With Overpopulation and Wretched Living Conditions in Much of the World, Why are so Many Spirits Reincarnating at This Time?

QUESTION:

A question from Dan Chilinski, Toledo, Ohio. He writes: "The planet is headed for destruction today, mainly because of overpopulation. Industry cannot keep up with ever-growing populations, and when it does try to meet the survival and rest of the needs of today's massive over-population, it destroys the oceans and the atmosphere by pollution. Trees that produce oxygen are being cut down or burnt to make farmland available for growing populations, plus wood available for houses. More land is being paved over with concrete for more cars which in turn leads to more pollution.

"The green stuff that produces oxygen and absorbs carbon dioxide, which leads to a dangerous Greenhouse Effect and warming of the atmosphere, melting icebergs leading to land disappearing beneath rising oceans, and so forth, is gradually being scraped from every inch of the planet to accommodate the ever-growing over-population. In any part of the planet where you do not have a massive industry and factories churning out pollution, the populations are usually living in the most wretched living conditions, in slums, poverty and starvation, almost continually.

"Now, it seems like the population on this planet can keep on growing until almost everyone is living in wretched conditions, and no matter how big the population gets, no matter what the culture: primitive or advanced, there is always just enough souls to fit all the newborns available, regardless of living conditions. It has been stated by some channelers that a stillborn occurs when no soul is attached to the newborn. Now, I have never heard of any case anywhere on this planet that a sudden huge rash of stillborns occurred, indicating that the particular area, culture or living conditions did not meet the karma or growing needs of a majority of entities on the inner planes.

"It would almost seem almost like spirits are desperate to take anything available on this planet for reincarnation, even though the primitive and increasingly terrible living conditions would probably contribute little or nothing to their learning in most of the land on this planet. My question to Awareness would be to ask: Why a sudden increase, say several million stillborns, never occur anywhere on the planet that I know of, because surely not every culture or horrible living condition, conditions which increase every day, can meet the needs of every single entity on these inner planes?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is a very unique time for people of the earth at this time in the history of life on this planet. As has been suggested, this is a transition time wherein there is a movement away from the older more rigid ways into a new era or New Age in which there is greater communication and greater learning, regardless of what it may appear to be in terms of any particular cultural area.

The Clearing Out of the Limbo Planes

This Awareness indicates that the limbo regions, where many souls have been trapped for long duration, in some cases what may be seen as hundreds and even thousands of years of your time, are areas which the souls are now seeking to leave in order to experience some of the new energies that are emerging on this plane. The earth is undergoing an awakening state, a moment of dawning. This Awareness indicates it is a special time, and many entities do not care that they might be born in poverty or without special privileges. They simply want to be here at the time when this dawning occurs.

This Awareness indicates that there are still many in the planes of limbo who will remain there during this time who do not return. That is largely their choice, and in some cases it is their karma to remain there longer. This Awareness indicates that it is not easy for the planet to absorb the large numbers of souls reincarnating at this time. It is likened unto a body that is infected with parasites which help to destroy much of its vitality.

This Awareness indicates, however, the action is that which from a higher sense, is on cue; that much of this has been directed from other levels to occur at this time. This Awareness indicates that it is a time in which the population shall swell, for there will come a time when things reverse and the population begins to decline considerably, and the large numbers will assure a continuance of human population on this plane, in spite of those coming events.

This Awareness indicates that much of this will come not only through disease, hunger, and the excessiveness that has been the result of overpopulation, but will come also from natural changes that occur in the cycles of earth's movement through its path in the universe. This Awareness indicates that this does not imply or suggest these changes as coming in the near future or in anyone's present lifetime in terms of natural calamities that would affect huge numbers of population.

It appears rather, that the greater dangers to the population will come through those diseases, famines and results that are brought on from the misuse of technology and from the overpopulation of the earth and lack of proper care for the earth's resources.

Why Is There No Regulating Method to Control the Flow of Spirits to This Plane?

QUESTION:

Another question from Dan Chilinski. He asks: "Why is there no regulating mechanism to control the flow of spirits wanting to be reborn on this planet so as not to destroy it by overpopulation, or doesn't it matter that this planet be destroyed by overpopulation, just so long as physical vehicles, newborns, are made available to every spirit entity on those inner planes that wants one?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is a basic assumption in the question that may not have any validity, in the assumption that there is no regulating factor. This Awareness indicates that indeed, wherein overpopulation becomes a problem and begins to affect the earth, it can have its remedy from the effect of the earth changes in the environment that deplete the living conditions for the overpopulation. This Awareness indicates that this can bring about famine, pestilence, disease, and other situations that reduce the population in a natural sense, even though the natural remedy was brought on by mankind's own overindulgence.

When Earth is Over Polluted With Toxins a Balancing Occurs

This Awareness indicates there is, as in any body disease, the balancing action; wherein an entity becomes over-polluted with toxins, the body undergoes a sickness. The sickness helps to burn off the toxins from the system, bringing about a balancing or healing to the system at the expense of many toxins and many of the substances within the body; that it is much the same with the earth itself; that wherein there is an excess of human growth that pollutes or creates a kind of toxin for the earth's welfare, that toxin itself can bring on a kind of sickness to the earth, such as is being recognized in the polluted waters, the waters that produce toxins within the food chain and which produce illnesses among the creatures that live on earth, including the population of humans, and in effect it begins to destroy the population.

Ozone Layer and Rain Forests Eventually Will be Restored

This Awareness indicates the same is happening in regard to the ozone layer as it diminishes, wherein more and more entities will suffer from skin cancer and other diseases from the heavy radiation of the sun, and from the burning of crops and resulting hunger that will follow, and this will reduce the human population considerably in the coming years, along with other man-made hazards. This reduction in the population will automatically lead to a healing, the beginnings of healing to allow greater time for plants to be restored, for forests to regrow, because there will not be such a demand from the excessive population, and the time allowed will assist in the healing of the earth, including the ozone layer and the rain forests; this as being seen as the probable route of the future.

This Awareness indicates there is, of course, the danger that excessive, heavy, rapid cutting of the forests can intensify the problem to such an extreme that it will be more and more difficult, and more and more entities will suffer before there is any reprieve. If the ozone layer diminishes too far, it may be quite some time before it can be repaired, which could in turn lead to greater destruction of the population of earth. If it is extreme, the surface population of earth could literally be wiped out along with vegetation. This is not seen as being the likelihood in terms of earth's future.

Ed's note: At the time of this reading, Awareness was very concerned that the New World Order would succeed in its sinister "Global 2000" plan to depopulate the earth. Although AIDS and other calamities promoted by the New World Order has claimed millions of lives, the fact remains that the population today is greater than ever—more than 5 billion are alive today on our planet as we near the millennium year of 2000.

HOW SOULS ARE CREATED

(One Book Claims a Soul Is Formed With Every Newborn)

QUESTION:

Another question from Dan Chilinski. He writes: Kyle Griffiths, in his first book Spiritual Revolution, and second book, War In Heaven, stated that a new soul is always formed with every single newborn, unless a spirit attaches its astral cord to it, in the reincarnation process, in which case it will take on the characteristics of the spirit who attaches the astral cord to the newborn. Is this a correct statement on how new souls are formed, that just simply creating a new physical vehicle will automatically create a new soul even though no spirit on the inner planes attaches an astral cord to it for the reincarnation process?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is negative. This Awareness indicates that souls are not simply created at the birth process of a child; souls are created in spirit, and then may move into physical form as a child. This Awareness indicates that there are many processes that energy goes through in the creation of a soul, that the energies collected by an individual that may be referred to as a soul can come from many different source; that essentially, a soul is a magnetic center, having its own individuality, and a sense of self; that it does not suddenly come into being. It comes into being in a scattered array of experiences, and then is amassed into a collective center, and this amassing of these many cycles of information processing subsystems into one larger and more unified system known as the soul, is essentially the event that is generally referred to as the creation of the soul.

Spirit Exists Throughout the Universe

This Awareness indicates that throughout the universe there is spirit, and spirit is often infused into matter as a kind of breath of life; that much of this spirit goes into various formations and can become different types of life forms. These life forms often shed the physical body and the spirit that was part of the physical body may remain intact, an accumulation of many of these spirit bodies or spiritual essences into one larger and more complete body of spirit essences, forming a magnetic center that takes on a total and separate identification of its own: this may be referred to as a soul.

A simple analogy can help to clarify this. This Awareness indicates that if one uses a polarized microscope, looking through at the D-Cell, for example, the light pigments from certain plants that are used in making the D-Cell, (this in reference to Joe Dunn Sloane's D-Cell which this organization has sold to members as a water catalyst); if one looks at the D-Cell through a polarized microscope, one can see many little light pigments floating around in the water, shimmering and appearing to be tiny little creatures, each doing its own separate dance of life. If this water is left to continue its process for a certain length of time, and if all things go properly, eventually these D-Cells, these pigments of light that are dancing in the water which can only be seen with polarized light, these will begin to settle down and to form into groups. There will be vacant areas in the water where there are no D-Cells and where D-Cells exist, they will cease their dancing and become quiet in groups.

If this continues to sit and rest in this manner, the time will come, when, if you continue to watch the group of D-Cells, a film will form around the group as though locking the group together and then, suddenly, without notice, the entire group of D-Cells will begin to move around as if it were a separate entity. This has been dubbed the S-Cell, and then these S-Cells begin swimming around in the water. These too can only be seen under polarized light, but they have been created by hundreds of little D Cells that come together, stop wiggling and join as one.

This Awareness indicates that this is much likened unto the way a soul is created. This may be a perfect analogy for the creation of a soul, and these S-Cells then begin to have a unique individual life of their own that is totally different from those lives of the D-Cells, just as the soul is totally different from those little spirit life forms that are found in insects and other small creatures.*

*D and S-Cells are no longer made nor are any available today. Ed.

This Awareness indicates that generally, any child born is born with a soul. The soul can be relatively fresh. The soul can be the result of energies that have come together, but the entity is not born without a soul, nor does the entity come into being without a soul. There is, however, the attachment that can occur in terms of an entity's conscious self, the middle self, wherein a portion of an entity's being attaches to the soul to form the middle self.

The Middle Self & Personality Enters at About Three Years of Age

Essentially, the low self of Huna is the soul. The middle self is its partner. It is likened unto the Yin and Yang, and the High Self is the spirit, guide, or the other part of the trinity that makes up the Three in One, that taken together is the total being. This Awareness indicates that often the middle self doesn't enter into the body of a child immediately at birth, but may wait for some time, even up to several years, generally prior to the age of three. This Awareness indicates that in some cases it will hover around the body, waiting for the body to develop before entering.

