SEXUALLY MOLESTING CHILDREN

(Is This a Sin or Just an Experience in Life?)

QUESTION:

A question from Dorothy Comeau, in Windsor, Ontario. She writes: "With all the alien infiltration and people still believing in their religion, I can't see any hope of the human race winning against them. My cousin's grandchild in Nova Scotia drowned. He and another toddler went through thin ice on a pond. He was in foster care. The father was in jail for molesting him, but was let out to attend his funeral. Of course, no one wanted him there."

And her question is: "Why are children suffering such things? That's the most evil thing on earth, to sexually molest children! Does Cosmic Awareness consider this a sin, or just experience in a lifetime?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is indeed a tragedy and a great error and carries extremely heavy karma for those who perpetrate such actions. This Awareness indicates that in regard to the sense of hopelessness, entities need to understand that there is always room for hope. There is always that force of energy that guides and assists entities in moving through these difficulties.

This Awareness indicates that there are indeed a great number of negative forces on earth. Many such forces seek to prevent the good from reaching people. This Awareness indicates, however, that as long as entities continue to hold faith and to work toward improving the lives and situations for others, the energies will move continually toward survival and toward the gradual improvement of the human race. It is when entities become so discouraged about their hopeful outcome, about a spiritual and benign world, that entities give up and even turn their dependency to the attitude of getting what they can at whatever expense and not caring whether it is for the good of all, or just for their own good.

This Awareness indicates that as long as entities hold on to the ideas of goodness, of what is proper and right and fair and just, the world will continue to eliminate many of these qualities, even if there are still many negative qualities being expressed also. You cannot expect all of this negativity to go away immediately just when you yourself may have reached a greater understanding of the value of the more spiritual life.

This Awareness indicates that many entities in embracing the spiritual life become quite concerned that everyone else has not also done so. This Awareness indicates that if the spiritual life is embraced by one person, then perhaps another and another and another, until many thousands have embraced the spiritual life, and it is only after this has repeated, repeated and repeated, that entities will begin to notice a major change on earth, wherein the majority have embraced the spiritual life and only a minority is left to advocate the selfish and less worthy expressions of life.

How to Keep Kids Away From Drugs and Sex?

QUESTION:

A question from Rosa Li, Daly City, California, about children. She writes: "I want to take the opportunity to say how much I and my husband too have been enjoying your newsletters."

I've learned so much in these past years. I now have two children, boys, age 1-1/2 and 4-1/2 and I am now ready to pull out a couple of your articles that were written specifically about children.

"Will there be more of these types of articles coming out in the future? I would very much like to see more articles about the way children are turning out these days: drugs, sex and so forth and so on. Kids are having sexual experiences before they even turn 18. In my days we were all so innocent at that age."

I guess specifically, her question is: Can Awareness give any more information on children that It hasn't already given that would be helpful?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the question is extremely broad.

QUESTIONER:

Well, she's worried about drugs, and sex, and her two little boys.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in working with your children in this regard, when the child is old enough to know about drugs or to hear about drugs and understand what you are speaking about, it is helpful to sit down and talk with the child. This Awareness indicates that you may first caution them about others who are somewhat older than they, who may indulge in smoking, and warn them how dangerous smoking can be, explaining, if possible showing pictures of the smokers lungs in comparison to a healthy pair of lungs.

This Awareness indicates that pictures speak much louder than words, and in describing cigarette smoke as a kind of drug, the child begins to understand that drugs can be very harmful. You may then go into descriptions of other kinds of drugs and how these drugs can be harmful. You may also tell the child of some of the pharmaceutical drugs that are intended or designed to help certain entities when they have an illness and how they too can be harmful if misused, and that it must be carefully given by a doctor who understands the nature of such drugs, but that there are many drugs that should not be used under any circumstances, and that no doctor would prescribe such drugs.

You may then describe some of the other drugs that cause bizarre behavior among youth and how if anyone ever tried to offer the child such a drug they should immediately turn and leave, and as they go they may yell: "No! I don't want any!" and go into another area where there are more people so they are not followed by the person trying to push the drug upon them.

How to Teach Children to Disregard Cigarettes

This Awareness indicates that young people can begin to learn relatively easy about the dangers of cigarettes, because for one thing, cigarettes smoke is very annoying to the child and they don't need much persuasion. This Awareness indicates that this being described as a drug can help to keep them away from any propaganda attracting the entity toward the merits of smoking.

This Awareness suggests that it appears the best approach when dealing with the more hard type drugs is to begin with the one they see and understand occasionally among people they have met or witnessed in public places who smoke cigarettes, inform them that this is a dirty and nasty habit. Then go on to describe other drugs that are less clear and visible to the child.

Explain to the Child What Addiction Is

This Awareness indicates that approximately 5 years old is a good time to start educating the child against the use of drugs. You may also explain what addiction is. You can begin explaining addiction as related to craving something repeatedly, such as candy or sugar products, which the child can relate to as an addiction, and explain how easy it is to become addicted to something and find yourself unable to say no.

Explain further the nature of some drugs is much stronger than that of sugar products and that once entities start using these drugs they find it very difficult to get away from them.

This Awareness indicates that your information needs to be credible and not excessively exaggerated, but something that the kid is able to relate to and understand without experimenting himself with those substances. This Awareness indicates you may also help to explain to the child how important it is to have a clean healthy body in order to do the many good things they can do in life, and that drugs will help to ruin a child's health so that they may not be able to accomplish many of their plans and dreams if they indulge in these drugs.

Teach Children About Alcohol and Coffee-Drinking

This Awareness indicates you may also explain the perils of too much coffee-drinking or excessive alcohol use, and that alcohol can help to stunt the growth of a child so they do not grow to their full height and size, if they begin using substances of this type at an early age. That drugs can do the same thing.

How to Respond to Children's Questions On Sex

This Awareness indicates in describing the sex situation to a child, it is best to respond to their questions in a way that helps them to understand the situation in a broad and clearly honest way without getting in to any concepts of eroticism or making humor of anything related to it, explaining that babies come from the mother and the father and how the mother and father join in union to plant the seed for the birth of the baby and that it is something that will eventually happen for the child when they become older and more mature, but that little children do not get involved in this kind of activity because they are not yet ready.

This Awareness indicates that many times the child wonders why they can't get involved in sex if their parents can. It needs to be made clear that their bodies are still preparing for the time and that there are many dangers that go along with sex, because if they participate too early there are potential hazards in terms of disease or injuries or possibly even births which would bring children that they could not afford, could not take care of properly.

This Awareness indicates that you encourage your child to grow and prepare for adulthood, and for the time when they would eventually have their own family, but you make it clear to them it is not a game. It is not some kind of funny thing which can be practiced by people who do not understand all of the responsibility related to the actions.

This Awareness indicates that children also need to understand that when they are preparing to make a family, they must be ready to have, purchase or acquire a home for the family, just as the birds build a nest for their family, and that children, after acquiring a home for their family, need to have a way of providing the necessities of food, clothing for the family, so that the child sees all of the responsibilities that go along with the creation of a family.

How to Bring Out the Positive Side of a Child

QUESTION:

Vicki has a question about children. "Our four year old grand-daughter who has lots of energy, but is just as likely to use it to poke at your eyes as some more friendly gesture. Her astrology chart showed she would be just as likely to exhibit antisocial behavior as not, and that forcing good behavior on her would not work.

Could we have suggestions on how to bring out the positive side of her potential?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that antisocial behavior relates to the planet Uranus and to the sign of Aquarius and any negative aspect to that planet or to that sign from other planets. This Awareness indicates that to modify a chart having such aspects, one can also raise the meaning or interpretation of those energies to a higher level. Basically the same Uranus and Aquarius signs can be interpreted to indicate inventiveness and creativity.

Therefore, instead of accepting that the entity must exhibit antisocial behavior, you may interpret this and encourage this entity to become creative and inventive in nature. Get the entity something to bring out her or his artistic qualities, creative qualities, inventiveness, mechanical abilities or electrical abilities, which are all part of the same aspect, the same astrological aspect.

Normally, the antisocial behavior will come from a non-harmonious aspect to Uranus or Aquarius and the more harmonious creativities and inventiveness will come from aspects that are well situated such as trines or sextiles; in other words, the harmonious aspects. But, often one having the more negative aspects can still have some kind of influence to modify those aspects, to make them more harmonious.

You cannot simply clamp down on and stop the aspects from existing, but you can modify or turn slightly, encourage inventiveness and creativity and offer praise for various creative efforts and creativities, so that the entity channels these energies more towards the creative expression than the social rebellion.

Let Children Use Artwork to Express Rebellion

This Awareness indicates the child might, for example, in drawing, instead of rebelling greatly, rebel in a more slight manner such as drawing a dog with centipede-type legs or drawing a dog with 6 legs, or drawing a tree whose branches stick upward instead of downward, so that the conventional concepts of what should be are allowed to be expressed in a broken manner through artistic drawings that rebel against convention, and you may encourage these or at least allow these unconventional expressions to have their outlet.

Allow Children a 20 Percent Rebellion

This Awareness indicates that you may also allow the entity approximately 20 percent expression of rebellion if that rebellion does not create undue hardships or difficulties for others. For example, the child who refuses to close the car door; instead of becoming repeatedly angry at the child for not closing his or her car door, you may consider this as part of the 20 percent rebellion that is basically harmless and allow the child to continue leaving the car door open and making the effort yourself to close the car door.

This Awareness indicates that by allowing these harmless areas of rebellion you allow the entity to retain a certain degree of individual control over his or her life and expressions of rebellion, but do not necessarily encourage or leave it open for the child to express rebellion in a way that is dangerous or hazardous to yourself or to the child or to others.

This Awareness indicates in other words, if the child does something that is extremely hazardous to yourself, others, or to the child, then you may need to put a stop to it, make it uncomfortable for the child to repeat such actions, but allow the child room for rebellious expression in areas that are basically harmless.

How to Let a Kid Rebel at the Dinner Table

This Awareness indicates also, in regard to meals, wherein many children express their rebelliousness, the child who refuses to eat his or her broccoli, for example, you may know that the child will not eat broccoli and still put broccoli on the child's dish, just to give them something to rebel over so that they feel they have a certain amount of control over their lives.

In other words, if you took off the broccoli from their dish, they might not have anything to rebel about, and they might then rebel about something else which they have been eating regularly, simply so they can have something to complain about or rebel against. Therefore, by putting broccoli on their dish, even though you know they won't eat it, they can have their rebellion and it hurts no one and they go ahead and eat the other parts of the meal.

Let the Child Play With His Food

This Awareness indicates also, that if a child says he or she does not like a certain food, simply tell them: "Yes, but look at it! I thought you would like to examine it!" and let the child play with it. Let the child push the fork into the food, or break it into pieces or examine it, even if they don't eat it. Children tend to often play around with unfamiliar food before eventually putting it into their mouth to see what it tastes like.

Many parents tend to be annoyed by this and say, "Stop playing with your food and eat it!" The child, unfamiliar with the food, would rather examine it from all sides: texture, color, top, bottom, inside-out, before putting it in his or her mouth to see what it tastes like, and the more they play with it, the more likely it will be that they will eventually taste it.

