THE DAM THAT HAS STOPPED UP CONSCIOUSNESS FOR EONS IS NOW CRACKING

COSMIC AWARENESS (OPENING MESSAGE):

This Awareness greets the two energizers today and thanks both for their participation in this channeling process. This Awareness wishes to start with an opening message. An image is perceived of a dam, with a large body of built-up water behind that dam. Cracks are starting to appear in the dam that indicate a breakdown of the dam. Leaks are starting to spring more and more, indicating that the water is seeping through the construction of this dam, and that the destruction and collapse of the dam is imminent.

This Awareness wishes to use this analogy as an image of the impending breakdown and collapse of the dam that has stopped up consciousness for so long, that has contained it and held it back. This is in reference to mass-consciousness; the consciousness held on the planet at this time. The intent and design has been one of holding back consciousness, of channeling it and funneling it in certain directions that worked for those who were in control, and those who had the power to stop up consciousness, and hold it back, so that it could be used for the purposes of those who have power, to serve their design, their intent.

This again is seen like the waters that are funneled through the sluiceways, through the generators of the dam to create the hydroelectric power from the waters that are contained and dammed up behind the dam itself. Those powers that have for so long been in control have selectively funneled the waters through the sluiceways, through the channel ways, through the engines of state that would fuel the societies in a way that worked for those who were in power.

This Awareness has referred to these as the 'powers that be' and It is not just simply referring to the governments of the world, but also those who are behind the governments, those elite, who have been in charge for so long, who have understood how to dam up consciousness and misdirect it and hold it back, directing it then, along their own channels that would serve them and create for them the energy needed by them to make so that which is their understanding and knowledge of the world as they wish to construct it.

For a long time, thousands of years in fact, those powers that be have understood certain cosmic principles that they have used against humanity for self-serving purposes. This needs to be seen as serving a divine purpose, a greater reason, but at this time, that greater purpose, that self-serving purpose is coming to completion, is about to break down. Returning to the analogy of the dam springing leaks, this is the equivalent of mass-consciousness starting to seep through the barriers that have been erected to hold back consciousness, and the structures are starting to feel the pressure and are starting to leak, and are no longer truly holding back consciousness as once was the case.

Those who are in charge are struggling mightily to repair the cracks, to pull back the waters or to hold back consciousness, to prevent it from breaking forth, breaking through, but this is a losing effort. The timing is such in the evolution of man/womankind that it is time for the structure to collapse, the dam to burst so that mass-consciousness can surge forward, can find once again the channel of old that it used to flow along and through; this being likened to a previous riverbed that lies below the dam that still serves to funnel waters off from the dam when released through the sluiceways and the channels of the dam.

With the collapse of the dam and the release of mass-consciousness, the regulated flow that exists in those channels that exist below the dam will be flooded, overwhelmed, will surge forward again with new life, new vitality, sweeping away old structures that had been built with the construction of the dam of beliefs, the dam of consciousness, that were created to house the principles, ideas, concepts, paradigms that society was told were those that are needed to allow civilization, that were part of a civilized way.

These ideas, these beliefs, these mindsets have all been part of control against those finding the truth, against individuals understanding the greater truth and the greater reality. With the collapse of the dam that has stopped up consciousness for so long, many of the beliefs, the attitudes, the paradigms, will be destroyed and swept away, and consciousness will be free once more to discover its own course and evolve at its own speed. New paradigms and new beliefs, and new mindsets will find a way forward then, and will become available to many, and this is good, and as it needs be.

This Awareness also indicates going back to the analogy of the dam; that even with it bursting, even with its destruction, parts of the dam may still remain, and even though the majority of the waters will be released, there may still be a deeper pool on the side of the dam that remains, even though the majority of the dam has collapsed. In other words, this relates to the fact that there may be those who choose not to surge forward with the waters when they are released with consciousness, when it bursts through the dams of restriction, and would seek to know the old way, even if it is no longer the truth.

This is simply the way of it. Not everyone would be willing or ready to change their consciousness to the degree that is possible for them to change it by. Many will choose to stay in the old pool of consciousness, in the illusion and under the illusion that all is right and all is well, never recognizing or realizing that perhaps that pool of consciousness is artificial in nature, is not as it needs be or should be, because the dam itself was artificially built and placed in a position to block consciousness, to contain the waters of awareness. Such is the case that some who are not ready to move ahead, move forward, will choose instead to remain in that pool of water that is still contained behind the partial wall of a broken dam.

A Grand Destruction of the Dam is Imminent

This Awareness uses this analogy to help many understand the imminence of events that are ready to transpire at this time. A grand destruction of the dam that has been constructed to contain consciousness is imminent, and the release of energy that will be experienced with the collapse of the dam may be overwhelming to many at first, just as the cascading waters tumbling forth from the collapsed dam are destructive in nature to all that lies below the dam itself. It will sweep much away and this could be seen as a negative series of events, but this Awareness wishes one and all to understand the analogy is one that says that which was constructed below the dam, those artificial beliefs and attitudes, need to be swept away, need to be reduced to nothingness so that which can replace them is done in a new environment that is realistic and natural to what was the course of the previous river.

While it may be painful for many to see the old ways swept away, the old beliefs and attitudes no longer working, that with time, there will be restoration, there will be rebuilding, and that which replaces those structures that once existed has always the opportunity to be better than and greater than that which came before, so that even if the events that are to transpire with the collapse of the social fabric that currently exists may be painful to many, it is definitely needed, for it is the goal at this time to sweep away the old beliefs and attitudes that keep so many prisoners and hostages to a select handful of individuals who have control, who have power, who have the ability to run people's lives as they wish them to be.

This is no longer seen as appropriate and Spirit itself, and all levels of spirit are moving to bring this change about, to bring an ending to this situation. Those many who may find the times difficult are going to find them difficult because they are in resistance, because they are in denial, because they do not choose to go with the flow of events as they are unleashed, and hang on instead to old ways and old patterns, old structures, and it is this hanging on, this unwillingness to let Spirit sweep them forward to that place they need to go to, that place they need to be, that will mark the painful transition that many might experience.

This Awareness has spoken of this before. With the times that come, with the events as they unfold, one needs to be willing to go with the flow of Spirit, of higher consciousness, of a new way of thinking, a new way of understanding, one that will definitely allow the individual to move forward with the times and not to be simply swept under with the cascading waters of consciousness that are released with the collapse of the dam that has held back consciousness for so long.

These leaks are being shown already, and many are seeing the evidence of these leaks. The information that is now being released through such things as the DVD known as 'The Secret' and through certain individuals who are channeling high sources of spiritual information, are those leaks, are those new perceptions of reality that are touching so many minds now, that are being released into mass-consciousness. These are the leaks that are already forming in the dam, that are indicating the imminence of the collapse.

This Awareness applauds the leaks that are forming and all those efforts to break through the dam and release consciousness. It is part of the process. It has always been part of the process. Even the hearing of the words that are spoken by this Awareness help the many who read these channelings be part of that process of breaking through consciousness, and have been doing so for so many many years already.

Going Back to When Awareness First Released Information

This Awareness wishes to go back in this image, to a time before there were any cracks in the surface of the dam, and this Awareness started to speak, and share, and channel truth, insight and awareness that started to chip at the dam from the water side of the dam, if you will.

At the beginning there seemed to be no effect, no impact, and for many years, this Awareness was a solitary light in the darkness, a single light that attracted many, but not to the degree that is now happening. Over the years the chipping carried on, and some of those chips drew other voices, other minds who carried on in other directions. There were several voices early on that attacked the dam from the water side. These voices were all voices of this Awareness, in Its many guises and Its many forms.

Still, the process of chipping away went on and on and on, until it has finally reached a point where these chipping cracks have gone deep into the dam and indeed have cracked the dam and are forming new cracks all the time, as more and more become aware of some of the deeper truth, insights, awareness that come from the higher planes of consciousness. With this, is also an opening up to the reality and the truth of existing power structures and those who hold power. Gone is the total ignorance and acceptance and belief in governments and in agencies of power. More and more are starting to become aware of the truth of how those in power come often from places of corruption and greed and are using this power to line their own pockets and satisfy their own needs, to feed their greed.

The Truth That Sets You Free is One of the Cracks in the Dam

That is why so much is becoming available to the public about the events that have occurred over the last number of years. Exposures are happening that bring light onto the truth behind those events that were used to manipulate consciousness and to manipulate the masses in the direction that was so desired by the powers that be. The truth shall set you free, as the saying goes, and that truth is being released is one of the many kinds of cracks that have been appearing in the dam that has held back humanity, that has held back the masses from understanding and this is good.

Now, another series of cracks are forming that expresses a new way of understanding reality and how reality is formed and how the holding of beliefs and attitudes will form the reality one experiences. This is a secret that has been held back from the masses since the dawn of time, and yet this is an old knowing that has been held by many since the dawn of time, especially those who seek control and manipulation of the masses for purposes of their own.

