CAC Reading 5-16-06 Will Berlinghof Interpreter

QUESTIONER (CARRIE):

This is Cosmic Awareness channeling with Will and Carrie, for May 16, 2006. (The Law of Love is recited)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks that the count of 12 be given again.

(Count of 12 is given)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness greets the energizer tonight and thanks her for her cooperation as always in the process of helping the Interpreter go deep. This Awareness asks at this time for the first question to be asked.

The Nature of Animal Consciousness (Do Wild Animals Appreciate Human Kindness?)

QUESTION:

This is from Judith in New York. JD, in New York. She writes: "I put out food for wild animals. Some of them hover around the hours when I tend to put it out, approach as soon as I appear, and even chase me a bit as I go to set it out. I am curious whether wild animals appreciate, i.e. apprehend the fact, that a human is exercising kindness towards them, or do they just seek food as food. What is the nature of animal consciousness in such a matter?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the consciousness of animals in this matter is that of an interplay between the giver of the food, or the origin of the food, and themselves. The food appears for them, and that is of course their primary concern, but it must be noted and seen that there is indeed, some level of understanding that you, in this case, are the provider of the food for these animals, and that they do indeed appreciate and even comprehend that you are indeed a provider of their welfare. In their own way they do give thanks to you. They do indeed feel the interplay between themselves and yourself.

To American Indians the Animal World is Primary

There is a field of consciousness that is shared between humans and animals. In the teachings of the American Indian peoples, it is seen that the animal world is primary in this world, and that we are part of their world, as they are part of ours. In the Native American teachings, the animals are the receivers of energy, and they understand their role in this matter. They receive energy so that they can reflect it back, give back to us at those times when it is appropriate. They give from a source of unconditional love. Any owner of a pet would of course understand this to be so.

Unconditional Love From Your Dog

Anyone who has ever owned a dog would understand and appreciate the unconditional love that that dog shows towards its owner. An owner of a cat will appreciate those times when a cat would climb onto a lap and start purring. It is recognized that both are medicinal and healing. There is even now that known as animal therapy. Dogs and cats are brought into hospitals now so that the patients may receive from them the gift of this unconditional love. When it is spoken that animals are the receivers, it is not simply that they take our energy, but rather teach us how to receive through their unconditional love, and their unquestioning loyalty.

This is of course in relationship to pets, but such a relationship also exists with the wild creatures, so that when you go out to feed these birds or to give food to the wild critters out there, that they receive the gift and give back to you, in their playfulness and in their showing to you of the appreciation that they hold for you. This is a very important showing, and this Awareness indicates that you should indeed be able to see that there is more happening, that there is an interchange and exchange of awareness and consciousness, of a receiving of your gift of food and the gift given back in their appreciation and their playfulness.

Even if you were not to see the animals when you go and put the food out; that still it would be appreciated. Still it would be understood by the animals themselves that this food is being provided for their welfare, their benefit, and that in their own way, they too will give back, either to the person giving the food, or to another, at some other point. So, JD, it is indeed the case that your kind-hearted actions are received with great thankfulness and joy; that they are consciously perceived as an act of kindness by you, in this case, or by any other human that would give such a gift.

While they do not necessarily show their appreciation as a domesticated animal might, still, it is there, still it is available, if you open up and recognize the joy and happiness with which the gift is being received. This Awareness is complete in this answer.

This Awareness asks for another question please.

How to Enhance One's Healing Ability

QUESTION:

Again, this is from JD in New York. She writes: "I am studying all sorts of healing methods; some of them quite remarkable, and immediate, in which the instructors achieve such results, and assure us we can also. I wonder, whereas my aim is to be the most effective healing vehicle possible, what can I or anyone do to enhance my ability to heal others?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the answer to this question is rather simple. This Awareness indicates that what you can do to make yourself more effective as a healer is to heal from the heart; to heal using unconditional love for that person whom you are working with, whom you are healing, or perhaps that animal who you are healing. Allow unconditional love for that being to be the motivator, to direct the energy from the heart. Get yourself out of the way through any mental process. Indeed, in effect, this Awareness even suggests that the question itself is a mental question and one that would intrude in the healing process.

The greatest healing happens when you allow yourself to be a vehicle for this Awareness, for the spiritual energies that are available for healing. As a conduit of these spiritual energies, you do not need to question how to make yourself a more effective healer. You simply are a more effective healer. You are because you do not question. You are because you allow the energies of great spirit to move through you, to heal through you. You allow the greater energies of those forces that are much greater than you in the physical, to use you as a vehicle through which healing can occur. Your addition to this process is to simply open your heart to add your own unconditional love to the process of healing.

Just Be an Effective Healer—Don't Think About It!

Get out of the mental state of questioning how to become an effective healer. In some ways of course, this Mission Not Accomplished Yet?

"More fighting and sacrifice will be required."

— G. W. Bush

is a paradox to the question being asked, because one does not need to think about how to be an effective healer, one simply must be an effective healer.

Healing Doesn't Always Mean "Recovery"

There is also in this question a consideration of what healing might look like to the person or creature receiving the healing. Healing does not always mean 'recovery' or a return to good health. Healing can happen on other layers and levels of the individual's being. Healing can sometimes even mean a release from the physical as the individual is ready to return back into the spirit realm, is ready to return back to spirit, and the healer's gift might well be the allowance of this happening, to give the strength needed to that individual who wishes to cross over so that they can indeed do so.

At all times a healer must not judge the outcome. The healer must let go of any attachment to an outcome. By allowing him or herself to be a conduit for those higher energies that would work through him or her, there is a critical need not to be judgmental, not to need a certain outcome. When this is achieved: this detachment from the healing process, the allowance of the healing energies of spirit to flow through the individual and the giving of unconditional love to the person receiving the healing, or that creature perhaps receiving the healing, then the individual becomes an effective healer. When the healer thinks too much, this process often interferes with the purity of the healing process, and this is not acceptable if one wishes to truly be a healer from the level of spirit.

It is interesting indeed that this individual JD from New York has tried several approaches, thinking to become the effective healer that she already is. This Awareness says to JD that the approach that most speaks to your heart, that gives you the greatest sense and feeling of the healing energy that is contained in any one approach; that which speaks to your heart is the approach that would be most beneficial to use for you. There are many approaches and ways to heal: Reiki, Hands On Healing, Touch for Health are but a few of those many approaches. But the one that has the most effectiveness for you would be the one that sings in your heart; the one that lifts you up every time you use the technique, and in the end there may even be several techniques that you combine in your approach to healing.

As long as you understand that you are the vehicle of spirit and you take yourself out of the equation, that you detach from the outcome of healing; then and only then will you truly be an effective healer and an agent for spirit. This Awareness is complete, and asks if there are any other questions from JD in New York.

CARRIE:

No. That was her final question.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness thanks JD and wishes her great success as a healer. This Awareness wishes her great success for the healer she truly is, and is well-pleased that she has found this important expression of her abilities in this lifetime. Are there any other questions for this Awareness as this time?

Paul Shockley's Passing Over Into Spirit

(Does Awareness Have Any Information About this Event?)

QUESTION:

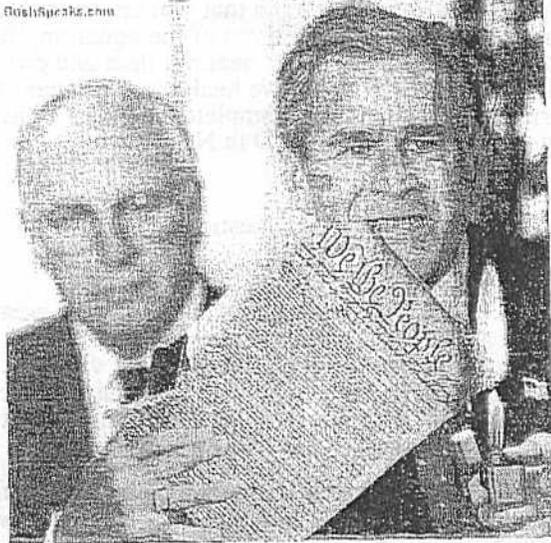

Does Awareness have any information about Paul Shockley's passing?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indeed has information for that beloved soul known as Paul Shockley in this lifetime. He has indeed joined the ranks once again of the spiritual legions of souls whose task it has been to bring enlightenment and awareness onto the physical plane, onto the earthly plane. This Awareness rejoices that this beloved soul has returned back into the folds of the blessed and beloved ones. This man's active service has been great indeed. This Awareness has often spoken that when a soul passes over and stands there in front of the grand council of spiritual elders, of those who review the entity's lifetime; that when you stand in front of your High Self, in front of the Spiritual Source, there will be one question asked: "How many did you serve and how well?"

This beloved soul has served many, has served thousands, but more than this; that the channelings of this Awareness through the entity Paul Shockley have affected the very fabric of human consciousness, have turned the tide on many occasions during those troubled times. During the times of the Gathering Storm, this spiritual warrior spoke from the depths of the soul. His voice was a strong and true voice for this Awareness. By allowing himself to be the Interpreter and the channeler of this Awareness, he allowed the spiritual force and potency of this Awareness to enter into human consciousness, to enter into to the human plane of existence, of mind. In allowing this to be so, he often put himself into situations of danger and risk, but that he did this gladly, without hesitation or even thought.

There was of course protection for him, and for those others of the organization Cosmic Awareness Communications. It was still always an act of courage and bravery to speak the truth in the darkest of times, to be a beacon of this Awareness, a beacon of Light, a strong Light Force, drawing to it many who were seeking the Light in the darkness. In his service to this Awareness, the entity Paul Shockley was of service to the many, was of service to humanity at the most profound level. With his passing, a great Light has gone out, a great Light that may not always have been seen in a physical way or recognized by those around him, for such was his strength and such was his power that he was indeed a beacon that blazed brightly, but a beacon hidden under a bushel, under a basket, that was not often recognized or seen, for he did not always wish to be seen.

Often, an individual's achievement is not simply on a physical level, or in a physical manner. Many would never ever have heard of this individual, this beacon, this powerhouse of Awareness, this Voice of Awareness. Most will go to bed tonight, oblivious and unaware that this Avatar has walked on this planet, because this was not an Avatar who sought mass-fame or fortune. This was a simple man, a man with his flaws and his foibles and his failings, but that would only be on the surface. That would only be on the level of his humanness. There was much more to this man Paul Shockley. He was an Avatar, indeed. He came into the physical existence knowing that in many ways he would always be unrecognized and unknown, but that this suited his purpose. This too was part of a larger and deeper plan, for he did not wish notoriety or fame. He simply wished to be the Voice of Awareness, and this he has done. And this he did admirably.

