HOW TO PROTECT OURSELVES FROM HAARP ENERGIES

(Our Original 12 Strands of DNA Are Starting to Work)

QUESTION:

The first question is from JoAn B. Lance, of Chireno, Texas. She writes, "What can we do to protect ourselves from mental and physical disturbances from HAARP energies?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

What this Awareness sees as the most effective way to protect against the HAARP energies and vibrations has more to do with the unfolding of an individual's higher capacities and energies. This is a time for all individuals who are seeking to ascend to be working on themselves in expanding their consciousness, expanding their awareness. There is an unfolding that is also occurring at this time, an unfolding of those higher bodies, those Light Bodies that will make the Ascension process easier.

Many are experiencing profound and deep changes within themselves, changes that sometimes are visible, but more often than not are within one. These are changes where the Light Body, the vibrational energetic body of human beings is being developed and grown. This has to do also with the opening of the 12 strands of DNA. Currently there is an expansion on that which has been the norm.

Our DNA Shut Down When Atlantis Fell

Despite what was once the case, that 12 strands of DNA were active, only 2 have been active in the last several millennia, this before the fall of Atlantis, the shutting down of certain strands of DNA was occurring, but with the fall of Atlantis in particular, the human stock was reduced down to a most primitive nature and only 2 strands were active, which allowed humans to work at that most basic level of instinct, almost a primal level.

This has been changing, especially as consciousness has been shifting and more strands are opening all of the time.

This is one of the reasons why many people are becoming more psychically in tune. They are opening their psychic intuitive properties, as well as other properties that are being triggered such as the tapping in to the other dimensional levels and layers that each and every human being is connected to and part of. With only 2 strands it was impossible to keep active those points within the human being that made it possible for each human being to access his or her higher dimensional being, or their multidimensional being, but this is changing. More and more are having multidimensional experiences, at least to the point of sensing their multidimensional being.

This is all part of the development and the evolution of the human being back at least to a state that was once common, and with the Ascension, to go beyond this. In relation to the question of how to avoid the harmful effects of the HAARP technology, as those higher levels of consciousness are opened up and experienced, and as the higher vibrational energies become the norm, it will be easy enough to sidestep any effects of HAARP technology.

HAARP Technology Not as Pervasive as Believed

This Awareness wishes also to say that while HAARP technology is out there, and is being used, it is not as pervasive as some suspect or think it is. There are areas, especially where there are transmitters of the HAARP vibration, where those energies of the frequencies that are associated with the HAARP are more frequent, are more a problem to the general population, but this is not everywhere the case at all times. Indeed, if one lives in an area where there is excessive HAARP activity, the recommendation of this Awareness would be to move from that area, for it is not a desirable place to live.

However, as this Awareness has just said, the incident of actual HAARP intrusion, of the energies and the vibrations of the HAARP technology being active all the time in any one region is relatively small, and that with the natural evolution of those Light Workers who are seeking to expand their consciousness and their Light Bodies and their 12 strands of DNA it will be more the case that there is no great effect upon them from that HAARP technology. This is the major way forward at this time, for it is not seen that there is readily available any technologies that can counteract the effects of the HAARP technology, at least not technology that can be purchased at Radio Shack.

The changes that need to occur that will prevent and protect against HAARP energies and vibrations are those changes that occur within the development of one's own higher capacity, their own higher being, their own Light Body. This is the answer that this Awareness has for this question at this time. This Awareness is complete.

ARE THOSE WHO TOOK LSD IN THE PAST JUST "DAMAGED GOODS" AS THEY AGE?

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Our next question is from Zoey Zen, in San Francisco. She writes, "A lot of older Light Workers spent their youth with a lot of LSD/marijuana. I have noticed that some of these people, especially the ones who took a lot of LSD appear to be fragmented, not well functioning in their late fifties, early sixties. Does LSD cause long-term brain damage? What are the remedies, if any? It almost seems as though there is soul fragmentation, or perhaps just ego fragmentation. Prayer, any vitamins, minerals, herbs that would help? Some of these people have taken LSD hundreds of times. Are they just "damaged goods" in this lifetime?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The description of fragmentation is indeed the correct way of describing the LSD experience that many had throughout the Sixties and Seventies. What this drug did is to truly fragmentize the ego of the individual, but more than just the ego, it caused a fragmentation of the soul and the soul connection. The personality was disrupted. Boundaries and borders that were normal divisional lines that would contain a being's consciousness were shattered, fragmentized, and this opened up doorways and vistas that would not normally have been available without years of extensive work and preparation to have such experiences.

