THE "SOUL CATCHER" 2025 CHIP PROMISES TO END DEATH

QUESTION:

An interesting thing came over the Internet from Dave Alexander. I'd like to read it and ask Awareness to comment. It's called: "Death Has Had Its Chips, Say Computer Scientists" And this comes from the Electronic Telegraph, issue 430, dated Thursday, July 18th, 1996, by Robert Uhlig, technology correspondent.

"A computer chip implanted behind the eye that could record a person's every lifetime thought and sensation is to be developed by British scientists.

"This is the end of death," Dr. Chris Winter, of British Telecom's Artificial Life Team, said yesterday. He predicted that within three decades it would be possible to relive other people's lives by playing back their experiences on a computer, rather like a Dennis Potter television series Cold Lazarus.

"By combining this information with a record of the person's genes, we could recreate a person physically, emotionally and spiritually."

Dr. Winter's team of 8 scientists at BT's Martlesham Heath laboratories near Ipswich, England, called the chip the 'Soul Catcher.' "It would be possible to imbue a new-born baby with a lifetime's experience by giving him or her the Soul Catcher's chip of a dead person," Dr. Winter said.

"The proposal to digitize existence is based on a sound calculation of how much data the brain copes with over a lifetime. Ian Pearson, BT's official futurologist, has measured the flow of impulses from the optical nerve and nerves in the skin, tongue, ear and nose.

Over an 80-year life we process 10 terrabytes of data, equivalent to the storage capacity of 7,142,857,142,860,000 floppy disks.

Dr. Pearson said: "If current trends in the miniaturization of computer memory continue at the rate of the past 20 years-- a factor of 100 every decade-- today's 8 megabyte memory chips norm will be able to store 10 terrabytes in 30 years."

British Telecom would not divulge how much money it is investing in the project, but Dr. Winter said it was taking Soul Catcher 2025 very seriously. He admitted that there were profound ethical considerations, but emphasized that BT was embarking on this line of research to enable it to remain at the forefront of communications technology.

"An implanted chip would be like an aircraft's black box and would enhance communications beyond current concepts," he said. "For example, police would be able to use it to relive an attack, rape, or murder from the victim's viewpoint to help catch the criminal" Other applications would be less useful, but more frightening. "I could even play back the smells, sounds and sights of my holidays to friends" Dr. Winter said.

And it goes on, but that basically is the message. Would Awareness comment on this "Soul Catcher" chip?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it is not exactly a soul catcher. The soul is not recorded on a disk in such a manner. It is more likened unto an experience catcher, wherein an entity's experience might be captured and placed on the disk, if the concept is indeed perfected by the supposed technology that would be involved. This Awareness indicates there is much difference between a plan and an actual development, and it may be more difficult to develop than it is to write about or project the idea.

This Awareness indicates that in the event experiences can be recorded and played back through a chip for another person to then draw upon those experiences, it could have a profound effect in the sense of giving that entity more experience than he or she has in a fresh lifetime, because you could draw upon, for example, the experience of someone who has had a powerful and important life.

The negative side is that you could also draw negative experiences from this entity and implant those also into your personality and it could have a negative impact on an entity. This Awareness indicates it does not mean that you would necessarily have the soul from the other person, but you could have the experiences that helped to feed the soul of the other entity, and therefore, your soul could develop similar qualities that the entity's experiences brought for that previous entity's lifetime.

This Awareness indicates basically, it is all hypothetical. It does appear to have the potential for practical application. There is an extremely great need for it to be technically feasible if it is to be worked out, and this may not be as easy as the entities perceive. This Awareness indicates it is far easier to presume to be able to do something of this nature than to actually do it. This Awareness indicates, however, it is within the realm of possibility.

It is an unlikely possibility, but with total focus, total concentration, with the actions of a long-term project, such as has gone into the moon program, launching a man on the moon; with that kind of focus and intent, it could be made into a likely possibility. Without that kind of dedication and funding it is more likened unto an unlikely possibility.

Ed's Note: This reading was given 4 years ago. While working on it (Dec. 2000) I checked the internet to see how things are going. (I went to my favorite search-engine Google and typed in "Soul Catcher 2025 chip"). There are many references, the project is still going and they expect it will bear fruit in the year 2025. It is being taken very seriously. Other work has gone on in the field of microelectromechanical systems (MEMS) to develop miniature structures that can be used to communicate directly with neurons without harming them. On August 25, 1998, Prof. Kevin Warwick claimed to be the first person in the world to have a computer chip surgically implanted into his body. A glass capsule containing an electromagnetic coil and a silicon chip was inserted into his arm by his own doctor. As he walked through the front door of his department, the Cybernetics Department at the University of Reading, a computer recognizing him by the chip in his arm, told him about his new e-mails. No longer science fiction, we will soon be facing the coming of the cyborg.

WOULD THIS CHIP CREATE KARMA?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

If this chip was actually created, and they used it as described, would this create any karmic situation for either involved?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there could be karmic situations. If it is used in a manner that would be harmful to anyone this would be negative karma. If it were to benefit entities, it could be a positive karma, a beneficial karma. It depends on its application and the way it is developed and used.

This Awareness indicates that the action itself is not seen as being necessarily negative karma nor positive karma except if you color it with the realization of some negative or positive application or use. If there is a negative use or a positive use, that will determine the karma involved.

This Awareness indicates it is likened unto saying, "Can a dentist's drill cause negative karma, or would it cause positive karma?" This Awareness indicates it depends on how it is applied to the tooth and for what reasons. It could be used to create negative karma, or it could be used to create a positive karma for the entity who is applying the dentist's drill.

DOES COSMIC AWARENESS EXPERIENCE THE FEAR AND SUFFERING OF ALL LIVING CREATURES (EVEN THE REPTOIDS)?

QUESTION:

Bruce Taylor, East Hampton, CT, sent a question, a statement anyway, over the Internet. I'll read this and then see if I can pull out particular questions or ask Awareness for an overall general comment. He writes: "I have a question for Awareness that is somewhat difficult to express, but I'd like to pose a few scenarios and then request Its comments.

"Regarding the Reptoids that were aboard the "comets" that were directed to Jupiter, it occurs to me that Awareness must care for these creatures. I assume that It is fully aware of the viewpoint of each creature. I presume that Awareness is aware of the experience of all creatures like birds, whales, et cetera, as well as stars, planets, galaxies, and so on, and on the other end of the scale: bacteria, insects, in fact, all life, including trees and rocks, which Awareness has indicated has some level of consciousness.

"If, for example, I had a rattlesnake in my house, then I would most likely kill it as quickly as possible, or if the situation allowed, perhaps it could be captured and released in some appropriate place, or donated to a zoo. But excluding the emotional reaction of either myself or a family member being injured, I would not hate or even dislike this snake. I would simply recognize "This is a snake doing what snakes do, according to their awareness and viewpoint."

"Even if I did kill it, I might grieve for it at the same time. I feel the same way about insects and trees that I cut down. I can imagine that some superior intelligence might be thinking, as it destroys my planet: "What a pity! Too bad this planet is in my way! I realize this is causing a real hardship for those dim-witted humans scurrying about there. Oh well!"

"Most of Awareness' expressions to us have been from our human viewpoint. This seems reasonable. But logically, Awareness must also care for these Reptilian creatures. Great numbers of them must have suffered, and for all I know, perhaps some are still suffering. I can't say that I've lost much sleep worrying about that, since we are told that they eat humans!

"On the other hand, if they had continued their journey, and I presume, landed on earth, then what? As they rampaged about the earth, enslaving millions of people, causing great destruction and suffering, eating our children and so forth, then what? Awareness would then be aware of our agony!

"This is not intended to be funny. I address this question with courtesy and respect. In another scenario, as the Native Americans were slaughtered by the incoming Europeans, what was Awareness thinking then, for example? If I assume the role in this case, of a European, i.e., the oppressor, then the shoe is on the other foot. Awareness must experience the despair and suffering of those people, even while caring for those cruel and insensitive white people.

"There are certain similarities between "us" decimating the Brazilian rain forest people, and certain higher tech aliens wiping out large quantities of our population as in the case of the black plague. In another scenario, what if some deranged person is injuring a child? Awareness must see and experience the situation from both viewpoints simultaneously. Is this correct?

"Is it true that you, Cosmic Awareness, experience the terror of one and whatever emotions or confusions of the other? And this must range from small, as when a white blood cell consumes some bodily intruder, to large, as when a comet crashes into a planet. Isn't it true that when a Zeta Reticulan orbits around the earth or fades in and out of our dimension, that you are fully aware of their motives and plans?

"As some Zeta makes plans to poke something into my eye or brain, or whatever, isn't it true that you know what he is doing or planning to do, just the same as you know if I am planning on slaughtering a chicken for dinner? I feel a bit like a cow standing out in a field who suddenly becomes aware of the fast-food industry!

"I am confident that Awareness acts with love and great compassion. I'm sure that an infinite time before I was born on this planet, Awareness was already concerned for all, according to the greatest good for all. I understand that we have been blessed with "Free Will" more or less, and that we have chosen to experience certain lessons in life.

It would be grossly arrogant of me to question the motives of Awareness, so I don't mean to come across like that, but I am pondering this situation, and wondering if Awareness would like to add to this discussion, or to help us,--me,--understand how we should view our station in life.

"Specifically for me, it's very comforting to feel that Awareness is "on our side" and is helping us get through this situation. On the other hand, do you, Awareness, not also love our enemies? Or should we seek such a level of Awareness for ourselves, that we no longer regard even the so-called "bad" aliens as enemies?

"Is this also related to the concept of "Resist not Evil?" Then he concludes "With humility and all due respect, Bruce William Taylor." Would Awareness comment on that letter from Bruce?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entity is tuning in to the Golden Rule: "Do Unto Others As You Would Have Them Do Unto You." This Awareness indicates that the entity is becoming aware of the reality that every human face is every other human face, and likewise, that every living being is likened unto every other living being to some degree.

This Awareness indicates from the viewpoint of this Awareness, all life is life. All life is part of this Awareness. All life is this Awareness. This Awareness indicates that It is especially concerned with the life that is of a vibratory rate that is more aware, and It is also aware of those vibratory rates that are dull and not very much aware. Even the rock contains a certain degree of Awareness. Even the most dense black hole in the universe contains a small degree of consciousness.

All Events in the Universe Take Place in the Body of Universal Consciousness

This Awareness indicates that throughout the entire universe, there is a great amount of Universal Consciousness. It is likened unto: If you could experience the body of this Awareness as a Universal Consciousness, it is likened unto the whole universe being your body. This Awareness indicates every time there is any event that takes place in the universe, it is taking place in your body. If there are white cells warring with red cells in your body, it is likened unto one species warring with another species in the universe.

This Awareness indicates that in some cases, this will be to the general benefit of the body itself. In other cases it may lead to a disturbance in the body. This Awareness indicates all this Awareness can do is observe and send energies to those areas to reconcile the differences or polarities when it is possible, at a rate that is possible, according to the nature of the experience or event.

How Awareness Experienced the Crash Into Jupiter

This Awareness indicates likewise, in the movement of the entities crashing into the planet Jupiter, this Awareness witnessed this as an experience, and It also saw that these entities in crashing into this, did suffer very little because essentially, they were in a state of focus that did not have time to realize the nature of what was occurring, and their experience ended quickly with very little time to suffer, to actually think about the event that had occurred.

This Awareness indicates that It also recognized that this allowed for the Earth to have more time to prepare itself and to become capable of healing its own misfortunes and distortions in terms of the psyche of the Earth itself. There is much that is out of balance on Earth which can be altered to some degree to eliminate or reduce the tragedy and suffering on Earth.

