35 YEARS OF
CONSCIOUSNESS
CHANGING ISSUES—and the hits just keep on coming!

WE'RE CELEBRATING THE BIG 600!

We've been publishing non-stop for 35 years!

2006-6
Issue No. 600
$3.00

We're being silly this issue because it makes our 600th newsletter we have put together and mailed out to the membership (non-stop I might add!) over the last 35 years, so we're sort of celebrating the event. Space permitting, we'll include a few pictures and highlights. Nothing really seems to have changed very much. Some 38 years ago when Vikki walked into my office, which was also the headquarters of Organization of Awareness, and asked for a job I put her to work labeling, addressing and stuffing envelopes for mailings being made to OofA members at that time. Today, she's still doing all this, but for CAC and she's no longer an employee, she's boss: Secretary, Treasurer, Correspondence Secretary who answers all letters and emails and sends endless numbers of cards to members on their birthdays, anniversaries and other occasions. She's also my wife and loving companion for 37 years and along with Dr. George has kept me alive and healthy all these years. Most weekends we still go out and dance to live rock and roll bands; Vikki occasionally gets "carded" (which thrills her immensely), usually gets hit upon by handsome young studs some of whom walk up to shake my hand and make comments like, "you give me faith. I hope I can score chicks like you do and be able to rock and roll at your age." At that point Vikki always smiles and asks the guy, "And just how old do you think he is?" The guy looks me up and down and says, "45 or maybe 50." I say thanks and shake his hand and Vikki says, he just had his 79th birthday June 20th. He turns 80 next year." At that point the stud turns white, shakes his head and mutters "you've got to be kidding!" Dancing is our feel-good night and we both credit our health and longevity to the info Awareness gave us over the years in regard to vitamins, GH3, healthy diet and to avoid allopathic doctors and medicines at all costs. In short, we practice what we preach.

The photo on the cover this month shows us dancing at a local Halloween party. Vikki and ex wife Jean powdered my hair and made me into Colonel Sanders. We entered the contest that night as the Colonel and his "finger-lickin chick"—and we won! And so it goes.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

COULD A MORE POWERFUL GOD EVER BE CREATED AND DOMINATE EVERYTHING ALREADY CREATED?

QUESTION (CARRIE):

Larry Kell, from Indiana, asks "Is there anything preventing another god from being created the same way our God came into existence? Could It become more powerful and dominate everything already created?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to point out that there is a flaw in the thinking of this individual. The flaw being the concept of a singular God who controls this world, this universe, and that there could indeed be another singular God that could be created that could come into conflict with the existing God. These are old concepts, old perceptions of divinity that are very limited and restricted. The short answer to this individual's question would be "Yes, there indeed could be another God that could oppose and challenge the existing God, but that would of course be confined to a limited view of what God Is: that God is a personified God, that God is some being that sits perhaps on a throne in some heaven somewhere, making judgment of those that He controls. One can see how this is very evocative of the Christian/Judaic concepts of God and the Muslim Islamic concept of a male persona, a male god that is a concept of competition implied in this question; that the question of course is valid within the concept of this limited perception or understanding of a Singular God.

Where this question falls apart and becomes invalid is when one exceeds that concepts or goes beyond that commonly held religious concept of a singular god, an almighty god; where one goes into the expanse of the truth, of the hierarchy that is involved in the spiritual network, if one would, of the energies of the Divine; that there is indeed no singular God, but rather a collective Divine Force, or a Force of Divinity. There is that which is known as the Godhead, the overwhelming totality of the Everything and of the All, but this is not a personalized God, although a personal god could exist and does exist through the beliefs held by so many who believe in a singular god. But this is the result of commonly held beliefs, or commonly held beliefs about one single god that fits somewhere, or is in judgment of those he has created. It is a concept that involves a male god, and has no allowance for the feminine or the feminine principle. Why should there not be a "She" who sits in heaven, who judges and creates?

That while the question is interesting, it is largely invalid, because it is limited to perceptions and concepts and beliefs that are traditional in nature. This Awareness asks this individual, and the membership, to extend beyond traditionally held beliefs of religion and open up to the hierarchy of spiritual forces that are truly available; that they range from the immediate levels beyond the physical to those highest levels of the Godhead, the God Force, Everything and All, All and Everything. That this force Itself that defines and calls itself Cosmic Awareness comes from a level close to the Godhead, but is still removed somewhat from total immersion in that God Force, in the Everything and All. That this Awareness reminds the membership of other discussions that It has given in the past, of how It comes from that Highest Level, and must by necessity go down through the various levels of awareness, of consciousness, of being, until It reaches a point where it is accessible to the consciousness of an Interpreter who rises up through the levels to reach a place where there is a merger of the two forces; of this force known as Cosmic Awareness, and the consciousness or the force of the consciousness of the Interpreter.

It is from this level that this Awareness speaks; that this Interpreter receives the images and the messages of this Awareness. This concept is quite radically different than the concept of a singular god, or whatever religious persuasion, that simply sits, or exists in a level of being where it can judge those souls that come to it. This is a much more limited concept, as this Awareness has said, where It advocates rather a more advanced and a more active understanding of the forces and the levels of consciousness that exist beyond the normal consciousness of waking, beyond the normal consciousness of dreaming, even beyond the normal consciousness of those stages known as the Ascended Masters, or the angelic beings.

An Update On Saint Twinkle

This Awareness indicates that it is time now for the masses to understand the reality of the dimensions that lie beyond the physical and not simply see it in a limited, almost infantile understanding of 'God', but who rather see that it is an expansive universe indeed that lies beyond the normal perceptions of waking consciousness. This Awareness also wishes members to remember discussions given in the past, where this Awareness spoke of the power behind belief, of how if the collective holds a belief strong enough, that it will be created; that this Awareness proposed in a lightheartedness, that if enough people believed in Saint Twinkle, Saint Twinkle, that indeed, a Saint Twinkle would be created, would have validity, would have its own degree of reality. Saint Twinkle does exist on some level because the membership in the past energized its being and that it can still be reached by those who would choose to focus on that benevolent little being called Saint Twinkle.

Such is the same with the traditional concepts held by the masses of the gods that they hold sacred, of The God that is held sacred by whatever dominion or faction, or religious group one belongs to. The Christians hold the concept of a wise and giving Lord God that sits in heaven. The Jewish faith and the Muslim faith have similar concepts of a male persona that is called God, Allah, the Great Supreme Being, and that because such beliefs are held by so many, they do indeed create a reality, where those gods, or where The God exists.

In terms of the question, that if one energizes the concept of a competitive god; a god to compose a universe in opposition to that created by the First God, then yes indeed, such a god could exist, could be brought into being, but one must always understand that it takes a god to create a god. To have such power and strength to create through your beliefs is important to be seen and recognized, so that it can be seen that the people themselves are like unto God, for they are an aspect of God, but that it is important to recognize and understand that this is all at a certain level of belief.

This answers the question at this time, as this Awareness understands it. If there is need for further elaboration, this Awareness asks for an indication, or if this question is done, this Awareness rather would choose to move on.

ANY DANGER IN USING CELL PHONES?

QUESTION:

The next question is from Louise Ruble of Colorado. She writes: "I would like to ask Awareness what It thinks about cell-phones. I keep reading about the dangers of them. I don't have or want one myself. Everyone almost has one. I got my daughter a cell-phone diode out of the Heritage catalogue; an Edgar Cayce product, and sent it to her, as she has two young children who talk on the phone too. Will that help?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness first asks for the member's name to be read.