How Shamans Took The Blue Road to Consciousness

In Shamanic studies and in the Shamanic way of the development and the expansion of consciousness, Shamans would often use natural drugs to help expand consciousness. These drugs were often very dangerous by their very nature. They would often remove the parameters of consciousness that contained consciousness. Thus, a Shaman could have an Out-Of-Body experience, could travel the various worlds that were beyond the scope of the third dimensional world with its laws and its rules. This was known as the Blue Road to consciousness, the Blue Road being the drug road.

The Red Road was that of years of growth and development and practice, years of devotion and painstaking steps taken to expand one's consciousness and one's awareness. Drugs would provide a quicker way forward to break down those boundaries, but as this Awareness has said, often these were drugs that were lethal in nature if not taken properly, and that even those who took them properly sometimes did not return from their travels for they could not find their way back. The body may have died in that process. Then came the Sixties and Seventies and a drug became available that also reduced and destroyed the boundaries: this drug being lysergic acid diethylamide or that which is known as LSD.

LSD Fragments the Personality and Entities Take Trips

This drug fragmented those boundaries, fragmented the personality, fragmented the consciousness to such a degree that individuals indeed took trips, often wondrous trips, but occasionally not so wonderful. That which was known as a "bad trip" often would inflict severe damage on an individual, permanently. The use of LSD many times also had a detrimental effect. Even the effect of one journey would so fragmentize the personality and the ego that it would have to be reassembled each and every time. Thus it was that if too many trips were taken, that essential personality that started out would be altered to such a degree that the individual who was the result of the many trips may never be quite right, may never return truly back to the being he or she might have been had they not taken LSD.

It is this concept that the entity Zoey describes as "damaged goods" and indeed, this is exactly the case. Through extensive use of LSD there are those who were indeed damaged, long-term damaged, and for many who took this drug in that time-period, in their later years, in exactly those years being described as their fifties and sixties, is a time when there is a natural degradation of the cognitive powers of an individual. If there had been extensive use of LSD as many of these hippies of the Sixties, Seventies and even Eighties did use, that this may be exhibited in their later years, in those years of their fifties and sixties. This is what the entity Zoey is observing and knows to be so.

There Are Ways to Undue Much of the Damage

This situation is not hopeless. Even though this has caused great damage to many, there are certain ways of retrieving one's wholeness by investigating those procedures and processes that would lead one to a deeper formulation of the Light Body, of that level of consciousness that is evolving in this time frame that is currently available. This is a time when there is an acceleration in human consciousness, and even those who have been damaged through their extensive drug use of LSD as well as other substances, may indeed find a certain degree of reintegration of their soul and their consciousness, of their character and of their being.

For some, this simply may never occur, for the damage may be too great and the individual too far along that Blue Road that they never fully are able to recover. This Awareness has a warning for those who think even now that the use of drugs is the best way to expand one's consciousness. In time-honored ways of Shamanism as well as seeking the mystical experience, even though drugs may have been used, they were used with a degree of caution, reverence and with an acknowledgement of the power of those drugs.

The drug peyote for example was often used, and is still used by those seeking to have a powerful spiritual experience, and yet it is also understood that if it is used incorrectly that it can turn around and bite the person using this powerful drug. These times are marked with a callousness and a lack of understanding and perception by those who use drugs. They are used primarily as a means of escape without recognition or understanding that there is a price to be paid when one uses these drugs, or these substances. There are those plants that are the natural teacher plants in the plant world, and if used with reverence, these plants will help and assist one in their consciousness expansion, but if they are used callously as recreational drugs, these drugs will often come back to bite the user.

Tobacco is Called the King of all Teacher Plants (But High Price Tags Are Attached)

Tobacco is one of those teacher plants. In Shamanic teachings the tobacco plant is considered the king of all teacher plants, and yet, the callous use of tobacco has reached such a point that there is no recognition of its value and its service. There is no honoring of this plant, and there is simply misuse. Thus it is that a price was demanded, and is demanded of such callous use, and in the case of tobacco the price is such things as illness and disease, such as cancer and leukemia and emphysema. These are all price tags that are attached to the plant, to those who have no understanding, awareness or perception of the power of this plant or of its role, and its high place of honor within the plant kingdom.