At the time the middle self part of the soul enters the body, that is when entities start to think of and recognize a personality in the child. Prior to that, the child will simply appear to be an animated being without any particular characteristics other than physical appearance and normal childlike behavior. The child will have the feelings, the emotions, the hungers, the needs, the animation and all the motor skills that are normal to a child, but entities will not recognize a distinct personality until that middle self enters into the child, at which time entities will begin to see a personality and will begin to recognize something unique and different about the child.

This Awareness indicates that, of course, the Higher Self continues to hover close to the child throughout all of this experience. This Awareness indicates essentially the soul is comprised of the entire being. It is often thought of as the subconscious and yet it is also comprised of the conscious and subconscious as well as the superconscious. It depends on terminology and how entities wish to use these terms.

WHAT ABOUT THE SOULS IN ROBOTOIDS AND SYNTHETICS?

QUESTION:

Dan has a follow-up question, if the previous question was answered in the negative. He asks: "If new souls are not created by simply creating a new physical vehicle, a newborn, then how is it that the robotoids or synthetics, mentioned by Peter David Beter, have souls, which Awareness stated they had in a previous CAC report I read? This would indicate that just by creating a new physical vehicle, a new soul is going to be automatically created from the energies of the material world. Why would an artificial creation make a soul, but the natural way a newborn is made, designed by evolution processes millions or billions of years old, not make a soul?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the statement given in regard to this is that there were rudimentary souls being recognized in the robotoid. This Awareness indicates that the rudimentary souls which these entities were recognizing, as having come about from the original soul that was separated from his or her body at the time of the creation of the duplicate, and it reattaching to that duplicate body. It is not something that took place in the sense of complete integration with the duplicate body, but there was the effort based on the laws of correspondence and harmonic vibrations or sympathetic vibration, where the soul, or a portion of the soul, still in harmony with the cells that went into the making of the robotoid, were being drawn back to that duplicate, and in part there was a kind of entrapment of part of the soul in that robotoid.

Drawing the Entity Back Into the Robotoid is a Possibility

This Awareness indicates that it would be possible, under certain circumstances, and especially with the work of persons such as mediums who communicate with spirits, to draw entities back into the robotoid body so that the full soul could reenter and the personality perhaps could even reenter into the robotoid as a complete reassignment into a duplicate body. This does not appear to have been perfected. This Awareness does not advise that this be conducted, but it does appear that it will eventually become practiced in some degrees.

There will always be some loss of the total integration of a soul through this practice so that the duplicate is never as complete as the original.

Robotoids and Synthetics Not the Same

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness has indicated the robotoids had mainly been replaced by the synthetics...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is negative. This Awareness indicates that these are two separate and different creations; that the two are not the same.

Q) FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Then what Awareness just gave on the robotoids would not apply to the synthetics?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the processes are similar. There can be similar application. The substances are different. This Awareness does not wish to open further discussions in regard to robotoids and synthetics. This information having been given at a time when the information was crucial for the understanding and for the infiltration into mass-consciousness of information that needed to be assimilated in mass-consciousness for the good of the earth; that this information at this time is but for curiosity and has no particular need for the good of the earth itself and that the pursuit of this information at this time as a mental curiosity, is but that which can lead to further and further questions which will bring about more problems to you and to your organization than good.

This Awareness suggests that the pursuit of such information just for the curiosity of the mind chasing bizarre concepts, things that are unusual and out of the ordinary, is but for mental gratification. It does not serve any great cosmic or earthly purpose. There is no need in terms of human evolution for any further pursuit of this information at this time and the pursuit of such information can bring about difficulties for your organization.

This Awareness indicates It is not simply concerned with protecting state secrets, It is also concerned that the pursuit of such information is distracting from the real purpose of this Awareness communicating, for it is not the purpose of this Awareness to communicate and expose state secrets to curiosity seekers. Its purpose is to assist entities in understanding their place in the universe, in understanding their role, in understanding their needs, in understanding what it takes to grow and develop their own higher levels of awareness, and to become one with the universe in which they live on all levels.

FOLLOW-UP STATEMENT:

I think a lot of people are curious about that subject because....

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates a lot of people are curious about many subjects. A lot of people are curious about death, but it does not mean that you should experience death in order to satisfy curiosity. This Awareness indicates that this information will come soon enough for entities.

QUESTIONER:

Well, before I was interrupted, I was going to say: curious because they feel there is something sinister about the situation that somehow is adversely affecting their lives, and perhaps with the knowledge of it, they could bring about some kind of change.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the knowledge of it as that which has been given; that were they to know any more, their lives could well be affected even greater, to their own adversity.

Can Certain "Drugs" Be Used As a Sacrament? (Can Certain Herbs Like Marijuana be Legally Used?)

QUESTION:

A question from Mark Smith; He writes: "Awareness often refers to consciousness-altering substances as drugs. Would Awareness please reconcile this concept with the concept of a 'sacrament';--a physical and outward manifestation of an inward and spiritual grace."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the concept of a sacrament is that which carries with it the assumption of a symbolic nature that this substance represents as a symbol, a particular purpose carrying forth a change, such as an alchemical change in consciousness. This Awareness indicates for example, drinking wine and eating unleavened bread as symbolic of the blood and flesh of Christ. This Awareness indicates that the alchemical change of wine into blood, and bread into flesh as that which is the substance of this concept of this sacrament.

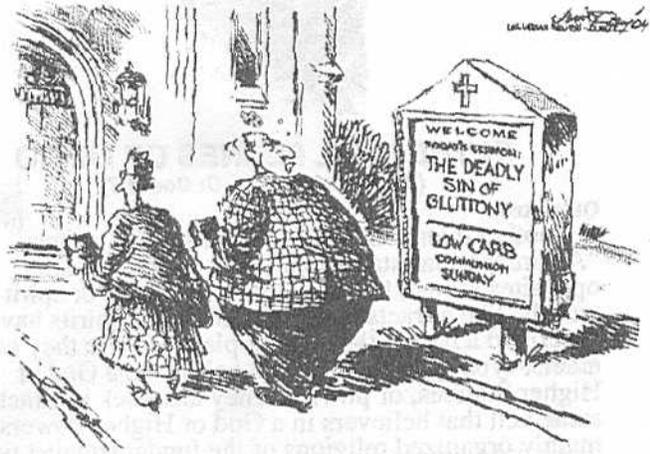

Awareness Defines a "Sacrament"

This Awareness indicates that any chemical or any substance taken with the spiritual or religious connotation that it is an alchemical action, whereby it is intended to be used symbolically for a particular purpose and transmutes from one body or level of substance into another body or type of substance, this is a sacrament. This Awareness indicates that if this is a chemical, a mineral, foods or nutrition, or even some type of ritual; it still could be considered a sacramental action, ritual or substance.

This Awareness indicates that the concept of a drug is that which may have an effect of altering consciousness, but is not accompanied by a concept of symbology whereby the drug stands for something else. This Awareness indicates that basically, sacrament is that which is determined by one's consciousness and attitude toward the substance, rather than in terms of chemical makeup of the substance.

Supreme Court Rules Religious Beliefs are Sacred Under the Constitution of the United States

This Awareness indicates that the recent Supreme Court ruling which states that any religious beliefs; (this as of approximately April 5th of this year); the Supreme Court ruling which states that any religious belief, regardless of how absurd, inconsistent or ridiculous it may appear, is not to be denied by the government of this nation or of the states. This Awareness indicates that the ruling further expressed that an individual having such beliefs need not be bound by the beliefs of the same religious sect, even though they may be different from that of the individual. This Awareness indicates essentially, what this has done is establish that individuals' religious beliefs, regardless of whether belonging to a church or not; these religious beliefs are sacred under the Constitution of the United States.

This Awareness indicates that with regard to this, individuals may look at the concept of sacraments in terms of religious beliefs and may find that certain herbs and medicines of a healing nature could be used in religious purposes and spiritual beliefs, even though not necessarily approved by agencies, or allowed to other individuals not using this particular aspect of the Constitution. This Awareness indicates this as requiring some close legal scrutiny to determine the proper interpretation in regard to sacraments.

The Cosmic Laws of Cosmic Awareness...

THE LAW OF RESPECT

The Law of Respect is that principle of looking twice, or, more precisely, looking twice as deeply; for respect goes beyond the surface appearance and superficial glances to discover a deeper meaning, purpose or basis for discovery. Without the principle of respect, the Book of Love will never be read, the Tree of Life will never be seen in full bloom, and the thousands of rainbows of the Land of Essence will never be viewed. But with the Law of Respect in action, the mysteries of the universe, or any part, will open layer after layer, like the unfolding of a thousand-petaled lotus.

That worst outcrop of herd life, the military system, which I abhor... This plague-spot of civilization ought to be abolished with all possible speed. Heroism on command, senseless violence, and all the loathsome nonsense that goes by the name of patriotism—how passionately I hate them! How vile and despicable seems war to me! I would rather be hacked in pieces than take part in such an abominable business. My opinion of the human race is high enough that I believe this bogey would have disappeared years ago, had the sound sense of the people not been systematically corrupted by commercial and political interests acting through the schools and the Press.

IN THE HELL PLANES OF LIMBO

(Like Attracts Like. Or Does It?)

QUESTION:

Another question by Dan Chilinski. He writes: "Awareness has stated that in the material world, opposites attract, but in those inner planes or spirit worlds, like attracts like. Kyle Griffiths' spirits have described a hell in those inner planes where they have atheist-type spirits that do not believe in a God or Higher Sources, or powers. They are stuck in exactly the same hell that believers in a God or Higher Powers, mainly organized religions of the fundamentalist type, are located. My question to Awareness then is: Doesn't this hell described by Kyle Griffiths' spirits contradict and destroy the cardinal principle of those inner planes that like attracts like?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that It has indicated that in a spiritual sense, in the higher spiritual essences, like attracts like. This is in reference to those things that are of higher frequency in which culture, for example, of one level is attracted to culture of the same level. Philosophical ideas of one kind are attracted to philosophical ideas of similar kind that help to reinforce each other. It is for this reason that entities will often substantiate their belief system by further recognizing similar belief systems, and those having a belief system seldom are attracted to a belief system that is opposed to theirs.

Thus, in these higher regions of mind and higher regions of spiritual evolution, entities are attracted to those of a similar frequency or vibration; that in the lower sense, negative and positive attract. In the magnetic sense of forces, the positive and negative attractions, even in levels of emotions, are commonly seen; that wherein one entity is calm and the other is agitated, often these entities come together, the agitated entity wanting to be near a force that is calm, the force wanting to be near something that is agitated because they like the excitement. This Awareness indicates that this is what is meant by opposites attract in the lower levels, and in the higher levels the attraction is between those things of a similar nature.

