescind global environmental policies and arms agreements in and of itself severely weakened the power born of humanitarian respect that America had rightly earned through more liberal leadership.

Yet every wrong-minded act, driven by a wrong-minded ideology, and flagged as such, signaled by its negative emotional corrective signal will attract a counterpart negative response. In this case, the energy created the conditions for the religious showdown and triggered the events of Sept. 11th. This dramatic event manifested as terror, allowing entities the world over to recognize how freedom and liberty are contingent upon the public trust, which is incompatible with power-mongering, elitism, and arrogant secession from the global value system. Should the event serve its purpose, American or some other enlightened community will point out that the issue here is religion, and a movement toward the spiritualization of religion and the laundering of all its deficits will begin.

Painful Events Hold Tremendous Growth Opportunities

This Awareness suggests, however, that most importantly, this event and the course it has set in motion, will allow entities to examine individual values, the first of which is whether these events in and of themselves are good or bad. In a spiritual sense, all events are good, but they are the one that are necessary given the mass consciousnesses of the species that created them. Good events are those that promote growth, and the more growth is needed the more painful it will be if it is resisted. Painful events hold tremendous growth opportunities. In an evolutionary sense, this is nature's way of survival of the fittest religious ideals. It can be a long, slow, bloody battle, or those that see the way can seize this opportunity to cull the common spirituality from all religions. What will be left is already guided by the forces of Light, the voice of Spirit which speaks its moral values of what humans should think and do through positive emotions. The global ethics will revolve around political and cultural systems that eliminate all complex negative emotions from the cultural landscape and the individual mindscape. They will provide the equal rights, opportunities, responsibilities and liberty for every human to follow the inner guidance in the context of a safe, supportive, cooperative global community. There will be no more righteous arrogance of those who consider themselves "above" a human brother or sister or contempt leveled upon them to shame them into a lower place, or manipulate and control them through instilled guilt—nor will there be the anger returned at them by those they subjugate. The self-perpetuating cycles of pain and avoidance will cease to divide the brethren, and humanity can get about the business of life, value fulfillment for each individual and for the species.

With Religions Gone, The Being State of Human Experience Occurs

This Awareness suggests the moral, social, economic, and political results will be far more successful than any individual religion can provide—for spirituality will foster the being state of human experience. In this advanced state of consciousness, far more of the Photon Energies—the Light—can be perceived; far more of the maximum value within the infinite probabilities of the implicate order can be actualized in the explicate material realm; far more creative insights will flood the minds and the spirit will move each human to contribute their unique gifts in ways that create the paradise that Earth can be. The being state is the true potential for humanity which has been stunted due to the failure of humans to recognize that they are co-creators of their own destiny.

This Awareness suggests that it is against this backdrop that entities will be able to make sense of what has happened in the past, what is already happening in the present, and put the events to come in their proper spiritual context. It is against this backdrop that entities will know the meaning of any sudden negative downturn or any serendipitous opportunity, to see the fear and defensive moving away or against one another instead of expanding the self by moving toward others and enfolding them into the spiritual empathic light, thus allowing unifying connection to emerge and strengthen.

How to Respond to Future Negative Events

This Awareness suggests that against this backdrop, events to come must be examined for their positive or negative tonal quality. Entities will gain the most growth if they do not project negative events in to the future by holding faulty beliefs, that they do not resist events that arrive on their doorstep, and that they recognize how fear and its relatives manifest each mass event. Most importantly, this Awareness suggests that entities choose to respond to negative events by staying in the conscious growth mode, by continuing to approach, to trust, to work, and build community, instead of collapsing in fear, doing nothing, and wondering why civilization is falling apart. Every entity is needed to stand on the side of good, light, growth, and global unity. Each positive or negative probable change will be strengthened by each positive or negative response, every thought and action. Humans live in a time of rich opportunity, although fear can easily allow them to miss it and further stunt the optimal course of humanity.

RHYMES WITH ORANGE By Hilary Price

Allowing Religious Fires to Burn Will be the Crucial Error

This Awareness suggests that allowing the religious fires to burn any longer than necessary will be the crucial error and that each individual who examines personal values and removes any beliefs that facilitate any pain in self or others, in the faith that by that definition it is anti-spiritual. This Awareness suggests that entities recognize how the intensity of any pain is in direct proportion to the importance of its message, and heed the sudden changes that seem to sweep over families, communities and indeed nations and catch them with their proverbial pants down.

Global Economics and the U.S. Economy

This Awareness suggests that the global economic trends and the short-term stock market ups and downs follow the pattered choices driven by either hope or fear. The economy need never have been shaken as the events of Sept. 11th, if entities had kept moving, trusted their freedoms, honored their responsibilities, and realized that in a grander perspective the acts of terrorists call out for the building of a public trust that includes all humans, not some. Indeed, America has yet to build a durable public trust, yet it has discovered that it is based upon liberty. Choosing to mistrust everyone is not economically viable and long-term defensive strategies other than preventative defense through global ethics will fail. This Awareness suggests that as long as these failures are denied, like other policy failures such as the public health system-based disease model, the prohibition of certain victimless crimes, and the criminal justice approach to addiction, the economy will continue to falter. This Awareness suggests that an economy can only thrive when all are in agreement upon an optimal set of priorities that is based upon the foundation of spiritual ethics.