A Big "Secret" Is Being Released Into Consciousness

It is not taught in the school systems yet that you create your own reality through thought, emotion and action, for to teach such a truth would be indicative of a truly enlightened society and an enlightened world, and that is not yet quite the case. In order to control the masses, those masses must be kept in ignorance. They must be held back. Such was the purpose behind the dam of consciousness: to hold back the masses, to hold back collective consciousness from expanding into a higher realm, to find its own course, so to speak, that it may flow along to its own destiny, so that it may once again reach the seas and oceans of consciousness.

This is all ready to end now. The dam that has held back consciousness for so long, that has contained and constrained mass-society, the masses, is already cracking. The truth of how we are Creator Beings, and how All are Creator Beings is being released now. This Awareness says that this is as it should be, and appreciates all of those who have, over the many years, chipped away at this inside of the dam, who have understood at some deep level that even though the structure seemed indestructible for so long, that a constant chipping away would eventually break through and cause the cracks that go all the way through the dam, weakening it.

Even though emergency measures have taken place by those powers that have sought to maintain the dam, they are not in the end going to be successful efforts. The process is already well underway, and indeed, is imminent. This Awareness wishes one and all to realize that the dam is about to collapse, and asks all to prepare for this collapse, knowing that this is what has been always part of the greater plan, as human consciousness evolves and moves forward beyond the constraints of that which contained it for so long. It is, as it needs be, and this is good.

This Awareness is complete with Its rap of the dam and the holding back of consciousness. If there are any questions at this time, this Awareness is open to those questions.

QUESTION (TAMI):

How Are Things Going to Change?

(The Surfers of Consciousness)

Awareness, once this dam breaks, and consciousness moves forward, what is that going to look like for the seekers? How are things going to change?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness first sees an image that, while on one level may seem silly, does actually convey what this Awareness is trying to express. This is an image of a surfer, of a person on a surfing board who will surf the released waters of consciousness, who will ride those waters, and in the riding will have a grand time, a grand adventure, will be swept forward. This does not mean that the surfer cannot fall and be tumbled forward for awhile, but that it is always possible to get back onto the board, and to catch the next wave, catch the next surge and move forward.

This Awareness wishes to emphasize an energy of playfulness, of adventure, of riding the wave, of walking the edge, of being alive. Those who choose to be the surfers of consciousness, to ride the waves of awareness forward will be taken to new levels of awareness and new levels of consciousness, where in those new levels they can create as they have never created before, and in the act of creation they will be in harmony with higher levels of consciousness and awareness that will guide them and help one and all realize the true nature of being a Creator Being and what that really entails.

This is the image that this Awareness wishes to present at this time. This Awareness, also carrying on with that image, does see that some who fall off the boards will not choose to get back on the board, and they will be tumbled forward as the waters surge forward, and this might be a much rougher ride, but if they can keep moving with the flow, keep their head above the waters as much as they can, bringing themselves back up, even if they are tumbled forward, even if it is a rougher ride, even if they have trouble, 'they' being those individuals who also are intent on moving forward but have not quite reached the levels of awareness that allow them to be surfers; they too will still move forward, but it will be a much rougher ride.

They too will reach new levels where the water is calm, and that original turbulence of the release of the dam waters once the dam bursts, will indeed find that even the rough ride was worth it, and once they reach those calmer waters, they will also have a higher consciousness that can guide them more accurately and effectively, and it is at that point that they might find their boards again and climb back on them and learn how to surf consciousness more effectively.

Then there is that other level, that layer where many might be crushed under the changing times, the energy of change and the release from old patterns and old beliefs and these are those many who will find these times to be chaotic ones, dangerous ones, times that they do not know how to survive the raging released waters; and for those this will be a time of true chaos and catastrophe, but even that is as needs be, for even under such adverse conditions, change will come to these individuals too, and they too will eventually reach a new place, a new level of understanding and awareness that allows them to swim in the calmer waters, making their way forward.

All three levels are seen as progression to one degree or another. The highest way to progress is not through pain and adversity. The old belief paradigm: "No pain, no gain!" needs no longer apply. Those who will have the hardest time will be those who cling to the old ways, who have the greatest experience of pain, in some misguided understanding or belief system that pain is what helps one grow.

The New Paradigm: The Pursuit of Responsible Pleasure

This Awareness says that this no longer needs to be the guiding paradigm. The pursuit of pleasure, responsible pleasure is what can become the new paradigm. Pleasure also helps one grow, and motivates one to strive for new heights of awareness and understanding. Pleasure can become the guiding principle. Without pleasure as a motivator, and with the rejection of pain as that which is the motivator that so many hold to, a new level of awareness and understanding will be achieved.

"No Pain, No Gain" No Longer Holds

In having pleasure, and the pursuit of pleasure as the guiding tenet of how to achieve in one's life, one will be freed of that need to suffer. Suffering is a concept that was introduced by those powers that be to justify the pain that was created by them as a means of control and manipulation. The perversion was that pain was okay; pain was needed in order to grow and to gain. So much so that the saying "No pain, no gain!" became a very popular saying, and for many, a truism that guides their life.

This Awareness simply says that this need not be so any longer, and that those who are seeking higher levels of awareness and consciousness can do so by seeking to create in their lives abundance, well-being, happiness, fulfillment, purpose, all in pursuit of being in pleasure in life, being pleased in life, being a higher aspect of Spirit as it seeks to know itself in pleasure, and no longer in pain. Does this answer the energizer's question or is there a need for further explanation?:

ENERGIZER:

No.

How Does One Open Up or Trigger the Happiness Within?

QUESTION FROM ENERGIZER:

How does one trigger or open up to the happiness within, so that it's flowing more consistently through the day to day life?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The answer is actually quite simple: Gratitude. This Awareness suggests that every morning as an individual awakens and before the start of the routine of the day, that each and every individual gives thanks to that which has been given. For example: Thanks for the day before! Thanks for what is, in their life. Thanks for what will be.

This Awareness suggests the individual gives thanks for the day that is ahead, for the experiences and challenges that will be presented and given.

This does not mean that each and every day will not have its own challenges or sometimes even be a difficult day to endure, if that is so, but all has reason, all has purpose. Developing a sense of gratitude shifts the perspective of one to a place where everything is seen in a positive way, a positive light. This is not artificial in nature. It becomes the individual's true way of looking at things, so that even those challenging events and circumstances, and the challenging individuals that might come into one's life on any given day, can be seen as gifts given by Spirit to help one along, to help one grow, to provide one insight and awareness of how one is not creating in accordance to the higher principles and the higher rules and laws.

Develop an Attitude of Gratitude

That is then seen as a lesson, and a lesson is a gift that one can learn from. This becomes a positive. This Awareness suggests that the development of an 'Attitude of Gratitude' is paramount to creating the mindset and the energetic belief system that will fuel for the individual that sense of gratitude and that striving towards, living one's life with the pleasure principle as the guiding motive, and not the principle of pain.

This is how this Awareness would recommend to the energizer that she too do this. It is a process that after awhile becomes quite natural, quite as one's character, and allows always that movement and growth forward, using the pursuit of happiness and fulfillment as the guiding principles of one's life versus feeling that suffering and pain are the common elements of life and one cannot escape this.

This is only a belief system, and this belief system is changing. An 'Attitude of Gratitude' as this Awareness has called it in previous channelings, is what will indeed create that sense of positivity and general well-being in an individual that will allow them to always pursue life in a way that is positive and fulfilling. This Awareness is complete with this question.

What About Personal Relationships?

(Coming Soon: The End of Failed Relationships)

QUESTION (TAMI):

(Thank you)

As consciousness moves forward and expands, how is that going to translate in personal relationships? How are personal relationships going to evolve and shift into this new energy? What are they going to look like?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is pleased with this question, for it indeed shows a perception of the possibility of how to change on all levels, including the levels of relationships that one calls in to one's life. This Awareness wishes first of all to say that if an individual no longer will accept or be tolerant to a degree of pain in their life that is not serving a deeper purpose, that they will not put up with relationships that are simply painful in nature, that are based on dysfunctionality versus sound levels of awareness and understanding.

This Awareness indicates that what is required first and foremost is that an individual develop a relationship, not simply with another, but with one's self, within one's self. The focus needs to switch from that which is seen as the traditional way of things to that which many would call selfish and self-centered, and yet, this Awareness wishes to express that being in the center of one's own circle of experience is the most stable place to be and the place that offers greater protection and balance than anywhere on the edge of the circle of one's life experience. But this Awareness states that if one chooses to become focused on healing oneself, of developing for oneself that sense of centeredness, then one is no longer dependent on others providing one with a sense of worthiness and well-being, a sense of one's self. Indeed, that when one expects to receive from another a sense of their worth and their appreciation of self, one will always be in the danger of being disappointed and let down.

