A Message of Hope for the Lightworkers

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does indeed have an opening message for this session today. It is a message of hope. It is a message designed to help the many Light Workers, the many Wanderers who are deeply impatient at this time, and who are perhaps uncertain and confused in their roles, or even if they are truly being of service, for it appears to many that nothing is happening at this time. Perhaps even the opposite to and advancement towards Ascension, towards greater human consciousness and awareness is happening.

The forces that dictate what happens on the planet, the tyrannical forces, the Dark Ones, the Powers That Be seem to be unimpeded in their actions, and it often appears that they and they alone seem to be having effect, and the effect of their actions creating more chaos, confusion, damage, and violence in the world at this time. Those who are the Light Workers and the Wanderers, those who are here at this time, who chose incarnation on this planet for this special period, are not seeing often the results that they felt should be manifesting at this time.

Many Lightworkers Wish to be Taken Home Now

They see the actions of the Dark Forces seemingly unimpeded, seemingly manifesting, and this creates not only confusion, but also despair and despondency. Thus it is that many of the Light Workers at this time are feeling this doubt and uncertainty. Many wish to be taken home now, for if nothing is to come of their actions and hopes and desires, why stick around, and stay on a planet that is a planet of pain and confusion, doubt, violence and all else that highlights the planet Earth at this time?

The message of hope this Awareness has at this time is that much of what is being perceived is illusionary. Those powers that be do still have control of the world's media. The stories written and reported in the papers, and on the TV screens and over the radio waves are still very much manipulated by those Powers That Be. It is only over the Internet that one gets a glimmering of some of the underlying events that are also occurring. The sites are multiple to those energies of Ascension and change that are also taking place on the planet.

Many of the Light Workers are isolated and insular in their lives. Many do not have a circle of support around them, and for those in such isolated conditions viewing the mass media, it is often hard to remember, or even sometimes to believe that changes are taking place, and that the planet's consciousness is advancing. It must always be remembered that there are two waves of consciousness: one that is advancing forward, seeking the higher expression of consciousness that marks the Ascension process, and one that is stagnant and does not seek to progress or move forward, but rather seeks only to maintain the status quo, for it is still thought and believed that this is reality.

For those who are moving forward in consciousness, the gap between the two levels of awareness is increasing daily, and many are feeling they are no longer in synch with how their family and friends and relatives and society think and act. This too contributes to the sense of despair, isolation and confusion. Added to all of this is a situation that is also occurring, which has been described on the site www.whatsuponplanetearth.com by the entity Karen Bishop, as being a situation where those who are of a higher consciousness are also at a higher vibration and that they return to third dimensional consciousness, which is of a lower vibration, a greater density, and it is very hard when those who are vibrating at that higher frequency have to immerse themselves in the lower third dimensional vibrations and frequencies.

It is hard because they are already largely free, and yet the planet as a whole has not yet ascended. There are still tasks to be accomplished in the denser third-dimensional frequencies and vibrations. There are those who are still in need of education and support who are seeking to break free and break through. There is work yet to be done at that third dimensional vibration. Thus it is that many of the Light Workers, returning into the more dense vibrations, surrounded by those who inhabit and swim in the denser vibrations and call it home, feel this sense of not accomplishing the goals and the purpose of Ascension.

Lightworkers and Wanderers Are Under Attack Today

It is much easier for those who have around them others of like-mind and like-spirit, for what is most needed at this time is support by fellow Wanderers and Light Workers. This makes the journey that much easier, yet even in such a context there are often problems also, for the Light Workers themselves are still basically under attack. This Awareness wishes to state that in some ways the intensity of the attack on the Light Workers and Wanderers at this time is more extreme than it has ever been before.

The goals are that much higher at this time. Those forces that are of darkness, of the lower vibrations, whose intent and desire is to maintain the status quo of ignorance, control and manipulation, have a vested interest in at the very least side-tracking, if not destroying those Light Workers who are in doubt and not certain at all that anything is happening. This is why this Awareness has chosen to speak on this matter at this time: to help the Light Workers and Wanderers and all those who are seeking to expand in consciousness, to understand that these are dangerous times, and to understand that often that feeling of loss, hopelessness, and even a disbelief that anything is or could happen, is working in the hands of those very beings who would like the Light Workers to believe that this is so.

Those Who Are Most Isolated are Most Vulnerable

This Awareness indicates that the danger to the Light Workers, to Wanderers and to those who are seeking to be part of the Ascension process or feel that they are part of that process to help many move forward at this time, is that in this period of danger, those who are most isolated are most vulnerable. Those who are in groups of like-minded individuals, like-spirited individuals, have a greater resilience to these attacks, but even so, such groups can also be infiltrated and misdirected. At this time this Awareness asks all to develop the inner quality and inner capacity to connect to the Highest Source Within, to the High Self Within, and to begin the long process of truly trusting one's own inner guidance, especially if one always asks for the Highest Guidance, for the Light of Spirit, the Light of this Awareness to help one understand the truth of the events that are happening in one's life as well as the events that are happening in society.

It's Time to Truly Trust Your Inner Guidance

The development of this capacity to the highest degree will ensure that that the individuals move forward into the Light versus being sidetracked or detoured because they have lost their faith through situations of their life where it did not appear that anything of consequence was happening because they were still too tied into the reports of the Dark Forces, or because they have trusted others who purported to be of the Light, but who themselves had been misguided. It is no longer good enough to simply follow the lead of others who profess to have the answers, to be aware or to be the servants of God, or even of the Light of Spirit.

What must now be is a checking in, always, to information that has been provided by others who express that they are a channel to high sources, high consciousness, and high beings and entities. Once one checks in, trust what is being received. If the indication is such that the information appears to be valid and feels right, then be open to it, take it in, but remember always to question. This Awareness has always stated not to simply believe that which this Awareness has spoken. The 20% law does apply. There is a margin of at least 20% in inaccuracies, in what is perceived by the Interpreter or Interpreters, to the messages of this Awareness.

How to Avoid Being Prey to Misinformation

Therefore, to be open does not suggest that one totally gives up one's power and simply becomes a blind follower, believing all. It suggests that one is open to consider what has been said, and thus to seek confirmation elsewhere, to seek a deeper understanding both from within and without. This way, if the information presented is erroneous for whatever reason, this being all channeled sources, not only this Awareness, but all sources from those who profess to be interpreting for entities or beings or agents outside of themselves, then one will not necessarily fall prey to misinformation or to the manipulations of those who hold power and are seeking to misguide and mislead the Light Workers.

Much Misinformation and Much Truth is on the Internet

This is imperative at this time, for so many factors are occurring in these End Times that can lead one astray, that it is as this Awareness has said, imperative to develop the Inner Source, to trust that Inner Source before and beyond all external sources of information. This will help to always give one a sense of the accuracy and truth of anything read or reported, especially now over the Internet. While this is perhaps the only true source as a medium of information to alternative reporting, there is much misinformation on the Internet also. There is at the same time much that is of high worth and high quality.

By developing this inner censor, this inner ability to detect BS and misinformation, both on the Internet as well as on the airways and in the presses of the papers of the nation, then one will have a better chance of moving forward. One may not be so overwhelmed by all the negativity and the false reporting that is going on. These are indeed the End Times, and those who are working to help the many come through these End Times and find that higher level of consciousness and to Ascend, are being challenged. Remember, intent is always important: the intent to be open to the highest information, the highest consciousness, and the highest spiritual quality.

These are the End Times and Very Challenging

To hold such intent would be the same as putting a beacon ahead of oneself that will always guide the individual to the beacon of intent and desire, and in this case, that beacon is the intent and desire to reach that higher level of consciousness and the freedom of Ascension. These are indeed challenging times, but as they are the End Times, it is only a matter of time now before one has come through these challenging times and leaves them behind. That is indeed a worthy goal to keep in mind and to strive for.

This Awareness is complete and is now ready for questions.

What Are "Guides" and What Do They Do?

QUESTION:

Thank you Our first question comes from Kathy Kevany, in Silver Springs, Maryland. Her question concerns God, guides and free will. She writes, "I read years ago that our guides are limited in what they can do for us because of our free will, but that if you give them permission, there is more they can do. When I do my affirmation several times a day, I often give my guide permission to do whatever she can do to help me on a certain problem. Is that true? Does that really work? Maybe I don't need to do that." And she signs it "Kathy."

And as an afterthought, can this be likened unto a "Let go and let God!" scenario? Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

First of all, this Awareness wishes to express that there are very many variations on this theme. The first thing that this Awareness wishes to talk about is the matter of guides, and what they are, and what they represent. Guides are those non-corporeal beings, those entities that are seeking to assist individuals who have a level of awareness and understanding in the journey that is the physical journey of their life. There are different levels and gradients of guides appropriate to the station an individual is in at a particular time in their life.

This would be akin to the educational process that takes a young child and steps up their education as they advance in years. Thus it is that the teacher who teaches at the kindergarten level is qualified to teach the young child those basic principles and skills needed by that child at that time. When one completes the time of kindergarten, they advance to the next level, to grade one, and the teacher at grade one teaches greater skills, greater wisdoms. This process steps up over the 12 years or so of formal education that is available to most children. Various countries of course have various systems in place for how long a child goes to school, but generally, it is a 12 year process that is not even sometimes complete at the end of grade 12, or the 12th year, for then one steps up into colleges or universities or technical schools. The teachers available at those levels again are specific to the level the child or the individual needs at that time.

Guides are similar in this way. Those guides given to a soul who is beginning the journey, and has reached that point of awareness that is expanded enough to be open and aware of guides, draws to them at first preliminary guides who are to help them in the preliminary stages. As one moves forward, the guides often will change to accommodate the individual as they step up to the next level. The concept of giving over to a guide may work to some degree, but it may also be the initiatory process that steps the individual up to another level, thus drawing in a new guide.

All Individuals Do Have Guides Around Them

Hand in hand with this is this concept and matter that this Awareness has just finished speaking on: the development of the inner capacity, the inner censor, the inner guidance. All individuals do have guides around them, specific and general, to help the individual in their journey of conscious development. Thus it is that when one asks the guide to provide the deeper information one is starting to develop that trust process of the Inner Source of guidance that is available to all, versus turning outwards and trusting the guidance others receive, whether through a metaphysical process, or even guidance from our political leaders as understood in a society. The turning outside is not highly recommended any longer, for there is not the level of integrity any longer that once was.

Guides Are Different From One's Higher Self

These times necessitate the inner process, the working with the guides from within, expanding in consciousness, moving up the levels to higher and higher guides. Hand in hand to this is the working with the Higher Self of the individual. Guides are distinctly different than one's Higher Self, and the Higher Self must also be connected to the individual's life in a relevant and immediate way. With the development of the capacity to work with the High Self on an immediate daily level, and with the capacity to be open to the guidance being provided by those guides that are around the individual, both as an individual guide as well as a general circle of guides that back up the individual guide, both processes must be undertaken and trusted more and more, and the inner guidance will always cue an individual to the information being received from whatever source, so that they may be in a better position to trust the validity of such information or to dismiss it as invalid, for whatever reasons.

