COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does not have an opening message at this time, for It wishes to launch into the various questions that are waiting.

WHAT THE CROP CIRCLES REALLY MEAN
(Many Different Messages are Being Conveyed)

QUESTION:

The first question is from Jeffrey Edwards, from London, England, concerning crop circles. "Check out the following website relating to a crop circle in Britain. The address is <http://www.dailymail.comuk/news/article-1027178>. The headline on this site is referred to as "easy as pi: Astrophysicist solves riddle of Britain's most complex crop circle." Interesting article. It suggests the crop circle pattern is related to the first ten digits of pi, the formula πr^2 squared." And this is the picture.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is perceived by this Awareness.

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) Does Awareness have any comment on this conclusion please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is one of the symbols and codes that have been transmitted in the crop circles: algorithmic formulas, symbols, numerical sequences, highly detailed codes, and a language that has been transmitted over the many decades now that crop circles have been available. It must be understood that these are forms of communication using such high levels as the first ten digits of Pi squared, but other symbology and other messages are contained that are not simply numerological. Mathematics is the base language of the universe, which is why many of the crop circles have a mathematical connotation or formulation.

Arcturians and Sirians are the Ones Laying Down Crop Circles

In essence, aside from the most basic preliminary crop circles which were simply circles in the fields of various farmers in England as well as other locations throughout the world, the crop circles have been gaining in complexity and there is much that is involved here. It is the Arcturian/Sirians who are laying down the crop circles leaving messages. There is a certain degree of arrogance on the part of the individual involved who claims he has the answer because he has discovered that these are the first ten digits of Pi. There are many other messages contained, some mathematical in nature, some symbolic, some even pertaining to mythology and cosmology.

Their Purpose: To Establish Communication Between the Galactic Federation and the Human Race

The purpose of the codified crop circles is to establish a language of communication that could be used between the Galactic Federation and the human race. That is one of the goals of the crop circle. Another goal is that within the crop circles' imagery there are powers involved. These are tangible energies that can be felt when an individual enters into the crop circle and feels the energies that are involved; not only the energies involved in bending down the living plants, the grain stocks, but also the energy that is contained within the symbol inside the crop circle itself. This energy is also conveyed when one looks at pictures of the crop circles, especially those that are more elaborate in nature.

It is easy to see that there is a high intelligence behind the crop circles. There is something that is being passed on to those who view the crop circles. A challenge is being presented so that the code of the crop circles can be discovered and communication can occur. This Awareness reminds the readers of a movie produced by Stephen Spielberg in the 1980's: Close Encounters of the Third Kind. In this film there was a presentation of a music code that was heard by those who had extraterrestrial experiences, a close encounter of a third kind.

This code was played back to the aliens when they presented themselves, thus initiating communication which advanced itself to a point where a dialogue could be conducted between the aliens who were presenting themselves and the computers that had taken in the code. The assumption was that this code would lead to communication between those members of the alien race and the humans that were contacted. This is also the purpose of the crop circles: a code is being presented, a code that is presenting a language by which communications can occur, but what is not taking place at this time is the return response by the humans who are viewing the code in the crop circles. This is what needs to take place next.

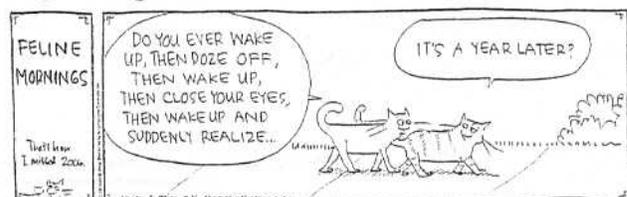

Still Much Deception: U.S. Government Agencies are Aware

Communication must be established and the code must be returned to the extraterrestrial beings: the Arcturians, the Sirians, which indicates that the message has been received and mankind is ready and prepared to communicate now. This code has been logged and identified by those agencies of the government and they are aware of what is truly happening and there is still a practice of deception that is being carried out, a practice of denial, a practice of downplaying the importance of the crop circles, for they do not wish the general public to know that these forms of communication that are available are valid, and that the crop circles hold the key to communicating with extraterrestrial beings, but more and more beings are becoming aware of this.

The Arcturian Cards From Holland Based on Crop Circles

There is an individual, a painter from Holland, who has identified many of the codes and created cards that can be used to bring forth inner information within individuals using the cards. The Arcturian Cards, as they are called. They are all based on the crop circles. It is seen that the codes will become more available, and the truth of the crop circles will finally be accepted by the masses as the need to communicate with the Galactic Federation becomes even more pressing, and a two way street of communications will be established and it will be seen in hindsight that it was always there, ready to be seen, ready to be used, right from the beginning of crop circles.

This is seen to be ahead, but not by a long period of time. It will be a short period of time; in fact there are already individuals who are using the communication, the codes, to establish further communication, including government agencies. This Awareness is complete with this question, unless there are further questions the energizer might have.

The New Crop Circle with Alien face in Hampshire, England

According to Daily Mail, UK, a new crop circle showing the face of an alien has appeared near Sparsholt, Hampshire in England, UK. It has the picture of an alien holding a disk which look like a CD with some data on it.

The Hampshire England Crop Circle With an Alien Face

QUESTION:

There is one more crop circle one. I'll just hold this up so you can see.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This image has been perceived.

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) This crop circle appears to have an alien's face, in Hampshire, England. The website is: <http://www.einterface.net/gamini/newcircle.html>. The alien face or our present concept of what this could be is clearly visible, plus the data CD it holds in its hand. Does Awareness have any comment concerning this crop circle, its originator, and possibly offer a clue regarding its symbology.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This particular crop circle is relatively clear, relatively straightforward. It is an image of the beings that created the crop circle, a crop snapshot, if you will, in the landscapes of Hampshire. There is nothing complex about this, other than that which is perhaps as was quoted: simple and naïve, they are here, they are on their way. "This is what we look like!" Of course this is a simplistic drawing or snapshot, limited by the medium, in this case the crops upon which the image was laid down in. But the importance of this is that they are becoming more and more bold in their attempt to communicate and to show that there is a true alien presence at work here.

"They" of course being the Arcturian Sirians who are those who create the various crop circles. There really is not much more that this Awareness can say about this crop circle. It is a simple straightforward image to portray the extraterrestrial beings who created the crop circle in the first place. One can take this as they will, but this is all that this Awareness has to say on this manner.

What Are "Black Holes" and Their Purpose? (More on the nature of "wormholes")

QUESTION:

(Thank you Very artistic!) The other question concerns circles, but this one is related to black holes. Do you wish to discuss this topic right now, or would you prefer that it be put on hold for a while.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness can proceed, if this is the next question.

QUESTIONER:

What are black holes actually, possibly or probably? Are these portals to different universes, or are these presently a gateway or a portal used by the Galactic Federation or the Orion Empire, or if neither of the above, what purpose do these have? Would you please shed some light on this mystery? Thank you.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The black holes are indeed portals, gateways, vortices of a huge dimension that are slipstreams into other galaxies that can connect distant galaxies, thus making travel between those galaxies possible. There are rules of physics that have not yet been understood that would need to be initiated before members of this planet could travel through these wormholes, these corridors that connect various galaxies. Those who use them at this time, those members of the Galactic Federation, and the Orion Empire, know the rules of physics that are needed to use these particular passageways, or that which is often known as a wormhole, to pass through, to accelerate the travel and reduce the time taken to travel from one universe to another.

Some Black Holes are Interdimensional in Nature

There are other principles that are used at the same time to speed the craft that is traveling interdimensionally and intergalactically. Some of these black holes are interdimensional in nature also, so those who come to visit are not always from another galaxy within the universe, but are also interdimensional travelers. There are not only black holes in space, there are equivalent passageways that are available on the planet itself. The concept known as Stargates is also equivalent to the principle of the black hole as it being a passageway that would allow a traveler to move from one planet to another, one galaxy to another.

Stargates on Earth Were Used Often by the Ancients

These passageways do exist on this planet in various stages, in various forms. The ancients knew of this and utilized this ability to construct Stargates on this planet, which were then used by the ancients. Many times, concepts that are presented in movies that are fictional have the germ of truth to them that talks of such matters. The movie and series Stargate is one of these examples. There is more to this, but at this time this Awareness wishes to leave it as a simple explanation. The black holes, the Stargates are available as ways of transporting oneself or a ship from one galaxy to another, one planet to another, and one dimension to another.

Why Didn't the Orions' Just Create Robots?

(INSTEAD OF CREATING HUMANS WITH GENETIC ENGINEERING)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Okay another question concerning ET's, UFO's, also concerns robots, machines and the human race. This is from Jeffrey Edwards again. He writes: "I was thinking the other day whilst reading a newsletter: Why didn't the Reptilians/Orions, or whoever, just make robots/machines to do their bidding instead of messing around with humans? Seeing as they are so intelligent, it would surely have crossed their minds. Would Awareness please speak to this? Thank you."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness would first state that they did indeed create robots to do their bidding. The reason genetic engineering was done to create a biological unit to do this work, was that it was seen that the biological units were cheaper to take care of, to feed, and that they could be controlled in a way that allows these units to be self-aware, controlled in the sense that these beings who were created were taught what to believe, how to think, what to do, and then they could be allowed to simply go forward and do so, but they also had a capacity to adjust their behaviors to circumstances and situations as needed.

