OPENING MESSAGE:

The Paradigm of Materialism (An Ode to the Summer Solstice)

This Awareness does have an opening message for this date. This date being the 20th of June, this date being the Solstice, the return to the planet of those energies in the northern hemisphere that are associated with Summer, with that time of light and warmth and long days. For that time when many have memories of long summer afternoons and days, of lazy times and celebrations, of Bar-B-Qs and baseball games and that which was the ideal time for relaxation, for letting it be, for being in a harmony with a world that was in peace and plentitude. That while this may not always have been the case with the world events raging around the world itself, many saw summer as that idyllic time where one could enjoy oneself in that close proximity to nature and to the warmth of the season, the heat and the light of the season. That for this Solstice, there is, unfortunately, much suffering that is occurring to many who live in regions where extreme weather conditions have caused flooding, the loss of home, even for some the loss of life. This Awareness is referring to that region of the United States, the Midwest region where the extreme flooding is occurring even now. That many of those people are not able to focus on an idyllic summer this year when their homes and their livelihood have been taken due to the flooding that has been occurring. This is a very tragic event and yet, it is only the tip of the iceberg for those events will continue to occur and will become worse as the time goes on, as that movement towards that splitting of the planets, of the separation of the energies of the frequencies, draws on nigh.

The Paradigm of Imperialism is Being Dismantled

This Awareness has indeed spoken to this and speaks on it again at this time, for the times are indeed changing, that almost naïve-like attitude that was held toward summer is being challenged and will continue to be challenged as events and circumstances cause the displacement and disruptions of many, many entities' lives. While this is the unfolding of the energies that will dismantle existing order that will destroy and smash the paradigms that have so long existed, especially in the western world, at the same time, it is also an opportunity for new beginnings, new ways of looking at things. This will be rather difficult for many who lose loved ones, who lose their homes and their possessions, their livelihoods; and yet, it is for this reason that this Awareness wishes to speak to this. For as these events transpire, as these events unfold, as many hundreds of thousands of individuals are affected and soon, many millions are affected, it is imperative to remember that this too shall pass, that this is simply a phase that needs to be transited, that needs to be gone through in order to reach the other side. It is imperative that many hold to the inner trust and to the faith that all will be well, that this is simply a passing moment; that what is being dismantled and brought down is the paradigm of materialism, is that false idyllic hope that was held in naïve ways to something artificial. By this, this Awareness is referring to those idyllic concepts and times that were once held by so many where the ownership of things, the acquisition of wealth and prosperity, and even the achievement of positions of power and stature were held to be the "real thing", the thing that would ensure happiness and fulfillment, that would provide for one and all that measure of success and security, and even well-being, that was the American Way, the American Dream; and that this dream was also held by many other nations also, many other western nations, that America held the prominent position of being the leader in this dream, and this dream emanated outwards to the rest of the world in various ways, shapes and forms. Thus the link between the idyllic conception and perception of summer being that time of freedom and joy and happiness, and Mom's apple pie, and all that made life good, to that dream that also linked the ownership and material acquisition of things as being that which would provide all that was needed by any individual within the society, any level of comfort, security, happiness, fulfillment would be achieved through ownership, through possession and in the belief of the American Dream, and that by believing in the American Dream, the individual would achieve all that was needed in life to be happy, hopeful, and fulfilled. It is this that is beginning to unravel, this being that believing, owning things, material acquisition and ownership, wealth, money, power, will bring happiness and fulfillment. With the times coming as they already are unfolding, many will have this dream and these notions taken from them. Those who are suffering at this time through the loss of their homes, their families, their loved ones, their livelihood will not be thinking that today, the 20th of June, is the beginning of summer, but rather will be focused on the reality of their loss, of that which has now been taken from them, and that which they will now have to experience as a result.

These Events Need to Occur and Will Pass in Time

These will indeed be challenging times for those so affected and that there will be more challenging times ahead but through those challenging times, what is absolutely necessary for those who have a perception of such matters is the recognition that these events, even as they dismantle the society around one, are the very events that still need to occur in order to dismantle the belief structure that has been holding sway for the last period of time. That this too will pass, and to stay focused on the positive and to allow the change to sweep through, to allow movement and transition, for those who cannot allow movement and transition, those who stay rigid and attached to the old beliefs, the old paradigms, the old structures, will be shaken apart, will see their whole world crumble and disintegrate around them and it may be more than they can endure. That in these troubled times, these difficult and challenging times, the greatest action of all to be taken to assist others, is to reach out, to reach out a hand to help where one can, to reach out with one's faith and trust and knowledge that these are changing times, that we will get through them, that all will get through them; and also, to reach out with the energies that each human has to project these energies to those who are suffering, those who are in loss, those who are in pain.

Don't Lose Oneself in the Energies of Transition

To send the healing energies of the heart and of spirit to those who are in such positions, to send such energies while on one level may be considered as inadequate, this Awareness is here to say that they are very adequate, that sending such energy will indeed help individuals find peace within themselves as the shifting times roll through. While these are indeed shifting times while the transition has begun already, it is imperative to remember this, for to forget this, to bury oneself in the energies that are occurring at this time, will be to lose oneself in those energies of transition, that many will indeed be lost, for in their inability and their unwillingness to see and recognize the change that is occurring around them, there will be great loss and it is important for those who have awareness and understanding to become pillars in themselves, in their families and in their communities to show those around that these are changing times and the true way forward is to change with the times, to allow the times to move through them and pass them, trusting and honoring that there will be better times ahead.

The Meditation To Help Others

So on this Solstice Day, this beginning of Summer, for this year 2008, this Awareness does state that while many are suffering, many are at loss, that the energies of the Solstice are still important, that the energies of growth and change are still important, that summer is that occasion where fruition occurs, where that which is the ripening of the crops and the vegetables, and the fruits takes place, and that even with loss, there are those areas and regions that will still experience this and that it will be recognized that a need for sharing of one's time, one's products, one's monies, one's energies to those and for those who do not have at this time will indeed be required. Therefore, look within, to see what is needed by each to share with those who are in difficulty at this time. Be it difficulties because of the extreme weathers, the rains and floods, or because this is also a challenging time emotionally as well, to look within for one's own stability, one's own trust, one's own faith and to share this with those who are going through difficult times. Not all will be open, not all will be receptive but the act of sharing is that which is the most important of all.

So while the Solstice Summer energies are now once again here, there is still the need to remember that the transition period is well underway now, that there will be many more challenges coming, and to take those energies of growth and expansion that the summer truly represents and to apply them personally and to share them where one can. That there is indeed also still the opportunity available to enjoy the summer, to receive at this time that measure of happiness and enjoyment and relaxation that is indeed available to many. That while world events are unfolding, that it is important to still create within oneself and one's environment a place of peace and tranquility, a place of freedom, joy and hope; a place where the summer can indeed be enjoyed, even if the requirement is that one recognizes the events around and, where possible, in the sharing with others, achieve that Higher Consciousness, the Higher Awareness that is also possible in these times.

This Awareness is complete in Its convoluted Opening Message. This Awareness asks if there are any questions as to what this Awareness has shared of the energizer.

Ed's Note: Although not giving specifics, I'm sure Awareness was seeing what was coming down the road just 3 months later, when all those Wall Street banks collapsed and vast unemployment and Great Depression II officially began.

Is There a Special Meditation to Help Others?

ENERGIZER:

Yes there is one thank you. Is there a special meditation or meditations members could do or partake in for those who are in need that could possibly help their situation in some way.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is an excellent question of the energizer. This Awareness suggests that those who are so inclined to send healing energies, supportive energies, to many who are affected by the unraveling events and do the following meditation:

That they start by seeing themselves walking down a set of twelve stairs, that they can do a count for themselves, counting from twelve down to one, as they see themselves walking down the twelve stairs. That they see themselves entering a place of tranquility, peacefulness, prosperity, a familiar and safe place. It may be a favorite place in the mountains, a favorite place by the sea, the ocean, by a lake, or even in the middle of a prairie field, wherever they find themselves, that they sit there in their peaceful serene spot. That they then contact through their Low Self (their subconscious self) their High Self, that part of their being that is in existence at the highest Spiritual level, and that a prayer or request be made that assistance be given to those who require assistance in the regions that are most affected by those events that are unfolding. That the next action be that the individual take three deep breaths, collecting mana, that the number can be varied according to the individual's desire; in other words, three breaths, four breaths, seven breaths, nine breaths, however many breaths the individual chooses to take collecting the mana, is entirely up to the individual. But what is important here is that mana be collected, and then raised up and given to the High Self with the specific request that the energies given to the High Self be given to those most in need in whatever way is appropriate to help them get through their situations. This help may be translated to food and shelter being provided, it may be translated to emotional comfort and support being given, it may be translated to spiritual awareness and understanding being received by those most affected. It is not the purpose of the individual sending such mana to the High Self with the prayer that it be given to those most in need, to dictate how this mana should be translated, it is enough to send such mana, such focus, such intent to the High Self with the request that it be used for those most in need. Spirit itself will understand and recognize how to translate this energy into an effective way for those in need.