Marijuana is Also a Teacher Plant and a "Thanks" Is Needed

Marijuana is also a teacher plant, and it too demands a certain level of respect, yet individuals smoke the marijuana leaf without understanding its true value, its true role. There is no reverence towards this plant. There is no honoring of this plant, and those who use it simply seek to get high. It can be used even for medical purposes to assist many who have illnesses where pharmaceutical drugs offer no answer. This is a more reverent use of this sacred teacher plant, and yet even on this level it is not taught that there is a thanks that needs to be given for that gift that is offered.

LSD is synthetically created. This is a much worse situation than those teacher plants that can be used to expand consciousness. Even though they may be misused, and even though there is a danger in using these plants too much, with the proper recognition and understanding there is more of an alignment between a natural substance and the human being that takes that substance. But when it is a synthetic product such as LSD, or a chemically created product such as crystal meth, the results are much more catastrophic on the soul fabric of the individual taking this drug.

Crack Cocaine, Crystal Meth and LSD are Soul Destructive Drugs

Thus it is that crack cocaine, crystal meth, and LSD that is now being produced and distributed, as well as many of the other chemical drugs that are now available are having a much more serious and addictive effect on those who take these drugs. They are very destructive to the soul fabric of the individual taking the drug, and also have a stronger ramification physically, as well as mentally and emotionally. LSD was the first drug in some ways that was a chemically produced drug readily available to the young of the hippie generation of the Sixties and Seventies. While many took this drug with apparently little effect, the effect is now being seen several decades later in those individuals who had taken the drug at that time.

What has occurred in more recent times is that the effects of chemically produced hallucinogenic drugs are much more quicker and apparent, are much more devastating and destructive. While many feel that their lives are meaningless and boring and they turn to these drugs to give them meaning and excitement, they find very quickly that their lives are being destroyed. The intent of those who were the hippies of the Sixties and Seventies was in the expansion of consciousness. To some degree LSD was taken more reverently in those times than the way the hallucinogenic drugs are taken now, where it is more with the purpose of simply escaping one's life. This is also a factor in the matter of why those drugs are even more destructive and deadly at this time.

This Awareness has expanded on the original question. It hopes that It has touched upon the factors that the entity Zoey was asking about. If there is more, this Awareness is still available to speak more on this, but It wishes to end today by saying that the drugs that are mostly available to the consumers are by design deadlier and more addictive than the drugs that were available to those seeking them and using them in the Sixties and Seventies.

Nancy Reagan Said "Just Say No!"

This Awareness does need to reiterate a common slogan that was forwarded by the former First Lady Nancy Reagan, who said: "Just say no!" but this Awareness also understands that it is not quite as simple as that for as beings seek something more, seek that which is the deeper meaning of life, that often they will be drawn to drugs as a way of reaching it.

They will be drawn to the Blue Road, which is of course the most dangerous path to take without ever shifting consciousness to the degree that it originally promised. At least by saying no, and seeking more natural ways of expanding consciousness, one will survive these times and as the times themselves are changing, will eventually wind up in a place of expanding consciousness and awareness. That is what this Awareness would support as the way to go. This Awareness is complete with this question.

THE DRUG "ECSTASY" & LAB RATS

QUESTION:

Thank you) Zoey has one more question on this topic. She writes: "The same question as previous really, except for younger people taking the drug nectars. I read that scientists gave lab rats 4 or 5 doses of ecstasy and five years out there were the same abnormal brain changes. Similar symptoms, at least to my eyes, of previous heavy LSD users. I have read that ALA, alpha lipoic acid might help ecstasy users. Any other suggestions?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

As this Awareness has previously said, the drugs, especially those chemical drugs that are being manufactured at this time are far more deadly and devastating in their effects than those drugs that were produced in the Sixties and Seventies. This is by intent and by design. There are some drugs such as ALA that might counter-balance the effects of ecstasy as suggested, but ultimately, a chemical synthetic drug to treat another chemical synthetic drug is not a holistic solution and is not a solution that will heal at the deepest natural level.