By instilling the ability to think, to reason, to figure things out, these beings were much more versatile than the robotoids that were created. Once the robot was programmed it would do that action and no other until another program was introduced. They had not quite reached a place yet of artificial intelligence allowing the robotoids to also analyze situations and adjust to those situations. It was seen that a biological unit was much more versatile than robots, and it was simply the way of things at that time. Again, this does mean that there were not robots available. It was simply cheaper to create the living biological units that would self-perpetuate themselves and would be able to deal with various situations and adjust to them, while their maintenance cost at the same time would be relatively low, and these beings would be easy to dispose of once their usefulness was ended, and they would simply be reabsorbed into the lands, back into nature.

Some Reptilians Kept Humans as Pets

This is why biological units, humans, were created originally. This of course was to work in the mines of those Reptilians and Orions who were at that time mining for gold. They were also found to be useful in many other tasks and chores including the serving of the gods, the extraterrestrial beings themselves. There was also a certain fondness developed for these beings for they were almost considered to be as pets are now considered to many. There was favoritism towards various humans as one has love or concern or caring for a pet, and these beings that were created did have a place in the hearts of their creators.

This became part of the need to create the god image, the awareness in humans that there was a superior race of beings, or superior gods that they would worship. This all evolved with time after the creation of humans, who had originally been created to be in service in the mines of the Anunnaki, the Orion Reptilian faction.

Were the Humans Created Fully Grown?QUESTIONER:

Were these humans at that time created fully-grown, or as babies? And if as babies, who would have been taking care of them while the others were working?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The original species, because of genetic engineering of mammalian stock of reptilian genes, were fully-grown. They already had the capacity to self-perpetuate, in other words, to bear young, for it was always seen that it would be an advantage that these beings would self-replicate and create new workers, generation after generation. While the originals were what you would call fully-grown, they were also created so that they could have offspring that they could perpetuate themselves. The females were natural in the raising of the young and thus the handlers would teach the adults what was required of them, and the adults could then teach the children as they grew up to be servants to the extraterrestrial gods that governed and ruled them.

It is seen that it was with intent and purpose that these beings were designed to have offspring that would be raised to be the servants when they were old enough to serve. They were used as children already to be of service, sometimes in the mines, sometimes in the camps, sometimes in the homes and palaces of the extraterrestrial beings. They were considered as a servant race, a slave race, and that was their purpose. As this Awareness has said, sometimes feelings would develop for these pets, these inferior beings, but it is not the same as saying that they were recognized as equal sovereign beings in and of themselves.

They were simply created as a slave race and this is how they were treated.

A DISCUSSION ON UFOSQUESTION:

Our next question concerns ET's, UFO's, from Barbara Otelli, of Reno, Nevada. She asks, "What does Awareness feel about UFO's and now 'Rover' on its way to Mars. It lands on Sunday, around 7:00PM. (This particular note was written May 24, 2008) The USA government, around three weeks ago came on the Sunday news telling everyone they were sorry they had said they were against UFO's and they believe in them. Something happened to turn their words around, and now this trip to Mars? I have always known there are UFO's and see them all the time here. They are in human size and know me. Please reply, dear friend." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has no feelings one way or another about UFO's. It simply knows that these vessels exist. They are means of transport, interdimensionally as well as unidimensionally. They can traverse great distances if they are of a design to do so, or dimensional distances, if that is their design. There are various types of UFO's. Not all are for space travel. Some are to travel the inner dimensions, the dimensional shifts and arenas that are also possible to play in, investigate and experience. This can also be done without a vessel.

A human, stepping through a Stargate can also travel interdimensionally as well, without a UFO vessel around the individual. That they do exist is evident from the number of observations that have occurred, and the connections that many feel when they look into the skies. These connections often will indicate a vessel in the sky, even if that vessel is not showing itself, even if that vessel is cloaked in a cloud, as often is the case.

Some People Can Sense and Feel a UFO but not See It

Earlier in this day the energizer showed the Interpreter a picture she had taken over Los Vegas, in the Christmas period of the last year, and it is a picture of a cloud, but it is seen to be in the shape of an elongated UFO. What was more important is that she recognized this shape, this form. Even though she was not looking for it at first, when she saw the picture, she did indeed see that there was a UFO in the clouds. She did not see the actual UFO, she felt its presence, as she has on other occasions, as has the Interpreter, as has many of the members who look up into the skies seeing the clouds there and realizing and knowing that there is a vessel there, for there is a level of connection that is available and is occurring that alerts the individuals to the fact that there is a UFO in the sky above them, even if it is not visible and does not show itself.

Most UFOs Become Invisible by "Cloaking"

Invisibility is another way of cloaking, thus the skies may often seem wide open and yet there is a vessel there. This form of cloaking occurs more at nighttime than during the day when the more favored form of cloaking is the use of clouds to shroud the vessel itself. From this it could be interpreted that this Awareness is a believer of UFO's, and this would be correct, but this Awareness is a believer of much more also, but at this time It is stating that UFO's do indeed exist. The fact that they still need to be hidden and shrouded does not deny them their existence. Too many have seen these vessels already and have had experiences of being taken up in them, and they often also connect to these vessels in the dream state.

Many of the Light Workers are of a Star Nation origin. They are of the Galactic Federation, who have incarnated into the physical reality at this time to assist the transition process of Ascension that is underway. Many of these Star Beings, these Light Workers, these Wanderers have dreams where they see themselves on the Mother Ship, where they see themselves in committees and councils, meeting with others who are also on this earth at this time or on the ships in the skies. Thus it is that the sense of communication and connection is because of this extraterrestrial connection that exists.

There is more to speak of this matter. This Awareness will first ask if It has answered sufficiently the question presented.

Government Has Changed Mind on UFOs? (More on the Orion Reptilian Empire)

QUESTIONER:

Actually, the comment she made concerning the government about 3 weeks ago telling everyone they were sorry they had said they were against UFO's and now they believe in them, and that something happened to turn their words around... what was it that happened? Why did they change their mind all of a sudden?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The reason the apparent change of mind occurred is because the sightings are becoming more and more frequent. There are some very high-level beings who are stating that they too saw a UFO. There are senators and congressmen; there are astronauts and top-leading military individuals. The movement to demand the government admit finally that they do know about UFO's is gaining ground. This however was still a diverting tactic for by coming forward and admitting that they do believe in UFO's they have somehow thought they could divert attention away from the many cover-ups that they have initiated in the past, but this will still come out and it will be something that the governments will still have to deal with and admit to.

Governments Know that "First Contact" is Near

It is seen more as a delaying tactic at this time. It is also seen that the governments are aware that the alien presence is becoming undeniable, and they understand that at any time now there may be an actual First Contact. This Awareness has spoken of this in the past. There was the planned contact that was to have happened in October of last year that did not quite happen at that time, but the energies are still moving forward and the time for a First Contact and the expansion of the human network into the galactic realm is still on track.

It is for this reason that the government admitted that they were sorry and that they do believe that UFO's are real, yet there is still a cover-up to a degree. They are hoping to keep certain information covered up that would show that there was an involvement by the government with the UFO's, the extraterrestrial beings, especially those of the Orion Reptilian Empire. This is part of the continual cover-up and by admitting that such vessels might in actuality exist, they are hoping that questions will not be further asked about their own involvement with the Orion Reptilian Empire.

As this Awareness has said however, this will still come to light. Answers will still be demanded of those officials who for so long have covered up their actions in the past.

Reports of Snow on Mars —Is That Possible?

QUESTIONER:

Thank you) That's very encouraging. Could we have an additional query concerning Mars in Barbara's note? There was a short blurb in the newspaper reporting snow falling on Mars. Is that possible, and why?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is possible. There are climatic conditions. Limited moisture does exist on that planet. The snowfall was more of a crystalline nature rather than a heavy down-pour or snowfall, for there is not enough water on the surface of the planet to create a true snowstorm as is experienced on earth. There is however, enough moisture that there is a crystallization of the moisture into that which could loosely be called snowflakes.

QUESTIONER:

Amazing, I never thought that would happen!)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is seen to be more prominent in the polar regions of the planet. There was also a portion of the question about the 'Rover' launch.

That "Rover" Landing on Mars

QUESTIONER:

Yes. Now the Rover is on its way to Mars and landing Sunday around 7:00PM. This was written May 24th, 2008.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is of course an attempt by those Powers That Be to give the illusion that attempts are being made to create interplanetary travel, and yet this is also a way of distraction, for interplanetary travel is already available to the government. Many of the UFO's that are being seen are not even of an extraterrestrial nature. Many are made by those Powers That Be that control the government through secret agencies of the military. They have the capacity even now to travel to Mars very quickly, but part of the deception is that space-race concept that was formulated in the Sixties, and there is a general development of space vehicles of a human design that can travel outward.

They are slow by comparison to what is possible by other vessels that are in service at this time for those agencies of the government and military. It is a way of distracting humans and keeping them in a place of ignorance of what is truly possible and is already being carried out. The Rover mission is a way of distracting attention away from certain other situations. It is to be noted that all of the Rover probes and other Mars probes are sent to regions where there is no evidence of previous human life, such as that which is the New Caledonian area of Mars, where the face and the pyramids on Mars exist.

This is part of the con and deception that is still being carried out by those certain agencies as they develop other forms of space travel, and even interdimensional travel.

This Awareness is complete with this question.