CARRIE:

Louise Ruble.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to make comment at this time about cell-phones. Limited use of cell-phones is not a danger to most people who use them. Excessive use of cell-phones does indeed carry a certain degree of risk. The degree of risk has already been pointed out in your media, in your newspapers and over your television news, and is valid. One must by needs be aware that there is indeed a certain risk and danger to using cell-phones, but that the risk is minimal if cell-phones are only occasionally used.

The deeper concern that this Awareness would wish to express is over the continual use of cell-phones. It is seen that the young in particular have grown so use to using these devices that they are seen walking around with such a device plastered to their ear, and it is almost inconceivable for the younger people to not have a cell-phone, to not be phoning friends in every spare moment, of every day. This Awareness does indeed perceive that this could be a dangerous practice, could indeed lead to some of the results that medical people are warning of: tumors, growths, cysts, and other problems.

This Awareness would ask those who use their cell-phone excessively, to consider perhaps drawing back a bit, and not using them quite as frequently. This Awareness at the same time does not want to scare people excessively, because the cell-phone has become a very normal means of communication in the western world. It is with discretion that this Awareness asks that the members use cell-phones, or that anyone who might use cell-phones might indeed consider cutting back or limiting the amount of use of those cell-phones.

It is, as anything and everything: Everything in moderation, including the use of cell-phones. This Awareness wishes the second part of the question reference to products by Edgar Cayce or the Edgar Cayce Organization to be reread at this time.

QUESTION REPEATED:

"I got my daughter a cell-phone diode out of the Heritage catalogue, an Edgar Cayce product, as she has two young children who talk on the phone too."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness sees that the product mentioned, the Edgar Cayce product, the diode cell-phone seems to be one that recognizes the dangers of cell-phones and has a slightly different technology involved that does not have the components or the microwave vibration frequency that is proving to be harmful. It is seen that these products, this product is much better than the majority of cell-phones that are available on the market at this time. This Awareness would ask those who have a cell-phone or would seek to buy a cell-phone to ask questions as to the kind of cell-phone it is that they are buying; that there are those that have a smaller amount of infrared, microwave properties involved; that one should study the various cell-phones available and make an informed choice.

Saying this, this Awareness still speaks out and says that it might be an idea not to go deeply into a cell-phone, and only, again, as has been said, to make occasional use of them. This is of course seen as a dilemma in the society, for it has become so dependent on cell-phones that the idea even, of giving them up, would be adverse to many, so that all this Awareness can now say to this is: Be selective in the product. Find those that are the best and the safest, and perhaps go with those as opposed to any that do not have a high safety rating, if such a standard even exists today in regards to cell-phones.

This Awareness is complete with this question.

The Da Vinci Code Book: Why So Popular?

QUESTION:

The next question is from Vicky Giles, from Covington, Georgia. She says she just read The Da Vinci Code. Incredible! Has Awareness ever said anything about this book? The fact that it has been number one for so long is quite encouraging to me. If Awareness has ever done a reading on it, let me know. I would love to ask a question. No book has affected me quite so much in a long time. Have you read it? I'm reading Angels and Demons now.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has never offered Its opinion of this book known as the Da Vinci Code, but It does know of this book. The Interpreter himself has read the book, and has read the previous book Angels and Demons. The information contained within the book is largely accurate. While this Interpreter has not been in a position to review the book through Awareness, or that Awareness has not reviewed this book through this Interpreter, does not mean that this Awareness, through other interpreters has not made comment about similar information regarding the bloodline of Jesus, the Knights Templar, the Society of Zion, or the Zion group. It has spoken in the past about the writing of the Bible and the machinations behind some of those secret societies that are spoken of in the book The Da Vinci Code.

The Da Vinci Code is most definitely based on the writings made available through the book known as Holy Blood. Holy Grail. Recently the authors of this book Holy Blood. Holy Grail, sued the author of The Da Vinci Code, claiming that it was their thoughts, their ideas that were stolen by the author, claiming some kind of ownership for those ideas, and yet, how can such ownership be claimed? The truth behind the events of Jesus and the Nazarene's life are valid truths that cannot be owned by anyone. The author of The Da Vinci Code was clever in how he brought this information to public attention. It is also seen that the public is now ready to hear such truths, such evidence of a bloodline of Jesus, the Nazarene.

The public was not ready to hear those same truths, those same ideas those same concepts 15 years ago, twenty years ago, when the book Holy Blood. Holy Grail originally came out. The book at that time did stir many, did present many alternate concepts of history, of the truth behind that man commonly known as Jesus the Nazarene, or Jesus the Christ, but it did not capture the public interest as the book The Da Vinci Code has done.

Catholic Church Has Hidden the Truth for Centuries

It is time in the collective consciousness of mankind to open up to some of the truths that the Catholic church has hidden from the public for hundreds of years.

It is interesting that the church is staying low key on this matter and has not even chosen to oppose this book publicly, although there are many Christians and believers who are deeply challenged by this book The Da Vinci Code, but equally, there are many who have read the book, and feel the darkness slip away, feel a door being opened, that explains to them so very much of what they believe or know within themselves. This book is indeed a pivotal work, as many are ready to walk away from old concepts of God, a singular God, a male persona, sitting in the heaven, judging those that would come before him. Such concepts now are too limited by many who are expanding their own awareness, their own consciousness.

A book like The Da Vinci Code certainly helps to expand the awareness of many who are seeking deeper answers, who are seeking to expand beyond the limitations that traditional religious beliefs hold. There are also those who are not willing to expand, thus a book like The Da Vinci Code would be very challenging indeed. This Awareness recommends that many who can, read The Da Vinci Code, for it certainly will open the eyes of those who are ready to see a truth beyond that which has always been given to them through their traditional religious upbringings.

This Awareness feels complete with this answer.

Some of the mail Awaiting Vikki when we returned from the York Convention in 1977

This entity wishes to understand the process and this Awareness therefore says to this entity: Whenever you wish or intend something, make sure that you have that emotional charge behind the intending. This Awareness is complete with this first part of the question, and asks now that the second part be read.

HOW TO VISUALIZE AND BECOME ONE WITH ALL THAT IS

QUESTION:

How can entities creatively visualize their own personal desires and become One With All That Is?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks that entities be creative in their visualization process. There are many ways that this can be accomplished. It is much more effective to actually create an image through a process of creative artistry, or creative expression. This Awareness does not suggest that everyone needs to be an artist, but that some process of expression in a physical way will help often to visualize and make concrete the intention. It is also seen that a written expression of the intention can also help focus that which is known as the low self, so that it can focus on that which is being visualized and that it can thus allow a process of energizing the intention so that it can be made manifest. Indeed, it is imperative that the low self cooperate in this effort, for if it does not cooperate, it will not create or co-create that which is being intended, and it may even block the sending of the intent to that aspect known as the High Self which is the link to the Everything and to the All, to that which is beyond the normal levels that one engages in, in an everyday manner.