Much More to Paul Shockley Than Met the Eye

It is seen that beyond the level of physical perception, of human recognition of this man in the physical, in the third dimension, was another part of his being, another aspect of that man known as Paul Shockley. It is seen that all that was perceived of this man was but the tip of an iceberg. Only a small percentage of that man known as Paul Shockley could actually be seen on the surface, and there was indeed much much more to him, hidden below the surface, hidden below the waves of consciousness. He reached high indeed, and far and deep and beyond that which most people could perceive or ever begin to understand or comprehend.

His greatness was not simply in this physical life he existed in and suffered through, especially in the latter stages, but in the world beyond consciousness. It was because of this great power, this great capacity, that he could be a great voice for this Awareness, especially in the Dark Times, and that his return back into the spiritual essence is indeed being celebrated. The man Paul Shockley is not at all the fullest expression of the soul of which he is and was that physical expression. That soul essence, his soul fabric is great indeed, is that part of the iceberg that is much greater than what is shown on the surface. It is this that is once again visible to us and is that which will now go on to do the work from the other side.

His Passing Was Like a Supernova in Consciousness

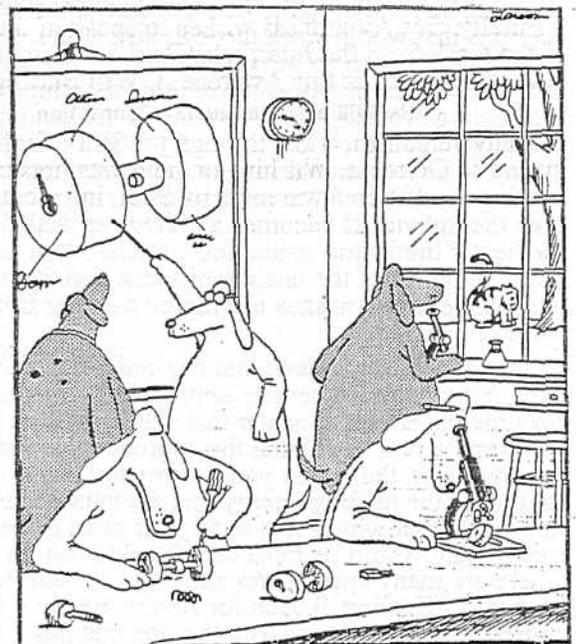

This entity indeed will continue his work to bring enlightenment to mankind, to help elevate the human condition, to help those who seek the light, attain the light. In fact, his passing was like the bright explosion of a super nova in the fabric of human consciousness. This event is monumental indeed. It was not without plan or design that Paul Shockley chose to endure the last few years of his life in suffering, in deprivation of physical condition. His physical condition suffered during the latter stage of his life, but he hung on for he understood the timing of his passing to be essential. This was the last guidance received at that unconscious level of his own being that drove him to cling to life over these last few years, and he has indeed reached that moment, that point, that time, where his passing will have a marked effect; that explosion into the human consciousness that is indeed happening, even at this time.

Awareness Asks the Membership to Meditate on this Event

It is seen as a monumental event, and this Awareness asks the membership to meditate on this event, on this occasion, to open up to the addition to the human consciousness of that energy which was this great Avatar, which was this great Light which has been added to the human condition, especially in these times of deepening darkness and crisis. The gift this man has given in his final act is one that will touch many beings, that will open the doors to many who are seeking, who have never even heard of Paul Shockley, and yet, this Avatar, this great being, in his dying act, will make it possible for those many who are seeking the Light, who are seeking the Highest, who are seeking indeed, this Awareness, to have their eyes directed in a new direction, to see with those new eyes, to feel with the new heart, the new energies that are being made available at this time by this entity.

These many who have waited for an event to open their eyes, indeed are having them opened at this time. This goes beyond the friend, the ally, the mentor, the person of Paul Shockley, and this is indeed, an expression of that great Avatar, of that great being who came into the physical form to do the Great Work, to be of service to the many. The latter part of the question of: "How many have you served?" asks "And how well?" This Awareness says that this entity Paul Shockley served very well indeed. This Awareness is pleased and welcomes this beloved one back into the fabric of everything that is.

Knowing how it could change the lives of canines everywhere, the dog scientists struggled diligently to understand the Doorknob Principle.

A Simple Exercise to Help in The Passing Over

This Awareness asks the membership at this time to meditate on the passage of this Avatar. Those who have been given the instructions in the past, the Tibetan rites of passage in the Book of the Dead, use those teachings if they are familiar to them, but for those who have never read this book, or are no longer aware of those teachings, this Awareness has a far simpler suggestion. Over the next several weeks, the next 42 days, that when inclined, the members take a moment or two; simply take 3 deep breaths. With the first breath, feel the breath being centered in the belly, feeling the energy expanding in the belly until the next in-breath. Breathing in deeply once again into the belly with the second breath, feeling the energies collecting. Then, with the third breath, collecting yet again the energy of the breath, combining it with the energies already collected.

A symbolic gesture of taking the energy, visualizing it perhaps as a ball held in the palms of the hands, is taken from that central area of the body, from the belly, lifted on high, and with the exhalation of the third breath, this ball of mana, this ball of energy be released to spirit with the intention that this energy be taken by the individual's High Self for the express purpose of helping the entity Paul Shockley complete the journey home. On the one level, this great being, this great Avatar is already home, but there are other aspects of his being that are also journeying back, and it is for the complete and total return of all the soul fragments, all the soul aspects, that this ceremony is being requested of the membership; this three breath ceremony; this passing of mana to aid the crossing-over process of that being known as Paul Shockley. This will be a powerful act on the parts of any and all individuals who would choose to do this over the next several weeks, over that period of time, that 42 days of the crossing.

It does not need be done every day, but when one thinks of this, it would only take a few minutes to accomplish this ceremony, this act of gratitude for this Avatar who gave so much of himself in this life to be of service to the many, to be of service to humanity. This Awareness thanks the membership for their actions and for their expression of gratitude to Paul Shockley.

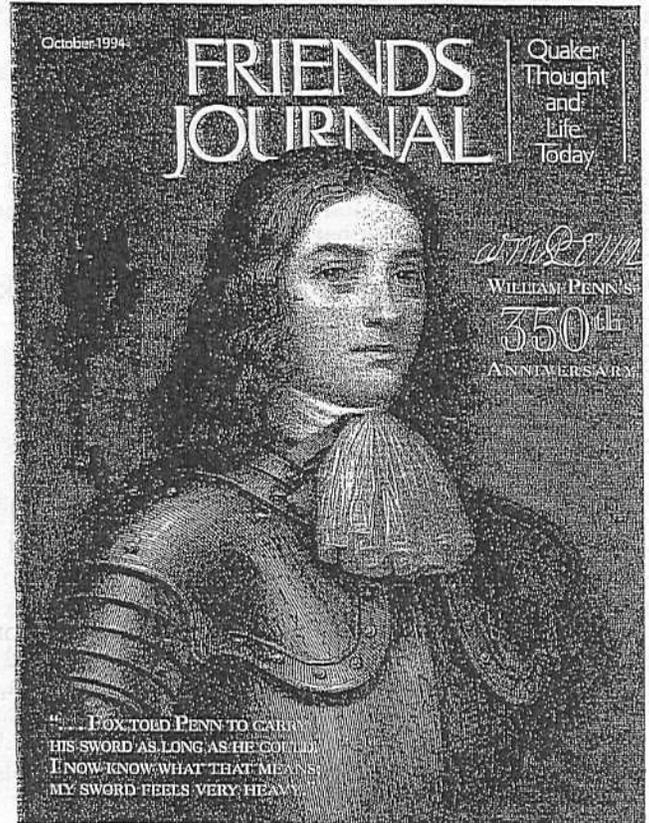

The Passing of the Torch to the New Interpreter

Finally, this Awareness wishes to speak of the passing of the torch from the Interpreter Paul Shockley to the new Interpreter for this Awareness, Will Berlinghof.

The William Penn Quaker Connection

Many years ago, when the entity Will Berlinghof visited in Olympia, Washington, and was present for a channeling of this Awareness by Paul, information was given of the past life connection between Paul Shockley and Will Berlinghof. It was seen that Will Berlinghof was the father of Paul Shockley in a previous incarnation, in a previous past life. In that life, Will Berlinghof was Sir Admiral William Penn Sr. He was the father of William Penn Jr., the great Quaker humanitarian teacher evangelist, and indeed, William Penn was the entity in this lifetime known as Paul Shockley. The entity Will Berlinghof had a deep sense of this connection to Paul Shockley and once gifted him with a souvenir tea towel he obtained in Wells, England, at a locale where William Penn once preached to two thousand of the faithful. Will was driven to buy something to send to Paul via Vikki and Avaton, who were visiting at that time, to commemorate the event, and to pass on to Paul a gift from him, even though he had never met Paul at that time.

He wished to send something to Paul, a token of his past life connection. It was several years later when William was visiting in Olympia, Washington, and finally met Paul that the information was given by this Awareness of this past-life connection, where William had been the father to Paul in that life. It was largely in that life because of William Penn Sr.'s sacrifice in giving to his son the freedom and the birthright of being a Penn, of being someone of background, that enabled William Penn Jr., to do what he did to travel the path he traveled. This Avatar at that time, Paul Shockley, being the entity known as William Penn, went on to establish the colony in Pennsylvania that was the model for freedom and religious purity that the world now remembers. It was indeed William Penn Sr., in his connection to Charles I and Charles II that made this event possible at that time.

A favor was owed to the father that was later bestowed on the son; that favor being a tract of land in the New World that was given to William Penn Jr., to be used to form a colony of Quakers in the New World, and that state was named Pennsylvania, not in honor of William Penn Jr., but indeed, of Sir William Penn Sr., the friend of those royals who owed much to him. In many ways, it was the senior who passed the torch on to the junior, in that lifetime, who allowed the son to become greater than the father, who took a secondary role, a slight role, and yet who gave so much. The roles have been reversed this time. Although there is no blood connection between the two in this life, it is Paul who is now passing on the torch to William, to Will, and it is Will's role now to take on this torch given from this great Avatar, and to walk further with it, to bring the light of that torch to a new audience, a new collective of seekers that are opening their eyes, thanks largely to the final gift given by Paul in his timely passing.

In this moment of supreme darkness on this planet, his passing is seen as a super nova event, exploding in the darkness and bringing light, and it is seen that the torch has been lit by this super nova and has been passed on. This present Interpreter is just at the beginning of this path. This present Interpreter has much to be thankful for, for the efforts of Paul and for his sacrifice, and that this present Interpreter often wonders if he can ever fill the huge shoes that Paul Shockley has left. This Awareness suggests that it is not necessary for Will to fit Paul's big shoes, but rather, to wear his own and understand and know that he too is being of service, and that he too is serving well and is serving the many.