About Those Domed Cities on the Moon (And On Mars)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) There was a lot of information in there to consider. The next question is from Antonio Alvarez, from Brooklyn, New York. He writes, "I am fascinated by those immense and very old domed cities on the moon. My question is: when they were built? Why were they built? Who built them? Who lived in them? Were they ever used to temporarily house Martians as their planet slowly died? Why were the domes abandoned? Were they attacked? Please confirm that the planet Mars died." Your comments, please.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This series of questions introduces a huge area of interest and concern. This Awareness is seeking a way to begin an answering of the questions that were presented. The area of the domed cities of Mars and Moon, and this Awareness does say "Mars and the moon" for there are domed cities on Mars that are buried underneath the dust and the dirt that has covered over these abandoned cities; these are one and the same. In other words, the peoples of Mars who once lived in the domed cities are also those who colonized the moon and move into the domed cities of the moon.

On Both the Moon and Mars life Moved Underground

In both places, the moon and Mars, life moved underground. There are areas of habitation in the moon at this time presently occupied not only by those former denizens of Mars and the moon itself, but also human beings who have been taken to the moon, as well as taken to Mars for there is a continual populace that still lives on Mars, although it is seen that they live underground now. The Mars probes that have been sent in the past often failed to land on the planet because they were shot down and destroyed before they could land in areas that were sensitive, where it was not the wish to be revealed at that time what truly exists on the planet Mars still, and also on the moon of Mars: Phoebus.

The subsequent probes that have actually landed have been programmed to land in areas where there is no immediate evidence of habitation. The main reason the domed cities were apparently abandoned is first and foremost that they were vulnerable, especially on the moon, to asteroids and projectiles from space that would crash into the surface of the moon. Thus, it was safer to live under the moon's surface, although the domed enclosures are still utilized at this time. It is simply that they are not used all of the time for habitation due to the extreme danger of an asteroid crashing into the dome itself.

The Anunnaki Were the Colonists of the Moon and Mars

The other occurrence is that many of these colonists moved to the planet earth where they started life on the planet itself, a planet much more richer and fertile for human life and safer than either the moon or Mars itself. The colonists of Mars and the moon were those travelers that were also known as the Anunnaki, who were also part of the Orion Empire and the Reptilian faction. They then began their history on this planet earth as they created human life to work on the mines and to serve the master race, the extraterrestrial beings that were their creators.

This is a thumbnail sketching of the events. This Awareness will pause at this moment to ask if there are more questions on this that need answering.

When Were These Domed Cities Built?

Questioner: Just one) When were they built roughly? Is that available?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is a period of 500,000 years ago for Mars, and a lesser period of time for the moon. Human settlement began on the planet earth approximately 300,000 years ago.

QUESTIONER:

Amazing. Thank you so much)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

How Gold Was Used on the Planets

This Awareness has one further comment about Mars. At the time when there was habitation on the planet, there was water on the planet. There was an atmosphere that sustained moisture, but it was very hard to maintain this atmosphere at that time due to its position and distance from the sun. The use of gold in the atmosphere, a technique that the Anunnaki had used for their own roving planet, the 12th Planet, was used in Mars to sustain the atmosphere, but events created difficulty in doing so, plus gold was not as readily available on the Planet Mars as it was found to be on the planet earth.

Furthermore, there was no need to inject gold into the atmosphere of the planet earth, Terra, for it had a strong atmosphere and had no need to be seeded with gold. This too was part of the decision and reason for moving from Mars to earth, but there are still the colonies left on Mars, although limited to a few hundred thousand at this time.

More on the Use of Gold

QUESTION:

The use of gold: would that be to shield the planet Mars from the rays of the sun?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Not so much the rays of the sun, for it is at a distance from the sun. The rays of the sun were not as damaging. It is more that it created a container that allowed the atmosphere to hold water, thus creating a climate, a possibility that the land could become fertile and grow plants, grasses and trees. There are those areas of the Mars landscape known as the canals of Mars where water was moved around. Once there were rivers on Mars. There was rainfall on Mars. There was vegetation on Mars, all due to the fact that the atmosphere was contained and the cycle of evaporation was allowed to occur.

The Destruction of Maldek Changed the Atmosphere

The atmosphere was reduced when that planet known as Maldek was destroyed. Part of the shockwave of the destruction of that planet blew away the protection of the gold lining of the atmosphere, leading to the rapid decline and loss of the vegetation and the surface of Mars. It was at that time that the domed cities were built on the planet itself.

This Awareness feels complete. It is certain that more questions will come to It as a result of what was offered today. This Awareness welcomes further questions.

Aliens on UFO Reconnect Her DNA Strands

(Strange Journey Into the Past Witnessed by her Reiki Assistant)

QUESTION:

(Thank you very much) This next question is from Carolyn Walker, Dallas Texas. She writes, "In June of 2007, I embarked on a healing session via an intense Shamanic/Reiki healing session. I was trying to deal with some issues which I know have roots in past lives. I wanted to deal and heal once and for all. What actually happened was far different than what I anticipated. It was shocking at the time and continues to reverberate through everything even now. It has changed my life, yet is hasn't. During the session I saw myself going to a Mother Ship, a blue ethereal color. You could see and move through walls. It was like interdimensional or something. I saw a pattern of lights forming and was told that my strands of DNA were being reconnected as a gift. However, these beings were off-planet--not earth. I could see my own self transforming. My skin was blue with darker patterns of blue--almost like a marbling effect or something. Very tall, very long long fingers. The pattern of lights, as I researched later, was basically a Star of David type pattern, but not flat--it was beyond 3D. I heard that my home was elsewhere. These beings were family. I never really saw them. But I was so happy! A deep hole seemed filled. The lifetime of inexplicable loneliness cleared away.

On the other hand, my Reiki practitioner saw these beings: a very long narrow face, long jaw, narrow mouth, and a mane of hair down the back. Blue, but the body was elongated and no legs--like from the hips down was more of a moving energy?? No legs to speak of. She was guided to do the following:

On the right side of my neck, using a large terminated quartz, she "cut" about 5 port slits, almost like gills, beginning below my ear and continuing down to the top of my right shoulder.

On the left side of the neck, there is only one slit. On the left arm she drew or "cut" or patterned an insignia, some type of identification or rank perhaps. A series of lines and arcs... I don't recall the exact pattern. On the top left side of my forehead, she "cut" one slit at the hairline. When all this was accomplished, she was thanked and dismissed by the beings--there were three. I heard that my home was in the range of or connected to Sirius B, not Sirius B, but near there. A small planet, maybe also blue. Not seen on the 3D level, but a higher dimensional planet.

I had previously been involved in maybe like "seed-ing" this planet type of work, and then decided to experience the other half of the coin by coming here. (I can recall thirty-some odd lives here and I think I have been here a total of 56 lives).

When meditating, I began experimenting with these ports. The slits in the right neck bring in different types of dimensional or cosmic energy necessary to live (like our air, but different). The one on the left is I think, an exit for these. The forehead slit is a port for telepathic communication with mass consciousness or group consciousness.

My question is: Where is this place? Who are my people? I know my experience was real as we both experienced different aspects of the same thing. We were not drunk or high or otherwise impaired. And, is what they turned on in my DNA purely of what we currently know as earth based? Or is it a mix of here and there? Lastly, what might this all serve?

Please know that I am happy and well and know that a great sense of love, and home and connection was gifted to me. I just have questions and thought the Awareness would know. Sincerely, -Changing One-Carolyn Walker, Dallas Texas."

Would you please comment on Carolyn Walker's questions regarding her Sirius experience?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed a valid experience, but this was not a physical experience, but rather an experience on a higher plane of vibrational existence. Her journey inwards allowed her to connect on that interdimensional level where she contacted her colleagues, her space family. She is indeed of a Sirian background from this Sirius B planetoid system and she is correct in all she obtained and perceived in her experience. She was viewing her own Light Body as it showed itself in her original Sirian form.

A reconnection With Her Extraterrestrial Spiritual Soul Family

She is able to travel to this craft whenever it is in the right dimensional position, for it too travels around, thus she is not always able to go to it, but when it comes back she can go to it if she so desires, and she will do so and does do so, mostly in her dreams. Unfortunately this does not mean she will always remember these visits back to the Mother Ship and the reconnection with her spiritual soul family, her extraterrestrial soul family.

The information that this Awareness gave earlier, that many who are Light Workers connect on that interdimensional level through the dream state when they are free of their physical form is evidenced here in this particular report of this young lady who has had this experience, and this of course validates what this Awareness has spoken of recently: that many of the Light Workers, the Wanderers are extraterrestrial in nature, and that many are having experiences as this entity has had that connects them back to their own Mother Ship, being it a Sirian, Arcturian, Venusian, Pleiadian or of any of the other Galactic Federation.

This Awareness is complete with Its answer.

About That DNA They Turned On

QUESTIONER:

There was one part concerning the DNA. "Is what they turned on in my DNA purely of what we currently know as earth-based, or is it a mix of here and there?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

At this time, it is not of earth-base as such, but more of an extra-dimensional level, here or there, here and there. It will have ramifications, especially as more energies click into place on the earthly plane of existence. Her higher levels of DNA will establish themselves in physical form when the time is right. They needed to be switched on first at this interdimensional level before they would be able to be activated in the physical world. This will take place at the proper time. That time is not presently now, but will soon be the right time.

The Interpreter Had a Similar Mother Ship Experience

In other words, be patient and recognize and acknowledge that this work was done on her as a way of preparing her for her acceleration and her ability to jump into those higher realms and to ascend into those higher realms when it is time. Such work is being done on many of the Star Beings, many of the Light Workers and Wanderers. The Interpreter himself recently had a similar experience of being taken into the Mother Ship and being accelerated in his consciousness, into an explosion into the Light of higher levels of awareness. He understood that this was not a dream, but rather an experience he had where he rejoined his spiritual soul family, his extraterrestrial soul family, and he too was excited by this experience.