Psychic Soul Damage Done by Crystal Meth

This Awareness would always suggest that those who use drugs understand that they are often creating a situation from which there is no return. There is no coming back from the damage that is created through the drugs that are on the market today for hallucinogenic purposes. The devastation of crystal meth is not simply the lesions and the corruption of the physical body, but also the burning of deep psychic holes into the very psychic and spiritual bodies of that individual. This will be healed eventually as the being crosses over, but will do much to disconnect that being from their spiritual source, while still on the earthly plane.

It is for this reason that this Awareness does warn against the callous and casual use of psychotropic drugs and psychedelic drugs, of hallucinogenic drugs, for the price is too great to pay. The irony is that many who are Light Workers who have a sense of a deeper purpose and a deeper meaning in the universe are often drawn to drugs, for they do often seem to offer a quicker road to self-awareness and higher consciousness, but this is a blind run, a cul-de-sac that leads nowhere and those who are drawn into it sometimes survive, come back and find more natural ways and paths.

Drug Users Will Not Achieve the Lifetime They Had Planned (Drugs Deliberately Designed to Sidetrack Light Workers)

Those who go into the heaviest use of those drugs that are the hardest and harshest of all will not in this lifetime achieve what they had set out to achieve and their promise of redemption and salvation unfortunately may lie not in a physical healing in this lifetime, but rather upon returning back into the fabric of the soul, back to the spiritual realm where they will undergo intensive healing to recover from the effects of their additions in this physical lifetime. That is why this Awareness simply cannot support the use of those synthetic drugs that are designed to kill, maim and destroy the human spirit, soul and body.

This Awareness wishes it to be understood that many of the drugs that the youth of today take, the drugs that are used by those in power and influence, those who are famous even, are drugs designed on purpose to be released into humanity as part of the way of diverting those who are Light Workers and those who are able to expand in consciousness, but it is also part of the design for the destruction of many individuals as is the plan to create in society a level of incompetence. There is a plan to destroy the competence of individuals who would normally excel or move beyond the parameters that most people would hold as normal. This accounts for the introduction of additive drugs, especially manufactured drugs.

It is as if the intent is to deviate the norm, to detour those who are of a high spiritual quality, who are here to not only advance themselves, but to help others advance. This is certainly one way of controlling the Light Workers and destroying them. Those who have power do not want those who have higher consciousness to be available to many who are seeking new answers and new ways. Thus it is that drugs are one of the pitfalls that are purposefully created to destroy not only Light Workers, but to destroy humanity itself.

This is something that must be seen and recognized, and while it may sound somewhat absurd to say, "Just say no to drugs!" what is really being expressed here by this Awareness is to say "no" to those influences that would cause the annihilation of the individual soul in this world, for the joy and excitement that can be found in a natural process of self-examination, self-awareness is much higher and deeper at the same time than the drug experience will ever be. While a drug-induced experience, especially those which are the initial experiences, may take an individual to the heights of ecstasy and pleasure, these heights soon some crashing down and the individual goes into the pits of hell on a regular daily basis, especially when one is not receiving that drug.

Even after awhile, the drug itself only becomes a means by which to feel normal, to feel okay. When this occurs, the individual is truly trapped in that drug experience and the only point of the drug experience is to get more drugs to continue to feel good. That is when the individual has been captured and is no longer on the path to self-enlightenment or illumination. This may have ultimately been a purpose for that soul, but it is seen that often the pitfalls of drug use are put there by those who would seek to control and destroy those who could assist in these times to promote higher consciousness and a clearer understanding of reality as it can be seen and known from those higher dimensional states of consciousness.

This of course opens up many avenues for further questions. This Awareness, as always, invites the members to send in more questions, if there is more interest in this matter, but this Awareness is complete for now.

....More On Christopher Reeve...

WHY DON'T SEVERED NERVES HEAL?