Sit Quietly in Meditation and Listen for a Possible Message

That the individual is then to sit in quiet meditation for a period of time, sending on a more subliminal level, thoughts of support and love to those in the areas most affected. If it is so that people are known to that individual who is doing the meditation that they send their energies to these loved ones, these friends, these associates. But being positive at all times, understanding that all will resolve itself, all will work out. That this is a slightly lower way or level of sending such energies but it is also an effective way to simply sit in that space and to send out this energy after having directed it, having directed rather the mana first in the form of prayer to the High Self to help those most in need, to simply sit in that space and to hold space for those going through such experiences, to send out love and support is highly effective. Finally, to be open to anything received from the High Self in the form of a message or understanding to the events that are unfolding, that a request may even be made to help understand how to better serve or how to appreciate the events that are unfolding so that one can translate them into one's own personal life. What is said is not so important, the request for understanding is what matters. Understanding so that one can apply that understanding to personal use, that they can apply it to their personal lives.

This would conclude this meditation. That the individual would then seek to come up the twelve stairs once again, counting rather from one up to twelve and an instruction being given that upon reaching twelve, the individual steps back into full consciousness, feeling refreshed, revived and invigorated.

This is a meditation that this Awareness suggests be used to send out healing energies, love and support to those in need. That if an individual also wishes to send money or go to help, or to do whatever else is given of the individual while in meditation to be performed in the name of service, that that individual follows that lead; however, what is most important is energy be sent to those areas where the need is greatest. This Awareness is complete with this question.

ENERGIZER:

Thank you, thank you so much. This definitely is important in the sense that others can feel at least they understand what the people are going through and can help in some way or in any way they possibly can, and having a starting point on how to do this is or was really needed. Thank you. It's most appreciated.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is in agreement that it was needed.

ENERGIZER:

We have some questions on Ascension and astronomy, and a book review – is there a particular area you would like to start off with?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness trusts that the energizer will know which question to ask first.

ENERGIZER:

We'll start with the Ascension ones as there are several here.

Will the 4th Dimensional Earth Also be a 5th Dimensional Earth After the Ascension?

QUESTION:

The first one comes from Kathy Kevany of Silver Springs, Maryland, and this regards the Ascension and the Fourth Dimension. It starts off with "or maybe he's already said and you can tell me:

"Will the Fourth Density Earth also be a Fifth Density Earth. I'm thinking that the answer is No, that by the Fifth Density, we aren't physical and don't need Earth; in fact, I'm thinking that by the higher ends of Fourth, we aren't visible. Is that right?"

Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness first expresses that It has a confusion over what the entity means by densities, that if the entity means dimensions or levels of dimensions, that largely the comments of the entity herself are correct. That using the concept of dimensions for density, then what is seen here is that the Fourth Dimension has several strata, an infinite amount of strata actually, but for the sake of perception, it will suffice to say seven layers or levels exist in that dimension; and that there is an increasing up substantiality in the physical sense as one progresses up the levels or layers of density or dimension. Thus it is that the lowest dimension of the Fourth, the lowest layer or strata is simply one above that which is Third Dimension. Thus while a corporeal form may no longer be quite required, there is a great deal of interaction between the lowest or first level of Fourth Dimension and that which is Third Dimension. Thus it is that there is a great deal of interaction between Spirits that have crossed over from Third Dimension but are still in the lower Three Dimensions: the first, the second, and the third. That as the consciousness evolves to those higher levels, the seventh layers, and first layer of the fifth, the second layer, there is less attachment to the physical, less form needed; however, saying this, it is still highly possible even at the seventh layer of the fourth density or Fourth Dimension, to create physical structure but not interacting with it in the same way that one interacts on the Third Dimension when one is in Third Dimensional form where physical rules and laws hold sway. These rules do not hold sway in the Fourth Dimension, especially at those higher levels of Fourth Dimension.

Once One Passes Into the 5th Dimension—The Dream State

This Awareness suggests that once one passes into the Fifth Dimension, into the dream state, that any surface could be created, any landscape, any environment at all that one wishes to experience. Thus it is possible once again to create earthy landscapes if one desires, but the interaction to such landscapes is completely different than how they are engaged at the lower levels of dimensional realities. Does this make the matter clear?

ENERGIZER:

No. I'm sorry. The last part where you mentioned the Fifth Density, it's possible as the dream state, it's possible to create your own scenarios so to speak but the way of reacting to it or acting with it is different. In what sense would that be?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The awareness to the situation one is in, the level one is at is what would define it. In the Third Dimension humans are mostly asleep to the truth of their true being thus they live a life that is defined by rules and laws given to them by their society, by the collective mentality. These rules having a physical nature. That as one moves through the Fourth Dimension, there is more and more release from the strict collective mentality that underlies the assumptions that are held, both by the individual and the collectivity or the collective mind. That in the Fifth Dimension, this is completely broken, and thus one can choose to play in whatever reality they choose to play in, always knowing, always being aware that things are not real as they are in the physical or Third Dimension. Thus it is that one can be walking on the surface of the Moon in one instance, and then flying through space to another planet or returning to the Earth, or even going into the center of the Sun, anything is possible; and it is done with a degree of awareness and understanding, a different sort of consciousness in other words, a more evolved or higher level of conscious mind is used at the higher levels of density of dimensional reality.

Does this make more sense?

Imagination VS Creation

ENERGIZER:

It definitely does make more sense so that whatever you imagine, whatever is to be, then that will be, sort of?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is even more. Whatever you imagine, you know will be, for you are imaging it. There is an awareness of being able to create that which is imagined, an experience that which is imagined. This is in great opposition to what occurs on the physical planet where one imagines but does not truly believe that that which they imagine will necessarily be created or occur. Especially if it goes against all boundaries of belief that are contained within physical structure or belief patterns. Thus it is that while one may believe that there is a Shangri-La somewhere, when one is living in a ghetto, or when one is living in a desperate situation, imagining such a Shangri-La, such a paradise, will not actually create it outright. If one believes that imagination is worthless to some degree, that it is only a product of the mind and that there is no strength or power to it, then one cannot allow their reality to be shifted so that they do begin to experience Shangri-La because there is a deeper belief that this is only something imagined.

To Imagine Something is the Same as Creating It

In the Fifth Dimension and working up towards Fifth through the various layers of Fourth, it is understood and recognized that imagining something is the same as creating it, the two are one and the same. To imagine is to create, is to experience, and this is the major difference. One is free of all those collective belief systems, those physical belief systems that define one's existence on the Third Dimension of reality.

ENERGIZER

Now it makes sense. I appreciate that, thank you. I'm sorry to be so dense – Fourth Density, well you have dense right here! I'm sorry. Thank you so much for that commentary, it really helped to explain it.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to make comment on the comment of the energizer. That while this is said in jest and in humor, it is appreciated that the energizer did speak up, for many more may also have been confused, may not quite have understood and it is indeed incredibly helpful when the energizer does speak up, does ask questions, for she is the voice of many who are not available to ask such a question, and this Awareness never, ever feels that the asking of questions by the energizer is unwarranted or dense.

ENERGIZER

Thank you, I really appreciate that comment. It makes a lot more sense now, definitely.

We have about 25 more on the counter and the question that I have that is coming up next is quite involved and ...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness therefore suggests that the tape be turned over.

The Strange Disappearance of Steve Fossett

ENERGIZER.

Thank you. This question concerns the millionaire Steve Fossett. I will be sending Jon a copy of this so he will be able to get the spelling on everything. It concerns him going into another dimension and telling about it. It's an interesting commentary. Avaton asks that it be all read. It starts:

"The truth about adventurer-millionaire Steve Fossett's disappearance, who has been missing since his plane allegedly went down on September 3 is now beginning to reveal itself. It has been said that the adventurer known for his many records and friendship with Virgin Airline CEO Richard Branson, was flying his personal plane in search for a suitable location to attempt a new record, a land speed record but credible sources have not come forward to say that Fossett was actually investigating a path he had found into the Fourth Dimension. 'I had never seen him so esthetic,' says a close friend. 'He spoke of this Fourth Dimension in scientific terms way beyond my comprehension but I can only believe that his disappearance has something to do with it. Steve was an experienced pilot, men like him just don't vanish mysteriously. He was onto something.' "We have reasons to believe he was actually already on the ground at the time of his last transmissions," says another source. "The fact that he hasn't been seen of since that day, and that neither his plane or any signs of a crash have been found, is now pointing to the fact that he may have discovered a secret gateway deep into the Nevada desert." Yesterday his wife, Peggy, filed a petition for him to be officially declared dead. More alleged witnesses are expected to step forward in the coming days to support this incredible discovery and reveal its existence to the modern world."

There is another part – just going on that one – there is a similarity to this, remember you had talked about the Bigfoot and how he would just go through gateways. Is that related to this in any way?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed it is. There are many such gateways, portals, of varying size and shape but that this individual had found a major portal that allowed both he and his aircraft to fly through; that there are smaller such doorways that are literally big enough for one to pass through but that which he found was more substantial. That while he did pass through, he has not found a way to re-enter back through that same portal, back into this dimension, this being the Third Dimension from which he left, and that it is unlikely that he will return via the same portal for this particular portal was a one-way trip. This he did not understand or recognize when he went searching and when he found this portal. There is a way to reverse the energy flow that would allow him to return but he does not understand how this works, and thus he is on that level beyond the physical where he can see and understand much of what is occurring but he is not able to return at this time. This Awareness suggests that it is unlikely that he will return the same way, that he may find another way through and another way back but even so, it is not likely that many will believe his story, that many will see this as a tremendous hoax on his part, especially if he returns years afterwards, claiming that he walked through a portal. Saying this, with the events that are unfolding, the changes that are happening, if he comes back at a time when many have experienced similar events, then he will be believed. This Awareness is referring more in the next year or two, before the major change and shift has happened.