Paul Shockley Continues His Work On the Other Side

This Awareness, in conclusion, says that it is all right to grieve, and indicates that those many who have been touched by this great Avatar will feel the sadness in their hearts at his passing, but that it is also important to rejoice at the accomplishments of this man, of this Avatar, to understand that he indeed continues the work on the other side, that he indeed is not done or finished in his efforts to shed light and awareness into the consciousness of humanity, to awaken those many who are still asleep and to assist in the dawning of a bright new age. It was his intent to cross over before the completion of this cycle, before 2012 and the ending of the old so that he could be there on the other side, assisting and helping and showing the way forward, and he, or that greater consciousness that is the greater expression of the entity that was known as Paul Shockley is very much alive, and is working hard already, even as the various fragments of his soul come together in completion of the entire soul that is Paul Shockley, that is part of the greater soul that can loosely be talked about or expressed as the entity once known as Paul Shockley.

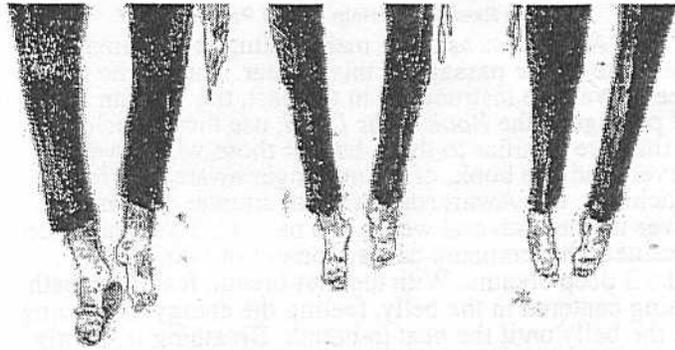

That Awareness finds it amusing to try to explain this for It sees this so clearly, this great soul, this complete soul coming together once again, and yet, it cannot really be defined by the name Paul Shockley, because that was just a fragment of the person, of the whole being rather, who existed in the physical. This Awareness rejoices at the coming together of this Avatar back in spirit. In conclusion, this Awareness asks again that the members rejoice the life of the entity known as Paul Shockley, and know that his work was great, and continues even now on the other side.

This Awareness is complete at this time, and is complete for this session, and asks that the Interpreter be brought out of this state of trance.

More on Paul Shockley

This Awareness has an opening message, a message again regarding the entity Paul Shockley. This Awareness wishes the membership to understand that even though the instructions given to energize the entity Paul Shockley in his total integration back into the spirit being, the spirit body, may be too late in terms of the 42 day period of the crossing, to be of effect. Still, this Awareness wishes the membership to use the technique described in the last channeling. It is a procedure that is not only designed to assist the entity in his crossing, but to send energy to this spiritual being, so that it may be energized to do the spiritual work that he is now doing on the other side.

It is perhaps wrong to describe him in a personal way, using the pronoun "he" to describe him, when the entity formerly known as Paul Shockley has indeed returned back into his spiritual being, his soul body, and is more than the person known on this planet during the time of his life as Paul Shockley. This Awareness originally gave the information of energizing his passage back to the Godhead, the God Force, back to his spiritual home, as a process of using the three breaths, collecting energy or mana on the three breaths and sending it to Paul Shockley as he crossed over, as a way of helping all of the soul fragments come together, but this same procedure may still be used after the 42 days to help energize this great soul, to lend energy to the cosmic bank account, that he may draw on to assist in his work from the other side; his work of helping in these very interesting times, in these transitional times.

Even though he has returned to the greater fabric of his soul being, there is certainly that aspect of the entity known as Paul Shockley formerly, that still exists, that still has a desire to assist humanity in these interesting times. This Awareness suggests that even though the 42 day period may have passed since his crossing over, that any of the membership who wish to send energy, to send mana to that being known as Paul Shockley, do so. This will be of benefit and assistance in helping bring energy into this earthly plane, to assist the transitional period, the energies needed at this time of transition, as mankind itself is transiting from one state of consciousness to another, to the next level, so to speak.

You Can Send Energy to Your High Self at Any Time

It is important for the membership to realize that they can indeed send energy at any time to their High Self, or in this case, to an entity such as Paul Shockley, who is on the other side doing service and being of service at this time. This Awareness thanks the membership for their attention to this matter and for the sending of energies to the entity Paul Shockley, who is, as has been said, active already once again on the other side, in his work, in helping mankind and womankind cross over. This Awareness is complete with the opening message and asks that questions be posted at this time.

Parents' Corner

William Penn, George Fox, and Violent Play: Lessons for Quaker Parents?

by Harriet Heath

We hear our children playing in the yard or on the playground, "Bang! Bang! You're dead."

We Quaker parents shudder. Should we stop such play? Can we? If we do stop the game, will our children become less violent in their play or will the violent kind of play become more fascinating in their eyes?

How do we rear nonviolent children in a violent society?

George Fox speaks to these questions when he said to William Penn, "Wear your sword as long as you can."

The relevancy to parents of this oft quoted advice is too frequently missed. First, by not telling William Penn to stop wearing the sword, Fox illustrates the depth of his belief in the Inner Light in every person. Do we as parents have equal faith in the Inner Light in the adults our children are becoming? We speak of rearing nonviolent children and presumably adults. What does that say about our belief in the Inner Light in them?

Fox's direction to Penn forces me to realize I cannot decide whether or not my child will follow the peace testimony. Believing in the Inner Light in each of them, I must trust that each of my children, with thought, inner guidance, and over time, will come to their positions, as I did, on issues related to violence. Thus they will eventually decide whether or not to be a pacifist, whether or not violent criminals should be executed, or abortion be a choice, or a police force be part of our community, country, or world. These decisions are part of the process as they evolve into who they will be and what they want to stand for, a process that extends well into adolescence and may go on through life, as it did for Penn. In deciding, they must follow the Light within and I must have faith in that process.

Secondly, Fox's comment, though it left Penn to wrestle over the decision of whether or not to wear his sword, was made with Penn well aware of the beliefs of Fox and the other Quakers. Fox had no hesitation in putting forth his opinions about the implications of his belief in the Inner Light in every person, and, therefore, how others should be treated. Penn knew these well. Recognizing that Penn had knowledge as he wrestled with his choice is important for parents and other adults working with children. Do we make clear to our children why we take the positions that we do? Do we give them opportunities to learn alternative methods of resolving conflict, and provide experiences that are imaginative and exciting, as well as nonviolent?

While as a parent I must have faith in my children's ability to follow the leadings of their heart, Fox's example implies that my role also includes making sure they are prepared to be open to those leadings. To be open they need to be well acquainted with the issues involved, such as why Quakers look for alternatives to violence. They need to know what guns and war do, what death is, and what it means to be hurt. They need to know there are alternative methods of dealing with conflict, to be skillful in using them, and to experience their effectiveness. This information only comes with time.

So when children shout "Bang! Bang! You're dead," our role is not to ignore the game or to permit it, but something in between. It means sharing our beliefs and understandings without commanding they be followed. It means helping children master ways of resolving conflict, and develop skills of relating with others without expecting they will be followed.

For parents, recognizing their children's need for information and skills leaves a wide range of uncertainty about what they need to know and when they need to know it. Part of the uncertainty comes from the kinds of environments in which they are having to raise their children. One parent told of the number of guns in their rural community. This family showed their children guns, how they work, safe practices when handling them, and had the older children shoot a rifle at a target.

The uniqueness of each child contributes to parents' uncertainty. Four-year-old Sammy comes to mind. His mother described how from infancy anything remotely adaptable became a weapon, and of course his thumb and finger were always available. His parents forbade any kind of war toys, but Sammy always found substitutes. A preschool teacher and member of the discussion group responded by telling how she had come to see some children's play as their way of reflecting on issues. She finds these children need to act out issues in their process of coming to terms with them. She went on to describe the kinds of limits she set on such play, for example where (outside) and when (during recess) it occurred, and who (only those wanting to) was to be involved. She always has alternative games available, and leads ongoing discussions with the children about the disadvantages of using violent methods for resolving conflict. This teacher was allowing violent types of play within a context of limits, discussion, and the teaching of alternatives.

Another child might not need to act out the games to come to terms with violence.

Developmentally, there are three basic phases to children's growing understanding and mastery. The first, from infancy to five, includes learning in the concrete world of doing, and experiencing that people and things can be hurt, but also soothed and comforted. Young children do not need to know all the horrible things that can happen in war. As they learn to get along with playmates and siblings, young children experience enough conflict and violence in their everyday lives to build an understanding and develop skills, if adults are there to guide them.

From around six until eleven or twelve is a good period to expand children's understanding about how the wider world works. Children this age are better able to grasp factual information through words, though for this age group experiential learning continues to be important. These children are increasingly able to independently use problem solving and mediation skills if given the opportunity. They also accept alternative games that demand cooperation rather than competition, or a flight of the imagination into space rather than warring on the bad guys.

The adolescent, able to think abstractly, can now discuss the pros and cons of different ways of resolving conflict. Having knowledge and experience gained from the earlier phases places adolescents in a better position to search for their leadings. Much of this searching includes wanting to experience what the Society of Friends offers. It also involves wanting to discuss issues, movies, and current events. Parents and adults who have built a relationship with their young people that encourages the exploring of issues and values will find their children looking for opportunities to talk with them.

And so as we think of William Penn and the challenge George Fox put to him, I wonder if we as parents dare have the same faith in the Inner Light in our children as they grow into adulthood as Fox had in Penn? And I wonder if we are ready to guide them to be prepared for leadings that are to come? □

How Many People Worldwide Are Involved in Satanism and Satanic Child Abuse?

QUESTION:

A question from Chris Largent. "On a darker note, (he writes) I received a manuscript from a courageous therapist who specializes in Satanic cult abuse cases. Her name is Wendy Hoffman and her practice is in New York. She is a recovering victim herself, I think. This raised for me many questions." (He's got about 7 questions here. I'll ask the first question, otherwise I can ask them all if Awareness requests, and go back).

"How many people are involved in this in the United States and world-wide? Wendy writes that Syria and France are the countries of greatest concentration."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is indeed far more prevalent throughout the world than entities would even begin to imagine. This Awareness indicates this in regard not only to Satanic child-abuse but to other forms of Satanism, including its various rituals of murder. This Awareness indicates that France is seen as one of the areas that is heavily saturated with this, that the United States is also very much involved in this kind of practice, with many people in high places being part of the Satanic order and in political orders.

Russell Family Heavily Into Satanism (They Founded the Jehovah's Witness Movement)

This Awareness indicates that even many of the churches are founded on certain of the principles and by certain Satanic practitioners. This Awareness indicates as has been stated before, the Russell family, which started or played an important and very significant role in the origin of the Jehovah's Witness movement, was deep in Satanism, received funding from CIA-type sources.