This Awareness indicates that when this Awareness focuses on the Earth, there is compassion. When this Awareness focuses on these aliens that crashed into Jupiter, there is compassion for these entities also. This Awareness indicates that there is also the recognition of karma involved in activities, but there is also compassion for those entities who suffer the karma of their own undoing.

This Awareness indicates that Its purpose is to help entities to become aware if they are willing to do so. It makes the vibrations and frequencies available for entities to attune to those higher frequencies, but It cannot force an entity to attune to higher frequencies. That is the action that entities have in regard to Free Will.

Most entities have very little Free Will because they have been conditioned, either genetically or environmentally, or by a particular cultural or personal programming that has been influencing their existence, so that their decisions and their so-called will is really the result of their past experiences or genetic creation, et cetera, or their environmental influences, but they do have the free will to focus on higher or lower vibratory experiences and if they focus on the higher frequencies, or higher vibrations, then they are closer to this Awareness, closer to the more spiritual frequencies and vibrations, than if they choose the lower more negative and unsettling type of focus into those which are termed "dark" areas or "dark" vibrations.

This Awareness indicates that it appears that this has generally covered the entity's inquiry. If there is something that still needs clarification, that further questions on this may be asked. Otherwise, This Awareness suggests the next question be presented.

DOES AWARENESS EXPERIENCE BOTH VIEWPOINTS SIMULTANEOUSLY?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Well, just one. Awareness may have covered this. In this scenario, the entity suggested that "If some de-ranked person is injuring a child, for example, Awareness must see and experience the situation from both viewpoints simultaneously. Is this correct?" he asks, and "Is it true that Cosmic Awareness experiences the terror of one, and whatever emotions and confusions of the other?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates It does not identify with the perpetrator of violence. It understands the causes of such perpetrated violence that one may have, but It does not consider these vibrations of hostility and violence as being part of Its own essence. This Awareness sees Itself in a frequency that avoids those experiences known as emotion, feeling, and mind. It lies in frequencies beyond mind, emotion and feeling, and therefore, cannot identify with the entity who is perpetrating terror on someone else, but It does understand these entities.

An Empathetic Rather Than a Sympathetic Action

In other words, there is an empathy and a compassion, but it is not an emotion that this Awareness experiences. Compassion is likened unto a concern or empathetic understanding of what an entity is experiencing, and It can experience the feeling. If the entity does indeed need to have this Awareness close, It can experience this through the entity, and assist the entity in going through the experience, but this Awareness indicates It does not identify Itself with that negative experience.

It is more of an empathetic, rather than a sympathetic action. "Sympathetic" means you suffer with the entity. "Empathetic" means you experience the event without identifying self. You must understand of course that this Awareness has no concept or sense of self. It is selfless. It is beyond self. Entities who tune in to this Awareness will find that they cannot identify a self in their attunement to this Awareness. There is no sense of self.

It is the self that has to be surrendered when entities move into the Cosmic Awareness Vibration. Therefore, this Awareness does not identify Itself with an entity who is suffering. It does experience the pain with the entity, but not as a "self."

IS THERE A DISTURBANCE IN THE FORCE?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Is that sort of analogous to what they call the Force, in the 'Star Wars' story wherein they referred to a disturbance in the Force?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this could be a good analogy. This Awareness indicates it is somewhat difficult to express in words something that is only experiential. Experience is not the same thing as words describing an experience. Therefore, what this Awareness has given may not necessarily be satisfactory or clear to the understanding of entities, but it is difficult to find words that can indeed express the reality of these things.

Trying to Express the Inexpressible

This Awareness indicates that this inability of words to clearly express is the reason why entities often try to express the inexpressible through poetry or music. Poetry describes things that are between or behind the words, and music describes things without the use of words on a feeling level. Music can of course have words accompanying the music and this can be likened unto an addition to the experience of the music, but it is the music that often is a major part of the expression, filling in that which the words cannot fully express.

HOW TO ASK FOR HELP FROM THE INNER PLANES OR HIGHER DIMENSIONS

QUESTION:

Another question from Bruce Taylor. He writes: "Let's say I wanted some assistance and guidance from what you call the "Inner Planes" from higher level beings and so on. I look out over the cosmos and I consider: "Who should I ask for help? Cosmic Awareness? My Higher Self? A higher dimensional entity from Sirius? Or the Pleiades, or an angel? Which one should I choose to contact and why? Once I decide on that, how would I do it?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that you would be best benefited by attuning to the highest frequency you can imagine, a frequency that is loving in its attunement. Attune yourself to the frequency of love in the most divine sense, and whatever image or being, if any appears, let that be a symbol for that love vibration.

Do not necessarily think that you have to have a personification to represent some entity for whom you can ask for help. Just attune to the frequency of the Highest Divine Love you can perceive of, and ask it to apply itself to your situation. You can simply attune and ask: "Help me!" That is all that is necessary.

Forget the Frills and Attune to the Vibration

This Awareness indicates that any other frills could actually be a distraction from that energy. By "frills" this Awareness means imagery or personification or name, or perception of a being of any type. This Awareness indicates that the higher angels are essentially vibrations that take on shapes, but the shapes are not the important part of the entity. The vibration is that which is important.

Thus, when you tune into an angel, if you can touch the vibration, you have the essence of the angel. If you get fixated on the shape and ask that shape to help you, you may get some help, but it will not be as thorough and complete as you would get from the essence or vibration of the angel.

Likewise, with any other being. Forget the being, and attune to the vibration or frequency associated with that which you perceive to be the higher levels that you wish to attune yourself to.

When Jesus Said: "I And the Father Are One"

This Awareness indicates in the Biblical passage, Jesus spoke and said, "I and the Father are One." He was not saying that "I am God!" He was saying that he, as the Christ Consciousness, was attuned to the Creator frequencies, the frequency of the Divine Creation. That attunement gave them each the same vibration or frequency. They were One.

It is likened unto tuning a radio. You turn the dial until you get on the frequency of the station. When it is in perfect attunement you are one with the station. You are one with the vibration or frequency of that station. Likewise, when you attune to God, you have to give up your own self-vibration, your personal vibration, and become One with the vibration of God.

This Awareness indicates you cannot have two radio stations attuning simultaneously without a conflict. Assume you are on one radio station, and you say: "This is me! I am at this frequency. Now I want to attune to the other radio station on the other channel." When you get off of 'being yourself, or the 'me,' then you can go on to attune to the other station at a different frequency, but you cannot carry 'me' into a frequency simultaneous to God or to the different radio station.

Likewise, you cannot carry self to become One with God. You have to give up self and just become God or attune to God, and when you leave that attunement to God, then you can go back to self. It is for this reason that this Awareness has suggested any entity who says "I am God!" is not speaking for the person. They cannot speak as God and still speak as self also.

This Awareness indicates when Christ spoke and said "I and the Father am One," it was a message from the Christ or God Frequency. It simply was a statement of attunement to that Divine Frequency.

The Story of the Stanford Channel Who Couldn't Speak

This Awareness reminds you of a story It has given before: An entity at Stanford University asked to be put into an Awareness trance level. The Interpreter assisted, along with others, giving the Law of Love, giving some guidance to this entity and managed to get him attuned into an Awareness level. Someone asked: "Can you give us an opening message?" The entity's mouth opened but no words came out.

The entity again opened his mouth, but nothing came out. After several attempts at speaking, someone finally said: "Would you like to come out of trance?" The entity opened his mouth but could not speak. Finally, someone gave the Law of Gratitude, and the entity came out of trance, and entities said, "What happened?"

He looked at them and said: "I went into the Awareness level, into the Awareness frequency, but when you asked "Is there a message?" it was such a beautiful experience, I wanted to say, "I love you!" but there was no 'I.'" This Awareness indicates the entity was totally surprised that there was no "I" to say, "I love you!"

There is no "I" So Awareness Cannot Speak

This Awareness indicates that there is no self when entities enter into that state of Cosmic Consciousness. There is simply the 'Awareness,' the Awareness of What Is. This Awareness indicates therefore, in the questioner's statement and references implying, "What do you feel when these events occur to different entities?" it is difficult for this Awareness to speak as an entity in trying to describe what It experiences in regard to conflicts of human or human type experiences.

It sees these things. It experiences these things right along with the entity, but there is no self in regard to this Awareness to say, "I experience pain. I experience fear. I experience the terror with you!" It cannot actually say that because there is no 'I' for this Awareness. It is simply 'awareness'. There is no self around which this Awareness resides.

An entity attuning to this Awareness surrenders self and Awareness is present, and the surrender of self allows the entity to become One with this Awareness. This Awareness indicates likewise, when the Interpreter exits from attunement to this Awareness or what you term "comes out of a trance," the entity, the Interpreter, simply takes on his identify known as self. He then becomes himself, and when the Interpreter as himself, moves into attunement with this Awareness, the self is put aside by placing aside mind, emotion and feeling, and therefore, giving up your self-identify to become 'aware' and the Awareness is that which the entity moves into.

What Happens When Awareness Is Asked a Question

It is likened unto moving into a sea of consciousness, into a sea of cosmic consciousness without a center to claim as your own. The center, of course, being the self. Setting aside or letting go of the self as a center, and moving into the open sea of consciousness, the sea of Awareness, the entity then attunes to this Awareness. When questions are asked, it is likened unto something being thrown into the sea, and all of the Awareness then jumps and focuses on that question, that thing that was thrown into the sea of consciousness.

It is likened unto an entire ocean of energy or consciousness focusing and grabbing a hold of that question that was thrown into the sea, and devouring the question, and when it is totally devoured, totally eaten, then information begins to come out as symbols or images or inclinations or terminologies that can be interpreted and put into words, and this is how the Interpreter functions, when attuned to this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates the questions are likened unto feeding this Awareness. The questions come in, and the entire sea gloms on to the question. The sea of consciousness wraps itself around the question and devours that question, and energy comes forth, giving information, but there is no persona present. There is no entity present in that experience. There is just the consciousness that is alive, and it is open and waiting for a question which it can devour. When it digests the question, information must be expelled, and given back.

This Awareness indicates when the Interpreter begins to lose energy, the Interpreter starts to loosen its union with this Awareness, and this loss of energy allows the Interpreter's self to become involved and it begins to take away from the union or oneness of the energies of the Interpreter and this Awareness working in tandem together in the devouring of questions, and therefore, there is a time limit for the readings to be effective.

This Awareness indicates when a certain amount of time has occurred and the energies begin to wane, and the Interpreter begins to lose his contact or union, or the union begins to dissipate, and the Interpreter begins to pull apart from this Awareness, then indeed it becomes a time in which the Interpreter tends to start pulling away and loses the ability to Interpret and should be brought from trance.

This Awareness indicates that as long as the energies are strong, as long as energy is continued to be given, the Interpreter can maintain a relatively strong union with this Awareness for some time, and the questions can be asked, and the Interpreter and this Awareness work together as one in devouring questions and turning them into information.

WHY DOES ONE NOT HEAR AND SEE ONE'S HIGHER SELF?

QUESTION:

Another question from Bruce Taylor. I believe Awareness has answered this, but I'll read his statement here. "Why do I not see and hear my Higher Self? Is there some simple exercise or meditation that I can do to assist my perception? I understand about Higher Magic, and that the Higher Self is accessed through the lower self, but it seems that the Higher Self is essentially imaginary.

"Hey, wait a minute! That's a profound statement! If I imagine that I am addressing my Higher Self, then am I actually contacting it? because imagination is the frequency band in which the Higher Self resides. This concept seems to jibe with the meditations of which I have read, which are performed for this purpose, i.e., contacting the Higher Self. Would Awareness comment?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it would probably help you if you understood the concept of higher, lower and middle self, without the word self. If you think in terms of the lower vibration, middle vibration and higher vibration, and forget the word 'self', it might be easier for you to attune to the higher vibration. The higher vibration is without self, and the higher vibration is a vibration of love. It is a vibration of universality.