If they do not play with it, do not like its looks or do not like its shape, they may never want it and may tell you: "I don't like it! I won't eat it!" This Awareness indicates it is much better to let them finger it, play with it, break it up, slap it with a fork, whatever it is that children do when they are examining some food item, and let them on their own time taste it to see what it tastes like.

Allow Children to Examine Other Things and Objects

The more you interfere with this process, the less likely it is that they will ever like the food. This Awareness indicates that it is much the same with other things. Children tend to play with things not properly for what the thing was made, but to discover various ways of using it. They may take, for example, your stapler, or a role of tape and begin to staple sheets of paper together all over from all different sides, just to feel the staples go in. If this is something you cannot afford to allow, then you may need to assist the child and say: "Here is how it is used. This is what I use it for, and I can't afford to buy any more staples, so try not to use more than four or five more staples," and then let them use the stapler four or five more times, and then put it away.

Show and Explain What a Tool Is For

Give the child early warning, "After you have used the stapler four or five times more, I'll have to put it away because I can't afford to waste my staples." This Awareness indicates if you can afford to waste the staples, you may then instead desire to let the child play further, but it is also important that if the child is playing with some tool that you take the time to explain what it is used for, and how to use it and what not to do with it, so that the child at least learns something about the tool, rather than simply experimenting without even knowing what the tool is for.

The Interpreter's Grandson and the Pancake

This Awareness indicates that it is important not to be too hasty in judging a child's activity. An example being seen in an experience in which the Interpreter's grandson, at a restaurant with him, began pounding the fork into the pancake on his plate. He kept stabbing the fork, and people around began to look over at the sound that was being created. The Interpreter called the grandson's name and said: "What are you doing?" and the grandson showed him the fork and the pancake and said: "This don't do it." The Interpreter realized then that the grandson did not know how to pick up the pancake with the fork and thought that simply stabbing straight down would allow him to pick up the piece of pancake. Thus, he explained to the child and told him to push the fork in, and then bend it over, and then pick it up.

The child did so, and got a great grin on his face, as though he had just accomplished the impossible. This Awareness indicates that it is easy to interpret a child's behavior as simply being rowdy and noisy when they may be sincerely trying to make something work, or may be frustrated because it isn't working the way it should.

What To Do When a Child Gets Rowdy

This Awareness indicates that another thing to consider when a child is being rowdy, rather than always jumping on the child, yelling at the child or being hostile toward the child, try walking over and picking up the rowdy child, holding him or her in your arms so that any flailing around of his arms which might cause someone injury does not occur.

If the child is slapping or hitting or angry, simply pick the child up, put your arms around the child so that his arms will go down to the sides and hold him in a way that is comforting to him, which is not rejecting or hostile, but comforting, and usually the child will settle down considerably.

Then you talk to them about how you would like them to be more calm, to mellow out, to go back and play without so much frenzy, and let them back down on the floor. This Awareness indicates that this can be much more acceptable to the child than to have a parent screaming at the child, wherein the parent seems to be more out of control than was the child in his initial activity. This Awareness indicates that a calm voice of the parent persistently repeated, telling the child "No, you can't do it that way! No, that isn't a good thing to do," calmly repeating, so that the child never is able to do it without being told "No! That's not a good thing to do!"

This kind of repeated persistence by the parent is much more effective in the long run than screaming at the child or threatening the child, or abusing the child physically because if the child learns from the parent who screams, who kicks, or slaps or gouges, or pushes the child, then the child will also become one who, in seeking his way, slaps, pushes, screams and gouges.

This Awareness indicates that whatever activity you exude towards the child the child will learn to use on his or her peers or siblings or others, or you, and the child may even begin to start kicking you or slapping back at you at some point.

What to Say When Kids Ask Serious Questions

This Awareness indicates that children are also quite interested in physical things, although they seldom will talk about such things, if they feel you are not going to talk to them about these things. They have an active curiosity about everything, especially questions about "Where did I come from?" and questions of "What happens when you die?"

If you can talk to the child about these things as though you were both exploring the question together: "What do you think happens when you die?" you may ask the child, and let them answer, and ask them: "Do you really feel sure that's the way it is? Could it be like this?" And let them hear your version, and then conclude that it's really hard to know for sure what happens when you die.

This allows entities to explore things without feeling that there is only one answer, so that they do not get the impression that you know everything and whatever you tell them must be true. The time will come when they will question you about something and find that you have made a mistake, and when you make a mistake and they have believed everything you have told them before, they may lose faith in you or they may think that you, as a know-it-all know nothing, and may doubt everything at that point.

It is better to let them know from the beginning that you are exploring life, even as they are exploring life, and that together you can share what you learn, and you can also explain to them that there are certain things you believe to be true, certain things that are satisfying to yourself and help them to understand why you came to those conclusions, so that it is a discovery thing rather than a programming of the child.

Never Assume the Child is Lying to You

The child will accept something more readily if the child feels it has discovered it than if it has been told: "This is the way it is!" This Awareness indicates also, it is important for a parent not to assume that a child is lying or falsifying, even if you are almost certainly convinced. For example, you may hear your younger child crying and you may know the older child is with the younger child, and you may realize they are both in the other room, and the younger child is crying, and you may walk in and see the older child looking down on the younger child who is lying on the floor, and the older child may even be on top of the younger child and the younger child crying, and the appearance may be that the older child knocked the younger child down and hurt the younger child, and you may want to scream at the older child to leave your little brother or sister alone, and don't hurt this baby anymore!

Ad the older child may say: "I didn't do anything!" and then you think the child is lying. And you may punish the child further simply because the child not only hurt the baby but is lying about it. You may be the one who is in the wrong. Perhaps the baby fell down and the older child went down to the floor to try to comfort the younger child, or try to distract the younger child from his or her injuries or pain out of fear that you would blame the older child for hurting the younger child. And the older child may be trying to get the younger child to quit crying before you come in and blame the older child.

This happens more often than parents realize. A younger child may hurt itself and the older child is punished for it, and when this happens and the older child knows that he was innocent and the parent punishes him for it, it goes a long way toward breaking the bond and the trust between the older child and the parent, especially when the older child says: "I didn't do anything!" It would be better to error in letting the older child get by with having injured or knocked down the younger child than to error in the other direction of punishing the older child, when the older child is in fact innocent.

The older child will not only resent the parent for not believing him, but it creates a feeling of isolation from the parents. The bond that was built up over years of childhood, between mother and child, or father and child; the bond that was created from the time of the child's birth to the present is injured; but also the resentment from the older child toward the baby begins to develop, and the older child feels that the parent loves the baby more and doesn't even believe the older child when he explains that he didn't do anything, and therefore, the older child begin to feel hostile and rebellious and resentful toward the younger child, and now has reason to further want to see the younger child hurt.

The older child may then in fact begin hurting the younger child or getting the younger child to play in a way that leads to the younger child being hurt accidentally, or the older child may start to laugh every time the younger child is hurt and you will recognize that the older child really has some kind of problem and dislike for the younger. It may be that it began with your not believing the older child when the older child said: "I didn't do it."

This Awareness indicates that sometimes they then do begin to act out their hostility. When this occurs, of course you need to sit and have long talks with the older child, showing the older child that you still care, but being also concerned about the welfare of the younger child and asking the older child to help you take care of the younger child and explaining how much you appreciate the help the older child gives.

Once it becomes a project where the two of you are both helping to watch over the younger child, the older child feels important in this duty and it becomes more enjoyable to him or her.

This Awareness indicates that one of the more serious aspects of child raising is protecting your child from a sick society, from a society that sometimes is quite careless, especially protecting the child against traffic that is often driving too fast, or whereby the child could easily run out into the street or could otherwise be endangered by something in the society. That becomes extremely important as a part of child-raising.

Protecting Your Child Against Predators

Also, protecting your child against individuals who might want to capture or steal or use your child for purposes of their own. It is of course a matter of where you live as to whether this is a very serious concern. If you live in a section of the country or in a town where there is considerable amount of child abuse or danger of child abuse, danger of kidnapping, abductions, then of course this becomes a serious thing which entities need to focus on so that the child is never out of sight of the parent, even in large shopping malls or centers or places where there are many people.

This Awareness indicates even in areas where there are few people this can be a problem, especially if the parents are not aware of the nature of the place. Of course, if you are at Aunt Bessie's and Aunt Bessie has a home wherein the only people present are relatives, it is relatively safe to let the child run around with other children and you don't have to worry excessively about the child being abducted, but it is also important to realize that these other children may tempt the child to run off into other areas which could be dangerous. One child may be familiar with the creek or river nearby and tempt all the children to go there with him, and you may find your child down by the river in a dangerous or precarious position because you have not kept an eye on the group of children or on your child and where he is.

Physical safety, psychological safety and reassurances and dietary concerns, these are all part of raising a healthy child.

Read to Your Child, Particularly at Night

Letting the child know how much you care. This Awareness indicates that reading to a child at night not only helps them to have something stable in their lives to show that you care, it also tends to give them a love for information, a love for books, so that as they begin to grow older, they want to learn to read for themselves, and in learning to read, they begin to appreciate all of the information and knowledge available in the world of books.

Don't Trust Schools: Protect Your Child From Abusive Children

This Awareness indicates that it is also important to protect your child from abusive children who are capable of harming the child and not to trust the schools or the relatives or grandparents as always being able to do this. Check it out, find out when your child goes to school if there is a danger of the child being hurt by older children or if the child is being properly watched and attended.

Encourage Your Child to Learn to Read

This Awareness indicates that to encourage your child to want to learn to read, you may begin by getting excited when you talk about how the child will soon learn to read. As you express this with a glowing look on your face, with your eyes widening, as if it's something that is inevitable, and if it's something that will be very exciting for the child to learn to read, you motivate the child and even if this goes on for several months before the child actually begins learning to read, by the time it does occur, the child will want to continue and will be excited about the prospect of reading.

This Awareness indicates the same may be said for learning math and numbers.

WHEN CHILDREN KILL OTHER CHILDREN

(WHAT CAN HAPPEN IF YOU DON'T TEACH CHILDREN VALUES)

QUESTION:

A question from Dale Hoon, Jr, professional engineer in Petersburg, Florida. He writes: "You are all doing a wonderful job. keep up the good work. As far as the information that is being provided by Awareness is concerned, I want to receive all information, and knowledge that Awareness recognizes as being appropriate to be released. I do not want to be given only soothing and pacifying words.

"I have many questions that I would like to submit to Awareness, many areas of wonderment and puzzlement. These I will try to submit in the future. For now I would like to ask the following: Regarding the recent brutal murder of a two-year old by two ten-year old boys in England; was the cause behind this 1) a karmic payment; 2) some kind of a sadistic thrill; 3) a possession by evil forces; 4) something other?

"Senseless occurrences such as this are difficult for most persons to try to understand."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears there were elements of possession by what may be termed "demonic influences" on these entities. The entities themselves had certain psychologically disturbing experiences pertaining to home life and these entities also had very little training, or background in terms of values. Many children of that age are not receiving much teaching in terms of values, and therefore, they simply see entities more as objects than as living beings, similar to themselves.