Most Relationships are Based on Dysfunctionality

This Awareness indicates that most relationships are based on dysfunctionality, are based on flawed and wounded individuals who have not developed a sense of their own centeredness, a sense of their own stability and balance, who rely on a partner to provide for them their own sense of worthiness and value, but as this Awareness has spoken a moment ago, that this is so, then when the other individual who is responsible for your sense of well-being and worth fails you, then you feel crushed, disappointed, upset. The truth that this Awareness is wishing to express in this is that it is time for each and every individual to actually understand their responsibility to themselves, to gain their own stability, their own centeredness, and not to expect or rely on anyone else to provide it for them. This will always have the danger of failure if one does it this way.

When one actually establishes in themselves their own worth, their own worthiness, then they are not dependent on another to provide that for them. They do not become codependent in a relationship, and if there is no codependency, then there is not the possibility of another not meeting expectations, not fulfilling the needs that one has to have the other justify them or provide them meaning and relevancy.

In those times ahead, it will be understood and seen as the way of things that one builds one's own character first and foremost. One simply does not rely on or depend on others to give meaning to one's life. One understands the responsibility involved. The responsibility being that each and every individual is indeed required to do the work that will bring that sense of stability and balance and naturalness and centeredness to one's understanding of self.

Then what can occur is that in relationship, two whole and centered people may come together and choose to stand strongly beside each other, supporting each other in the journey of the relationship, but not in a codependent way; in a way that allows rather two whole individuals to walk separately forward, and yet have both paths run parallel to each other. Not one path following the other path. No one path reliant on the direction one takes to define their own direction. But two individual paths that run parallel, side by side.

This is the new norm. This is that which is ready to develop and open up. Equally, if those two parallel paths come to a point of division, where the two paths need to move apart for whatever reason; that this can be done in a much healthier way than currently is the case. If it is determined that the two individuals no longer need to walk side by side, and indeed, for whatever reasons, they need to part; that the fork is reached and one must go left and the other must go right, then this too can be achieved without a loss of personal meaning or a personal sense of one's own worth or lack of it because of a failed relationship.

No Longer Such a Thing as a Failed Relationship

There simply will no longer be such a thing as a failed relationship. How can there be failure when two individuals who are in the center of their own circle of experience know the direction that they must take as individuals? Even though this may be a parting of the ways, a separation and an ending of a relationship, it is by no means an ending of one's individual life or journey. It will be much easier to part knowing that this is what is needed.

The concept of relationship as it is presently held is based on codependency, so this new concept of being able to walk one's own path separately when needed is foreign, and to many: unsatisfactory. This is simply an indication of an individual's need for codependent relationship, rather than an understanding that the strongest relationships, the best relationships are of two sound, whole individuals who choose to be in harmony and union together for the length of time that is needed.

As long as two whole healthy individuals walk side by side, they will not impose on the other, but rather support each other on the journey of life. This is much sounder and much healthier than a codependent relationship of two dysfunctional individuals. If and when a parting is reached, that parting can in its way be also supportive and mutual. The two individuals will continue to hold love and respect for the other, and even if the two paths lead in new directions for each, one holds for the other the wish and desire that their path be a good one, a sound one, a healthy one, a happy one, for one holds love in the heart for that individual that they walked together with in intimacy and in love.

This is a higher attitude, a higher consciousness of the understanding of relationship and the meaning of relationships. This is what this Awareness sees as part of the answer to the question posed by the energizer. Is there a need to elaborate further at this time?

Will the One-On-One Monogamous Relationship Remain the Norm?

(The New Concept of Poly-amorism)

QUESTION:

No, but I would ask, in this new consciousness that we're moving into, is the one on one relationship going to remain common, the norm?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates in the negative. This Awareness says "No." The one on one monogamous relationship will not remain the norm. This Awareness wishes to introduce the concept of poly-amorism, as a new way of holding relationships, of the new norm coming for those who are ready to move in this direction. 'Poly' meaning 'many'; amorism, amour, meaning 'love'; Many loves, or many expressions of love; many variations on the theme of love.

This Awareness is not simply talking of promiscuity or multiple sexual partners, or certain sexual looseness. This is not what this Awareness is necessarily talking about, although it may fit in to the multiple individual expressions of poly-amorism. Poly-amorism is that ability to love more than one; that at this time what is held by the traditional understanding of relationship is that concept of one man/one woman in a monogamous relationship, and that monogamous relationship is meant to last the whole of the time the two individuals spend together.

It is also assumed that in that monogamous relationship that one individual will provide for the other all levels of experience needed by the individual in the journey of life. The understanding being that the spouse will be the true partner, the only partner for the duration of one's life, and provide all experiences, all that is needed. This is simply erroneous in nature. It is not adequate for the majority of people. Many find that their partners cannot deliver to them the variety of experiences needed in life for fulfillment and happiness, and yet the concept is that one must be that for the other in all ways, in all shapes, in all forms; that there is a high degree of disappointment when this is not so, and many thus seek outside of the relationship for fulfillment, meaning, purpose and happiness.

This is one of the primary reasons that so many are led astray, that so many become unfaithful to a partner, seeking affairs of the heart outside of a traditional monogamous relationship, for they simply are not happy or fulfilled in that relationship. Because of the many factors, they feel they cannot perhaps leave the marriage or the relationship, and so need to look outside of that relationship for new fulfillment and new happiness. There are many many individual reasons why individuals seek relationships outside of a relationship, but the thing that occurs most often is that there is a lack of honesty to this, and that those who do seek outside often do not share with their partner that they are indeed involved with anyone else outside of the partnership.

If discovered, this leads to a breakdown of the marriage, of the relationship, because the trust that might have been there, that was thought to be there, has been broken, and the individual who has been "cheated on", feels violated and injured. These are all aspects of a monogamous relationship. This Awareness wishes of course to state that this does not mean that all monogamous relationships are doomed to failure, for that simply is not so. For many, a monogamous relationship works, and that is fine.

This Awareness wishes the readers to understand that with the increase in consciousness, with the evolution of awareness and consciousness, that new concepts are being brought forth. As individuals evolve in spiritual awareness, their capacity to love more than one also increases. In some ways it can be seen that the unfolding of a higher sense of spiritual awareness and consciousness allows one to love on more than one level, and to love more than one. Hence the concept of poly-amorism: many loves.

There also goes with this a higher degree of responsibility, a higher degree of honesty with the partners that one has in one's life. This Awareness is not just advocating that one and all go seeking out other loves, other affairs, for again, this is not based on the higher level of consciousness and awareness, which would insist that were this to be so, there must be complete truth, complete honesty in a relationship, and a much higher degree of maturity in a relationship. Often what would destroy the relationship is when trust is broken, and if one engages in other relationships without being honest to one's partner, the one risks destroying the trust in a relationship, and destroying the relationship.

Awareness has Opened a New Kettle of Worms

If poly-amorism is to be the new way of things, then it must be understood that there must be a higher degree of honesty and truthfulness and a willingness to speak of issues that are normally taboo, that are normally not discussed for the reason of immaturity and a lack of confidence in oneself, and in the relationship. This is a kettle of worms that this Awareness has opened again, but this Awareness enjoys opening cans of worms and distributing the worms so that they can be dealt with.

There is more to be spoken on this concept of poly-amorism, but this Awareness wishes to check in with the energizer to see if this has explained sufficiently, that which the energizer asked.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed Itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. The Interpreters published herein have no connection with, nor control over the editorial comments and material, including illustrations. This is entirely the responsibility of the editor. Members of C.A.C. are invited to send in questions of general interest to ask Awareness for possible publication in this newsletter.

WISDOM OF AWARENESS:...

On the Cosmic Awareness Messages

... "the messages which this Awareness channels through Its Interpreters are not intended for the approval of the masses, they are intended to make entities aware, and to grow and develop. These messages may not become widely accepted by the masses for several hundred years.

The messages It gives are intended to help entities to learn to think in original ways, to examine, to question, and to become aware. The messages which were given through Edgar Cayce were appropriate for that time; however, that presently it is time to move on to other concepts.

What is of concern is that entities become aware of all that is occurring, so that they can better be equipped to respond from an aware position, rather than from a pre-programmed, assumed state of reality which, in fact, is not in touch with reality at all. (82-5)

THE CHILDREN OF THE NEW ENERGY

(More on the Crystal Children Now Coming In)

ENERGIZER:

Yes. Could I ask you to speak on the children of the new energy?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The children of the new energy; the Crystal Children; children being born with an elevation already of the consciousness and awareness. These are children who will be coming in and have already starting to come in with a greater perception and understanding of Spirit Itself, being children of Spirit. The Crystal children, who are now starting to be born, will become more the norm, and thus the children will be in alignment already with their higher awareness, their higher understanding of the truth of where they come from, of who they are, and what is.

So, in a manner of speaking, the children that will be coming forth and have started to come forth already to accompany the sweeping changes that are coming forward, already have in their being, and are of a nature, the higher consciousness. It will be the children who often are the teachers to many of the parents who are switching from old standards and old paradigms of belief, to those higher ones that are ready to evolve on this plane of existence. As emissaries of Spirit themselves, they will be well-suited for the raised consciousness and the new levels of awareness that will be the norm in the times ahead.