In other words, 'broad love' and non-attachment is the higher frequency. Lower frequencies have to do with attachments. You have your lower frequencies or lower self, which is identified with the body, attached to the body, attached to certain desires and needs, and your middle frequency or vibration is that which is attached to thoughts and ideas, in other words 'mind' and the emotions are part of the lower self, or the subconscious or that which are the lower vibrations, and are related to attachments or fears.

Fear and Attachment Are The Same Thing

Fear and attachment are essentially the same thing. You are attached to something you want to be attached to. You are afraid when those attachments are threatened. You are attached to your body. You are afraid when your body is threatened. Therefore, fear and attachment essentially work together as one.

This Awareness indicates for that which is emotion, you can temporarily set aside emotion by putting yourself in a place, in a position, where your emotions are not important to you at the moment, where you can set aside your concern for any attachments that you may have. Your attachment is your job, your family, your basic activities, things that make you who you are and what you are: your name, your physical form, your clothing; all these things are your attachments.

Setting these things aside temporarily, your attachment to your girlfriend, or to your boyfriend or whom-ever, your attachment to your various friends and associates; these can be put aside temporarily; putting aside your emotions, or your attachments, leaves a certain void in your being. Now put aside also your mind. Mind is your thought, your belief, your opinions, all of those things that go through your head as personal parts of yourself. You say, "My thoughts are my thoughts. My beliefs are my beliefs!" but these can be put aside temporarily.

What is Feeling?

You do not have to put them aside forever. You can keep them, but put them aside while you experience the Awareness level. Put aside mind, emotion and feeling. What is feeling? Feeling is your concern for that which is occurring around you at any given time. You can put aside your concern for the sounds in the other room, the motorcycle that goes by outside, the helicopter that flies overhead; all of these things are part of your awareness of that which is occurring around you, and which causes you to feel something. You can put this aside temporarily.

The 4th Level of Consciousness: Blank Awareness

Feeling is also your heartbeat. All of these things, any feelings you may have in your body, in your fingers, in your toes, whatever, can be ignored. You do not need to concern yourself with feelings all the time. You can simply put these aside as not being necessary at the moment. Then of course you are in a state of blank awareness. This is the fourth level of consciousness. It is a state wherein you can wait for a question or for something to fill that void.

If you have a question at that time, and you wish to ask it yourself, for your own meditation, then you can ask. You can not only put aside all of these things, but you can speak from that Awareness level, and stay in the Awareness level, even though you speak to yourself aloud or in silence. This Awareness indicates that if you speak in silence, there is the possibility of a slight disturbance in your awareness state, but it does not necessarily have to last.

You can ask: "Would Awareness give me a message for my life?" Then you may have to settle a little bit, because the question disturbed the union between yourself and the Awareness level, and you wait until that level clarifies, and then you look for the answer, and you wait, and then you begin to see or feel or sense some kind of energy coming into the pool of Awareness in which you experience yourself, or in which you experience the Awareness, because there is no self. You wait for that energy to come forth and become more clarified.

Why Awareness Channels Need the Development Classes

Gradually, perhaps it may take some time at first, but gradually you begin to see something meaningful. It is a matter of whether you can interpret what it means, and you may get an answer for yourself. This Awareness indicates that it is not the will of this Awareness to tell entities how to become channels for this Awareness, because It prefers that entities go through the Development Classes that It has given, so that no negative energies will come in to interfere with their channeling.

There has been several attempts by the Interpreter to help others become channels, without them going through the Development Class and becoming clear, but many of these attempts have led to extreme difficulties for entities. Some of them have channeled negative forces or negative beings, and this Awareness indicates there is considerable hazard, but as far as simply meditating and becoming attuned to this Awareness, it is quite simple and you may follow that information that this Awareness has just given.

Be sure that you tune into the Highest Frequencies, and not tune in to some lower frequencies in an effort to become a channel, for that is when entities start running into trouble. Many times an entity can get into an Awareness level, but they want to do something to make themselves important, and that self-concern disturbs the union with this Awareness and can draw in the negative forces into the entity's life, and this is where the problems begin for an entity who has not been prepared for the channeling.

This Awareness indicates that as soon as one starts trying to find some significance for their life by attuning to this Awareness, and they begin to think: "How can I make this work for me so that I can benefit from tuning into the Awareness?"--as soon as they begin doing this, that is when they run into the problems that have plagued so many who have tried to learn how to do these readings.

This Awareness indicates that is the problem and the reason why the Interpreter has stopped working with entities to help them learn to be Interpreters. If entities have taken Development Classes and have had some time to adjust to the changes that these classes make in the entity's lives, then the Interpreter is more willing to assist and in some cases can help entities if they wish to channel this Awareness, but it is not always the best idea for the Interpreter to be assisting entities if they are to become channels.

Vern Christianson Helped Paul Shockley to Trance

This Awareness generally should be the force involved in helping entities to become channels. This Awareness indicates of course, the Interpreter was helped by Vern Christianson. After he had completed Development Classes, Vern Christianson put him into his first Awareness level trance. Afterwards, the entity waited for approximately two years before doing one again, with his friend Harry Dodge, and then it became more frequent, when they began certain regular monthly readings.

This Awareness indicates that it is not something that you decide to do. It is something that this Awareness decides for you, and you find yourself doing in response to urges by this Awareness. But, this Awareness did wish to clarify and explain some of the procedures so entities have a better understanding, yet it is also somewhat hazardous to some entities who might read this information and who might think that it is a prescription or recipe for becoming a channel, for there is much more than simply "How to Do it"; there is that need for total preparation, and the readiness for doing readings.

PROBLEMS WHEN ONE JUST LISTENS TO OTHERS UNBURDEN THEMSELVES

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

In another application, the steps of setting aside mind, emotions and feeling, is like what I do when I listen to people unburden themselves or talk, not feeling obliged to defend my position in any way. Is this related in any way to what is called "conscious channeling"?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that it is very difficult for entities to listen to 'trouble talk' of others, for example, but if you can listen, and not necessarily get sucked into their emotions, not necessarily get caught up in their thinking so that you have to respond or take issue with their thoughts, but just give them attention, just pay attention without necessarily responding at all; if you can do this, it tends to help them to get clarification for their own problems.

This Awareness indicates that in a sense it is likened unto setting aside mind, emotion and feelings, in that you do not get attached to their problem. You do not get wrapped up in their thoughts. You do not think your thoughts in a way that attempts to fix their thinking. You simply give them attention. You listen to what they're saying, but you listen with a kind of detachment, knowing that you are not required to solve their problem. You just want to give them attention.

How Much Can You Take of People's "Trouble Talk"?

Giving them attention gives them energy, whereby they can use that energy to find their own solutions. This Awareness indicates, of course, there is a limit as to how much energy you can give in listening to other peoples' 'trouble talk'. If you make yourself available for 'trouble talk' it can become a common situation and more and more entities will dump their troubles on you because you are willing to listen. How much of this can you take before it begins to affect your life?

This Awareness indicates that many times entities who find a recipient ear will use that listener to dump their troubles, and they never stop. They never want to stop talking about their troubles and when they have to leave, they always make sure that there is an agreement that they will see you again at a certain time later, and they will be back for sure to do more 'trouble talk' to someone who is willing to listen.

This Awareness indicates It is not therefore suggesting that you make yourself a sounding board for others' troubles. There may be something more important for you to do in your life, but if you really want to help entities, you can listen without necessarily responding. If you find it happening that in having listened attentively you suddenly find yourself talking, or saying something in return, let it be. Allow yourself to respond, for this response may be of a spontaneous nature, coming from this Awareness.

Being Attentive Allows Awareness to Come Through

The very action of being attentive can lead to allowing this Awareness to come through, and this is often very helpful to an entity who is giving you 'trouble talk'. This Awareness indicates, of course, many times entities will love their 'trouble talk.' They do not really want answers. They just like to tell their troubles. They like to keep their troubles because their troubles are important to them, and if you gave them answers, they would no longer have their troubles. They want their troubles because it gives them something to talk about, something to show others how important their lives are, and how oppressed they are, and how they need your sympathy, et cetera, et cetera. They do not really want to lose their troubles.

There are others who will talk 'trouble talk' for a time, and they are simply after attention, and they may find that after they have talked their trouble talk and have run out of trouble talk, then they will get into the bragging mode. They will talk about how they did this, and how they did that, how they got into this argument with someone, and how they managed to win the argument, or something of this nature, and when they are talking in this way, they are getting attention, and making themselves feel good about themselves because someone is paying attention to them.

Don't Waste Your Time Being a Sounding Board

These can be real wastes of your time, and you may not wish to put yourself in a position of constantly having to be a sounding board for such entities.

This Awareness suggests that when entities begin to use you as a sounding board and talk about their escapades, their adventures, or their self-importance or their conflicts and arguments with others, you may turn the conversation around somewhat by asking, "What did you feel about that? Did you enjoy winning the argument? Did you like being in that situation?" and cause the entity to reflect on themselves and their own feelings, so that they begin to have to look at their own feelings in regard to these things that they are talking about.

Often they do not want to discuss their feelings. They just want to get the attention from you. They tend not to want to disclose too much about self, only what they think gets you to pay attention to them. When you start asking them about their feelings, they will often bring the conversation to a close, and it is a way whereby you can wind up the conversation so that you do not have to shut them off entirely.

Asking the Dumpster Questions Might Turn Her Around

You do not have to be rude to them or tell them, "I am too busy to listen to this! I do not have time. I have to work now!" These are ways that are easy to hurt another person's feelings, making them seem less important, but if you ask, "How did you feel? What were your feelings when this happened, when you put that other person down? How did that make you feel when you insulted her in that way?" It causes the entity to have to face something they do not particularly want to face, and they generally will choose to wind up the conversation shortly thereafter.

This Awareness indicates this has been a diversion, but it is something that may be of importance to entities in regard to inter-personal relationship situations.

WHY DO SOME PEOPLE BECOME ADULTS WHILE OTHERS REMAIN CHILD-LIKE?

QUESTION:

A question from JD in New York. She asks: "Why do some people become very adult-type people, while others seem to retain a child-like attitude and youthful spirit all their lives? Are these children of wonder actually a different sort of being in some way from those who get thoroughly 'grown up'?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it is a little unclear as to what is meant by "grown up" or "adult". It appears that this is perhaps the same as "mature". "Mature" means that someone has a more objective and calm way of handling situations. There are entities who give the appearance of being adult, who are simply able to express themselves bluntly, and the bluntness makes them appear to be authoritative. They may not necessarily be more intelligent or able to deal with things in a more effective way, but they are blunt and appear to be an authority, or adult.

This Awareness indicates that maturity is likened unto a person who has the advantage of experience, and the experience may have helped them to learn how to deal with things clearly and more effectively. A child-like naiveté or sense of wonder that entities often express can be carried on throughout life into adulthood by an entity who feels that openness does not require great responsibility.

They may not like a great deal of responsibility. They may prefer to be wide-eyed and open to suggestion, or to those who have directions for them so that they do not have to take responsibility, or much responsibility other than to follow the directions and suggestions of others. This Awareness indicates the more mature person, one who appears to be more mature, may like having a certain sense of independence and ability to make his or her own decisions without having to ask others what to do.

This Awareness indicates these entities will think about what is happening and attempt to come up with an answer for themselves rather than waiting for someone else to guide them. This Awareness indicates the so-called authority is often not so much an authority at all, but simply a person who wants to appear to be important, who likes to keep others down and take the lead, and who will make executive decisions, or decisions that appear to be final.