This is an experience that many are starting to have at this time and it is a valid experience, preparing many for the acceleration of their own a spirit in their physical form, preparing many for that which is to come, where the energies accelerate and speed up, allowing them to participate fully in the accelerated energies that will soon be available on the planet. The fact that not everyone has a memory of such a dream does not mean that they are missing out on this event. It simply means that perhaps while they have had the experience, they did not actually remember it in a way that was tangible to them when they woke up.

Many are indeed having this experience. Many are being prepared at this time. This Awareness is complete.

In An Out-of-Body Experience She Astonishes 3 Klingons

QUESTION:

(Thank you) That was most interesting. There is a short letter from Ellen Kierstead, Worcester, Maine, regarding a Klingon experience. She writes, "Recently I had an out-of-body experience, visiting another space or dimension. Gene Roddenberry (Star Trek) wrote of Klingons, large muscular men with an extended brow line. I found myself standing in front of three Klingons. I introduced myself and said that I was glad to meet them. All three of them stood in silence, as if they were amazed to find my standing there. I got the impression they were absolutely amazed and in fact, speechless. After introducing myself, the scene ended.

Would Awareness please explain this? What really got my attention was that they were all light blue. This I did not expect. What an interesting time to be alive. PS. I hope they don't blend in! Thank you, Ellen."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This too is a valid experience in consciousness. Her experience of the Klingons in her "dream" was a real experience. These beings are not of the Galactic Federation, but rather of the Orion Empire and Reptilian faction and are one of the sub-races that exist that have pledged their honor to the Orion Empire. They are also in a manner of speaking, mercenaries who would pledge their duty and their loyalty to those who present to them the best opportunity for their own better welfare and own best interests. They were surprised for they did not expect the entity to be able to connect to them and see them.

It is as if they were the assumption that they were still hidden, and yet she saw them. She found them out. There was no danger in this event. It is simply that in her searching, in her expansion of consciousness that occurs during the dream state she found these beings, and it is for this reason that they were so surprised that they were discovered. Their total loyalty to the Orion Empire is not complete. It is a matter of convenience to them at this time. They are that which is the archetype of the warrior type of extraterrestrials that was envisioned in the Star Trek series.

Again, there is a certain validity in that which is deemed as "fiction," for often there is no way to substantiate the truth or reality of such things other than to present it as fiction, as was done in the Star Trek series, as well as many other of the science fiction and fantasy presentations, series and movies of the last number of years. This entity has herself been of this race and has a connection with them, although it is seen that her true affinity is to the Galactic Federation, to those ascended beings who are helping at this time in the Ascension process.

Many have had experiences, not only with the Good Guys, but also with the Bad Guys. In other words, the gauntlet of experiences of existence is far ranging and encourages an experiencing of both light and dark existences and lifetimes. She was visiting old friends who did not truly recognize her as such, and yet it is part of the reason she could connect to them, for in some ways she has known these individuals, these "Klingons" before, and has had a certain attraction to their mentality and their warrior way of being, and it still holds a fascination to her at this time, as it does to many who are fascinated with the Klingons to the degree that they will dress as Klingons and make themselves up to look like Klingons.

Keep on Trekking

Her fascination is not quite as deep or as extreme as this, and yet there is a deeper awareness of this archetype of this mentality of this type that still has a fascination for her. As this Awareness has said, this was a true and valid and exciting experience, and she is correct, that these are indeed exciting times. They will become even more exciting as certain events occur in the next several years. So "Keep on Trekking" is that which this Awareness would end with.

The Extraterrestrials are Coming (And They Are All Connected to You)

QUESTIONER: (CLOSING MESSAGE):

That's beautiful. Thank you) (laughter)

Does Awareness have a closing message please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Today's session has been matters extraterrestrial. This has been a fascinating realm to investigate and to bring into human awareness and consciousness. Many of the members of this organization, many Light Workers and spiritual beings have connections to that which is extraterrestrial, in particular that which is the Galactic Federation, which is primarily concerned with assisting humanity at this time of transition into that which is Ascension into higher states of awareness, to higher vibrational levels of consciousness.

There are many who have also had other experiences with other extraterrestrial types: the last individual a case in point. These exciting times allow many to explore these regions of consciousness where such connections occur. Rather than dismiss these experiences, this Awareness would always recommend that there be an openness to the events and experiences themselves. It will often be perceived and understood when an experience that is dreamlike in nature is indeed a valid real experience, even if that real experience did not fully occur in the physical state.

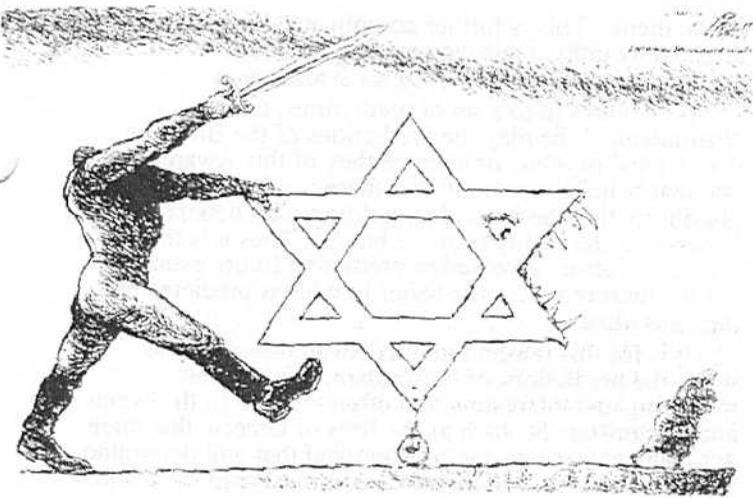

This is all preparation for a time soon, when those beings that are our galactic brothers and sisters, the galactic kin of humanity appear and show themselves and are ready then to step into their manifest roles, their destiny, this being not only the extraterrestrial beings, but also those human beings who are of extraterrestrial background and nature, those who are here to help at this time in the Ascension process and who are themselves ready to ascend to these higher levels of consciousness, the higher levels of awareness that this Awareness has often spoken of.

These are, as this Awareness is so fond of saying, interesting times, exciting times and times that should be experienced to the fullest. This Awareness is complete at this time.

QUESTIONER:

Thank you) That was excellent!

THE LAW OF ETERNAL UNFULFILLMENT

The Law of Eternal Unfulfillment states that there can never be completion or fulfillment in any moment, for if there were, there would be no further moment; and as each moment contains within itself an emptiness, an unfulfillment that is essential and necessary to lead into the following moments. The Law of Eternal Unfulfillment states that every moment has something missing and is incomplete, and every moment it has something that is present, total and complete; and when one can accept this Law of Eternal Unfulfillment, the greed-creating obsession to be fulfilled will cease to be.

NOSTRADAMUS PROPHECIES

(Could They Possibly Apply to Today's World?)

TON:

Our first group of questions concerns books. The one is from Peter Hasapis, of Granite Bay, California. He writes, "This past summer, during the devastating fires in Greece and the Southern Balkans, I looked at the book "The Prophecies of Nostradamus" translated by Erika Cheetham, to see if there was a prediction regarding this catastrophe. Sure enough, in Chapter V, page 241, quatrain #90, everything was there in black and white."

I'm holding up this small page where it talks about mythical warfare in Greece and the Balkans. "Mount Perimitha is outside of Athens, where the worst forest fire took place. The name is spelled "Perinthus" in the book, maybe an ancient name. Then I stumbled upon another enigmatic quatrain in Chapter VI, page 257, #21." Again he says "See copy on the alliance of USA and USSR."

"If that prediction is going to be a future event, it is very disturbing. I tried to interpret it and I came up with the following explanation: 'Those of the North Pole' are presumably the Russians. Those of the 'East' are the Chinese who may ally with the Russians. 'A new man elected' is probably the new head of the Russian government. '...Who will be supported by the great one who trembles' perhaps refers to Vladimir Putin. 'Both Rhodes and Byzantium (Constantinople) will be stained with Barbarian Blood.' This is something I cannot interpret, unless it refers to a conflict between Greece and Turkey. Vikki, I wonder if you would ask Cosmic Awareness what Nostradamus is trying to predict in that quatrain, and when this prediction may take place. Thank you for your time."

Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There are some problems in interpreting the Nostradamus quatrains to present day times. There is a lot of form fitting, fitting the quatrain to validate events that take place in modern times. This Awareness has spoken many times in the past that the future is not set and there are many different versions and paths. To assume that the predictions of an individual several hundred years ago are iron clad and must be so today refutes this very principle that this Awareness has spoken on many occasions.

There are occasionally quatrains and predictions by the entity Nostradamus that seem to fit the circumstances of the day, but there are many more that do not. One can most certainly make the predictions of Nostradamus fit the facts of the day, but what also occurs is that there is an overlooking often of those facts or those predictions that do not seem to fit. They are simply lost somehow. There are high coincidences of course between things spoken not only in Nostradamus' time, but also in other times by other seers to the unfolding of events.

There is a general river, if you will, of events that will broadly carry the energies of the time and even the future times, but there are many tributaries to this river. There are many estuaries off of the rivers, and within the river itself there are many different currents and different flow rates. While it is possible to make broad line predictions to some degree, there are always variations of the theme. This is further complicated by what beliefs are held by individuals who are experiencing the times.