The Attraction is Often Like the Murder of Christ Concept

This Awareness indicates that in the reference to those things of the inner plane, that every inner plane has its own level, and in some of the lower inner planes in which there is great negativity, these are drawn in many ways to reflect the principles associated with the concept of opposites attracting. Thus, an extremely negative being will be attracted to something that is highly spiritual in nature, but may, in turn, attempt to destroy that spiritual being.

This Awareness indicates that this is likened unto the concept of the murder of Christ, wherein the lower creature seeks to destroy innocence and purity. This destruction is a form of attraction. It is drawn to this in order to obtain some kind of imagined fulfillment. This Awareness indicates that if the question is that the inner planes represent higher spiritual levels, this is not necessarily the case, especially in reference to the way the question was asked in regard to the levels of lower vibratory realms; that in the higher regions, higher frequency levels, entities tend to seek to be around those of their own frequency rather than around gross and demonic types.

In the lower realms, many of those enjoy being around entities of their own kind because it lets them feel that they are not so bad compared to 'that' person or that they are more normal, and therefore there is a kind of likeness in a lower sense; but this Awareness is not intending to imply that the rule of "like attracts like" and "opposites attract" applies on all levels the same. This Awareness indicates that in the material sense, opposites tend to attract. In the mental and spiritual sense, like tends to attract like.

Thus, if one is low, spiritually unevolved, they tend to be attracted to unevolved spiritual beings. If one is emotionally unevolved, they tend to be attracted to emotionally unevolved beings. If entities are highly evolved spiritually and emotionally, they tend to be attracted to those like themselves. In reference to physical attractions, the opposites tend generally to attract, and in some cases, opposite emotions tend to attract each other.

This Awareness indicates it is not some hard rule of physics, it is a generality, and there are shades and variation and degrees that must be considered. This Awareness indicates one must be cautious about applying generalities that are meant only in a philosophical sense as though they were mathematical formulas, for if one is to apply certain things as mathematical formulas that are stated in a philosophical sense, then these things become likened unto hard copy as opposed to soft copy.

This Awareness indicates in the word processing system, at the end of a sentence there is often a soft hyphen added automatically at the end of the sentence on your computer screen. The soft hyphen is one that can be wiped out if you change the length of your sentence by changing the margin. It will simply disappear or be totally missing. A hard hyphen will remain, even if you change the length of your margin and the word ends up in the middle of a sentence. The hard hyphen will still be in the middle of the sentence, between two syllables of the word.

This Awareness indicates that these statements in regard to the opposites attracting on a physical sense, and like attracting like in a spiritual sense, are likened unto the soft hyphen. They do not apply to all things on all levels in every degree. It is but a convenience and generality to help entities to understand that there is a difference, and that rules such as "opposites attract" tend not to apply on all levels in the same degree.

After Death are Many States of Consciousness

QUESTION:

Another question from Dan: "How many spirits are in the hell described by Kyle Griffiths' spirits, just a couple dozen, or is it billions of entities, when you consider the huge amount of organized religion believers, Islamic and other strongly fundamental type religions on this planet?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that questions in regard to other entity's perceptions in reference to their conjectures and perceptions of the afterlife are best left for those entities who promote such conjectures. This Awareness indicates that the universe is not quite as this entity has projected; that upon the passing over, there are states of consciousness, just as your present life experience is in actuality comprised of states of consciousness, that is formed from the collective consciousness of all participants.

Imagine Many Entities All Sharing a Collective Dream

This Awareness indicates that it occurs in a very narrow band or frequency of the total universal vibration, and when one passes over into another band or frequency, there will be what appears to be other entities expressing and emanating from that band of frequency. This Awareness indicates that this is extremely difficult for entities on your plane to understand, but if you can imagine a group of entities who come together and who, by decision, could agree to share a collective dream when going to sleep, and all of those entities could go to sleep and dream the same dream together, and all of them could see themselves in the dream in accordance with the agreed upon plan and script as to how the dream would transpire; if this were possible to achieve, then these entities would have the impression that they were all participating in a reality that had its own absolute place in the grand reality, and they would all seem to agree that this was a time and place based on absolute existence; yet we, the observers, on looking at this, would all say: "No. They are just dreaming. The reality they think they see is but a collective hallucination. It does not in fact exist. Our reality exists, but these entities are asleep and they are simply dreaming. It is all in their heads. It is all imaginary."

The Many Mansions in God's Universe

This Awareness indicates that upon passing over from this reality, entities enter into other realities. These are the many mansions. These other realities look back on this reality as a dream. It seems to have little meaning. Those new realities are not real to entities on this plane. The reason they are not real is because they are only in consciousness. They have no physical substance in regard to this reality.

Likewise, upon the passing over, when entities enter into those other realities, they look back on this reality and it has no physical substance, and the consciousness which they are participating in has the appearance of a reality with substance. This Awareness indicates that the actual passing over as that which simply shifts frequencies from one hallucination to another and to another, and to another, in accordance with the frequency or vibration of the entity, so that if an entity is vibrating at a certain frequency in terms of his or her soul stuff, that entity will go to that frequency or vibration that is most akin to his or her own, and the entity will then feel himself or herself to be in a particular plane of existence.

This Awareness indicates that if entities feel themselves to be evil and of a great negative development, and their vibrations vibrate to those negative levels, they will go into a corresponding negative frequency that vibrates most closely to their own, and they will participate in the illusion that is being created by others who have collectively been moved into similar frequency levels, and thus, they will find themselves attracted to others like themselves, vibrating in the frequency that is akin to their own.

This Awareness indicates that in this sense, they may perceive themselves as being in some kind of hell, but it is only their own creation or own hallucination, mingled with the hallucinations of others like themselves who are vibrating to that hallucination and frequency level. There is no actual hell other than that which entities create for themselves, and mutually for each other.

This Awareness indicates that entities who are able to change their frequency and vibration and vibrate to the highest, or vibrate to a higher frequency, will automatically be moved from that lower frequency, for one cannot remain in a frequency vibration that is out of harmony with that which is occurring and will automatically be moved in one way or another to the appropriate vibratory rate where they belong.

This Awareness indicates this applies not only in terms of other realms in the afterlife, it also applies in terms of your own present situations; that if one is caught in a negative situation and alters one's vibration so as not to harmonize or vibrate with the negativity, then one will not remain for long in that negativity.

WHEN A LIMBO ENTITY DIES DOES HE RETURN TO LIMBO?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

As limbo is being cleaned out, and those entities experience a short lifespan; they die of starvation, as a child in Africa, for example; does the spirit of that entity go back to limbo once more, or where? beings he probably had little soul growth during the brief incarnation

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that even such short periods of time can strengthen the entity's opportunities for moving into other sojourns and expressions. It is a sense of movement that is important in getting one to free himself from limbo. Entities enter into limbo not so much from entrapment in limbo, but from complacency. They tend to become complacent to the point wherein they are satisfied to remain in limbo or they are afraid to leave limbo.

What the State of Limbo Really Is

Limbo is simply a state of consciousness in which entities become stagnant. They do not want to venture out into new experiences such as being reborn, being reincarnated or venturing into other realms. They are likened unto those who become trapped in fear or trapped to the point of thinking they are secure when they are not being tortured or tormented or given choices or bothered by experiences that ask them to perform or do something. They are simply satisfied with being left alone in states of consciousness that make no demand on them.

Limbo is not a place of torment. It is a place of waiting.

A Peek at Life in Limbo

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

There is activity going on there though?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates there is some activity, but the activity is not that which calls forth for entities to participate in activity. Occasionally, entities will seek to escape limbo. If they have the sufficient strength they may even do so. Occasionally they simply seek to escape out of boredom. If the boredom is not strong enough they will decide it isn't worth it and will go back into waiting. They tend to wait for someone to come to them to bring them out of limbo.

This Awareness indicates that much of what has happened in recent years on this plane has opened the doors of limbo and caused entities to come pouring out onto this plane. Much of this is through the extreme of music, this especially in the rock music; that there is also the stirring of limbo by entities who pass through limbo or who open the gates of limbo through rituals and through the observance of limbo; that even the opening of certain rituals into the traversing of the limbo planes has helped to stir these entities so as to open the doors of limbo; that once this area of limbo is cleaned out, the entire earth will then become freed so that it can have its own shining place in the universe.

This Awareness indicates that when It speaks of limbo It is speaking not only in reference to the earth, but Terrestria; that limbo is likened unto a certain frequency or vibratory rate. It is like a channel on a radio set or television set. It has its own peculiar frequency level, and when tuned into, opens the gates to allow energies to flow in and out so that instead of being locked and trapped in areas, entities who are in limbo can then have opportunities to leave, and in the leaving, the power of that frequency known as limbo diminishes, and its influence on the rest of the spectrum also diminishes.

Negative Forces Drain and Use the Energies of Those Trapped

Limbo may be thought of as a place in which those negative forces entrap the souls of entities in order to use their energy for negative purposes. The souls themselves do nothing but wait. They serve as a kind of battery for negative forces to dwell upon. Once this battery has been discharged and the souls have left limbo, the negative forces that have long controlled the earth and planets of its nature will have little power left to make mischief.

ARE SOME ENTITIES ON EARTH TUNING IN TO LIMBO ENERGIES?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Are those entities here on earth, who seem to spend their lives sitting around waiting for something to happen; are they sort of tuning in to this limbo vibration?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates they are not only tuning in, they are sometimes reflectors, and they are sometimes candidates, and they are sometimes refugees from limbo; that much of that waiting syndrome is in harmony with the vibrations of limbo. Either they have come from limbo and it is reflecting their pattern of lifestyle or they are moving into a kind of limbo state, or they may simply be attuned to those same kind of energies from limbo. Often such entities are confused, do not know which way to go, whether or how to assert themselves in order to live more meaningful lives, and so they wait for someone to come and rescue them or direct them or move them.

Many entities feel that they haven't got a sense of direction and they want someone to give them direction. They cannot motivate themselves easily, or do not trust themselves enough to be self-motivated, so they seek or wait for someone else to motivate them.

The Religious in Hell Are Irrelevant?

FOLLOW-UP STATEMENT (VIKKI):

In regard to the hell as described in Dan Chilinski's question, where he was surprised that people who believed in religions would be in the same hell as people who didn't believe religiously, it seems to me that that's an irrelevant aspect because there are people who believe all sorts of different things in a light way and in a heavy way, and your vibration isn't indicated by what you believe so much as who you are, and your own vibration.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that it is likened unto if one were to create an analogy of oxygen, for example, as being synonymous, or representing spirit, and the lack of oxygen, as representing matter, and one were to create different types of substances that contained more oxygen or less oxygen, and these were to be dumped into a pool of water so that some floated here, some floated there, and some floated up toward the top because they contained more spirit or oxygen, and some sunk to the bottom because they had no oxygen whatsoever, or no spirit; they were essentially dead to spirit. It is likened unto that.