(Is There a Design Flaw in Our Bodies?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you, that was most informative and will be appreciated by the membership)

Our next question is from Larry Kell. The topic is – “Exoskeleton suit helps paralyzed people walk,” and he writes, “Is it a design flaw in our bodies that doesn't repair severed nerves that cause permanent paralysis? Mobility is one of the most vital abilities needed for survival among all animals.” Your thoughts on this please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is not seen by this Awareness that it is a design flaw of the human body and condition, but rather the result of a collectively held belief system that does not allow for the healing of damaged tissue or parts that would allow an individual to recover from more extreme injuries. Thus it is held that if the spinal cord is severed in certain places, paralysis will occur and there will be no possibility of regrowing the cellular tissue or the spinal cord itself, of healing it, of reestablishing the neural pathway that would allow signals to once again flow along the spinal cord to those limbs and to the parts of the body that have been paralyzed.

It is simply believed that this cannot happen and that it is so for the majority of individuals. This is in accordance to how things were set up as the parameters of belief that were to shape the activities on this planet in terms of the abilities of the human body of what it was capable of and not capable of. It was also partially the byproduct of a belief system that does not allow for a communication to those very parts of the body where instructions could be consciously given that would assist the growth and healing process to occur.

It is not believed that one can talk to the body and effect instant healing. This is absurd by most people's understanding of reality, and yet throughout the course of history it has been shown over and over again that such miraculous healings can occur. Even spinal injury, even paralysis can be healed. When a majority of people do step into that paradigm and hold it exclusively that sometimes miracles occur where healing happens that should never have happened, even the paradigms themselves will begin to shift somewhat.

Christopher Reeve Was Close—Then They Killed Him

Thus it was that the entity Christopher Reeve held that it would be possible for him to heal his own body, his own spinal injury, and yet this individual died before he could do so. This Awareness suggests that in truth, this individual was coming very close to doing the impossible. His hard work and his intense belief and his powerful faith that he would again walk was producing results. He was moving towards this reality. He was but steps away from making it shown and known and showing the world, and in effect, part of the reason for his death was to prevent him from showing the world that he had accomplished the impossible, that he had healed his spine to a point where he would be able to take those steps.

This simply could not be allowed by those Powers That Be, for the reason of creating within mankind that hopeless situation that accompanies spinal injuries and brain injuries. It also would not have been good for that which is the medical industry, for much money is generated through the use of the drugs and technologies that are available. The healing of the body is indeed possible. This is what the entity Christopher Reeve was about to show the world. This was a message that was not favored by those who have power, those who control the medical industry. It was not simply about the money that may have been lost by individuals who no longer needed to receive expensive support and use expensive drugs. It was that illness itself as it is known may be healed on many levels, even at that extreme level of healing those who are paralyzed, who are unable to use their body anymore.

How the Powers That Be Killed Christopher Reeve & His Wife

This was considered, and is considered a dangerous truth to release to humanity, and thus it needed to be suppressed at any cost, even through the death of the individual Christopher Reeve. Thus his death was made to look like the natural consequence of his illness, thus squashing any further speculation that he was close to that point of taking those first steps and showing the world that the impossible was possible, and giving many millions hope and a way of looking at life afresh. It is also why his wife died a short while after her husband. This too is seen by this Awareness as suspicious. It was considered a dangerous situation to allow her to live, for she too knew how far it had gone for her husband, and that he would soon start to walk. Thus, both were taken out of the game, to eliminate that possibility that hope would be given to many who were without hope because of their own illness or injury.

Steve McQueen Was Killed Because He Cured His Own Cancer

This is seen as tragic and yet something that the Powers That Be have done many times in the past when someone who is about to prove something wrong, or to show another way appears on the scene. The entity Steve McQueen, many years ago also was killed because he had shown that he had cured his own cancer, and yet inexplicitly he suddenly died of a heart attack just before he was to make this announcement.* This is part of the control that the Powers That Be would still exert upon humanity, and yet what is not understood by those who have power and control is that the very paradigms of belief are shifting.

That which was held for so long as impossible is now being challenged more and more, both by individuals who themselves are doing the impossible and healing themselves in ways that were not possible just a few years ago, but also by those new technologies and research into the human body itself that is showing there is the possibility to regenerate damaged tissue. There is the possibility to heal broken and severed spinal cords. There is hope. This is becoming something that is more and more available on a daily basis, therefore even those who once maintained that when there was spinal injury and brain injury that there was no possibility of recovering, are now seeing through the new research that has been done that there may be ways of circumventing the injury and there may be ways of healing the injuries.