This Awareness indicates that the funding not from the CIA, but from Free Masonry, from certain Masonic and Illuminati sources. This Awareness indicates that this is not made known to entities in the general practice of (the) Jehovah's Witness religion, but can be documented. This Awareness indicates that there is information from a source in Portland that the Interpreter can research to supply documentation for this information and this can be provided for this reading. This Awareness indicates that this should be done before the reading is sent out.

This Awareness indicates that there is also a connection in terms of Satanism with other churches and with many of the government forces or the various governments throughout the world. It is linked also with many of the child-abuse activities that are found in various Third World countries. This Awareness suggests the Interpreter present this information to the editor before this material is made available to the membership so that the entities can research this further if they wish.*

*Ed's Note: Fritz Springmeier has been called the world's most informed authority on the Illuminati. His 624 page book "Bloodlines of the Illuminati" is still available at Amazon.com/books. Another of his books, Be Wise As Serpents exposed The Watchtower Society and Jehovah's Witness founders as heavily into Satanism and Satanic ritual abuse in many states including Arizona, New Mexico, Florida, Georgia, California, New York and Virginia. Springmeier's research found these entities were also involved in Monarch Mind Control and much of this information was released in his Christian-oriented newsletters, A Newsletter From a Follower of Christ which exposed this and all the other programs of the Illuminati and the New World Order. As editor I managed to get hold of some of his back issues (Fritz did not advertise or allow just anyone to subscribe, he personally picked certain entities to send his newsletter to, entities in positions to do something with the dynamite information he was putting out.

After reading his newsletters I knew it was just a matter of time before they came after him; this was a very dangerous entity exposing highly classified and damning information on Satanic involvement by prominent people as well as the Illuminati families; he put out information on the Bohemian Grove and the politicians who observed and participated in Satanic rituals and human sacrifice etc. His exposure of the Monarch Mind Control program and testimony of Sisco Wheeler, a mind-controlled slave like Cathy O'Brien, was probably too much for the Illuminati. Starting with a trumped-up marijuana charge, Fritz was indicted and authorities claimed he was a member of the Army of God militia and was involved in a bank robbery to fund certain arms and provisions. A Portland newspaper, The Oregonian, went on a smear campaign and Tony Huntington the entity who actually robbed the bank, lied on the witness stand and named Springmeier as his accomplice. He was found guilty and today is in a federal prison; the voice of the world's foremost authority on the Illuminati and the agenda of the New World Order has been stifled. He is allowed to write and letters can reach him at: Fritz Springmeier 65941-065, Federal Correctional Institute, 37910 N 45th Ave. Phoenix, AZ 85086.

The Satanic Hierarchy of Evil

FOLLOW-UP (IBID): QUESTION 2

"Are they trying to take over the world, having divided it into 13 "countries?" "

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. That these 13 regions as being considered as their version of the New World order. The Nazi movement as that which has its own version of the New World Order, and these entities also have their version.

This Awareness indicates that the Nazi movement as that which has considerable power in its effort to present its New World Order. It has assistance from various groups, including the CIA and to some extent, including even the Vatican, and to quite an extent, including the Rockefeller empire, or what is left of it.

This Awareness indicates that these entities are bad enough for the normal person to deal with or to consider having to deal with because their agenda is not that which would be desirable to the average decent person. Part of the agenda being of course to wipe out certain races and classes of people.

How the Greys and Reptoids Relate to Satanism

This Awareness indicates however, these entities are weak in comparison to the organization of the Satanic movement and the extent of their power throughout the world. These Satanic energies and the organization involved also have the backing of the aliens. In fact, you may consider the Greys asimps and demons; the Reptoids as being the Asuras which are spoken of by Rudolf Steiner as Satan's right hand men, or henchmen; the hierarchy of evil, whereby these Reptoids are part of this whole system.

This Awareness indicates that there are many in the world who know of these hierarchy systems and support them through the Satanic hierarchy. This Awareness indicates that they are organized in such a way that coercively they keep each other in line and keep political control over their own kind. They are far more powerful in reality than are the Nazis.

This Awareness indicates that It will suggest to the Interpreter that through certain sources or resources he find the list and names of many of these in the Satanic hierarchy to present for this reading, as a kind of footnote to accompany this message. This Awareness indicates that as powerful as these forces are, this in reference to the Satanic hierarchy and the Nazi movement, they still do not have the power to maintain absolute rulership of earth.

In part, they think they have greater power than the Forces of Light, of spiritual energy and Divine nature, but they simply do not see a certain level of reality; this having to do with the new frequencies and new vibrations that are ascending upon earth (sic) and which will cut short their efforts at absolute control.

This Awareness indicates that they may gain some power for some time. It will be brief. It will be short-lived, and the higher frequencies and vibrations will begin to have their effect. In actuality, these negative forces will serve as a tool to drive entities toward divinity, even while those negative forces seek to capture entities and drag them into the darker areas.

Are They Involved With the Mafia?

"Are they involved with the Mafia?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates they are involved with every aspect of negativity, where ever it may be. They are also involved with Nazism. It is just that the Nazis don't yet realize how weak they are in comparison to the Satanic forces. The Satanic forces are much better hidden. This Awareness indicates that the entity Rudolf Steiner referred to these forces as the forces of Ahriman, and it is this force that is now the stronger force behind negativity on this plane.

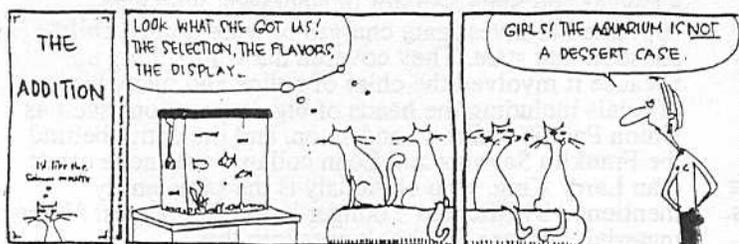

Rhyee, or Lucifer has been defused in the past, having lost most of the Luciferian effects and power, leaving Ahriman to be the stronger force for negativity. Ahriman being the same as Satan.

Have Satanists Penetrated the Professions?

"Have Satanists penetrated the judicial, legal, teaching and acting professions in large numbers?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative.

Are Demons and Devils Conjured Up From Collective Consciousness?

(More on Goblins and Trolls)

IBID (QUESTION)

Awareness answered this. I'll read his question here. It might bring forth more. "Are the aliens behind Satanism? Are they the ones who supply the demons and devils, or are these latter conjured up from collective consciousness?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates these Greys are the prototypes or models after which the legends of demons have been told. The Greys also have been the source or origin of legends regarding trolls and other negative creatures. This Awareness indicates there are many various names for these creatures in different cultures and from different countries; that the creatures have been called many things. In the European versions they were the so-called demons, in certain British Isles they were referred to as trolls.

Satanic Creatures Responsible for the Black Plague

There are also legends in areas of Germany referring to these little Grey creatures that come up from underground. This Awareness indicates that the names are not seen at this time, for all of these various cultures but they are essentially the same. This Awareness indicates that these entities also were to a great degree responsible for the black plague.

There were many sightings of these types of creatures just prior to the outbreak of the black plague and in various areas and cities, in fact, there are stories or legends or writings relating to certain cities who knew the black plague would come upon them because people had seen these creatures outside the city and therefore, they realized that these were the cause of the black plague and prepared and warned everyone that it was coming.

How Did Satanism Begin?

IBID) QUESTION #6:

If aliens didn't start Satanism, how did it start?" Did Awareness answer that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the aliens began the promotion of religion through the early secret societies of priests in Ur and Sumer, as described in the Sitchin books, and these priests carried certain information to the masses down through the ages, and the culture that promoted duality, the Zoroastrians, who came up with the idea of negative and positive deities, could be said to be responsible for the creation of Satan.

The Negative Energies Zamiel and Ormazd

The Persians, the Zoroastrians, called this negative energy Zamiel (Paul's spelling) and the positive deity was named Ormazd. This Awareness indicates that Ormazd became the Zoroastrian version of Light or Divinity, and Zamiel became the Zoroastrian version of darkness or negativity. This Awareness indicates that these extremes became further polarized in the Hebrew adaptation of the doctrines or teachings from the Zoroastrians when the Hebrews renamed the Light Being Yahweh and the Dark Being, the negative deity Satan or Samael, or by other names.

The Old Testament Concept of the Devil (Pan)

This Awareness indicates that the concept of the devil that is presented in the Old Testament as having hooves, tail and horns, as that which the Hebrews stole from the Greek God Pan who was half-goat and half-man. Pan simply was a symbol for the Greeks of Universal Creator. It was from this word Pan that panoramic comes about. It simply means far beyond the immediate. It refers to ever-expansion

This Awareness indicates that Pan to the Greeks meant universal or a Universal Deity that spread throughout the universe, much as this Awareness describes Universal Consciousness, but the symbol being that of a goat, was adopted by the Hebrews and early Christians to represent Satan, the negative force that had been taken from the early Persians of the Zoroastrian religion.

This Awareness indicates that in other words, the Hebrews borrowed many if not most of their ideas in regard to religion, from earlier writings of other cultures. This Awareness indicates that the Zoroastrian books cover this somewhat. There are also other books that have researched this information: Myths And Deceptions In the Bible is one such book. This Awareness suggests that entities may find other similar books.

Hebrew Plagiarism in the Old Testament

The editor perhaps knows of other books that go into this concept of Hebrew plagiarism, wherein the Old Testament takes information from various other religious writings of various cultures and countries and adapts it to the teachings of the Hebrew cosmology and religious writings of the time.

This Awareness indicates that the adaptation of the story of Noah and of many of the other famous stories can be found in earlier writings. That the entity Sitchin covers some of this, wherein the previous stories' origins are taken at times almost word for word and inserted into Hebrew writings found in the Old Testament, but which have been also found in excavation of earlier civilizations, carved in stone, hundreds and thousands of years prior to the Hebrew stories.

Aliens in the Cradle of Civilization: Baghdad and Iraq

This Awareness indicates that the question relating to how Satanism began suggests that these adaptations from various earlier writings are part of the outcome of alien influence on humanity's secret societies and priestcraft, particularly through the secret schools, the secret orders that have come down from antiquity, particularly from Sumer and Ur, in that which later became the "cradle of civilization" between the Tigris and Euphrates river, in which is currently known as Baghdad and Iraq, and Iran to some extent, that which is the old origin or Persia, the land that was once Persia. This also includes Syria.

That entire area as having been part of the earlier domain of extraterrestrial aliens on this plane, as described in the Sitchin chronicles.

Where Can a Book on Satanism Get Published?