A Showdown on the Costly War on Drugs Vs War on Terrorism

Just like in religious wars, the economic fires will continue to burn until common values emerge from the ashes. At present, the country is still in the throes of reactionary fear, and further scatter economic resources to the wind. This Awareness suggests for this reason, that the year 2002 will usher a strong questioning of economic priorities, the first of which will be a showdown between the costly war on drugs, and the costly war on terrorism. The spiritual ethics suggest that the war on drugs will be reexamined, and if that energy is increased, many more moral liberties will follow. This Awareness suggests that individuals can profoundly accelerate such changes by actively speaking out and demanding their tax dollars be spent in accordance to inner values.

Natural Disasters & Climate Changes in 2002

This Awareness suggests that climate changes, natural disasters and other kinds of social upheaval to come in the year 2002 will in be alignment with the local moods and actions and collective consciousness of local citizens, and that the positive or negative nature will relate directly to the amount of fear or joy that is generated.

This Awareness suggests, however, that the most volatile and most crucial areas for humans to invest positive energy into will be the events that will flow from the eclipse of religion. The international community must send messages that promote international trust, instead of dominating through fear and intimidation. The war against terrorism should not be allowed to degrade into vengeance, to reduce liberties, or to escalate arms races, yet all these courses remain highly probable within concerted conscious effort. This Awareness suggests that the citizens of the United States have been pulled together, but that this community, its liberty, opportunity, safety, and trust, must now be extended globally. The Presidential choices must earn and honor that trust through aggressive arms reduction and environmental protection treaties and expanded global economic opportunities that send the message that resources, liberty, trust, and justice belong to all. It is the duty of Americans to use their might to liberate and educate, and to reverse the fear created by the use of atomic weaponry.

This Awareness suggests that each thought and action that works toward uniting the global family under the spiritual tenets will be right and good and will help manifest the maximum benefits of the Photon energies and hurdle humans toward an optimal destiny.

This Awareness suggests again, that the new year marks a time of reflection, spiritual analysis, and future creative projection, and that such personally creative, empowered approaches replace the traditions of prediction, for humanity has become far too empowered to be predictable but far less spiritually guided to be accountable to that power. This Awareness suggests that for each entity to embark in this process, and even to make individual predictions of a positive nature, to make efforts to actualize them, even taking some small action every day that build toward even the grandest manifestations will help them into being. This Awareness suggests that it is no longer appropriate for humans to think themselves sideline observers in the game of life, when they are the central designers and players of the physical game.

This Awareness suggests that predictions for the organization itself will also rest upon the cumulative choices of the membership and staff. The seeds have been planted and the energy from this Awareness has enjoyed ever-increasing receptivity within humans and many creative manifestations continue to emerge, blossom, and multiply. This Awareness has indicated on many occasions that the job has been well done, and acknowledges the passion and commitment the staff still holds, but economic trends should not remain unacknowledged nor should inner dream left unmanifest. There is a time, a place and a season for everything, and should resources dry up, equipment break down, and other inner callings begin to be audible, trust that they are of spiritual origin. This Awareness suggests that this should go without saying.

SHELTER FROM THE STORM

Dear CAC family,

How are you doing? Are you making peace with the world, with your family, within yourself? The comparison that comes to mind is mankind is taking its GED test. And it doesn't matter which school you've attended to this point, the exam is the same for all. Are you at a point where you can reach out and offer love, compassion and healing? If not, why not? Have you identified the obstacles between being a peacemaker and where you are now? I think that's the key to our test scores.

The blinding pain torn from the savage puncture wound into our psyches has slowed from a torrent and is clotting, allowing the next phase—the purposeful and directed healing process. This phase is extremely important, because if not examined, rigid scar material will cover the area. But by paying attention to your emotional responses and understanding and processing what they are telling you, you will be able to rebuild with life-affirming new cells that are vital and flexible and will serve you well. The more peace and reconciliation you can achieve within yourself, the more you can extend to others, creating the safe harbors souls need so desperately at this time.

Our training wheels are off. This is the time of challenge Awareness has been preparing us for these last three decades. As much as we'd prefer to have our hands held and each detail spoken to, we really don't need that. We have the tools and resources to hold out our arms and comfort and calm others. If you haven't studied them yet, the Spiritual Development Lessons and back issues hold a wealth of material given before our newer members joined. If you're having trouble with a particular area, you'll find messages that address it already given. It's time for each of us to stand on our own two feet. You CAN do it. Self-empowerment is not selfish; it enables you to be an effective agent for good.

Have you noticed who you want to be there when you're upset? The person who can give you a big hug and you can melt into their loving and protective arms and soak up the comfort they offer? That's the kind of role I see our CAC family playing for those in their immediate vicinity. It's shelter from the storm your perception, understanding and clarity provides. It stands as a beacon of light from a lighthouse out over the raging seas of flailing emotion, bewilderment, distress. Be the best lighthouse you can be. It's our privilege and responsibility and joy to be able to take on this role, especially now.

all the best,

Ukki T,

your faithful correspondance