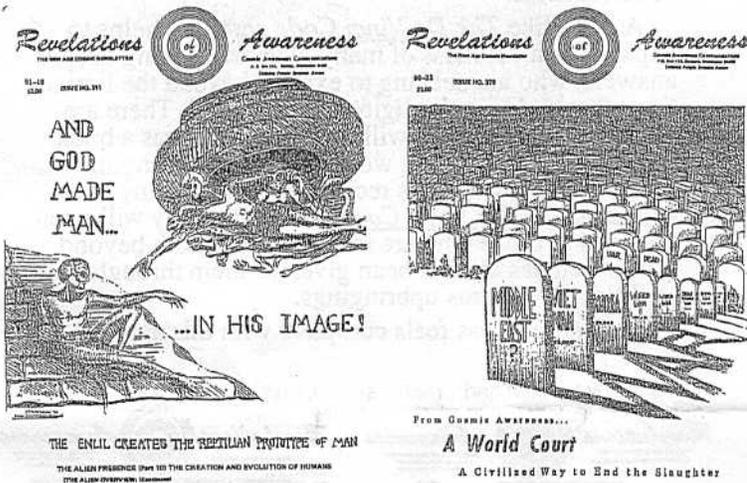

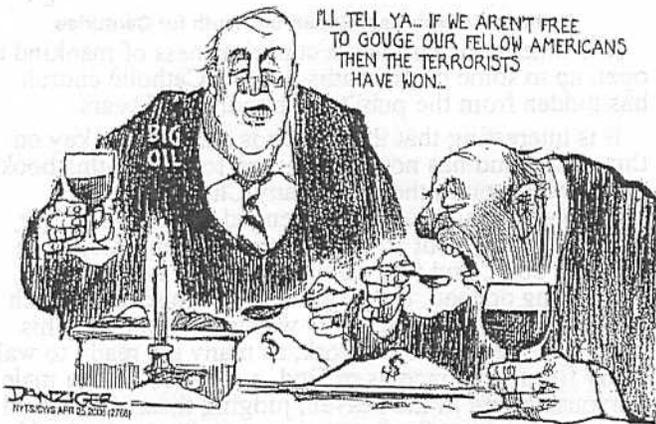

The low self responds well to an action that makes visible, so to speak, the intent, so that drawing a picture of what is wished for or asked for, will impress on the low self the seriousness of the intention or the wish, and that because it now deems it as a serious matter, it will cooperate more fully in the effort of manifesting it, or allowing it to be manifested in one's life. It will cooperate more completely with passing on the energy of the intent to that part of the being of the whole being known as the High Self. Of course, this Awareness is talking of the Huna concept of the trilateral being that each and every human being is, where there is seen to be that part known as the High Self; there is to be seen that part known as the low self; and there is that part known as the middle self.

It is the middle self that may have the concept that it wishes to manifest. It creates that concept through some form of expression such as an artistic expression, a written expression; perhaps through music. By being creative in how the middle self expresses the intent, it will impress the low self. Once impressed, the low self, as has been stated, will work towards making this so in one's physical reality, will make this something that it chooses or allows to be passed on to the High Self, which of course, will manifest from On High.

This Awareness wishes the last part now of the question to be read again.

QUESTION IS READ AGAIN

To become One With All That Is; This Awareness has already spoken of a creative process, an artistic process which gives form or expression to one's personal desires and intent. To be a part of All That Is is seen to be a releasing of those energies to that aspect of the being of the self known as the High Self which is indeed con-

Intention and Emotion Used to Manifest

QUESTION:

"Could Awareness explain how to apply one's intention and emotion in creative and corrective ways in general?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is seen that what is referred here by intention and emotion reflect two ends of a scale; two ends of a scale that combine the mental and the emotional or heart energies. Intention and intending definitely involve a mental process and that mental process is a focusing of one's desire, or indeed intention. The emotional process is what fuels the intending process. It gives it the energy to drive it and to create it, and to make it so. In some ways, the emotional energy is what is more important, because it will give a quality of energizing to the intending that truly sends the intent to source, so that it can be acted on.

Also involved in this concept is the understanding that beliefs and mental attitude may give focus to what is desired, but that unless there is an emotional component, a driving force, a driving energy, then simply having a mental intention will not be enough. It must be that both are combined. The male energy, the mental energy, and the female energy, the emotional energies, are combined in that process, in that manifestation process of intending. When one has an emotional energy, a desire, then that which is intended is more likely to be manifested than when emotional energy is failing or lacking.

nected to All That Is, to the Everything, to the various layers and levels of consciousness beyond that which is known as human consciousness, as waking consciousness. Once an individual's intent, desire, or even wish is passed on to the High Self, it can then be transmitted, so to speak, to all levels of consciousness and awareness, and that this is how one would tie in to the Everything and to the All.

This Awareness feels complete at this time in Its answer, but does invite comment, if more is required.

An Opening in Consciousness at this Time (The Masses Are Looking For Answers)

CLOSING MESSAGE:

Thank you. Does Awareness have a closing message?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does indeed have a closing message. The questions today often touched upon concepts involving levels of consciousness, levels of awareness; that the last question touched upon the Huna concept of the three levels of consciousness, even held within a single individual. It is now time to start understanding that all humans are multidimensional in being, in character. There is an opening of consciousness on this planet at this time, and that more and more people are seeking to reach out beyond the veil, the veil of consciousness that has contained and confined for so long. Many are no longer satisfied simply accepting versions of truth that are passed on to them through the many sources, through their parents, through their education, through their religious upbringing, and that this is indeed part of the process that is evolving at this time on this planet earth.

Many are seeking to understand themselves beyond a limited finite being. They are now seeking to understand their infinite being, their multidimensional being. This Awareness encourages questions that challenge the individual to think beyond the box, to open the box indeed, and to look out into the great expanse of consciousness that is infinite in nature. This Awareness thanks the energizer and the Interpreter for this opportunity today to discuss such heady matters.

This Awareness is complete for today.

Where to Invest Our Money? (Why Gold and Silver Didn't Hit Predicted Highs)

QUESTION:

Patricia Goodchild, Flat Rock, North Carolina, writes: "You've given lots of information on rejuvenating our bodies for the future, to prepare us for the times ahead. What can we do to protect ourselves financially? Past predictions for the explosion of gold and silver did not occur, due perhaps to the manipulation in the stock market. Many people, a lot of them living on Social Security pensions bought these metals in the belief they would be a means to survival when the collapse came. Many are selling now, feeling it will not rise in time to be of any help. Can you offer any suggestions to those of us who have no extra money, to build some kind of security portfolio?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this is very difficult for this Awareness to give general information, because the information sought by individuals varies so extensively with each individual, depending on how much they earn, how much they spend, how much they can save, what kind of skills they have, what kind of areas they trust with their money, what type of investment would psychologically appeal or frighten them.

This Awareness indicates that there are so many variables with each individual, that it would take readings for almost every individual to be of value to any one individual. This Awareness indicates that you would be better served to consult with financial planners in regard to your own particular assets and earnings to determine where to invest or protect your money and assets.

This Awareness indicates that it also would depend on what happens to the money system in the future, regarding who controls it and how they manipulate or move money and securities. All of this is so uncertain, so dependent on so many things, that it is not reasonable to expect an answer that is trustworthy for investing your money in order to profit. This Awareness indicates that in the event a financial advisor looks over your financial situation, there could be some potential benefit from the advice the entity gives. This also might just as likely be risky for you, if the entity is not qualified or fully honest.

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

Harry Schultz, who is an international investment advisor, and who touts that his predictions are among the highest of any economic advisor, claims that in 1995, gold bullion and bullion coins will out-perform gold shares, so, if his prediction is correct, maybe this entity should just hang on to her gold and not sell it.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in the event major changes occur in the economic system, the gold may be the more stable form of asset holding, if it is in a safe place. This Awareness indicates that it is not likely to lose value in the future, unless it is stolen somehow from its place of storage. As far as the value of gold is concerned, it appears to hold value and could increase in value at any time the currency becomes uncertain, and the economic currency could become uncertain at any time the manipulators wish to create a crisis or any design or plan whatsoever.