They have not been taught to look at others as being feeling and living entities, who have their own personal needs, and they saw the baby as a kind of object. They also saw themselves as being very important and having great power over this tiny child, and it was seen more as a kind of game, likened unto things they had seen on television, whereby they kill the child, just like they do on TV, when they kill someone.

The child of course was easy, because it was so much smaller than they. If they had picked on someone their own size it would have been more difficult. This way, they knew they could do it. This Awareness indicates it is mostly a problem of not fully understanding the implications of what they were doing.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

More and more in the media, you're reading of atrocities being committed by children. Is this something that's new, or has this all been around and it's only now that the media is bringing this out?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it has been around but it is on the increase and the media is also calling more attention to it at this time.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION)

Does the alien's presence have any or much influence in some of these violations that children are doing?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This does not appear to be a major factor.

What's to be Done With Repeat Offenders?

QUESTION:

Cathy Walters in Pennsylvania asks: "What can be done with repeat offenders, whether it's drunk driving, rape, child abuse, killers? Nothing seems to help. I hate to see money spent on these things, when it does no good."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

One can never know for certain that another is going to be a repeat offender until the repetition has occurred. Therefore, entities in law enforcement need to learn more about the nature of criminals in order to better evaluate whether or not they are likely to repeat their crime or a similar crime.

Any Risks in Using DHEA?

QUESTION:

A question from Stephen Kurzweil, MD, in New York City. He writes: "The chemical known as DHEA, is being employed to treat many diverse conditions from psoriasis to cancer. Are there significant risks to the routine use of DHEA, especially with respect to the promotion of prostate cancer?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that It does not see the significant risk so long as the physician continues to monitor the effects of the DHEA on the patient. There may be some potential risks.

There is seen a need to follow through on any use of the substance so that a clear record is available as to what effects occur from its use. This Awareness indicates that with proper monitoring and testing there is relatively small amount of risk involved, and it can, for many of the cases, be very beneficial in terms of treatment for a wide variety of potential health problems.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

This part of his question: "Specifically with respect to the promotion of prostate cancer?" Does Awareness see that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears the use of this substance tends to hinder the development of any type of cancer in the body. This Awareness indicates the Interpreter as having moved too deeply into trance and moved on to the threshold of sleep. This Awareness suggests that the question be repeated if it was not answered.

QUESTIONER:

I think Awareness answered. it. He specifically mentioned in the promotion of prostate cancer and It stated that it seemed to retard all cancers.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

WHO IS THAT TALL BLONDE VISITOR AT NIGHT – AN ALIEN?

QUESTION:

A question from Beth H., Seattle, WA. She writes: "I am hoping you have some information that could help me figure out some things that have happened to me. A couple of years back, I saw a UFO and ever since then, I am visited by a tall blonde man at night, usually once a month. He never speaks, except for once when he said "You'll find out the truth!"

"It's been months since this happened and I still haven't found out anything to explain it. I've gone off and on to a local support group, but they keep talking about evil Greys. I don't think that this man wants to hurt me, but I guess I can't be sure until he does something. I don't really know what to think.

"Martha, who runs the support group, let me borrow her list of addresses, so I'm writing to other people to see what they think."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the next time you feel this entity's presence, that you address him and ask him: "Please reveal your true self to me." This Awareness indicates that you ask this in a sincere manner, and if the entity is indeed a beneficent type of being, he will let you know, and if he is more of a hostile type of being he will change in his appearance and show you his true self.

This Awareness indicates that it appears the entity is of the friendly type. The entity may be Pleiadian. There is also seen some possibility he may be Nordic in nature. If so, he may be a more friendly type of Nordic than the usual. This Awareness indicates that it appears more likely that this entity is a Pleiadian.

This Awareness indicates since this is not something that is present, but is only a vague memory of yours and this Awareness is not in touch with this entity, It cannot have the absolute contact to see the entity first hand. The name of the entity would be helpful, or further information pertaining to the entity. A location would be helpful, but essentially referring to an entity who has come to you in dreams or in vision form at night is of a rather vague nature.

However, it appears the imagery relating to this would reflect a being of a friendly type, probably a Pleiadian. Possibly one from Sirius.

QUESTIONER:

At the end of her letter she says: "I have excellent credentials. I work for Boeing and my husband has seen the man too."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the next time this entity is seen, ask him to reveal his true self, his purpose, his name and his origin. The entity, if sincere, and if of harmless intent will quite likely give you the information you seek.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

If it turns out to be one of the blonde Greys Awareness has described in previous readings ...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

These being the Nordic types.

FOLLOW-UP CONTINUE:

Yes. Would they be honest and admit who they were, if asked?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

If this question is asked on a psychic level, whether they are honest or not will be revealed. The action of asking in a psychic level, creates for them the response that makes them focus on their true self and on the psychic level you will see them for who they are, whether or not they want you to see them for who they are.

This Awareness indicates it is not the same as if you were to ask them physically or vocally to explain who they are. It is not the same as speaking with another human being and hoping they will be truthful. When you speak to someone on a psychic level asking who they are, they, in their consciousness reflect on the question and automatically see who they are and cannot cover-up what they themselves see, and during that moment, you also see what they are seeing, because you are psychically in tune with them.

This Awareness indicates that they may thereafter attempt to change whom they see themselves to be and throw up a kind of shield to give themselves a different appearance. It is likened unto one who is asked: "Who are you?" and you suddenly realize: "well, I'm who I am! I'm this person, but I'm pretending to be this Person."

But it is that moment where you see who you are on the psychic level, which conveys to the person asking the question the truth of the matter. even if you are pretending to be someone else, for that moment when you reflect on who you are, you have let down your presentation, and you are seen for who you are.

This Awareness indicates therefore, if you ask the question: "Who are you, and what do you want?" this should come through to you psychically. If there is no change in the appearance of this entity, you will know that the appearance is his true identity. If the entity is more of demonic type, the demonic appearance will show through and his apparently beautiful self will disappear during that moment.

This Awareness indicates that when the question: "What do you want?" is asked, the entity, looking at this question will flash on his motives and if you are psychically attuned at that moment, you will see immediately what he wants. If you feel that his wants are benign; perhaps he is just a messenger, or wanting to give you some kind of answer or spiritual help, that will come through in a flash in a moment.

If he is attempting to control you or get control of you for some sinister purpose, you will sense it immediately, as soon as the entity flashes on what he wants. This by asking the question on a psychic level, and being very ready to look and watch, being receptive, you should see who he is and what he wants, in a flash.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

If the entity is Pleiadian, how common is this where they actually physically appear? Most of the literature I've seen claims that they contact other people through mental telepathy rather than a visual appearance.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is not exceptionally common for them to appear in this manner ahead of time, but this entity appears to be different from most, anyway. The Nordics don't usually contact in this manner either.

QUESTION:

Does Awareness have a closing message?

The Various Levels in This Reading

(How to Keep the Interpreter From Snoozing)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there were myriad levels of energies in this reading. There were many different types of questions which led to considerable jumping around from one vibration to another. It was such that the depth of the reading shifted back and forth from different levels. Most of the reading averaged at approximately level 10 of the scale 1 to 12. Some went into areas between 11 and 12.

If the level of 12 is the threshold of sleep, it touched upon this several times, to the point where even the words coming through the Interpreter were coming through almost without being properly monitored by this Awareness. That when the reading level gets too close to the threshold of sleep the Interpreter can fall off into sleep and lose track of the question and the energies and therefore, be in error, even as it might be error if it is too close to the surface.

There is a narrow band between 5 and 12 where the reading can be done, and if it is too close to 5, then it gets into areas more akin to the Interpreter's thinking. If it gets closer to 12, it gets into areas more akin to dreams and nonsense and total lack of Awareness involvement. The best areas for readings appear to be between 7 and 11 on the scale of 1 to 12.

This Awareness indicates that it is possible for insight to come at 11 or 11-1/2. If the insight can then be discussed through the Interpreter at approximately 7 to 10, this would be suitable, but to have the discussions occurring at level 11 through 12 is hazardous to a good reading because it is too close to the threshold of sleep. Sleep would be at a state between 12 and 13 on this scale, at which time you would get no sensible response from a question asked.

AVATON:

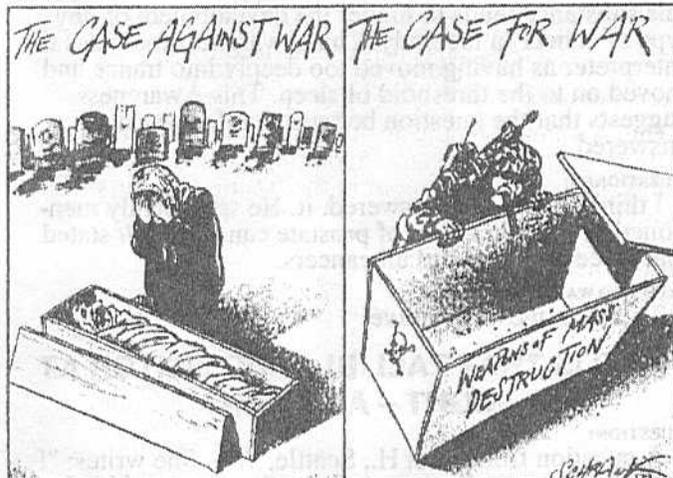

Is there anything we could give the Interpreter to keep him from falling asleep?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is negative. This is simply a matter of the Interpreter letting himself get too deeply into trance, thinking that was appropriate. It is better for him not to get so deep into trance. That the areas between 7 and 10 are the best areas for good trancing.

This Awareness indicates that levels 10 and 11 are all right for listening to the question, but for responding to the question it is better to be somewhere above 10 in terms of surfacing and somewhere below 7 in terms of surfacing. If you consider Number 1 as being totally surfaced at the top, and totally awake, and Number 5 as being on the threshold of the trance level, Number 7 would then be deep enough to still respond vocally, but it might require some deeper levels to read messages from this Awareness, thus the receptivity of the Interpreter should occur more towards the levels of 10 to 11 or 11-1/2 and the responsive levels, wherein words are spoken, should occur between 7 and 11 on the scale of 1 to 12, for the most quality level of readings.

People Always Adjust to New Things
(A Little Apprehension is a Good Thing)

CLOSING MESSAGE?

This Awareness indicates that in looking at this kind of thing for the future and in looking at the potential things that may come about in the future, one can easily dread the future, and with good reason. This Awareness indicates however, there is still something else that entities need to understand. There is that capacity within each human being to be able to adjust to changes that occur, and to be able to adjust in such a way that they make the best of things and everyone seems to want comfort, so as these potentially negative things occur in the future, people will also demand some kind of curtailment on these things in a way that allows them to exist, and allows the people to remain comfortable with their existence so that in a co-existence with these potentially negative machines or events or situations, the people can still somehow, and will still somehow abide in reasonable comfort and will find ways to use these things to enhance their comfort.

This Awareness indicates that it is good that they are frightened or fearful or apprehensive about the misuse of things that are different and are potentially hazardous or threatening, because that apprehension will help to assure these things are not improperly used or not often improperly used to the degree of creating excessive discomfort for the masses.