Why Not to Buy in to a Set of Predictions

If one buys in to a set of predictions, be they Nostradamus', be they the predictions of the Bible, be they a local psychic, or even be they of this Awareness, and that belief is so strong that there is of course that possibility that the individual holding such beliefs will experience the reality of those beliefs. Thus it is there are many factors involved in predicting future events, not the least of that is the belief in what is predicted by the individual.

It is for this reason that this Awareness says that while the predictions of Nostradamus are indeed intriguing and interesting and often seem to fit the events and circumstances, such as the fires of Greece, that there are many extraneous factors involved that will determine these predictions, and therefore one must read them with a very broad mind set and simply be open to the apparent coincidental matchings of the quatrains with events of the times.

This Awareness does not suggest to those who are interested in Nostradamus that there is nothing to be gained from studying the quatrains, It is simply saying that they are not the Be All and the End All of predictions. They are not ironclad, and there are many other energies that need to be looked at and investigated to truly create an impression of the future. There must also always be a willingness to deviate from a particular path. At this time in the earth's history for example, it appears that it is unavoidable that the world will be cast into absolute chaos, especially financial economic chaos, as well as other events that are planned to also occur that will seemingly correlate to Biblical predictions for these End Times.

Is it that the Bible's predictions were correct, or is it because there are those who are in charge, who in their manipulation of those events can create situations whereby the events seem to match the predictions in the Bible. Those who are of a strict Christian fundamentalist belief, who literally believe the truth of the revelations in the Bible, the predictions in the Bible, then it would appear that the Bible is indeed predicting these times, whereas it is of course not that simple. These times are often matched to those early predictions, they themselves being constructed by certain individuals and groups that had a hidden agenda.

Nostradamus Was One of the Power Elite of His Day

Those individuals in those groups are the same individuals who are in the groups today; the Elite, who have always tried to dictate the events of the times to correspond with certain predictions. Nostradamus himself was part of that elite group of individuals who in his time had much power to sway the events of the times. He came from one of the ruling families and much of his predictions were not meant for these times, but for the turn of the closure of the first millennia, and the times around Nostradamus himself.

There is seen a vagueness in the information this Awareness is presenting about this matter. What is seen however, is that the entity himself was more than he seemed to be and had connections with certain groups, who in these times would be considered the power brokers, the Elite, who therefore would be interested in controlling the times and the predictions of the times to create a certain mindset in the people that would make them easier to control through disinformation.

The irony is that often that which was constructed information became accurate in reflection to the events of the time, even to the events at this time. This is why so many take to the quatrains as prediction given by the entity Nostradamus, of these End Times. The greatest concern this Awareness has is blind trust and faith in these quatrains would create realities for those individuals who hold them so tightly, that would somewhat match the quatrains, whether it is because the facts are being molded to the quatrains themselves, to fit certain quatrains which were very loose in their quality of prediction and in the words even, which have changed since those words were uttered, and this would be erroneous to assume that these ancient predictions are absolutely and totally accurate.

We are Each in Charge of Our Own Future

It would indeed take away one's power to shape one's own destiny, to experience their own future events, as this Awareness is trying to share with those who read these words, who hear these words. One is in charge of their own destiny, their own future, and it is largely shaped by beliefs and attitudes held by the individuals and by their society and their culture. This is a complex matter. This Awareness wishes to conclude by saying that one must be careful of taking on board such ancient predictions as the ultimate truth, for they seldom are so.

This Awareness is complete.

THE HELENA BLAVATSKY BOOKS

(Is It Still Good Information to Study?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) that was very informative. Our next question is from Richard Datema, Springfield, Montana. His topics are the books "The Secret Doctrine" and "Isis Unveiled." He asks, "Are Helena P. Blavatsky's books such as "The Secret Doctrine" and "Isis Unveiled" true? Is this good information to study?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

When revealed initially by Madame Blavatsky, the information that was given was indeed charged and exciting to those reading the information. Now, over a hundred or years or more later, this information has not the charge any longer it once had, nor is it as relevant as it once was, for much has been learned since then, and many more truths and secrets have been revealed. This Awareness says that this is now more an historical document that had significance at its time, than as a significant document for these times.

One can always gain something from the reading of "The Secret Doctrine" but it no longer holds the energy or the charge that it once did. To hold completely to some of the information contained within the works themselves would be to hold one back and to limit one. Much more has been revealed since those times, and it is more imperative to go with that which is more coherent to these times and to the times directly ahead than to hold as sacrosanct those revelations and writings of a time over a century ago. This Awareness is complete.

Is the Urantia Book True Information?

(And Where Did the Information Come From?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) In another question by Richard Datema, he's asking about the book Urantia. "Is the book Urantia true information and what beings did the information come from? Is the Urantia foundation good? Is it good information to study?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness states that the Urantia material is pertinent and relevant, especially as one studies the hierarchical order of consciousness and the multidimensional universe. The documents and writings are often relevant to this purpose. Therefore this Awareness does support the writings of the Urantia institute. This Awareness is complete.

The Ascension Handbook

(Are Tony Stubbs' Books Correct?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) The last one from Richard concerns the book, "Living With Soul, Volume 1 & 2 Ascension Handbook. Is Tony's Stubbs' books: "Living with Soul Volume 1 & 2 and the Ascension Handbook information correct?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There are degrees of correctness in these books quoted and referred to. So much one can take merit out of the information provided in a book, be it the books by Stubbs or Madame Blavatsky, or the Urantia group. What is more important is that individuals now begin to use their inner discernment more and more. Rather than putting their power and authority and power outside of themselves by ascribing to the writings of this author or that author, believing that they have the ultimate truth and that they need only follow the dictates or the writing or the advice or the insights of that individual to themselves achieve their own ultimate truth.

Don't Rely on Books: Go Within for the Real Truth

This may be part of the process, but the truest part is that inner reflection, the inner connection, that inner vibration that occurs when one experiences and discovers the truth from within. Then there will be a correspondence to those books that deal with that information that has resonance to the soul and to consciousness itself. Then one will know that what they have discovered from within has validity, has accuracy. They cannot know this if they never go within and only take on the writings that they read, the books that they cover, as the expressions of the truth, that this individual or that individual, this organization or this church or this whatever has the truth.

Various books do present to individuals writings and information that correspond to the individual, that mean something to the individual. This is not a bad thing. Where there is problem however, is when the individual presumes that only this book or that volume is the truth, only the predictions of Nostradamus are truthful, only the Book of Revelation is the truth, only Madame Blavatsky, or Harry Potter, or whoever it is that one would choose to be the pinnacle of truth, is the truth, without going within to discover from within the individual sense and knowing of the truth.

This is a wide area indeed. This Awareness is not trying to shoot down those books and theses that have information of great value. It is only trying assist individuals at a time when it is so crucial for entities need more than ever before to start going within to find their own inner truth and to see how that truth corresponds to truths of the world around them and of the universe they are contained in. There are those truths that will become self-evident to them and there will be those truths that will suddenly seem so false to them that they could not, would not follow those truths any longer.

even though many around them will continue to do so in these interesting times.

It is for this reason that this Awareness is saying that while the reading of books, the seeking of truth and information through books is important, it is but one leg of the journey, one way to achieve inner understanding and that the truth revealed in any book by any author or organization must always be weighed and balanced against the internal discovery of one's own truth and one's own connection to their own source. Does this help explain the matter?

The Enochian Alphabet and Enoch's Lost Book of Loagoeth: Can it Still be Found?

QUESTION:

Yes it does. Thank you) Our next question is from Amulius Arrulius, Yorktown, Virginia. He asks about the Enochian language. He writes, "I have been wanting to ask this question of Awareness. After Adam and Eve were banished from the garden of Eden, this special Enochian language was preserved until the Tower of Babel incident, when one language was broken up into many different tongues and dialects. Enoch recorded this Enochian alphabet as well as having compiled a special specific guide to its pronunciation in a book, The Book of Loagoeth. This book was lost during the Great Flood. What is the revealing secret of the Enochian alphabet? What is the importance of the pronunciation? Can the Enochian alphabet be found somewhere today? How about a reprint of the Book of Loagoeth? What is the Enochian alphabet?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

That which is referred to as the Enochian alphabet, the Enochian language is that which would also be considered a sacred language. Sanskrit also was one of the sacred languages from early times. These languages were actually the languages of extraterrestrial beings, the Anunnaki, who were here at a time eons ago, where their one language predominated all, and their created beings, the human race, were taught the Enochian language, the Sanskrit tongue. There is a connection between the two. The Sanskrit followed after the Enochian, which predated the flood, and the Sanskrit was that which was the attempt to recapture and rerecord the original tongue.

Considered a Sacred Language of the Gods (Abracadabra is One of the Magic Words)

As it was considered sacred, there was an understanding that it was the language of the gods, hence its importance and hence the reason why it was considered so sacred. It is true that there were words within the sacred language that had strong vibrations, for there was a knowledge of the vibrational energies of the words that was used at that time, especially to create magical events. Thus it is that the word Abracadabra is one of the magical words from this time that is still retained in the consciousness of humanity. The question was asked if it is possible to retrieve the Enochian alphabet. It is indeed possible to do so for it is still held both in the deepest memory of humanity as well as in that which is known as the Akashic Records, the Hall of Records.