What Will Happen with the School System?

QUESTION:

Given the different labels of children coming in from Indigo to Crystal, to New Energy; the current school systems don't support so many different types of children. What is going to happen with the school systems? Currently they're set up in very very old energy, and the new energy children are having a difficult time, moreso when you have teachers advocating drugging your child, so that it will conform. What does consciousness have to say on this? Thank you.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness says that the traditional educational systems are also ready to collapse. They indeed, do not really work for many children. The current educational systems were designed to accommodate ten year old girls who could easily sit in a school setting, taking instructions passively, and regurgitating the information back at the request of the teachers. This is known as education. Stimulation of the mind and the provoking of new different thought is not the norm or the standard. Forcing children into a mold is what is actually practiced.

This is because this is still part of the dam of consciousness and awareness, of the creating of a reservoir of the masses, if you will, that has been used on the masses for so long that it is still at this point so. It cannot continue to be so, for as the masses break through the dam that has held them back for so long, as consciousness changes, as the sweeping changes come forth, there will indeed also be sweeping changes in the educational system. For awhile it is seen that perhaps the educational system will simply collapse as societal structure collapses; the society as it is now known disintegrates and disappears under the sweeping waters of change.

More Home Schooling Will Occur

In this case, more and more home schooling will occur. More children will be taught at home, or in smaller groups of concerned individuals, of teachers who, because they truly are teachers, simply bring children together in smaller settings for the purpose of training and teaching and educating. It will also be seen that many of the New Age children will themselves be seen almost as teachers. Children who have come who are those known as the Crystal Children, who have that highest degree of perception and understanding and memory of who they truly are as spiritual beings, will be able to teach this to adults who are themselves in the process of opening up to this truth of expanding into this awareness of their own self.

Thus, young children will take the hands of the adults and lead them forward in new perceptions, and new concepts and new thought. It is not seen that the school system as it is now supported and now exists will exist in the future in the same way. This is not to say that there will not be classes that are set up for children, to help children, but because the whole level of awareness and understanding will be so different in terms of education, the old paradigm of a class situation that is highly structured and is geared to the level of a ten-year old girl because of their passivity and the way they would like to be taught, will no longer be deemed as appropriate and new ways of educating and stimulating will come forward.

It is seen that one new way is that there will be more action and activity in the educational process. Little boys, who traditionally have not been suited for the passive educational system that now exists, will be encouraged to run and play, but in a way that leads them to their best way of learning, which is much more "hands on" in orientation. Little girls who perhaps enjoy a more passive way would be encouraged to learn this way, but equally, little girls who would be more active and enjoy a more active way of learning would be able to do it that way. There is no set boundaries, there is no rigid structure that is forced on all children.

An individual child will be seen analyzed as to its individual needs and requirements and an education set up around that child, not that the child is forced into a rigid structure. This simply will not longer be the case, and the educational system will look completely different to that which now is so.

Consciousness, Mind and Intellect

QUESTION:

Thank you. Could you differentiate between the consciousness and the mind, the intellect?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The mind is that part of the individual that in Huna terms is often considered the middle self: the identity, the id, the ego. The mind is that which gives the individual a sense of self, and can direct the individuals in ways that are appropriate to the individual. Consciousness is that level of awareness that lies beyond the mind. The mind can become conscious and self-aware. Consciousness goes beyond in that it reaches into other dimensional realities of awareness, and to be conscious is to be aware, to that which is the greater.

To be conscious is to be aware of oneself as more than just the body, more than just a role assigned by society. The mind will give direction to how to fulfill a role in society, for an example, if the role is that of husband, the mind will direct how that role is to be played out and fulfilled. Consciousness may indicate that there is more to life than simply being the husband. The husband has his own needs and requirements as an individual and consciousness is that state that allows one to strive for that which is greater, that which is beyond.

Without consciousness there would be no need to strive for anything. Then it would simply be okay to be in the state that one is in. This Awareness indicates that a stone is not conscious in the way that a human is conscious. It does indeed have a level of consciousness, but it is so radically different to the consciousness that defines a human being that for all intent and purposes, it does not have a mind to direct its evolution. A human being indeed has both the mind and consciousness.

Consciousness is that which directs the individual to strive for something greater, and the mind is that which will give the way forward of how to reach that which is greater, and also to reflect on that which is greater as an indicator of self. They are very interlinked of course. That is the unique nature of human beings; that they do have mind and consciousness and the two work together and it is the nature of a human being to always strive for a higher level of consciousness, to strive, to know more than itself in a rudimentary way.

There are also very many different levels of development of any single human being or of humans generally. Some have a highly developed spiritual awareness that pushes them forward to understand themselves in their higher context, and some humans are very rudimentary, very set on physicality as the way of things, with no apparent need to understand themselves in a higher way, so their level of consciousness is in some ways lower. One can understand that there are indeed levels of consciousness, as this Awareness has already indicated.

Rudimentary Consciousness in the Animal & Mineral World

Rudimentary consciousness such as that held at a level of mineral world is the consciousness of being. This consciousness moves forward, moves upward, so that the plant world holds a different level of consciousness.

The Highest Consciousness is Spiritual Awareness

The animal world also has a different level of consciousness. Even humans are at various stages. At this time the highest consciousness is that of spiritual consciousness, spiritual awareness, and many are awakening to this higher consciousness, this higher awareness and are now striving towards it, are indeed the cracks in the dam that this Awareness has spoken of earlier in today's session.

This need to expand naturally pushes the individual forward. The mind supports the journey often, but sometimes actually opposes the journey, especially if the mind and the unconscious or low self have not reached a level of awareness that allows a striving for higher consciousness. This Awareness feels complete with the answer to the question. If there is need for more, this Awareness is open to explain further.

Suppressing the Ego and Shut Off the Mind

("Take your head off and tuck it under your arm")

QUESTION:

Thank you. There are actually some teachings that would have people suppress their ego, and shut off their mind. There was a popular one I heard: "Take your head off and tuck it under your arm." How would you comment on that, if the mind is supporting consciousness? Also, there are people that would equate consciousness with IQ.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Consciousness is most definitely not IQ. IQ is simply a standard of measurement to determine how intelligent a person is. Intelligence is not consciousness. An intelligent being may be less conscious than someone who does not supposedly have an IQ, but simply is more spiritually aware at a more basic level perhaps. This concept of taking your head off, of disengaging the mind and putting it under your arm is in a way asking that the individual simply stop thinking.

This Awareness is indicating that this is an interesting concept, because what's really indicated here is that the ego, which is part of the mind, may become involved to such a degree in other concepts, other understandings that those understandings, those concepts, those beliefs interfere with an advancement forward into spiritual awareness and spiritual freedom, and that when the thinking rational logical mind becomes dominant, then it is appropriate to use this phrase, this saying to remove one's head, to disengage one's mind, to allow a deeper knowing, a deeper consciousness that supersedes logical rational thinking to indeed be more prevalent and more available, and this is then that understanding of letting go of the mind.

In terms of semantics, what is referred to, this Awareness is getting that the mind is perceived in a logical way, or is logic, is rational thought, is the masculine way of things and that this can be intrusive and prevent an opening to consciousness or to the flow of spiritual guidance that will lead one forward. This is not exactly that which this Awareness has suggested of mind, but it can be seen as part of the overall definition that some hold to the meaning of 'mind.'

Indeed, logic often holds old paradigms, old beliefs that are preventing one from moving forward, and these need to be disengaged, and broken through, so that this Awareness can support the statement that one disengages the logical mind to allow intuitive knowing, deep knowing, deep spiritual awareness to filter through and direct and guide the individual in the individual's journey toward spiritual evolution and spiritual freedom, to that higher level of consciousness that this Awareness has been speaking of.

This Awareness is complete and does feel the need to bring the session to a completion, unless there are any last questions.

ENJOY THE RIDE AS YOU SURF THE WAVES OF CHANGE

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness simply wishes to state that the times ahead are indeed interesting ones and has spoken of this concept before. This Awareness has presented an analogy today of a bursting dam, and that dam being that which has held back consciousness for such a long time, and consciousness being that which is leading mankind, humankind, forward at this time. This Awareness again advocates that all learn how to surf the waves of change that are coming and to indeed, enjoy the ride.

This Awareness is complete at this time.

The Cosmic Laws of Cosmic Awareness

The Law of Prosperity

The Law of Prosperity states that one prospers in direct proportion to the enjoyment one receives in seeing the prosperity of oneself and others. And that one's prosperity is denied in direct proportion to one's own feelings of guilt for being prosperous, or at the envy and hostility one feels on witnessing other's prosperity.