What is Fawcett Actually Experiencing Now? (The Mysterious Anastasi are Teaching Him)

ENERGIZER:

What is he experiencing after going through that portal, is he still alive and he's well and everything, but what is he actually experiencing?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

An alternate reality. That it is very close to that which he left but there are things that are so different of it that he is fascinated and challenged by it. There is also a connection due to the region that he departed from, that being the Nevada region, that he has stepped back into energies that one could claim to be past, energies of the past. That it is seen that this was an area known by the Anastasi, a type of space people who had links to the aboriginal beings of that region at that time, a time in the past. And that he has stepped back into the past, and that he has been recognized by those living in the past as a being from the future, and that the Anastasi who themselves were beings from outside of that region, even one could say outside of that time, will recognize this individual. That in a strange way, this individual has found a time and space that suits him. That he is being given instruction by those teachers in that time, that very much feeds his curiosity and his sense of being a seeker of knowledge. That the individual himself is not suffering a sense of loss from having crossed over to this other dimension, and he is not immediately seeking a way back for as this Awareness has already spoken, it is not seen that he has the key of how to return; however, those teachers, those who are of the Anastasi, do know how to return him and it will be made so if he wishes it at a time in the not too distant future but it will depend on whether he wishes this to be so. At this moment it is seen that he is relatively happy in his present situation.

ENERGIZER:

That's quite an adventure, for sure.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is indeed, and it is an adventure that has given him much more than the adventures he sought with friend Richard Branson, those were adventures too, but this is giving him something that he was not receiving on the earthy plane, the Third Dimensional plane. He has no regrets for his actions even though he understands that in the Third Dimension, that he might be considered dead and gone. That a petition may be made by his wife and others to sue for his official declaration of death. Still this does not matter to him at this time for he is receiving much more in his present state, his present situation, than he did in all those years where he was seeking adventure, seeking something that he could not quite understand, and yet this need always drove him, he has finally found that which satisfies the need and feeds the hunger. He has found his place.

The Mysterious Light on Fawcett's Ranch

ENERGIZER (CONTINUES READING THE QUESTION)

How wonderful for him. The letter goes on. It says: "Finally I was able to catch him on his mobile just a few days before he disappeared. He told me I should come down to his ranch without further ado because he had found a path to a whole new world. Obviously I called him crazy, and jokingly asked what he had been drinking. But Steve wasn't kidding. He told me that he had spotted a mysterious white light of circular shape on the ground during one of his reconnaissance flights around the neighborhood. He said he had never noticed that light before. He told me that he went back home without investigating but kept thinking about the light and where it could be coming from since it was in a deserted region. He just went on and on with the light and I couldn't even say one word. He said that when he went back a few days later to investigate, the light had somehow moved about ¼-mile up north and he landed, almost as if the light had felt him approaching, it instantly moved to a nearby hill. He said he couldn't believe what was happening in front of him and he tried to call home to tell Peggy, but his phone mysteriously had died. As he approached he could see that the light was in fact a large hole and there were several bluish humanoids moving inside. Nobody seemed to notice him as he got closer, he was beginning to see what looked like a whole new society in there, half underground, half exposed to sunlight, right there in the middle of the desert. He told me he went back several times over the course of the next couple of days and each time, the white hole had moved. I asked him why he didn't take any specialists there, like UFO experts, and he said he did, but neither he nor them dared to step in and interact with the humanoid figures. He continued to insist that I should come visit him and he would take me. I was a little bit freaked out and wondered if my friend had lost his mind and told him I would see what I could do to visit him soon and quickly hung up the phone. That was the last time I heard of my friend Steve Fossett."

Subject: Recession hits Sesame Street

Shifting Portal Gates and the Anastasi

ENERGIZER:

My questions are: who, what were these figures which I believe you already mentioned were the Anastasi.

Did you have any comment on the portal gate moving. Is that a norm for this to happen?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Yes indeed this is a norm that the portals do shift around and move around but that there was more involved in this particular instant. That it was perceived and understood and received on the other side that this entity was searching, was looking for something, and in their own way, with the technologies available, technologies of the mind available to the Anastasi, they started to open the gate for him to see in. That this was a two-way communication in a sense. That as he searched, he projected his desire and his intent which was received by the Anastasi in the region. That they then projected outwards to him the images of the white light and the portal opening and of being able to see into it and see those figures. That they were projecting to him the invitation for him to join them, this is why he was so taken by this, one can almost say obsessed by this, returning time and time again.

Many Have Seen Portals, Some Accidentally Fell Into Them

Many have seen portals, many have looked into them or have seen the white light but have not become so drawn to it, so obsessed by them that they returned time and time again. Many have accidentally fallen into such portals, some managed to return very quickly, some never return. In the event of the individual himself, he saw into a land that he had been searching for all his life. He saw beings that had communicated with him all of his life. This is not simply a random occurrence, this is the end product of a lifelong journey, a lifelong search where he has been looking for something all of his life. That something is that which he has now found, that he eventually flew his plane into the hole and into the opening. It is seen that this was on the side of a mountain or hill in that region and that once he flew through, it was complete, it was done, and the gateway closed behind him. This is why he was never found. That gate that he flew through was closed, for the intent was to bring him through to teach him. There is perceived also the intent to release him, for he is not a prisoner, and when he so desires, if he so desires, he can return back to this physical reality that is the Third Dimension; however, he has not made such a decision at this time and is enjoying himself far too much to wish to return back to his past life, that being in the Third Dimension reality.

ENERGIZER

That's amazing, that's really amazing. If he ever does decide to return and write a book, it's going to be like someone else who had written about the Hollow Earth years and years ago and that was fascinating as well to read.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed correct. But more people are becoming receptive to this and more people will believe him than they did of the individual who spoke of the Hollow Earth.

Ed's Note: 4 months after this reading was given the media announced that Steve Fawcett's wrecked plane was discovered on a mountainside and later his belongings—billfold and credit cards etc.—were found. Later, human remains were discovered nearby the wreckage and DNA allegedly confirmed it was Fawcett's. This was obviously another coverup story. But for what reason? I have sent a question about this to Joan with the request she ask it in some future session. (Avaton)

The Winter of Our Discontent

A DISCUSSION ABOUT DEATH (Is it the Ultimate Illusion or Delusion?)

ENERGIZER

That's quite true, quite true.

Just to go off topic for a moment. There was a discussion with the Interpreter about death, the ultimate illusion or delusion – this is my question and his, in a sense, as well.

Cosmic Awareness has spoken several times in the past on this particular topic, providing considerable useful information over the years. Due to the passage of time, is there any additional information for the readers' consideration. For instance, could Awareness please speak to this topic in particular, a true or false: death is not the final chapter in life, in other words when death approaches and occurs, the person dies, is buried, that's it, game over, end of the road and so on. Would you please elaborate on this concept held by many and why this is or is not?

The next question was death of the body does not negate further activity of the soul if this has not been covered in the previous discussion; and the correlation between death, sleep, dreams, out-of-body experiences, etc., if this too has not already been covered; and, an after-thought, when being able to completely understand any particular concept and feel comfortable with it, this can totally eliminate any related doubts or fears which may arise.

Thank you for your consideration of this topic.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks where the energizer wishes It to begin. This is indeed a major topic that is being opened here and this Awareness is most certainly prepared to discuss it, for it does have great relevancy to that which has already been given today and that which this Awareness has given in the past. That the words the interpreter used was not simply that death is the "great illusion" or "delusion" but that death is the "great pretender".

Death the Pretender and Steve Fossett

ENERGIZER:

ahhh, pretender, I was searching for that word, thank you.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

You are welcomed. The reason this Awareness wishes to talk of this is that it is relevant to these times, especially to these times. Following on from the discussion of that entity Steve Fossett, that he made a choice, that he chose to cross over, a term often used when an individual leaves the physical and crosses over to that which is Spirit, or that which is held by many as Heaven or perhaps even Hell that exists beyond the life of the individual of any and all individuals. That in a sense it could be viewed that the entity Steve Fossett did indeed die, that he did indeed crash his plane, and he did indeed cross over into another dimensional reality that lies beyond the physical reality. However; as this Awareness has shared it and spoken of it, he has truly not died at all, he has simply changed one dimensional reality for another and, in this new dimensional reality, he finds himself in this new strata of consciousness, he is very much alive. That he crossed over with his airplane, a feat not often accomplished by most who speak of crossing over, for it normally relates to an individual crossing over at an energy level where the body is left behind and consciousness crosses over. The individual Steven Fossett crossed over physically, transmuted from one physical reality to another, yet he did cross over. Thus, that concept of his death is pretense for he still exists in another dimensional reality, that which some would choose to call a parallel reality. It is easy using this example to see how that phrase: "death, the great pretender" is erroneous, is it not?