This Awareness indicates that it appears that the storage or holding of gold is a safe way of keeping your money and its value safe, even if it is not increasing at the same rate as perhaps real estate prices or certain stocks or certain bonds, any of which are risky, unless you are an expert in finding proper investments. This Awareness suggests that there is very unlikely any chance of gold dropping in value because money can be manufactured with a printing press, but gold is limited as to its amount and has traditionally always been held in value and has gone up in value over long periods of time, and as more and more people populate the earth, the amount of gold available is proportionately much less than in the past, compared to the population.

This Awareness indicates that it may not suddenly increase overnight, or even in the near future, but gradually its value will increase. If worse comes to worse, it can be made into jewelry so that its value is increased immediately. This Awareness suggests you may wish to take a jewelry-making class to learn how to turn your gold into jewelry and thereby increasing its value for immediate sale in order to satisfy any present need for financial benefits.

Ed's Note: Today, May 2006, gold is going berserk, reaching a 30-year high just last week. It is pushing $700 an ounce and approaching the $1000 mark Awareness has previously predicted. Those of you who followed our advice in the past and bought Krugerrands and Canadian gold coins for $100 to stash away, should not be feeling it was such a bad investment after all.

This Awareness suggests that the cayenne pepper may be taken in capsule form, that the fruit pectin may be added to the juice and blended. This Awareness suggests that also the nucleic acid mixed with yeast, brewers yeast, which may be purchased from various outlets such as Nutrition Headquarters, this also can be added to the fruit drink, this to be taken each day for a period of approximately one year. ## PAUL SHOCKLEY: IN MEMORIAM

Paul passed over into spirit last month, May 9th, and a Memorial was held at his home in McMinnville, Oregon, on May 21st. Previously a stroke, heart attack and diabetes confined him to a nursing home and he never recovered.

Paul Marcus Shockley was the most prolific of all the Cosmic Awareness Interpreters. For some 20 years Paul would drive up to Olympia once a month, spend 3 to 5 days giving readings then return to Oregon. These trips would drain the treasury but they provided a wealth of information, more than enough to keep the CAC staff hopping until his next visit.

Although Paul would periodically drop "bombshells" from Awareness, such as "The Gathering Storm" scenario, massive disclosures on the Orion alien agenda, the New World Order, etc. putting this information into consciousness, believe it or not, 75% or more of his channeled material concerned philosophical, spiritual and historic information. (This does not include the hundreds of Personal Readings given to others). From the very beginning, Awareness indicated that the religions of the world needed to be realigned, that the real truth of "Christianity" needed to get into consciousness, that the difference between the man known as Jesus and the Christ Consciousness needed to be clarified and understood, that the lies and deceptions of the Catholic church needed to be exposed. Paul Shockley was a pioneer in this area with his many readings which opened the door so others would follow. (The Da Vinci Code book and movie today is a good example). Paul's spotlight on conspiracies, according to Awareness, influenced mass consciousness to the point that the conspirators could no longer hide their mischief, could not stand the spotlight and hopefully have changed their sinister agenda to one that can eventually benefit humanity. (For example there are over 10,000 websites on the Internet today which deal with the alien agenda and the New World Order conspiracy).

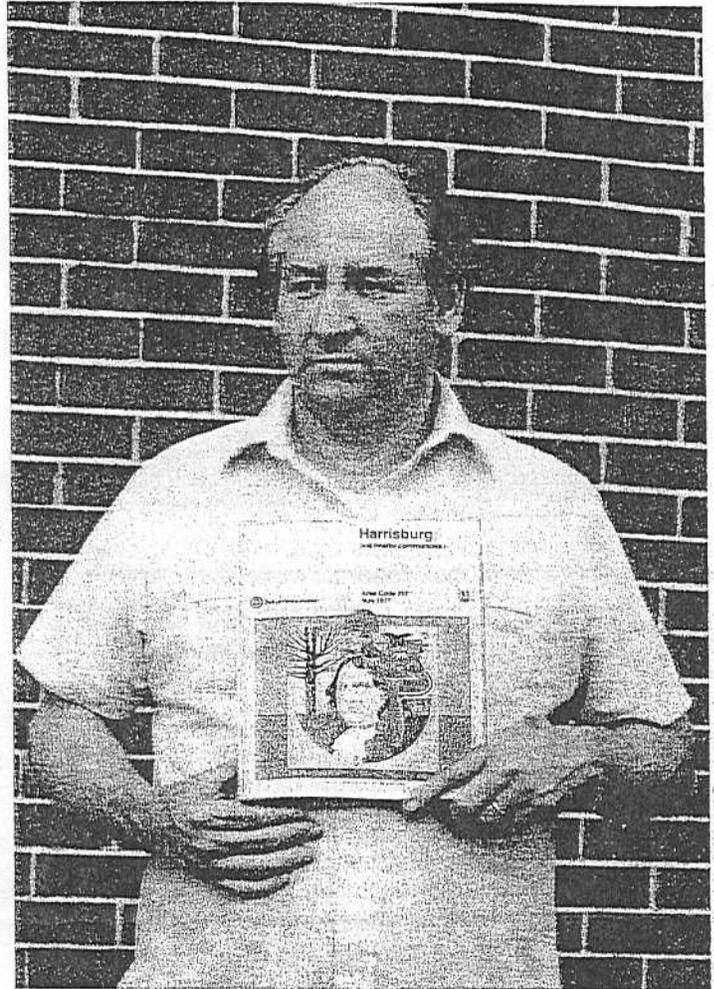

Paul Shockley will be sorely missed by many, but the thousands of messages from Cosmic Awareness which he channeled will live forever, will be his legacy to humanity. And thanks to the years of diligent effort by the CAC archiver Tom Krueger, these messages will be available from CAC and other sources far into the future. We'll see you later, Paul.

From Mary Farrell ( 1st Mate Mary)

(In an email to Vikki)

"He passed early in the AM on Tuesday last week the 9th day. Leave it to him to pass on a 9! Also adds up to a 22. Roshanna and I both noticed that and thought it was awesome timing. I believe he had a small series of strokes at the end. Roshanna said goodbye to him on Monday evening. With all his strength, he raised her hand to his lips and kissed it. Staring deeply into each others eyes he said, "I love you." She said "I love you too." The next morning the nurse took his BP, he drew a long slow peaceful breath and crossed over into his spirit self. The nurse noted it was unusually effortless compared to all who struggle so because they are so uncertain of the outcome.

I am as you, Vikki, continuing to process this big change that is sending wave after wave across consciousness. Much is occurring with Paul's passing. A gift to humanity once again from this remarkable individual I had the pleasure of being best friend with for 41 years. He is missed yet here again with us at last in full glory."

PROBLEMS IN LETTING GO OF SELF

(More on How to Become Cosmically Aware)

QUESTION:

My name is Michael -----, I was born March 9th, 1943 in the island of Trinidad. I have since 1968 left the island of Trinidad and am now living in Canada as a Landed Immigrant. At present, I am into my second marriage. I have two children with my first and one son and one stepdaughter with my second wife. I am employed as a set-up mechanic.

At present I am totally dissatisfied with my life. All through my life I have had strong desires to know God and knowing more about myself, for which I have pretty well investigated most religions, first Western then Eastern. I have tried many exercises but up until now I haven't had any conscious altered state of consciousness, and I feel rejected by man, sometimes by God. I feel like a ship lost at sea and investigating every glimmer of hope that presents itself, hoping that it would be the one that would lead me to my destiny, but so far I have not, but I am still there searching.

Would Awareness please comment and give me an opening message?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that so long as there is the concept of the individual self which is in its pursuit of discovery, so long as there is the 'me' within the individual, the 'me' which sees itself as the center of its own activity and its experiencing, the action of being me will limit the entity's ability to move into and experience that which is outside of the limitations of 'me.' This Awareness indicates that wherein the 'I' or the self, is seeing its self as a center of action, a center which is either creating or pursuing some quest, whatever the purposes of the self, this creates a limitation in terms of the ability of that self to experience the Universal Self.