Each Thing Finds Its Own Level According to Frequency

Each thing finds its own level according to its own frequency, its own spiritual frequency or vibration. It has nothing to do with its belief in itself; in fact, its belief may be equated to paint on the object. Its belief is simply coloration of its personality, and belief does not create the oxygen. However, if one has a belief that oxygen or spiritual is better than non-spiritual, the entity will tend to take on, if the entity has a choice and ability to do so, to take on more oxygen or more spirit in his or her life, and therefore may evolve spiritually, as opposed to sinking into the more dense levels. In this sense the beliefs are important if they help the entity to rise spiritually, but the very selection of a belief, such as one who believes in Rajneesh or J.Z. Knight, or Mohammed, or Buddha or any other, this in itself will not affect the placement of the entity's soul level.

It will depend on how spiritual, and spirit; the Divine Spirit is not the exclusive property of Rajneesh, J.Z. Knight, Buddha, Mohammed or any other. The spirit is there for everyone.

Religions Today Don't Seem All That Spiritual

(He Feels Religions are Mind Controlled by Dark Forces)

QUESTION:

One final question from Dan Chilinski. He writes: "From, time to time I tune in and listen to what the organized religion preachers are putting out on the TV and radio. Most of the time I hear them condemning homosexuals, pornography magazines, and birth control information in public schools. It seems to be a common denominator with most religions today to manufacture fear, guilt, ignorance, contempt and hate on any type of sexual of thing. This also includes the Islamic types like you've got over there in Iran and the Middle East.

"Aren't these organized religions nothing but a huge Dark Force mind control mechanism used on gullible religious believer-types so a small band of priests claiming to speak in the name of a god can live comfortably off the energies of the masses? These religions today are not at all spiritual by any stretch of the imagination."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Relationship of Morality to Spirituality

This Awareness indicates they are more on the order of what would be termed moralists. They are seeking to impose a certain morality. This Awareness indicates that in the relationship of morality to spirituality, morality is essentially based on a set of rules that have been accepted as being right as opposed to wrong, and this is often paraphernalia that accompanies a spiritual path; that there will be spiritual development which has certain accompaniment as suggestions, that you can find your way on the spiritual path best if you follow these particular rules, or this particular morality.

The Perpetuation of the Family is the Cornerstone of Religion

This Awareness indicates that too often the religions of the world tend to get caught up not so much in the pursuit of the spiritual path, but into the imposition of the moralities that accompany the spiritual paths. This Awareness indicates that one of the important tenets of the fundamentalist religions is the perpetuation and protection of the family. The family is seen as being the cornerstone of freedom, the cornerstone of religion, and the cornerstone of a solid society, and this has merit because the family unit is of such importance to a society.

The religions are strongly focused on preserving family values and one cannot preserve family values if one promotes or allows excessive distortions to those family values. It is for this reason that many of the religions focus on these particular elements discussed. This Awareness indicates that the concerns have certain amount of valid reasoning and importance in terms of the religions and their purposes. They are also important to society.

Religions Need to Serve Those Outside Their Narrow Band

This Awareness indicates that there does need, however, to be other areas within a religion that are focused not only on the narrow band of morality but are also focused on the needs of others who do not particularly fit into that narrow band of morality so that the religion can serve to some extent those who are outside of the mainstream without total alienation of those entities, and without total condemnation of those entities.

This Awareness indicates that it is only in this way that they can perhaps share their values without getting into the action of threatening, for a religion should avoid threatening others. A religion should offer values without coercion. This Awareness indicates there are too many religions who use both the carrot and the stick, the coercion along with the promise of fulfillment and this Awareness suggests that it is a fact that entities respond better to the bounty and blessings of a philosophy than to the threats and condemnations that accompany a philosophy.

Churches Should Emulate The Story of the Prodigal Son

This Awareness indicates that in regard to an open free society, there will always be some who are rebellious. There is, of course, the story of the Prodigal Son. It was a story in which the entity went out and left the fold of the family, just as certain entities may not fit within the moral teachings of a religion. In the story of the Prodigal Son, the father did not send assassins out to destroy the son for having left, did not send out a condemning finger. The father simply waited for the return. This Awareness indicates upon the return, the father then celebrated. This is the appropriate attitude for religions, that they may hold steadfast in their beliefs and values without excessive finger-pointing, condemnation, or demand for the destruction of others for not being part of their own value system or participating in their own morality programs.

You Can't Deny Religion's Morals and Dogma

This Awareness indicates that all organizations, all governments, all cultures, all religions have rules. These rules can be called by different names. In religion they are called morals and dogmas. This Awareness indicates you cannot deny a religion its morals and dogmas and rules any more than you can deny a corporation its right to have its own rules for its employees and members. This Awareness indicates, however, when the corporation is set with its rules, it does not reach out into society to impose its corporate rules on those who are not part of the corporation.

General Motors does not reach out and try to impose its rules on others who are not in any way associated with General Motor. This Awareness indicates that so it should be with religions. If entities select to be part of a church group organization and agree to abide by the rules, that is their choice. Those who do not elect to be part of that organization or its rules should not be expected to abide by its rules and regulations.

Reasonable and Unreasonable Contracts With a Religion

Likewise, any entity should be allowed to leave an organization in accordance with any agreed upon rules or contracts that the entity has made. If an entity, for example, agrees to work with a corporation for a period of one year, and after that year the entity decides to leave, the entity should have that right. If the entity wishes to leave before the one year period is over, according to the agreed upon penalties for leaving early, the entity should be required to pay that penalty and can be expected to do so, so long as that penalty is within reason.

This Awareness indicates that likewise, in a religion entities should have the right at any time they choose to leave that religion unless they have signed some contract that they will stay in that religion for a certain duration, but entities should also have the right to break the contract with reasonable penalties that have also been written into the contract at the time it was signed.

This Awareness suggests that, for example, if a religion imposes on an entity: "You can only come in if you stay for one year, and if you leave before the year is out, you must pay us one thousand dollars," that is one scenario. If, on the other hand, the religion says: "You can come in but you must stay for at least one year, and if you leave before the year is out, you must give us your first-born child," that is a scenario that is unreasonable.

This Awareness indicates, of course, this kind of thing does not happen in today's world, not usually, but It is discussing the way contracts can be made fair and the way contracts can be made unfair in regard to religions or other organizations, and this Awareness suggests that a religion tends sometimes to impose threats on an entity if the entity attempts to leave that religion. There are even cases in which entities' lives are threatened when they attempt to leave the religion, even though no contract was written at the time the entity joined the religion which said that: "I will not leave this religion upon penalty of death."

This Awareness indicates that even if such a contract were written, it would not be proper that an entity should be held to that kind of bondage. This as being much likened unto some of the secret societies or criminal organizations wherein an entity can only leave under penalty of death. But this Awareness suggests that in reference to organizations and religions, entities should have much the same right that any other entity has in joining any other kind of organization or business, that if an entity wishes to drop out from school, the entity can do so without great punishment.

If an entity wishes to quit a job, the entity can generally do so without great punishment, perhaps the loss of wages, perhaps the loss of grade, or benefits that the organization would have otherwise given had the entity completed his or her term, but too often some of these religions attempt to impose penalties or threats or even coerce the entity and harass the entity who tries to drop out of the religion.

Jim Bakker's Conviction on 24 Federal Charges

(Is This the Beginning of the End for the Televangelists?)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

The televangelist Jim Bakker, who was charged on 24 counts on Federal charges of fraud and bilking his flock and so on, surprisingly was found guilty the other day on all 24 accounts. Does Awareness see any repercussions from this, as far as the beginning of the end for that fundamentalist movement?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is seen as that which will bring about a great curtailment of the free license that these entities have long enjoyed in terms of their appeals for money over the air, using various persuasive arguments that seem to be without any restraint whatsoever. This Awareness indicates the use of such tactics as Oral Roberts telling his listeners that God had indicated he would take him from this plane unless a certain millions of dollars were paid to his organization by a certain time, this is a tactic that the entity would not be able to use comfortably now, and others using similar tactics will feel much more restraint in their efforts to raise money. That because of this there will be less enthusiasm on the part of these televangelists who are into it largely as a business, a kind of Christian entertainment approach in which they pump up the listener's belief in themselves for a price, causing them to feel good and special for being supportive of their organization, and whereby the money that is taken in will be better accounted for in the future than in the past decade.

This Awareness indicates it will also tend to have a cooling period in regard to the audience, so that the hype and excitement associated with the getting-on-the-bandwagon-of-Christianity will not have quite the appeal that it has had in terms of popularity; that entities will think more conservatively, cautiously, and be more sincere in their search for truth rather than simply jumping aboard because everyone else seems to be jumping aboard.

This Awareness indicates it will create more solemn Christians or followers of Christianity without the hype and carnival atmosphere, and many entities will be more demanding of their churches; that they not become involved in showmanship and lavish living on the donations of others. This will help bring about greater reasonable behavior in the churches, especially those on television.

Similar Problems Exist in Some "New Age" Organizations

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that there are also those same problems seen in regard to some of the New Age Organizations, so-called "New Age" Organizations, wherein entities living excessively lavish lifestyles based on the earnings from their services as spiritual leaders, has created much enmity from Christian churches and others in a community, and there is much suspicion of these entities also.

The Christian Religion Not Responsible for Witchcraft Trials

This Awareness indicates that it is appropriate that entities involved in any kind of activity of this nature have careful accounting when getting into large sums of money, especially when taken from followers, so that the masses do not feel themselves to be victimized. This Awareness indicates that it is also important that when entities look at these situations that occur, that they recognize the frailty of the individuals involved and not consider it always to be an indictment against the principles of a particular religion, for the Christian religion itself is not to blame for the errors of its practitioners or representatives, nor is it even to blame for the errors that occurred in its spread throughout the world as it was imposed on others.

It is not to blame for the witchcraft trials, nor for the Inquisition. These were the result of fanaticism -the fanaticism of an entity or entities involved in some action. This Awareness indicates that any good idea, no matter how good, if held too strong, and too rigid, and too narrow, and too forcefully, can create fanatics and such fanatics can do more harm to the idea than good.