ENERGIZER:

Yes

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Awareness Now Guides Us Through the Death Process

This Awareness now asks each and every person hearing these words, reading these words to consider that it is so with a physical death also. That the individual upon that time of death chooses to leave the physical reality and to leave the physical form, to release consciousness from that physical form, that physical reality, and to move over, to cross over, to that which no longer requires a physical form. That then progresses a series of steps or layers through that which this Awareness sometimes called the Bardos levels, those Bardos levels are also the lower levels of Fourth Dimensional reality. That the crossing from one Bardos layer to the next, from one level to the next, sharpens the mind, the consciousness, that is freed from the physical, eventually arriving to that which is Fifth Dimension where there is a true freedom, there is no longer an attachment to the physical reality of Fourth Dimension as well as Third Dimension. And this is that region of Celestria, of Heaven, that this Awareness has spoken of before. It is the dream state, it is Celestria, it is Nirvana, it is that where true freedom from physical reality exists. It is where all consciousness returns back to once the physical journey is complete. From this level, that consciousness, that mind, that sense of mind, that sense of self and identity, can look back to the physical reality, can understand that nothing has been lost, that the crossing over process is a process of freedom and liberation. That so much is now available to the entity, the conscious entity, that was not available in the Third Dimension, that it was not available even in the Fourth Dimension which is really a transitory situation as the consciousness moves from that which was a Third Dimensional reality, through Fourth Dimension, back into Fifth Dimensional reality. Thus it is, that the soul, the mind, the consciousness can understand that death truly is the Great Pretender. This conscious awareness is not as readily available to individuals still on the Third Dimension, who still partake in a Third Dimensional reality and who still subscribed to Third Dimensional paradigms of belief, structures of belief, especially when one holds that the physical reality is the be-all and the end-all where there is nothing that exists beyond the physical. For such beings who hold such atheistic thoughts and beliefs, there is no point to life beyond death for there is no such thing as life beyond death, that to them, death is the Great Ending, the terminator of life and that there is only a dispersal of the chemical elements of the body and the dispersion of the thoughts that constitute it, consciousness, into nothingness. This is the Great Delusion. This is that sad and erroneous belief that many hold now, for such is the case that they hold that the physical is the be-all, the end-all, and nothing else exists. How sad this is, for this denies the individual the magic and the charm of understanding that all are eternal beings, that consciousness does not cease to exist upon the extinction of a physical life form, and that physical life form is not the be-all and the everything, does not hold all there is to life, that life exists beyond the physical, that consciousness most definitely survives the death of the physical form, the physical body.

For those who are taught through their religious beliefs that the being goes on to that Heaven or that Hell, there is a curious lack of acceptance of the structures and the tenets of their own faith. That while many are taught that there is a survival of the physical form, rather survival of the consciousness of the soul of the individual that survives past the physical death, still it is that many do not truly hold this at such a level of belief that they are sustained each and every time there is a death of a known loved one, of someone known to them or even a death of someone unknown to them.

Many Believe Death is the Great Terminator and not the Great Pretender

It is curious, is it not that a religion can teach that there is life after death and yet when it comes down to it, many are uncertain this is so. Thus it is that they are in peril each and every time that there is a death of someone around them, or even worse, when they themselves are approaching death. They have given death too much power, too much energy, and they believe it again is a terminator, that it will terminate their existence. Thus in these modern times, many who profess to have religious faith, are severely challenged by death, for they are simply not certain what will occur upon death. Thus it is that many are afraid of death, do not truly wish to let go to death and, therefore, many hold on beyond the time of death. In other words, many hold on when by releasing and letting go, they could have found great joy, great happiness, great freedom and release. Due to this fear of what exists on the other side, many will hold on even though they are in pain and in great suffering, many will hold on simply because they do not believe their own teachings and the teachings of their pastors, their priests, their rabbis, their ministers, their allahs for such is the case that many in Third Dimensional reality now, believe that death is the Great Terminator, not the Great Pretender.

Should it truly be known and understood and accepted at a heart level, at that level of deep knowing, that there would be never any reason to fear death, there would never be a hesitation, for death is not a terminator, an ender, but rather a gateway itself, a gateway into a whole new understanding, a haven of belief that will sustain the Spirit, the Soul, the Consciousness that leaves the physical. It is the gateway back into the true state of being that is the consciousness, the individual consciousness of each and every individual. That this individual consciousness will return back into a new level of consciousness or understanding as it progresses through the levels of dimension, of dimensional densities, ironically returning finally as it moves up, up being a relative term here, up into the higher atmospheres of consciousness where once again there is an integration, a joining of all consciousness into wholeness, into oneness, a return back to the God-form, the God-essence, back into All That Is.

In These Times Many Who Fear Death Will Face Death

Thus it is that in these times, where many who fear death will soon face death, where many who will face those events, those unfolding events, that will move them from physical form back into their energy form, into their forms of energy consciousness, many will be frightened, many will be lost, many will resist, many will hang on in desperation beyond a time where they could release and find that freedom once again that death offers.

This Awareness understands that speaking of death this way is still something that many find difficult for the attachment to physical life, a physical material existence, is still so great that thinking of death as a Great Liberator is not fully accepted or even endorsed and yet, seen from the other side where there is the freedom, where there is the release, where there is the Truth, it is not only understood that death is the Great Pretender, it is understood that death is also the Promise that each spirit and each soul is given when they enter into physical life in the first place. Thus to have fear of death makes no sense when its true purpose is to return one back into the true essence of their being.

This Awareness is complete with this topic, but does invite further questions.

Death Creates Sadness Here But Joy There

ENERGIZER:

I was just wondering, I'm sure where I read it but it was stated that when someone passes, when someone dies, that there is sadness here, but rejoicing on the other side of wherever, and vice versa when a child is born, there is sadness there, and there is happiness here. Is there any truth to that concept?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed very correct. That moving into the physical, a place of limitation, restriction, a place of misunderstanding, erroneous beliefs, pain, suffering, that the soul is often grieved for from that which would be known as the higher dimensions. And yet what is always cherished and held as sacred, a sacred knowing, is that the experiences that would be had by the individual in the physical will come to an ending at some point, and the soul will be returned back into that higher consciousness. That the physical existence also does offer great opportunity for soul evolvment, for the expansion of the soul and of consciousness, and it is for this reason that the soul chooses to return back into a physical form, to have these great opportunities, to have experiences that cannot be had at that spiritual level of consciousness. There is therefore a reward for choosing a physical incarnation even if the knowledge is such that there is great challenge to that physical form, that physical experience. That knowing that the promise is given that there will be a release from that physical existence is enough to entice many souls back into physical form; that the veil of forgetfulness that occurs once the soul has passed through, once the soul is back into the physical, is such that the opposite then occurs. That while in the physical form, it is forgotten that the true essence of one's being is non-corporeal, is not physical, that death is seen, therefore, as a Great Ending with no way of validating that the soul will survive after the death. It is only through passing through the experience of death that one will remember that it is indeed the gateway to higher consciousness, to greater consciousness, that death is the Great Liberator. That once this experience is had, then it makes sense to call death the Great Pretender. But that is not understood or perceived by most who live in the physical where death is the Great Leveler, the Great Terminator, the Great Ending.

This Awareness wishes to relate a story of the Interpreter but requests first a check on the tape to see if there is sufficient time.

ENERGIZER:

Please start a new tape – it would be tape #2. Thank you. Would you continue please.

Why the Interpreter Has No Fear of Death

(It's time to break out the booze, My Friend)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to relate a dream had by the Interpreter, a dream the Interpreter had when he was 19 years old. It was a powerful dream, a significant dream, and in a way, showed the Interpreter the truth of death, that taught him at that very young age, that death was and is the Great Pretender. In the dream the Interpreter saw himself in a foundry, there were molten vats of lead all around, and he was standing on the floor of the foundry when one of the vats of lead, of molten lead, tipped over above him and the lead poured down onto him. In the next instant, the Interpreter found himself wandering, confused, disorientated, in a fog. He did not remember the vat of lead falling on him, the lead pouring on him. He simply understood he was in a confused situation, a fog he could not understand, and yet he felt directed to move forward, and he did so, until eventually he stepped out of the fog and he found himself in an Eden-like environment, the sun was shining, the air was pure and clear and he felt whole, he felt happy, he felt complete. And in this moment of feeling whole, happy and complete, he suddenly remembered that the last thing that he could remember before this was that of standing on the floor of the foundry and of the vat of molten lead tipping and pouring onto him.

"Is that all there is, My Friend? Then let's keep on Dancing"

And then he remembered the disorientation, the confusion, the fog, and in that instant, he remembered and understood, in that instant of remembering the molten lead pouring on him, he understood that he was dead, that he could not have survived such an occurrence, that physically, he must have died and that wandering through the fog, the confusion, the disorientation, was simply that moment between the state of being physically alive and then waking up and arriving into the Eden that he was now in, and in that moment of revelation, in that moment of pure understanding, he understood that all survive death, that death is simply the Great Pretender, and in that moment he heard a song, and it was of an artist popular at that time, an artist by the name of Peggy Lee, and the song he heard was this: "Is that all there is, my friend, is that all there is, then let's keep on dancing, let's break out the booze, and have a ball". For the Interpreter it was his way of understanding that there is nothing to death really, that there will be disorientation, confusion for some, but ultimately it lasts only but a fleeting moment before one steps into something much grander and greater, and it was this Awareness' way of giving to the Interpreter at that time in his life, a deep truth and a deep knowing, that the Interpreter has carried with him all of his life.

Thus it is that the Interpreter recognizes and understands the truth of the statement that death is the "Great Pretender", it does not absolve him or free him of the ultimate challenge of facing his own death when that time is right, but within him he understands and knows the truth, he knows that death is truly the "Great Pretender". That this is important at this time, for as the events on the Third Dimension unfold, many will also face their own time of demise, their own time, where they leave the physical and return back into their own higher states of being, into their own higher consciousness where the soul returns home.