Being a Victim of a Dictatorial Person

Many times an entity will have decisions on everything. "You sit there in that chair! And you sit in that chair!" The entities could have easily found a chair to sit in without necessarily having to pick that particular chair, but this entity may want everything done in a certain way. There is not reason that this entity has to sit in that chair, and that entity has to sit in that other chair, but the entity wants to be in charge and so the entity tells each person where to sit, and the entity feels fulfilled in their goal as a leader, or as an executive.

This Awareness indicates that much of this kind of dictating which in extreme is a dictatorial person, much of this kind of dictating comes from entities' background, wherein they grew up in families in which there was too much chaos, too much confusion, and everything seemed out of control, and they themselves need to find a way to express control so that things do not get out of control.

Thus, they express themselves in a way that is always controlling others. It may be light, or it may be heavy control. If it is light control, it does not tend to offend others greatly, but if in crunch-time things get somewhat stressful, these entities may move into heavy control actions, and if they do not know what they are doing, they could make some very bad decisions, but because they must control in order to feel secure in a chaotic situation, they will insist on everything being done the way they want it to be done, whether it is right or not.

This Awareness indicates that many times these entities who have to be in control on everything are really insecure because of their childhood experiences of living in a situation wherein there is so much confusion or so much that is out of control. Often this is referred to as a child from a dysfunctional family, and the child grows up to seek to control the environment and everyone around. It makes them feel more secure.

This Awareness indicates that sometimes you can pamper such entities by letting them have the control they want, but if it is too much, too often, too long, and the entity does not have an understanding of a particular situation, then it is not always proper to let that entity keep control in a situation that is not clear to the entity.

For example, an entity who has controlled everyone, but now moves into a situation they have never had any experience with. Perhaps a war starts, and the entity has no understanding of war, but the entity wants to be in control and wants to order people around, and she starts telling one person: "Do this! Do that! Go get a bucket of water! We need to take water with us! Go get your clothes! Put your shoes on! Get this! Get that!" when in actuality it may be more important that they just run to some kind of shelter somewhere, as quickly as possible, and if the entity does not have the experience to let them be a leader in a situation in which they are inexperienced, that kind of control could be deathly to others, and therefore, there needs to be someone who takes the control away from the entity.

This Awareness indicates it can be difficult, and therefore, entities who are given too much control just because they feel more secure in having control, are not necessarily being helped, for there can be situations in which that attitude can be extremely detrimental to them. This Awareness indicates likewise, the entity who is the wide-eyed wonder and who never wants to take responsibility, can also find times in which this can be detrimental to them. They may not always have someone around who can tell them what to do, and they have not necessarily learned how to think through on situations and therefore, they may find themselves alone and unable to figure out what to do because they have always left it up to someone else.

Questions to Ask the Wide-Eyed Person

This Awareness indicates the wide-eyed person who seems to go through life without ever really growing up is easily influenced by a strong person who likes to take charge or to control, and therefore, they can also get themselves into difficulties if they are too easily manipulated by the controlling type person.

This Awareness indicates it could be helpful for entities in dealing with the wide-eyed naive person who never wants to take responsibility, to give the entity a certain amount of responsibility or just to ask them "Well, what would you do in a case like this?" and ask them to answer your question: "What do you think we should do?" so that they have to at least think a little bit about the situation, and then when they tell you what they would do, ask them to please clarify: "Why would you do it that way?"

This will help them begin to think and take on some personal responsibility for thinking rather than just letting others do their thinking for them.

TACHYON ENERGY: HOW DOES IT DIFFER FROM MAGNETIC HEALING ENERGY?

QUESTION:

A question from Debilyn Gardner in NYC. She writes: "Tachyon energy seems to really give the right energy for healing. I had lower back pain due to the menstrual cycle, and after wearing the Tachyon Belt for ten minutes, there was no more pain. It is a technology out of Japan that employs complex space-age technology that has taken scientists 18 years to develop and refine.

"The material used is from special patented high-tech composites called optimum resonant materials, ORMS, which are costly to manufacture. It never wears out its energy, because somehow it focuses universal energy rather than having its own. The question is: How does this tachyon energy differ from magnetic energy for healing?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this tachyon energy is the same energy that is emitted from pyramids. This Awareness indicates it is an energy that can be understood as related to a kind of vortex energy or energy that is similar to orgone energy. This Awareness indicates it is different from magnetic energy in that magnetic energy tends to work on the iron in the blood, and helps by aligning the polarities in the blood.

The tachyon energy is that which works on the aura of the body or the life force in the body. It enhances that life force energy.

This Awareness suggests the Interpreter be brought from trance.

Thank you. (The Law of Gratitude is given)

Pictured is Rodger Degagne of Chalk River, Ontario, Canada and his female cat "Snowball" who measures 69 inches from nose to tail and weighs in at 87 pounds. Snowball is 9 years old, and not fat, she's just a big kitty. 15 years ago he befriended two stray kittens he named "Lost" and "Found" which he coaxed out from under a security fence on an abandoned AECL lab site nearby. From them a litter of kittens was born, "Snowball" being one of them. Snowball was a big kitten with unique black markings on her side and tail and she just kept growing, Rodger explained. She always mewed for more food. Chicken is her favorite; also pike and she always accompanies Rodger on the river when he goes fishing. She is not afraid of animals; her first encounter with the neighbor's big German shepherd send him yelping away. What does an 87 pound cat eat? Snowball goes through about 3 pounds of cat food a day, along with cooked chicken, supplemented with deer and moose. Rodger hunts in the fall. The vet thinks Snowball's thyroid might be the reason for its unusual size, except she isn't fat. Rodger suspects her parents, "Lost" and "Found" got into something in the Lab that they shouldn't have.

Jehovah Witnesses, Mormons and Masons— Are they all Reptoid Oriented?

(CAC General Reading # 7-6 --7-26-95)

Question:

Rasma K., St. Cloud, Minn., in a letter, wrote a rather interesting theory. She wasn't particularly posing it as a question to Awareness, but I'd sort of like to read it and ask Awareness to comment. She writes: "Tonight I watched a John Ankerberg program explaining the beliefs of Jehovah's Witnesses, Freemasons and Mormons.

"I was astonished about the weird ideas people believe in the 20th Century, however the more I thought about it, the clearer it became. These are all Reptoid generated ideas to suit their purposes.

"For instance, the Mormon teaching that each married couple will go to heaven and have their own planet to be a God and a Goddess and populate their planet, for the women to be eternally pregnant; this idea seems to me as for raising humans as livestock for food and work force on some other planet.

"The Jehovah's Witnesses are indeed binding themselves to material levels and becoming obedient, devoted and happy to be slaves to Jehovah, and the Jehovah are Reptoid-type beings, are they not?

"The Masons I see as the overseers; well-trained, highly skilled, deeply programmed to manipulate the earth/human population according to the design of the ET masters, while deceiving the people about their benevolent actions."

Would Awareness comment about her theory?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is some substance to these ideas. This Awareness suggests that the entity, or entities wishing to pursue these concepts further may find that the book Gods of Eden can be helpful, for these concepts related to that which is the Gods of Eden book are discussed as aliens influencing the origin of religion on earth from that which might be termed "Eden," or the Tigris/Euphrates civilization where the entity Zecharia Sitchin points out that civilization began with the teachings of extraterrestrials.

This Awareness indicates that this influence of the priests in the early teachings following Sumeria created a secret priesthood that carried, down through the ages, the extraterrestrial philosophy or religious teachings that was designed to help hold the civilizations together through a belief system.

Mystery Schools Evolved to Templars, Masons, Jehovah's Witness

This led to that which later was referred to as the "secret schools" and as the "mystery schools," some of which were said to be underground, where entities would go into caves to study or to have their experiences, and this eventually led to that which was termed the Templars, or Knights of Templar, which eventually evolved into Masonry, which in turn spawned the Jehovah's Witness groups or that which is the Watchtower and the Filmore family, which developed the Jehovah's Witness organization.

This Awareness indicates that the Filmore founders did have connections into Masonry and were supported by Masonry, and those who have been also founders and originators of concepts that have led to the idea of a New World Order or One World government.

Mormonism Philosophy Built on False Claims

This Awareness indicates that the Mormon philosophy or religion evolved from a somewhat different, more independent origin based on claims that have been shown to be false, such as the finding of certain "gold tablets" by Joseph Smith; that these have been historically proven as invalid claims, but the church continues to promote the teaching.

This Awareness indicates that it appears that about ten years ago this made news on national television, on the various network news channels: CBS, NBC and ABC news broadcasts, but once having been presented as an expose of the origins of the Mormon Church, it was then quietly forgotten and the Mormon church carried on as if it had never been broadcast, and of course, most entities forget or fail to reconsider the news of its fraudulent beginnings, and the church continues.

It is as though someone were to create a story to market to the masses and is exposed, but ignored the expose and continues marketing, and no one does anything further, so the marketing reaches new people who are not familiar with the expose and the business continues in spite of the fraudulent aspects being exposed.

This Awareness indicates that the book Gods Of Eden goes into this historical background of religion as it evolved from the extraterrestrial origins. If entities wish to look still further into the Christian religion, for example, you can find works that show its origin as dating back to the mother of all religions, which is essentially astrology.

There Were 16 Crucified Saviors Before Christianity Began

The reason the Christian religion is so much opposed to astrology is because astrology spawned the various religions which Christianity plagiarized. This Awareness indicates that there are historically sixteen crucified saviors whose religions tell the story of Christ before Christianity. They have essentially the same story, using somewhat different names. Even Old Testament stories in the Old Testament Bible are in majority plagiarized versions of earlier writings from earlier cultures.

This Awareness indicates that this information has been well-researched and is available for entities who can look at writings from books that predate Christianity and find verses lifted from earlier texts and documents and put directly into the New Testament or the Old Testament with hardly any change whatsoever. Occasionally there will be a change in the names of the persons.

Stories from earlier cultures being plagiarized into the Old Testament or New Testament make the Bible very profound because the stories of the ancient cultures predating Christianity or the Old Testament were in themselves very profound, but some of these stories, when rewritten for the early Christian era will have also references to things that occurred in contemporary society with the Christian story as it was being formulated.

This Awareness indicates that It would like to direct, influence or persuade the Interpreter to work on a document compiling this information, or if not, then compiling the sources where others can find such information so that the readers, the people who read these messages can have a more complete access to these early sources. This Awareness does wish to point out that the book 16 Crucified Saviors Before Christianity is available through CAC and entities can order this if they so wish to explore this information to that degree.

There are still other works available which the Interpreter can assist in finding, in locating or in compiling. The Interpreter has spent approximately four years studying this kind of information and some astrology, so that he does have a good background from which to draw and which can be shared with the membership, and this Awareness wishes that he would help compile the information to make it available for those who wish to research this further.

Ed's Note: Awareness once advised the Interpreter to compile this information into a book called "Christianity in the New Age." So far the book has failed to materialize. As for compiling works on the early religions, the Interpreter is not the only person who knows about these books, CAC has done its own research in this area and these books can be found in our Book Price List, listed under Books Relating to Jesus and also under Books on UFO's and the Alien Presence. These include the works of Zecharia Sitchin and William Bramley's "The Gods of Eden."

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF QUAKER LEADERS BEING BAPTIZED AND BOUND INTO "MORMON HEAVEN"

QUESTION:

In regard to Mormons, in the July issue of Friends Journal, an entity by the name of Mary Lou Mills writes the following letter to the editor. "That the Mormons have baptized the Jewish holocaust victims into Mormon heaven has been well publicized. Now comes news that they have also baptized Shakespeare and Churchill. Could the Journal please check whether George Fox, Margaret Fell, William Penn, Lucretia Mott, and others of our deceased Quaker free spirits have been baptized and bound into Mormon heaven? This friend is uneasy!" she writes.