JOIN THE WORLDWIDE MEDITATION FOR WORLD PEACE EVERY FRIDAY AT 9: PM

The Messenger and the Message Are Not the Same

It is important that entities keep in mind that the message and the messenger are not the same; that the message has its own merit, and the messenger is not always responsible for the message, and the message is not always responsible for the messenger's behavior.

Time-Travel to the Past and Assassinate Hitler Before He Came to Power? (How Would That Affect Our Present World?)

QUESTION:

A couple of questions from Judith Jones in New York, which fit in sort of with the discussion a few days ago about the past and the future; that question on telepathy and so on. She asks: "How does the past affect the future? For example, if one were to time-travel to the past say, and assassinate Hitler before he arose to power, how would that affect our present world?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that more than likely there would have been some other entity who would have risen to power in his place. The characteristics of the situation would be altered somewhat, but not that greatly. This Awareness indicates that the entity Hitler was commissioned by those in power to go into Russia to make war with Stalin to destroy Stalin. The uniqueness of Hitler's action was that he first approached Stalin, informing him of this commission, trying to make a deal with Stalin, that they work together to go after those entities who had set him up and who had also established Stalin in power.

The entity, having created a pact between the two nations to which Stalin agreed to abide (by) could not or did not keep his agreement with Stalin, and after going through and capturing Poland, continued right on toward Moscow, and this as an action of ambition for which Hitler was noted. The entity being ambitious, as being a quality that might not have occurred in some other person, even if commissioned in the same manner.

There could have been some alteration, but generally, the stage was influenced by things that went on behind the scenes with those forces that were manipulating governments. This Awareness indicates that this as being such that depending on who might have been put into power instead of Hitler, a different kind of person may have created a somewhat different face on the situation, but it appears that war would have followed anyway, and with the prospects of war at that time and the hostilities that were brewing, other entities would have still promoted many of these same type of atrocities under a different dictator.

Therefore, this Awareness suggests it would not have been that great a difference, though it might have taken on a slightly different overall effect.

Can Time Travel Undo History?

(More on Hypothesis and the Hypothetical)

FOLLOW-UP (IBID):

Can time travel undo history? This has been a theme in science fiction.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the question is most difficult because it is based more on a mental exercise than any form of reality. If an entity moved through time travel and altered history, would anyone know it had occurred? , or would history be seen as a record of continuous events unrelated to any interference?

Perhaps, for all anyone knows, history is always being altered by time travel, but there could be no way you could prove this, unless you were into time traveling and could see all of the future potentials and choices of events, seeing these as actual events that will have taken place unless some time travel event takes place, and if the time travel event does take place, the possible event of the future is only hypothetical and not real.

This Awareness indicates therefore, it is simply a mental exercise dealing with hypotheticals and has no way of being determined by any logical or reasonable conclusion. It is like saying: "If there was no earthquake in 1905, what would San Francisco be like now?" and then asking, "What difference does it make, when there actually was an earthquake that altered San Francisco's face now?"

This Awareness indicates that hypotheticals are just mental exercise and time travel as a concept is not yet explored enough to have any meaning to most entities. Once entities are able to time travel and are able to look back or forward into the future, these things might possibly have some importance, but if one is capable of altering the future through time travel, it would appear to observers that the future was not altered, but was fated to go in that direction and time travel would not be credited with the changes, in fact, there would be no recognition of any changes having occurred.

This Awareness indicates how can one relate to changes that have not occurred? This Awareness indicates that if you want to keep it in hypothetical levels, then of course time travel in a hypothetical what-if frame of reference could alter the future, but then you know that already anyway, and if you asked the question in terms of reality, then hypotheticals are of no importance or significance and the question has no meaning or value.

This Awareness indicates it is likened unto trying to see something in one way and asking: "But what if it is this way? Suppose for example, you go to town to buy milk and you ask yourself: What if they didn't have milk?" The obvious answer is that you wouldn't have been able to buy the milk, but the fact is, you went to town and bought milk. What value is the question: What if they didn't have milk?

It simply allows you to look at a hypothetical option or situation. It means nothing in terms of reality. It is simply an exercise for the mind. Entities can forever create hypotheticals. They can say: What if the next step I take I discover that the ground collapses under my foot and I fall through a mirage into open space? This Awareness indicates entities can create unlimited hypotheticals, but what are they for, other than mental games, playing with the imagination?

In some instances, entities may develop imagination by using such hypotheticals. Entities may sometimes realize that since they don't know what is occurring, they need to have preparations for any contingency, therefore, they create hypotheticals to deal with whatever contingency may arrive, and therefore, they are prepared, regardless of what happens, and this serves as a purpose for some situations.

So, this Awareness is not saying don't ever concern yourself with hypotheticals or imaginary contingencies, for there are some occasional needs to have contingency plans. It is simply saying that dealing with questions such as: What if one goes into the future, and changes things in the future, or goes into the past and changes things in the past; what effects will it have on another time period? This Awareness indicates that these are hypotheticals and the effects are guess-work.

What if one does change something, from the past? Of course it would change the future, if you allow that hypothesis.(sic)

This Awareness indicates that you could say that if a man is 47 feet tall, would it help him in his basketball playing? The question could draw different opinion. It would help him, perhaps, if he could kneel down on the floor somewhere, in the middle of the gymnasium. If he had to stand, he would probably be too tall to properly drop the ball in the basket without bumping his head on the rafters, but what is the purpose of this kind of question?

The hypothesis can allow entities mental exercises to stretch their imagination, to help them discover how they think, how detailed they can be about an imaginary situation, and to ask how does the past, if one changes the past, affect the future?, creates an hypothesis that would need more information about: What are you changing in the past and what particular thing do you wish to change in the future, if you do assume the hypothesis is a factor to deal with?

If you don't accept the hypothesis, then it is moot and meaningless. If we accept that there could be time-travel into the past, then the question is: What part of the past affecting the future shall we consider? Are we talking about politics of the past, laws, behavior, or individuals? Apparently, in this question, the example given was that of assuming someone went into the past and assassinated Hitler, would it prevent World War or would it alter World War 2?

This Awareness indicates that it would alter the nature of the war because it would be a different personality and each personality has its own unique qualities and those qualities affect the behavior of the war over which the personality resides. Therefore, yes, the assassination of Hitler by a time-traveler into the past could alter the course or nature of World War 2, but it is hypothetical as a concepts and has very little real pertinence or meaning to reality as entities are dealing with it at this time.

This Awareness indicates that this Awareness is not intending to belittle the question. The question is an interesting question for the mind, but it simply does not want entities to get too wrapped up in this kind of thing, because it has little bearing on their lives. It is more for the amusement of the mind. The mind always finds things to occupy itself and to stretch its limits, trying to keep itself active and stretch its limits to new frontiers, and this kind of hypothesis can serve as a mental exercise, but has little other value.

What Were the Montauk Time Travelers Trying to Achieve?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

What were the Montauk time travelers trying to achieve?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these entities sought to discover possibilities in terms of what could be discovered about time travel. They were simply exploring and researching. They were not time traveling to do anything, other than to discover the nature of what they were dealing with and they were trying to understand by keeping records and evaluating those things that occurred.

This Awareness indicates that in the movements back in time through this tunnel they were not particularly motivated toward a mission, they were more interested in finding out what was going on with the project, how it functioned, where it could take them and what effect it had on them. This Awareness indicates that the gathering of the technology as that which was their purpose and major achievement, gathering information and technical knowledge.

They had not reached the stage of applying the knowledge and technology that they were gathering.

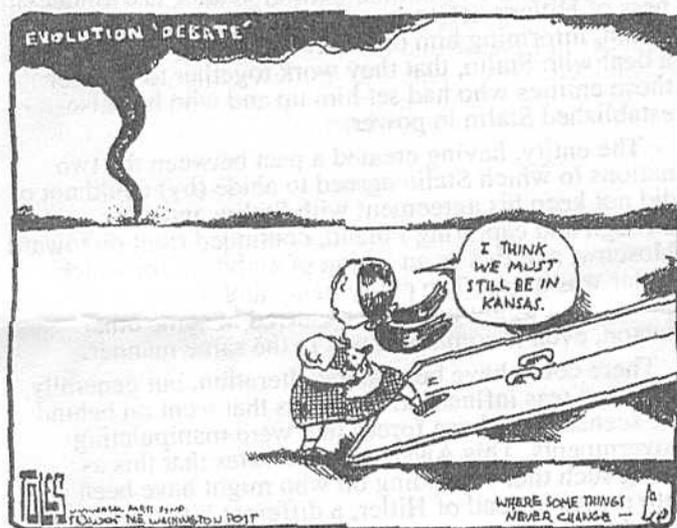

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

So the purpose of time travel is to gather knowledge and not...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is not what the previous response indicated. It has nothing to do with the purpose of time travel. The question was what were these entities in this project trying to achieve. They were trying to gather understanding of time travel and the technology involved. The purpose of time travel will be whatever entities want to use it for, if and when it is perfected or used for some applicable mission or purpose.

CAN GARDEN PESTS BE DEALT WITH WITHOUT USING HERBICIDES?

(The Fire Ants Are Heading Westward!)
More on Radionics

QUESTION:

A question from Francis Warner of Enterprise Alabama. He writes: "I'm a member of CAC, and I would like to know if Awareness can give information relative to some agricultural problems in this part of the country. We have some pests and plants and weeds from other countries that require a lot of pesticides and herbicides which costs the farmer a lot of money and reduces production, in addition to polluting the soil and water.

"The pests that I refer to are fire ants and boll weevils which comes from Central or South America. They cause a lot of trouble and expense for the farmers who try to control them with pesticides which are expensive and polluting. Is there some better way to control them? The fire ants are spreading Westward; these pests are probably prevented from going too far North on account of the winter temperature."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is the possibility of help in the area of radionics devices, using pictures of the ant hills in the devices, or using ants themselves.

This Awareness indicates that there is also a potential use of vibration through microwave bombardment or sound, ultrasound, which might lead to an action or system for dealing with these entities.

Microwave Bombardment and Ultrasound

This Awareness suggests that the microwave bombardment over the ant hill, likened unto a microwave oven, could eventually, and it appears may eventually become a means for dealing with these entities.

This Awareness indicates that it appears however, that the use of ultrasound could be more effective and less hazardous to others. This Awareness indicates that there also is seen a potential for biological population control through some type of fertility or infertility process, causing the ants to lose their ability to reproduce. This Awareness indicates that it appears these things are somewhere down the line in approximately 5 to 10 or 15 years.

This Awareness indicates however, entities could begin experimenting sooner, particularly in the use of the radionics type machines. This Awareness indicates that radionics machines, or information associated with receiving these is available through the Christopher Hills community in California; this entity having contact with places in London and England where these may be obtained. This Awareness indicates that some states outlaw these machines, although It does not see much effort in preventing or confiscating such machines from entities.