Those who fear death will find it a difficult journey

This Awareness indicates that many who hold the great fear of death will find it a very difficult journey, will do all in their power to resist the Great Liberation, and will even prolong suffering and pain. Equally, those who survive, if they do not understand and recognize how important it is to go through the gateway of death for liberation and freedom, will find themselves grieving for the loss of the many, will find themselves suffering deeply and profoundly, simply because they do not understand this simple Truth that death is not to be feared, death is something to rejoice and to be happy about, happy in the sense that knowing that one is returning back to their source, to their freedom, is not something to grieve of and over, but something to be held high. Because it is the human nature to grieve for the loss of loved ones, this Awareness is not suggesting that one not grieve, that the grieving is for those who are left behind, not truly for those who have passed over. But that what must be added to this mix is that true knowing, that true acceptance, that death when it arrives is not something to be afraid of, to be feared, to avoid, but rather something to be embraced. That when death arrives to those who have called it to them, that they are to be honored, and while the grieving must still be gone through for the loss of a loved one, it need not be a grieving of loss, it need not be grieving based on fear, fear that there is no existence beyond the physical, that those loved ones are gone forever, for this is simply not so. And that when one has the true knowledge and knowing of this, when it is held deep within one, then when a loved one passes over, when a loved one dies, or when others die, many perhaps in a natural catastrophe, that there is celebration over the knowledge and the knowing that many have returned back to their natural being, to a place of ecstasy and joy, beauty and hope, the deepest hope of all, the hope of knowing that one is truly much greater than one ever suspected while still in physical form, believing in physical reality.

The Time is Now to Drop All Fears of Death

This Awareness indicates it is thus, and that it is therefore important to change how one holds death, to drop the fear held by many about death, about dying. That while these words may seem simple, the impact is deep and profound should one truly understand the true significance of death, that it is not an ending, death is a beginning, death is the promise that is given to each and every soul who chooses to embark into a physical experience. Death is truly the Great Pretender.

This Awareness is complete with this subject at this time unless the energizer has any other questions.

ENERGIZER

Not on this particular topic and I thank you for elaborating and going into more detail. I think it will help a lot of people, it was beautiful. Thank you.

Is there a closing message please?

Death the Great Pretender

(Remember this in the Days Ahead When Multitudes Die)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There is indeed a closing message at this time. That this Awareness has spoken in great detail about death, about the experience of death that so many avoid and are fearful of, that it is called "Death, the Great Pretender". That this Awareness has chosen to speak of this subject at this time for in the times ahead when there will be many endings for many who choose to end their physical existence, that it does need to be recognized and honored that they are contributing to the shifting of consciousness by leaving the planet at this time, that those who survive need to honor their action and their choice, and not to simply be involved in the suffering for those many who cross over, for there will be so many that it will be hard to comprehend that it is indeed hard to comprehend at this time. But to see it rather as a new expression of the reality of the times, a new way of seeing how the ascension process is unfolding, that as many leave, that the planet itself is shifting and leaving that level of consciousness it once held, that there is a death also occurring on that level, on the planetary level, the death of the old, the ending of the old, but a rebirthing or new beginnings starting. That if individuals become too wrapped up in the physical deaths that could occur, will occur, then it will make their own choices much more difficult as they live in fear versus hope, as they live in a place of denial and regret and suffering versus great promise, great hope, great deliverance.

With Every Ending There is a New Beginning

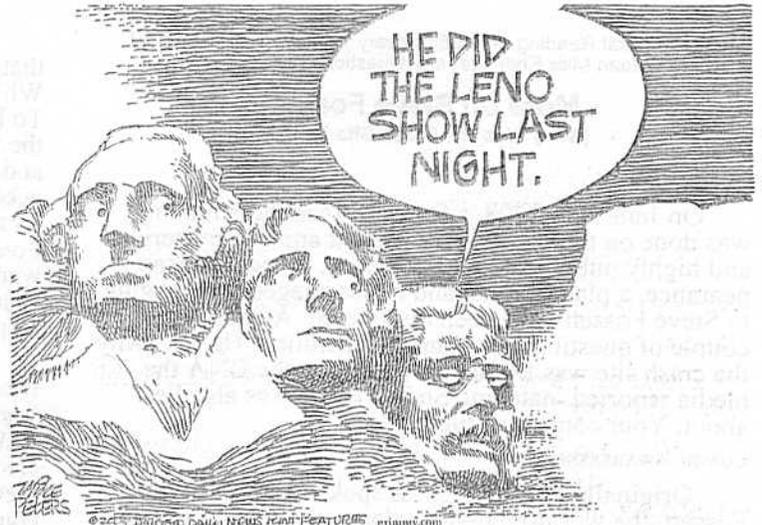

This Awareness accepts that many will find this subject very difficult, especially on a personal level and yet it is an area that needs to be looked into and thought of. That this is a time of great challenge, but it is also a time of great hope. That for every ending, there is indeed a new beginning. That even with the ending of life of a grand scale, holds with it a great promise on a grand scale of new life and new beginnings. That this must also be remembered, and as the saying goes, as a door is closed, a new door or a new window will always be opened. This is the promise that this Awareness gives to one and all.

This Awareness is complete at this time.

More on Steve Fossett ( Why Was His Crash Site Faked?)

QUESTION:

On June 20th, 2008, a Cosmic Awareness reading was done on the entity Steve Fossett and his mysterious and highly publicized disappearance. Since his disappearance, a plane, wallet and bones allegedly belonging to Steve Fossett have been discovered. Avaton has a couple of questions for your consideration. He asks why the crash site was faked, and secondly, the DNA the media reported matching Steve Fossett was also lied about. Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Originally this Awareness spoke of the entity Steve Fossett, the world-renown explorer and adventurer, as having flown through a vortex high up in the mountain range of the area where his remains were later discovered. This Awareness stands by what It reported and shared originally. The entity Steve Fossett chose deliberately to fly into the bright light that he saw, which he had entered into before and flown out of before in his light aircraft. This bright light represented a vortex energy, a dimensional portal or gateway, and he did indeed fly through this.

Why the Evidence of Fossett's Death Was Planted

This seems to be contradicted by the evidence that was recently found, such as his plane, his wallet and bones that allegedly are his due to DNA testing. This Awareness suggests that this evidence was planted at a later date for a very simple reason. The area in which the entity Steve Fossett disappeared in is a highly sensitive military area. The White Sands area, due to testing of weapons and other high level experimentation has created the bizarre eccentric energies that are present in this region, including vortices. There were many who were trampling in the area looking for the remains of the entity Steve Fossett and this was becoming an intolerable situation to those who wished to control the region, who were very aware of the nature of the vortices that are found there.

Testing of Nuclear Weapons in the Area Created Rifts in The Time/space Continuum

It is seen that this region, due to the testing of weaponry, especially nuclear weaponry, has created rifts in the time/space continuum in that region, has created a region which is more subject to opening up than other regions are or have been. It is one of the reasons that the entity Steve Fossett saw so many vortices, portals, white blue lights that attracted him in the first place and helped him decide to investigate, to go on the ultimate journey of exploration, the ultimate adventure.

The finding of the evidence that was stated to be the remains of Steve Fossett was meant to end speculation on what happened to the entity. It was meant to close down the region of those who were looking through the area to find his remains, in hopes of finding an answer, or even a reward for the finding of physical evidence of his crash and demise. In truth, this was more an action taken to prevent more discovery of the region and to prevent others from flying into the region also, knowing that others would follow if it became widely known that the entity never was found, nor wreckage or evidence of his demise presented.

White Sands a Bizarre and Eccentric Area

The area is already an area that is highly suspect, that has many looking into the area, for the history of the White Sands area is bizarre and eccentric in and of itself. To have the entity disappear in this region was fueling the fires of many who were already aware of the history and reputation of this area. Thus it was felt that an action needed to be taken that would close down once and for all those seekers who were looking for evidence of Steve Fossett to close down access to the area, for if interest waned in that area because evidence had finally been found he was killed, then it was felt that many would stop coming to the area to look around for themselves.

This was the primary reason why this evidence was finally found. It is seen that the hiker who allegedly found the remains was indeed planted by the government agencies. In other words, he was working for them. He had received payment for this action. There might then arise the question: Why did they wait so long? Why could they have not found the plane, the body, the wallet, earlier? The main reason is that had the body been found earlier, then more of the body should have been found. A sufficient period of time was allowed for decomposition of the body. It was also given that the body and the wallet had been chewed upon by wild animals as well as dragged away from the initial site, all of which is to create the impression that the entity was gone, but that time had elapsed, natural forces occurred so that what was finally found were remnants of the corpse, not an intact body.

This is the primary reason why there was a considerable delay between the time the entity Steve Fossett went missing and the time his bones, wallet and plane were discovered. The irony is that others have walked through the very area that his remains were eventually found in, but nothing was found earlier. This is easily explained. They simply did not walk in the right place, or were not in the right area, but the truth is, others had walked through the area and found nothing previously. This is the main reason why the body and the remains were found at a later time. It is also seen that by closing the area off, the hope that all exploration would cease. This does not seem to be the case, for the area itself has its own weirdness and strange energies that continue to call explorers into this region.

Steve Fossett Has Been Seen & Speaks Through Psychics

It is seen by this Awareness that exploration will continue in this region. It is also important to realize that there had been sightings of the Fossett entity after his appearance. There are stories that his wife saw him again and he himself told her that he was okay. It is seen that he has come forward again and others have also seen his spectral energies and presence. It is seen and known that there is a medium in Australia who was requested to make contact with Steve Fossett after his disappearance. She does have a website that can be visited and she did channel the entity Steve Fossett and has even recorded his messages to her and has produced that which is known as an e-book which is now available to those who would care to know what the entity Steve Fossett has to say about things from the other side.