And I'd like to ask, is being "bound into Mormon heaven," is that nonsense? Or will this actually affect the entities she mentioned?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is essentially a meaningless claim. It is simply something that entities may or may not believe. It would have little actual effect on the souls of these entities. This Awareness indicates that it is likened unto someone saying, "I place Abraham Lincoln in the lap of Jesus!" This Awareness indicates that the thought may be good to those who are of the Christian religion and possibly even to those who are Republicans, to think of Abraham Lincoln, a good Republican, sitting in the lap of Jesus, but in actuality, who is it that does this? By what authority? And how much power does this entity have in doing what he claims to have done?

This Awareness indicates it is not something to concern oneself with. It is simply someone uttering some statement in the hopes of impressing his or her peers.

"THE TWO WITNESSES" IN THE BOOK OF REVELATION

QUESTION:

Peter K. of Santa Barbara, California, writes: "Regarding the "two witnesses" in the Book Of Revelation, has these energies been transmuted? Are the two such beings to come into our midst, or is it largely allegorical, with the "witnesses" being two aspects of the Triune Self as described in Thinking And Destiny by Percival?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is the allegorical version. This Awareness indicates that the "two witnesses" being the conscious or subconscious, the middle self or lower self of the Huna philosophy, or the two aspects of the Triune self which Percival describes.

This Awareness indicates that the concept of a witness is simply that of an observer, wherein one observes something and the observation of something, some experience, is the effect of something being witnessed.

This Awareness indicates that this relates to the idea of something having been made part of the record, if it were witnessed. The tree falls in an area where no one hears it or sees it. There is no record of the falling tree. This Awareness indicates if someone is there to hear it or see it fall, then it has been witnessed and there is evidence.

"The Beast" is an Entity's Rational Mind

This Awareness indicates that the "two witnesses" refer to aspects of oneself for the Book of Revelation essentially is a discussion of the aspects of oneself, the "Beast" being one's own rational mind. This Awareness indicates the intuitive mind being likened unto the bride, and the Christ Mind or the Higher Self, or Divine Consciousness, Christ Consciousness, being that which in the Book of Revelation is described as the return of the Christ.

This Awareness indicates the seven seals relating to the seven chakras, and so forth. The mark on the forehead actually, in its allegorical meaning, refers to the name or number which is the essence or numbing part of an entity's identity. You are numbed by your identify. You are not free. You are numbed, or numbered. You are named and the name is essentially a reference to your essence.

This Awareness indicates that when an entity eventually overcomes self-identity or moves beyond self, the entity can become more free to be spirit, to be One with Divinity, One with God, but if you have a self to promote, it is likened unto being part of the Beast system.

This Awareness indicates that this is the esoteric approach to deciphering the Book Of Revelation. This Awareness indicates there are also exoteric versions which have to do with external prophecy concepts or ideas as is common among preachers and religious leaders, or religious students.

This Awareness indicates of course, there are also those entities who are socially engineering the world and who use the Biblical Book Of Revelation to serve as a pattern because they think people will accept it as inevitable if whatever social engineering they create follows the Book of Revelation. They do not expect as much resistance if it follows the Book Of Revelation.

Much of Book of Revelations Comes From the Book of Daniel

This Awareness indicates that much in the Book Of Revelation is simply taken from the Book Of Daniel; the Book of Daniel being from earlier writings, in earlier cultures prior to the writing of the Book of Revelation and even prior to the writing of the Old Testament, for Daniel was lifted from earlier cultures.

This Awareness indicates that many of these teachings relate back to those early mystery schools which this Awareness spoke of in the previous question.

DOES AWARENESS CODE ITS MESSAGES?

(Can Only Certain entities understand them?)

QUESTION:

Paul R., Reading, PA., writes "Some of the things that Awareness has said over the years about these questions (he was referring to philosophy, and particularly the Essenes and Christianity) I feel were deliberately coded, and only those who could understand would hear. Perhaps that could be another question to Awareness. "Are any of the Awareness messages coded in some way so that only certain of us can understand?" Perhaps I am wrong on this. I don't know."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does not intend to hide information in code. This Awareness intends, however, to give as much truth as entities can accept, when It gives information, and much of the information It gives can be in the form of allegory or symbolism, so that if one person hears the message in reference to seven chakras, for example, that entity may get a certain message from this, but when this Awareness speaks of a seven-headed serpent, It may be referring to the same thing as the seven chakras, without explaining this.

The Seven Chakras Have Various Symbolic Meanings

This Awareness indicates that It does attempt, from time to time, to show that some of these various symbolism are speaking of the same thing. In the Orient it is the seven-headed serpent. In the West it is the seven chakras, but they are essentially the same thing.

You can also equate it to the seven notes of the musical scale: the "Do Re Me Fah Sol Lah Ti Do" musical scale, and recognize it in the form of vibrations. This Awareness indicates that the seven chakras each have a certain vibratory quality in relationship to each other in the same way that the scale: "Do Re Me Fah Sol Lah Ti Do" have their relationship to one another.

This Awareness indicates that the reason this Awareness does not get into extreme detail on everything, constantly explaining all of these symbols, is because it would become too lengthy and too complex, and too redundant. Therefore, this Awareness simply gives information in one level, or one level of explanation when responding to a question, but may, in other questions, refer to other levels of explanation so that entities who grasped the first symbolic answer should have the memory to be able to apply it to a second symbolic answer if they so desire.

This Awareness indicates of course the seven days of the week are also a reflection of the seven chakras and the musical scale, or the seven-headed serpent. There are many things which are obvious which this Awareness does not always point out because it would become too complex. But this Awareness does not seek to hide information from entities through code.

When Awareness Speaks of "The Christ Consciousness"

This Awareness indicates that when It speaks of Christ or Jesus in terms of some answers, It is speaking of the story as traditionally given through the New Testament and through religious teachings. When It speaks in other questions in another context, It will discuss it as the true energy that is being spoken of in the myth of Christianity, for this Awareness has indicated before, many times, that the Christ Consciousness is essentially the higher frequencies in the universe as a kind of energy or consciousness, or light frequency, rather than a personified being.

"Christ" is a kind of term to describe what the New Testament calls the "Word". "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God", and the reflection of that vibration known as the "Word" was the Christ, the Son of God, the reflection of God, the original frequency or vibration from which all other vibrations have come.

This Awareness indicates that if this is code, it is not intended to be code, for this Awareness has spent many messages trying to explain and clarify these concepts and use symbols in order to convey broad understanding according to an entity's ability to understand. The actual Christian story is symbolically told, but it is not explained as to what the symbols represent in the Biblical traditional sense, and this Awareness has attempted to explain these traditional symbols in ways that modern persons can understand them.

Awareness Is Decoding the Symbolism of the New Testament

A child is not going to understand messages from this Awareness, but a child could understand the messages as presented in the New Testament. Therefore, this Awareness is essentially decoding the symbolism of the New Testament so that adults with thinking minds can get the real meaning out of the coded symbolism of the New Testament. If anything, that is what this Awareness seeks to do: decode many of the mysteries that have been hidden from modern man through the work of ancient priests, who would themselves understand these symbolisms but who told and spoke in terms of symbols to others.

Symbology of the "Prodigal Son" Perceived Differently

This Awareness indicates that in other words, a priest who creates some symbolic story will have a totally different understanding of what is being said. The Prodigal Son story will mean something quite different to the priest than it does to the layman. The layman takes it literally about the son going out and eventually coming back to his father, but the priest sees this as the individual who leaves his Divine Father, goes out into the world, becomes involved in sinful behavior and then returns to the Father.

This Awareness indicates they are the same story, but they are perceived differently, according to the symbolic understanding or lack thereof.

Symbology is the Key to Spiritual Evolution?

QUESTION:

In regard to symbology, a question from Mario M., NYC. He writes: "As we get closer to the Photon Belt and the Christ Energy gets stronger, I feel more and more in tune with energies of archetypes, especially symbology. Symbology is the key to spiritual evolution, and this symbology has been kept secret or distorted from the masses by the Illuminati to maintain the state of ignorance so prevalent right now in the world.

"I firmly believe that an eager and free mind that encounters the right symbology can give a great leap in evolution of mind and spirit. Many of the symbologies from the traditional occult lines or traditions of the West are purposely incomplete, and there are many books, but they all lack the "key" element.

"Recently Mr. Sitchin and other are opening up the fields of symbology by comparing the actual events with the legends, myths and symbologies and vice versa. I want to ask Awareness to suggest the best book on symbology for the spiritual evolution of earth humans It can think about. Symbology in the proper mind and soul is a powerful healing and acceleration."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to cheer this entity for a well-stated analysis and understanding of the situation. This Awareness indicates that It cannot truly give you the book that you seek, for there is nothing quite available yet, however there is a book Cirlot's Dictionary of Symbols which can be very helpful in deciphering symbols.

This entity spent much time putting together symbols which allow entities to look up the meaning of a certain symbol and have a definition or discussion provided. This Awareness indicates that this does not necessarily work like a textbook on symbols, but it does help you to find a meaning of various symbols that you may wish to better understand and decipher.

Symbols in Astrology Books Should be Studied

This Awareness indicates that entities who wish to study symbolism can do quite well in studying the symbolic meaning found in astrological training books, wherein the signs are deciphered as to their meanings;

the planets, the angles and so forth. This is one set of symbols that applies to so many levels that you will find almost a lifetime of benefit from studying the symbolism of astrology.

This Awareness indicates also the Tarot cards can give you great meaning of symbols. Also, looking at some of the Biblical stories, and looking at them not as though they were literal fact, but were symbolic in meaning can be helpful. This Awareness indicates that all of the various religions around the world have certain symbolic meanings.

Train Your Mind to Look for Symbols

This Awareness suggests in other words, symbols are everywhere, and it is simply a matter of training your own mind not to be satisfied only with words and alphabet and sentences, but also to look for symbols. This Awareness indicates that many entities can read a story and find it symbolic; others can read the story and see nothing symbolic at all. They do not even consider it as having any symbol involved.

Many entities can see a situation and find it symbolic; that there is something more here being taught rather than just the essence of what is happening. This Awareness indicates that many entities recognize the eternal symbol as a kind of concept that can be applied to many situations in life for deeper understanding of those situations. Others do not see this in any way.

Some will say "My father did this and that," without seeing that there is something symbolic in the fact that this entity in the way he is seen is a father. If the entity ever were to think in terms of the relationship one has with his earthly father in comparison with the relationship one has with his heavenly father, there might be some symbolic linkage that gives him an insight into why this, or why that became part of their behavior or attitude toward their father.

This Awareness indicates that some entities have a good relationship with their earthly father and tend also to have a good relationship with their heavenly father. Others will have a bad relationship with their earthly father and have a kind of subconscious hostility toward the heavenly father.

Is there a reason? Is there something that links these two attitudes together? Can a person become hostile toward God because the father, the earthly father was hostile to them, or they felt hostility and resentment to their earthly father? Did they simply transfer from earthly father to God?

With Symbols You Can Better Analyze Your Life

This Awareness indicates these are things that entities in understanding symbolism can examine, but you can't examine things about yourself if you do not see the symbolism involved in these things. If you see the symbolism, you have a whole new language, a whole new level of thinking that allows you to look more deeply at things in your life, to analyze your own thinking, to analyze your own way of being. It simply presents to you a different level of speaking or thinking or reading.

This Awareness indicates you read symbols just as the child reads words. You do not lose your ability to read words, but you gain in your ability to read symbols, and your intellect increases, and gives you greater insight, far beyond that which the reading of words alone can give you.

Symbols Give You a Third Dimensional Mind

This Awareness indicates the use of words alone in thinking is likened unto a two-dimensional mind. When symbols are added as part of your thinking tools, you have a three-dimensional mind. This Awareness indicates that one person may say, "I am not interested in symbolism. I am not interested in psychology or anything to do with the meanings behind things. I simply want to know what is going on in terms of surface level reality!" and this entity feels that they are being very practical.