Why Free Will is Important Here

The matter of free will is extremely important here, for the individual is always free to believe or disbelieve, to trust the inner guidance or to not trust it. In the process of building trust, this Awareness would recommend the same concept that it has put out for the information this Awareness provides, to be open to what is given, but then to seek confirmation in one's life, in the events and circumstances, even in consulting other inner guides, or one's High Self. Generally speaking, once one has developed a sense of communication to the High Self, this source, beyond and before even the guides, is that source which is the most accurate for an individual.

One Can Reach One's High Self Much Faster Today

The problem is to develop a sense of what it feels like to be in communication with the High Self. This does take a period of time. At this time there is an accelerated process for those who are seeking to truly come into communication and harmony with their High Selves. Previously, this process was a long and drawn out one that took many years of focus and intent. Now the process has speeded up considerably because of the times themselves, and it is now possible for one to develop the sense of the High Self within, and connect to that High Self energy and start to work with it.

Both processes, the process of working with one's guide as well as the process of working with one's High Self will ensure that when one tests the waters of information that is being provided. Through both of these processes one will have a way of ascertaining the truth that is being given. This is highly important at this time. The question of guides is indeed relevant. This Awareness is ready to move on to other aspects of the question It may have not yet answered.

Giving Your Guide "Permission"

QUESTION:

When she said she often gives her guide permission to do what she can do to help her, is this helpful for her?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is helpful given that she has developed a trust that is based on previous communications that proved to be accurate and correct. There is as this Awareness has spoken, a danger of being misinformed and misdirected. Thus, to naively give trust over to that which purports to be a guide and say, "You show me! You tell me! I have no mind in this matter, no choice in this matter, no thoughts on this matter!" is a dangerous process. What must be shown is that over continual communications and continual occurrences, where the guidance that has been provided by the guide has been accurate, one develops a trust to the guidance being by the guide.

Remember: Trust for your Guide Must be Earned

This Awareness must add that the responsibility lies not with the guide, but with the individuals themselves. In other words, guidance may be given that is incorrect, but if the individual in turning it over to this guide does not have the discernment or the even willingness to really look at what is given and simply blindly follows what is given, then if anything goes wrong, it was that individual's choice to follow this guidance that marks the appropriateness of this guidance. One must have a high sense of faith and trust in the guide who is giving the guidance, and this can only be gained over a period of time and in the working together and the proving over and over again that the trust is earned and the guide that is providing the information is one that can be trusted, remembering also the importance of the High Self as an alternate source from within to confirm whether the guidance is accurate or not.

It is very popular at this time to seek out a guide, to connect with a guide and thus trust the guide. This Awareness does not entirely support this, but It does support the process of developing one's intuitive capacity as well as their trust to the High Self as a way of working within, of drawing in guidance also from other sources internally, such as guide.

The Story of a Guide Named Jack

The Interpreter knew of a woman who had been kicked in the head by a horse. This woman almost died, but she did survive. Afterwards she was privy to a guide coming to her by the name of Jack. She was so astounded by this guide that she started to believe it implicitly and did not question what Jack was telling her. Once this occurred, the entity or being that was professing to be her guide started to give her strange information and insisted that she follow up on what Jack was telling her. Thus it was that she would sometimes phone people in the middle of the night telling them that her guide Jack had told her to phone them and wake them up to give them a warning or to give them information. Often the warnings were false warnings and the information was incorrect.

This woman still believed in this guide, and as a result, lost many friends. She gave over her ability to discern, to make up her own mind, to weigh out what this guide was saying to her. Furthermore, the insistence by the Jack that she do what he was telling her is not an attribute that any guide of high spiritual quality would ever put out. This in itself might be considered a way of detecting whether the guide that is coming through is of a high quality. Those of the highest spiritual quality would never insist that the recipient of the guidance must without question follow what is being spoken to them. They would always leave it as a matter of choice.

If the guidance is followed, it is followed. If the guidance is not followed, it is not followed. The information is simply being presented. In the case of this woman, she did not develop her own High Self connection, so she had no way of understanding whether she was being misinformed or not. The guide that she connected to was simply a dispossessed personality that had failed to cross over after death. It was of a low quality. Eventually she did see through this, and break away from this guide, but not after much pain, not after much discomfort was caused to her and to others.

She then rejected all guides and internal guidance, and this was unfortunate and this was a loss, but she did finally break free of that guide. That is why this Awareness is stating that it is essential to always question, and always accept the responsibility for what action one takes, even if they are guided actions. This is incredibly important. Once one has determined that the source of guidance, the guide itself, is of a high quality, is relatively accurate and can be trusted, over a period of time of course, then when one gives over to the guide, the information that is brought back or provided will often be of the sort that is of a higher quality, but again, this does not preclude the responsibility of the being, him or herself who has requested the information and given it over to the guide to provide it, to see to it that the information is relevant.

Does this answer the question?

"Let Go and Let God" (A Great Risk in This Statement)

QUESTIONER:

Yes it does, and I thank you. The one other part, "It's often said that the situation is unbearable, in that sense, to just "Let go and let God" that things will work out if they should...is there any truth in this particular statement?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There is truth in this statement, but there is also sometimes great risk in this statement. To "Let go and let God" presumes that a being of higher spiritual quality will intervene in the affairs of the individual. This may or may not occur. It is again putting outside of oneself the responsibility for one's life, and yet it is an action that is often encouraged, especially amongst orthodox religions where it is still taught that God is the Supreme Being and that God holds all beings precious and will protect and care for all beings. This is simply not always true.

This is because each individual has a manifest destiny that may be best served not through the intervention of God, but through the experiencing of whatever it is the individual is experiencing. They may need to experience dilemma, hardship, challenge. They may need to experience a test of faith, crisis, and chaos, for it is all part of their destiny. To "Let go and let God" if it is done in a naïve manner is simply an abdication of one's personal responsibility, the least of which is to understand why the events and circumstances are occurring in the first place.

What Is Accurate About This Statement

What is accurate about this statement, "Let go and let God" is that there is indeed a higher force that works with the individual at all times. The preliminary aspect of that higher force is the High Self. This Awareness would therefore say that the first and most appropriate action would be to let go and let the High Self assist the individual in the matter, whatever that matter might be. In this matter of letting go and letting the High Self assist and guide, as well as any and all other guides, entities or beings that are there to assist at the multiple dimensional levels, the individual as they seek to negotiate the streams of consciousness, especially the streams of consciousness in the third dimension would be appropriate, for that guidance is available.

"Why Did God Let This Happen to Me?"

The High Self is available, and does seek always when requested to assist the individual. "Ask, and ye shall receive" is how it is stated in the Bible and it is so with the High Self. It must be understood however, that this is still not a guarantee that everything will work out perfectly for if the greater lesson is in the experiencing of the challenge or even of experiencing negative events, and the High Self knows that this will be of greater assistance to the individual, It may choose to allow the individual to have this experience. In the old way of thinking, "Let go and let God", if this is applying to a Supreme Being outside of oneself, if that Supreme Being does not come through and save the individual, the question is then asked: "Why? Why did God let this happen to me?"

The Next Question: "What Can I Learn From This?"

This of course is dualistic thinking. It is thinking that suggests that a being outside of the box of consciousness is responsible for that individual and all of their experiences. It simply is not this way. When one asks of the High Self to be of assistance and it appears that assistance does not manifest or happen, the next question would be, "Why? What does this mean? What can I learn from this? What was gained from not having the assistance that was required?" It puts much more responsibility on the individual who seeks in the expansion of consciousness to take true responsibility for one's life. This is a very important thing to understand, for it marks a mature soul versus an immature soul that is always asking mommy and daddy to do things for them, or in this case, the God Above to do for the individual that which it wishes to be done.

These are times where consciousness is demanding that responsibility be taken for one's life and for all that occurs in that life. Does this answer the question?

Who Was Elvis Presley?

(Why is there Still a Huge Interest in Him Today?)

QUESTIONER:

Yes it does, definitely, and is much appreciated. (Thank you.) Our next question comes from Linda Bradford, of Harriman, TN. It concerns personality, in particular, Elvis Presley. She writes, "I have a question for Awareness. What led me to ask this question was the purchase of recently released CD's starring the late Elvis Presley. The CD's are excerpts of his concerts, using his voice along with the members of his band and backup singers singing "live." This collage was actually shown as a live concert in Memphis on the 25th anniversary of his death and shown live by satellite around the world.

The CD's also have discussions and memories, mostly about the "other side of Elvis" in their words, which indicate a person who is deeply religious and constantly questioning God's mission for his life. There was even one account of a healing from God through him. There seems to be a dichotomy here to me from what I had heard about him. Why is there still such a huge interest in this person, and did he have a higher purpose than we've been led to believe?" Thank you for your comments.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to start by saying, "Elvis has left the room!" By this, what this Awareness means is that consciousness that inhabited this great soul has indeed left the planet. It is no longer available. The reason this Awareness speaks to this is that there are still many alleged reports of Elvis being seen here or there, when the truth is that he did indeed leave 25-26 years ago, at the time of his death. He was indeed a being with a greater purpose, a purpose that was to spark a shift in popular consciousness. He was a being of great complexity, an ancient soul, who chose to incarnate at this time, to be a forerunner in the process of the shifting consciousness that is even now being experienced. He chose to alter consciousness on a popular level, being an entertainer of great magnitude.

Like the Apostles Elvis Was a Being With Multiple Souls

He was a being with several aspects to him. Often the greatest leaders who have had the most impact on society and on human consciousness are beings that have multiple aspects within them, multiple souls even. All of the apostles were of this nature as was Mary and Mary Magdalene. Thus it is that there are individuals currently who profess to have been with Jesus at those times, or at least with the entity that is now known as Jesus at those times. Often their statements are accurate, for there were several soul aspects that inhabited the one personality, thus making that individual greater than life itself, certainly greater than individuals around them.

Thus it was with the entity known as Elvis Presley. There is seen to have been three soul aspects that occupied his body. This is not the same as multiple personality. These three aspects were not three separate aspects vying against each other for control of the individual, these are three aspects of the soul that is the soul of Elvis Presley, the great soul, the Long Soul. Thus all three aspects come from the same source that constituted the individual soul. Working together they were able to project more energy outwards that became an attractive force to the many who were attracted to this individual. This individual superseded many of his peers who also were popular entertainers, but they were not Elvis Presley.

"Elvis the Pelvis" Liberated the Confinement of Thought

Elvis Presley became a unique and powerful expression of an energy that liberated for many, the confinements of thought that many were living under at the time. Even his actions on stage, natural to the individual, were considered so provocative, were censored. In particular the swaying of the pelvis: "Elvis the Pelvis", and yet this is simply showing the natural energy that this man had, the powers and capacity to supersede that which until then had been never experienced.