(IBID) QUESTION:

Chris Largent's last question: "Though I know Awareness can't give this kind of individual advice: telling Wendy where she might get the manuscript published, but I'm trying to help her locate a publisher. Is there any general advice? There have only been a few books on this, and Awareness earlier said this needed to get out. Is her book part of an important expose?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that your best opportunity for publishing this kind of material would be through Fundamentalist Christian publications. That you may wish to contact some of the Christian bookstores and find which publishers seem to be of a large enough publication to be worth your effort to contact. That by sending this information to a good strong healthy and financially sound Christian publisher, there is a great probability of the book being printed, and many sales resulting therefrom.

This Awareness indicates that you may wish in the contract to reserve the right to resell, if a certain number of books are not printed and published on a timely basis. That you may wish to reserve the right to have a performance clause on the publisher so that if the publisher does not perform to your satisfaction, you can have an escape clause to allow you to find a different publisher in the future.

Is the Queen of England and the Royal Family Involved in the Satanic Movement?

QUESTION (WILL BERLINGHOF—A GUEST AT THIS READING)

Awareness, this may or may not be appropriate. Is the Queen of England and the royal family somehow involved in the Satanic movement?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the Rothschilds are up to their eyebrows in this kind of energy, and the Rothschilds and the Queen of England work hand in glove in regard to financial matters, and therefore, there is seen a connection. This Awareness does not wish to name individuals and describe their specific involvement in these energies. As public figures, there is some right to know by the public, and therefore, as symbols of society, there is some right to divulge, to give information, but this Awareness indicates It does not wish to dwell or divulge personal information about entities.

This Awareness indicates the Interpreter may find information of a personal nature on individuals to pass on to the editor and they can determine whether they themselves wish to divulge such information. This Awareness does not care to do so, and this Awareness would suggest caution and some professionalism in regard to this kind of action.*

*The Queen and the entire royal family engage in Satanic rituals where human sacrifice occurs. Please refer to the books of David Icke such as The Biggest Secret or visit his web site <www.davidicke.com>

Is the Book "The Franklin Cover-Up" True?

QUESTION (AVATON):

I've been reading a book called The Franklin Cover-up: Child-Abuse, Satanism and Murder in Nebraska, by a lawyer and State Senator in Nebraska, who was appointed to investigate charges of wide-spread child-abuse in that state. They covered the whole thing up because it involved the chief of police and many high officials including the heads of big corporations such as Union Pacific Railroad and so on, and the entity behind the Franklin Savings and Loan collapse was none other than Larry King, who obviously is the same entity mentioned by Michael Younger in the Hot August Night material, because this book goes into this.

He's a very well-known homosexual who rose to power, high in the Republican party, and supplies children all across the nation for these wealthy child-abusers and jaded homosexuals and so forth. The children involved, who told their stories were railroaded, and accused of perjury and were sent to prison, and this lawyer who defended them, wrote this book because he said the story had to get out; that they were absolutely innocent, their stories were true. They had no reason to make it up.

I'd like to ask Awareness if the general information in this book is valid?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates it is completely valid and fails to cover the depth of the problem, having only scratched the surface. This Awareness indicates that as indicated previously, these children who have disappeared over the years, a great number of these entities whose faces appeared on milk cartons, have been such victims.

The corporations, as described by Michael Younger in the Hot August Night information and by this Awareness in previous readings, and the Nazi movement and other Satanic activities have a kind of standing joke whereby they refer to these children that they have abducted as the "Milk Carton kids" because their stories have been placed on milk cartons by parents who seek to find them after they have disappeared.

This Awareness indicates that there are many who have not been placed on milk cartons or whose faces have not been presented in posters. There are many organizations devoted to trying to find children who have disappeared. Many of these have simply disappeared and never been seen again. This Awareness indicates that in the United States there has been some effort by many to find these children.

In other parts of the world, many of the people losing children have no place to go, to put forth an effort to find their child. The children disappear, the parents may speak to the police, but nothing further occurs. Without money, without influence, they cannot get any action, even if the police are sincerely seeking to find the children. In some cases, the police are part of the network and they simply cover up the problem.

This Awareness indicates of course also there are the entities who use many of these children for body parts, selling these body parts to hospitals and surgeons around the world, for transplant purposes. This has been discussed elsewhere. This Awareness indicates there are also those sex rings whereby old men with lots of money buy a child, have sex with it, and then dispose of the body. This Awareness indicates that this is more common than entities would like to believe.

This Awareness indicates there are also certain sports organizations whereby men are invited to certain parts of the world to hunt and their game happens to be juveniles and they set them running through the forest and the men, as hunters, rush through the forest trying to find them, to shoot them. It is seen as the ultimate sport by some of these entities, and there are big bucks made in this regard by certain of these places that sponsor such sports.

This Awareness indicates that most of this kind of activity is found in South American countries and to a lesser degree, in certain Asian countries. This Awareness indicates that these are areas that are appalling to a decent person, and yet this earth is such that with the Satanist's attitude of gaining power though Satan by creating pain and suffering in others, many entities pursue such a strange and diabolical path.

The Satanists think that they gain power by shedding the blood of others and gain even more power by torturing others in the process of shedding their blood. This Awareness indicates it is beyond comprehension for a normal decent person.

Do the Victims Owe a Karmic Debt?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (WILL):

Awareness, as you say, such information is appalling, and yet I'm left with a question: Is something gained or paid by the victims by such appalling violence and degradation?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

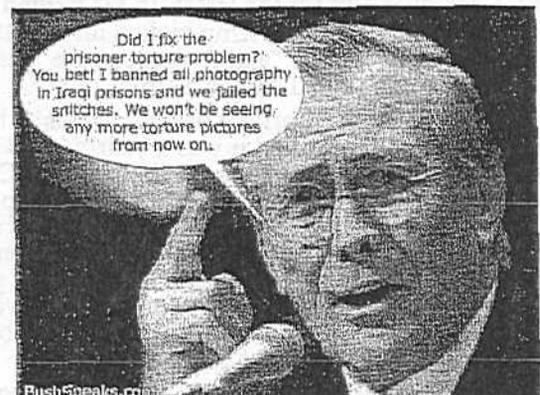

This Awareness indicates the question appears to be asking if the victim owes a karmic debt that is paid back by this kind of abuse and torture. This Awareness indicates that this is not part of the equation. It is not excusable, even if the entity does owe some kind of karma, even if the entity was involved in some earlier lifetime position of having violated someone else, to be violated by the same negative force acting through a different agent does not excuse the second agent for such abuse.

This Awareness indicates it may be that some of these entities who are suffering are not totally innocent in regard to their entire soul sojourn and perhaps they have carried over some karma that has led to this, but it has to stop somewhere. This Awareness indicates that by entities becoming aware of this kind of demonic behavior and energizing light to diffuse the darkness that is necessary for such continuation, the demonic behavior will have to cease.

The more light put on negative behavior, where it is brought out for everyone to see, the less chance it has to continue operating. You cannot simply look at a suffering entity and say: "Oh my! Look at that! He is really suffering! Now that man is really getting rid of his karma fast!" You cannot simply look at the child who is being tortured and smile and say: "That's good! You're overcoming your karma! Some day you'll get a chance to walk around like a free person, like I do!" This is not the way to look at entities who suffer.

This Awareness indicates that of course, It is not meaning this as a message to the questioner personally. It realizes this is not what the questioner meant. It is simply saying Karma must stop feeding itself by excusing itself, wherein entities are allowed to suffer because others do nothing to stop the suffering, and only look at the suffering long enough to say, "Oh, it's his karma!"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Satanic Cult Rituals Which Involve Children (Is The Information in the Book on This True?)

QUESTION (AVATON):

Awareness, in this book The Franklin Cover-Up, are the atrocities described by these children, particularly what they do to children and babies during certain rituals, is that information basically true?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that this information has come out through other sources also; that the Geraldo show on television, some time back, had mothers on there whose children had been taken by the Satanic cult, whereby the children were used in human sacrifice rituals and these mothers finally had the nerve to come forth to talk about their own involvement in those Satanic cults, wherein they either allowed their own children to become victims or saw other mothers who allowed such.

This Awareness indicates that this is not something newly exposed by this book for the first time. It is simply additional information to the continuing release of information that many entities have already brought out.

Do Satanic Rituals Actually Attract the Satanic Force? Or is it a Placebo?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (AVATON):

There's only one part of this I want to read, because I have a question. "According to testimony from Paul Bonacci, (this is the young man who was railroaded to prison) Larry King had been recruited to a Satanic cult by December 1980 at the latest. In his written history, Bonacci described how King picked him up after school one day in December "and took me to the Triangle, which is in a wooded area in Sarpy County.

"I witnessed the sacrifice of a human baby boy. Everyone was chanting, and it was a yearly ritual around the time of Christ's birth to pervert the blood of Christ. They used daggers and cut the boy, and filled a cup with his blood and mixed urine in it, and forced all of us to drink from the cup and chant, "Satan is Lord Lucifer, our king! Realm of Darkness come now and power us, your slaves!" Then they all began to chant some weird sounds and I got scared and was threatened I would become the next sacrifice if I told anyone about it."

I'd like to ask Awareness: "I've read this type of stuff in numerous other places, but can It describe what use or what good does this type of ritual do? Does it actually attract the Satanic force? Is this what it actually does, or is it a placebo type of action?"

This Awareness indicates that there is no Satanic Force other than the energies created by these entities in their own delusions and their own effort to control through manipulation and threat and fear, the lives of others. This Awareness indicates that there is however, a kind of psychological delusion that entities experience. When someone else suffers or dies, their energies become heightened and they believe they are gaining power, because adrenalin goes through their system at the sight of someone's death, and the adrenalin makes them feel stronger for the moment and the adrenalin surging through their system, being perceived as Satan's power, gives them the delusion that they have gained some kind of power because that entity has died, and when they take the life of the entity, and when they force others to participate, they become accomplices in murder, and have power over each other, because they know if they tell, they will be killed by the others, or if they work in harmony, the others will work in harmony for them.

For Fear of Death the Group Stays Loyal

There are many who become involved in these sacrifices with the understanding that if they break their loyalty to the group, they will be killed for it, or a loved one will be killed, and if they keep their loyalty, all of the group will help them any time they need such help, and thus they think that the group assistance will be powerful for them, which indeed it would be, thus, they help each other to climb ladders in society, to gain higher positions, and they do gain certain power because of the group helping each other to gain these positions.

This Awareness indicates they are also indebted to each other, and cannot get out of the situation without the threat of death from their comrades. This Awareness indicates there have been some entities who have made the effort to escape. Some have been killed. Some have escaped with the help of others, and those who have escaped often tell their stories, often tell what has happened to them, and often tell what the Satanic organization is about and what its plans are and how it functions, and this is how much of the information has gradually been released to those who express a distaste for such a behavior.