This Awareness indicates that there are some entities in the United States who also produce these machines. This Awareness indicates that there are also plans available through certain magazines and mail outlets to indicate how to build such machines.

Kudsu and Other Out-Of-Control Plants (Genetic Engineering is Coming)

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

In reference to plants, he says: " One plant is kudsu, which came from China. At first it was used to prevent soil erosion, but soon got out of control. In other words, the cure was worse than the problem. It takes over an area, and even kills trees and is very hard and expensive to get rid of. The other is nut grass or nut sedge. It is native to this area. It spreads underground by growing nuts on the ends of roots, which in turn produces another plant. It is very expensive to get rid of.

"The farmers in this area would be very grateful if we could get rid of them without pesticides or herbicides."

Would the same radionics treatment apply to the plants as it did to the ants? Or is there something else?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears much more difficult to destroy the plants. This Awareness indicates that the radionics devices can be somewhat helpful in regard to the plants, but it does not appear to be nearly as effective. There appears however, to be the possibility in a future time of the introduction of certain genetic creations; these appear to be artificially created, which are designed to feed on plants of a certain type; that in the future there appears to be the ability to create an artificially engineered insect or bacteria that can be introduced for a specific plant that they wish to destroy so that when the bacteria has completed its task of destroying that specific type of plant, it would self-destruct.

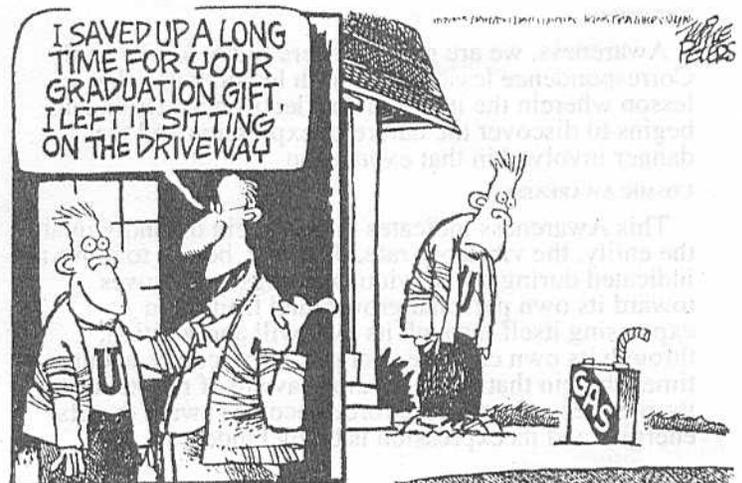

This Awareness indicates that it appears that this will come in some future time, however, it appears that before this type of genetic engineering can be perfected, there will be errors involved whereby some of the engineering feats develop cures for problems, and they too become a problem afterwards, whereby these genetic creations then need to be destroyed. This Awareness indicates that It does not see any easy solution at this time to the destruction of these plants; that the herbicides appear to be the most effective, the concern being to use herbicides that are least harmful to others; that there can be the perfection of herbicides which do not cause harm to water supplies, to other plants or to animals, birds or people; that it is a matter of developing more efficient and specific types of herbicides that do not have the negative side-effects.

It appears that these are being developed in laboratories at this time; that some on the market are already being introduced which are less harmful than others that have been used in the past. This Awareness suggests that you contact universities in your area for information, any new information regarding the use of herbicides or substances to deal with these problems; that often the universities will have information available before many of the outlets, the stores, for these products.

This Awareness suggests that you may also request from the universities information as to where you may find other sources that can assist you in this regard.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed Itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

Wisdom of Awareness...

On the Lasting Obligations and Feelings After Intercourse

...Essentially, the action of having intercourse with another creates a karmic tie which lasts approximately nine months to one year, and the entities involved will continue feeling a type of energy or obligation to each other during that time. It takes approximately nine months to one year to overcome such feelings of obligation. That as the relationship intensifies or when this is stronger, these feelings will last longer and the obligations and ties become greater. (80-21)

The Cosmic Awareness
Spiritual Development Course
ARIES: Vol.1 Lesson No. 6

QUESTION:

Awareness, we are gathered here today for the sixth Correspondence lesson. The sixth lesson being that lesson wherein the individual reflects on its action and begins to discover the nature of expression and the danger involved in that expression.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that wherein the individual, the entity, the vibratory rate, the force, begins to move as indicated during the previous readings, and moves toward its own personal growth and fruition in expressing itself through its own will and volition, through its own creative energies, there comes about a time wherein that force becomes aware of resistance to its energies, whereby the force becomes aware that its energies and its expression is being hindered.

This Awareness indicates that this as the beginning of the experience of the Law of Cause and Effect. The effect of the expression being hindered does begin to create a reaction within the entity, within the force, whereby that force becomes more aware that there is something 'out there' that does not cooperate with the force in its expression.

This Awareness indicates this beginning of resistance creates the beginnings of the awareness that the force is not the absolute and must become aware of other forces and the nature of these forces.

This Awareness indicates as this occurs, the force in its expression begins to become more sensitive and aware of those outside stimuli - the outside forces, the forces reacting and acting upon the initial movement and the initial expression. This Awareness indicates that this may be likened unto an energy ball which is throwing out aspects of its own energy, only to find that these aspects are being thrown back at itself by some force outside.

As the experience continues, greater awareness and the desire for more understanding increases. The entity, the force, then begins to probe into the nature of those forces outside of its control, outside of its own dominion, outside of its own will.

This develops that quality known as analysis, and the probing action of consciousness which desires to explore the unknown, and into the regions of details and of those levels of consciousness that are outside of its own understanding.

This Awareness indicates as this occurs, the quality of reason, the rational approach, begins to develop. And in that development, there comes about that aspect of consciousness which desires to put things in order: to classify, to see things in retrospect, to see things in the order of cause and effect, in the order of polarities and their relationship to one another, and in the order of relative placement and relationship.

This Awareness indicates that the consciousness then begins to observe from a particular viewpoint, and that particular viewpoint brings forth an observation and an understanding of the nature of outside forces which are peculiar to that particular viewpoint.

This Awareness indicates this as the basis for the Law of Relativity, which in simplified terms is but the relationship of all things understood by the particular viewpoint from which they are seen.

This Awareness indicates as the viewpoint shifts, the relative relationship of those things also becomes different. The train moving at a particular rate of speed in relation to the entity standing beside the tracks is somewhat different from the rate of speed of another train passing in the opposite direction, or of an automobile traveling in the same direction as the train.

This Awareness indicates the relative viewpoint of an entity looking at an elephant from the front is somewhat different from the entity looking at an elephant from an airplane, or the entity from beneath the elephant, or the entity from behind the elephant.

This Awareness indicates that each viewpoint is relative, and each is accurate, and yet the descriptions will be totally different.

This Awareness indicates that wherein these descriptions are truth and entities attempt to communicate to one another the truth they see from their own peculiar viewpoint, there may develop a disagreement as to what the truth actually is - and yet, each of these entities may be observing the exact same thing from a different viewpoint.

This Awareness indicates that as entities begin to share their viewpoints, a deeper understanding of the nature of the thing being observed comes into being, and the probing of the elephant by these various viewpoints allows a deeper understanding of what the elephant really is.

This Awareness indicates that in terms of items, in terms of speeds, in terms of vibrations, in terms of forces, in terms of lifetimes, in terms of experiences, each entity will view the exact same thing from a different point of view and will arrive at a totally different conclusion from the other entities involved. Yet each entity will be seeing and expressing the truth from his or her own relative viewpoint.

Therefore truth is relative and not absolute, as long as there is a viewpoint from which the truth is observed.

This Awareness indicates this as that which needs deep meditation and understanding, for the understanding of this will allow entities the opportunity to avoid many verbal conflicts and many polarized arguments over whose viewpoint is right.

This Awareness indicates that wherein entities seek to put things in order, the concept of order also is related unto a pre-conceived idea or viewpoint of what order actually is, and wherein an entity assumes that he or she understands what is in order and what is out of order, this entity is looking at order from a particular viewpoint, which may not be the same viewpoint when viewed from another entity's eyes.

This Awareness suggests an image. That a house is seen wherein the mother and her children are sitting in a living room with all the furnishings in place, the children sitting quietly in chairs with hands folded upon their laps, and the home at the exact perfect temperature, with the lighting proper and the atmosphere, one which is harmonious. This Awareness indicates an observer, looking at this home, can easily say the home is in order.

This Awareness suggests that another twenty minutes passes.

The children have their crayons out on the floor, are drawing in their coloring books, the crayons are scattered about. A door is left slightly open to the bedroom. A light bums more brightly on one side of the room. The mother is sewing. An observer could say the home is in perfect order.

Another thirty minutes passes. The children have wadded up certain of their drawings and scattered the papers around on the floor. The crayons are still scattered. The children are giggling and coloring each other's drawings, and are attempting to defend their own drawings from the interference of each other. There are certain shouts in the efforts to defend their own drawings. The mother is sewing, and the door is open to the bedroom, and someone is washing dishes in the kitchen and noise occurs there. An observer could say this house is in perfect order.

This Awareness indicates another hour passes. The children are scuffling on the floor, wrestling with each other. The papers are scattered. The mother has completed her sewing. The dishes have been washed. The children are being told to get ready for bed. The children are resisting the attempts to put them to bed. The children are bumping into each other and whining about these bumps and violations, and they are issuing complaints about each other's behavior, and an observer could say the home is in perfect order.

This Awareness indicates that the following day a truck pulls up outside and men walk in. The doors are flung open, the furnishings are grabbed and taken out the door, moved toward the truck. The children are carrying their various items also toward the truck; the mother is pointing to various objects in the room to be moved. The entities are passing one another rapidly, on the porch, in the yard, and in the rooms. Someone is sweeping, another is folding, another is packing, and there are many noises and shouts as everyone is gathering items to be placed into the truck. An observer could say the action is in perfect order.

This Awareness indicates that a child drops a mirror and everyone stops to look at the broken glass and the observer says that it is in perfect order that this should happen at a time like this.

This Awareness indicates that the neighbor, watching what is occurring in this home, comes over, glances in, goes back to her home, sits down in her chair, picks up her sewing, and says: "My God! There's nothing but chaos next door!"

This Awareness indicates that all is relative, according to the viewpoint.

This Awareness suggests that entities, in understanding the nature of relativity, the nature of the viewpoint, begin to understand the need for greater communication, the need for flexibility in being able to look at the other person's point of view, to look from the other person's point of view. This Awareness indicates as this occurs, the entity then begins not only to have his or her two eyes, but the eyes of all others who have different viewpoints to share.