The symbolism, and all of that stuff, is vague, is nebulous, is foggy, is like living in a state of drugged mysticism. They do not see anything solid in it, and therefore, they are satisfied with the simplicity of words, the shallow meaning of things, and this is the world they want. These people are two-dimensional in their thinking.

Ouspensky's Insight on Looking at a Lamp

There is some benefit of this. They are likened unto the person living in bliss because they are ignorant, and ignorance is bliss. This Awareness indicates that the entity P.D. Ouspensky spoke of the difference in the way the mind works for some entities. The two-dimensional mind will look at a lamp and it will say "This is a lamp! It can be used to turn on the light."

A three-dimensional mind will see that this is not only a lamp, "It is a group of atoms arranged in such a way through clay that has been taken from the ground, brought together, put into a shape which is arranged in such a way as to raise the bulb to allow it to shine down when it is turned on. And this lamp represents the work of many people who gathered the clay. It represents the work of many forces that created the clay. It represents the work of people who created the shade, and the work of many people who created the dam that makes the electricity that powers the filament that produces the light which shines down upon my book."

This Awareness indicates that this entity will have, of course, a much greater appreciation and understanding of the lamp than does the person who simply sees it as a thing that can be turned on or turned off. Does this make one person more shallow and less appreciative? Indeed it does.

The entity who thinks more deeply and understands more of the effort and substance that goes into something has a greater appreciation and a greater respect for the lamp. The entity who simply sees it as a thing that turns on or turns off, is bought at the store and can be thrown away; this entity would perhaps just as soon break the lamp, throw it away and expect someone to buy a new one.

The Difference Between the Shallow and the Deeper Mind

This entity is much more shallow. His life has less meaning. His attitude, his level of respect for things and for others is much less. This Awareness indicates the deeper an entity can think and perceive, the greater the quality the entity has in terms of respecting others, respecting things, respecting life, respecting nature, et cetera. The lamp would be more appreciated by the entity who sees what goes into it.

This Awareness indicates when this first mind, the shallow mind, the two-dimensional mind looks at a person and says, "Wow! She really impresses me!" and the second person and says, "Wow! She really impresses me!"-- which of these two minds really is appreciative? And how much do you think the first mind is appreciative compared to that of the second mind? And which one is really appreciative of the person?

They may say the same thing, but one is simply appreciative of the surface level; the way the hair has been done, or the way the makeup has been placed on the face, and perhaps the stance, the stature and the clothing--the outer surface. The second person in showing appreciation, who has a mind that sees more than a surface level of a lamp, will see the character of the person, will see the quality and the training that this entity has developed over the years to present herself in such a way as to be truly magnificent.

Which of these entities has the greatest amount of true appreciation? This Awareness indicates that of course the entity herself, when looking back at these two admirers will soon discover who is shallow, and who is deep in terms of true sensitivity and true respect.

This Awareness indicates in other words, it can have an effect on your life if you are shallow or if you are more deeply feeling and sensitive, if you are capable of deeper respect.

This Awareness indicates that as it is in this case, it also will be in other things in your life. The person whose mind is capable of seeing more deeply, appreciating more, is going to have greater opportunities throughout life than the one whose mind settles on the surface level, the shallow, the facade of things.

This Awareness indicates that not only does it benefit you to be able to think with a new level of thought such as symbolism, but it also gives you greater appreciation of things that are more deep in terms of quality, in terms of symbolic value. One who can appreciate the opera, the work of some poet, or the work of some beautiful composition is going to enjoy more in life than the one who has become fixated on the Country-Western songs, or the puppet shows or cartoons in the funny papers, which generally are entertaining to shallow minds.

This Awareness indicates there are some entities who have deep minds who still enjoy some of those shallow comics, but for the most part, those who have shallow minds cannot enjoy the deeper stories; the stories in the music, the opera, or whatever is beyond their comprehension, beyond their appreciation, and they miss out on much that is beautiful in life because their mind is too shallow. Their feelings are too shallow. Their emotions are too shallow.

This Awareness does not condemn entities for being shallow. It pities entities who are shallow. This Awareness expects this from children, but expects entities, as they mature, to gain greater depth, greater understanding, and to think more deeply and this Awareness suggests that understanding symbols is a very important part of maturing to deeper levels of spiritual expression, for the deeper understanding of symbols is likened unto learning another language of a higher order.

Most entities do not think of having to learn to read twice. The learning to read words is one thing, but learning to read symbols is a leap, a quantum leap into a much higher language.

THE COSMIC AWARENESS SYMBOLIC LANGUAGE PROJECT (Has It Any Pertinence Today?)

QUESTION:

Would there be any benefit at all to republish the symbolic language and symbols that Awareness gave through the Interpreter Ralph Duby?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does not see this as ever having been what was essentially intended. The symbols are not universal in nature. They were more specific to the group. It would have provided the group with symbols that could have been used for personal communications through telepathy, but it was likened unto a specific language for that group. It was not a universal language that was represented by symbols, even though the symbols did have certain universal titles or definitions.

This Awareness indicates that they could be beneficial if they became more universal or wide-spread in their application, but this does not appear to be anything likely to occur. This Awareness suggests rather, that the symbols that have been in operation for hundreds, even thousands of years, are the symbols that this Awareness suggests entities become aware of. The symbol of mother or motherhood is the kind of symbol this Awareness speaks of.

This Awareness indicates that you hear people speak of motherhood, mother nature, or the Divine Mother, referring to the concept of nurturing, that which gives nutrition or nurturing to an entity. This Awareness indicates you hear of father, the father as a creator, the father as a provider, the father as one who directs or gives guidance. These are symbols that have been used in the same way for eons of time.

This Awareness indicates the child; the child is a symbol of promise for the future. It is a symbol for innocence and purity. You think of the Christ Child and you think of purity and promise, and everyone who has a child sees the hope of the future in that child. These are the kind of symbols this Awareness speaks of.

Then there are the symbols that help the entities to understand certain concepts, certain relationships, certain ideas, and these are often found in certain fields of study. As indicated, astrology is totally a symbolic science. It is an art-science. It is art because nothing is absolutely fixed. It is not likened unto a mechanical science. It does have its areas which are mathematical and precise, but the precise mathematics of astrology are only a small part of the art; the art of interpreting those different symbols, adding one symbol to another, subtracting another, dividing by another symbol.

When you deal with astrology you deal with qualities. When you deal with math you deal with quantities. You have two different kinds of sciences or arts. Thus the art-science of astrology cannot be classed as a hard science. It is simply an artistic science, a psychic science; a science of the mind adding qualities together.

This Awareness indicates that when entities learn to add or subtract symbols they have a better appreciation for what astrology or the Tarot or other psychic sciences really are. This Awareness indicates that entities in the hard sciences, such as the science of space travel, would have very little room or respect for any artistic hunches. Giving something your best guess as was suggested by the Doctor, when speaking to Spock in Star Trek, would not be acceptable to a person in hard science.

This Awareness indicates that there are times when you do not have the hard science data necessary and you have to give it your best guess, your best shot. You cannot have the full data on everything to make an exact decision or exact science of something. Astrology is such a field, where there are no absolute hard facts in some of the areas that are necessary for deducing the meaning.

This Awareness indicates you may know precisely where certain planets are in relation to each other, but you will still have to guess at what the qualities of the symbols mean when you add those symbolic meanings together. This Awareness indicates that this is something that develops; a kind of psychic intuition. It works with the right side of the brain more than with the rational left side of the brain, which can be much more mathematic and precise.

SOLARA SAYS 7TH FREQUENCY, NIDLE SAYS 5TH—WHO IS RIGHT?

QUESTION:

Another question from Mario in NY. "In the book, Starborn by Solara, it is mentioned that in the year 2011, the human race will ascend or shift to the 7th dimensional frequency, whereas the book, You are Becoming A Galactic Human mentions the 5th density of dimensional frequency. Does this mean that something has changed in the plan, or that this process is being constantly adjusted as humanity transforms?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this means the two authors are not in agreement as to which density or level of consciousness or dimension humanity is entering into. This Awareness indicates that this is all a matter of arbitrary assessment because there is no one out there that has a standard or ruler by which they have standardized the different dimensions.

There is no one who has decided that the different dimensions are numbered in accordance with such and such, a standardized ruler, and therefore, one entity can say, "This is the 5th Density!" and another can say, "This is the 7th Density!" and there is no reference book. There is no library, there is no government agency that has researched and found which density is which.

No One Knows What a Density Really Is

Each of these entities simply has a different way of classifying the different dimensions. This is why it is sometimes quite impossible for this Awareness to discuss densities when no one knows what they are talking about and no one knows what a density really is, or which density is operating where.

This Awareness indicates it is likened unto people discussing the thickness of water in the ocean and wanting to know: "What density is the water here? What density is the water there?" for no one has ever measured to find out how deep or how much pressure, or how much temperature the different places have so as to create a standard scale by which to measure these things.

All one can say in such a situation is, "Well, it's pretty dense!" Or perhaps, "It's not so dense here!" This Awareness indicates that it is important for entities not to get too hung up on numbers that are being thrown around by different authors. Each of these authors is simply trying to write a book with certain concepts being explained, and once in awhile they will come up with some number, according to something that they, in their own mind or own thinking may have perceived as being a way of measuring.

This Awareness indicates, for example, the Interpreter has spent some time for himself in formulating a measurement of how deep he is in trance. His level of trance depth could be quite beneficial for him to measure how deep he is in trance, but someone else might go into trance, and hearing that the Interpreter's normal level of trance reading is somewhere between 9 and 11 on a scale of 12; this person might say, "Oh! I don't want to do readings at 9 or 11! I want to do readings at 15!"

This Awareness indicates therefore the entity would say that he or she was in a level of trance at 15. This is perceived by the entity as much deeper than that of the present Interpreter, and therefore, the entity feels that he has gone into deeper levels of trance. This Awareness indicates that 15 for that entity simply could be 8 for the present Interpreter, so these numbers are not necessarily of any value whatsoever. They are simply arbitrary for each individual in accordance with the way they measure things to satisfy themselves.

THREE WAVES OF "ASCENSION"—WHEN WAS THE FIRST?

QUESTION:

Mario has one last question. I suspect the answer Awareness just gave will also apply to this. He says: "This question regards some information from page 10 of the magazine Sedona, Journal of Emergence, and it refers to what the entity Yahweh through channel Arthur Fanning, on April 21, 1995, answered to the question: "There have been a lot of rumors about three waves of ascension. Is that still holding true? When was the first one?"

"The answer was that "The first wave was in 1993. The second one in 1996, and the third one in 1999." My actual question to Awareness is: "How do you perceive this, and what percentage of humanity ascended in 1993, and what percentage is expected to ascend in 1996 and 1999?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the question refers to terms that have not been defined, and therefore, cannot be clearly answered. What is meant by "ascension"? The entity who presented this information may have a particular meaning, but has not conveyed the meaning of the word 'ascension'. Does it have something to do with rising a little bit in consciousness? Or simply disappearing from earth as the body levitates to heaven? Or does it have something to do with dissolving into space while one's body bursts into light?

There are many different ways to interpret the word "ascension," and there is also the question of whether the ascension of the past occurred in any of those ways, or if this even occurred at all. This Awareness indicates that the group to which an ascension allegedly occurred in the past perhaps had a slight spiritual increase, and one might compare it to putting yeast in bread, where the bread rises a little and one who ascends in the future might have some greater ascension or insight which develops so that it can compare to the yeast being put into bread to cause it to rise even more than the first.