This Awareness indicates that the Satanic organization is still powerful and still grows, but there are cracks beginning to show as some of its own people escape and spill information out to the masses. This Awareness indicates that it appears that this spilling of information has come from a great number of entities who have left the Satanic organization and that there will be more and more books and information released as the coming years approach, whereby these entities turn to others to help them escape from their involvement with the Satanic forces.

There is No Satanic Force...But...

This Awareness indicates It stated that there is no Satanic Force. This is in reference to the concept of an actual Satan. There is no being whose name is Satan. The expression of evil in the sense of Ahriman-type qualities and expression exists and can be personified as Satan, but it is a kind of allegorical or metaphysical concept to personify the negative force as a being, creates an idea that is not precise in terms of reality.

There can be negative behavior and it can attach itself to any individual, and it can be labeled as Satanic energy or Satanic force, but to attribute all evil as coming from one entity who is the opposite of God is just not correct. Were it to be so, that one negative entity would have to be nothing other than a black hole, and absorbing all light, would have to be devouring the light of the universe, and would not actually be an entity so much as a phenomenon.

This Awareness indicates that it could not exist on earth because all of earth would be swallowed by it. This Awareness indicates if God is consciousness that fills the universe with love, the opposite would be dead and swallowing all light and consciousness and all love, so that it ceased to exist. This Awareness indicates that if there is such a black hole, it is not a person, nor is it personified. This Awareness indicates therefore entities are better off to think of a Satanic Force as simply being concepts that are energized for negative behavior by many different entities and these entities working in a kind of hierarchy, may support or give energy to that selected or elected being who wants to play a role as Satan, and perceive that Satanic being as nothing other than role-playing.

This Awareness indicates rather than being an actual deity of evil, the entity is a lost and confused person or personification that seeks to exemplify negative behavior and encourage negative behavior in others. There can be many entities who pretend to be Satan, who play the role of Satan, and who personify the concept of Satan, but this Awareness is attempting to suggest to entities that a Universal Being such as proposed in Persia as Zamiel, is not actually a person at all. It is a concept which many entities attempt to personify in their game-playing, in their delusions, in their attempt to seek power and influence over others.

As Love Enters Darkness Becomes Light

This Awareness suggests that entities deny the existence of evil in the world by promoting love wherever possible. As love enters and expands into those areas of darkness, darkness turns toward Light. This Awareness indicates that you need not fear the Satanic Forces, you need only to shed Light on them, and Light of Awareness means giving information without loading the information with personal hostility.

This Awareness indicates the personal hostility only feeds those negative forces.

DO EXTRATERRESTRIAL FORCES ABSORB SACRIFICIAL ENERGIES?

(More on Adrenalchrome Extracted From Victims)

FOLLOW-UP (WILL):

Awareness, returning back for a moment to the matter of Satanic sacrifice of children and other victims, but looking at it from another direction: do extraterrestrial forces gain or hover around those areas where such incidences occur of absorbing or taking in that energy of fear and the adrenal energies?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it may occur; that these forces however, have their own way of using and gaining energy. They can gain it either through their own sacrifices; they can also gain it by staring into the eyes of a victim, extracting certain life force from them. This Awareness indicates their favorite way is to draw adrenalchrome from the base of the brain while the entity is experiencing a terror. This of course leaves the victim dead, but the adrenalchrome used by the aliens is likened unto an extremely powerful drug of choice for these entities, since they have no adrenalin of their own, and the adrenalin that comes to the base of the brain during a time of terror, is for these entities part of the experience they most desire: basically, to have an emotion.

This Awareness indicates that since these entities cannot have emotions, because it has been bred out of them over eons of time, to experience an emotion for them through drug use, through the use of adrenalchrome from humans in sacrificial terror is for them an experience that they hold in great value. It is a kind of universal value, a commodity that is for them, more than gold is for humans.

They can take the adrenalchrome and use it or sell it and get whatever they want for it throughout the universe, wherever it is prized by those entities who have no emotion of their own.

How Many in the Senate and Congress Participate in Satanic Rituals?

QUESTION (AVATON):

One other question on this book The Franklin Cover-up. The entity Larry King, or I should say, the State legislature of Nebraska appointed a private investigator by the name of Gary Caradori to investigate all of these allegations of child abuse and Satanism, and he did a very good job keeping copious notes, and then he and his son in a private airplane, mysteriously crashed and were both killed. The author suggests that this was deliberate, because he was uncovering so much information.

Some of the information he uncovered was on this entity Larry King, who made his way high up into the Republican party. In fact, he sang the National Anthem at the 1984 and the 1988 Republican conventions. Some of the notes that Caradori had said that it reached so high in the political arena, it reached into the White House, and that even President Bush had attended several of Larry King's parties, but it was made clear no one saw him in that area of the King house where child-abuse and that sort of thing was actually going on...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness reminds you of the information given by Younger relating to the Hot August Night material in which it was pointed out that children testified to seeing

George Bush at such parties where children were being used for sex purposes.

This Awareness suggests the question continue.

AVATON:

Well, my basic question was: How prevalent in the politics in high political office, the Senate, and Congress and so on, are these entities who participate in Satanic rituals? Is this an isolated case, or is there quite a few that actually do this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there are quite a number of entities involved in this kind of activity, in fact, many of those in power encourage new political rookies to attend such meetings and parties or if possible, to get them involved in such activities, and they encourage this as a way of joining the club so to speak, because once they get involved, they know they have them and can use them and can also promote them, because they are controllable.

Once they have done something that is unethical or morally wrong, they can coerce them, blackmail them and control them into being what they want them to be and doing what they want them to do, and thereby promoting them into higher positions of power and there are some entities who really want to be promoted and will do these things in order to get the promotion.

Is Everyone Born With an Innate Sense of Rightness and Wrongness?

QUESTION (AVATON):

Is everyone born, every human born with an innate sense of rightness and wrongness?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that It can't say this is true for everyone because some entities are born with brain damage, or with some kind of physical handicap that does not allow them to understand right from wrong; that right from wrong tends to be something which is learned. There is however, a tendency in almost every entity to recognize the pleasure and pain principle and when an entity sees or experiences pain, the entity knows he or she does not like it, and when the entity experiences pleasure, the entity knows that he or she likes it.

This Awareness indicates that by recognizing pleasure and pain within themselves, they have the ability to recognize when someone else is in pleasure or in pain, and thereby the concept of right and wrong tends to develop in regard to pleasure and pain principles. However, there are some who can gain pleasure by watching another's pain, particularly if they are somehow encouraged in this manner, whereby they are given pleasure while observing the pain of another.

This Awareness indicates that as this is reinforced repeatedly, an entity can begin to create a kind of distortion of right and wrong, whereby an entity thinks it's right to experience pleasure, because someone else is in pain. This Awareness indicates that the activities that influence entities can often be created in such a way that morality becomes perverted, particularly under certain circumstances, either accidentally, or intentionally, and there are definitely situations regarding the brainwashing of children by some of these perverted organizations, either Nazi or Satanic in nature, whereby they deliberately created those perversions of right and wrong to develop children who have distorted values, and who grow up having such distorted values.

This Awareness indicates that indeed, some of the parents in the Satanic movement may punish their children and put them in pain if they do not show any enjoyment at watching the pain of another child and in this way, they gradually condition their own children to become better Satanists, and they may reward their child at watching the pain of another, so that the pleasures that the child gradually learns to accept are the pleasures of seeing someone else suffer, and they think this is doing their child good because their child will then become more powerful through the use and involvement of the Satanic network that he is being conditioned into.

Why Unpleasant Information Is Given

QUESTION (AVATON):

Does Awareness have a closing message?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that these topics are extremely unpleasant for most entities. The purpose of these messages is not to entertain, but to inform. Entities who are aware are much more able to deal with realities in life as they develop than those who are totally unaware. Therefore, this Awareness in making others aware, in helping others to become aware, suggests that this is part of your growth, your understanding.

It does suggest however too, that you not dwell on this topic excessively. It is too depressing and is not healthy to dwell upon such depressing concepts. This Awareness suggests that you take time to watch a comedy, to lighten up, to find some subject or activity that is more pleasing. This Awareness suggests perhaps you may take a walk or get out in nature and enjoy the sunshine and forget this information for a while.

How to Use the White Light

This Awareness indicates that just being aware of this allows you to help energize the healing process so that these forces begin to fade and diminish. This Awareness asks you to begin letting these forces diminish, visualizing the diminishing of these negativities. It will be of help. This Awareness suggests you also visualize some child caught in this web of negative energy and put this child inside a cocoon of White Light; that you protect this child and see this child being moved out of the darkness and close to this Awareness, close to those forces of Light so that this child can escape from these negative energies.

This Awareness suggests that if you are really ambitious, visualize wrapping these Satanic practitioners in White Light, watching them try to wriggle out of the White Light, watching them try to get away from the White Light, and seeing it somewhat like taffy, sticking to them, so that they cannot escape it. The more they struggle, the tighter it gets around them, and visualize these entities gradually giving in to the White Light and recognizing the Light of Christ as having come in to their lives.

This can be of great value in helping to break this delusion of power they have sought for so long.

Health Hints From Personal Readings

(Has Spells of Irregular Heartbeat)

QUESTION:

I have a rapid heart rate around 85 to 100 most of the time and 120 or more when just standing or walking leisurely. An electrocardiogram shows that my "T" waves are slightly depressed, suggesting an oxygen deficiency under stress or exercise. At times, usually after eating or when extra tired, my heart will occasionally have spells or very irregular beating, from very slow, to skipping, to fast, and sometimes as if in a spasm. When these spells occur, the duration varies, with two or three seconds about average. There is no associated pain or shortness of breath.

Can you tell me what is causing this and what I can do to correct and eliminate the condition so I can once again lead an active life?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this appears to be related unto the cholesterol and triglyceride balance in your blood stream, there appearing to be a need for cleansing in regards to the arteries and veins to allow the circulation of the blood to flow more freely, not only through the body, but also into the brain.

This Awareness suggests that there is a need to avoid being around excessively dusty or smoky areas, that it appears cigarette smoke has damaged certain of these arteries and veins in the brain area. That there is a need to watch the diet, avoiding white breads, starchy white flour products, using instead the whole grain breads and products, avoiding fatty meats and processed meats. This Awareness suggests that more fruit and vegetables be used in the diet, that the use of cayenne, garlic, niacin - this may be taken through brewers yeast - nucleic acid, and vitamins C, B-6, B-1, B-12, and B-15, vitamin E, and lecithin in particular, that other vitamins may also be used in multiple vitamin capsules, but these in particular be used. This Awareness suggests that the garlic, cayenne, and the brewers yeast or the niacin, this be used in rather large doses, such as approximately one to two teaspoons daily of cayenne or garlic - garlic powder may be used, and approximately two tablespoons of brewers yeast daily.