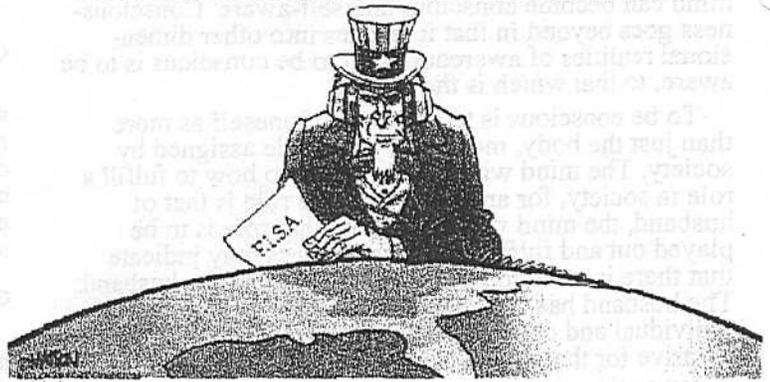

This Law states that when one prospers all may prosper. The Law of Prosperity works for those who hold images, feelings, actions, dialogue, and attitudes associated with beauty, joy, love and prosperity, and works against those who hold images, feelings, actions, dialogues and attitudes associated with ugliness, self-pity, complaints, envy and hostility toward oneself or any other person, group, race or class.

Those who think, feel, act and speak of themselves as being poor and needy must spend three times the energy for the same prosperity received by those who think, feel, act, and speak of themselves as being wealthy and prosperous. An attitude that dwells in depression leads the way to physical, spiritual, mental, social and financial depression.

Those who maintain prosperous attitudes, even in states of poverty, are foreign to such states and will not be allowed to remain out of place in those poverty situations, but will instead be deported to those prosperous states where such prosperous attitudes belong.

Health Hints From Personal Readings

(She's Almost Blind, Senile, Has Diverticulitis)

Please, a healing for my mother who is 84 years old. She is almost blind, has diverticulitis, and is almost senile. I am her legal guardian.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the general vitality of this entity as having weakened over many years of stress. This Awareness indicates the entity would benefit greatly from a good organic source of vitamins and minerals, particularly a natural source of iron. This Awareness indicates this may be purchased through certain health food stores wherein natural vitamins may be obtained. This Awareness suggests the entity will benefit also from the use of acidophilus culture; that wherein this acidophilus culture, which may also be purchased from health food stores, that wherein this is not available, the entity may receive this in part from yogurt, certain types of yogurt which contain the acidophilus culture, or that which is known as kefir.

This Awareness indicates the use of comfrey as a tea or spinach type food will benefit the entity also..

This Awareness suggests that the entity also will benefit in terms of greater vitality and energy through using cayenne pepper, lecithin, vitamin E. The vitamin E being used daily, approximately 1,000 to 2,000 units daily, the cayenne pepper approximately one teaspoon to one tablespoon daily - this may be taken in capsule form, that nucleic acid as also beneficial. This Awareness indicates a drink in the morning of orange juice with brewers yeast, olive oil, lecithin, mixed in a blender - the cayenne pepper can also be added. This Awareness indicates this as a drink which shall give nourishment. This Awareness suggests that no food be eaten for several hours after awakening.

This Awareness indicates that brief walks outside in fresh air shall also benefit the entity; that she may be accompanied during these walks. That walks into unfamiliar territory shall have a psychological effect of assisting the entity to find new interests in life. This Awareness suggests that this entity as being capable of healing herself on many levels. That during the sleeping time, the entity can, through prior suggestions before falling asleep, can bring great benefits to her physical form by suggesting that during the sleep, her form shall repair itself. This Awareness indicates that this Awareness shall also work with this entity during her sleep and bring comfort to the entity, as well as healing and rejuvenating forces. F770424PC

HOW ARE ALIEN THEMES "LEAKED" TO SCREEN WRITERS?

(How CAC Information Was Used in "War of The Worlds")

QUESTION:

A question from Judith Jones in New York City, regarding the recent reading on alien movies. She asks: "Exactly how are themes "leaked" into movies? How are they given to screen writers?"

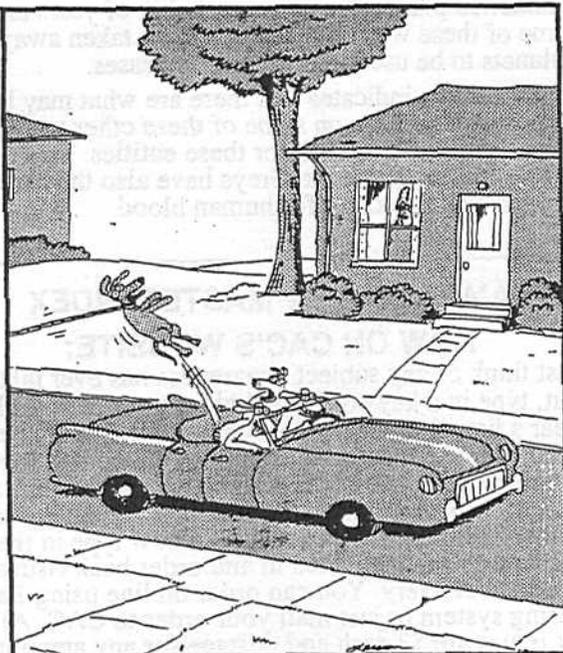

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that sometimes these entities receive messages or stories or have sources of information that are given to them, to the writers, either by friends who have connections or who have other associates involved in certain areas that provide information or they will perhaps come in contact with written material that is available and entities may funnel this to a writer, knowing that the writer is looking for good material for stories or movies.

This Awareness indicates that entities should be aware that War Of The Worlds used information that came directly from Cosmic Awareness Communications mailings as part of their source and inspiration in the stories that were portrayed on television. That this information was given by the entity Val Valerian of the Nevada Aerial Research group.

This Awareness indicates that the entities John Lear and William Cooper have given out enormous amounts of information in various directions and many people have received this information and some of it has gotten into the hands of writers and can serve as part of the basis for stories that are used in movies or written materials, but it is not necessarily a direct government leak that provides information, but it may well be an indirect leak such as from Lear or Cooper who have had some indirect access to government information.

This Awareness indicates that it can also come from other individuals who are not publicly known. This Awareness suggests that in earlier times, many of the stories were written from similar leaks in military or government agencies and the writers or the individuals leaking the information to writers may have given enough to provide a good story without giving away true military or government secrets.

This Awareness indicates the story series that ran sometime back known as "V" in which entities were from extraterrestrial areas as appearing to be human or humanoid, but in actuality, underneath, were reptilian or Reptoid; these as stories that were based on rumors released by entities who had an understanding of the Reptilian connection from Draco.

This Awareness indicates that even the story Enemy Mine refers to the Draconian Reptoid entity as the enemy who becomes a friend of the human as a "Drac" which is basically short for Draco. This Awareness indicates that whoever provided this information for this story must have known more than most people at the time understood about the Draconian Reptoids on earth. This Awareness indicates that this particular movie script was written in the early '80s before much was public about Reptoids, and before anything was publicized about the Reptoids being from Draco.

IN MOVIES WHY IS ONE TOPIC CONSPIRATORIAL AND OTHERS NOT?

QUESTION:

In a somewhat related question to the first one about leaking information... a question from Larry Hansen in New York. He writes: "Awareness, there is a new movie coming out by Albert Brooks, a comedy about what life is really life after a person dies, and has a responsibility of justifying their earth lives. Last year a movie called Ghost was extremely popular; that one dealing with a man who uses a channeler to communicate with his lover after he has passed over.

"During Christmas 1990 there were two very popular movies released that depicted life in the mafia; those being Godfather III and Good Fellas. Why is it that when movies or TV shows about aliens or UFOs are released for public consumption, Cosmic Awareness reminds us that there is a governmental influence concerning these productions to condition the masses slowly to begin to believe in extraterrestrials, but yet when other Hollywood trends occur, Awareness does not imply directly or indirectly that the government has an agenda to condition the masses to be open to the prospect that there is life after death or that high-ranking members of the mafia are secretly controlling the U.S. government from secret hideaways undergrounds?

"If the UFO movies are influenced and promoted by governmental interests, then what about the other images we see on our TV and movie screens? When discerning the symbolism behind the images, we expose ourselves to, how do we determine which are subliminal government messages and which are just pure creativity, uninfluenced by hidden agendas? Why is one topic portrayed as conspiratorial and not others?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

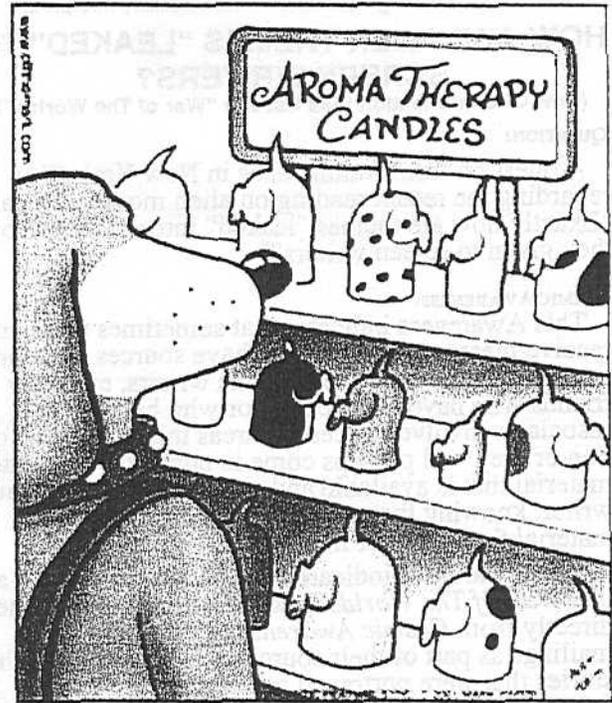

This Awareness indicates that not always are these UFO movies government inspired. This Awareness indicates also that the movie Ghost, for example, was inspired by an entity's own interest in the afterlife and had no connection with government affairs or concerns. This Awareness indicates the interest in the mafia by many entities is in that these movies are intriguing to them, and that they make good commercial movies.