The three aspects also had some unique expressions. For example, the part of Elvis that enjoyed gospel music and took great pleasure in the singing of such music; this for him was a deeply spiritual side of himself, and was one of the spiritual aspects of his being that wished to express itself through traditional gospel music. There was that aspect that was the wild side, the abandoned side: the side that could gyrate on stage and excite and amaze the fans who were there.

The Aspect of Elvis That Rebelled

There was an aspect of the individual that was very orthodox; this would be the original soul aspect of Elvis Presley, for it is seen that he came in with the first primary energy, that of the dutiful son, that of the individual who would go to serve his country in military service, that of the individual who would follow Colonel Parker's lead and do exactly as he was told, yet this was the part that was the most troubled. This was the part of the individual that rebelled, who took the drugs, who sought ways out. The other two aspects were the aspects that made him truly great, but they could never unfortunately, bring him to peace and harmony within himself, especially that original aspect, that part of the dutiful son and dutiful individual.

When the entity's mother died, he lost a very big part of himself. This original aspect felt lost. Even in the doing and the performance where he received great pleasure, still his soul was troubled, and this expressed itself in his drug use. He did sometimes feel very fractured and incapable of providing his fans with what he saw was not true. Sometimes he even felt like a charlatan, and this created great conflict in him. The other two aspects often were more available to him when he was on stage performing, versus in his own private life. This is why he shone so brightly on stage and yet was a troubled soul in his own private world.

His Purpose Was to Shake Rattle and Roll Middle America

Ultimately, the purpose of this great soul was to shake, rattle and roll the established and staid consciousness of Middle America at that time. This he did accomplish. It did cost him, but one could say that he did fulfill the purpose of his life. As a forerunner, he was a prelude to the times ahead, especially the Sixties, when many more individuals came forward who also shook up consciousness and shifted consciousness. In some ways this Awareness would say that Elvis Presley was one of the voices of this Awareness.

Elvis Was One of the Voices of Cosmic Awareness

This Awareness has said before that It expresses Itself not only through the words of the Interpreter, but through other Interpreters also. Thus, this Awareness can express itself through the art of an artist, or through the songs of an entertainer or actor. Even movie stars can be voices and mediums for this Awareness, and Elvis Presley was indeed a great soul who was one of the aspects of this Awareness in Its interpretation at that time; the interpretation of this man's music as well as his life. Given that he was more than a single soul aspect in a human body should help all understand that those who shine the most brightly, both now and in the past, are often conglomerate souls or soul aspects, as this Awareness has chosen to express it.

That Elvis Presley was of great importance to humanity and to consciousness is indeed so. This Awareness is complete at this time.

A Channeler of God Asks What Does God Plan for Those "He" Speaks To Directly?

(Problems with Personifying God Into a Male Deity)

QUESTION:

Thank you. Our next question concerns God's plan. It's from Jimmy Ellis, of Chicago, Illinois. He writes, "I would like to ask a question. You see, I channel God, and it's been hard for me, but I've come to realize that the voices and the inspiration I have been getting and receiving for my entire life is God, and when I accepted this, He started talking to me even more directly, and I began being guided to all kinds of sites and meeting all other types of people who talk to God and other beings. I know that this is weird, but I only talk a certain aspect of Him, the aspect that is the Infinite Light. That is why I have to ask the aspect of Him that is Cosmic Awareness this question."

What does God have planned for all those who he has decided to speak to directly?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness hesitates in the answering of this question because the way the entity has presented God is a very Christian way of doing so. The personification that God is an individual and a male, that 'He' has intent and desire...this Awareness does not see this as valid. It is not disputing that the individual is indeed in communication with a high consciousness, but that the individual must now begin to question existing concepts that he has held since a child, continually holding to a Christian concept of a Supreme God or entity.

This being said, the individual is being guided from a high source indeed, and this high source does have an intent in a general way for those individuals that hear it. Its intent is that they confirm that there is indeed higher consciousness that is available and that does have as its purpose, the purpose of guiding those individuals who are seeking such communication, to confirm that the individual speaking to them, even if they mislabel them as a Christian god, or the Christian God, is valid, and that the information provided is valid. The way this entity has done this is by checking out what was spoken to him and having confirmed that which was spoken again and again.

This Awareness still finds it curious that this individual seeks to understand this communication process in orthodox Christian terms and concepts. As individuals move forward and upward and onward and outward in the development and expansion of their consciousness, they will discover that there is no singular supreme Christian God who sits in a throne in heaven judging all. This simply does not exist. This Awareness must actually redress what It has just said.

The Belief in a Christian Concept of Heaven and Hell and God and the Devil Will Ensure This Experience After Death

The belief that such exists does create such a reality for a time, until it is seen to be erroneous and then that reality would shift. Thus it is that individuals who truly believe a Christian concept of heaven and hell and God and the devil will often experience such upon the time of death and will continue to believe such and experience such as long as they do not question what their experience is showing them. Thus, in their belief that they experience hell, they will experience a hell until the belief starts to falter and they begin to question that perhaps there is an error here. At that time it is possible to shift realities and to experience other realities, other levels of consciousness. It is also so with the conscious belief of heaven, and if the individual truly believes that they will experience heaven, and they will meet Saint Peter at the Pearly Gates and be ushered into the presence of God and he will speak to them, then they would experience such a reality.

An Aspect of God is Indeed Communicating to Jimmie

In light of the individual and the question he has posed however, the entity that he calls God is actually an expanded aspect of his own higher consciousness. It is an aspect that goes beyond the personal High Self. It is indeed the God Force part of All That Is that he has actually correctly identified as an aspect of God. That aspect of God is indeed communicating to him through the various layers of consciousness, even through his own High Self, and yet because the individual has free will, free consciousness, he can still choose to see this universal energy as an individual Godhead, in other words God.

Why Awareness Finds the Question Curious

It does not entirely invalidate the messages that he receives or the communications that he receives. It is simply something that this Awareness finds curious. This Awareness is very close to the Godhead, the God Source, and It would never perceive It as a single deity of the male persuasion. Yet, such as it is, individuals interpret such matters in their own unique way, which is why there are so many different versions, so many different concepts, so many different beliefs as to the nature of consciousness, the nature of God, or the Godhead, and all else that supersedes third dimensional physical reality. This Awareness is getting sidetracked here. It asks if there is anything further to the question that the energizer feels this Awareness should address.

Today All Beliefs Are Superseded

(Christianity Keeps Followers in a Child-Like Consciousness)

QUESTIONER:

No. The thought comes that each religion has its own God, but the bottom line is it's still all part of the same God Energy, is it not?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed correct. This Awareness has spoken at length on this matter for the simple reason that it is imperative now that all beliefs are broken through, superseded, gone beyond, especially old Christian beliefs which are in some ways very limiting in their nature. They keep the individual in a very immature level of consciousness, almost a child-like consciousness, where they are always at the whim of the Father God. This does not allow expansion of consciousness, and perhaps this is why this Awareness sought to deal with this matter of the personification of God into a male deity.

This Awareness senses the individual himself is fully aware of the God Force, the Godhead, the Great Truth of God, and he is accurately receiving communications from that source that is so highly placed.

QUESTIONER:

Thank you. He would appreciate your reply and understanding of his question. Is there anything additional on that question you would like to add?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks for a repeat of the final part of the question as to what God intends of those who hear him.

What Does God Have Planned?

(Those Who Channel Now Must Go to Work)

QUESTION:

"What does God have planned for all those who he has decided to speak to directly?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

What the God Essence has in plan is that those who have developed the capacity to hear Its voice are guided to channel information to guide the many along the way at this time, as well as to assist others to hear the internal voice, the expression and communication of the inner guidance that this Awareness has spoken of in this session. That is Its desire and intent for those who hear Its voice. This Awareness is complete with the question.

Those Two Gods Matthew Speaks Of

(More on the Council of Spiritual Elders)

QUESTION:

Thank you. It is very much appreciated.

We have one more question with regard to God. This comes from Raymond Conroy, of Dingmans' Ferry, Pennsylvania. He writes, "In Messages from Matthew and in his books, he often refers to two gods; one he refers to as the Creator, and the other he refers to as the God who is in touch with us throughout our lives and our world." Would Awareness please comment?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The first thing that this Awareness would say is of the latter, the God who is in touch with us, that this God, is as this Awareness sees it, the High Self, the Divine Aspect of the individual who has ascended in a manner of speaking, to a higher level of consciousness. This aspect of the Divine that is the individual expression has access Itself to higher states of consciousness, especially to those levels of consciousness immediately above it, such as in the Council of Spiritual Elders. The Council of Spiritual Elders is a council of 12 High Selves, thus a High Self of an individual would also participate in the Council of Spiritual Elders.

This group helps to guide the actions of all the individual beings that are guided by an individual High Self. There is a greater plan, if you will, that the Council would help all those individuals realize and attain through the guidance of the High Self. Beyond the Council of Elders are other councils, other levels, and other hierarchical orders going all the way up to that which is that which this Awareness calls the Godhead, the God Force. The Creator God that the individual asks of is part of the Godhead of the Supreme Divine Energy that is All That Is.

The Functions of the Creator God Force: All That Is

As one aspect of the Godhead, the God Force, It is the aspect that deals with creation, and the creative forces. There is also the aspect of the Light that is part of the Godhead as well as that aspect of unconditional love. They all constitute the greater aspect known as the Godhead, the God Force, and Great Spirit by some, and other terms, almost more than this Awareness could even begin to go into, for each religion, each philosophy that deals with the Divine have different concepts, different words. There are many channelings expressing in the end the same thing but using many different terms, phrases and words to express the same thing.

Basically, in line with the question asked of this Awareness, the Creator Being is that which as the highest-level consciousness, part of the Godhead, the God Force, and the God that interacts on the daily level is that which this Awareness would call the High Self? Does that answer the question?

THE DISAPPEARANCE OF THE BEES

(Will This Create a Worldwide Famine?)

QUESTION:

(Yes it does, very clearly. Thank you.)

We have time for a miscellaneous question concerning the disappearance of the bees. It's related to nature and the bees within that nature. It comes from Herbert F. Argo, of Bellingham, Washington. He writes, "Here is a question for Awareness regarding the disappearance of our bees. I have been reading various reports that link the disappearance of our bees to pollen from genetically modified plants. The reports always stress that once the bees disappear, so will most of our food supply, generating a worldwide famine that will wipe out most of the earth's population. Is the genetically modified pollen the cause of the bee's demise? And if so, what can we do to rid this planet of the genetically modified curse?" Do you have any comment on this please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Genetically Altered Foods and Plants Not the Main Reason

This is a very pressing and major issue, one that a majority of individuals, especially in North America, do not yet fully appreciate or understand. The genetically altered plants that the bees once fed off are a contributing factor, but they are not the sole factor, nor are they even the most prominent factor as to what is occurring in the disappearance of the bees themselves. It is true that some of their food sources have been altered and they can no longer partake, but they are adaptable creatures and they shift their attention to other sources of pollen, especially other traditional sources that have always been available to them.