One of those ways that many are giving great hope to is the exoskeletal supports and implements that are starting to be worked on and starting to come forward. This is a hope in technology that this Awareness would say while it may play a part in the overall solution, is not by itself the best solution for it still relies on technology, where this Awareness would say that as a being of great power, each and every human has within them the capacity to heal themselves of just about anything, when that belief, that trust, and that faith is strong enough within the individual.

The times are changing to support the new paradigms of belief, so that even though technology may offer support, even hope, there is grander and greater hope in the evolutionary process that is underway and that will continue to redefine what is possible, and what is not possible. It is seen by this Awareness that in times ahead, especially after the Ascension process is complete that there simply will not be a need to have the physical experience of paralysis or of almost any of the diseases that are now considered fatal and deadly, for the human condition will be entirely different and evolve from that which was once the case.

This is getting ahead of oneself in a manner of speaking, and at this time, in relation to the question, this Awareness simply wishes to conclude by saying that there are many changes that are already coming down and these changes are already presenting new levels of hope and possibility to those who once had no hope and no possibility of healing on any level. This is what needs to be seen and recognized and believed in. This Awareness is complete at this time with this question.

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) That was marvelous. There's hope for so many people. Thank you.)

*Ed's Note: For more on Steve McQueen please refer to Revelations of Awareness 81-04 (The Strange Death of Steve McQueen). For more on Christopher Reeve please refer to issue 99-6 (Christopher Reeve Will Walk Again (With Your Help)). This was a creative experiment with you, the Membership, assisting back in 1999. The healing attempt failed but Awareness just now in this reading explained why it failed (Christopher Reeve was murdered).

IS MORGELLONS A REAL DISEASE?

QUESTION:

We have another question from Larry Kell in Indiana. It concerns medical problems and skin lesions. His question: "Is Morgellons a real disease? This article is about an apparently new medical problem afflicting over 11,000 people. The red, blue, black and translucent fibers coming out of their skin lesions are unidentifiable by forensic scientists. Some of them will not burn when heated to 700 degrees! My question for the Awareness is what is the source of these fibers and if they are not created in the victim's body, how are they getting in there? Who is creating these fibers and for what purpose? Thanks-Larry Kell." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

These fibers are not natural in the sense of natural to the human body itself. They are not produced by the human body in a way that is natural to the human body. These fibers are the result of certain spores and manufactured viruses that have been released on humanity. The most common way that this viral spore is released is through the Chemtrails and the seeding of the spores in the Chemtrails. They come down as spores that are then absorbed into the human host at a very miniscule level. These spores are diminutive, at a microscopic level, and there is an artificial process that created these spore viruses.

Spores are Being Created at Atlantis Disease Control Center

While spores are generally thought to be separate to viruses, this Awareness is suggesting that this is not so for this particular illness. It is a virus spore that has been created in the labs, in those centers where such things are created, such as the Atlantis Disease Control Center. This Awareness is on touchy ground with this matter, for many of course do not wish to accept that perhaps yet again there are agents and agencies that would create such a horrendous disease that would be then purposefully released upon the human populace, and yet this is so.

Swine Flu is the Latest Lab-Created Killer Virus (Original Spores Were Created by Orion Reptilians)

This is one of hundreds of illnesses and diseases that are artificial in nature and have been created in laboratories. The most recent is that which is the swine flu virus. It too was created in laboratories, and is a recombination of that which was the swine flu, the avian flu and a human strain of flu. These are being released on humanity on a regular basis now as part of the overall plan of the eradication of millions, even billions of human beings. This fibrous disease has been tested out and it is seen that many are responding, but not as many as had been expected. In fact it is considered that this disease is not as successful as it was hoped it would be.

Finally, it is seen that there is an extraterrestrial quality to the spores that have been created to become this disease. There were spores that were gathered up and have been used in the research to create this disease. These spores are not natural to the earth itself, but are from an extraterrestrial source, given to the Powers That Be by the Orion Reptilians who are seeking through their ultimate plans to eradicate millions and millions of individuals. This is simply seen as the source of these viral spores. This Awareness feels It is complete unless there are further questions.

QUESTIONER:

It just emphasizes all the more reason to have a healthy immune system, does it not?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Best Offense is a Good Defense

Indeed. This is exactly so. This Awareness has emphasized this time and time again. The best offence is a good defense. The best protection against illness and disease is to have a healthy immune system, to have a healthy emotional balance and to exercise and eat well. This Awareness is complete.