This Awareness indicates that It simply gave some information that certain of the movies that are being released about UFOs have the blessing or sanction of government informants or sources. This Awareness indicates there is still of course many in the government who do not like these topics being made too public, but there is an interest by many in power to have the public become more used to the concept of UFOs so that the information can be released without the public going into heavy shock.

This Awareness indicates that if there has been a cover-up for some time which the government wishes now to uncover, it would make sense that they participate or help or encourage or leak information to those entities who might be helping to uncover the information without it being done officially so that the masses become prepared for the official disclosure of aliens on earth.

This Awareness indicates that the reasoning in this question is hard to follow. The question being: Why is it that Awareness suggests one type of movie is of government influence and other types of movies are not? It is simply that the other types of movies, perhaps are not influenced by government. This Awareness indicates it is not a matter of some rule being written somewhere that if the government influences one type of movie, they have to influence other types of movies also.

This Awareness does not follow the logic of the entity's argument.

What Do Reptoids On Other Planets Eat? ("Herds of Humans" Grown Like Livestock)

QUESTION:

Speaking of Reptoids, a question from Jack Manuel, Paramus, New Jersey. He writes: "I have read patiently CAC newsletters for the past 2 years. The point that puzzles me, and I would like to inquire of Awareness is: how can the Reptilians survive in their home planet without human flesh? There should be billions of Reptilians out there. Also, how can the Greys survive on their home planet without human blood?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the entity apparently has not been to these places to observe the civilizations. This Awareness indicates, and has indicated previously, that abductions of humans have been occurring from this and other inhabited planets for quite a number of years and that some of these who were abducted are taken away to other planets to be used in breeding processes.

This Awareness indicates that there are what may be termed herds of humans on some of these other worlds who are essentially livestock for these entities. This Awareness indicates that the Greys have also the use of cattle blood as a substitute for human blood.

THE COSMIC AWARENESS SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT COURSE

Gemini: Volume 3 Lesson Number 7

Question:

Awareness, we are here for the seventh lesson in the Correspondence Course under Gemini. The seventh lesson explores rules, laws, procedures, structured arrangements, and contracts, agreements, and systems as forms of communication.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests you consider the word 'commute' - commuting, communion, communication, commerce.

This Awareness suggests that communication may be likened unto traveling along a highway from one place to another. This Awareness indicates the cities may be likened unto reaching certain concepts; that various entities may cluster around these concepts as inhabitants of the city, or as visitors from various other concepts, to this particular concept, where together they look and experience that concept.

This Awareness indicates that entities may be likened unto vehicles moving from place to place: stopping, starting, traveling at various speeds according to their fuel energy, the condition of that vehicle, and the purpose of its being, as well as its size, shape, and efficiency. This Awareness indicates that wherein entities come together in a form of partnership, agreement, relationship, marriage, or contractual arrangement, certain lines of communication must be cleared to allow such entities to move along the highway of life together for the duration of the journey which they have agreed upon. This Awareness indicates that too often entities come together with the intention of traveling along the highway for a particular purpose, to reach a particular place, or to lean upon each other for support, only to find that they are more of a hindrance to each other than a help. This Awareness indicates that the communication between such entities often begins to break down and turn into competition. This Awareness indicates that this may be likened unto vehicles moving along the highway, going in the same direction, but competing in terms of speed, in terms of cutting each other off in the conversation or in the expression of each other, in terms of throwing blocks down from a cliff into the path of the entity, in terms of creating barriers, detours, fences, walls to trap the other entity to prevent the entity from traveling freely.

This Awareness suggests that too often relationships become more of a hellish experience than a communion and joy of free travel through life. This Awareness suggests that when entities enter into a relationship with great expectations and soon find that their expectations are not being fulfilled by the other, the resentment begins to build, resistance comes into being, rebellion follows, and regret follows this. This Awareness suggests that these four R's become a vicious circle creating an intensification of resistance, resentment, rebellion, and regrets.

This Awareness suggests that when communication comes into play, conversation is allowed, comprehension begins to surface, and co-creative experience follow. This Awareness suggests that through the action of communicating, the highways may be cleared, the paths may be opened, and entities may travel freely. This Awareness suggests that rules of the highway must be created and agreed upon which allows entities to communicate freely, yet within certain limits for the good of all. This Awareness suggests the following procedure may benefit entities who would like to have clearer communication paths in their relationship.

This Awareness suggests the first step as that which brings entities to an agreement that they would like to be able to communicate more clearly with one another and that they are willing to move in an action which brings about clearer communication.

The second step is to determine that each party shall be allowed time and space to communicate, but that the intense hazards of the deepest levels shall be put off while a system or procedure for communication is established and worked out between the parties.

The third step is to determine the procedure which allows for the communication. This Awareness suggests that this procedure may involve having a third, unbiased party present, or may be one wherein the two entities seeking to learn to communicate simply create a set of rules which gives each the time and space to express his or her feelings within certain limits agreed upon by both, particularly those limits which do not touch upon the hazardous levels of the relationship.

This Awareness suggests that the fourth step to be the listing by each party of a group of words - a list of words - which each person involved feels is a key word in terms of actions in the communication that cause a blockage. This Awareness suggests the words may relate unto forces in the relationship which cause an entity to feel frightened or unable to express clearly. This Awareness suggests the words being on the order of the following: fear, threats, intimidation, the fear of being bullied by one who is physically stronger, feelings of inadequacy in terms of usage as compared to the other party, feelings of resentment for things of the past, words related unto loudness of the other party - the volume of the voice, the intensity of the demands, the energy level of an entity who cannot continue a struggle in communication, the feelings of guilt, desires which threaten, the feeling of inadequacy in meeting another's demands, confusion in terms of what is expected, confusion in terms of one's identification - who one is, uncertainty in terms of the role expected and possessive expressions which stifle one from saying what he or she would like to say, the feelings of being rejected by the other, and feelings transferred from another person onto this person, assuming that because other persons were like this, this person also should be this way. This Awareness suggests there may be other blocks which stand in the road to clear communication. This Awareness suggests you take your time and list these blocks which hinder you from speaking clearly to the other.

The next step is to bring these lists together, discuss these aspects of the relationship and to agree temporarily to avoid using any of these blocks or allowing any of these blocks to enter into your conversation as you work out your map and pathways together. This Awareness suggests that you consider these blocks as being likened unto rocks in the road, and remove all rocks which appear as blocks - these having their labels of blaming, intimidation, coercing, threatening, and so forth - from the path before you, so that together you can move on to other levels and communicate objectively without blocking each other's expressions. This Awareness suggests that once this is cleared, that entities seeing these blocks being thrown by each other, to bring this out and say, "You have blocked me."

This Awareness suggests that as the communication continues and these blocks are pointed out, and as the blocks are thrown less and less and removed more and more from the path, there comes about the possibility for discussion of the deeper and more meaningful levels of the relationship.

This Awareness indicates this next step as that which discusses the purpose and direction of the travel of each vehicle: Where do you want to go? Where have you come from, and where am I going, and where have I come from? This Awareness indicates that it is important for each party to be able to share with the other the things of the past - where they have originated, in terms of emotional problems, in terms of various hang-ups, in terms of various desires and needs.

This Awareness suggests that it is also important for entities in looking at the past to recognize that the past may be following them and may be projected upon the present relationship. An entity traveling from a concept of a situation that has brought bitter pain or sorrow or frustration, may project all of this garbage upon the entity present in this relationship now. Yet that entity in the present relationship may not deserve, or may not in any way have been connected with the previous garbage. This Awareness suggests that you look carefully and ask yourself if you are expecting this entity to fulfill the needs or to take revenge for something which you feel and which you inherited or brought forth from a previous relationship.

This Awareness suggests once this is seen, this too removes a certain kind of block from the relationship and allows greater communication. This Awareness suggests that then you discuss where you want to go, and each party involved may discuss the feelings they receive from the other party in terms of what the various actions of the other party do:

How do I feel when you say that?

Here's what I feel when you leave and go off on that side road and do what you do.

Here is what I feel when you ram your vehicle into my path and violate my space.

Here is what I feel when you steal the gas and fuel and energy from my vehicle in order to use it in yours, without first clearing it and discussing it with me.