Steve Fossett Has Ascended to Planet "A" the Parallel Dimension

His disappearance was a deliberate act on his part so that when he flew through that which is the vortex, it was on purpose, for he knew that his destiny somehow lay beyond the white lights, the shimmering vortex that he flew into. His own report of his disappearance is one that parallels that which this Awareness has already given. It is seen that he was a forerunner to many who will eventually themselves pass through vortex energies to go to that which is a parallel dimension. The parallel dimension is actually that which is the Ascended energies of Planet A. This Awareness states that the entity Steve Fossett has moved forward, has Ascended through a very deliberate act to that which is Planet A, the ascended level of consciousness and the ascended energies of the planet herself.

There were entities there that greeted him and met him, who are there to greet and meet others who will also pass through vortex gateways, portals. It is seen that as the entity passed through the portal there was a shift in his body, a shift that allowed him to expand his physical body structure. In his words, he became bigger and lighter, these beings words that have been reported by the medium, Carolyn Evers (sp). The point that this Awareness is wishing to make at this time is that part of the Ascension process will be that which is the choice to walk through those vortices that will make themselves available in the times ahead.

Steve Fossett a Trailblazer Into Alternate Reality

The entity Steve Fossett is one of the trailblazers, one of the first to go, and from his place, in that which is an alternate reality; he sends his energies back to those who will someday follow. In a manner of speaking, the evidence that was found that was of a physical nature could be seen to represent his departure from the physical state of being to that which is the state beyond this third dimensional reality. There is a form of physicality that is still evolved, but there is a much stronger spiritual quality, a much stronger non-corporeal aspect that is also connected to that state of being that will exist in that which is called Planet A.

Thus, it can be seen that the physical remains that were discovered, even if these are false remains, symbolically represent a transition and transformation from one state into another. It is as if using the analogy of the butterfly emerging from the cocoon, that which was the former body of the caterpillar still is seen somewhat, although a new being has lifted itself out of that former body, transformed itself into a new being. This is what this Awareness is referring to when It is saying that the remnants of the body, even though they are not true remnants, from a symbolic point of view represent that process of Ascension, where it will be required that we choose to leave the physical.

Those who choose to go forward will choose to leave the physical and ascend into their new bodies, ascend into their new realities. That choice will very much involve letting go of the physical dominion that was once the defining dominion of one's life, but at the same time, that which will be offered will be so much greater than that which was left behind. This is the choice that Steve Fossett made when he chose to fly through the portal, the vortex, the gateway that took him to the energy of Planet A, that which is the Ascension. He is still there, as well as here in spirit, and he works through the interdimensional layer to bring forth those who are seeking to ascend themselves.

He has gone forward, and is now the example of what is possible when one makes the choice to ascend. This Awareness is complete with this question and open to any questions the energizer might have.

Will the Truth Ever be Revealed?

QUESTIONER:

Yes, there is, thank you)

Will the truth of his disappearance ever be revealed? What he was looking for...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness hesitates for a simple reason, for there are two answers to this question. There is that which is yes, and there is that which is no.

QUESTIONER:

Could we have both please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness could not give both answers. The yes involves that which will answer for those who believe in the Ascension scenario, in understanding that there are ways to ascend and go beyond, the depart from the physical reality. Those who hold this to be so are already open to this, and are already seeking this. For them, the answers of this Awareness and the information given by this Awareness of the process that the entity Steve Fossett went through as he ascended or passed from one dimensional reality to another would be a definite yes, a definite validation of their own understanding and beliefs.

Those who hold to a physical reality would not be satisfied by this answer given by Awareness, would not be satisfied to hear that this entity passed through a dimensional gateway, a vortex, and would most likely not accept that such a thing is possible. For these entities, the physical remains would be evidence that such a thing could not happen, for they have not yet expanded their conscious awareness to things that are beyond the normal ken of reality as it is understood by the majority of individuals, and by the majority of humanity.

This being so, they will hold to the physical evidence that has been planted, which will not be easily contradicted, and hold that the entity died when his plane crashed into the mountainside. There is no other explanation. There is nothing beyond this. For them, the answer "No" would be the obvious answer. No, there is no support notion that the entity went through a vortex, for such things do not exist, and the physical evidence that was found supports this hypothesis. Thus it is that we come to the crux of this matter. Thus it is that we come to the point that is pivotal in that which is the Ascension process.

A Change of Belief is What Will be Needed in the Times Ahead

That point is that what will be needed in the times ahead is a suspension of belief, a changing of belief away from simply reliance on physical evidence and physical explanation, to that which exceeds physical reality, that which opens up dimensional gateways, that which makes possible the impossible. In the times ahead it will be required by many to make that quantum leap beyond the constraints of physical reality in order to ascend and move forward. Basically the Ascension process is a process of departure from one set of concepts and beliefs to another, an expansion beyond the limitations of paradigms that restrict and hold back and define and limit the individual, to a new set, that are expansive in nature, that offer freedom, that allow for the miraculous to occur, for they will allow a new level of reality to possible, to be experienced.

Thus it is that this example of the entity Steve Fossett and the reports of his physical demise represent a point of choice of one and all. One can choose to believe that the physical evidence precludes any possibility of such a magnificent event as going through a dimensional gateway, or they can choose to say, "This evidence proves nothing! It is simply there and it is still something that I must choose one way or another to believe or not to believe.” Thus it is that the choice to believe the possibilities of vortex energies, dimensional gateways and portals is something that will help in the times ahead when each individual is required to make a choice on some level, conscious or unconscious as to whether they are ready to move beyond the paradigms of reality as defined in three dimensional reality.

A Personal Vortex Will Open for Many

If and when this occurs for the individual, then their own personal vortex will occur to them. By ‘personal vortex’ this Awareness is not simply saying a vortex will open in front of them. It is simply referring to the fact that a way will come to them by which they will ascend. It may be as an individual Ascension such as the entity Steve Fossett experienced, or it may be through a group Ascension of many who hold a certain belief construct of the Ascension process who choose to ascend together as a group. There will be several ways that the Ascension process occurs, but at this point, this Awareness is speaking more to that which is the divisional point that will separate those who choose to expand their consciousness and to take the leap of faith from those who choose not to expand their consciousness and who think that taking a leap of faith would be a foolish thing and one that would only lead to one’s death and demise.

This is why the explanation of the entity Steve Fossett’s departure from physical reality into that which is expanded awareness, that which is the next layer level of consciousness and reality is indeed an important issue, why the answering of the questions of the evidence and how it relates to the actual event itself is paramount, for by understanding it and going beyond the physical paradigm, one is indeed preparing themselves for their own departure at the point that is their correct timing point when they too may leave that which is 3rd dimensional reality, that which is this old paradigm, for that which is the New World, the new order of things, that which is Planet A.

This Awareness is complete in the answering of this question.

Why the Area is Called Weird

(Thank you) Is there a quick explanation as to why this area was called a “weird area?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It was called a weird area because the energies of that area are conducive to rifts in that which is known as the time/space continuum. This area has always been such an area and has been held sacred by the indigenous people of this region. In the Fifties and Sixties certain tests were done in this region and are still being done, that have worked with the dimensional rifts that are prevalent there. Many have noticed that weird things happened in that area well before the entity Steve Fossett ever moved through that dimensional gateway.

One needs only talk to someone who has been in the area itself for that individual to explain to you that there is something different, something weird about even the quality of air in that region. This is why this Awareness said that it has always been considered a weird area, a weird place.

QUESTIONER:

‘Weird’ in the sense of ‘mysterious’?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Weird in the sense of mysterious, not weird in the sense of the original meaning of the word, which was a Saxon word, which meant one’s fate, one’s destiny, one’s weird. Over the years, that word became associated with that which is unusual, un-normal and strange.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN 2012 (Some News From Awareness Seems Depressing)

QUESTION:

Thank you, it definitely answered a lot of questions and will be helpful for a lot of people.

Our next question comes from Leonard Donsbach of Bethel, Connecticut, Concerning the coming shift. He writes, “Dear Vicki and Avaton, I always look forward to receiving my monthly newsletter and hearing what Awareness has to say about coming events. As with others, I have been looking forward to 2012, but now I’m not so sure. In spite of all the good news in the last newsletter, I found myself depressed. I have been under the impression that the shift would leave two physical planets, different in the degree of spiritual maturity of its occupants. From what I read in the most recent mailing, however, it seems that I was wrong and that Planet A is to be non-physical. Am I mistaken?”

I might mention that there are about 17 questions, and can read them one at a time if you prefer.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that that would be the best way to move forward. This Awareness is interested in answering the questions for It senses that contained in the questions represented by the entity Leonard Donsbach that there is still great misunderstanding of that which this Awareness has spoken of concerning Planet A and Planet B. While this Awareness has given other information that is yet to be released, It is aware that this letter by the entity Leonard is an important one, and this Awareness feels it is imperative to answer the extensive questions that this entity has at this time. Please proceed. Please repeat the first question.

Planet “A” Is To Be Non-Physical?”

QUESTION:

(Thank you) “I have been under the impression that the shift would leave two physical planets, different in the degree of spiritual maturity of its occupants. From what I read in the most recent mailing, however, it seems that I was wrong and that Planet A is to be non-physical. Am I mistaken?”

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The short answer to this question is, “Yes, you are mistaken!” You are mistaken in the sense that there will still be a physicality involved in that which this Awareness chooses to call Planet A, but this physicality will be much expanded beyond the normal constraints and limitations that are the present paradigm of belief surrounding physical existence. It is possible to have, with expanded awareness, a much different encounter with physicality. Physicality is contained within the confines of a greater reality, a greater awareness of that which is beyond the limited understanding and paradigm of beliefs that define 3rd dimensional physicality and form.