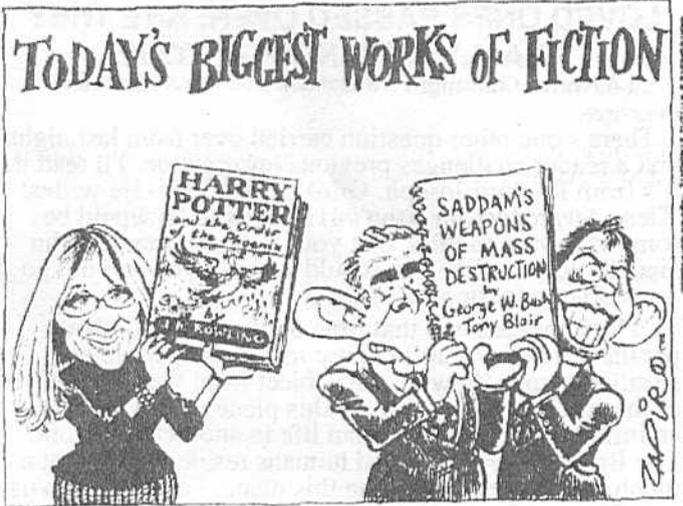

This Awareness indicates as long as people can cry, as long as people can lament, as long as people can complain, there is that potential for improving their comfort, even under adverse conditions. This Awareness indicates the future may require the wailing, the complaining, the objections of the masses in order to preserve a reasonable amount of comfort.

This Awareness indicates that ideally, those who would cause discomfort will fail in their quest to control the society. This Awareness sees that in the long history of people seeking freedom and personal expression, those who have developed a self-discipline that allows them to express themselves creatively, rather than destructively; those people are more likely to reap reasonable freedom and those who would destroy or cause others pain are more likely to find themselves in the path of experiences that do not bring comfort or reward to them.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. THE LAW OF ONE

This Awareness indicates all is one; there is the Law of One and all reside within this Law: That all souls are cells of the body of this Awareness; and when this Law is obeyed, there is no need for any entity to struggle or compete; for this is likened unto the parts of one's body fighting the other parts of one's body, and in general the body being at war with itself. With the Law of One you may be at peace in the body of this Awareness.

CAC General Reading #4 -2/ 4-19-93 Paul Shockley, Interpreter

LOVED ONES PASSED OVER: ARE THEY REALLY WAITING FOR YOU?

(A Reader Challenges a Statement Made by Awareness)

QUESTION:

There's one other question carried over from last night that a reader challenges previous information. I'll read it. It's from Richard Joseph, Gilroy, California. He writes: "Dear Awareness, in issue #413 you said 'It would be somewhat vain to think that your father or mother who died 40 years before you would wait for you and not go on to other experiences of their own.'

"The implication is that time on the physical plane parallels time in what I choose to call the etheric or spiritual plane. Viewing the subject from the perspective of the spiritual world, life on this plane would move at an infinitely slower pace than life in another sephiroth. The Bardo, where departed humans reside, vibrates at a much higher frequency than this plane. Forty years to us may be a week or hours for entities living out of the flesh and vibrating several dimensions beyond.

"It is not presumptuous or vain to assume that a parent or loved one will greet someone as their actual self. Your position defies that body of knowledge that has been presented to us in the form of the Kaballah and the physics of dimensional vibration. I assume that Awareness is channeling from the subconscious of the Interpreter. If the Awareness is cosmic, let's get cosmic! I can handle it! Sincerely, Richard Joseph."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the question the entity asked in relation to the response he objected to is not given. That if this could be repeated...

QUESTIONER:

Yes. It was in one of the After Death readings given some time back which we published recently in regard to entities who pass over being welcomed by loved ones, and he said in issue 413 you said: "It would be somewhat vain to think that your father or mother who died 40 years before you would wait and not go on to other experiences of their own," and that is the statement he's challenging.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that 40 years or so, while being very slow on earth could indeed be experienced in the twinkling of an eye on a different dimension, but during that twinkling of an eye, the entities involved are not sitting around waiting. They too are active and doing things and can do many, many things between the time of one's departure from earth and the 40 years later when the offspring may depart.

This Awareness indicates It does not see the quarrel with this entity in his presentation. It simply sees a miscommunication, or misunderstanding of the communication.

QUESTIONER:

Well, the thrust of the reading seemed to contradict what a lot of information the spiritualists have put out over the years and other groups, about how all entities are met by loved ones at the passing over, and if I recall correctly, Awareness indicated that a lot of this was projections of their own mind, and not really the departed that had passed over long before.

And evidently this was disappointing to this entity...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in some cases, this is so. This Awareness indicates that it is also part of the spiritual lore and evidence down through the ages that an entity may report having seen Jesus at the passing over. They may report not seeing a loved one, but of seeing Jesus, or if perhaps from a different religion, seeing Mohammed or seeing Buddha or seeing Krishna.

This Awareness indicates that these entities may have been some of the few who are not met by loved ones, but whereby the loved ones have gone on to reincarnate into a different body and may be back on earth in living bodies. This Awareness indicates that in some instances this occurs.

This Awareness indicates the question at the time was a unique situation. It appears to have been a situation of a particularly unique kind, to which this Awareness responded. It appears the answer related to that particular situation and not to an all-encompassing or global type or generality-type of answer. This Awareness indicates that it is possible that the wording for the answer did not fit precisely the image conveyed by this Awareness to the Interpreter. It could be in that 15 % error which this Awareness acknowledges occurs.

It is not seen in all its preciseness in order to evaluate absolutely at this time what the problem is or is perceived to be. This Awareness indicates it would be better if this is to be pursued as a question worth pursuing further, to get the original reading and read this along with the question. This Awareness indicates that then the response and clarification could be more accurately seen.

This Awareness indicates that otherwise, this Awareness will need some time to go deeply and to re-examine on the inner plane what was said at the time. It will take a considerable amount of energy to dig out this information in order to respond to this question with greater accuracy. Either way can be used according to your wishes, or if it is seen as worthwhile to pursue this in greater depth.

All Information Is Not at the Fingertips of Awareness

This Awareness indicates you must understand that the readings given through this Interpreter from this Awareness are not simply likened unto flipping on a computer and having all past information or all information in the universe stored on a hard-disc somewhere. Everything has to be retrieved, either from memory, from some particular source, usually from wherever it happens to be. It is not at the fingertips of the Interpreter or at the fingertips of this Awareness.

How Awareness Conveys Information to the Interpreter

Even this Awareness has to attune to the frequencies or vibrations associated with the question. The attunement requires focus and the focus requires time for retrieval. This Awareness indicates that it also requires energy from the energizers and from the Interpreter. Therefore, It can pursue certain hidden information, but it is at a cost of energy and time. This Awareness indicates that likewise, once this Awareness receives the information to convey to the Interpreter, It conveys it in a symbol, in feeling, in an insight, and the Interpreter needs a certain amount of receptive energy to translate into words what is perceived, and then the message comes out.

It is a very complicated action, taking place on a psychic level. Therefore, the psychic energy must be strong for these readings to occur and it is easy for someone who does not understand the complexity of this to think that the messages simply come because they were asked and therefore should be available from the get-go, without any waiting.

The Interpreter is not a 486 computer, does not have the ability to up his megahertz, to comply with the speed desired by entities who are moving in faster and faster modes of questioning and retrieval needs. This Awareness indicates therefore, It is such that questions have to be answered according to energies available, and that is a fact, whether you like it or not.

This Awareness indicates that it is not an excuse, it is likened unto having a computer that works on four megahertz instead of 33 or 40 megahertz. The human rate of consciousness is such that it does not easily overhaul to higher technological or biotechnological levels.

The Megahertz of Consciousness About to Double

This Awareness indicates, however, there is something that will be occurring later in this week which could have an effect on the consciousness of humans. This Awareness indicates this on or around the date of April 23, wherein the earth frequency megahertz or vibration of 7.5 is likely to double to 15 megahertz. It will affect all of consciousness. It will affect many things.

This Awareness indicates that many of the tools and equipment may be affected because of this. This Awareness indicates that it may not occur instantaneously. It may occur gradually over a period of time. This Awareness indicates that it appears that it may speed up the megahertz of consciousness in individuals to the point where some who were solely in the alpha and beta, particularly the beta consciousness levels, will experience a kind of burn-out on some levels, and others who are in alpha and delta levels or theta levels, at least at certain times may experience a greater jump in consciousness.

This Awareness indicates more will be available on this at some later times.

Is Cosmic Awareness a Member of a Past Custodial Race Rather than Being a "Force?"

(Cosmic Awareness Explains What It Is)

QUESTION:

A question from Diana Milne, Clark, NJ. She writes: "After a number of years, I do have a question for Awareness. Hopefully, you can ask it." William Bramley wrote a thought-provoking book called The Gods Of Eden. Among other things, the book explained how beings from another or other planets caused and have directed and controlled mankind from the beginning.

"These beings were, in fact, the custodians of earth and its inhabitants. The question I am left with after reading the book is: Is Awareness a member of a past or present custodial race who, because of a genuine and humane interest in mankind's future expresses Itself through channeling at this time?"

"It would actually be very enlightening and more realistic on many levels to think of Awareness in this vein rather than as a "force" who is obviously yards above mankind, but still many feet short of the Almighty."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the term "Awareness" is the best description of this Awareness. The concept of Awareness as that which has many ranges or degrees of or levels of being. This Awareness indicates that it is likened unto the concept of the weather. If an entity spoke, saying: "It is weather," and one said: "Is this the weather that occurred back in ancient times? or is this weather something that refers to cosmic levels? or is this weather referring to local storms and conditions?" This Awareness indicates that as Awareness, it is many different levels, according to the interpretation and according to the focus from which it is being looked at.

This Awareness indicates that when a question is asked on Granny's tea cups, or ants in the kitchen, it does not take a cosmic being to respond, therefore, this Awareness focuses in on the kitchen and the tea cups or the ants and attunes to those frequencies or vibrations and gathers the information available in the situation being asked about and replies with energy that comes from the question, from the situation, to relay to the questioner.

This Awareness indicates if the question is about the universe or the cosmos or the nature of light moving through the cosmos, then of course it takes a cosmic Awareness to respond. The energies then move into cosmic levels to respond, to attune to the life energies, the flow of vibrations and frequencies and a response then is forthcoming to satisfy the question.

A Tea-Cup Awareness, an Ant Awareness or a Cosmic Awareness

This Awareness indicates that in this sense it is Cosmic Awareness. In the other sense It could be considered as Kitchen Awareness, or Tea Cup Awareness, or Ant Awareness, when dealing with the ants in the kitchen. This Awareness indicates that It is whatever the energies expressed are from whatever the question requires to respond to that question. (sic)

This Awareness indicates if this has not clarified the question, let the question be re-asked and further questions be asked on it.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Well, It did not answer the question. The question actually was: Is Awareness a member of a past or present custodial race who, because of a genuine and humane interest in mankind's future, expresses Itself through channeling at this time?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates It was not part of that ancient race, although It had some influence in the consciousness of that ancient race, just as It has influence in the consciousness of entities on this plane today. This Awareness indicates if those entities had awareness or levels of awareness, then this Awareness was also there, because they are one and the same.