A Glimpse of the Ocean of Consciousness

This Awareness indicates that it would appear that this would be a dilemma which would hinder anyone from ever experiencing the Universal Consciousness, for how can one get outside of one's self when one is locked into a physical body and has all of those personal identifications of self? This Awareness indicates that obviously while in a physical body, an entity can only experience those brief glimpses of that which is non-self, that which is outside of self-interest, outside of self-identifications. This Awareness suggests that in these brief glimpses, entities may experience in this brief moment the totality of the universe, the realization of consciousness as a living thing within the universe, even as there is an ocean of water covering the small plant or fish within the ocean, so likewise, it becomes similar when the individual seeks to identify and understand and feel the ocean of consciousness.

This Awareness suggests that if one can imagine a fish tuning in to the universality of the ocean and feeling that totality and losing the sense of fish identity, so likewise, one can imagine an individual tuning-in to the Universal Consciousness and losing the sense of self-identity. This Awareness indicates that these, the degree of such attunement, is that which varies from entity to entity and from moment to moment, from experience to experience. This Awareness indicates there are no entities in the physical body under any circumstance who can have absolute and total identification with the entire universe, but there are entities who can have some degree of Cosmic Consciousness, some degree of total identification, some degree of realization of that which is outside of self. This Awareness indicates the degree of such depends upon the entity's ability to let go of self and become one with the universal or abstract realities.

The "I" or the "Me" Can Never Be Cosmically Aware

This Awareness indicates that letting go of self is that which is most difficult for entities, for in many cases entities seeking to identify with the spiritual or Universal Consciousness, seek to identify with that Consciousness as a particular self, as the 'me,' as the 'I'; "I" wish to be Cosmically Aware." This Awareness indicates that "I" can never be Cosmically Aware, for when one is Cosmically Aware, there is no "I" involved, there is no me. This Awareness indicates that when one is Cosmically Aware, there is only realization and that identity with the Universal Consciousness. This Awareness indicates that letting go of self is that action whereby entities, through surrender to the Divine, may move into moments of enlightenment, moments of realization, moments of Cosmic Consciousness.

The Next Step is the Action of Visualizing

This Awareness indicates that the art and practice of moving into such levels comes first from the rational, mental realization that such levels are there. This Awareness indicates that the next requirement is that the entity make the movement or take the action of visualizing and experiencing as an activity, the universality of consciousness, seeing that consciousness moves out from the confines of one's own brain into the air around the entity, into the room or space outside the entity, and even further, that consciousness permeates all things in all directions outside of the entity.

When You Can Look at Consciousness and Say "I Am That!"

This Awareness indicates that as you become aware of the life that fills the spaces between your atoms, that fills the spaces between yourself and others, that fills the spaces between all things, and realize that those spaces are filled with consciousness, and when you can look at that consciousness and say, "I am that," then you shall be on the path toward higher states of awareness, toward the Cosmic Awareness realization.

This Awareness indicates that when you think of yourself as the limited being inhabiting a physical body, with your clothes, your favorite habits of behavior, your favorite possessions, your friends and associates who see you in a certain image, all of these personal adjuncts and identifications will serve as fences to keep you locked into self. This Awareness indicates that these may serve in a similar manner as a home for your soul, a housing for your self, a landing pad for your soul to inhabit the physical matter.

This Awareness indicates that this has its important value in assisting you to remain grounded upon the physical plane, and without these identifications, you would simply depart the physical plane. This Awareness indicates however, it is also important that you have the ability to realize that you may take leave of this identification, that you may depart the vehicle of the body, that you may exit from your chassis, that you may open the door and get out of the chariot and move as consciousness into the universe.

This Awareness indicates this is not simply a reference to astral travel, but also in reference to consciousness movement, wherein the consciousness expands in all directions, expanding outward, filling up the space within your home, and expanding outside the home, filling up the space over your environment, and expanding even further to realize the space surrounding the earth, expanding further to include spaces within the solar system, and still expanding even further as you recognize the expansiveness of the galaxy and the universe.

The Greatest Experience is to Become Aware of What You Can Do

This Awareness indicates however, that even looking at the galaxy and universe is not necessarily a great accomplishment, or identifying with the galaxy or universe is not necessarily a great accomplishment, it is simply an experience which allows you to have a moment outside of the body, wherein your consciousness is freed to experience another dimension of life, to experience the vastness of the universe. This Awareness indicates that even moving into levels of Universal Consciousness is not necessarily a great experience, the greater experience is that which comes about from being aware that you have the ability to enter and leave any of these material confines, and that with the ability to dislodge yourself from identifications, you are free in one respect: to be who you wish to be and to take on the identifications that you wish to take on.

As An Unlimited Being You Realize the Role You are Now Playing

This Awareness indicates that in realizing the freedom of being who you are, you may choose to continue your identification with yourself, your role, your life, your friends, your patterns of behavior, your activities, but you may continue doing this with a deeper understanding that you are an unlimited being and this is simply a role which you are playing in this particular sojourn in this particular play upon this particular stage for a particular time. This Awareness indicates that in such understanding, you become free, even though you still remain in a similar situation as that which you previously experienced before the realization.

This Awareness indicates that as an individual can imagine or perceive this kind of life-like consciousness permeating the air, penetrating the sky, permeating the physical matter, permeating all living things and all things which appear to be dead, permeating to some degree, with consciousness; as the entity can understand this and realize that consciousness exists everywhere, in all things throughout the universe to some degree, to greater or lesser degrees, and the entity can visualize that consciousness extending from one's self into all directions, even as the fish has water within its own being, and that water also extends outside of the fish and out ever further into the ocean, and as the entity has within himself the consciousness; and outside of himself there is consciousness, and that consciousness extends ever outward into the universe, and as the entity ceases to define himself as merely a fish or merely a physical body, but rather switches his or her definition of self to be that which is conscious within the body, that which is conscious about the body, and that which is conscious throughout the universe, then it becomes possible for the entity to begin breaking free from the confines of self and moving outward into the sea of consciousness as a conscious being.

This Awareness indicates that were a fish to have all water removed from its body, it would simply be a pile of dried-up matter; the fish, the essence of its being would be gone. This Awareness indicates that as the fish realizes that it is, in part of its essence, made up of water, and that water is within itself and water is outside of itself, the fish could just as logically state to itself, "I am water. I am more water than I am physical. I am more water than I am material matter." This Awareness indicates as the fish discovers this, it can also attune itself to the water of the sea and say, I am that."

This Awareness indicates that there is no one who can do this for you, there is no one who can hand you the realization, there is only that action of your own consciousness expanding to realize, and when you realize, that becomes the reality for you. This Awareness indicates that it will be to no avail for you to ask others to make you realize this, for it only comes from your own realization, and when you know what it is that you must realize, then the rest is up to you.

TV News Reporters and Managed News
( There is Something About His Eyes )

QUESTION:

A question from Gordon Scott, Thunder Bay, Ontario. He writes: "I, like many North Americans, usually watch the evening news. Every so often I see a reporter who seems to have a kind of blank look on his or her face, and makes me wonder if those people are just dull or under some kind of influence, mind control and so forth. One particular case really makes me wonder. There is a reporter by the name of Michael McGuiver on our CBS news network. He seems to be more or less a normal type of person; nothing unusual about him; however, about a year ago or so he was assigned a new post in the Soviet Union to cover the news there.