The matter of the genetically altered foods and plants is not the entire reason. It is simply part of the overall problem. Other problems that are very pressing and also contribute to the disappearance of the bees are such things as the microwave towers that are being used to beam microwaves around the country and around the planet. These microwave energies are very disrupting to the bees also, and as this Awareness has spoken on this matter on previous occasions, there is a need to adjust this technology to find a different way of allowing cell phones to be used, other than the microwave technologies that are currently being used. This too is seen as a contributing factor in the death and destruction of bee populations.

But this still does not fully explain the situation. There is the matter of the heightened levels of pollution and smog. Again, this has seriously impacted the bee population and has caused many colonies to die off, but as they are extremely adaptable creatures, this too is not the final reason of their disappearance. Yet another factor that has contributed to the destruction of many hives is the introduction of more aggressive bees from other parts of the world. These warrior bees, this aggressive variety of killer bees has infiltrated from the Southern regions into Northern climes and has also wiped out and taken over many hives and has also caused a decline in bee populations, but like the other three reasons, this is simply yet another contributing factor and is not the reason for the disappearance of many of the colonies of bees that once existed.

The Ascension Vibrations the Main Reason (Many Bees Already Exist on Planet A)

The true reason why the disappearance of the bees is happening at this time is because of the vibrations on the planet at this time. The Ascension process is well understood by the collective mentality, the collective consciousness of the bees. The frequencies are changing, the magnetic lines of vibration that mark the polar regions and the magnetic grid work is shifting as part of the process that is leading towards a shift of the planet itself, especially the shift of Planet A as it leaps into that new frequency domain. Many of the bees that have disappeared have actually shifted into this higher frequency range already and already exist on Planet A, and many will find that when they themselves have completed their own consciousness shift, and heightened their own frequencies and have stepped onto Planet A and have become part of the fabric of that conscious level of the planetary expression, that they will find that the bees are there once again. They exist and are pollinating the planet as they have always done.

Many Deaths by Famine Await Those on Planet B

The planet that remains, that which does not shift to a higher level is heading towards on various levels, a world-wide catastrophe, that would indeed include major famine and the death of billions of individuals through starvation, not only because the bees no longer pollinate many of the natural crops that need bees to cross-pollinate them in order to bloom from year to year, but also other reasons, such as genetically manipulated plants and seeds, as well as the introduction of mass-disease. Pandemics have long been predicted, and the population of the planet has been prepared for that pandemic invasion that is now fully anticipated and expected, and is only a matter of time, or so the populace of the world is told. The populace of the world believes that a major disease must strike soon.

These Events are Not Necessary but Some Will Choose to Participate in Such Experiences Anyway

This Awareness was speaking of the events that are ready to unfold on that planet that does not move forward. Perhaps 'moving forward' is an inaccurate term for it implies that moving forward is correct and right and the best thing, and really all that is happening is that there will be a shifting in consciousness, some moving to a planetary consciousness that is at a higher frequency because they are ready to move there. It is part of their spiritual evolutionary journey, while those who choose not to move forward are choosing an evolutionary experience that will deal with great mayhem, death and destruction, as well as a separation of consciousness further from its Spirit Source.

There is nothing right or wrong with either of these directions. It is simply a path take to have experiences of a certain variety. However, saying this, those who stay on the planet that will not advance and expand in frequencies and choose to have the experience of the separation will also experience a planet where massive death occurs through many means: starvation, disease, planetary upheaval, energy seen as a rogue stellar event that will create high levels of radiation in the planet's atmosphere as it reduces the ozone layer even further. All of these are seen as factors that some will experience, but that it is not necessary to experience these events.

In this reality the bees will be very minimal, and thus, where they do continue to exist will be seen as oases in the desolation that is all around, and in these oases life may be fruitful, but it will still not be as fruitful as is even now the case. This is simply one grand experience that can be chosen by those who choose to have such an experience. The bees have gone to the higher frequencies and are already doing their bee dances on that side of reality, that side of the frequency veil, and many will experience this as if once the shift has happened that the bees returned, when in fact, they are already there.

This is a serious problem, but one that must be understood as indicative of a shifting of consciousness, a shifting of vibration and frequencies and of the actuality of that process that this Awareness has referred to as the Ascension process. This Awareness is complete with this question.

Gardeners Today Will Always See Bees

(The Collective Consciousness of the Beehive is Explained)

QUESTIONER:

It seems awful to lose the bees...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks the energizer not to worry for she will always see the bees. She is very connected to the earth itself and as a gardener, will always draw bees to her. Bees are often drawn to those areas of high frequencies that are generated by those individuals who in their love of nature and gardening and working in the soil itself, create an energetic field around themselves, their gardens, their homes, their environments, that is a natural attraction to the bees.

QUESTIONER:

I never worry about them stinging me as I wander around.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is so. You have nothing to worry. They have no reason to sting you. They are simply attracted to your energy. This Awareness sees that you will also shift into the planetary consciousness of Ascension and will never be without bees around you. Bees are indeed one of the sacred animals of the planet and play a much greater role than many give them credit for. It has long been known that the bees' function of cross-pollinating the various plants is very essential to the survival of Mother Earth. She has long held all creatures of special relevancy, but the bee itself is seen as something beyond the norm in the sense of its powerful duty, and yet, an individual drone bee is seen as a small and insignificant creature by most, when the hive mentality is actually a mentality that is in great harmony with Mother Earth.

The Significance and Importance of Bees

The drones themselves are part of this collective mentality, and are not individual as such, other than as an individual unit that goes around and about its tasks, but as part of the collective hive mentality, it sees itself as part of a greater purpose. When this Awareness says it sees itself as part of a greater purpose, it is not seen that the bee itself in a conscious thinking process sees itself as part of a greater hive mentality and purpose; it simply knows itself to be part of it. It does not query or question, it simply goes around doing its little dance from flower to flower, collecting the pollen, taking it back to the hive and distributing it to the bees within so that it can be turned to the nectar and to the ambrosia that is eaten by the queen bee who then does her part, who creates the hive's next generation, and is also therefore contributing to its special purpose and the special purpose of bees generally.

Bees Were Worshiped by Some Cultures

The significance and importance of bees and of honey and the nectar was in times past seen by some cults and cultures as an object of worship and deep and profound respect. Recently a book came out that described the cult of the bees and the shamans who worshiped the bees and the power of the bees and they had a very profound and sacred interaction with that collective hive mentality, and there were many alchemical connections to the bees and through the bees' honey that these individuals in their cult would use and take part of in their ceremonies, and events that altered their consciousness and gave them a glimpse into a deeper older more profound consciousness that was and is the consciousness of Mother Earth herself.

The Bumblebee Was Seen as the Guardian of Mother Earth

In some ways the bumblebee is seen as a guardian of the secrets of Mother Earth, a gatekeeper that could guide souls into that deeper state of awareness and consciousness. These individuals, this group that practiced shamanism in and around Europe and the United Kingdom, these individuals were deep and true pagans, who in their honoring of the bee and the bee cult also worked very closely with the profound and deep energies of Mother Earth, and the bees were their way of tuning into Mother Earth. When this Awareness says the bee was their way, It means the whole energies around the bees and all that the bees truly represented and the true part they play in the logos of planetary consciousness.

This was seen, understood, and deeply respected by this cult of bee worshipers. It was not simply that they worshiped the bee; they worshiped the pagan understanding of the interconnectedness of life itself and of the importance of the bee in the role of Mother Earth, in supporting her and creating life. This is a very ancient following that goes back in time to almost the earliest times of mankind itself. That is why the loss of the bee population at this time is much more profound and crucial than most people realize.

The Logos of Consciousness That is Gaia is Being Lost

It is not simply that many plants will no longer be cross-pollinated. It is that the bee has always had a sacred role on the planet, and that with the disappearance of the bee and bee populations that sacred role is also being lost: a connection to Spirit and Mother Earth herself, the logos of consciousness that is Gaia is being lost, and that unfortunately is part of the experience that some of the souls who wish that separation from spiritual consciousness are seeking. This is one of the reasons also why bees are leaving at this time.

These times being the End Times, mark a choice and choices that are being made, even by the creatures of the planet like bees and the bee-hive consciousness, choices that see them shifting in consciousness and vibration to the higher frequencies and vacating the one planetary template that will be Planet B. It is a much deeper issue than most people suspect. Many people have never given significance to the bee for it is such a small creature. It is not understood because the form of consciousness and the contribution that the collective consciousness of the beehive makes has ever been understood. Most people simply do not know.

How About the Wasp?

QUESTIONER:

One other question. How about the wasp? Can it pollinate flowers?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

No. The wasp is more a warrior creature. Its pollination is minor to that of the bees. It too has a hive mentality, but the purpose is much different, plus the wasp is carnivorous in nature, more than a bee is. A bee does not feed off of meats. A wasp does. It is also seen that the wasps are not disappearing to the same extent that bees are and yet they live in the same environment, and are also experiencing microwave energies, pollution and the genetically altered plants, and yet they are not disappearing as the bees are.

There is some Ascension that will occur amongst wasps. As with all creatures, there are those that will Ascend and those that will not, but it is seen that on the whole, the template of life that is currently on the planet will also exist on the more evolved higher level planet. Bees most definitely play a role in the scheme of things, but so do wasps, and therefore, they will be needed on the other side also. It is more that the focus of the consciousness that is the bee's consciousness, the collective consciousness, is about working in harmony with Mother Earth and being a very important arm or extension of Mother Earth, to create life on the planet, so that even though they are seen as lowly and insignificant, they truly do play a magnificent role in the consciousness of the planet and in the survival of life on this planet.

The White Race Has a More Predatory Gene? (It Seems to Have Less Conscience?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you). The next question comes from Zoe St Germane, of San Anselmo, CA. She asks, "Does the white race have a more predatory gene? The white race seems to have less conscience."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The simple answer to this question is, "No. The white race does not have a more predatory gene. All races have a predatory gene. What is more important is the level of consciousness and training and teaching that various individuals in each and every race towards harmony, peace, and cooperation, versus aggression, destruction and competition. The predatory gene, if you will, is not so much a function of race, but a function of the reptilian mind or the reptilian portion of the brain that each human being has. This is universal to all races. Thus it is that the yellow race has a predatory aspect to it, as does the red race and/or the black race. All have engaged in war and conflict and battle. All have examples of death, violence and destruction. This is not something that is exclusive to the white race. Thus, as this Awareness has said, "No. The white race is not more predatory than any of the other three races.