A Heightened Physical Experience Not a Limited One Awaits

Those who choose to expand in their consciousness and choose to ascend to that which is Planet A, will very much still be able to experience physical reality, but they will also have spiritual awareness and understanding. They will have heightened experiences, not limited ones. There is a quality of the immaterial to this also, just as there is at this time, even in physical reality. Thus it is that individuals can have transcendental experiences on the physical plane of existence. Thus it is that each and every night when the individual lays down to sleep and then dreams, that they can then escape physical reality, engaging in their immaterial being, engaging in that stage of consciousness where they are freed from physical restraints, physical form.

This already is the case even in this physical reality of the 3rd dimension at this time. This will simply be even more so on that which is Planet A, and that means that those who experience it will have a sense of their immaterial nature, their spiritual nature, but they are most definitely free to experience the physical reality of the Ascended Planet Earth Herself and partake in this new reality. This Awareness is ready for the second question.

A Physical Reality is to Manifest?

QUESTION:

(Thank you). His letter goes on: "I feel as though I'm being robbed of the opportunity to be able to express myself as an aware spiritual entity in a physical reality. I have long thought that this was the plan- the idea- to manifest a physical reality that was capable of operating within the vibration of unconditional love and all the other qualities of higher consciousness."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is exactly what will occur. To do so will necessitate a shifting consciousness to a higher level of awareness, a higher level of consciousness. You will not lose anything at all, but rather gain so much, especially because one will be living in that higher place, that higher level, that higher state of unconditional love. Please proceed.

QUESTIONER:

" Was I wrong? Wasn't this what the great plan was when the physical realm was first created?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is indeed what the great plan was. What is being limited is your concept of that which is the greater plan, for you are limiting yourself by imagining it in a certain way that is defined by certain beliefs that you have held. This Awareness asks only that you expand your consciousness, expand that which is the possibility of the Divine being truly part of a reality that one engages in 24/7, as the saying goes, where you will be able to live in that which is the state of unconditional love and know that there is a new reality that is governed by this rather than the old limitations of a physical world gone amok, gone mad. The sanity will once again return.

Why Not Booze and Indulge in Sex Now?

(If His Physical Reality is to End in 2012?)

QUESTION:

If 2012, is to be an end to physical reality for Planet A people, and my body yielding to a 5th dimensional counterpart that I can choose, then what is my motivation now of maintaining my health? Why don't I go out and buy a chocolate cheesecake, a 6-pack of beer, and a carton of cigarettes to indulge my physical senses for the remainder of time I have left? And let's not even consider the subject of sex or sexual expression!" Your comment please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed, why do you not go out and buy the chocolate cake, the cigarettes, the booze, or engage sexually? The main reason is that there are still consequences to such actions, and there are also ramifications to polluting one's body, to creating addictions that might have a consequence on the Ascension process. This Awareness, in years gone by has talked about addiction, about alcoholism, and has described the parasites that are formed when one smokes or drinks. To engage in such behavior, even though one could do so, would not be advised by this Awareness. However, this Awareness states that one has the freedom of will to do whatever one wishes. Simply be aware that there are always consequences.

Two Paths to Enlightenment

At the same time, this Awareness does support that it is indeed a good idea to give oneself pleasure in ways that remove the constraints of belief that are antagonistic to receiving pleasure. Recently this Awareness did a reading that described that there are two ways of reaching enlightenment. One is through the path of suffering and pain. "No pain, no gain" goes the saying. But there is also a path towards enlightenment that involves the heart, involves pleasure, and involves that which is the higher attitude that allows for the expanded nature of that which is the ecstasy of the Divine.

Thus it is that many who believe that they must control themselves, that they must forego the pleasures of the flesh and body, do so not because they understand this at the deepest level, but because they have been taught this. It is a form of belief that they have acquired throughout their lifetime that they now live. While this Awareness cannot endorse those behaviors that could have negative consequences on the individual, both physically and spiritually, it does suggest that what is now needed is a shifting away from the old paradigms of belief of pain being the way to reach a form of enlightenment, to a new paradigm that suggests it is okay to have fun and enjoy oneself, to go out and do that which is pleasurable.

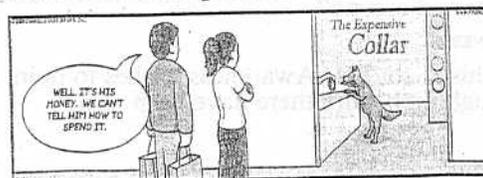

It is important, for the energies of that which will be the Ascended Planet A will favor this and be all about understanding the importance of heart connection, of being in alignment with the Divine and understanding that pleasure is an important way forward in achieving awareness and enlightenment. It will be the way of the future.

This Awareness is complete with this part of the question.

The Christian Rapture Sounds Similar to the Awareness Ascension Forecast

QUESTION:

(Thank you) His letter continues: "The last Awareness reading sounded a lot like Fundamental Christian promises of a heaven to come. What's the difference between the Christian promise of the rapture into heaven and the Awareness forecast of the shift into the 5th density? Both are claimed to be non-physical realms of love and peace and unity, and all we have to do to get there is to have the right attitude. In the Christian case we believe in the creed. In the Awareness case we desire to love unconditionally. It now appears that both Awareness and the Christians disregard the physical realm. The Christians consider it will be destroyed by God, and Awareness yields it to the dark side as Planet B." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The first thing that this Awareness wishes to state is that there is some truth between that which is the Christian concept of rapture, the lifting up of those deserving souls who ascend to that higher level of consciousness. The main difference that this Awareness would state between the way It sees it and the way it is presented through Christian dogma, is that this is not a reward for faithful service to an oppressive god that qualifies one for that which is called the Rapture. It is more that which occurs for those who have worked over the many lifetimes to achieve a state of higher consciousness in this physical reality at this time.

Many Souls on this Planet Have Earned and Await Ascension

There are many many souls present on the planet at this time who have endeavored through many years of sacrifice and service, of personal quest to achieve awareness and enlightenment, to have arrived at a point of consciousness that will allow them at this time to ascend, that will allow them to move quite naturally and even logically to their own next stage of development, their own next state of evolution. It is not a reward because of one's blind faith and diligence and devotion to a patriarchal god figure, but rather their many lifetimes, their eons of journeying towards that moment of expansion into that which this Awareness is calling the Ascension planet, the Ascension process.

For those who would be delegated to Planet B, allegedly as punishment, that again in the Christian concept, those who have not served diligently and faithfully and blindly are turned to that which is their punishment. They are delivered to hell and are expected to live there for an eternity. At least this Awareness does not commend those who might go to Planet B to be there for an eternity, for It sees that eventually Planet B itself will return to a point similar to that which is now being experienced, where those souls who have chosen to have the physical experiences that will be offered to them by having physical incarnations on that which will be Planet B will eventually return back to a point where they then, because of their many many lifetimes, their eons of the journey, of the quest, will have reached a place of their own personal advancement, where they can then choose themselves to ascend at a time that is right for them.

This therefore defines the major difference between that which this Awareness holds as the choice that those who are not ready to ascend will make versus that which is offered to those who hold a Christian concept of the punishment that is theirs if they do not follow blindly the dictates and the commandments of that very wrathful unforgiving god. There is indeed a great difference, however there is also at the core of the Christian belief, an understanding of that which is in principle at least, the concept of Ascension, the concept of a higher state of consciousness and awareness. This Awareness is complete with the answer.

Any Chance on Planet B Entities Can Change Their Circumstances and Ascend?

QUESTIONER:(

(Thank you) I'd like to interject a question. Is it possible that those who do choose Planet B will have at one point in time the opportunity to change their circumstances and ascend?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed, this is so. This Awareness wishes to point out that throughout history there have been those individuals on the current planet itself who through their own lifetime journey, their own mission, reached a point where they were able to evolve and ascend. It is seen that entities such as Buddha, Krishna, the entity known as Jesus, and others who have perhaps not been reported in the annals of history, have all experienced their personal Ascension process, and then come back to serve as models for others to emulate and follow, for they have shown the way and that way is towards Ascension, towards that which is the evolution into enlightenment and expanded consciousness.

This will exist on Planet B. There will be those who in their own struggle and journey will ascend at some stage, at some point, and they will serve as the models for those who remain on the planet, eventually bringing the whole planet forward until it reaches that point where many can ascend. It could be speculated that at that time again a choice process will occur when those who are ready will ascend, and those who are not ready will go forward into another plane of existence which still would not be that expanded level of consciousness, but this is seen as so far down the road that it does not merit investigation at this time.

Speculation on How the Physical Realm Splits Into Two Realities

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Leonard Donsbach's letter continues: "As I said, it was my understanding that with the Ascension there would be a splitting of the physical realm into two vibrational realities. How this would manifest was always a big wonderment for myself as well as many others, and led me to formulate my own conjectures. It was my idea that the shift would split the world into two identical physical worlds, each vibrating at a different frequency. It was my idea that all consciousness now present on this world would concurrently occupy both worlds for a brief time after the shift.

The analogy would be of a person standing on an ice flow that split between his feet. He would take some time to decide which side he wanted to move onto, so for a while, he stood on each. It was my idea that souls would eventually find either of the two realities to be too uncomfortable and not in keeping with their purposes and life plan, so they would exit out of the undesired reality through death. Since souls were also existing on the other realm simultaneously, I conjectured that only higher dimensions of the soul would perceive the death on the undesired level, as the consciousness of the soul that remained on the desired planet would merely perceive that they continued to live as is normal.