I've noticed that since then, when on camera, he almost never blinks his eyes, and if you look him directly in the eyes, there is, at least I get this, a weird and uncomfortable feeling that "nobody's home", as if he's like a zombie, however, everything else about him is the same: his voice, his mannerisms, his analysis, as far as I can tell. I am not asking for another long expose on robotoids particularly, but I am wondering, number 1, this general phenomenon of people with a blank stare who don't blink their eyes, does it reveal or indicate some separation of mind and spirit, and number 2, in terms of an approximate percentage, how many of the reporters are under any significant kind of influence?

There are a lot of people who only listen to the major networks, ie, establishment news, and form their opinions on that, feeling themselves to be fully informed. I'm wondering how much credibility can be attached to these foreign news reporters? With TV you at least get to see their face, and sometimes the face reveals more of the truth than the words. With radio or newspaper all you have are the words.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that as has been given previously, the truth that is portrayed over the networks, is such as to give what may be termed approximately a 60% accuracy or explanation in regard to circumstances. It is not that they do not tell the truth more than 60 percent of the time, it is more that they slant the story approximately 60 percent of the time, so that it portrays a different impression or meaning. This Awareness indicates it is likened unto taking the same story that someone else might see, but giving it a different interpretation.

This Awareness indicates were you to see the same information that is reported on the news, you might get a totally different impression of what occurred, and consider the news story as being not exactly factual according to the way you saw it. This Awareness indicates that this is because in most instances of importance, the story is slanted to get a particular effect. This Awareness indicates that in many cases, even stories relating to private individuals and what is going on with them will be slanted in order to get a desired effect, so that opinions follow and conclude that which the reporter wishes the listeners to conclude.

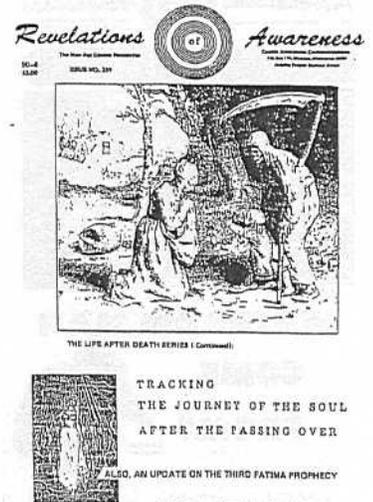

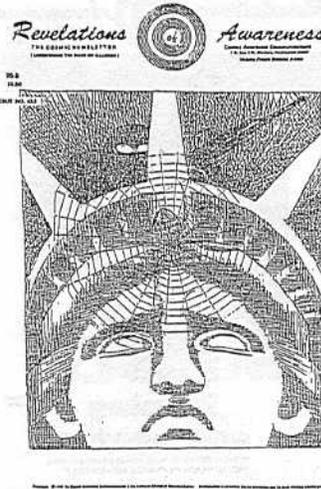

This Awareness indicates when this gets into political areas or areas which are being consciously supported by a policy which is using the networks to promote the alteration of the interpretation can very easily be accomplished so that the masses are influenced to perceive things in a certain manner, and it is true, that the majority of entities who are interested in what is going on in the world, which may include approximately 50 or 60 percent of the adults, will, tend to believe whatever they hear on the news; this more or less 95 to 99 percent of the time.

This Awareness indicates there are very few who are suspicious of the news, although there are quite a number who are suspicious of the administration and of other officials who make statements on the news. Most people trust their newspapers. This Awareness indicates that stillness and blank stares of some reporters are the result of careful training. It implies a calm voice and demeanor. It has been noticed that people are seen as having more credibility if they are not fidgety or do not move around, if their eyes do not shift, and if they can look straight ahead into the eye of the camera or the viewer.

This Awareness indicates that this is a kind of trained action associated with the career or job, whereby the entity disciplines himself or herself to be motionless as the message is given. It makes the information seem to be more credible to the viewer, if the reporter is looking straight at the viewer and delivering the message without any extraneous movement. This Awareness indicates that this does not preclude the fact of some individuals being influenced by forces outside their own will. The questioner understands the meaning of this message.

This Awareness has previously given information in regard to the nature of some of the techniques of emptying an entity or making an entity into a robot-like creature. It does not wish to get into this area at this time either.

Health Hints From Personal Readings

( Herpes Simplex Number 2 )

QUESTION:

There seems to be an ever-increasing number of persons demonstrating the venereal disease, Herpes Simplex #2. It is my understanding that mental attitudes such as guilt, imagination, selfishness, etc., set the stage for the initial susceptibility and also contribute to the perpetuation of this condition. Medical doctors seem to have no effective treatment and are only concerned with the effect, the physical symptoms, which these doctors can neither heal or control.

Would Awareness please offer information concerning specific counseling suggestions appropriate for the treatment of the causes of the Herpes Simplex #2, as well as any information about the naturopathic, the homeopathic, or some form of treatment for the healing of this imbalance? Also, would any of these Laws be helpful for one who would direct attention and energy to their principles: Law of Description, Law of Magic, and Law of Projection?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the use of consciousness as that which can have a great effect upon this disease and upon the prevention of such. This Awareness suggests however, that this approach to the problem is not likely to have an effect because most entities will not recognize the value of keeping their consciousness high or of recognizing the power of the mind.

This Awareness indicates at this time in the stage of human development, that the more effective approach as that which deals with the cleansing of the body through fasting and through herbs, particularly in the area of cleansing the blood.

This Awareness suggests that the entity Mary Farrell of the Goodship can supply information relating to herbs and this Awareness indicates information on this as available also through Dr. Christopher's works, through previous reading of approximately 1974, and through Mary Farrell and Bob Beard of the Goodship. This Awareness suggests this information be available by request from these entities. This Awareness suggests that this essentially as being the blood purifying herbs and diet. This Awareness indicates that as the blood and body are purified, the herpes energies are unable to take hold or retain their hold on the body. M780704PB

DEVELOPMENT COURSE

Taurus: Volume 2 Lesson Number 6

QUESTION (AVATON):

Would Awareness now please give the sixth lesson in the Spiritual Development Correspondence Course under Taurus? The sixth lesson being that which relates unto the child in his or her studies at school and in relationship with other entities in his or her peer group.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that in terms of the continued movement and orientation of the child in relation to longitude and latitude away from certain security points such as the mother, the home, the father, and the familiar neighborhood and friends of the child - the movement into the school as that which is quite a traumatic event for the child. There is much insecurity involved in this action, unless this is handled with great care.

This Awareness indicates the child suddenly being taken from its familiar environment, placed into a totally new household or building, a totally new set of faces appearing before the child - new expectations and new types of thinking and behavior patterns being demanded or expected.

This Awareness indicates that there are certain time segments necessary for the child to become re-oriented to this kind of situation. Therefore, to assist the child in moving into school activities, it is wise for the parent to walk the child to school and even spend some time in school, if possible. This Awareness suggests if the parent is unable to do this action, due to working commitments or otherwise, another familiar person (a person the child can trust), could accompany the child into this action until the child is familiar and at ease in the situation. This kind of beginning relationship with school will be of great benefit in terms of the attitude the child has toward school. This Awareness suggests that also the teacher, being unfamiliar with the child, can find out more about the child from speaking to the parent or other assistant. And in this manner the teacher will give a little more special attention to the child than otherwise might occur.

This Awareness suggests that once the child has entered into the school activities, wherein possible, the parents can give attention to discuss with the child what happened, how the schooling is going, what the child is doing, without being greatly concerned about how the child is learning, how the child is accomplishing its goals and the goals of education.