The Contribution of Each of the Four Races

This Awareness wishes to embark now on another explanation of the four races, and the contribution of each race and the niche that each of the four races hold. The white race is that race which holds the mental power and process and prowess. Thus it is that many of the technological advancements that have occurred on the planet come from the white race, for as a race that holds the space of mind, theirs is a process of thinking things out, coming up with solutions, creating and inventing philosophies and programs and ways by which things can be made. They are very clever, and hold the mind as sacrosanct. It is for this reason that in the present world's consciousness the white race is the superior race. Not superior in that this Awareness is saying that whites are superior to all other races. This is simply not so.

Dr. Spock of Star Trek a Template of the White Race

This Awareness simply means that what is at the forefront at this time is rational thinking, mentality based on an analytical mind. The TV series Star Trek had in the character Mr. Spock, a template of the white race, or the white mind. Spock in some sense represented the purest white mentality or the striving for mental superiority with the heart and emotions being excluded. This is what this Awareness is referring to when It says that at this time on this planet, the white mentality mind is the superior aspect that exists on the planet for all others seek to emulate it at some level, and the mind, the mental, is what holds sway. It is imbalanced. It is not in harmony with the planet, for to live in mental energy will not allow a balanced approach to life, and yet it is seen as that which is to be strived for, that which is superior to all else, and it is thus that this Awareness says that the white mental approach is seen as superior to all else. This is fallacy. This is illusion.

The Red Race is the Heart Race

Carrying on, the red race, the opposite of the white, is the heart race. The red race is that race that holds the child's innocence that comes from the heart, that is of the mentality of Mother Earth, living in close harmony and proximity with Mother Earth, living from a place of heart and emotional connection. This does not mean that the red race does not have access to the mental powers. It is simply saying that the niche they hold in that which is known as the Medicine Wheel Teachings is such that it holds the heart space.

The Medicine Wheel Teachings

In terms of the Medicine Wheel, the four races are found in the four positions of the Medicine Wheel. The South race is the red race. The South Race is the place of the heart, the place of the emotions. The North position is the mental energy, the place of the White race, the white people. One can see that the two are diametrically opposed to each other. Thus it is that when the white invaded the North American continent, the home of the red man, the Native Americans, that truly what was at conflict was a conflict with two diametrically opposed ways of being: one that was natural, and close to the earth, living in the harmony of Mother Earth itself, the children of Mother Earth living from the heart, living from the place of the child, versus the colder more harsh mental attitude of the white race, those who would hold themselves as superior and would dominate and control their environment to suit their needs versus living in harmony with the planet as it is.

Thus it is that as the Whites invaded the North and South American continents, it was their need to vanquish the existing red race, the Native American peoples, taking control, having control and manipulating the environment. This was taken to the degree that genocide was even practiced on the Red peoples themselves as they were driven almost to a point of collapse so that the white race could take over the continents.

The Black Race: Physical Expressions of Powers and Abilities

Next we have the Black race; the Black race in the Medicine Wheel teachings found in the West. The West is the place of the material, the physical, not quite the place of the planetary harmony that the Red race fulfills in the South, but rather a physical expression, a material expression. Thus it is that the Black race has great physical process, and the Black people have great physical powers and abilities, and it is for this reason why so many are natural athletes, and have a natural sense of movement. Again, this does not preclude that Black individuals or the Black race do not use their minds. This is not what this Awareness is saying. It is simply saying that the Black race has a natural sense of rhythm that allows them to be natural in their environment and exist in a more harmonic manner than the White race, which had to control the environment. The Black people were masters of their physical reality without needing to control it to the degree that the White peoples would.

The Yellow Race is a Spiritual People

Finally in the East is found the Yellow race. The Yellow race is a spiritual people. The yellow position of the East is that of spirituality, of the growth of spiritual understandings and concepts. Thus it is that from the East come the spiritual teachings that the teachers brought back into the West to reintroduce many of those lost teachings. Thus it is that in the East, the Yellow people have found a spiritual quality that put them in harmony with a spiritual striving, a spiritual need to interpret their world in a spiritual manner. Thus it comes from India, the teachings of Yogananda, of gurus. Thus it comes from the East and from the Yellow race, things such as the martial arts, which are not simply aggressive physical techniques but have a spiritual quality to them.

The Balancing of the Four Races is Approaching

It is also from the East that a sense of commerce, which is also an aspect of spiritual striving, comes from. This then is misguided when applied to the Western world or the White race. What has actually occurred over the ages here is that the white mentality has dislodged the natural working order and thus the white philosophies; the ways of thinking are seen to be superior and are striven for by all peoples of all races, which then pushes the natural order out of balance. What is seen as coming is a natural reintegration of the four positions, of the four races, and when this occurs, then the balanced human being who has both heart and mind, who is in physical and spiritual alignment will thus be created and come to be.

This is what this Awareness sees as the balancing of the races, then the need for prejudice and perjury of one race against another will no longer exist. This is a discussion that this Awareness wished to contribute at this time, and opens the field for further questions from the membership of Cosmic Awareness Communications and any who may read this and have questions.

Hang On and Enjoy the Ride!

QUESTIONER:

Thank you) I hope the membership will send more questions. Is there a closing message please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has been speaking largely about consciousness today, and the different levels of consciousness that exist on the multidimensional planes of existence; everything from the Creator Godhead to the personal God Force, to the individual expression of consciousness on the physical level of reality. It started in the opening message of expressing a need for individuals to work on developing their own inner capacity to communicate to those various levels, especially the level of the personal High Self, which is an individual's plug-in to the higher levels of consciousness.

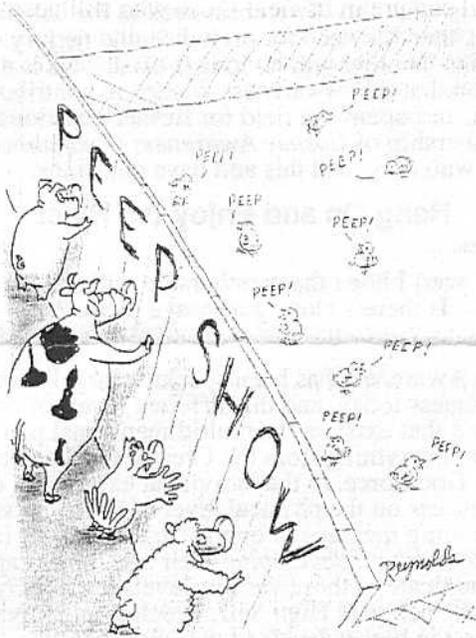

This will become second nature for all who move into the Ascension, to Planet A, to the higher levels of consciousness, but at this time it is still an unfolding process. It is far more advanced than it was ten or twenty years ago, but in these times that process of unfolding is still sometimes a tricky one. This Awareness asks for patience, and always a desire and an intent to reach those higher levels of awareness and consciousness. By holding this as the beacon, one will always be guided to those higher levels of consciousness, for they have put it as their goal, and they will naturally be drawn to those goals.

There may be challenges along the way. There may even be times when things do not feel to be occurring at all, and great frustration comes in. To have the patience, especially at these times of challenge is essential. This Awareness does see that many are opening up to the accelerated process of shifting consciousness that is now occurring and that the speed of the journey will indeed accelerate beyond anything expected or known at this time. This Awareness says, "Hang on an enjoy the ride!" This Awareness is complete at this time.

(Thank you) The Law of Gratitude is given)

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. ## How the Dark Force Has Lost On Planet A

QUESTION:

The questions today concern Planet A and B. There's a question from Dave Alexander in Minnesota, concerning a timeline divergence. He writes, "More and more I am seeing people stating that there has been a divergence on the timeline. Here are some examples: <http://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread369370/pg1> <http://www.godlikeproductions.com/forum1/message/52348/pg1>

I believe that this is related to the splitting of Planet A and the split B. That the split has occurred and there are some stragglers coming to Planet A (where we are) with some memories of Planet B (which will descend into really bad third dimensional times) I believe this is why all of the channels (including CA) have said the Dark Forces have lost. On Planet A they have indeed lost. On planet B, the Dark is in full swing.

There is a guy called John Titor who claims to have traveled back into our past from his future (2036) and he explained what happens in "his future". It seems very much like Planet B. Around the year 2003 or so, his "future" timeline began to diverge and his info was not correct any more (in terms of our Planet A timeline), so of course everyone on our Planet A timeline has called his story a fake because his "predictions" did not come true. The website for John Titor is <http://www.johntitor.com/> Interesting stuff if you care to see what is/was happening on Planet B.

I'd like to ask Awareness if this is indeed the case: that the density split has created two timelines that are diverging more and more, and that these false reality memories of some people are from those who have made the jump from B to A? This could get into a nice rap about the mechanics of the actual split, and also letting people know that basically, if you are reading this, you're already on Planet A. How would that be for a boost to people's consciousness? There's so much fear right now that "Oh my! What if I am not on Planet A? What if I go to B"? Just the suggestion that "You ARE on Planet A" could turn the 100th Monkey."

Would Awareness please offer comments on Dave's observation? And also, if not mentioned, is John Titor for real or misinformation? Thank you.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The entity has appraised the situation correctly. Many are indeed already on that which could be termed Planet A, but it has not fully integrated into the highest vibration. It is in a twilight region still, and there are options for those who are on the planet still to take a lesser path. This Awareness has spoken that the truth of the matter is that it is not a clear division of two planets going separate ways, but countless pathways leaning towards one or the other. The higher one's conscious awareness is to the reality and truth of Planet A, the more that individual will experience the purity of the Ascension and of Planet A. The more one is inclined towards gross materialism and the continuance of known realities that are fear-based as well as based on ignorance, as well as being asleep, then those individuals will veer more towards that which is the Planet B scenario.

There are a myriad of possibilities that will be available. Such is the nature of consciousness. Many possible probabilities will avail themselves for those individuals who are shifting consciousness one way or another. It is fair to say that those who are aware of Planet A, who are aware of Ascension, who are aware of that process of the shifting in consciousness that has been occurring over a number of years and will continue until the process is complete in or about the 2012 deadline, then those individuals are more likely to experience that reality that this Awareness has been defining as Planet A.

Those Who May Experience the Descending Planet

Those who do not awaken to such possibility, who succumb to the rhetoric that is made available to many over the airways, through the media, will perhaps experience instead of the Ascension planet the Descending planet of consciousness. They will still have opportunity in the foreseeable future to still move their attentions towards Ascension, but it is seen that this will become increasingly difficult after that Ascension Process is complete in 2012. It will be simply enough that the magnetic energy of Planet B will be so strong that it will capture in its field those who still need to have the physical experiences, especially the gross materialism and the separateness from the High Self, from Spirit, from the Divine.