How to Recover the Enochian Alphabet

Those who have the ability to go to the Akashic Records and read them can indeed recover that which is the Enochian alphabet, the Enochian language, the sacred tongue. However, this Awareness says there is no great relevance at this time to do so, for much that lies ahead will not have to do with the spoken word as the time ahead will become a time of telepathic communications, telepathic language. "Language" is not correct, for in the communicative quality of telepathy, the thought is what is read; the essence and the feeling around the thought is what will be prominent and relevant. While one may retrieve the Enochian alphabet, it is seen that this will not have great merit or relevancy, when many no longer speak a spoken language, but it is there for those who wish to retrieve it and use the dead language of Enoch.

This Awareness is complete.

It Spoke of "The Ending of all Endings"

QUESTIONER:

(I'd like to ask a question.) I did a Google search with the key word Enochian, or Loagoeth. There was one sentence that caught my eye. It was: The purpose of Loagoeth was said to be the ushering in of a new age on earth, the last age before the end of all things. Instructions for using it to that effect were never given. The angels continually put it off, saying that only God could decide when the time was right." My question is, will this time ever happen, possibly in the 5th or 6th dimension maybe? I don't have the source of that comment. I apologize.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

First of all this Awareness would state that the ending has come already that which is now known as the Great Flood, for at that time, that civilization which was here before present times was brought to an ending and conclusion. The inference that it would be the ending of all endings is misunderstood in that there was another age after that age, the present age, and this too is about to come to a completion and a conclusion, which is why there is a fascination to that line and that prediction that it would be found again before the End Times that would be the End Time of all End Times.

It Is Not the End Time of all End Times

It is not the End Time of all End Times. There is a new age ready to be birthed and variations of the theme that will be experienced, so the relevancy of this prediction is irrelevant and without merit. It is more that this was what was thought of in the time before the Great Flood and before the ending of that age. As this Awareness has said, that which will come ahead in the Ascension world of that which will be known as Planet A will be telepathic communication more than verbal. There are of course variations on the theme, but this Awareness does not wish to go into those variations at this time.

Is D.B. Cooper Finally Identified?

QUESTION:

(Thank you. Another time perhaps) Our next question is about a book being written about D.B.Cooper. This comes from Avaton, and this article says, "An attorney who is writing a book about D.B. Cooper investigations claims the legendary hijacker who vanished from the back of a passenger jet with $200,000 in ransom in 1971 survived and returned to his life as a college instructor in Ogden. Federal investigators are aware of the claim and are treating it like more than 1,000 leads they have checked out over the past thirty-six and a half years. They are skeptical that the late William "Wolfgang" Gossett pulled off the heist many others have claimed to have done but were found to be hoaxes.

"There is not one link to the D.B. Cooper case other than the statements (Gossett) made to someone," said FBI Special Agent Larry Carr, who is overseeing the Cooper investigation. The Standard-Examiner reported in a story Sunday that Gossett told his sons and a few friends that he was the illustrious Cooper- who investigators believe didn't survive the parachute jump over the Pacific Northwest in November 1971, but have never been able to prove it.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

What is the nature of the question?

QUESTIONER:

Avaton asks: Is this story true? I'll read the last part. "Gossett died in 2003 at the age of 73. His son Greg still lives in Ogden, where he said his father told him on his 21st birthday that he had hijacked the plane, then revealed to his son two keys to a safety deposit box at a bank in Vancouver, British Columbia, where the money was stored. "He said that I could never tell anybody until after he died," Greg Gossett said. Kirk Gossett, another son, says his father also told the story several times. "He had the type of temperament to do something like this," Kirk Gossett said.

After a career in the military, Gossett worked in the early 1970's as an ROTC instructor and military law instructor at Weber State in Ogden. He also worked as a radio talk-show host in Salt Lake City where he moderated discussions about the paranormal. While Carr was doubtful that the fingerprints and hair samples Cook has from Gossett would prove anything, the FBI has heard tales that were more far-fetched." Avaton is asking if this is true, that Gossett was the legendary D.B. Cooper who disappeared from the back of a passenger jet out of Seattle with $200,000 dollars in ransom in 1971?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is a difficult matter to put into proper perspective. This Awareness could indeed say yes, this individual was the famous parachuter who jumped out of the plane with $200,000 dollars, but it would not stop the reports, it would not stop others from making such claims. In the end, all that would matter is if the money itself was recovered and more proof that simple hearsay was reported, even from an individual to his sons was made available. Therefore, at this time, this matter is like the sightings of Elvis Presley. Many still claim to see the King from time to time and are convinced that he is still alive, but there has not yet been any absolute proof that has been found to prove this.

Cosmic Awareness Goes Out On a Limb

This Awareness will go out on a limb however, and state that this was the individual who indeed committed this spectacular crime that attracted so much attention. Again, this will not stop others from coming forward and making the same claims, and for what it was worth, the fact that this Awareness supports this story still will not validate it to those who do not wish to believe that this individual was indeed the perpetrator of this crime.

This Awareness is complete.

A Water Experiment On Maui
(It Could Bring Dead Water Back to Life)

QUESTION:

Our next question is from Earl Snyder, from Maui, Hawaii. He writes concerning a water experiment, and it reads, "I have been working on a kind of water filter based on the research of Viktor Schauberger and others including Masaru Emoto and the great mathematician James Clerc Maxwell. I am hoping to introduce tap water to a specially designed tube that will encourage the water to reform into its male and female components. I would like to know what Awareness thinks of this." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this is a worthy endeavor for it will have far-reaching health effects. It is part of the technology of the future that will help mankind find a harmony once again with the planet and to be in harmony with the planet. At this time, many cities and locales have public drinking water that is not of a high quality. Further to this, the various chemicals that are added, such as fluoride and sodium chloride are harmful to those who drink the tap water. This is of course part of a designed plan to reduce the health and well being of the citizens, but this can be corrected quite easily through such inventions.

This Awareness would also state of course that removing the harmful chemicals that are added to public water would be a good thing. The problem is of course, that at this time there are other harmful elements in the water that must be treated as well. This device is seen as one that would restore some of the essential qualities of water. Basically at this time, the water that comes out of the tap is dead water. It is not alive. It does not carry the vibrations of help and harmony of the life force. This invention would help to restore some of the life force energies back to the water.

What You Can Do With Your Water Right Now
(Dr. Emoto Was Right: Water Hears Your Blessings)

It is unclear what is meant by dividing the water into the male and female components. It is more that the life force energies will be reintroduced into the water to a limited degree, not completely, but to a point that will be much more beneficial than was previously so. This Awareness would add one other major point that each individual can do with their water, even untreated water such as the water being straight from the tap. The chemicals that are added to it, creates the dead water this Awareness is speaking of, but each individual can take their water and bless it, sending energy to the water.

The entity Dr. Emoto* has shown how praying with water or how putting a word, a letter on a bottle of water can change the vibrations. If one were to tape the peace on a jug of water, the energies of that word, the vibrations in that word, would create a harmony vibration in the water that would bring the crystalline structures into alignment with the vibration of the word peace. As Creator Beings holding a glass of water, or a jug of water, and blessing it, asking for the highest resonance to be introduced into the water, and giving thanks for this water, this nourishment; this would indeed be extremely valuable and helpful in restoring the life force to the water that you are drinking. This of course can also be done with the food that one ingests and it will create new vibration, new resonance in the food that will make it even more compatible to the human body that is ingesting the food or taking the water in. This is also something that can be practiced by many in order to affect the vibration of the food and water that they drink and ingest. This Awareness is complete with Its answer.

*Dr. Emoto's book "The Hidden Messages in Water" is available from CAC. Price: $16.95.

Giant Balls of Ice Heading Toward Earth

(NASA Photos Daily Verify the Phenomenon)

That's good to know. He carries on with another question: "Also in Dr. Emoto's book Messages From Water Volume 2 there is a photo of three giant balls of ice out in space, headed toward earth. The photo was taken by NASA from the space station and is taken every day as the balls go by. Dr. Emoto says that calculations by NASA scientists disclose that the amount of water arriving from space is the amount required to keep the planet hydrated. Any truth to this?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There are events that are transpiring that are not disclosed to the public and this is one of those events. These balls of ice are not seen as projectiles that will have deadly consequences if they crash into the atmosphere. In fact it is seen that they will largely melt upon entering into the atmosphere, and as moisture, they will descend down onto the planet, restoring levels of waters that have fallen over the years and as the entity Dr. Emoto has pointed, out, rehydrating the planet itself, for the planet earth is basically a water planet, and this moisture will be most beneficial to it.

This is part of the higher order of consciousness where the planetary consciousness, the Earth Logos is directly connected in to the Cosmic Universal High order Consciousness, and the need is recognized to provide this energy, this water, this liquid nutrition. This Awareness is complete.

Where is the Ice Coming From?

(The Planetary Consciousness of Earth Requests It)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) His third question is, "Have the ice balls stopped coming?" and "Who is sending them?" And he also asks, "If so, could this be why the planet Mars has no water?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The first thing this Awareness wishes to state is that the ice balls do not come from the planet Mars. It is hard to describe exactly who is sending these, for at the bottom of this is a layer or level of consciousness that supersedes human consciousness. Planets are indeed living organisms and they have other forms than the planetary orbs that most are familiar with and aware of. This Awareness is not prepared to go into this at great depths at this time. It is suffice to say that there is a certain need that the planetary consciousness of earth has put out, a need for this water, and that other forces in the universe, brother/sister forces are sending this moisture to the planet earth in the form of these ice balls.