This Awareness suggests that wherein the parent can ask the child questions about: "How did you like school today? How do you like the teacher? How do you like the children? How do you like your various work projects in terms of school?", and the child answers: "I do not like school," or "I do not like the teacher," or "I do not like math," or whatever, the parent can simply ask: "What is the problem?" Wherein, the child then can express the situation and explain what he does or does not like, and the parent simply can listen and explain afterwards that maybe it will improve.

This Awareness indicates that whatever the parent can do without telling the child he should or should not feel that way, without telling the child he is wrong to feel that way - whatever the parent can do to listen to the child and allow the child to express himself, this will be of benefit. For the need of the child is to feel free to express what he feels about this or that situation in his life, and once that is expressed to an ear that is empathetic, sensitive, and caring, the child will be satisfied. The situation may not be ideal for the child, but the child recognizes, even at this age, that situations are not always ideal upon this plane.

This Awareness indicates that wherein the parent is overly concerned: wishing the child to love school, to love math, to love the teacher, and to be the extraordinary student, and the parent becomes very upset because the child does not like school, or does not like the teacher, or hates math, this only intensifies the problem of the child. For not only does the child have these feelings about school, the child now feels that his feelings have hurt the feelings of his parent. And therefore, that he must be wrong in feeling this, and yet he feels this, and therefore there is a feeling of guilt which creeps in to the child's consciousness.

This Awareness suggests that the attentive and sensitive parent can listen to the child express his or her problems about school, or about this or that situation, and can ask the child to feel free to discuss anything that he or she wishes to discuss about the situation. Wherein a parent can give this kind of attention, even if it is only five minutes a day, the very deep respect and attention which the parent can give for that short length of time will be of great benefit to the child. This Awareness indicates it is not the amount of time, not the quantity of time that a parent can give a child which is so important, it is the quality of your attention during whatever time you do give your attention that is of extreme importance.

This Awareness indicates that as you give deep quality, the deep attention, the deep respect of giving all of your attention to the child during this or that moment, this or that time, for this or that reason when the child demands or needs the attention - wherein you can give full attention to the child, even if you have to tell the child: "Wait five minutes and I'll stop, then we can talk about this," even if you have to wait for a time wherein you can spend five minutes or a half hour of intensive discussion with the child, deeply giving all of your attention to the child's needs - this is much more valuable to the child than continuous all-day glances, words thrown while half-heartedly paying attention to the child, and giving your divided attention in other directions also.

This Awareness suggests that in terms of the action of the child in relation to the studies, wherein the child does not appreciate or does not like the studies, the parent can simply ask the child: "What is it about the studies that you don't like?" Generally, the child will simply be wanting sympathy, and often simply wants attention from the parent. Therefore the parent can give this kind of attention by discussing with the child the situation until the child begins showing that it is not so much the problem that he or she wishes to discuss, but simply wants a relationship with the parent at this moment.

This Awareness indicates that many times the child will say: "I hate math," simply to get attention from the parent so that a situation can occur where the parent will speak to the child, the child knowing that the parent wants the child to like math. This Awareness indicates that wherein the parent can begin speaking with the child in regards to the studies, or to the situations, or to the problem, and the child then finds the opportunity to begin discussing various things, the parent and child then can begin communication and having a relationship along these lines. And after the child has moved the conversation away from math, into those areas which the child would enjoy discussion, the parent can begin winding up the conversation.

This Awareness suggests there will come a time when the child becomes giddy and silly and playful, and at this point the seriousness of the situation has lightened in the child's mind. After the parent has participated in the playful activity for a certain length of time and feels a need to move on to something else, the parent can then go back to the original situation and give a suggestion that: "See how it goes tomorrow; let's see if your math becomes easier; perhaps I can help you. Bring home some of your work and we'll see what we can do." This Awareness suggests that this kind of suggestion then allows the child to know that the relationship is continuing. This Awareness suggests that this gives a continuity to the child's security with the parent and to the relationship.

This Awareness suggests that wherein the conversation must be terminated and the child wishes it to continue, that a slight suggestion by the parent that: "It's getting late, and we have much work to do tomorrow, and I have certain things I must do now, so let's remember what we were talking about and return tomorrow and talk again - all right?" children who are confused, with children who are sarcastic, with children who are very sweet, loving, kind, and submissive. This Awareness indicates that some children enjoy picking on those who are inferior in size, those who are small, those who are weak, those who are frightened.

This Awareness indicates that the action of certain children is such that they can feel large and important if they can dominate another, and the action of others is to center around those who can be of a dominating nature for the protection that they will give. This Awareness indicates in this manner there are often gangs which form in schools, and these gangs then begin to feel powerful, and the entities within the gangs do begin to feel a need to act like a gang, according to what they assume is proper behavior for gang acting.

This Awareness indicates that in terms of the relationship of the child to those in school who are troublemakers for the child, that the parent can assist in discussing these problems with the teacher and principal of the school, by discussing the problem with the parents of the child who would violate, and by discussing the problem with the child himself. This Awareness suggests that often the parent may find that by moving into an actual relationship with the child who is violating your child, that this will assist in bringing the action to a stop. This Awareness suggests that wherein a child has been violating your child, and discovers that your child has a parent who can speak with him and who cares enough about the child to discuss the situation, that child who would violate your child then begins to recognize that he is dealing with more than just a child: he is dealing with the child and the parent. This Awareness indicates that this is very important for children to know that their physical body, their worthiness as a being, can be protected by someone against those who would be violators of their being.

This Awareness suggests that entities who allow their children to move through those areas of school and who are being picked on and beat up and harmed by others, these children will feel very insecure about their size, about their abilities. And if they do not receive some kind of protection, or feel that there is some way they can avoid the threat that comes to them, they may turn to gangs themselves or turn to other tools or weapons to protect themselves.

This Awareness suggests that those parents who have children who have turned to weapons for protection, who have turned to various types of techniques for protection, who have taken on a large size, or who have taken on attitudes of being big, strong, and therefore dangerous to others, who wish to become powerful physically in order to overwhelm others - these parents must look carefully to make sure that their children are not violating the rights of others.

This Awareness indicates that while this may seem better to you, that your child violates others rather than your child is violated by others, the actual situation is that the child cannot continue to violate others without coming across someone who is larger and more powerful. This Awareness indicates that entire concept of bullying others will eventually come down upon your child, or upon yourself, in terms of some kind of trouble.

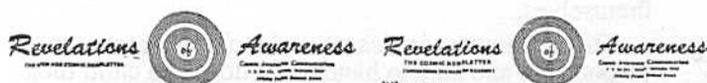

This Awareness suggests that it is very important to children, the relationship in terms of their size and in terms of their strength and in terms of who is stronger than the other, for this phase of their life can set a pattern which can be very constructive later, or destructive, in terms of the attitudes which they develop during this time.

This Awareness suggests, in terms of relationships between the child and the entities of the opposite sex, the boyfriends and girlfriends, that parents need not be too overly concerned one way or another about these actions. That it is important to listen to the child and to be a friend, a pal, whom the child can confide in about their feelings in relation to this or that person.

This Awareness suggests that wherein a child has a friend, it is important to allow the child the occasional opportunity to have the friend over, or to go over and visit the friend. Yet, it is also important for the parent to find out just what kind of influence that friend is upon your child, for many good children can be intrigued by entities who have nothing but hostility to express and are playing the role of the big adventurer, or the wild creature that has no limits.

This Awareness indicates that wherein your child is attracted to this type of entity, that you would be wise to guard this relationship carefully, not by forbidding the child directly to associate with that entity, but by close communication with the parents of that entity, with the child, and with your own child. This Awareness suggests that wherein possible, you find ways to spend more time with your child during these periods and gradually wean your child away from that entity, or assist that entity in changing certain attitudes which would be disruptive to your child. This Awareness indicates that this may be treated in a similar manner to the games of destruction which the child played in the previous lesson.