No Spiritual Source for Those Trapped in the Energies of Planet B

Planet B ultimately represents the next level of evolution in the experiment of separating from Spirit Source, the Divine Source, and it will be seen that further on in that experience, those who are fully trapped in the energies of Planet B will not even have religion to fall back on, will have no sense that there is any other spiritual dimension available to them. That which is now known as heaven or nirvana will not even be understood as a possibility. So immersed in the physical material reality will those who travel that path be that there simply will not be any recognition of a spiritual nature. This is why the evolutionary experience of the separation from the Divine, from the Creator, from All That Is, is such that those who need this profound isolationist experience will indeed have it. They will walk that path.

Those who do not need this, who are already beginning to understand their higher spiritual nature, their multidimensionality, will instead move in directions towards the purity of an Ascended level of consciousness exhibited on a planet that while in physical form will be a blending of both a physical reality form as well as spiritual form. Thus it is that those who have achieved the highest states of conscious awareness on Planet A will be able to manifest themselves in physical form, but also they will be able to dematerialize themselves. They will be able to step consciously back into spirit form, or will be able to manipulate material form in whatever manner they wish for they will be masters of manifestations in physicality.

Planet A Will Become a Sacred Place

The physical planet will become a sacred place. The form of the body of the planet herself will be honored and venerated for the conscious entity, the conscious being she is, and those who choose to have that existence on the physical expression of the planet logos that is Mother Gaia, Mother Earth, will do so with respect and honor. They will blend with the harmonious energies of all that occupy that stage, that level of conscious manifestation that will be Planet A. This Awareness is complete, but will proceed on with the questions.

Is John Titor for Real?

QUESTION:

Still regarding Dave Alexander's question: "Is John Titor, the chap from 2036, is he for real, or is this misinformation?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is not misinformation. This individual represents one of those who had ascended in the Planet A scenario and he has achieved a degree of understanding and awareness of his multidimensionality, even that capacity to time travel, to come back in time to that time preceding the actual split of the consciousness that will define Planet A and those who travel towards that Planet B mentality and consciousness. He is one who can move back and forth because he has learned how to shift his consciousness to refocus it so he can enter that which on the surface seems to be the past, but he has not achieved such mastery that he is not a participant to the events that sometimes seem to be still somewhat out of his control.

Many Are Coming From the Future to Experience Present Time

Thus it is that he shifted and then lost the capacity to follow a timeline and things changed on him. It is simply consciousness playing with itself, developing its consciousness, becoming acquainted with the subtleties of multidimensionality and dimensional shifting. This individual is not the only one who can time travel. More and more are starting to come through into this time frame where they can experience the energies that existed just before the shift, just before the splitting into two parallel pathways digressing away eventually from each other so that they are no longer parallel for the short period that this Awareness has spoken of, so that as they bleed away, this would be Planet A, Planet B; that for a short while after there will be a somewhat parallel movement between the two planets, but this will start to spread and the two pathways will diverge more and more over the many years ahead.

There are many who will be coming from the future to experience this time, for this is a unique period of time, a highly charged period of time historically speaking, for those who value such an experience, that they may be intrigued enough to shift their consciousness to experience these times. It is seen by this Awareness that there are individuals that are met by members of the organization, who when met will feel different, will feel strange to them as if they do not belong in this time frame, but it will be a subtle experience and may not always be understood or recognized as, "This is one of those individuals who is a time shifter, who is traveling the dimensions of time to have the experience of this time!"

Be open to such individuals, for when you are, and you can identify them, they will explain much to you, if you ask the right questions.

QUESTION:

The time travelers then would be in human form, that would be recognizable as another person?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

They will not appear as aliens or immaterial blobs. They will adopt human form, for they are human beings who have mastered their multidimensionality or at least have mastered bits and pieces, as the individual who was quoted earlier mastered the ability to shift time so that he could come back in time, but he was not the perfect master, which is why some of the events shifted on him without his consciousness being aware, and thus he did not have perfect perception of the time frame, time-shifting reality.

QUESTIONER:

(I see) Is he able to do this now?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is seen that he has perfected this skill now.

QUESTION:

Is there additional information on this concept?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness feels that It has given enough information at this time to tantalize those who would seek more information. As always, this Awareness invites further questions to be sent to this Awareness of this matter and other issues.

She's Turned Off by Spiritual Things

(Not Sure She Even Wants to Ascend)

QUESTION:

(Thank you, we are most appreciative) Our next question comes from MP, who prefers her name not be printed. It concerns physical beings on earth. There are two questions. She writes in response to a question Avaton had written to her. She writes, "Thanks for the e-mail. Actually I don't have a man, but was thinking of getting one, so the question persists. I respect your decisions regarding questions, but I'm disappointed with CA right now. It said that the "no unplanned pregnancy" thing was in the future. Sometimes I think that It completely ignores the fact that we are limited physical beings living in the current time. I can see why many people are turned off by the "spiritual" things out there. Maybe I'm in the wrong racket with this "metaphysical" arena. I want to be happy while I'm here now, physical and conscious. I'm starting not to care whether I ascend. It doesn't seem to matter. Metaphysics seems to have made my life more difficult and confused. Please don't use my name."

Your comment please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The first area that this Awareness would choose to speak on is the relative negativity that was expressed in the commentary of the entity MP. This is a negativity that many Light Workers of late have been experiencing. Many great enlightened beings have often gone through this particular stage of doubt, of questioning whether there is any legitimacy in the spiritual understanding of reality, of being open to a higher consciousness, and a higher reality. By reality, this Awareness is speaking of that which is real to the person experiencing the reality.

Many Swim Close to the Surface in the Sea of Consciousness

The higher levels of consciousness have a much different reality base than is so on the physical plane at this time. What is now occurring however is that many are swimming in the sea of consciousness, close to the surface. These ones who swim close to surface can be seen as dolphins swimming the surfaces of the oceans of the planet, and that for the joy of it, these dolphins often jump out of the water, enjoying the freedom they experience, the joy, the exhilaration, as they leap joyfully out of the water to splash back into the ocean in a short while.

What is happening is that many who have higher levels of consciousness like the dolphins have been leaping out of the water. The unfortunate truth however, is that they always fall back into the sea of consciousness that defines this physical reality. Many who are the Light Workers seeking to expand their consciousness, seeking to ascend, become very frustrated for they understand that their truer nature is better fitted not in the oceans of consciousness, but more in the rarified atmosphere above the waters. Thus it is that part of their desire is not to simply leap out of the water in a joyful expression of spontaneity and fun, but rather to leave the seas of consciousness that define the physical 3rd dimensional reality at this time.

It would be the equivalent of the dolphin jumping out of the water but not returning back into the water for it has now spread wings and is flying in the airs above the ocean. This is exactly what many who are moving towards that higher expression of their selves, their own consciousness in the higher regions of consciousness are seeking to do. They are seeking to grow wings and to become airborne. This will eventually become their reality, but at this time, many do not have the understanding yet of how to do this exactly. They simply have that knowing that they are meant to transform from dolphins into eagles, and thus fly the heights above the waters.

The unfortunate thing is that at this time, many of those Light Workers do not complete the transformation completely and they fall back into the seas of consciousness that define the physical reality at this time. This does not mean that their quest to leave these seas of consciousness that hold them down are wrong, for indeed they are correct, for many who have those higher levels of conscious awareness within themselves will do this instinctively, for it is simply known in their being that there will come a time when the transformation does occur, and the form of the dolphin will be transformed into the form of the eagle, and the individual will then be free to fly in the rarified atmosphere.

At this time there is often great frustration and great disappointment upon falling back into the sea below, and it is this level of frustration and disappointment that many of the Light Workers and Wanderers and those seeking that higher rarified atmosphere are experiencing at this time. It is as if they taste for a short period of time the freedom that will soon be theirs, but because they have to come back into the denser atmosphere, or the denser seas of consciousness, there is an extreme disappointment that occurs when this happens again.

This is what the Ascension Process is all about. This is the stage at this time when many dolphins are leaping free of the oceans. There are already those who are not returning for they are already beginning to transform into their eagle form and are already flying the skies of the ascended Planet A, but many are still falling back into the waters. This Awareness asks the entity MP, as well as many others who are reading these words, who identify with that which the entity MP has formulated and stated, to be aware that this is an unfolding process that is taking place over a period of time.

With time, eventually as the energies become stronger, and the understanding and drive held within the individual develops to a higher capacity, there will be a time when transmutation occurs, and the form that is presently occupied will shift and transmute into the higher form of an entity who has achieved conscious transformation and Ascension. This Awareness hopes that this helps somewhat in understanding the situation that many of the Light Workers are currently experiencing at this time. This Awareness is complete.

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) The balance of her question: she writes, "Is it difficult for Awareness to remember at times that these questions are being asked by physical beings? I've been into the metaphysical since childhood. One fact remains after all these years: I'm still physical. I asked recently if, after the Ascension we would physically contact our loved ones who have crossed over. Awareness answered that such contact was going on now in our dreams. With all due respect, why should I care about something that happens in my dreams and which I don't remember? I want to know about conscious contact, even if it can't be physical. The question was considered "irrelevant", but what is irrelevant about wanting to experience something with my current conscious self? Why do so many "spiritual" sources speak to us as if we're supposed to have the perspective of our Oversouls? Didn't our Oversouls put us under the veil of forgetfulness for a reason? I'm not my Oversoul right now. I don't remember. I'm not terribly psychic. Where do the people who are not ashamed to be humans belong?" You comments please.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness finds it intriguing that an individual who claims to have studied metaphysics for so long does not understand the metaphysical concepts that are expressed by this Awareness and by others. She keeps coming back into physicality, the consciousness of physical form, and expects that spiritual matters will be understood in physical form. This Awareness is not coming to her or to anyone else in physical form. It comes from a state of consciousness that far exceeds physical form. All will eventually come to this level, and this level can be experienced to various degrees by individuals even in physical form, but not when they are engaging in the physical in that sense of physical that separates from the higher levels of consciousness.

The higher levels of consciousness are experienced in those moments of transcendency. These moments of transcendency can occur when there is heightened awareness through certain activities. For example these moments of transcendency can occur when deep meditation is being observed. These types of experiences of transcendency can occur in the dream state, when that which is of higher consciousness, that which is known as the middle self in Huna terms, is freed of the physicality of the body, and in this non-physical form, this conscious form, goes into those areas and regions where the higher realities, the multidimensionality can be experienced.

It is unlikely for most that they will have such experiences when they are completely locked into physical form, for physicality is a separation from the higher levels of consciousness. Only upon reaching higher levels of consciousness is it possible to attain mastery in a way that would allow one to experience physicality without forgetting the true spiritual nature, without being subject to the veil of forgetfulness that has been mentioned. In that stage of conscious awareness, even though one might be housed in a physical form, the knowledge of the truth of multidimensionality would always be available, if that individual should dematerialize out of physical form and back into a non-physical, a non-corporeal form.