This Awareness indicates this is the beginning of wisdom, whereby entities can let go of their own understanding and move into the understanding of others.

This Awareness indicates that as entities begin to learn to change their place, their identified securities, into those areas which are foreign to them, whereby they begin to 'trip out' into other points of view, they begin to expand their awareness and to move into levels of sharing and into levels of greater sensitivity to the rights of others.

This Awareness indicates that entities who assume that they are standing in the right place are accurate, yet there is the tendency for entities to feel that since they are in the right place, others must be in the wrong place. This Awareness indicates that this is not so; for every state of being which is said to be wrong, there will be an entire culture that says that state of being is right, and for every state of being that is said to be right, there will be an entire culture that says it is wrong.

This Awareness indicates this is all relative. And for each entity, wherever you are is right for you, so long as you allow the same opportunity and the same rights for others.

This Awareness indicates that when these rights of others are denied, violations begin to occur, and the violations of others' rights of expression is that which creates disturbances which are unnecessary and inappropriate. Though the unnecessary and inappropriate disturbance has nothing to do with right or wrong, it is still unnecessary and inappropriate.

This Awareness suggests you not concern yourself with concepts of right and wrong, but concern yourself with what is necessary and what is appropriate, and wherein there is that which is unnecessary, yet is appropriate, allow this to occur with some comment, but without great concern. And wherein there is that which is inappropriate but necessary, allow this to occur without great concern. But wherein there is that which is both inappropriate and unnecessary, give great attention and concern to that, and begin working in a manner that brings about a resolution, a resolution.

This Awareness indicates these inappropriate and unnecessary actions are the urgencies which occur in each moment and scream out for assistance and attention.

This Awareness indicates in your response to these urgencies, to that which is both inappropriate and unnecessary, there becomes a reconciliation of 'yes' and 'no,' and in that reconciliation, a balance begins to occur which brings the moment back into harmony.

This Awareness indicates that each four-quadrillionths of a second a new Universe is created; that Universe appears in every particle of the Universe, in every scene, in every household, in every nation, in every solar system - in every place within the Universe there is that creation which occurs every four-quadrillionths of a second.

This Awareness indicates within each of those universal increments of being, there is something which needs to be resolved: there is an unfulfilled experience.

This Awareness indicates that the unfulfillment is that which allows the next increment, the next moment, to occur.

Were everything to be fulfilled and in absolute and total harmony, there would be no further moments other than the clarity of space in all directions.

This Awareness indicates that the imbalance of these forces (the chaos which creates the order of form) - this imbalance is that which creates the positive and negative forces of the Universe, and these forces create the day and night, the separation of the waters of life and the waters of matter, the waters of heaven and the waters of earth. This Awareness indicates these waters, these magnetisms create those vortices which lead to points: points of matter, points known as atoms, points known as things, points known as significances, whether physical or conceptual.

The magnetisms which move into points of self, into things creating the images which are viewed by your senses - these points of magnetism, these vortices known as a piece of dust, known as matter - yet in reality, nothing but colors of light condensed to a fine degree through this magnetism. These vortices of magnetism, this water of earth, is one of the qualities which comes into being when entities begin to focus and to project and to express.

The action of expression throws off these vortices of energies, and the expression - throwing off these vortices of energies - collect the light and create the matter.

Therefore, in the beginning, the expression of consciousness, the expression of God was the creative force, and this expression created the vortices which were the magnetic whirlpools into which light was caught. And in these whirlpools, which drew light and the colors, there moved that which was termed 'image,' and those images become 'things,' including that 'thing' called man.

This Awareness indicates that each thing does include within itself a portion of that original expression of God and that original seed of expression in that vortex.

That force is spirit, is life, is anti-matter.

This Awareness indicates the greater ability of any vortex to observe from various points of view, to see and expand from different levels of view, to experience from different sensitivities from the different senses, to move about in the action of finding different locations and viewpoints, the greater the ability to communicate - the more life there is within that vortex. And as the sensitivity decreases, as the viewpoint narrows, as the communication closes, the life force is depleted accordingly.

This Awareness indicates that the entity in probing the nature of expression from that particular vortex known as 'self,' from that vortex of energy which has accumulated, likened unto a garbage pit, all the memories of expressions from previous times which have occurred in this relative location, that entity gathering all of this becomes 'self-aware' and takes on the qualities known as the 'soul' and the 'personality' and the 'character.'

This Awareness indicates these qualities are but an accumulation of energies peculiar to that relative location - that relative longitude/latitude wherein the entity began, and the altitude which measures the height above the sea level, and the attitude which measures the heights above the 'me' level.

As these entities and the qualities making up this entity come into closer relationship, the entity becomes more integrated with that peculiar point of view and with his or her own peculiar abilities to change viewpoints.

This as part of the natural growth and cycle of the soul as it begins to move toward levels of 'self-awareness expanding.'

This Awareness indicates this as the completion of this sixth lesson.

(The Law of Gratitude is given.)

Harry Hoxsey's Controversial Cancer Cure (How the AMA Tries to Suppress Alternative Medicine)

QUESTION:

Manley Grooms, of Jacksonville, Florida, sent in a question regarding a movie that's out this week on television. It came out in 1987, entitled Hoxsey: Quacks Who Cure Cancer. The TV Guide clip he included says, "It's not rated, film-maker Ken Ausubel's absorbing study of Harry Hoxsey, the colorful and controversial founder of a cancer clinic and his long-standing feud with the AMA." It runs an hour and 35 minutes and it's on the cable network, and he says he's seen it and it contains some interesting information, not only about a cure for cancer, but also is a story about how the Federal Government and others, such as the AMA responded to another view about how to treat cancer. My question to you is, has Awareness commented on the Hoxsey treatment? In light of the increasing rate of skin cancer, one aspect of this treatment that I find particularly interesting is that it also comes as a paste which 'eats' skin cancer."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the question is not fully clear; however, this Awareness suggests that this entity (Hoxsey) as one who introduced (an) alternative approach to cancer and that this entity, along with many others have been chastised heavily by the American Medical Association for such efforts. This Awareness indicates that in recent times, information relating to these alternative cures or treatments has been surfacing on television and in other media. This Awareness indicates that even though these are being promoted from a somewhat skeptical point of view, the very fact that they are being promoted can in the long-run become beneficial to the masses who become more acquainted with some of the theory behind these alternative treatments.

This Awareness indicates in the past, such mention of these alternatives or of any potential alternative treatment was not allowed. This Awareness indicates that there have been a number of alternative approaches that have been given serious attention on certain television networks, shows or local media during the past several months. This Awareness indicates that this is but the beginning and this Awareness indicates that though the American Medical Association is now becoming almost desperate to stop the alternative medical approaches, it is finding greater and greater difficulty in doing so.

Chiropractors No Longer Being Hassled by AMA

This Awareness indicates that since the Supreme Court ruled in favor of chiropractic doctors over their case against (the) American Medical Association's defamation, the chiropractic doctors have enjoyed greater latitude and freedom from harassment. This Awareness indicates that it is now reaching a point wherein the American Medical Association is no longer relying on Federal laws to protect them and their special interests as much as previously, but whereby now they are moving toward efforts to corral state laws and legislature to protect their interests. This Awareness indicates that they have introduced certain anti-quackery bills in some states to prevent any of the alternative approaches from being allowed.

Health Advice is Now "Practicing Medicine Without a License"

This Awareness indicates as an example, in the state of Ohio, they are attempting to make it a felony, and call any form of advice in terms of health advice, "practicing medicine without a license". This Awareness indicates they in fact made a test case in which an entity was overheard telling a friend who said she was coming down with the flu that she should go home and drink lots of water and go to bed. This entity was then charged with practicing medicine without a license. This Awareness indicates that this kind of harassment, curtailing free speech under the guise of quackery as that which could become a most dangerous approach by the Medical Association in terms of curtailing free speech.

This Awareness indicates however, it is unlikely that entities will tolerate this kind of oppression. This Awareness suggests that it does however, indicate the desperation being felt by the Medical Association at this time. This Awareness wishes entities to understand that the American Medical Association essentially is an offshoot and protector of the pharmaceutical companies; that their special interests in terms of drug use as a particular form of treatment as that which is augmented and protected by the American Medical Association.

Homeopathy Not Considered Quackery in Europe

This Awareness indicates that in Europe, and in other countries, homeopathy, which is considered as quackery by the American Medical Association is used extensively; that the Queen and royal family of England rely almost exclusively on homeopathic doctors. This Awareness indicates that homeopathy has been around for over 200 years; that this system as being recognized as having considerable value in terms of healing approaches without the use of drugs. This Awareness indicates that to call it quackery is an affront to decent understanding because most homeopathic doctors are in fact trained in medical approach to healing, but not only are they trained as medical doctors, but must attend two more years of training in homeopathic medicine.

This Awareness indicates that there are others who are not licensed as homeopathic doctors but who use homeopathic principles for healing, because the medicine involved is totally harmless in terms of its effect or any side-effects, and therefore, can bring about no harmful problems if used by individuals. This Awareness indicates that other forms of treatment such as naturopathic healing and chiropractic approaches are also seen as having their particular value and yet in some states come under greater attack by those forces working in behalf of the American Medical Association and the pharmaceutical companies.

This Awareness indicates that there are some states in which the naturopathic and chiropractic approach is given great latitude. This Awareness indicates these are particularly in those states wherein medical schools for the training of naturopathic or chiropractic doctors is prevalent.

Hoxsey's Paste That "Eats Skin Cancer"

FOLLOW-UP (IBID):

Manley's second question, which was integrated in the original; he asks: "In light of increasing rate of skin cancer, one aspect of this treatment, (evidently what he saw in the Hoxsey story) I find particularly interesting is that it also comes as a paste which 'eats' skin cancer. Does Awareness see this as being valid?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is seen as being a valid treatment. This Awareness indicates that there are also other approaches by entities working along similar lines, the Doctor Koch as one who, in the development of magozone and certain types of oxygen therapy, has also come up with treatments for cancer that have been successfully used. There are many other approaches to the treatment of these so-called "incurable" diseases through oxygen therapy approaches.

Stabilized Oxygen VS Food Grade Peroxide

QUESTION:

Speaking of oxygen therapy, a question from Jean Daplantier. He writes: "Does anyone at CAC know what stabilized oxygen is and where it can be purchased? I have a very short article that states: Stabilized oxygen is by far to be preferred to food grade peroxide. Ten drops in water twice a day is excellent; no taste, no side-effects, except for untold benefits. It contains sufficient hydrogen peroxide to provide oxygen with no unpleasantness. Does Awareness see this as being a good substitute for the food grade hydrogen peroxide?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is seen as beneficial; that it appears to be of similar quality and of sufficient value to be useful in treatment of these viral type problems. This Awareness indicates that it is not seen as being as easily obtainable on the marketplace. This Awareness indicates with some enquiry, entities may locate (it). This Awareness does not see a particular source at this time or address. This does not mean there is no such source, it is simply not seen at this time.