Here is what I feel when you bring your load of garbage or your possessions or responsibilities and dump them into my vehicle for me to carry for you.

This Awareness suggests that you express these feelings in terms of how you feel about this, rather than in terms of accusations and blaming. This Awareness suggests that you not seek to make the other entity feel to blame, feel guilty, or feel responsible for your feelings, but that you simply let the other entity know how you feel.

This Awareness suggests that you let the other entity know how you feel about having your time tied up, having your vehicle hindered, your travel and movement hindered, and having certain responsibilities given to you which you did not agree upon. This Awareness suggests also that you consider and discuss the responsibilities of the two of you, and how you may move along the highway sharing that load in a manner that is fair and proper. This Awareness suggests that once this is cleared and discussed freely, and each party understands the feelings of the other, it may be discovered that one party demands more, feels more intense, and desires more than the other; that the other is capable of taking on heavier loads and can be more responsible, and that the one party is more carefree, likened unto a sports car, squirreling around, doing nothing but frivolous actions, while the other party may be likened to a heavy truck pulling a heavy load.

This Awareness suggests that the action then may center around a discussion of whether or not this kind of relationship is workable, how much each party is willing to share and change, and whether it is appropriate for the truck to carry the load of the small sports car.

This Awareness suggests that there is no "should" or "should not" in a cosmic sense, which says entities should carry truck loads of production and should not be frivolous - this as a matter of choice. However, there is the cosmic law that entities be clear with one another as to what they will and will not do, how they will and will not relate with one another, and that these communication lines be open and subject to change without deception of one entity to another.

This Awareness suggests that entities now clearing their relationship, comprehending each other's levels of performance and interest, may begin to discuss where they are going. The entity in the small, frivolous sports car may desire to move off in a tangent and visit a small town, enter into a shopping or spending spree, enter into an action that seems to the large truck carrying his heavy load, to be but frivolous and unnecessary. The entity within the sports car, moving through the pleasure and joy experience, may see the old trucker as being but a stodgy, serious, and very unpleasant creature. If this is the case, these descriptions may be discussed and the entities explain their various points of view.

This Awareness indicates that you do not need to fulfill each other's expectations, nor to give of yourself that which you cannot give - but it is essential that you listen to each other as you express your needs, and that you listen with a clarity and a sensitivity, without feeling that the words of the other are a threat to you, or that you must fulfill those desires and must perform according to the expectations of the other.

This Awareness suggests that once this is looked at and discussed, the discussion may again arise as to whether or not you wish to carry this relationship further down the road, or just allow each other to move in various separate directions and perhaps come together in another city at another time.

This Awareness suggests that if the relationship is now determined to continue, the ways of communicating may be established which considers how is the energy of each party being shared in terms of the relationship: is the trucker (the entity being fully responsible and serious about duties), is this entity paying for the energy being thrown about frivolously by the small sports car, or is the energy of the entity in the sports car being such that through that frivolity there are other energies which are bringing forth new types of experiences and other energy? Are these energies being stimulated in a manner that will benefit the trucker and allow his or her life to become more pleasant and enjoyable? A discussion of where these energies are coming from, what kind of energies they are, and how they may work to enhance each other, may then ensue.

This Awareness suggests that there need be no guarantee that an entity will follow along in the lane next to you and always be there for your service. There is no guarantee that the entity will travel every step of the way with you, that what you are doing deserves to have an accomplice, to have a team-mate likened unto horses tied together. This is not a necessity in having a good, close relationship with another. The necessity is only found in keeping the communication open, whereby entities can discuss easily and clearly, without fear, those things which need to be discussed; wherein one entity feels insecure at the loss of another, even for a temporary moment - if this insecurity can be shared with the other without fear, this then can bring forth a communication that says, "Let's look at this insecurity and see if we can find a way to rid you of it. You need not be afraid of my temporary absence."

This Awareness indicates that wherein one entity is possessive of another, or resentful of another, the communication can center on the discussion of "Why do you feel a need to possess me? Do you fear I will leave? Why do you resent my actions? Is there something I have done that has hurt you? If so, tell me about it." This Awareness suggests that in sharing your feelings with one another, in understanding the concept of relationship which holds closely with open arms, allowing the other to come and go freely, but allowing communication to be the tie, allowing sensitivity to be the bond, love can begin to grow, and entities who thought they loved each other previously, only to find that their love was insecurity or a need to rely on another, may discover a new kind of love that takes place within themselves as a realization that communication is love, communication is marriage, and the two (love and marriage) can be found through communication, and that all entities may love one another and may be married to one another in certain levels, according to the degree of communication. This Awareness suggests that the actions of communication are such as to create the various agreements between entities, and that every aspect of agreement which comes about through clear communication can bring entities that much closer to one another.

IS THERE A SINGULAR GOD THAT DIDN'T HAVE TO BE CREATED?

QUESTION:

Another question from Larry Kell in Indiana. He writes "The answer to my question about another god raises more questions. If there is no singular god now, was there ever? Or did a collective Divine Force arrive as a whole at the beginning? Later in the answer the Awareness gave "It takes a God to create a God." This seems to say there was a God that didn't have to be created, which is even more difficult to comprehend. So if God is a collective force now, does this mean our souls were created? God gradually split up into more and more parts? In this collective form, do all the parts ever act together? Is this force able to create anything new in its collective form? If the collective Divine Force wanted to create a new form of life on earth or create more stars and planets, could that be done?"

Ed's Note: Larry's original question was printed in Revelations of Awareness 2006-6 on page 3.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness enjoys the questions of this entity. This Awareness puts forth Its image: It is laughing at the questions in mirth and enjoying the complexities of the question and the convolutions of this entity's mind; how it grapples with these concepts and these questions. And again, this Awareness thanks this entity for these questions and for the previous questions he sent in. There were several questions contained in the body of questions presented, and this Awareness would prefer to start at the beginning and take each question separately to answer them. This Awareness asks now for the repeat of the first part, and the first part only of the questions offered by this entity.

WAS THERE EVER A SINGULAR GOD?

QUESTION:

"The answer to my question about another god raises more questions. If there is no singular god now, was there ever?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to respond to this. Was there ever a singular God? Was there ever a singular entity or force from which everything else emanates? The simplest answer to that question is "Yes." There was a singular point of consciousness, of awareness, that suddenly knew itself, and in the knowing of self, then it reached out and wondered if it was alive and conscious and if there were other forms of consciousness out there. This singular point of awareness was that moment that the God Force, the Divine, the Supreme, the All and the Everything, knew Itself, and it was at that point of knowing that It reached out to know if there was another out there that knew itself.

The Christian Term for God is Inaccurate

Even in that process of seeking and reaching out in the thought process of wondering if there was another, It created the other, and it is from this point that another god was created. In some ways, using the word "God", a god, infers a Christian concept of a singular deity, a force very similar to physical beings that somehow are slightly beyond the physical. This is indeed inaccurate and erroneous. Using words to describe this is inaccurate as words are in themselves erroneous and limited and do not truly convey that which occurred, for this cannot be conveyed in words alone.

This Awareness simply offers concepts by which to imagine or understand that which was the original process, the original instant of Creation, of the coming into being of consciousness. At one moment there was, and at the next moment there wasn't. And at the next moment there was. This relates to that which this Awareness has offered before; that of the creation of the universe. In every four quadrillionth of a second, the universe blinks off, the universe blinks on. This is something like what occurred. One moment there was not, and the next moment there was. One moment it came into being and then this pattern has repeated itself ever since.

The God became aware of itself, the God Force, and then next It sought another expression of self and blinked out again, to blink on. This is a very abstract concept, but this Awareness offers it so that the membership, the readers, can start to envision or conceptualize how consciousness clicked into being in an instant, quicker than an instant, and simply was, and in that instant, sought to know Itself, sought to know expressions of Itself, and thus began a creation of other entities, other beings that were expressions of Itself.

Every instant It clicks out, every four quadrillionth of a second that it goes to the other side, if you will, is simply the God Force energy creating Itself and expanding Itself. That Awareness wishes to move to the next question in this huge question presented by this entity.

DID A COLLECTIVE DIVINE FORCE ARRIVE AS A WHOLE AT THE BEGINNING?

(More on the "Big Bang" Theory)

QUESTION:

"Or did a collective Divine Force arrive as a whole at the beginning?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Given the explanation already presented it would be hard to see a collective Divine Force arrive as a whole in the beginning. This Awareness would say "no" to that concept, but that this collective Divine Force emerged out of that original blinking on, that original knowing of self. As this Original Force sought to know Itself even more, It created that whole self, that collective of selves knowing Itself. This is an expansive process. The Big Bang theory somewhat is an attempt to understand this very process. The original spark occurred, and then there was an expansion from that original spark, from that original bang, and this expansion continues to roll out, and roll out, and roll out, at the same time blinking out and blinking in and blinking out with that speed that is so staggering that most cannot even begin to conceptualize how quickly this happens.