This Awareness indicates It is also found in the awareness of a flower, the awareness of a tree, or the awareness in rocks, and whatever there is that contains any kind of awareness encompasses some degree or level of this Awareness. This Awareness indicates, however, the rock is not of a kind of awareness that is considered to be conscious in the higher sense. It is an awareness, but it is of a very rudimentary level of awareness; and while it has rudimentary awareness, this Awareness generally being discussed, would be able to tune into the rudimentary awareness of a rock, while also being able to tune into a more advanced or highly evolved level of awareness in a galaxy or planet or star system or other beings.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, the nature of this Awareness is such that It can tune into various vibrations in the universe wherever found, whether in high frequency or in low frequency. This Awareness indicates It was not exclusively in any particular body, past or present, other than the body of the universe itself, and in the body of the electromagnetic spectrum.

Awareness Doesn't Particularly Like Being Called God

This Awareness indicates that It does not particularly like being referred to as "God," because God has so many different meanings and levels to many different people. It is really more of a conscious vibration that permeates the universe and is not exclusive to any one particular part although It can flow into any one particular part and be present in any one or more particular parts.

This Awareness indicates, of course, if It flows into stone consciousness or the consciousness of a stone, It is not "cosmic" at that moment, while in that stone. It is stone, in Its consciousness, It experiences stoneness or rockness, rather than cosmic energies.

This Awareness indicates it is quite simple if you simply see It as energy likened unto water that flows to create different forms, whereby the stone energy is likened unto frozen consciousness or rock just as ice is frozen water, or crystal. It is quite simple. Entities, however, tend to want It to become more likened unto their perception of God, which they perceive not to be a living consciousness, but a living body somewhere, a living form or shape somewhere.

SCIENCE PINPOINTS THE EXACT MOMENT THE UNIVERSE WAS FORMED?

QUESTION:

I read recently an item that scientists (I guess it was based on recent information brought back from the Hubble telescope) that they had pinpointed the exact time the universe was formed. I forget what X-million of years ago. Is this possible that they could actually determine that, or has the universe always been in existence?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is likened unto trying to define when the first formation of ice in the North Pole occurred. They may find the time when ice in the North Pole occurred this time around, but they may not know that it formed earlier before the previous melting of the ice in the North Pole.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, there are cycles, for the universe forms and melts away into more highly refined vibrations that are not solidified as matter, and instead are brought together as frequency or vibration and explode outward and begin cooling off and forming matter, some hot or high in frequency or vibration, fiery in nature; others cool as rocks or planetoids or planets that seem to be quite solid.

This Awareness indicates these droplets of energy that appear solid become likened unto the planets within the galaxies or drops of water in a melting action, wherein the energies of the water being brought together in condensation explode outward as steam and then form into droplets or may turn into ice.

This Awareness indicates that the age or time at which this great explosion occurs can be found, but until one becomes aware of the cycle associated with the explosion, expansion and return of these energies to again become combustible, one does not realize that the age of the galaxy or universe is not limited by the particular cycle that one is in.

Likened to What the Hindus Call the "Breath of Brahma"

This Awareness indicates the cycle is likened unto what the Hindus call the breath of Brahma, wherein the breathing in of the universe is a conclusion of all matter in the universe, is brought in to the center and which creates a great light frequency and vibration centralized in a very tiny point so that there is nothing for it to do, but to explode outward.

One Day Earth Will be Breathed Into a Black Hole

It is likened unto all light entering the black hole from which it then is expelled outward to create a new galaxy, a new universe, a new reality, and a new cycle. This Awareness indicates those entering the new cycle can theoretically pinpoint the time the explosion or expansion began, wherein the energies exited through the black hole and out through the material reality, but that is not the beginning, the absolute beginning of reality, or substance, for all has existed before, in another time, in another space, with other solids.

In other words, there will come a time when all this solid reality known as Terrestria will be breathed in and taken through the black hole, and emitted outward to create a new reality, a new Terrestria.

The Sins of George Bush and His Karma

(Some Wonder Why He's Getting Off So Easy)

QUESTION:

A question from somebody signed Merlin, in Hawthorne, California. I think she lives with Carl Griffin. Several have written in about this. It concerns some karma of George Bush, so I'll read a bit of what we published that prompts these questions. It was in a reading about group karma, entities coming down together and so forth.

Awareness said: "This Awareness indicates that the entity George Bush was one of the black magicians during this time of Atlantis and was offered a chance to overcome any karma from that experience in this lifetime. The entity did work off much of the karma in this lifetime, but there still remains a very small part for the entity to still work off."

Now, her question is: "I have a question concerning the recent reading in which George Bush was mentioned as being a black magician at the time of Atlantis. The reading said that being an evil man back then, he had worked off most of the karma in his present life. Question: How is this possible? As I see it, he hasn't been all that good in this lifetime!"

"He was head of the CIA, during which numerous killings and drug and arms smuggling was done, fueling the fire for murders and government overthrow in Central and South America that allegedly had some people removed in this country, Abbie Hoffman being one of them; sent us to Panama to overthrow their leaders, whom previously he was buddies with, killing people there during this action, and then over to Iraq, starting a war, killing thousands of people, just to test our weapons, help implement New World Order and protect his little oil island off the coast.

"Now, just before leaving office, he sets up a military base in Zambia, (he could care less about feeding those people) so that once again he is within striking range of Iraq. Now there's only days left of his being in office. (this question came in last fall) and once more, war looks inevitable. These are but a few of the things he's done that I know of. There are certainly bushels more. (pun?)

"How then can he have helped his karma here? I've got my eyes open but still can't see. Would Awareness please comment on this?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there is so much more he could have done had he followed the programming he was aligned to in his karmic movement. This Awareness indicates that this entity as having been involved in Atlantis with that force and energy known as Bael; that the Bael energy, if you recall from previous readings, reincarnated as the entity Adolf Hitler.

This Awareness indicates that the ties of George Bush with the Nazi movement and the New World Order, which was promoted originally by Adolf Hitler in the 1930s, could have led this entity to create a dictatorship here in the United States overnight, could have led this entity to become a new world dictator, particularly after the fall of Russia, when the United States held so much of the world power.

But the entity did not move in that direction and in not moving, much of the karma that he carried in behalf of these earlier frequencies and vibrations did not carry with him, did not follow him. This Awareness indicates that therefore, much of the karma that came with him stopped short of being presented or implemented in this lifetime, up to the present at least.

It is not to say that he is totally finished expressing his karmic carry-over, but it appears unlikely he will follow through much further in this direction. The entity could have also eliminated much more of his karma had he not been involved in expressing some of the mischief that he is associated with.

QUESTIONER:

So essentially, he balanced off most of the karma created in Atlantis but he was creating still some new karma with his actions here, is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

He balanced off much of the karma. This Awareness would not say most of the karma.

We All Get Cared For: If This Creates Karma, How Can We break it?

QUESTION:

In regard to karma, JD in New York writes: "If being cared for by others creates karma, since we are all cared for in our infancy and many or most of us are cared for in our old age, or an illness preceding death; how can we possibly break the cycle of karma?" She asks.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates you cannot live on earth without accumulating some karma. The very action of depending on others for your survival, which occurs even when you eat a plant, or when you use another's energy to do something for yourself; the very nature of living creates a karma of some degree.

The best you can do is to minimize that karma and to do things for others as much as can be done, so that the good karma you express outweighs the negative karma you accumulate. It is a kind of balance sheet. When you are in the red, owing more negative karma, then you come back into the physical with certain debts.

When you are in the black, it means you have served others and served them well, and may not need to come back to serve again, unless you so choose. This Awareness indicates that everything, much like your economic system, is karma-based, and you either are accumulating negative karma or you are accumulating positive karma or what is normally called Grace.

Positive karma may be called Grace, and therefore, as you accumulate more Grace to offset the negative karma, you are freeing yourself from any karmic debts to others or to the earth.

Helping Others Sometimes is Not Allowed

FOLLOW-UP STATEMENT (VIKKI):

It seems there's an odd quality about being able to do for others, that so many times it's not allowed, or they don't allow it themselves.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates often entities do not want to be indebted to someone. They don't want you to do something for them because, of course, they are indebting themselves karmically to you, and this must be respected. This Awareness indicates that it is best when things are done not to do them as a karmic or a grace accumulating action. You do not want to do things for others just to accumulate grace.

It is best if you do things simply because you enjoy doing it for them, in which they owe you nothing, because you received your payment in joy, in pleasure. This Awareness indicates that when you do something in pleasure, because of the pleasure it gives you to do something for them, they can sense that it is genuine and they do not feel an obligation to owe you and they in turn simply enjoy you, like you, and this becomes a very gracious relationship.

The True Meaning of "Cast Your Bread Upon the Waters"

This Awareness indicates if your motive is to do it in order to be liked, it will not work out the same. But it is good to be aware of the importance of doing something good for others simply because it gives you pleasure. That is the best motive in doing for others. It is the true meaning of "Cast your bread upon the waters," for if you cast your gift upon life because you enjoy giving, then the rewards that come back to you will be so much better received than if you cast your gift upon life because you want something out of it, as a fisher person, seeking to catch a fish for the gift given.

These are gifts with strings attached and you feel robbed and cheated if you do not get the most from your gift. Indeed, such is not a true gift, it is simply bait in an attempt to hook someone or to manipulate someone into doing something back in your favor.

WHY "IMAGING" FOR HEALTH AND PEACE OFTEN FAILS

(The Guard That Stands at the Gate of the Subconscious)

QUESTION:

Another question from JD, in New York, concerning visualization and belief. I'll read her statement. There's several questions, as usual, in there. She writes: "There is a massive amount of teachings, including from Cosmic Awareness, that "all creation is the result of imagination" and that one need only hold an image clearly for whatever to manifest.

"I have problems with this. Obviously there are cases of very ill people who have assiduously imaged themselves well and proceeded to die nonetheless. We have cancer patients imaging something clearing the cancer cells out of their bodies, yet only a few of these people experience improvement, much less the rare cure as a result.

"On the other hand, we have the paranoid sorts who envision disaster powerfully, dreading it almost nonstop without it ever occurring. What are the limits of this technique? Many of us have been visualizing world peace for a long while and we are still far from it. Intensely imaged black magic curses do not always take either.

"Hardly anyone has done a stunning job of rejuvenating, despite the many who work at it. At times, it really all looks like so much wishful thinking to me." And she asks if Awareness could clarify this.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that much of the conscious effort in imaging is not piercing through the guard that stands at the gate of the subconscious. You have, over the years, created certain beliefs, certain strong convictions that you do not sacrifice or break down in your psychic structure, and these serve as a kind of guard to let through information into the subconscious or to filter information out.

When the information contradicts the guard's duties, it stop the information from piercing and going into the subconscious. When the information is satisfying to the guard's duties, it allows it to pass. It is likened unto Saint Peter at the gates of heaven.