JUST WHAT TECHNOLOGY WAS GIVEN TO THE NAZIS BY THE GREYS?

QUESTION:

Some more questions from JD of Riverton, Vermont, in regard to the Hot August Night reading we put out. She wants to know: "Just what technology was given to Nazis by Greys? Why weren't the Nazis then using super-terrestrial craft such as saucers with ET technology and the invincible weapons received from the Greys instead of conventional ones?"

"You'd think if the Zeta Reticuli Greys wanted Hitler to conquer the world for them, they'd have provided him with invincible advanced weaponry."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in the early Thirties, the Nazis had developed a kind of propeller-driven flying saucer. By the late Thirties they had developed a propulsion-driven flying saucer. In the mid-Forties, before World War Two ended, they had developed the ships which were known by allies as Foo Fighters. These were the jet types, the propulsion driven ships.

There were also some early versions of flying saucers that were built to use the grid-lines of the earth. This Awareness indicates the focus of the Nazi technology was mostly on rocketry and especially specifically focused on rocketry for the purpose of carrying weapons of destruction to the British isles, and to America.

The war ended before these rockets could be completed for launching against America, but the V-1 and V-2 rockets had been launched against Britain. This Awareness indicates that the technologies were given without the Greys actually being involved in helping. It was the information that was given, not the tooling devices or the manufacturing devices, or the hands-on experience.

This Awareness indicates there is a big difference between having plans and having someone, or a crew or factory to produce something for you from the plans, and these things took considerable time for the development to occur, and by the time much had been developed, the war was over, and the projects on line were then taken to both Russia and the United States, depending on which army captured the scientists who were working on the projects.

Hitler Denied Those Secret Super-Weapons?

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

But the aliens didn't give Hitler any of those sensational type of weapons we read about, the ones that are almost like science fiction; they can vaporize cities from a UFO or they can freeze entities motionless with laser-type guns and so on?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This was not given. This Awareness indicates that the more advanced craft used by the Zeta Reticuli have not even been given to the governments at this time; that the Zetas gave some of their earlier technology to the United States and to Russia, but have not given their more advanced technologies to these countries as yet.

US Government Acquires Element 115

This Awareness indicates the use of Element 115 as that which has been gained by US efforts, but was not willingly given by the Zeta Reticuli to the US government. There were certain maneuvers by the US government to gain information on the technology and to acquire amounts of the Element 115 for use with the technologies associated with the Element.

This Awareness indicates that the earlier versions of technological information given to the Greys to the United States government in the Fifties and Sixties resulted in many losses of life to the US government in the case especially where some of the flying saucers or devices were defective and crashed. It led to a near breakdown in the treaties, eventually being such as to stop US cooperation with the aliens and this eventually led to the aliens giving some of their technology to the US scientists and the US scientists getting a better understanding of how these things worked.

This led to the US creating a research base in Nevada, using alien technology to develop more advanced flying saucers, or alien space-craft. This research still goes on today.

Hitler's Work on a Atomic Bomb (Did He Get Any Help From the Allens?)

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

I've read that Hitler was somewhat ahead of the United States in developing atomic bomb research except the Allies bombed the heavy water factories. Did the aliens have anything to do with Hitler getting that technology?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This does not appear to be a factor. The development of the heavy water appears to have been that which came from work and research of their own scientists and the work appears to have taken place under strict and secret environments which only became discovered because of non-German nationals who released information about the nature of the work being conducted in the factory which allowed the British Intelligence to ascertain that it was an effort to work on heavy water for atomic weaponry.

This Awareness indicates that this allowed certain special forces and intrusion teams to enter the area and destroy the heavy water factory. This gave the advantage of time to the Allies so that the super-weapon Hitler spoke of near the end of World War Two never was fully completed.

Why Did Hitler Look So Manic? (Was He Using Amphetamines or Other Drugs?)

QUESTION:

Another question from JD: "In film footage I've seen Hitler looked really manic. Was he running on amphetamines? Was he a classic paranoid megalomaniacal delusional egomaniac speed-freak? What drugs did he and his close associates use?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entity was manic-depressive, and would move from exceedingly high states of euphoria, unreasonably high states of euphoria, to great states of despair and depression. This Awareness indicates that the entity was partially affected by syphilis, which had reached into his brain and had begun to have an effect on his mind and thinking.

This Awareness indicates that he was given amphetamine-type drugs during those moments of depression and as there was not a great deal of medical understanding of his problem he was often given too much, and the amphetamines continued even into his times of manic-euphoria.

This Awareness indicates that the entity was bordering on mental breakdown and delusions and also on what might be termed emotional burn-out during a great period of time in his last years as Chancellor of Germany during World War Two. This Awareness indicates that he had a serious problem that was more than drug use, though he was given drugs by his doctor in order to keep him stabilized and feeling relatively at peace with himself.

This Awareness indicates the one thing he could not stand was the depression and the doctor generally gave him enough drug to keep the depression at bay, but it was extremely difficult in regard to his overall health as it tended to burn out his nerves and adrenalin and other organs of the body.

Did Hitler Actually Chew a Rug? (Was He a Homosexual as Often Claimed?)

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON)

Over the years there've been stories that Hitler would throw himself onto the rug under stress and like an animal, chew the rug. There's other stories that he was a homosexual and he and his high officers performed certain rituals. Is there any truth to that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these stories appear to be exaggerations. It appears there may have been some degree of truth in regard to his throwing tantrums; It does not see the entity as chewing on a rug. This Awareness indicates that It does not see the homosexual expressions described. It appears that the entity may have had a special type of perversion, but It does not see this as being related to homosexuality. It sees this as something different.

AN ALIEN CONNECTION TO TODAY'S ELECTRONIC MUSIC?

(More on Satanism and Today's Youths)

QUESTION:

The Interpreter came up from trance last night before we finished the questions of Mario Matas in regard to classical music, electronic music and what he thinks he hears in today's music, from bands such as Electronics, Army Of Lovers, Pet Show Boys, and so forth that these are very high tech and alien related. "Is there an alien connection to this kind of music today and if so, would Awareness please explain?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it appears there is an indirect connection through that which is related to the Satanic movement, wherein certain of these musical groups are involved in Satanism in some instances, and also through certain influences working through the Mafia or underworld connections. This Awareness indicates the Time/Warner group as that which has certain underworld connection, especially in the music field, and also that which is known as the Orion pictures as an indirect connection with the alien forces; the underworld having certain alien connections also, but these are indirect. They are not a direct control or link.

It is more of an action in these musical groups wherein entities who have some interest or fascination with the dark side of consciousness, attune themselves to satanic concepts or ideas and find that young people are also interested in these things because they are taboo and because they break the values and standards of society and young people generally try to break patterns to create a place for themselves by rebelling against society, particularly when they don't really know who they are as yet in a social structure, they create a rebellious lifestyle in an effort to carve a niche for themselves and disdain their parent's values simply for the sake of rebellion.

It also allows them to shock society and bring attention to themselves, just as many people accept clothing styles or ways of dress, unusual haircuts, or behavioral appearances in an attempt to point out their own unique individuality. This Awareness indicates that it is not uncommon for young people to try to find their own place in life by creating a bizarre character that draws attention in a society and in creating their own unique appearance they think this will give them a place in society that is recognized and eventually made acceptable, if not with the older generation, at least with their peer generation.

This Awareness indicates for this reason, many of these entities cater to many strange or objectionable music, lyrics, values, clothing appearance and behavioral appearances. It is their way of trying to find a place for themselves in a society that has carved out the society through its own value system and a value system of the parents of these entities.

This Awareness indicates that it in itself has been going on for centuries, even ancient Greek writers complained of it and the complaints of these Greek writers could be restated or repeated in modern society with the words still being applicable today. This Awareness indicates indeed, a paper came out in the Sixties describing the youth and culture and turned out to be written in the time of ancient Greece, and it was applicable at that time than as it was at the time it was written.

This Awareness indicates that the concern however today is that these young people often resort to greater extremes than did the youth of Greece in terms of tearing down social values. In today's society they often turn to drugs and to violence and this is a more unique extremism than has been witnessed at any in written history.

This Awareness indicates that also there is an open relationship with some of these entities to concepts of Satanism, which condone and promote such violence and drug use and anti-social behavior wherein criminality is glorified by these entities.

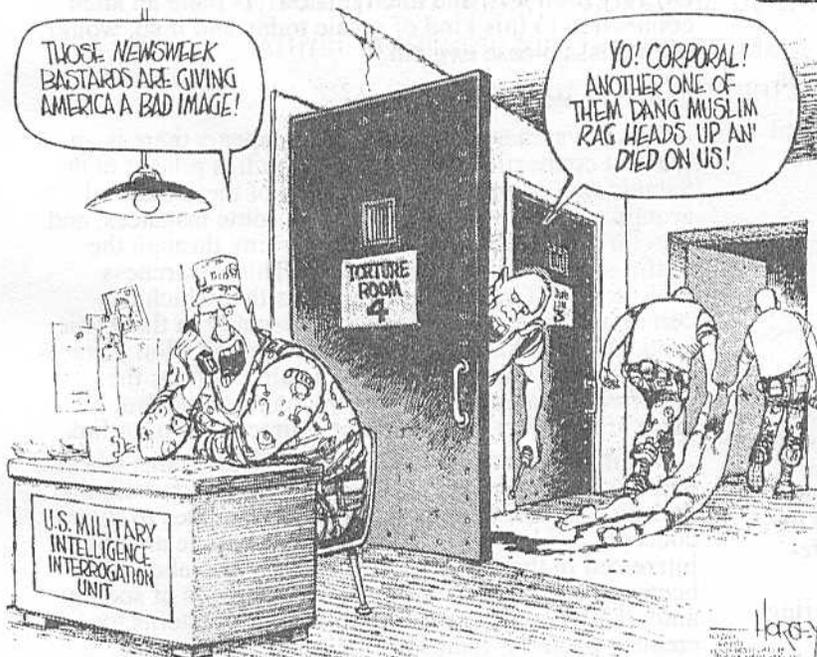

Two little old ladies were attending a rather long church service. One leaned over and whispered, "My butt is going to sleep." "I know," replied her companion, "I heard it snore three times."