This Awareness suggests that this being such that as the child relates to this influence which is anti-social that you may assist the child in finding new interests in life by giving special attention, by allowing the child to go on vacation, or to go elsewhere to see other things, or by whatever else is of interest to the child. This Awareness indicates these brief moments can be important to turning the direction of the child, but this must not be done if the child insists on seeing this entity, unless within your own being you intuitively and in every other way, see this entity as being a force upon your child that will be extremely damaging.

This Awareness suggests that wherein a deep conflict begins to occur between parent and child over another entity, that you look carefully at yourself to ask why you have this conflict: if this is being possessive of your child, if you are being too directive of your child's life, if this actually is a cause for concern, or if you are simply afraid of losing control of your child and allowing your child to grow up, if you are simply being concerned that your child is defying you.

This Awareness suggests that wherein any of these are not the case, you must learn to yield somewhat, for the child will not be your keeping - the child is himself, you are only the guiding system for the blast-off while this child becomes oriented and moves out toward life.

This Awareness indicates as the child grows older, you must learn to allow more and more freedom for the child to make mistakes. Yet, this freedom must be released slowly so that the child can feel the direction without feeling bondage.

This Awareness suggests that wherein the influence is totally disruptive upon your child's behavior and you feel that the influence of this other entity would be of such grave consequences as to harm your child's development, you then can enter into an intense conversation about that entity with the child, allowing the child to express himself or herself as to why this entity appears so attractive: "What is it you see in this entity that draws you toward this entity?"

This Awareness suggests that in this kind of conversation and listening to the child's feelings, you shall begin to understand certain motivations by the child, what it is that is needed.

This Awareness indicates often this is a latent hostility toward the parent for certain controls that have been placed upon the child, and the attempt to move toward an entity who appears to have no restraints, or no controls by anyone - this as often but an action of emulation whereby the child would like to be that free.

This Awareness indicates that wherein this is seen, the parent may ask the child if they feel you are being too restraining and if they want more freedom.

This Awareness indicates wherein they say they wish more freedom, then you may present to them the opportunity for more freedom as they show greater responsibility for their own actions and for the lives of those about them. This Awareness suggests that in this manner you substitute freedom and give them more freedom in accordance to the amount of freedom they can handle without violating others.

This Awareness suggests that the previous statement be looked at carefully: you give your freedom to the child to the amount of freedom they can handle without violating others and without violating or harming themselves.

This Awareness indicates as the child becomes more responsible and able to handle freedom, the child then should be given that amount which it can handle.

This Awareness suggests that anything more than that is license, and can be very harmful to the child.

Anything less than that is bondage, and can also lead to harm and resentment by the child, and can lead to rebellion against your so-called "authority."

This Awareness suggests this concludes the sixth Correspondence reading in the Sea of Taurus, which relates unto concepts of security.

called them all "Christians." This Awareness indicates that the claim that the Christians were being persecuted is likened unto saying that the Jews were the victim World War II and ignoring any others who were victim of World War II.

This Awareness indicates that there may have been entities who were followers of Jesus without necessarily being known as Christians. If you watch the movies they will all be called Christians, but since Christianity actually did not become the name of this group until after the Nicean Council, this was not the term used during that time.

(Ed's note: the Romans went after everyone who didn't follow the official religion. They wiped out the Gnostics, for example.

Who Built the Catacombs and Why?
(How the Holy Roman Catholic Religion Began)

QUESTION:

The entity Chris Largent has got other questions on Antiquity Unveiled, so I guess he is going back quite ways. In another question he says: "A related history question. (I'm not sure about this one either) There were millions of people buried under Rome in catacombs, but no one really knows why, and of course, the explanations that Christians hid out there doesn't fit with Awareness' claim that there weren't any Christians there."

"Once more, who would want to hide there with all those decaying bodies? So who built the catacombs and why?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this was the result of a kind of burial program for entities in Rome. It is likened unto a cemetery. There were many reasons for entities dying: some from illnesses, some from violence, some from wars. This Awareness indicates that these were not necessarily Christians in the catacombs, though the followers of Jesus and the followers of Krishna and other religious organizations that were often in conflict with one another. Remember that there was a kind of civil war between various religions in Rome which was the reason for Constantine calling all the religious groups together to come up with a composite religion that they could all live with, and this was then officially declared the religion of Rome.

The Origin of the Catholic Religion

The word "Catholic" means "Universal"; thus, the Holy Roman Catholic Religion was the Holy Roman Universal Religion, and came about from the orders of Constantine, and was rewritten with the star god, or her, of the religion called Yashu Christos. "Christos" was a

Who Was Persecuted and Why Christians?

QUESTION:

A question from Christopher Largent, a question of history. He writes: "Several ancient historians record mass persecutions in the Roman Empire and Christian church historians have always claimed that Christians were the victims of these persecutions. But if there were no Christians, who was being persecuted and why?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there is much unclear in the question itself. The question: "If there were no Christians" is not established. It is a premise that has not been established, and the time of what has been referred to as ancient Rome is not clear. Is the entity asking about a time before Christianity? Or is the entity asking about a time when Christianity had already been established, or when there were Christians just prior to the acceptance of Christianity by the Roman Empire?

AVATON:

I see what you mean. I believe since he mentioned 'ancient historians', that the question was: Who were they persecuting in those days before the Christians came about?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates It will have to make certain assumptions in regard to the question. Assuming that this is in reference to the Christian era, prior to the Constantine Council of Nicea, in which the entities were told to bring their religions and religious leaders together and come up with a composite religion; the entity is likely referring to the fact that the Christian religion was created out of that Council of Nice, and then asking: "If there were no Christians"...in other words, "If Christianity came from that council, how could there have been Christians before that?"

The Nazarene Known as Yeshua

This Awareness indicates that the entities who were being persecuted prior to this Council of Nicea were those who were followers of the Essene known as Jesus, or Yeshua, and also there were those who were in other religious groups and not necessarily all of the entities persecuted were followers of the Nazarene known as Yeshua.

word that meant "Divine", and there were many Christos in ancient times. It was not the last name of Yeshua or Jesus, and it was simply a term meaning that the entity was Divine, just as DR. Is used today to designate a person who is highly educated.

The Yashu Christos

This Awareness indicates that Yashu was a term that meant "Neither He Nor She." It was a term referring to a neutral being. This Awareness indicates that Yashu Christos is likened unto saying "Divine Androgyne." This Awareness indicates it was a non-personality term applied to a mythical hero and those of the time projected their own god into this entity. The Krishna's saw this as representing their religion. The Helios saw this as representing the sun, for they were worshipers of the sun, and the 12 Disciples were the 12 signs around the sun. The followers of the Nazarene saw this as representing their Yashu , or their Jesus, and those who followed other personages projected their deity into this symbol known as Yashu Christos.

This Awareness indicates that in the telling of the story, the Christos became the short term for the Roman Religion, and it was said that the Christos followers were in the catacombs. These could be anyone who later became part of the composite in terms of their group, or their cult, or culture.

Anyone who was part of any of the cultures that made up the Christos religion could have had their people in catacombs at one time or another, so that when stories were written hundreds of years later, these stories would refer to their people as having been in the catacombs, hiding in the catacombs and so forth, or being persecuted in the arenas.

This Awareness indicates the writing of history is not necessarily an actual and accurate recording of history. It is all an interpretation, particularly when it is written after the fact, and especially when it is written many years, even generations after the fact.