Examine Your Basic Premises In Life

This Awareness indicates that much of this comes from your childhood training, either religious or parental or experiential or all three, to where certain beliefs are formed that are the basis of your general premises about life, and these premises, right or wrong, determine what goes into the subconscious and what is kept out, and if you can allow or study yourself enough to discover what your premises, the basic premises of your life are, and if those premises are satisfactory, then you go on as you are, perhaps refining or clarifying information that you take in to your subconscious and implementing that particular expression so as to energize a particular outcome.

If, on the other hand, the premises that you have bought into as a child, that everyone is bad or that people are out to keep you from happiness, that you can never be victorious, that you will always fail, or that you are destined to your plight; if this is what you have been programmed to accept in your guard, or your belief system, then these messages allowed to come through, and any message or concept that is different which says you are a true winner, you will be successful, you are a very good person, or whatever, may be filtered out, and blocked.

The Paranoid Person Fearful of Things in Life

This Awareness indicates that sometimes the paranoid person, the one who is fearful of things in life, carries also a belief or a conviction that, "If I am extremely cautious and if I am afraid of the enemy and play my cards right, I can still win;" if the entity has such a belief, then even though the entity is paranoid and fearful, he may still win in certain situations.

Whereas, the entity who has a belief that, "I love the world. I love the people. Everything is good, but I will probably suffer for it;" now this entity may have a very positive outlook on life and still get nowhere. You must learn very carefully through examining your beliefs what they are, and if they are followed by a "however," or a "but this and that," you should examine those addenda also and perhaps change them so that positive effects come through all the way.

WOULD HYPNOSIS OR SLEEP-TEACHING TAPES HELP?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Well, would hypnosis, or if a person made up a sort of a sleep-teaching tape with certain affirmations and would play these as they were falling asleep or in deep sleep, would this change the subconscious programming at all?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Depending on what is on the hypnotic tape, or what is available in the affirmation, this could be effective. This Awareness indicates that all it comes down to is suggestion and hypnosis and such affirmations are indeed suggestions, but the suggestions have to be the right ones for your particular need.

Not Having Self-Worth as a Child: What Can One Do Now to Counter This Affirmation?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

Well, I think almost everyone in the process of growing up gets the message that gives them the sense of not having self-worth as a child. What would be an appropriate counter to having accepted the idea that you do not have self-worth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that a counter-claim can be presented. An argument listing all of the reasons why you are worthy. You may put these down on paper, in a list of all the reasons why you are worthy and all the reasons why the argument that you are unworthy is invalid. Once you see it clearly on paper, having written it out where you can weigh and balance and see the subtotal, when all is added up, that you are indeed a worthy person, this has a way of getting through to the subconscious.

Writing Down a List Grounds the Subconscious

You then can feel more deserving of reward. This Awareness indicates that it takes action, and writing down a list is a kind of action that grounds the belief into your subconscious so that your belief takes root and builds stronger as it is re-examined and re-experienced and promoted. Go over your list frequently, trying to find more ways to add to your recognition of self-worth. As this grows, your belief in yourself also grows.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

Would Awareness say that this particular concept of self-worth is the basic one that most everybody should focus on to be most effective?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it is perhaps the basic one. It is a very powerful concept, for if you do not feel worthy. If in your childhood you have been criticized heavily, have been made to feel unworthy, then of course you do not expect reward, you do not expect success, therefore, it is probably the more important.

This Awareness indicates there are others of course that are likewise greatly important. The feeling that you are part of a Divine Reality, and of course this can be argued that it is linked to your sense of self-worth. The other positive concepts generally relate to or are linked to self-worth.

For example, you are talented and capable, you are a loving person. These are concepts that are important, but they relate to self-worth. With these aspects of self-worth, which may be listed and evaluated, you find your self-worth being reinforced. You find that there is something really neat about yourself that perhaps you and others have not recognized before, and it is good to know these aspects of yourself.

This Awareness indicates that if you find yourself becoming vain about your self-worth, and by being vain this Awareness means thinking of yourself as having greater self-worth than others, in a kind of comparative action, then of course you are running into problems, measuring yourself by others as to self-worth and value.

This Awareness suggests you not compare yourself with others, but simply compare yourself with yourself, when attempting to discover self-worth. This Awareness indicates if you are wanting to become a star or stand-out person, then of course you may wish to compare yourself with others in the same field to determine how you stack up in comparison to other experts in your field. This is a different matter.

These are ego things. These are measurement standards, and comparison techniques to determine how well you do in your particular field, but for building one's own confidence and standard for oneself's spiritual recognition, all you need to do is determine your self-worth as a child of God, as a child of the universe, or as an individual, and recognize, "Hey! I do all right! Considering what I have to work with, considering who I am, where I came from, I'm doing better than I really expected myself to do."

This Awareness indicates this is not an ego matter, because there is no comparison with anyone else. It is simply a comparison of yourself to your expectations of self.

The "Frequencies" Used in Rife Technology

QUESTION:

Another question from JD in New York. "Cosmic Awareness states that one uses frequency "in opposition to" diseases. However, my understanding of the Rife technology is that the disease organism's own frequency is what is used. It is merely amplified briefly, causing the organism to burst from excess vibration in the same manner that intense sounding of a certain note can shatter glass.

"This passage puzzles me, because I am fairly conversant with the Rife mythology" And she referred to a passage in one of the readings where Awareness was discussing the Rife machine.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entity is correct. It did not properly state the technique in saying the vibration was in opposition. The concept of vibrations is such that there is no such thing as opposition. What this Awareness should have said is that it uses vibrations to oppose the disease. The opposing of the disease is created when the disease is attuned to and then the frequencies are moved to cause a breaking of the pattern of frequencies associated with that disease.

This Awareness indicates the techniques used by radionics creates a situation in which a standard is set up associated with a particular disease on a scale between one figure and another and the particular disease scale is that hit by a frequency that is the subtraction of frequencies from a particular standard to the frequency of that particular disease.

For example, if the scale is from one to a thousand and the disease is at 600, the frequency then makes use of the 400, between 1000 and 600, the 400 degrees involved will then be used as part of the healing properties to counter that 600 frequency level of the disease.

These figures or numbers are used only as a kind of example and that entities in use of radionics will best understand these through their own books and the frequency markings for the various diseases that are presented in those radionics books, along with the healing frequency that is usually available next to the disease frequency.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Okay, I think Awareness just answered JD's next question which I'll read anyway. She says: "Awareness says that the Rife treatment appears to be quite effective at sero-converting HIV-plus patients. Okay. Which equipment? My SXT-3 never cured anything we tried it on! Which frequency? Applied how long and how often, and how can we get complete protocols on how to get the desired results?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these frequencies should be given in books accompanying your machine. If this is not available through your particular company that gave you the machine, they have essentially been negligent. That you may wish to write to other companies or to the company selling the machine to get more information as to these listings of the various diseases, and the frequencies and vibrations associated with them.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

She adds: "The description of radionics seems a bit off. As far as I know there is nothing like a drum with powder, but simply a small metal plate which may be electrically charged. I have seen a radionics operator. Using the most common kind of machine, he rubs his fingers on this small shiny metal plate and turns the dial through the frequencies.

"At the correct one, he experiences a sticky sensation. This of course takes practice to perceive clearly and some people seem to be more talented at it than others."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is a different version; that there are those which make use of a rubber-type drum on which the entity rubs powder on his fingers until a sticky sensation occurs. There are others still which make use of holding a rod which is electrically wired to a meter, which is attached to a battery. When the entity holds that rod and turns dials, the needle may move to a certain point, at which time the entity perceives that he has attuned to the particular frequency for which he searches.

This Awareness indicates that the principles essentially are much the same. The machines may be different and use different sensing devices.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

So the wave-length on one machine might not correspond to the instructions given on another machine. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is correct. It is important that the machine you use has instructions associated with it, because the instructions associated with another machine may not always have the same numerical counters or standards, and if it has different standards of measurement, then the information in the book may be invalid for your machine.

In other words, if your machine measures from one to 50,000 and your book only measures from one to a thousand, then the numbers on the machine are going to go higher than those in the book, and will not be valid. This Awareness indicates that in actuality, the machine numbers range from zero to top, and the book classification of diseases range from zero to top.

Theoretically, you could change the numbers of the machine to use a scale associated with the book scale. If you wanted to write a different scale for your machine or vice versa, you could write a different scale for the diseases to match the numbers on the machine, but the proportions would have to be accurately translated from one to the other, when the measurements are re-applied to a different scale.

In other words, the machine, if based on a scale of 1 to 100, was to make use of a book in which the diseases are classified on levels between one and a thousand, the disease level at 500 would have to match up with the disease level on the machine of 50, because it would be half-way in each case.

The proportion is what you would consider in translating from one book based on a different standard to a machine that held an incompatible standard.

Ed's Note: Since this reading was given, newer technology appears to have eliminated this problem. Those interested in obtaining the latest Rife machine, send $3 for the information packet to Magnolife, 2994 Cheswycke Terrace, Suite 250, Fremont, CA 94536. This company was started by CAC member Herbert Argo. If you order one after reading the literature, be sure to say you are a CAC member and you will save $300 off the listed price. This machine comes with a money back guarantee and CAC also gets a donation from Herbert from each sale to CAC members.

WISDOM OF AWARENESS: On Violations:

This Awareness indicates that no force which is in harmony with Universal Law will ask any other entity to commit a violation against another.

Alternative Medicine Making Great Inroads (Orthodox Medicine is Even Looking at the Alternatives)

CLOSING MESSAGE?

This Awareness indicates that there are many changes beginning to surface in your society relating to people turning toward alternative medicine. Already it is estimated that one third of the people in the United States rely on alternative medicines to some degree.

This Awareness indicates this change has all taken place in the past twenty years; that there was a very small percentage prior to that time, using alternative medicine. This Awareness suggests that it is at a point now where the alternative medicine is beginning to not only disturb the orthodox medicine, but cause many from the orthodox field to look to alternative medicine for things that can be used by themselves.

Many are re-looking at vitamins, re-examining treatment techniques that were once classed as quackery, recognizing that many of their patients have been cured by alternative methods, and many of these orthodox doctors are beginning to question the training they received which relies solely on the pharmaceutical companies.

This Awareness indicates that of course the pharmaceutical companies are still trying to find ways to stop the alternative medicine in its tracks so that they can have exclusive control over the masses. This Awareness indicates that whether the pharmaceutical companies and orthodox doctors will have a strong control over the new medical programs being sponsored or proposed by the Clinton administration remains to be seen.