This Awareness suggests that the niacin tablets may be substituted, this being of enough to cause your face to flush. This Awareness suggests that this not be taken to the point of great discomfort, but of just slight discomfort. This Awareness indicates that apple cider vinegar on salad, along with the garlic powder, as being one way of using this; that apple cider vinegar as also that which can be beneficial for you.

This Awareness indicates also that general activities and exercise as beneficial in helping to release the triglycerides and cholesterol count. This Awareness suggests that ginseng and fo ti tieng used as tea may be quite beneficial, this fo ti tieng as also being called shu ku. This Awareness indicates that for the brain, the gotu kola as being of great benefit. This Awareness indicates that the product of the Goodship known as Rejuvigor, as containing these three herbs, and this also containing cayenne and other herbs which may be beneficial to you. This Awareness suggests that the Rejuvigor as that which can be of benefit to you in this regard. M780705P

THE COSMIC AWARENESS SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT COURSE

Taurus: Volume 2 Lesson Number 7

QUESTION ((AVATON)):

Awareness, we are gathered here today for continuation of the Correspondence Course trance readings under Taurus. We are now on the seventh lesson. The seventh lesson relating unto the security of the child in his or her relationships in terms of business, in terms of partnerships and agreements, and in terms of the movement into levels of responsibility.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that as consciousness begins to identify with various parts, forming that which is called individuality, a foundation for that individuality begins to develop.

This Awareness indicates a portion of that individuality is concerned with maintenance and the security in being and continuing to be. This Awareness indicates that the desire for this security and the foundation to continue to be, does affect many areas of consciousness, of one's environment, and of that which eventually forms the society of many such individuals.

This Awareness indicates that in terms of one's security in being, in relation to others, there comes the concern about the face, the appearance one presents. This Awareness indicates this may be likened unto the packaging of the individuality, whereby one presents his individuality with a certain type of wrapping, ribbons, artwork, or other trappings to enchant the public who the individual wishes to relate with.

This Awareness indicates that as the individual creates his or her own type packaging, there comes that feeling which comes to all, whereby the purpose is looked at. The purpose of relating to another can be many levels. Whereby the purpose is to relate because there is a relationship and there is someone there with whom to relate, this purpose is in total balance and harmony and needs no further realignment or adjustment.

This Awareness indicates wherein the purpose of relating is to acquire, to evaluate, or to sell (this in terms of the business of selling one's wares, oneself, or of buying something for one's own gratification or needs) - wherein the motive is based upon business of this type of exchange, the relationship then is not in total harmony or balance and adjustments must be made to bring the scales back into alignment.

This Awareness suggests that in the world of business, which may be anything from selling your product to selling yourself to another, or purchasing a product or another, through partnership, agreement, marriage, or some other form of contract - in the world of business, entities can look out and be concerned about their own packaging and whether or not they are presenting their best face, putting their best foot forward, or whether they are letting it 'all hang out,' whereby the shopper may see the blemishes, the spots, the discolorations, and in this manner experience what may be called 'truth in packaging.'

This Awareness indicates that whereby the entity presents himself with the concern of selling his or her ideas, his or her being, to a buyer - this action of seeking to impress can become that which is but a reflection of one's own self worth whereby the entity, having certain respect for oneself, presents that respect in terms of packaging. Or, this can be a packaging whereby the outer surface areas present an attractive adornment which becomes a salable product, but within that package is nothing but greed, hostility, hatred, and other forms of garbage.

This Awareness indicates that the problem for entities in relating to the world 'out there, outside of myself,' is the problem of discerning. "How far should I give myself in this business arrangement of selling myself and my energies, of taking and exchanging energies with others? How far shall I go in this action when so often I give forth my best and receive rotten fruit in return?" This Awareness indicates this as the problem which causes the breakdown in trust.

This Awareness suggests that you consider the concept of trust:

How far should I trust this or that entity? How far can I trust myself? Should I trust you?

Should you trust me? Is there any reason for us to trust one another?

This Awareness asks you to look also at the concept of distrust:

Should you distrust everyone?

Should you distrust yourself?

Should you distrust yourself for distrusting everyone?

Should you trust yourself in distrusting everyone?

This Awareness suggests that you look carefully at the concept of trust and distrust and that you visualize a scale, a balancing type of scale, whereby your values as they truly are, regardless of the packaging, with the blemishes, with your highest and lowest qualities, your most beautiful and precious parts, and those parts which are most ugly - all of these being placed on one side of the scale, and on the other side of the scale, another entity having also blemishes and jewels in the being.

This Awareness asks you, in looking at this other entity which represents all entities outside of yourself, to ask yourself: "How much of myself shall I entrust into this other entity in order to balance the scales between us? Shall I trust him or her my best, my mediocre, or just hand them some of my garbage?"

This Awareness asks you to look carefully at the concept of entrusting yourself, your concepts, your ideas, your being, your feelings, your love, your devotion, your loyalty. In entrusting these qualities of yourself, your energies, your work, your vitality (entrusting this to another entity on the other side of the scale), why should you entrust this in order to have a balanced scale? Would it not be just as easy to keep yourself and all that is yours, to yourself, and let the scales go awry - and why should one balance the scales?

This Awareness indicates that the entity who cannot exchange energies with those forces outside of oneself, begins to collect the energies of the Universe upon oneself in a manner whereby the life becomes heavy, and the concept of 'being oneself' becomes heavier and heavier, and the matter of being oneself becomes very grave indeed. And the gravity does weight the scales of life down upon the shoulders of that entity whereby the entity is constantly struggling to maintain that which is 'self,' and the very action of living becomes a hardship of the most burdensome type.

This Awareness indicates that whereby the entity begins to lighten up on self, and becomes less self-concerned and more aware of others and the relationship with others, and whereby the entity can learn to relate, the possibility of lighter living becomes such that harmony, balance, joy, beauty become the way of life, rather than struggling with the heavy, self-concerned entity.

This Awareness indicates that whereby the entity in learning to give and exchange aspects of oneself with another does begin to look more deeply at the concept of trust, that awareness may come that there is no need for trust when one becomes aware of another and relates clearly with that other. For when there is clear relationship, the balancing of the energies occurs without the need for trust, and the action of trust is more of a by-product of the clear relationship rather than being a cause bringing about the relationship.

This Awareness suggests that when any entity asks you to trust them, that you be very careful and distrusting of such an entity, for there is no need to trust anyone when you truly know that entity to be what they are.

This Awareness indicates there is no need to trust or distrust when you see the entity clearly, and when you can relate clearly enough to discover any areas in your relationship with that entity that needs to be examined more carefully. This Awareness indicates in this manner the truth in packaging does appear more like a packaging which has a see-through wrapper, whereby you look through all of the glitter and glowing of the entity, at the reality of the substance within, and whereby you cannot find the ingredients clearly, you examine this before wasting your precious time, life, moneys, or wealth and values upon that entity. Whereby if you choose to take your chance and believe the packaging and discover that the contents are empty, or foul, then you have learned a valuable lesson regarding that product, and therefore have received your reward for your investment.

This Awareness indicates that if you do not learn your lesson from this and continue believing all of the further packages, the coverings, and taking everything at face value, then you can expect to continue experiencing the deception of the packaging syndrome.

This Awareness suggests that wherein you examine closely, looking deeper, and learn which products, learn which producers, learn which entities are of rare quality, and do your business and relationship with these entities, therein lies the possibility of an integrity in relationship that grows ever and ever more strong and begins having its effect on the world around. This Awareness indicates in this manner a marriage, a partnership, a business arrangement - these harmonies can bring about alchemical effects in consciousness which give a type of security and harmony to other businesses, other partnerships, other marriages and the offsprings.

This Awareness indicates that there is no way to discern the inside of a package by what is presented outside, except by looking more deeply and carefully. Therefore, wherein entities are careless in terms of their relationships with others, wherein entities grab this or that package for the color, for the glitter-glamour of the outside trappings, the entity then begins having empty packages and substance of quality in his or her life. This Awareness suggests that in order to be living in levels of intense relationship of deep quality, one must deserve that by being able to return in like manner the same kind of deep respect, value to the other. For the world of business, the balanced scale goes equally on one side as for the other. And wherein you think you can cheat the other, gaining a greater quality but giving only a small portion of yourself, you shall find that this is only an illusion and you have short-changed yourself on the larger scales of karma and life - the Divine Justice, the scales of the Universe.

She Thinks Her Ovaries are Implanted With a Futuristic Device
(All About the Power of Suggestion)

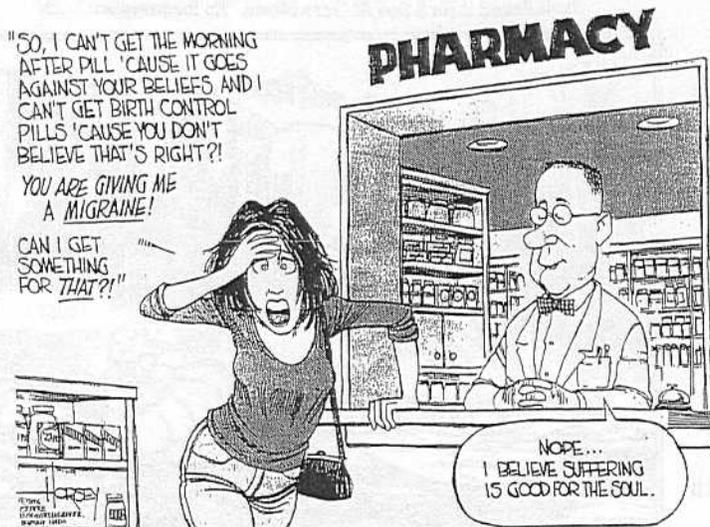

QUESTION:

A rather strange health question from John Stroker, North Kingston RI. He writes: "Here's a query for Awareness which may be of general interest if the chiropractor referred to is correct. If not of general interest, I am very curious to say the least.

My daughter, who is 45 years old, is being treated by someone who is probably best described as a holistic chiropractor for a discomfort in the hip or pelvic area. The doctor has said that she has found this condition to be not uncommon. Those effected that she has seen are all women who are of an independent and ambitious nature. All are still of child-bearing age, although not necessarily planning for pregnancy. She says she sees psychically a restricting device of some kind which she describes as "futuristic."

"Through what my daughter called Reiki, (Awareness might also explain Reiki to us later) the doctor found this device around her own ovaries and removed it or them. Although she has been removing them psychically of course, from her patients, the condition of discomfort is only reduced, not eliminated. It seems, according to her, that this condition is not totally of this time, but of a future time, although she understands "time" as being concurrent", that is, as in the manner spoken of in the Seth Material.