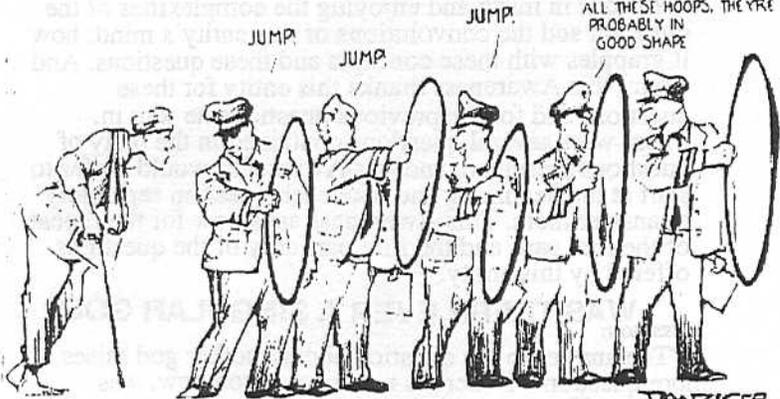

The Analogy of a Photographic Film as a Hologram

This Awareness uses now the analogy of a film. Each film segment is a snapshot, a picture, if you will, pieced together, one after another sequentially, and run at a speed that gives the impression of continuous motion, and yet, if one would, one can see each picture, and between each picture is a little line, a space that leads then into the next picture, that is slightly different than the preceding picture, but the subtlety is such that there is not much availability to see the difference. It is seen as a continuous flowing motion, but brought to this level of perception, one sees a pause between each and every frame.

This is how the universe also operates, the hologram, if you will, operates. There are always little pauses between the next frame, the next action, the next event, but that it is always seen as continuous, and the continuous action is that of expansion, the expansion outwards, the creation of the various levels of consciousness: consciousness knowing itself, consciousness creating itself, consciousness creating other levels of consciousness, co-creating with the original Master Creator, the original spark, the original bang from which all is expanding outward, all is part of the creative process, because there truly is no such thing as time. Everything is occurring in the Eternal Moment, the Eternal Instant, the Eternal Blink of the Cosmic Eye, if you will.

The Military Medical System

I ALWAYS FIGURE IF THEY CAN JUMP THROUGH ALL THESE HOOPS, THEY'RE PROBABLY IN GOOD SHAPE

Thus, it could be seen that there was a group that appeared to co-create on that level, but in truth, it is also part of the expansion that is instantaneous in nature. This Awareness feels that It is complete with this part of the explanation at this time and wishes to move to the next question given.

"IT TAKES A GOD TO CREATE A GOD"
(Larry Wants an Explanation)

QUESTIONER:

"Later in the answer the Awareness gave-- " It takes a God to create a God." This seems to say there was a God that didn't have to be created, which is even more difficult to comprehend. So if God is a collective force now, does this mean our souls were created?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that there are too many convolutions in that question. It wishes to simply go to the first part of the question, of a singular god. Please state just the first part of the question dealing with that.

"This Awareness states: " It takes a God to create a God."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to make comment. It has already spoken of this. It was not a God, but a concept, a conception, a blinking into awareness, into consciousness that first occurred, and this consciousness sought to know itself so it created the next level of its own knowing, as it sought to find others of like consciousness, of like existence. This is a very difficult concept to truly explain. As this Awareness has said: "The words sometimes fail." But it was not an entity that emerged, but rather a thought, an awareness of self, and thus a seeking of self, that thus created another god to accompany it on the journey, another God Force, another thought, another concept, another expression of consciousness, of God knowing Itself, of Consciousness knowing Itself, of the spark knowing itself.

This Awareness wishes now to go to the next aspect or level of this question.

A GOD THAT DIDN'T HAVE TO BE CREATED IS IMPLIED

QUESTIONER:

"This seems to say there was a God that didn't have to be created."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Again, using that concept "There was a God that didn't need to be created" does not really capture what happened. This Awareness simply suggests that consciousness came into being and sought to know itself. Did it need to create Itself? The answer is "Yes" because it sought to know Itself. It sought to duplicate Itself. It sought to create Itself or an expression of Itself so that It might know Itself even better, so It did need on some level to create Itself.

Please continue.

QUESTIONER:

"...which is even more difficult to comprehend. So if God is a collective force now, does this mean our souls were created?"

COSMIC AWARENESS

There is no real question there, but this Awareness wishes to make comment anyway. There is indeed a singular concept that knew Itself originally, that evolved into a collective concept that knew Itself collectively, that evolved into the emergence of a soul consciousness that sought to know Itself and express Itself and expand Itself, that sought to create individuals of the soul that were the expression of the soul, which is part of the collective, which is part of the singular, which is part of the Godhead, which is part of the Everything.

This is a continual loop, a complete whole. Thus, when this Awareness expresses that the individual is the God expressed in the physical, it truly is so, even if the individual does not know this, remember this or accept this. This does not deny the truth of this statement that the individual, each and every individual, is an expression of the whole, is an expression of the Everything and the All, is an expression of God in Its most extreme supreme expression of Everything. This Awareness hopes that this answers somewhat the confusion of this entity in this matter.

This Awareness wishes to move forward, and to complete this question, or to complete for today, that which this question is about.

When God Split Up Into Collective Form Do All the Parts Ever Act Together?

QUESTIONER:

Okay. "God gradually split up into more and more parts. In this collective form, do all the parts ever act together?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to stop at this point and state that it cannot be other than all the parts acting together. All the parts constitute the whole, the whole of the Everything, and yet, each part is unique. Each part is individual. Each part is the whole, in and of itself.

The Hermetic Concept of "As Above, So Below"

This Awareness wishes to express that which is known as the Hermetic concept of "As Above, So Below!" Each and every individual part, be it an individual human, is a part of the whole, but so are all the animals, so are all the trees. So is each and every planet in this vast collection of the billions and trillions of planets. Each is part of the whole, and each is whole in itself, in its own part.

This Awareness wishes to express the magnificence and the magnitude of this. This entity Larry Kell is allowing himself to be overwhelmed, when the concept is very simple: "As Above, So Below!" The collective nature of the universe is simply a wholeness in itself, just as each and every individual is a wholeness in themselves, and all is part of the whole, and all is part of the everything and of the All That Is the Original Spark, the Original Creation, the original Godhead, the God Force; that Which Is Everything and All.

Please continue.

Is This Force Able to Create Anything New?

QUESTIONER:

"Is this force able to create anything new in its collective form?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This force is always creating new. The newest expression is always available. Every instant of every day, of every month, of every year, of every eon; this force always expands. This force always creates that which is new as It seeks to know Itself ever more, ever greater. It is always seeking that and creating that which is the newest expression of the soul, of the Divine, of the Everything and of the All.

Please continue.

Can the Divine Force Create More Planets?

QUESTIONER:

"If the collective Divine Force wanted to create a new form of life on earth or create more stars and planets, can that be done?"

This is in the affirmative. In line with the answer just given, this is indeed what always does happen. There is always new life being discovered on this planet. There is always new forms of existence that are being created. This is an ongoing continuous process that will go on and on and on, until that moment when the breath is taken back in and the contraction begins. This is a form of breath.

The Kali Yuga--The Divine Breath

There is that which is known as the Kali Yuga; the Divine Breath. The outward breath, and the inward breath. This is still a time of outward breath in the evolutionary process of the universe, of the cosmos. It is the God expanding outward, breathing outward, knowing Itself, creating Itself, creating the expansion, creating new life on all levels continuously, as It seeks to expand outward as the breath is exhaled outward.

At some time, and at some moment there is a pause in the breath, and the breath is drawn back in, and the reverse process is then experienced, and that which is the grand cycle of the Kali Yuga, the breath is outwards, but eventually will return inwards. The cycle is complete, only to begin again. That in/out action, the blinking on and off of the universe, the cosmos, the Everything; it is always an expansion and then a contraction; the breath going out, the breath coming in. Things are always in a state of flux. That which is new and needed in the consciousness is created and then brought back.

This Awareness asks now to complete this concept, to complete the understanding by simply focusing for a moment on the breath; to breathe out, and now to breathe in. Understand that this is the rhythm of life. "As above, so below." As the breath is given, so is it returned, and the cycle of life is complete. This Awareness asks if there is any more to the question or if it is complete.

QUESTIONER: This question is complete.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness thanks the energizer for being patient with a very difficult series of questions that were meant to tackle a very difficult abstraction, a very difficult concept, that being the very nature of God, the God Force and the existence of the life that is that expression of the God, that is the expression of the Everything and the All and how it all works.

This Awareness is complete with this question at this time and wishes to take a pause for a moment.

This Awareness is complete for today. The energizer Tammy has the need to leave soon, and this Awareness understands that the Interpreter is ready to come out of the channeling process. This Awareness gives thanks to both energizers for holding this space, and wishes to complete the cycle of events that is this reading, that is this channeling, with thanks. This Awareness is complete at this time. This Awareness asks that the Law of Gratitude be read at this time.