A HUGE COVER-UP IN ALASKA?

(Fallout is Maiming and Killing Natives in Remote Areas)

Our next question comes from Bob Carlough. There is no address. He writes about an Alaska cover-up and asks if you could comment on it please. He writes, "This was posted by another Light Worker last year, an amazing story. It's about the cover-up in Alaska and actually summarizes the deaths and birth abnormalities as a result of the fallout. The natives in the remote area were killed and/or severely burned and have eye and facial damage. I have met someone here in California whom I believe suffers from the effects of living in the zone where these fields were emitting their rays into the atmosphere. She nearly died, and has had some pretty unexplainable side effects. She has no clue what hit her."

Is there a comment please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is seen to be connected to the HAARP technology this Awareness spoke of earlier. This is one of those areas that this Awareness was referring to, where those who live in that area of the HAARP weapon technology would be under a constant bombardment of the HAARP technology, and suffer as a result. This is simply proof of that being the case. This is damage that is done at the deep cellular levels that then manifest on the different parts of the body and in the different organs of the body. This Awareness does not have much at this time to add to this answer and It is complete.

QUESTIONER:

Thank you. That helps, and gives a clue.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The only thing that this Awareness would add is that of course there is a cover-up of this incident. There are other places where the HAARP technology, the actual devices that are used to emanate the frequencies of HAARP are used around the world, and in those areas, those who live within a certain radius of these testing ground areas where the HAARP frequencies are released are seriously compromised and affected. They too are covered up. It is seen a region in Australia for example, where many of the Aborigines that lives in that area also met untimely deaths and suffered gross physical deformity as well as lesions and cancer and living in those areas was destructive to their lives.

CAN A LAYER OF CLOTH HELP YOU SLEEP?

(Pimat Energy Regeneration Products now Available)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Another question from Larry Kell in Indiana. He writes concerning Pimat-Energy Regenerator. He writes, "I happened to see an ad for this in Nexus magazine. It has been available since 1991. There is a lot of impressive documentation claiming it actually works. My question for Awareness is how can a thin layer of material dye or red dots applied to the surface of cloth have any affect on the person sleeping on it in a dark room? If incoming energies are strong enough to pass through the roof and walls of the house, how could a layer of dye on cloth have any effect on them?"

And he sent an attachment ad which suggests that you can increase your energy and improve your health while you sleep. 'Pimat is a great invention dating back to the times of ancient Egypt, and is some type of energy of the pyramids. Pimat helps to enhance your energy and health and the quality of your life while you sleep on it. It's very simple to use. Just place it under the sheets and start experiencing results'.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Tesla Also Tapped Into the Energy Fields of the Planet

This is not simply a dye, as the entity seems to be suggesting. There are certain chemical components of the dye that are infused in the actual dye itself, rare chemical components that are ancient in use. This is something that was passed down to the ancient Egyptians from the Atlanteans who once used the components in their own dyes and the coloring in their clothes. They understood this technology that is now being rediscovered. There is also a connection to Tesla in this. The entity Tesla was able to tap in to the energy fields of the planet and to take energy from the air itself, powering his inventions.

These dots on the fabric do something similar. They draw in from the air itself certain components that are then emitted from these dye dots.

The human body, sleeping upon the fabric can then absorb this healing energy into the body itself. It is seen by this Awareness that it is effective and that it is accurate in the description of the effects that are posted in the magazine Nexus. In other words, this seems to work. This does work. This is part of ancient technology that once was readily available, but was lost. Technology today is more based on computers and electronics, and the mechanical. The technology has been forgotten that dealt with vibration and energy and frequency and the ability to draw from the air itself qualities of the Divine that can literally be used to enhance the human condition and human body, but this technology is now being rediscovered and is part of that accelerated process of Ascension.

Ascension is that process where those higher levels of consciousness are being tapped into once again and those solutions that were once available are now being made available once again. This dye technology, this dot matrix technology is part of that ancient technology that is being rediscovered.

QUESTIONER:

Amazing! It will be useful for the ordinary person then.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Most definitely so! The Atlanteans used the dye not simply as dots on fabric that were then slept upon. This was infused in their clothing. Thus, their clothing gave them healing all the time. More importantly than healing perhaps, it maintained high levels of health and well-being. The immune system was kept at ultimate capacity and as this Awareness has so often said, with a strong and healthy immune system, disease and illness are most definitely contained. The Atlanteans also used crystal technology as is known.