"My thoughts and daughter's follow along the "methods of control" school and wonder if this is correct. Please provide us with whatever facts you have regarding this condition. Many thanks."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that you are dealing with elements of the mind in which a futuristic device that blocks certain energy fields is used as a suggestion. This Awareness indicates that the entity could also have made a different suggestion, saying it was a past-life karmic memory of a chastity belt, and that it was hindering her energy field at this time. It would be just as valid an argument.

In fact, it is neither of these, but it is a way of dealing with a constriction in the emotional and psychic view of the body. By making such a suggestion and then removing the problem in a suggestion, the effect is to free up certain blocked energies that affect the real world of the entity.

In other words, it is likened unto seeing an entity with a rash on their hand and convincing them that it is a rash caused by a past or future memory, and treating the past experience or future experience as if it were affecting present time, and finding that it does indeed help to clear the rash.

It is a way of doing things. It is a method of suggestion and it works on the subconscious in such a way as to convince it that something has been done to help cure the problem. Once an entity accepts the suggestion, the problem begins to heal. This Awareness indicates that it is basically quite clever. It is not scientific, but it works because the mind accepts suggestions.

The Same Technique Used in Religious Conversions

It is basically the same kind of technique as is used in religious conversions wherein the preacher says, "You have sinned! You are a sinner! All have sinned! Only through the Divine Light of Christ can you be forgiven of your sins! And Christ now is ready to forgive these sins if you accept Christ as your personal savior."

Entities have had a suggestion put upon them that they accept, and they have perhaps been told that sins are a horrible thing that can cause them unbelievable problems, including everlasting life in hell, and sins can cause all kinds of physical problems as well, and they have been told now that Christ can forgive them if they accept Christ, and their sins will be removed.

IN THIS ISSUE

Thus, when the entity accepts Christ as the Savior, the sins are removed, just as they were placed there by the earlier suggestions. This Awareness indicates that in this case, the entity is being told that she has a restriction in a certain area of her body and that it can be removed. It is basically the same thing. The question is: "Did she have any form of problem before the suggestion?"

This Awareness indicates that apparently in at least some of these cases, the problem was there before the suggestions were given that they were problems placed there from the future. This Awareness indicates that all of these things are too confusing for a rational mind to make sense of, so the rational mind just simply lets it go on through the subconscious and the subconscious can deal with things that don't make sense by the use of faith. It simply accepts it as real.

The subconscious cannot distinguish between tangible reality and fantasized reality and thus the subconscious then believes that this is true and thus, the healer removes the imaginary problem which the subconscious believes is real. Then the subconscious considers that a healing has taken place and the area that was the problem is now clear of the problem. Once the subconscious accepts this, then indeed, a healing has occurred.

This Awareness indicates the use of suggestion is of great importance in dealing with the subconscious and many kinds of symptoms can be dealt with in different ways by entities who understand these ways of making suggestions. In other words, this Awareness is saying that there was no future instrument embedded or implanted in this entity to cause a problem.

There may have been a problem that the entity had because of some other psychological reason, but it did not come from some future experience or implant and the doctor has simply removed it by suggestions so that the entity experiences an improvement.

This Awareness indicates that apparently the doctor does not call it a cure, because the doctor realizes that suggestions are not always 100% effective and the entity may have to return for further suggestions before it is fully cured or alleviated.

FOLLOW-UP (AVATON):

That sounds very similar to that Hegalian (I think it was) concept Awareness discussed some time back about the world planners putting forth the suggestion that there is a problem, and then coming up with a solution, which is usually worse than the problem. What about this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates of course a good credible doctor using this would not come up with a worse cure than the problem originally had, but would come up with an improvement, however there is a similarity.

How to Help Others Help Themselves (Positive Thinking and Seth's Multiple Realities)

QUESTION:

We received a letter from T.L. of Somerville, Massachusetts, which isn't exactly a question, but it's very thought provoking in concept and I'd like to read part of it and ask Awareness to comment. He writes:

"As I've noticed that Cosmic Awareness has been devoting so much time to 'positive thinkers', attempting to escape the Beast and or thermonuclear war by ignoring it, perhaps Awareness would like to comment on the following world view that I've interpreted from Seth, as channeled through Jane Roberts.

"In Seth's cosmology there are many many realities, each one with slight variations on the other. There are, of course, realities where entities live out their future enslaved by the Beast, and ones where thermonuclear war is the final, very final, result. From Seth it seems that we can move between these alternate expressions of our selfhood by means of our free will. You create your own reality.

Say you have a belief that 'power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely'. In the material world this belief could easily be reflected in the abusers of centralized banking and federalized governments by acknowledging the present governments, corporations, banks and other institutions that have accumulated power without acknowledging the corruption that would go with it, you are lying to yourself and negating any hopes for becoming a master of your fate. Add a little love of money and you'll find yourself up against the international money lenders, -- meet yourself. Add a little fear of death and you'll meet up with the devastating death of the Soviet military, -- meet yourself, and the responsibility you ignored.

"All of these possible realities exist, and will always exist, but do you want to give them added force and energy or leave them in the boondocks of probability? How does one get to a more enlightened reality? Well, simply visualizing peace and harmony or being 'positive' might be energizing an afterlife in Celestria via a thermonuclear death, for all you know. Bring the positive vibes down to earth and give them something to hook into. For instance, CAC's suggestion to send 'missiles of mail instead of nuclear bombs' seems a good materialistic way of confronting fears of power, corruption and death. Whatever method you choose for confronting your beliefs, remember the context in which peace and harmony exist, -- other people. How can you best help others to help themselves?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that the question be restated.

QUESTIONER (AVATON):

It boils down to, I guess, to the final question. Whatever method you choose in these cosmologies for confronting your beliefs, the context in which peace and harmony exist is other people. But how can you best help others to help themselves?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this by assisting others to become more aware of what is. That in relation to the observation of this entity, the observation as being essentially accurate; that the activities of many possibilities often loom on the horizon, that many entities can ignore and escape through ignorance, that other entities may assist those who ignore by facing the situation, thereby rescuing those who would ignore the situation.

This Awareness indicates there are many actors and many roles which entities may involve themselves in. There are many plots which may be written for others to follow. There are many writers and many directors who can create these plots, or who can direct entities to avoid these plots, or to participate in these plots. This Awareness indicates that one's personal reality is not isolated from the social reality, from the group reality, from the world reality, from the mass consciousness. One's personal reality cannot escape forever from a collision course when that personal reality is moving in opposition or in ignorance of the group, national, social or international or mass realities, which are also in movement around that personal reality.

This Awareness indicates that the majority of entities in the world prior to World War Two had their own realities, were participating in their own realities, were searching for their own personal satisfactions, working for material gain, this being the major problem in their lives. This Awareness indicates that suddenly a new reality, not of their own making, came into their lives and disrupted many homes, many entities, many plans, and many realities, -- this being World War Two. That likewise, what occurred during this past year could very easily have flared up into World War Three, or Nuclear War One, and many entities preferred to avoid looking at this, or considering this, and many of these entities may wish to take credit for having prevented this from occurring by their own ignorance of it. This Awareness indicates however, this just simply is not what happened. That there were certain entities who looked at the possibility, who sought to keep this from occurring and who took action to prevent this from happening, and through that action those who preferred to ignore this event were rescued.

Velvet Revolution Billboards in DC

The Place for Positive Thinking

This Awareness indicates positive thinking has its place: its place being to encourage oneself, to move into positive action. That looking at negative events, negative energies, with a positive approach, a positive action, can neutralize those negative forces; this as likened unto the positive pole being brought toward the negative in order to discharge the energies which have been built up.

This Awareness indicates that if entities wish to experiment they may ruin a relationship by being overly positive in the following manner: This Awareness suggests that you assume the positive thinking approach with your mate, that you not allow yourself to look at anything troublesome which your mate may bring up, that you simply inform your mate that this troublesome area is negative thinking on your mate's part and that you are now a positive thinker and do not deal with anything negative, for you only will look at the positive, therefore, you are immune to anything of a negative nature. This Awareness indicates that you continue this attitude on all levels for approximately one week and you will notice that your mate has become more negative, and you have become more and more positive. Your mate will not be able to communicate with you, your mate will feel embarrassed around you, your mate will feel angry and hostile towards you, will feel resentful, will feel ignored and will become quite upset with the relationship.

An Altered Relationship When You Reverse the Experiment

This Awareness indicates that likewise, a reversed experiment will show you how the relationship can be altered, whereby you simply look at the negative in every situation, refusing to look at the positive, and you praise your mate for being so positive, but you continually note your flaws, your negative aspects, and you continually seek to impress upon your mate how wonderful and positive your mate is, and how awful and negative you are. In this manner, again you reverse the polarities and the relationship will begin to suffer. The mate may attempt to prop you up, to encourage you, to hold you up, but will soon tire of this action if you continue to downgrade yourself.

This Awareness indicates that wherein both entities look at the problems and difficulties, look at the so-called negative together, whether this is caused by one or the other or by both, and bring these negatives into focus for examination, and then from that focus discover a way whereby these negatives may be dealt with and solved, the problem being solved in a solution that is satisfactory to both parties, then there is a mutual movement toward greater positive harmony as the negative diminishes. This mutual problem solving attitude with attention given to the negative is not to create fear, not to paralyze, not to energize, but to transmute,--this is that action which is appropriate.

This Awareness indicates the original promotion of the concept of positive thinking was intended to be used as a form of auto-suggestion or self-hypnosis, whereby an entity repeated again and again, "I am alright, my world is getting better ever day." This Awareness indicates that in one sense, this form of self-hypnosis was quite effective and can be quite effective, but this type of positive thinking when carried to extremes, whereby an entity is standing in the middle of the highway or whereby the entity's child has fallen out of the car and is lying in the middle of a busy highway; for one simply to say, "All is well, everything will be taken care of properly, no need to be alarmed,"--this is simply stupid. This Awareness indicates that entities must keep clear thinking, reasonable understanding, wisdom and awareness in spite of theoretical concepts or methods of thinking.

This Awareness suggests that when entities latch onto a method as a cure-all for all forms of problems and cease to be aware, that method becomes a hindrance. This Awareness indicates that the positive thinking can be a tool for certain problems in the mental body, but is not the placebo or cure-all for everything. There are some things which need to be faced even though they appear to be negative, and when facing that negative, the problem can be dealt with. This Awareness indicates that all of this appears so obvious that it seems it should not become such a mental issue, but there are many groups and many philosophies which repeat each other and take concepts to absurd ends and build philosophies on these absurdities; and others who latch onto these absurdities as though they were the divine solution to all problems.

Positive Actions Need Stress

This Awareness indicates that positive action is that which needs stress, which needs to be emphasized; positive thinking is only a beginning. This Awareness suggests realistic thinking with positive action as a better formula.