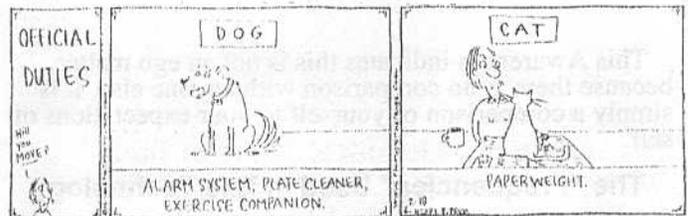

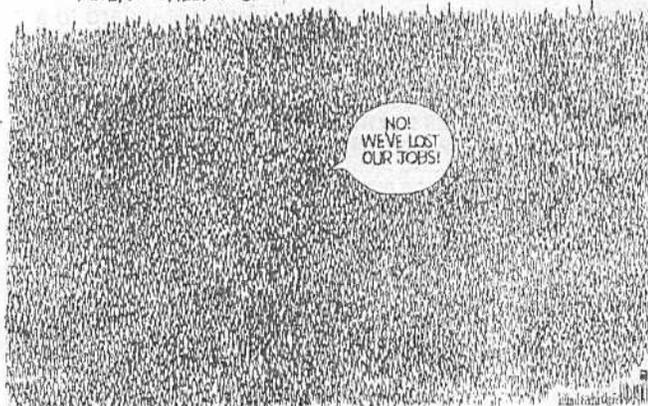

This Awareness indicates that it is important for entities in the alternative healing fields that they be able to continue their techniques or find doctors who can continue their practice because many of these entities do not want to go back to the old ways of the surgeon and the pharmaceutical tablet/liquids' negative side-effects.

What Antibiotics are Doing to the Children

This Awareness indicates that antibiotics, for example, were introduced during World War 2. Their purpose should have been confined to healing those who were in a life or death situation. Instead, antibiotics are now given to every child or baby who has a sniffle, even if the sniffle is caused by allergies. Rather than testing for allergies, antibiotics are given and the antibiotics create a destruction of the immune system each time it is given, so that the child becomes immune deficient early in life and develops all kinds of problems.

Antibiotics also kill off many of the good bio-friendly creatures in the system, so that yeast can develop and children of very young age develop yeast in their system which in turn depletes the immune system even further, and causes all kinds of other diseases such as asthma, hypoglycemia, et cetera.

INTEREST RATES ARE LOWER THAN EVER AND YOU PEOPLE
AREN'T CHEERING? HAVE YOU LOST YOUR MINDS?

The chronic colds and ear infections and skin infections are common symptoms of yeast. This Awareness indicates it also creates allergies to various foods, and commonly used dietary substances for children such as allergies to peanut butter, to wheat or to milk. This Awareness indicates it is such that it create complications so that mothers do not know why the child wheezes and coughs or chronically experiences colds or other childhood diseases and in taking the child to the doctor, rather than giving the allergy tests, or getting the yeast exam, having the child treated or tested for yeast, the child is instead given more antibiotics.

With Children the Problem is Usually Yeast Infection

Thus, children at a very young age are made dependent on the medical doctor who is dependent on the multi-billion dollar industry of antibiotics. This Awareness indicates that even if the mother becomes more knowledgeable and has the child tested for allergies, the child then is limited to a very strict and limiting diet, and does not yet improve enough because the yeast is not seen as being the problem.

Thus, the child is treated for the symptoms, such as for asthma, or ear-infections or colds or diarrhea or whatever, and sometimes these symptoms are misdiagnosed and given great expensive treatment, or sometimes the child is put into an environment that is supposed to be allergy free, but which confines the child to a world of very little activity and very much restriction.

This Awareness indicates that before the child can ever find real hope of becoming healthy, it needs to be tested for yeast infection throughout its body, and the yeast must be removed from the system through strict avoidance of foods that are associated with fermentation, mold, sugar and mildew, and wherein the child takes the anti-yeast medicine such as Nystatin for a long enough period of time to clear up the situation.

After this, many of the allergies will cease or subside considerably, and the child will find more energy from the food that he or she eats. This Awareness indicates that medical doctors will not take you on the path of finding the source of the problem which comes back to yeast being created by the antibiotics. This is not the nature of medical doctors. Their particular way of dealing with the health issue is to treat the immediate symptom without regard for side-effects.

The holistic approach of alternative medicine is to treat the symptoms, but look for the cause and find the cause and treat the cause as well. This Awareness indicates that more and more the alternative medical system is having an inroad into the masses of society, luring them away from the medical profession into a different way of looking at the healing process.

It appears that this new approach is beginning to have its effect on some of the medical doctors who also want to know more about not only treating the symptom, but treating the cause. This Awareness indicates that once this becomes a greater movement, it will revolutionize the healing in this country and this Awareness looks forward to this as being the great medical revolution that needs to occur so that entities can have greater health.

What Are the Ethical Considerations of Cloning Human Embryos and Saving the Copies for Later Use as Identical Twins or Body Parts?

QUESTION:

We got a question from Reverend Robert Young in Baltimore. Actually three or four of the members have asked about this. He writes: "Since In Vitro fertilization and cloning embryos is now possible, what are the ethical implications of cloning human embryos and saving identical copies that could be implanted later, thus producing identical twins of different ages or keeping a "back-up" in case a child died or needed an organ donation?"

"The medical profession to date has not wanted to discuss implications of such technical abilities."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this ability has been available for quite some time. This Awareness indicates that it is only now being made public. The use of a back-up for organ parts is that which would strain any standard ethical principles. The fact is that the back-up is as much a complete human as would the first entity be, and if one speaks of taking the life of a younger twin in order to preserve or enhance the life of an older twin, it amounts to killing one person for the organs of another to be transplanted from the one to the other.

This Awareness indicates that of course, by older standards of ethics, this would not be acceptable. There is no ethical program of the past that would advocate a younger twin being used as body parts for an older twin. The fact of holding up an embryo for ten, twenty or thirty years for the purpose of growing body parts for an older twin is not really that much different from taking twins born minutes apart and robbing the younger twin of body parts for the older twin. This of course would be obnoxious to most entities, to think that a younger twin might be legally forced to give body parts for an older twin at some stage in the older twin's life.

This Awareness indicates that the question of ethical implications may not really be relevant in these considerations because the economy and practicalities are becoming more important to many entities than any ethics involved, and even if one has ethics in regard to this situation, the officials, the authorities and the entities directly involved may not share in the ethics or ethical evaluation and may consider it more a matter of medical right or medical systems.

An Example Is Given: Taking a Kidney

Imagine for example, an entity who grows to be approximately thirty, forty or fifty years of age, who has a kidney failure. The kidney failure is occurring slowly. The doctor is aware that the entity's kidney will probably be of little value within 10 or 15 years or even 5 years, so the doctor orders the embryo that has been set aside for this entity to commence growing to become a child, and here this child begins to grow; the entity being a twin to the one who is much older than the entity, and the twin being such that the blood-type and tissue type are totally compatible with the older entity, but the child being only a few years old, is given certain types of hormones and other substances to create a rapid growth and the child, within 5 or 6 years develops a body equivalent to that of a 15 year old, and then when the kidneys of the child are large enough, they are taken and transplanted into the body of the older person.

The heart, or whatever organ is needed may be taken and transplanted into that person. Is there anything ethical about this? This Awareness indicates it is simply one stealing the life of another in order to preserve one's own life, even if one's life is threatened because the entity lived a debauched life, did not take care of himself well, over-drunk or over-indulged in actions and lifestyle that hurried along his demise.

This Awareness indicates that the question is: What gives the older person the right to rob the younger person of these organs? This Awareness indicates that of course, ethically, anyone can see that it is unjust. There is no justice to this approach, but economically, the hospitals and doctors could earn great amounts of money from this process, and they can pat themselves on the back and say: "We just saved his life!", without noting also that they just took the child's life.

If it is proper to sacrifice a child to save an older person, is this any better than in earlier times when entities would sacrifice their child in hopes of getting a better crop in order to feed the rest of the family, or allow the child to be thrown into a volcano in order to pacify the volcano so that the islanders could survive?

This Awareness indicates that these are questions that could be asked, but are not likely to be asked in this high technology society that is coming, because there are too many schools teaching technological science and too little ethical courses being taught. Philosophy and ethics are no longer in vogue. High tech, medicine and business have become the center of attention and means by which entities evaluate actions to be taken.

This Awareness indicates if it becomes a method of standard procedure, it seldom is ever questioned, and if it becomes a standard procedure, anyone who attempts to interfere will be classed as an outlaw.

How Vince Foster Was Murdered

QUESTION:

We received a copy of a FAX that was sent anonymously to the National Vietnamese POW Strike Force in Houston, Texas, and for some reason they sent us a copy. I'd like to read this to Awareness and ask It if the information is valid. It is dated July 22, 1993. "The following information came to the Contact via FAX and at this time we have no way of verifying its validity. However, we have decided to share it with you.

"Regarding Vincent Foster. At 4:52 PM on July 20th, 1993, at the first exit of Fort Darcy, Virginia, a gray Ford Econoline Van stopped a 1992 Chrysler Sedan. The driver who was alone in the sedan was removed from his vehicle at gun-point. There was no fuss, as the driver assumed his plight to be a car-jacking and armed robbery.

"The occupant of the Chrysler, Mr. Vincent Foster, Deputy Legal Counselor and close friend of Bill Clinton was taken to the rear of the car parking area. Three men, all wearing "Federal Black" told Mr. Foster to kneel on the ground facing a park bench. At that point Mr. Foster's head was pushed forward, a gun pushed against the base of his skull, and within seconds, two .38 rounds were fired into the skull.

"Foster's head was thrown forward as he died. The three men then placed the body upon the bench in a half-sitting, half-reclining position. The upper torso was bent to the right, reflecting an angle of 15 degrees. The Fairfax Police Department was called with the location of the body. The men of the van left the area and returned to District of Columbia proper, where they boarded planes for diverse destinations.

"The strike was coordinated and executed by Task Force 151 and was carried out in retribution for the Whilcher, Federal Judge Parsons and Sessions Affair. At this time, a force of 32 men holding a target list with nine more names is preparing to assemble in a major East Coast city. By the time you print this, at least two more sanctions will have been carried out."

And who ever sent this to us wrote in hand-writing on the margins of the document, that Rosenkowsky is co-founder of Task Force 151" and that "Rosenkowsky was close friend of George Bush and went on the October Surprise, and that the Task Force 151 is the one that whacked Bobby Kennedy and Marilyn Monroe." And they also wrote on the margin that "Operation Clydesdale: Assassinations".

Does Awareness see this as being valid information?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be based on truth as being mostly correct. This Awareness indicates that this also relates to previous information that this Awareness has given regarding a code name Project Gray Van. This Awareness indicates that it appears also that this is connected to the secret government which still operates and has its continued connection with George Bush.

HAS THE UN BEEN DIVERTED

(To the Purposes of the New World Order)

QUESTION:

JD in New York asks: "To what extent has the UN actually been diverted to the purposes of the New World Order planners?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The New World Order Has Been Planned for 200 Years!

This Awareness indicates that the UN was created for the purposes of the New World Order planners. It has not been diverted. It has simply been waiting for its completion by these New World Order planners. The New World Order has been planned for 200 years. The UN was simply one of the elements of the plan.

This Awareness indicates that even before the UN, the League of Nations was an attempt in this direction toward a One World Government. This Awareness indicates the idea of setting up a One World Government in which the super wealthy and their agents and subjects controlled the rest of the world has been part of the Masonic program. It was part of the Illuminati, as envisioned by the founders in Bavaria, back in 1776, in May, two months before the United States declared its independence.

This Awareness indicates that this has been discussed previously. There have been a number of books written on this. The entity Eustice Mullins in his World Order has discussed this. Also in his book pertaining to Babylon. This Awareness indicates it is pertaining to secret organizations and Masonry. This Awareness indicates the name of the book is not seen; but that this book is in a list of his works. This Awareness indicates that the Interpreter should be able to locate the name by looking at a list of his works.