This idea of mine allowed me to consider that with the shift, all people would continue their physical existence on what they perceived to be the same earth, and would notice nothing more than some event or group of events that would cause the deaths of perhaps half of the world's population. Each side would witness major event that would coincide with the shift, possibly a period of major solar flares triggering massive earth changes leading to the demise of the other side. To one reality, earth changes could manifest as a pole shift with tidal waves, while the other catastrophe could come about through earthquakes and volcanoes. It doesn't matter. In fact, both realities could perceive the same events with different results."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed so. This Awareness wishes to interject. Both sides could view the events, but from different perspectives, thus having a totally different experience of the events.

QUESTION CONTINUES:

"The idea was that people would experience a continuation of their perceived reality with people leaving for natural reasons which didn't challenge their belief systems. It just didn't seem right that people would just disappear and/or be forgotten." Your comment please?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

What Those Who Will Ascend Must First Know and Realize

The first thing that this Awareness wishes to state is that much that was covered by the entity Leonard is indeed accurate and correct, but there are many variations on the theme. On the whole, it is seen that the majority of individuals who are to ascend must first and foremost be aware that the Ascension process is unfolding, that the Ascension process is a possibility. Those who are blind and ignorant to such things and have no concept or understanding of it, nor an interest to pursue it, who are dismissive and derisive about such a process and event, are not those who will be ascending. They will more likely either be those who choose to go along with the reality, the physical manifestations of that which is Planet B, or they will be those who simply choose to return back into spirit form.

Many Will Simply Choose to Physically Die

In other words, they will choose to die in a physical sense, choosing neither A or B, but returning back into the fabric of the Divine, back into their own soul fabric. They will then make choices at a later stage as to which experience in consciousness they will next wish to experience. They will be coming from that which is the multidimensional level of reality, where many choices are seen and understood and made, based on an understanding of what that would bring to the individual in terms of their life journey.

Thus it is that some might choose then from that state of spirit to come aboard that which is Planet A. Some might choose to have the harsher physical experience and thus choose Planet B, but many may choose another reality altogether, one that does not at all fit with either path way, but is a third choice, a third path. That is not the subject of what this Awareness is speaking of at this moment.

Thus it is that many will experience that new physical reality as something easily obtained and woken up into simply because they chose to go through the gateway, whatever and however the gateway presented itself, for they were aware that there would be a need to choose to go through the dimensional gateway, the vortex, the portal, and as this Awareness has already spoken in other readings It has done such as that for the entity Steve Fossett, they will simply pass through the vortex and enter the new reality, but they must somehow be first and foremost aware that a choice is involved and somehow aware of that which is the ascended reality, that which would be Planet A and Ascension.

Regarding Plants and Animals

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Leonard Donsbach carries on: "Regarding plants and animals, the way I saw it, since they were group souls, they could continue to exist on both frequencies without any problem other than that one world may be healthier for them than another. In this respect, after the shift some populations would increase while others would decline for various reasons relating to the reality they were in. And this raises another question"...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

First of all, this Awareness wishes to jump in. This is true. There will be those creatures, who for example, if they choose to go to Planet B for a while, might continue to exist, but with time, and with the harsher conditions that are seen to be prevalent on that planet would eventually become extinct. This is how it has been on this present planet as well as on other planets that host life and life forms. It is simply part of the ebb and flow that is life, which is the experience of consciousness and of life itself.

Everything has its time. Everything comes to a time of ending, of death and transformation, and then new choices are made, and new directions are then followed. This is not any different with those creatures that are of a lower level of consciousness that form a group consciousness as do many of the animals and even plants.

Bees in a Non-Physical Reality (Suck on Non-Physical Flowers?)

QUESTION:

(Okay) He carries on, "And this raises another question. Awareness said that the bees (or at least some of them) have already ascended to the higher realm. Please tell me what a bee is going to do in a non-physical reality? Suck nectar out of non-physical flowers? Boy I must be really confused! Please tell me how I am wrong!"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Again, the assumption that there will be no physicality involved whatsoever in Planet A is the misunderstanding that is held by this entity. It appears that he has taken that which has been original information given by this Awareness to mean that there will be no physicality, and this was never truly meant by this Awareness. It was simply giving out new concepts and ideas of what possibly could be on the other side in terms of its expansion into new levels of reality, of consciousness, of energies that would be experienced both in physical form as well as non-physical form.

The shifting between the two will be much easier for entities. They will not have to go to sleep or into deep meditation to simply experience their higher dimensional form, their non-physical form. They will be able to shift at the thought of shifting, by thinking themselves into other forms and thus experience these other forms. If they choose to experience physicality, they think themselves into physical form and have physical experiences. If they choose to reunite with their greater multidimensional nature, then they think themselves into multidimensional form and have such experiences.

Bees who choose to be in their physical form will do exactly that: be physical bees, and will indeed suck nectar from physical flowers, will take the pollen from these plants and cross-pollinate other plants. The group hive mentality is that which can experience the non-physical and spiritual form. Indeed, bees already do this in the 3rd dimensional reality and their individualization is part of a group hive-mind, which is not confined simply into physical reality. This is one of the reasons why bees have already made the transition and have ascended to that higher plane of reality for they are also part of multidimensionality. They know what their roles are. Many have chosen to move beyond that which is this physical reality and have started pollinating that which is to be the physical form of the Planet A, the planet of Ascension.

“A Non-Physical Reality”?

(Is it in the Future or Immediately After the Shift?)

QUESTION:

Thank you) He carries on, “When Awareness said that the Ascension reality would be nonphysical was Awareness describing a 5th dimensional reality that would eventually become sometime in the far distant future- like an end result, or was Awareness describing what would be immediately after the shift of 2012? I just can’t conceive of the latter as being accurate. Such an idea would leave too much in question.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness would state that it would leave too much in question for the individual himself, for he is the one that has these questions that are reflective of others who have similar questions, which is why it is valuable for this Awareness to answer the questions of this entity. This Awareness wishes to state something that needs to be spoken at this time. The Ascension date: December 12, 2012, is the conclusion of the Ascension process, not the beginning. The Ascension process is already taking place. Some individuals are already beginning the Ascension. Some have already ascended to Planet A.

There are other individuals than just Steve Fossett who already are at that new level of expanded consciousness. It is seen that the Galactic Federation also has the understanding of the Ascension process and many of their forces are there to help and assist the process of Ascension that many humans will soon be going through, some of whom have already achieved this and are on the other side themselves, now helping those who will soon be joining them.

The date given as the date of Ascension is simply an indicator that by this point, the actual separation of the two planets: Planet A and Planet B will finally be complete. It is not, as this Awareness said, a starting point, but rather a completing point. As for the entity’s assertion that jumping into 5th dimensional reality would simply be too much, this reality already exists. There are many who have experiences on a daily level of the 5th dimension. The daily experience of going to sleep and dreaming, of coming out of the physical body and being part of that which is the 4th and 5th dimensional reality occurs on a daily basis.

This is not as extreme a jump as the entity is asserting. This Awareness says that it is simply the next level, the next stage, and one that is well within the capabilities of those individuals who have already reached a higher state of evolution and thus are ready to expand into that next stage, that next level of consciousness, that which will be defined by the 4th and 5th dimension, that which will be defined by that process of Ascension.

What Happened to the “Unified States of Awareness” the New Age Government?

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Leonard’s next question, “First off, I would wonder what happened to the Unified States of Awareness that was supposed to be the new form of government in the New Age...”

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to interject: Nothing has happened to the Unified States of Consciousness. This will still be in place from this higher dimensional reality, this higher level of conscious awareness, where it is more understood and will be manifested.

New World Order Plans Supposed to Backfire

(“Certainly the Elite Won’t be Coming to Planet A”)

QUESTION:

(Wonderful!) He still carries on: “I would wonder what Awareness meant years ago when It stated that the New World Order plans would backfire and instead of the Elite subjugating people they would instead be subjugated by the people and forced to serve them? Was this all a misunderstanding on my part? Certainly the Elite won’t be coming over to Planet A.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to ask why they would not? Why at least some of them would not? They are creatures of choice. Many of the Elite are beginning to see the error of their ways. Many are starting to change and look beyond that which has been their reality for so long also. It is seen that there are those who, while they served those powers that be were indeed part of the power structure, there are some who are now starting to have second thoughts and it is even seen that there are some who have changed completely their points of view, their belief systems, and are now moving towards a higher level of conscious awareness, based in the Light, not in the Dark, based on enlightenment, not based on enslavement.

Some at least have recognized that they have been enslaved in that paradigm of thought that confined them also to roles where they were oppressors and some have chosen to reject these roles, have chosen to move towards the Light. Thus it is that some of the Elite will indeed move into Ascension. Some of those who have already seen the errors of their way have already started to serve humanity in new ways, in new higher conscious ways, in ways that will be of service instead of expecting to be served.

This is what this Awareness meant years ago when It said that many of the Elite would be serving those who they expected service from previously. Those who cannot shift this attitude and mentality will be those who move, if they desire, to Planet B, where they think they will still be in control, but due to the situation they will experience, it will be beyond them to keep that high level of control, and with time, it is seen that there will be rebellion, revolution and breakdown of those who are the controllers, those who control at this time.

Eventually, those who are the masses will rise up against those who are the present controllers. This is all part of Planet B scenario, down the line. This is what this Awareness spoke of years ago when It spoke that those who are in control, those who are the Powers That Be, will one day be of service to those who are their subjects and slaves at this time. There are even variations on the theme as can be seen by what this Awareness has just shared.