This Awareness indicates that these have to do with terms and concepts that have no standard of reference by which entities can measure the meanings, and therefore, the answers cannot be truly and meaningfully delivered. It is a kind of thing that requires your best guess.

This Awareness indicates that when spiritual channels give that kind of information that cannot be clarified in terms of meaningful responses, it is of little real value other than whatever feels good from the answer. To get specific is pointless because there is nothing specific in the formula or equation that one can deal with.

WHY DO SOME BELIEVE EVERYTHING THEY READ IN A NEW AGE PUBLICATION?

(Some Publications Should be More Careful of what they publish)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Over the years this Solara has hyped a lot of this ascension type stuff and created days where she said that these days would become very significant because she said so, I suppose, and people energize them, and actually nothing of substance ever really happens with that; and I'm constantly amazed by people with good minds who should know better, who send in questions and write statements like it was the Gospel truth because they read it in some New Age magazine and it was channeled by somebody or some thing, and they take this to be the Gospel and so forth.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entities may be sending it in just to get some statement that clarifies it. Perhaps they had the feeling that it was a strange message to begin with and needed clarification. This Awareness indicates that it is presented in print in a magazine that costs money and entities may wonder: "How can this kind of stuff be printed when it is so vague?" and perhaps they simply want to know, "what is going on here?" This Awareness indicates that it is not that they should know better than to look at this and question it, it is that the entities who put their money into this to publish it should look more carefully at what they are putting out, to see if it really has enough substance to be worthy of publication.

This Awareness indicates, however, not everything that is published can always be worthy of publication. There are many times messages given through this channel through these readings that could be classified as not that important or as being somewhat vague, and this Awareness indicates it is the mass of material that needs to be weighed and balanced as to whether it is worthy of publication, not every word or every small message.

Perhaps the Solarian material for the most part has considerable value to many entities.

WORKING WITH DREAMS TO LESSEN INSTANT KARMA?

QUESTION:

Tom K., Santa Clara, California, writes: "Awareness' comments that in the approaching higher dimension, karma will be instant, brought a question to mind. I wonder if dreams could be a tool for working out things in our subconscious which we might otherwise have to face more uncomfortably when we actually experience instant karma? If this is feasible, would Awareness please suggest a way of working with dreams to this end?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the dreams will work with you, unless you have some special way of taking control of your dreams. This Awareness indicates that there are certain devices that entities promote as allowing you to have more control over your dreams, but these do not appear to this Awareness to really have much substance.

This Awareness indicates that these devices appear to work with the rapid eye movement, whereby, when one starts to dream, a light comes on, and the light shines through the eyelid to the dreamer to inform the dreamer that they are now starting to dream, and this is supposed to give the dreamer some edge for control of the dream, allowing the dreamer to become consciously aware that he or she is dreaming.

This Awareness indicates that this may work for some entities. This is not a widespread device. It may be quite difficult to find such a device. It has been advertised in certain circles or certain magazines dealing with devices of this type, devices for mind control. One would simply have to look for such types of catalogues if one wished to pursue such a device.

This Awareness suggests, however, it could well be a waste of money and time for most entities. This Awareness indicates in most cases entities' dreams respond to their own subconscious needs, to work out certain emotions and concerns that the conscious level has allowed to filter into subconscious levels.

This Awareness indicates as to the use of the subconscious or dreamstate for working out karma in order to avoid instant karma later, it does not appear to be of great significance or benefit to exert such effort or energy. This Awareness indicates it is a matter of the ratio of return for the energy spent is not effective or efficient. This Awareness suggests you just wait until you enter into that dimension in which instant karma becomes a part of your reality and you will find yourself quickly learning and adapting to the new reality.

Forget Working Dreams. Just Go Off-Duty?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

It's always seemed to be in the areas of sleep projects or dream projects or such that for most of us, we're trying to do the best we can with development or whatever, when you're conscious during the day, that it's best just to go totally off-duty at night and just let it all go.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. That is the purpose of sleep. That is the purpose of relaxation, so that you can simply let go and let things happen in the dream state that need to happen. Trying to maintain control during the dream state would simply create, for the most part, disruptive sleep.

Does Melatonin Help Remember Dreams?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

We've been lately taking a Melatonin pill on those nights when the head won't stop, and you know you need sleep, and I usually fall asleep pretty quickly, and seem to remember my dreams a little better on this stuff. Is there any reason we shouldn't use Melatonin?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears to have other secondary values that may disrupt some of the other functioning in your system. This Awareness suggests that if you can give yourself a break from the use of this, in a similar way as those using GH3, such as one week off a month, it appears that this would be satisfactory, or perhaps two days in seven, or you may choose taking off one day every three or four days of use.

WHY ARE ALL THE DOGWOOD TREES DYING ON EAST COAST?

QUESTION:

A question from R.P. B., Ewing, NJ. This is a question he's sent in before and we never asked it, so he's sending it again. He writes: "All of the native dogwood trees along the East coast of the country are dying. The nurserymen call it a blight, meaning that they do not know what is causing the death, or what measures to take to halt the problem. I have on separate occasions sprayed my dogwood trees with dormant oil, insecticidal soap and diluted Vitamin C. Can Awareness comment and offer help?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be related to certain acids that have fallen in the soil and which have changed the environment of the plant in terms of its nutritional needs. It does not appear to be a fungus or insect, but appears to have some effect on the roots, causing them not to draw the nutrients they need.

This Awareness indicates it is not clear where this acid has come from. It appears it may be related to a kind of acid-rain like problem, although it may not be found in the rain itself. It appears it may simply have come in the atmosphere, from soot and other substances emitted in the air from factories which fall upon the ground and which have an effect upon the nutrition in the ground and which, over time, have affected the dogwood trees more than other vegetation.

This Awareness indicates it does not appear to be related to the ozone layer or other similar concerns about the atmosphere. It appears to be something in the ground that has developed over long periods of time.

Wrapping a Copper Wire Around the Trunk May Help

This Awareness indicates that there is seen a benefit in wrapping a copper wire around the trunk of the tree or around the limbs of the tree. If you feel the wire might become a target for vandals, then this Awareness suggests you place the wire up around the main limbs or branches of the tree. Otherwise, you may place the wire around the trunk of the tree.

This Awareness suggests this be placed in a spiraling action rather than in a circle, in which the copper is bound end for end. This Awareness suggests that the copper wire may also be extended into the ground at the trunk of the tree if convenient to help in the grounding action. This Awareness indicates that this where the copper is wrapped around the trunk of the tree.

Those situations in which the copper is wrapped around the branches of the tree may not have a grounding, but in the branches of the tree it is seen that the copper has one end, the higher end furthest out on the branch as sticking up like an antenna, approximately 6 inches. This Awareness suggests three or four lines around the limb or branch is sufficient and likewise on the trunk. This Awareness suggests this be done with one of the trees being left without the copper to determine whether and how effective the copper is in helping to restore the vitality to the tree.

A Thanks and a Blessing to the Readers

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness wishes to express appreciation for the entities who sent in these questions; that these questions were very well thought out and also appear to be somewhat unique and original and of general interest to the majority of the readers and this Awareness appreciates the thought that has gone into these questions.

This Awareness wishes also to express appreciation to those entities who have contributed to this organization through the fund-raising efforts of the Treasurer; that this kind of response and assistance has been greatly needed and has been greatly appreciated and this Awareness suggests that it is a kind of courtesy to the CAC staff and organizational needs that makes for a wholesome activity and opportunity for this Awareness to communicate these messages to the entities who read them.

This Awareness indicates that it is a two-way street, where entities receive these messages and gain from the material and send energy back to allow the organization to continue presenting the messages and have the funds to pay for the operation involved. It allows for energy to flow both ways. It is critical that there is a two-way circuit for the energy to continue to flow, just as in your electric currents you must have the two-way flow of energy in order for your electrical appliances to work.

There have been in the past a few entities who believe that energy should only flow one way, from the spirit to them, and that spiritual energies should not have a price, and it should all be free, but this Awareness indicates that it just does not work that way. Everything has to have energy going to and from in order to have vitality, and this Awareness indicates that it appears most of you understand this, and this Awareness appreciates it, and wishes at this time to send you healing energies to express Its appreciation for what you have done in keeping this door open on this plane.

This Awareness is gathering energy at this time to send to each of you who have contributed, and those who wish to contribute but who simply could not afford to do so. This Awareness indicates that the energy has been gathered and is being sent to each of you to help you in your own unique ways. (pause)

This Awareness indicates the energy has been sent. This Awareness blesses you, each and every one.

Wisdom of Awareness...

PRESERVING THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE

This Awareness indicates that unless entities learn to look, think, and recognize the importance of protecting the Constitutional Rights which they have been given entities will surely loose all of these rights.

This Awareness suggests therefore, that entities become very much aware of the rights guaranteed by the Constitution, by the Bill of Rights, and by the principles on which this nation was built so that they may better discern the laws, the rules, the techniques being used by the present officials, to determine whether they are keeping with those standards of the American way of life.

WHAT KIND OF EXPERIENCE DO STROKE VICTIMS HAVE AND WHAT CAN BE DONE?

QUESTION:

A question from Roland Bartus, San Antonio, Texas. He writes: "Awareness, I occasionally work with persons who are cognitively very limited. Some have had massive strokes and are only able to lay there, without the ability to respond or move."

"What can be done for these people beyond basic maintenance care? And what is their experience like? Do they have an internal reality that is cohesive?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is more inside going on with the entity than appears externally, but they are to an extent unable to respond fully to that which is occurring around them because there are certain paralysis resulting from the stroke that do not allow for the brain and the body to work properly together in all ways.

How to Use Pycnogenol For Stroke Victims

This Awareness indicates that pycnogenol has been used in helping entities to overcome many of the negative effects of strokes and this Awareness suggests that this could be of great benefit to such entities when used over a continuing period of time in the doses suggested for improving the health; that is, every 20 pounds of body weight, one tablet; and the total daily amount being divided in half, taken half in the morning and half at night.

This Awareness indicates that in some cases it can totally reverse all effects of the stroke. In other cases, it may not be absolutely total, but if used long enough, it will improve the entity's situation to such a degree that the entity may be almost completely cured, even in some of the more severe cases.

This Awareness indicates the pycnogenol works to enhance the collagen and elasticity in the cells, in the veins, arteries and capillaries. When these are enhanced, the blood can flow more easily to all parts of the body.

Stroke Victims: Have Their Spirits Withdrawn?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Do most of these people who have these kinds of strokes, where they just lay there without any ability to respond or move; is their spirit totally still with them, or has a great part of it withdrawn?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the spirit is still there. They may be observing, but they may not be able to think as well about what they are observing because the brain does not receive sufficient nutrients to function fully. The stroke essentially blocks blood from getting to the brain, and thus the brain is starved and the brain does not work as effectively as normal, and therefore, the entity may be simply observing without much thought about what is observed, without being able to think about it or speak about it, or respond to things, but the attention or focus or the observation can still be present.

It is likened unto an entity who is locked away in limbo, and unable to get out and run, exercise, or do any kind of mental work, but still is alive in the imprisonment of the limbo state. It is a kind of mental paralysis.

Prayer for Balance

Start your day and end your day by saying the following aloud:

I AM ONE WITH ALL THAT IS!

Thank you God

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

I've seen movies where entities in conditions like that who could not communicate, actually were able to communicate 'yes' and 'no' anyway, by blinking their eyelids.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that with the stroke, many entities' brains are not totally destroyed. They may have certain pathways that are inoperable or ineffective, but they may have other areas where they can move a finger or move certain parts of their body normally.