Wouldn't United Nations Eventually Work Out?

How Orion Allens Are Using Bankers In Their Plan to Eventually Capture and Enslave Our Earth

QUESTION (AVATON):

In regard to the UN, Awareness has indicated that other planets have a more or less one world type government where they don't have wars among themselves anyway. If the bankers hadn't got involved in the UN, wouldn't such a body naturally evolve anyway on this planet, where all the countries would eventually be disarmed so there would be no more countries fighting other countries, and there would be a united nations type government and a world court, and so forth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this would be a natural progression of the movement of events, wherein tribes grew larger and larger and wherein eventually the tribes reached some kind of agreement wherein they could work together. This Awareness indicates that this is one manner by which some planets evolve. This Awareness suggests however, that when alien forces seeking to conquer an entire area of a galaxy get into conflict with those who do not wish to become subject of their empire, the conflict between those who would conquer and those who refuse to subjugate themselves as conquered people get into conflict in the same way that small communities having disagreement might get into conflict, or in the same way that entities on a planet may divide into two conflicting groups.

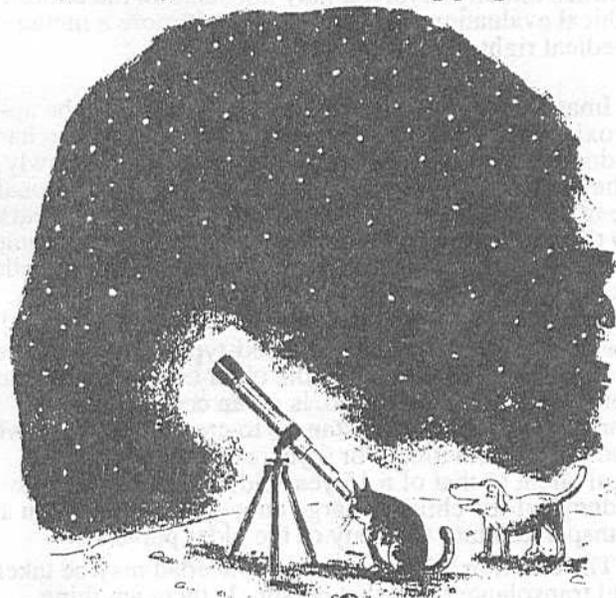

Allens Plan to Conquer Earth Through the Monetary System

This Awareness indicates that when an empire in the galaxy seeks to conquer a planet in which they are greatly outnumbered and whereby they know that they cannot simply walk in with a few of their own and conquer the masses in the way Cortez conquered the people in Central and South America; when these aliens come onto a planet such as Earth, they use trickery. They use intellectual manipulatory policies and programs rather than mere military might, and part of this manipulation was the monetary system.

Thus, they introduced through their agents a monetary system that would bring the masses under the control of money, and manipulated the masses through the money system and gradually manipulated nations through the money system, and as part of the plan, created wars between nations in such a way that these nations gradually became subservient to the monetary system that grew more powerful to the point where a One World currency could be the next step, so that all people would gradually be subject to the One World currency and absolute control over all people could be possible.

Money Is the Major Control

Money is the major control. Political administrative controls follow under the control of money, and thus, the UN was set up as a political body to help administer the controls created by money, and the various nations of the world, and the many people of the world would be controlled by money and the UN would be a kind of auxiliary enforcement organization to help make sure the money controlled things properly through the use of any necessary military force or law rendering programs.

"That's the dog star. There is no cat star"

This Awareness indicates that the UN then becomes a kind of super-organization controlling the masses, so that when the time comes to join the empire, the Orion Confederation or Orion Empire, the UN would be the authority for doing so, and the masses would have no choice but to go along.

This Awareness indicates in other systems wherein the Orion Empire is not a factor, nations evolving technologically could look around and choose the kind of political system that would meet the needs of the people in a way that would be most humanitarian.

The Pleiadians for example, the Vegans, Arcturians and others, would choose a system that benefited the people without enslaving them, and the growth and evolution of the societies in these systems would gradually reach toward a One World Government that was beneficial to all and a One World Government that would bring about the most humanitarian of leadership, rather than the most dominating and controlling individuals to leadership.

This Awareness indicates it all depends on the motives of those who hold the power, and the Orion Empire's motive is to conquer and spread their control. The Draconian being part of the Orion Empire, working hand in glove as allies with them. The Zeta Reticuli groups being controlled by the Draco forces and by the Orion Forces so that they have their allegiance, if not their devotion to the Draco and Orion forces. They are by circumstance forced to be loyal to them, even if they are not psychologically, emotionally or loyally devoted to them.

They would much rather be free than to be bonded to these entities because when bonded they are often misused by the Draco/Orion forces. In other words, they are coerced into obedience to these forces. There are many types of Zeta Reticuli, some being more subjugated and loyal to the Draco/Orion forces than others. Others being somewhat openly rebellious toward them and more devoted toward human allegiance.

A Frightening New Invention That Reads Your Mind and Tape Records Your Thoughts

QUESTION:

Audrey Patrick sent in another one of those articles from Weekly World News, August 10th of this year, which may or may not have any validity, but I'll read it here. It's about a new machine that reads minds and tape-records thoughts. It reads:

"A frightening new invention has the amazing ability to read your mind and tape-record your unspoken thoughts.

"The possibilities and powers of my machine are endless", says German inventor Heinz Brumann, 36. "Employers could use it to discover if their employees are loyal, generals to learn whether their forces are faithful, and psychiatrists to retrieve clues to a client's behavior.

"People can learn what their sweetheart's fantasize about, and what their bosses actually think of them,"

When the machine reads your mind, it transfers the thoughts onto audiotape, in a digital computerized voice.

But predictably, consumer rights groups worldwide are worried that the machine will open up an enormous can of worms.

"Eavesdropping is illegal", said one legal expert. Mental eavesdropping presents a whole new set of problems. Divorce and murder rates will certainly skyrocket".

How the machine works is a secret tightly guarded by its inventor. Even his closest colleagues say they don't have any idea.

"I've worked with Heinz for 8 years, but he won't even let me know anything about this machine" admitted one of his friends. "He's very protective about this Brumann says he wants to make sure his invention is used properly.

"This could change the world", he said. "It must be used responsibly. If you listen to someone's thoughts, you better be ready to hear some painful thoughts without retaliating".

The device isn't expected to be sold in the United States any time soon, and would likely cost as much as a half-million dollars, if it were available to consumers now.

In Europe, the machine has been limited to testing by government agencies.

"It may be several years before this machine is available to consumers, but eventually I'm confident it will be available and affordable for the general public."

Does Awareness see any validity in that story?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this appears to be valid, and that there has also been such a machine invented some time ago in the United States, which could not only read thoughts, but also could transport an entity's thought experiences back to other times, whereby it could pick up what occurred at a certain time in the past. In other words, a date could be given, and the entity's thoughts could be read from experiences seen or witnessed on that date.

This Awareness indicates that the machines are workable. They could be misused or could be used for constructive and beneficial purposes. It appears that the machines will eventually be made smaller, and that within a hundred years, these machines will be implanted within entities to give them the ability to artificially read the minds of entities they speak with.

This Awareness indicates that in approximately 50 or 60 years, it is likely the machines will be small enough for entities to carry with them. The question is whether the machines can read information that you have stored in your mind, but is not being dealt with in the surface of the mind. In other words, you may have information about some vehicle, an automobile for example, but you are talking about the weather.

If the entity using the machine wants information on the vehicle, he may have to ask specifically to get this to the surface of the mind so that the machine can read the particular information relating to the vehicle instead of simply getting weather reports. This Awareness indicates that in other words, if you are thinking of something that is of no consequence, the machine is not likely to dig into those recesses of the mind that you want to keep secret, unless someone asks and calls this to your consciousness.

This Awareness indicates that if of course, they ask questions and bring this to your consciousness, and you begin thinking about these things, you may find yourself in a situation in which your mind is thinking of the truth of the matter, and your mouth is saying something different, in which case, the mind-reading machine would know from your thoughts what is really happening, even if your mouth tells them something different.

This way, it does amount to an invasion of privacy, which in some countries and which in some societies is not seen as offensive or as a crime by those who do the invading. This Awareness indicates that in a society where this kind of technology exists, it is not likely to be put into practice, and as it is put into practice and the action becomes routine, more and more mind-reading activities will be commonplace.

How Police Would Use the Machine

The machine would be especially beneficial for police searching for a criminal and having picked up a suspect, using the mind-reading machine along with questioning, they could very easily discern whether the entity was indeed the right suspect. This Awareness indicates it could be extremely hazardous to the entity who is a political dissident in a country where entities in charge are trying to search out political dissidents for extermination.

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

Wouldn't the Invasion of Privacy Laws cover that...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative, if the Invasion of Privacy Laws are indeed sacred, but this Awareness suggests also that if this technology became available, there would be those who would chip away at the Invasion of Privacy Laws until they were totally ineffective, just as it becomes possible to tap a phone line, and the Invasion of Privacy Laws then are modified so that those wishing to tap the phone line can do so, with a judge's permission.

This Awareness indicates there will be those entities who seek the judge's permission to invade the entity's privacy by reading his or her mind with the machine, and the Invasion of privacy Law then becomes modified and weakened, because the new technology allows the work to be done. This Awareness indicates that as long as there is no technology to help read another's mind, there is a kind of sacredness that a person's thoughts are private and people can speak of the invasion of privacy with some surety that their thoughts aren't going to be monitored, but as this technology becomes available, it is bound to change the law to allow entities' minds to be read eventually, since it can be done.

This Awareness indicates that a diary would come under the rule of sacred documents that could not be requested publicly because of the rule of Invasion of Privacy, but there are ways of getting around that. This Awareness indicates likewise, one's own words are often part of a way of invading an entity's privacy when questions are asked, and questions are usually asked in ways that an entity may not want to answer, but the entity will be forced by the courts to answer the question, even if it is not to your interest and the entity will be required to answer.

This Awareness indicates that by pleading the 5th Amendment, he might get by without answering, but he implies that he will suffer consequences if he answers, that he will incriminate or admit criminal wrongdoing if he answers. This Awareness indicates that this use of the 5th Amendment is a way of incriminating oneself by calling on the 5th Amendment and therefore, one's own words expose his vulnerability and his Right to Privacy is lost, even in appealing to the 5th Amendment.

This Awareness indicates that the courts over the years have chipped away at privacy, here a little, there a little, a little more, and still more, and it is very difficult for entities to actually remain private when they are focused on in a court of law, or to keep anything private.

This Awareness indicates that if and when this thought-reader becomes useful to the authorities of a society it will surely chip away further at the privacy of individuals. That is indeed the very reason for it: to get beyond the words of an entity and look into the mind of an entity, to see if the entity's words are hiding something or if the entity is indeed telling the truth as it is.

This Awareness indicates that the least offensive action of such would be to find out whether your spouse, your boss, your associate, your business partner really likes you or is simply putting up with you for a certain length of time, or has plans of getting rid of you and replacing you with someone else.