Why Many Will Experience Planet A in Physical Form

It would be seen that wearing a physical form would be the equivalent of putting on a dress or a suit or other clothing that one puts on at the beginning of the day to cover oneself. The body itself, the physical form itself would be a form of clothing that one puts on, that one takes on to have certain physical experiences. It is for this reason that this Awareness has expressed that the Ascension process, while elevating many to a much higher level of consciousness will allow those who have the desire to experience the Ascension Planet A in physical form as well as in spiritual form.

Certain experiences may be savored more thoroughly in a physical form than a spiritual form, but one will not be seen as superior to the other. One will seem as if it is simply a choice to be made at the moment. If in the moment one desires to taste something, to feel something, to see something physical, and through physical eyes, then a physical form will be adopted. If one chooses to experience a higher expression of those physical forms or to have a spiritual experience while in spiritual form on the physical planet, that this could be the chosen experience.

All of this is to come, but what is occurring at this time is that there is a much greater awareness by more individuals who are awakening. The physical form and physicality is not all there is. There is indeed much much more. It sounds to this Awareness as if the individual herself is frustrated often because she has not left physical form yet, and has not yet developed her awareness to a point where she can supersede her negative beliefs and frustrations. This Awareness would also suggest that she still has many negative core beliefs that somewhat chain her down, and hold her back from having the fullest experience.

It is as if she has many metaphysical ideas and thoughts, has much metaphysical knowledge, but somehow does not truly fully believe that which she has studied and surveyed for so long. There is no way that this Awareness could say to her that she is incorrect in some of her statements. As a physical being she still has not yet experienced the freedom that so many spiritual sources and spiritual channels have spoken of, but this Awareness would say if there was not something to all of this metaphysical stuff, why would so many be speaking of it now? Why would so many be seeking it now? Why would it drive so many to find a truth that supersedes that which is the physical reality that most people accept, and that most people would never dare question?

Many Lightworkers are Struggling With Doubt

There is a truth to the physical, but there is a greater truth to the spiritual, to the metaphysical, and this can never be achieved if there is always a doubt as to whether it is true or not. The doubt itself will be the greatest chain of all that will prevent the experience of shifting consciousness from occurring. This is something that many Light Workers are struggling with at this time, and on a positive note, this Awareness says that this is indeed part of the Ascension Process, part of the Awakening, part of the breaking away from physical dogma, paradigms of third dimensionality, and as such, it is something that all who seek to ascend must go through. Eventually a point is reached where transformation can occur, and the body of the dolphin is replaced by the form of the eagle, and a new reality is then experienced, is then achieved.

The Sea of Dualism/Reality

(Outside is Just as Relevant as Inside)

QUESTIONER:

Would it be safe to say that it's a matter of just flowing with the energies rather than to control?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is partially true. The other part that also needs to be understood is that the sea of consciousness that is experienced by many at this time, that which defines the physical reality, is also the sea of dualism, duality. What the entity was expressing in some ways was a dualistic outlook: that the physical reality somehow has greater validity and form than the non-physical reality. In some ways it is so much hogwash to burden oneself with such dreams and thoughts when the simple ugly truth is that one is always immersed in the physical and cannot break free of it.

This dual way of thinking is exactly part of the sea of consciousness that defines physical reality, is part of that which is the Ascension Process that must be broken through. Duality must become wholeness, must become unity. Outside is as relevant as inside. Seeing inside and trusting the inner truth will help define the outside expression of the inner truth. In a dualistic way of seeing things the outside world always has control of an individual. Thus it is that the entity MP can state that while it is all fine and dandy to have metaphysical ideas, the ugly truth is that this is still a physical reality.

A Shift From Dualistic Perceptions to Unity Thinking

This is the statement that this Awareness says It could not refute, for if that is the belief, then that is indeed a truth. However, what this Awareness is saying is that the shift in consciousness will very much involve a shift from dualistic perceptions and concepts to Unity Thinking, to a form of conscious awareness that sees the whole picture and not the picture split in two: an us and them, an inside and outside, a light and a dark, a black and a white.

Part of what now needs to occur is that individuals must see themselves not as part of a dualistic universe but as part of a universal universe, a whole universe, a singular universe, and thus it is that when one believes and knows that the truth of their being is that they are multidimensional in nature and that the physical expression of that nature is simply one expression of many, and that they have the ability to experience other realities, other forms of consciousness, that they can move into Unity Thinking, thinking in terms of wholeness and oneness versus separation and division.

It is seen that the entity herself wishes this to be so, but has had many experiences where she is drawn back, cruelly so, into physical form, back into the sea of consciousness having not transformed herself into the eagle. This Awareness states that the answer is not to dive deeper into the ocean and pretend there is no sky above the ocean, denying its reality, but to keep jumping, for sooner or later, because of the shifting energies and the shifting consciousness of the planet, she will attain the exact thing that she so much desires and wishes for.

MP Will Become an Eagle and Will Fly

She will indeed transform into an eagle and she will be able to fly in the rarified atmosphere of consciousness that is her birthright to fly in. This is so for the entity MP, and it is so for all those who seek the Ascension Process, for they seek it because it is part of their journey. When the came through the veil of forgetfulness mentioned, they brought with them within themselves the seeds of their higher consciousness. They came into planetary consciousness of physicality at this time with those seeds, meaning for them to grow, meaning for them to bear fruit, meaning for them to expand, so that when the time was right, all those who brought the seed of higher consciousness into this physical plane of existence would sprout wings and would ascend into the higher planes of consciousness that will also define the Ascended Planet, Ascended Consciousness.

A Word For Those Who Can't Escape this Prison Planet

This is why so many have come at this time, but the energies are still very thick on the planet, very clinging and very much dragging many back into physicality, into the denser energies and these rarified beings who have not yet sprouted their wings are very struck by this process, are very frustrated and depressed that they have not yet escaped this prison planet. This Awareness asks one and all who have these extreme experiences not to give up hope, but rather to hold hope as the only way forward, to know within themselves that they have come at this time for this experience and to keep jumping out of the water, but to do so with joy, to do so with hope, to do so with that inner compulsion and understanding that this is their nature to do so, and that eventually they will be set free.

This Awareness is complete.

Those Entities Who Will Inhabit Planet B (To Imagine an Entity Suffering a Half Billion Years)

QUESTION:

Our next question is from Tim Grey in California. His question concerns Planet B inhabitants. He writes, "And finally my heart cries out when I think that any being is destined for Planet B, the planet that does not experience Ascension. To imagine that a being would need to suffer another half a billion years in slavery and exploitation is very hard for me to grasp, and I have thought that it must be totally unacceptable to any beings of higher vibration than ourselves. How can there be such an excess of darkness and so many beings seemingly unwilling to live in the Law of Love, to accept that all beings are lovable and to be open to communicate rather than separate and control?" Your comments please?

Oh, there's one another thing. An observation when I was reading this; I was reminded of the words, "Earth was once seen as mud, and filled with darkness, debris, pollution, and garbage. In the network of Light visualization, in the 92-13 issue."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Planet B Seen as a Living Hell?

This indeed raises some very interesting questions that beings of consciousness may have, for it is seen that Planet B is a punishment somehow. It could be conceptualized as a living hell for those who would be trapped on such a planet and that beings of higher consciousness should object to this, and yet the truth is the exact opposite. Those true beings who have achieved higher awareness, higher consciousness, allow all to have the exact experience that they would need to have, that would best promote their own overall spiritual growth and development.

Third Dimensionality is Illusionary

For those beings who have escaped physical reality, 3rd dimensional form, are able to see that this experience in itself is an illusion. It is only seen as real by those who are experiencing it without their having a capacity to escape the illusion. In other words they immerse themselves so much in the illusion that the illusion becomes the reality. Third dimensionality is illusionary, and it can only truly work if one completely believes in the illusion, completely engages in the illusion. If one does not believe in the illusion and is able to walk outside of it, then they have another perspective on what is happening. While it is true that those individuals who would seek out Planet B at an even more extreme separation in consciousness from that which is their High Consciousness, their multidimensional nature, may be seen as deplorable, may be seen as horrendous, may be seen as unthinkable.

Those Who Experience Planet B Have Chosen That Experience

These very same beings who are having this experience are doing so from their own inner conscious levels where they are aware that they have chosen these experiences for their own growth and development. It is not proper or correct for those who have not achieved the highest level of awareness to judge that such an experience would be deplorable and degrading and undesirable, for that would be judging another soul's need to have a unique experience, and once simply does not have that right. The soul expresses itself in a myriad of ways, across millions of realities, billions, trillions. This would simply be another experience for some to have as they seek an overall understanding of the truth of the Divine and of the Everything.

The Time Frame of Planet B to Attain Ascension

The other thing that this Awareness wishes to address is that matter of the time frame that it might take for Planet B to once again return back to a position of Ascension. This Awareness wishes one and all to remember that time itself does not exist. 500 billion years is the same as a blink of an eye if one has the capacity to go beyond the time scale, and go beyond time itself. Time is simply a measure that is used for reference. It would be a long time on one level, but instantaneous on another. It does not mean that one individual choosing to walk the path of Planet B will be chained for 500 billion years to that evolutionary track. They will be in that track as long as they need to be in that track, but there are other options for each soul to investigate.

It Is The Right of Every Soul to Have This Experience

It is not a prison sentence in hell, it is rather simply a unique experience that many will choose to have for they will wish to know what it will feel like to be that separated from the Divine and from their own spiritual nature. Not everyone will seek this experience, not every soul will seek to have such an experience, but for those who do, there is no need for compassion. There is no need for pity. There is no need even for understanding. It is their right, each individual soul's right to have the experience that is right for them, be it one of complete separation from the Godhead or be it one of complete immersion in the Godhead. Each soul has aspects of itself in both experiences.

While the sentiment expressed is heartfelt, this Awareness asks the individual himself to seek even deeper, to develop his own awareness to that higher state where he will see that this experience will simply be an experience, and each will have it for as long as is needed and no longer. This Awareness is complete with this question.

The Homelessness Experience

(Should We Feel Pity and Compassion?)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) That puts in mind a conversation with the Interpreter concerning the homeless people.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is exactly so. Those who have the experience in this physical form at this time of homelessness, of deprivation, of being without, may well be judged by those who have as being in a deplorable situation. Because they are judging these individuals from their own point of perspective, their own place of perspective where they have. Not having is seen as something that is undesirable. Not having food and shelter or even by their judgment and interpretation, not even having dignity, is seen by those who have such things as a deplorable state.

And yet, those who are having that experience of homelessness are gaining very deep internalized experiences of the reality of 3rd dimensionality that is equally valid for them and for the soul itself. To deny the soul, or to deny the expression and aspects of the soul such experiences would be dictatorial indeed, whereas those higher levels of consciousness allow all to have exactly the experience that would best suit the needs of the soul, or the aspect of soul having the experience.