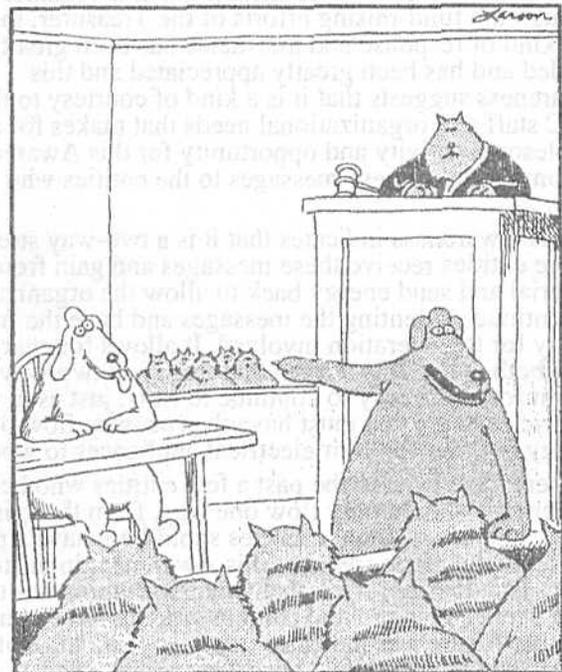

Some entities may have a stroke and it hinders the entire right or left side of the body so they cannot move their arm or their foot properly, but they may be able to use the other side of their body without any problem. This Awareness indicates that likewise, in the situation mentioned, they may be able to blink eyelids to indicate 'yes' or 'no'. The brain may still be capable of knowing something or of perceiving something, but the body may not be able to respond. The tongue may not work, or the lips may not work, but perhaps the eyelids work fine, and the brain may be alert and aware, so that the blinking of the eyelids is a way whereby the entity can communicate.

This Awareness indicates that the brain may be working well in some areas, but perhaps the part that works the tongue or works the fingers may be inoperable so that the entity cannot write or cannot speak, but may have other faculties of the brain that work fine. It depends on where the stroke took place and what areas were affected.

Stroke Victims Can Recover With Chelation Therapy

This Awareness indicates that chelation therapy is also another approach to dealing with a stroke. The sooner an entity having a stroke can get chelation treatments, the more chance of complete recovery. If the entity's stroke is not treated soon, it may become impossible, for the blood clots in an artery or vein or capillary may not be movable after a certain amount of time, thus the area is blocked permanently.

This Awareness indicates on the other hand, pycnogenol, by making the capillaries, arteries and veins more flexible, may be more effective in treating the area, even after the area has been hardened by time.

"A cat killer? Is that the face of a cat killer? Cat chaser maybe. But hey—who isn't?"

STROKE VICTIMS: WHAT IS HAPPENING TO THEM SPIRITUALLY?

QUESTION:

A question from Mari Bentley, East Hampton, Connecticut. She writes: "We have recently taken in my father-in-law, age 84, who recently had a stroke. He is the husband of the lady Awareness answered the question about "pulling the plug." I'll put out another question, and see if this is of interest to anyone.

"When we taken in our aged parents and they have short-term memory, ask the same questions over and over, can't remember the answer: what is happening to them spiritually, and what is the best way to deal with them?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entities may have a lack of short-term memory, and the focus may be on other things, even while the answer is being given so that they do not listen to the response, and thus they need to ask the question again.

This Awareness indicates that in other instances, they may hear the response, but not register it in their memory banks. This Awareness indicates that it is not only the older people with aging problems that experience this kind of thing, but many young people have to be told over and over the answer to the same question because they were not listening.

Why Some Young People Act Like Stroke Victims

They will ask the question because they want to know, but before you can answer, they are thinking of someone else, and the thinking of something else causes them not to register what they have heard from you. This Awareness indicates there are many entities who cannot seem to listen because they are so wrapped up in so many concepts and they spend more time talking and expressing themselves to get out their anxieties and do not take the time to listen to what is being told to them. You can give them the very best advice available, and they will look at you and appear to be listening, but they are simply waiting for you to finish so they can say something else that is desperately trying to be expressed.

They are more interested in expressing their frustrations and their feelings and their anxieties than in hearing solutions to them. This Awareness indicates that in the case of older people, they sometimes don't register the responses simply because they do not have the mental sharpness sufficient to register in their memories, what the answer is.

Candida Yeast and Low Blood Sugar Cause Problems

In some cases, in fact, an entity will start to ask a question and forget the question before he has finished it, because his focus or attention span is so brief. Often this is caused by insufficient blood sugar for the brain, or it may be caused by some other disease or problem of a physical nature.

Excessive Candida, for example, can cause entities not to be able to hold a thought for any reasonable length of time. Medications can also affect the ability of entities to hold a thought. If the entity is on certain medications, that problem may actually be a side-effect of the medication. Defective nutrition may also play a part.

Likewise, toxins in the body can cause such mental confusion. This Awareness indicates that the aging often causes blood flow to be hindered, when the veins and arteries and capillaries are somewhat plugged and the flow of blood is restricted, and this can cause an entity not to be able to remember things or not to be able to hold their attention on a topic.

It can reach a point wherein the entity's conversation becomes fragmented, distorted, and the entity may start talking about one thing and end up the sentence talking about something totally different.

An Example of How Conversation Gets Fragmented

This Awareness indicates that this could occur from a weak blood flow in the brain, such as if the entity is speaking of Christmas, and carriages when he was younger, how they used to ride on sleighs; the entity might suddenly make a mental leap to Santa Claus and his sleigh and might suddenly start talking about reindeer.

The listener, or audience to his conversation would think he was nuts because he was talking about sleighs in his childhood and riding on sleighs and then is talking about reindeer, and the entity knows there were no reindeer in that part of the country, even back in those olden days.

This Awareness indicates in other words, the brain can start short-circuiting or making leaps from one image to another without a logical transition. It is not so much that the entity is losing his mind, so to speak, but that he is losing his ability to move from one image to another in a way that flows naturally.

He leaps from one image into another without proper transition. The entity could speak, for example, of sleighs he rode when he was a child, and by two words leap to the sleigh of Santa Claus and the reindeer, simply by saying, "It reminds me of Santa Claus's sleigh with all his reindeer. I almost know how he feels." This would be a typical, logical, perfectly sound statement from an older person.

There would be no condemnation or criticism of such a statement, but because he leaves out certain key words, speaking of sleighs that he rode on when he was a child, and then suddenly talking about reindeers, the entity can't follow the leap of imagery from one image to another and begin to think that, "The old man is really out of it! He thinks he had reindeers when he was younger!"

How to Help Retrain a Forgetful Entity's Mind

This Awareness indicates that when an entity is having difficulty in this way, you may help to retrain their mind by finding the transition words that are left out of the mental leap from one image to another in the entity's conversation.

DO ENTITIES IN CATATONIC STATES LEAVE THEIR BODIES?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness has indicated that when entities are asleep at night they often leave their body and trip around the astral and other places, go to school and so forth. Does a person who's in a catatonic state or having had a stroke as described and can't communicate during the day; are they able, when they are asleep, to also leave their body and trip around?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. Likewise, such entities when they are awake, if they are constantly defeated in their effort to focus on here and now or engage in conversations here and now, or play a role in the here and now, such entities will often give up and simply go into an imaginary world or into another dimension, even when they are sitting awake.

Many Are Undergoing an Out-of-body Experience

This is why entities sometimes look into their eyes, and they are not there. They are simply elsewhere. They are sitting there, the body is there, but there is no recognition of you and the eyes are blank, and the entity appears to be gone, and this is probably because the entity is tripping around elsewhere in his mind or in his astral or spiritual body, having an out-of-body-experience.

If you ask such an entity to, "Come home! Come back! Look at me! Speak to me! Come back into your body! I want to talk to you!" the entity might hear you and might return, and you can see the immediate change in his appearance. But when the entity has no feedback or has no expression in the here and now, and cannot seem to relate to the here and now because of a stroke or some other problem, the entity is encouraged not to try, but to try experiencing out-of-body realities, other dimensional realities instead.

When the Entity Is Close to Passing Over

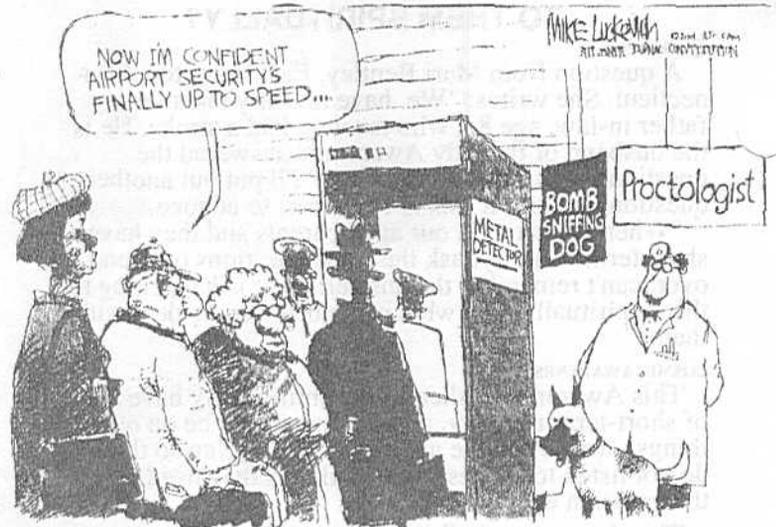

This Awareness indicates when the entity's visits into the other dimension become more prominent than their experiences in the here and now, such entities are close to passing over. They are ready to pass over, and the more they enter into those other dimensions and evade the here and now, the closer they are to passing over.

This Awareness indicates the entity who is in a continuous coma is actually in another dimension. There have been cases, for example, wherein an entity in a coma over a long period of time was eventually brought back after some 40 years of being in a coma. The entity was highly upset at being brought back because he had been living another life in England and the entity wanted to return to England because he was on a very special assignment that needed to be completed.

He was unable to return to his life in England, but he knew and recalled enough about that life that he was able to check on the entity in England to find out what happened. He discovered that the entity in England had been killed at the same time he came out of his coma in Australia.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

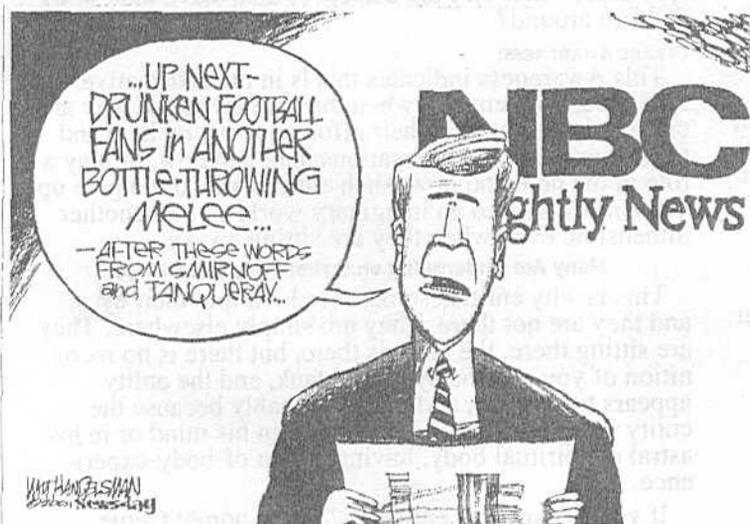

The Wisdom of Awareness: -- ON BEING GODS OF MERCY

This Awareness wishes entities to cease passing blame and cease patting themselves on the back and begin prying their eyes open, awakening themselves and others to reality. This Awareness wishes entities to cease listening to the forked tongue of the beast, to cease being hypnotized by the electronic programmer and the printed words and to tune into the Christ Consciousness within. This Awareness wishes entities to look toward each other and cease finding the flaw in each other's eyes and look for the Divine Light that rests behind those eyes, that you may communicate with one another as gods. This Awareness wishes entities to cease being gods of power and begin being gods of mercy and love. (Issue 78-21)