That is all this Awareness is prepared to discuss about the matter at this time.

Water is Full of Drugs and Chemicals

(She Wants People to Wake Up to this Fact)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Okay, we go to BH in Blythe, CA. It concerns water conditions. She writes, "You know our water is heavily polluted with chemicals as well as all kinds of drugs, and that is all over the world, in every country. It would be nice if you did a report on it. Maybe the people will demand that it be cleaned up. It will take people in numbers to make our government do anything! The fact that the multitudes know about this will help. Thank you." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness feels It has already been discussing this very question. It has already stated that many chemicals are added to the water that make this water that is used by the majority as drinking water, a substance that is not of the highest quality. The water is not alive any longer. It is dead water, dead energy. It has discussed how to bless the water, to create new resonance in the water. There is not much more that this Awareness can say at this time that will incite the masses to action, for most of those people will not accept that water in itself is living and breathing in its own way, its own nature, or that it has such a powerful effect, and is alive.

This Awareness has spoken on this already today. It simply wishes to reemphasize the need for each and every individual to understand that they have the capacity to energize the water, to reinvest it with that which is the life force, and that as each takes the responsibility to do so and speaks of this to others, shares this with others, slowly, person by person, the information will go out, and this groundswell of interest will create a movement, and this movement will eventually have an effect on those who are in charge.

The Addition of Chemicals to Our Water is Intentional

It must be understood that the addition of the chemicals and substances in the water is intentional by design. When more understand the living nature of water, when more do that which is needed to energize the water, to reinvest it with Life Force Energies, then more and more will begin to see the effects of the revitalized water, and more and more will begin to do this and share this with others, bypassing those agencies that deliberately pollute the water and create the toxic water that most call drinking water.

This Awareness does see this issue will become more and more pronounced in the next several years, and once the Ascension process is complete, it will be self-evident that the water must be kept pure and clean and alive, and the issue that has been stated in the question will no longer be valid, for mankind will indeed clean up its act.

How to Purify Lousy Chlorinated City Water?

(Many Can Even Smell the Water as it Flows from the Tap)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) We've had a problem in Calgary. They want chlorine in the water. It's been voted down twice, and since the last couple of times it sent in, so that we have now chlorine in the water, and a lot of people have taken to buying the bottled water, spring water, or the reverse osmosis water.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed true, but this is just a reflection of what is occurring in every city in this country of Canada, in the United States and in the Western World. Many are becoming aware that the drinking water that flows from the tap is not of a high enough quality. Many can smell the water as it comes from the tap, and thus are repulsed from drinking that water. The Interpreter himself has a water filtration system that creates alkaline water, and at the same time has a filter system that removes the chlorine and fluoride so he can drink the water after it goes through the filtration system from the tap, but not all have the means by which they can buy such a system.

Far simpler is to start to bless one's water and to also allow water to stand in a glass container in the sunlight, even through a glass window. The sunlight will also purify the water. This water, once purified by the sun and with personal blessings can then be stored in the refrigerator and can be consumed at any time. It does take a different way of thinking about one's water. For so long one was used to being able to turn on the tap, fill a glass with water and simply drink it. It is no longer so for many areas and locations, but this too is changing, as more and more become aware of it.

The Problem With Bottled Water

There is of course now a problem with bottled water, that being that the bottled water is often placed in plastic containers, which then themselves leach into the water harmful chemicals. The use of glass bottles for the water is far more recommended than plastic bottles, at least the cheap plastic that leaches out the harmful chemicals. This too is being recognized and understood and as more and more people stand up for their right for clean live water, one will see the situation changing. As this Awareness said, humanity is ready to clean up its act, not only in terms of drinking water, but on all levels of interaction with the living planet, especially those areas that will directly impact human life, and the quality of life.

That "Spook Light" Near Springfield Mo.

QUESTION:

(Thank you) We have another question from Richard Datema, of Springfield, MO. He writes, "What is the cause and origin of the 'spook light' near Joplin, Missouri?" Do you have a comment as to what would be the reason for this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is confused. What is meant by 'spook light'?

QUESTIONER:

I have absolutely no idea! He just calls it a spook light without any additional information. Maybe it's sort of a phantom light.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness sees an extraterrestrial connection in this matter, and that it is created through extraterrestrial technology and extraterrestrial sources. This Awareness is complete.

Will Who Killed OJ's Wife Ever be Caught?

(Why Does OJ Simpson Keep Getting Into Trouble?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) The next one comes from C.V. Walters, of Canton, Ohio. It concerns OJ Simpson & Goldman. She asks two questions, "Will the persons who actually killed Nicole Simpson and Goldman ever be found out?" and "Why is Mr. Simpson always getting into trouble?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

In relation to the first question, it is not seen that there is a likelihood at this time for the true murderers of Nicole and Goldman to be found. It was not the entity O.J. Simpson who actually killed his wife or this gentleman, even though the public would love to believe it was, especially in light of his many ill-considered actions since that time. He had been threatened by the agencies involved. There are seen to be several agencies. This Awareness does not wish to reveal these agencies at this time, but this entity, O.J. Simpson, has indeed been subject to their continual attacks since this time, attacks in the form of discrediting him and of setting him up.

It is unfortunate that the entity himself decided not to keep a low profile after the murder of his wife and the gentleman, Goldman. It is seen that there were marital difficulties in the marriage and that Nicole Simpson did have her own agenda, and was involved with certain criminals that set the situation up where she was executed. O.J. Simpson is seen to have threatened these powers with exposure, and it is for this reason that they tried to bury him and have continued to harass him since then.

This Awareness is not trying to paint the picture that the individual O.J. Simpson is a completely innocent man. This man himself has been involved in certain activities that were indeed criminal also, but not in those activities that his wife was executed for, and that most of the attacks on him: the character assassinations on him, have been designed to make him an uncreditable witness and one that the public truly wishes to believe is guilty of the crime. There is much more to the matter than can be revealed at this time.

QUESTIONER:

I appreciate that. Thank you. I sympathize with him.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

One must also understand that he has continually provoked certain individuals, and in some ways he has brought many of those situations into his life where he could have stayed low-key and avoided some of the publicity that has since befallen him, including the false accusations around his alleged armed robbery of items that were his own. He was set up for this, but he unfortunately did not stop long enough to consider his actions and thus, took matters into his own hands. There is a degree of responsibility in this matter that falls to him also, but he was set up.

QUESTIONER:

It seems to be the story of his life doesn't it?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The major problem is this is a hotheaded individual who blunders forward sometimes before thinking things through, and thinking things out. This does not necessarily make him a bad individual or a criminal. It simply means that he does not always use his head to figure things out. This does not make him a criminal.

How Did a Satellite Get into a Painting 400 Years Before They Were Invented ?

QUESTION:

(Right. Exactly. Thank you for those comments) We have something from Larry Kell, in Indiana. It concerns Sputnik. He writes, "In issue 71 of Atlantis Rising an article on this mysterious Bonaventura Salimbeni painting completed in 1600. If you click on the larger image of it at this site, it will enlarge more so you can see the round black object with telescoping antenna and what appears to be a light and a camera lens. The article says the concept of telescoping did not exist until 100 years later. Use of grommet rings didn't occur until the mid-19th Century. Radio antennae were not invented until the first part of the 20th Century. My question for Awareness is how Salimbeni painted a likeness of early satellites 400 years before they were invented?"

Here is the picture that he was referring to and here is the object that he is referring to right here.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

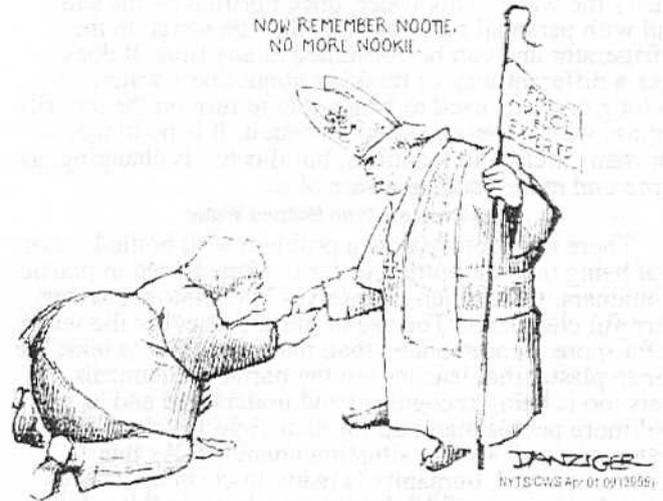

This is extraterrestrial in nature. In those times there were those satellites and flying vessels that are now called UFO's or extraterrestrial vehicles. They were available for the extraterrestrial beings who have been monitoring and interacting with the affairs of mankind for millennia. What is painted is indeed an example of a remote viewing device. It is seen to be a drone that was used to observe from afar certain situations on the planet itself, to view the citizens of an area. There is evidence that the viral agents that created plagues and illnesses of the time were released from the heavens from celestial ships that seeded an area, after which many of the citizens and individuals of the area became deadly ill.

The Chemtrail Seeding of Clouds Today the Same Thing

This can be seen in a counterpart at this time with that which is the chemtrail seeding of the clouds and the dropping of viral agents onto the earth to infect and harm individuals. This practice was also done hundreds of years ago. There is a book available through the CAC bookstore: The Gods of Eden by the author Bramley that speaks of this and presents evidence of this. There are other books also that are available. The picture showing this device, this satellite, is one where the painter was able to observe such a drone at a lower altitude than where they would normally reside, and he painted this onto the canvass of his painting. This Awareness is complete.