Is It An Error to Donate to Organizations That Help the Homeless People?

QUESTIONER:

Is it in error to try to help them? In other words, to send donations to organizations that could help people in the here and now that are in the different cities across Canada and the world?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is never an error to extend compassion, to reach out one's hand to help another human being, but such compassion and help must be done without judgment and without prejudice. One can choose to help, but equally one can choose not to help. There is nothing divine in being able to say, "I helped this poor homeless person! Look at me! I gave them $20.00!"

QUESTIONER:

I don't think that's the purpose.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is speaking this for a reason. Many who give have made such a judgment of those who they see as homeless. There is an inferior and superior attitude held; that the individual who has is somehow superior to that individual who has not, and giving charity often has many strings attached, including the attitudinal strings. That is all this Awareness is saying. If one chooses to give, one simply gives, for they feel that is their correct action. If one chooses not to give, then one does not need to give, for that is the correct action.

This of course may ruffle many feathers, for it is seen that higher consciousness expresses itself through acts of charity. This Awareness has nothing against acts of charity. It favors acts of charity, but it must be done from that place of balance and lack of attachment. Everyone has the experience that they have chosen for themselves. Some will have experiences of deprivation. Some will have experiences of excess. Neither is right, neither is wrong. They are simply the experiences had in the moment. Is this clear?

An Update On the Galactic Federation

QUESTIONER:

(That puts everything in perspective. Thank you for that) This is my question. I wonder if there could be an update on the Galactic Federation.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

A few months ago, by earthly standards, there was announced that there would be a First Contact. This contact did not occur at that time. The update is that the Galactic Federation is still very much seeking a contact where they can come forward, so that many will see the truth and reality of their being and of their existence. This is still the plan.

However, it is also seen that these are delicate times somewhat and they are therefore holding back somewhat. They are waiting to see exactly what will come of the chaotic energies that are planetarily unfolding at this time. It is seen and it is known that what is unfolding at this time is not accidental, is not unplanned or unstructured. It is seen and known by the Galactic Federation that this is part of the greater plan to create One World Government, to create that which have often been called the New World Order. The Galactic Federation is simply biding its time, until the after the inauguration of that individual who has currently been elected to be the President of the United States of America.

While it was seen even last month as a possibility that the Galactic Federation would still show itself in First Contact before the end of the year, it is seen at this time that there is a holding back of that plan. What is being watched instead is a series of smaller encounters that are more major than many that have occurred, but are not yet completely that First Contact that this Awareness and others have spoken of. It is seen that there may be more intermediary events and contact situations occurring and building up to the grand event as this Awareness sees as still planned for the new year, but sometime after the inauguration of Barack Obama.

Orion Empire Currently Has the Edge in the Galactic War

This is the latest. The clash between the Orion Empire and the Galactic Federation is still ongoing. Part of the reason of the holding back is that the Orions seem to have some edge at this time, and there is a threat that many will be killed off if the Galactic Federation comes forward at this time. The Galactic Federation has no intent or desire to see masses of humanity killed off for its sake, so it is seeking a more appropriate time frame when this threat cannot be carried out, for at this time it is seen that the Galactic Federation does not have the capacity to prevent the mass-destruction of regions of the planet that could well be triggered if they were to show themselves too early.

Orion Empire Has Very Destructive Implants in Our Earth

It is mostly for this reason that the Galactic Federation has held back for the Orion Empire has technologies implanted in the earth itself that could be triggered and create huge geological events such as the nature of which this Awareness has spoken of in the past that could eradicate millions and millions of individuals. Until this is somehow averted, the Galactic Federation is holding back even though their agenda is one where they would like to present themselves in a manner that is undeniable. In the meantime they are settling for more intermediate events, or intermediate exposure of those forces and expressions of that which is the Galactic Federation.

What Was that Fireball Across Canada?

(More to the Story than Just an Asteroid)

QUESTION:

There was a recent fireball that went across Alberta, depositing some of its debris in Alberta and Saskatchewan I believe. Was that the asteroid that was supposed to come and smash through earth? And also, was the Galactic Federation instrumental in diverting this fireball?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

In answer to the first part, it was not the huge asteroid that is being predicted by some heading towards the earth. It is seen that it was an asteroid, but it was diverted by the Galactic Federation forces for the purpose of triggering, at a much deeper level to those who witnessed the event, a form of awe, a form of amazement for the hundreds of thousands who saw the event in the sky on that cold night and those who saw it captured on film shown on television were truly amazed at this spectacular event. While it indeed was an asteroid, there was more to this event. It was meant to be an omen and a signal of sorts on a deep unconscious level of those who saw the event, thus in a way preparing many for events in the skies that are to unfold in the months ahead. This is why this event was staged if you will, for the benefit of the world.

QUESTIONER:

Amazing! Thank you) Is there a closing message please?

Light Workers and Core Beliefs

(Their Hardest Work Now Begins)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The closing message that this Awareness has at this time is that many who are Light Workers are beginning the hardest work of all: the digging deep within oneself to truly find those core beliefs, those inner levels of their own understanding and their own perceptions of what truth is, what reality is. All humans grow up in that sea of consciousness this Awareness has spoken of that is 3rd dimensional reality, but there are certain paradigms of belief held in this sea of consciousness. These paradigms of beliefs are passed on from generation to generation. Thus it is that the core beliefs are formed first and foremost through the examples of the parents and family that the individual is born into, through their teachings, through their examples.

This is then reinforced as the child grows, attending school, developing friendships, becoming a member of society, being influenced by societal beliefs and attitudes, all the while covering the deep core beliefs held at the basic level of that individual that have been forming since the moment of their birth. These paradigms of belief, these core beliefs are such that physical truth and physical reality hold sway over all else, and it is difficult to abandon such core beliefs, especially if one has never been in a situation for whatever reason where they are led to question such beliefs.

Times When Some People Question God

This often happens when the individual has an individual experience, maybe even a negative experience that causes that individual to begin questioning. Thus it is that an individual who may have been raised with Fundamental Christian beliefs may have an experience where someone they love is murdered or dies suddenly, and they begin to question God. They begin to question all of the assumptions that have ever been given to them about God and religion, and this may lead the individual to start questioning those deep core beliefs, and a journey commences.

Eventually the journey may bring the individual to a place where they must resolve the issues. Resolution may occur by denying completely and falling back into the sea of consciousness, into a somnolence again, where they no longer question, they simply go on accepting, but more often than not it leads the individual to a place where they start jumping out of the water, because they are seeking to transform themselves, even if they do not know how this can occur. It is important that as core beliefs are discovered and exposed, that new core beliefs begin to replace those old beliefs, those old paradigms so that eventually a process occurs that could be called the Ascension Process, and the Ascension into a higher understanding, a higher consciousness can occur.

This is what is happening to more and more individuals at this time. More are starting to question the core beliefs that they have been given from the onset of their lifetimes. They have come into this reality holding the seeds of higher consciousness and thus the journey is now one of unfolding into that higher consciousness and exposing the deeper core beliefs. This is often a very challenging experience, especially if one keeps falling back into the sea of consciousness that defines and supports physical reality at this time.

Nonetheless, this is still the process that many have chosen for themselves and this Awareness speaks of those who are continually jumping from the water. Eventually transformation will occur, for this is the Divine Destiny of all those who have chosen to jump in the first place.

This Awareness is complete at this time.

On the Action of Loving Another

"...essentially, the action of loving another or of expressing love to another is an action whereby you are more concerned with the satisfaction of the other entity, you are more concerned with satisfying the other entity than you are concerned with being satisfied yourself.

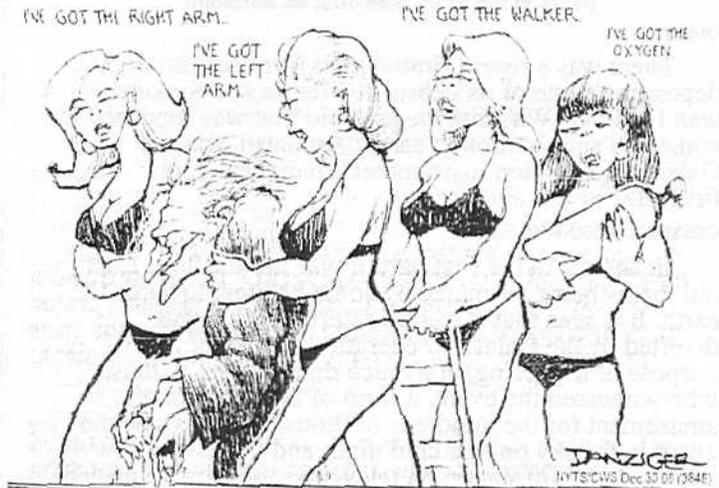

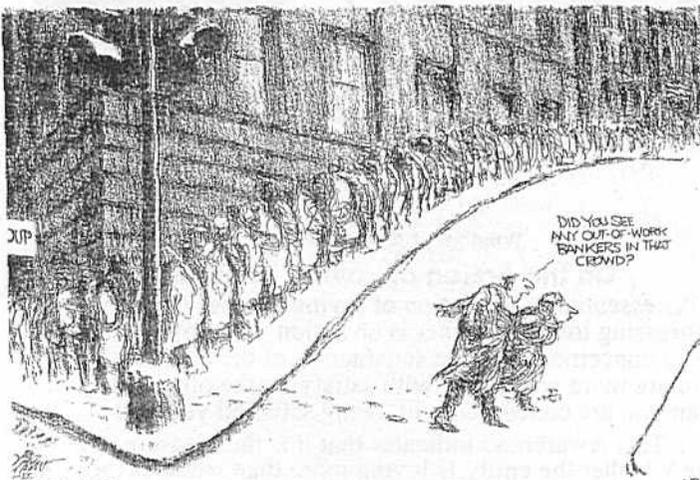

"...This Awareness indicates that it is the measure of a life whether the entity is loving more than whether the entity is loved." (82-2)

Wisdom of Awareness...

WHY AWARENESS MAKE YOU RESPONSIBLE FOR YOUR OWN LIFE

This Awareness indicates there is nothing that is true except that which you think. And as you thinketh, this becomes true for you, and as others think along with you, a collective level of truth begins to form and images begin to solidify and form around that truth and give support.

This Awareness indicates that thought is the builder, consciousness is the being. Thought creates the forms and shapes and images and the life for these forms, shapes and beings are in the consciousness. The feelings, the sensitivities give that breath of life; the directed thinking determines the shape.

This Awareness suggests that your life moves from moment to moment and you create your world as you think and you experience your world as you feel. This Awareness suggests that you have the choice of feeling what you wish to feel from moment to moment and the choice of thinking what you wish to think from moment to moment. And being aware that your thoughts and feelings create your world and that you have your choice as to what you wish to create, this Awareness makes you responsible for your life and sets you above the animals who are but the victims of circumstance.