Excerpt from a Personal Reading for Brian S.

The Role of Some Wanderers Who Will Assist Entities Through Portals During Ascension (More on the Ascension Process)

QUESTION:

"During the great shift of Ascension, from the third dimension to the 5th dimension, as we move through the Photon Belt, it is understood we may experience three days of darkness, which I feel may parallel what is said in the Book of Matthew 12: 38-45. Am I correct in this understanding? Upon awakening from these three days of darkness we will see major earth changes, devastation and portals. Are these the same living portals Awareness has spoken of in past issues? There will basically be two different types of portal workers. Those that gather the people who want to enter the 4th Light and lead or bring them to the portals and help them through its opening, and when it's open. Then there are those that greet, welcome and teach the people who enter these portals, preparing them to exit into the 5th dimension. Are these portal workers the Wanderers or other Light Workers?"

How can the membership best assist everyone during this transition period? About how long will this transition within the portal be? Does Awareness see me as an inner or outer portal worker, or functioning in some other capacity during this transition?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There are valid parts of the questions presented by the entity Brian S. The entity himself, to first answer on his behalf, will be one who works within the portals themselves, who will teach many to let go of those dark strands, filaments and attachments that may pull them back or keep them grounded, unavailable for Ascension when it is exactly Ascension that they are seeking. Through his own journey he will have unique qualities in himself that will prepare him to do this type of work, this kind of freeing of the beings that come his way, so that he can teach them and assist them in that Ascension process of crossing over. It is this that this Awareness sees at this time for this entity.

Wanderers and Other Types of Light Workers

His comments on the various types of Wanderers and Light Workers are also relevant. Wanderers are a form of Light Being, but there are other categories and classification also, other types of Light Workers who serve various roles, who have achieved various levels of consciousness. There are none that are superior or inferior. All have their place, all have their duties and all will participate in that process of Ascension to their own individual degree and to their own individual ability. The most important part at this time in the run up to the actual Ascension completion in 2012 is the inner work that this Awareness has said on many occasions that each and every individual must now do for themselves.

Help for Those Who are Blocked at the Portal Because of Problems Letting Go

For some, this inner work will be very intense and extreme and challenging. For some it will not be as intense or as extreme or as challenging at this time, but may be so at those moments when they approach the portal ready to step through, only to find that they are blocked for one reason or another. It is at this time that certain Light Workers, Wanderers such as the entity himself will be available to help those who meet resistance within themselves, who are blocked or who have problems letting go. That is part of the scenario, that is part of the plan. There will be available, those who have through their own personal journeys dealt with their own demons and monsters, who have looked at their own dark side and will be available to help those who have not quite completed this process.

How Long Will the Transition Take to Get to Higher Realms?

There will be others who will lead entities to those portals if that is their way of Ascension and they will then leave them there for others to take through the portals to continue their journey forward, and they themselves will go back, finding others that they can lead to these gateways, these portals of Ascension. The matter of the actual transition time, the time it would take to transit from the 3rd dimension into the higher realms, through 4th dimension into the 5th, is entirely dependent on each individual and the length of time it would take them to clear all those blocks, those barriers, those resistances that they might have in themselves, those doubts, the disbelief, and it is for this reason that there will be those available to help in the transition to those higher realms that will be available to those who ascend.

Thus it may take hours for one being to do this who has cleared most of their own issues before arriving at this point of Ascension, while there might be others who will take longer, will enter other streams of consciousness that will take perhaps years to truly reach that highest level of the Ascension process, but they are still underway, they are still part of the Ascension, and as this Awareness has said several times over already, there will be those who will guide them and assist them on this journey.

There are many ways that the Ascension process and the transition will take place, thus it is impossible for this Awareness to say that the journey will take 36 hours and then it will be done, and those who have gone through the portal of Ascension will be on the other side. It is not a simple matter as that. There will be different time scales involved in the transition process. All that one needs to most understand at this time is that the more work the individual does on him/herself in preparation for that time ahead that will be the Ascension will determine how quickly that individual takes to go through the portal of Ascension and to reach those higher levels of consciousness that will mark the new world, the new planet, the new life.

This Awareness is complete with this answer barring any other questions that the energizer may have of It in regards to the question.

The Photon Belt and the Three Days Of Darkness

(Some People Will Just Sleep Through It)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) A reference was made in his question to the Photon Belt and the 3 days of darkness. Could you address that part of his question please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The 3 days is an allusion to a cessation of the reality that defines this present 3rd dimensional reality. Some will experience it as a darkness. There will be several layers of response to this period of time. Some will simply sleep through it, not truly experiencing the 3 days. The sleep that they will experience will not simply be a physical sleep, but a deep induced state of unconsciousness that will allow them to go through the turmoil of that 3-day period. Some will experience that which is known in biblical terms as the Rapture. They will be taken up to a place, so to speak, where they will not experience the dramatic results of the transition period of the Photon Belt, of the 3 days. This may even be experienced and understood as being taken aboard intergalactic vessels of the Galactic Federation in order to avoid the negative turbulent effects that this 3-day period may have.

Much Upheaval During This Period as the Planet Separates

It is during this period that there will be much upheaval and there will be, as this Awareness has said, various ways of escaping this. Many will have already stepped through the portals of Ascension and thus will not quite experience that 3-day period of darkness. Again, it is not literal that they will simply see darkness and be in darkness. It will be because there will be a cessation, a stopping of the reality that they have experienced for so long, in fact all of their lives, that will mark this as a dark period, but it is still a period of transition, and there are many ways that this period will be endured and overcome.

It is seen that there is no need for those who are ascending to feel the negative effects of this 3 day period where the planet itself is being altered at the subatomic level, and the completion of the separation of the two planets will indeed be completed, and Planet A and Planet B will become two separate entities, on two separate tracks that will take each forward from that point on. Does this help explain this matter somewhat?

Any Parallel to the Book of Matthew?

QUESTIONER:

Yes it does. There's another question on that part, but first he asks if there is a parallel to what is said in the Book of Matthew concerning the 3 days and the Photon Belt.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The parallel is that this has occurred before, and the Book of Matthew is simply a reflection of what is a known phenomenon at a point of Ascension or the transition in vibratory levels, where there seems to be a cessation of all, a darkness that occurs. It is here that the parallel is found.

Inner Earth and the Planet's Rotation?

QUESTIONER:

I see. In reference to the Planet A and Planet B on separate tracks so to speak, it was asked once before, is one going to circle one way and one circle the other way? Or has recently been said, that Planet A, the Ascension individuals will in fact go to inner earth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is not seen that there is any relevancy of entertaining the idea of inner earth being the ascended planet. The whole planet will ascend, including the hollow center, the inner earth. The matter of rotation also seems secondary to this Awareness. It does not see Planet A spinning counterclockwise and Planet B spinning clockwise. They will both continue to spin.

Another Dimension That Separates?

(Awareness Describes Unseen Visitors at the Session)

QUESTIONER:

So it's just actually another dimension that separates them?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

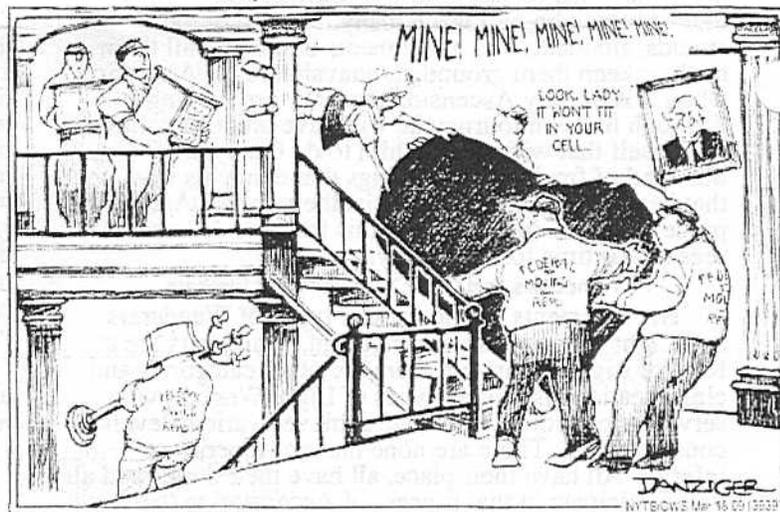

Indeed this is so. It must be understood that at this moment, as this Awareness speaks through the Interpreter, It sees in the room that the Interpreter and the energizer are sitting dozens of beings that are partaking in this session, guardian beings, beings of the Light who create protection around the Interpreter and the energizer, and others who are partaking in the energizing process from those various dimensional levels, yet none of those beings are seen at this moment by the energizer or Interpreter, yet this Awareness says they are present, they are always present as this work is done. It simply means that they are on other vibration levels, other frequencies where they are not physically perceived.

It is so when the planets separate. The frequencies will change and even if they are both on the same track, they are no longer in the same dimension, on the same frequency. It is as if the two tracks no longer engage each other, are part of each other. They are, as this Awareness says, two different frequencies, so they will not necessarily be perceived one by the other. It is only those of the highest consciousness who can by intent or design see the other expression of the planet, if there is a focusing on it. Most will not focus on it, they will simply partake in the world that they exist on, be if Planet A, or Planet B.

QUESTIONER:

I see. Our thanks to those beings who are protecting us. I don't have any more questions.