Misuse of Crystalline Energy in Atlantis Led to Its Downfall

It is seen that part of the dye was crystalline in nature, and it could capture those fields of energy that are in the air and atmosphere, translating this into a frequency or vibration that was absorbable by the body, and enhanced the immune system, that tweaked the body to such a high degree that good health, excellent health was the norm, and not the exception in Atlantean times. Unfortunately this did not prevent certain factions of the Atlantean culture to misuse this very same technology on a grander scale in their exploitation of the earth and the exploitation of the Master Crystals that were used in the society, which ultimately led to the destruction and downfall of Atlantis.

FEELING REIKI ENERGIES (Why Some Healers Can't Feel Anything)

QUESTION:

(That will be a question for another time. Thank you)

Our next question concerns Reiki. This is an anonymous letter. No name or location is given. The person writes, "I was attuned to the Reiki energy in 2000. I have helped my patients at work, and especially family and friends. I've had different reactions from all. The most common is that some feel a warmth or hot heat, but not harmful, it's beneficial. Others say one hand has a cold 'current' while my other hand is warm and soothing. At times I'm told that 'it' feels like water flowing. I myself do not feel anything. I simply trust in the Reiki energy to do what it does in the best interest of the patient.

Then my mom told me she could see bright colors, brighter than usual. She's in her 80's. My question is, how is it I do not 'feel' these sensations? I love it that I am able to help others in this way and I know this works, as my intent is to help ease the pain or suffering of others. (Plus everyone tells me they feel better, or the pain is gone.) How may I improve or open up to where I can 'feel,' or better 'sense' this Reiki energy? My sincere gratitude!"

Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The first thing that this Awareness would say is that each and every individual experiences Reiki, or healing energy work in a different manner. Some indeed feel it as warmth and heat. Some feel it as tingling. Some feel it as a cold energy, or a sensation of a draft along the skin, and others see colors, or even feel colors. The individual must understand that while she does not have some of those experiences, she does indeed feel it in her own way, even if this is not a way she recognizes or understands at the moment.

A Reiki Healer is a Conduit For Healing Energies

She is basically a conduit for those healing energies as she works with them, and as a conduit she does not always feel those energies, but nonetheless, her gift is that she can pass those energies on, and she is a strong conduit for the energies of Reiki, or the healing energies. With time she will begin to experience this more herself, and if she truly wishes to experience the effects of energy work, she should work with someone else where she is a recipient for the Reiki or the healing energy. She will then begin to have her own sensations and perceptions of the energy that is being given and passed to her

This may make it easier for her to recognize herself those times when she senses and feels the energy that she allows to pass through her. This Awareness basically sees that with time, her own experiences of sensing and feeling the energies will enhance, especially if, as this Awareness has suggested she becomes a recipient to the Reiki energies, or those other energies, for Reiki is not the only energy work available. If she receives more often, she will begin to have her own sensation of healing energies. This Awareness is complete.

HOW TO OVERCOME AGING

(The Ascension Coming Will Solve the Problem)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Our next question is from Vera K., of Syracuse, NY. She writes, "It has been stated that when our present carbon-based cells become crystalline or light-based, the telomere will be able to replicate cells indefinitely without dying. This ability to replicate the cells of the body is the factor that will overcome aging. Death might come through accidental causes, but death through organ failure, which is based upon cell replication, will be a thing of the past. This is the effect of Ascension on our physical bodies." Do you have any comment on this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The main comment that this Awareness would make is that the entity Vera K. is correct in her description. This is indeed a brilliant description of the formation of the Light Bodies which are based on the crystalline energy matrix of a body versus a carbon matrix of the body, or the carbon cellular matrix. When the Light Body is complete and whole, the individual will no longer fully participate in physical reality as it once was expressed. They will have the ability to regenerate at the cellular level, and this means eternal life, if it is so desired, even eternal physical life, for even though it is not the same physical structure as would be so with a carbon-based physical structure, physical form and physical experience can still be had, but because the basic nature is crystalline and Light, a popping in and out of physicality will be available to the individuals.

They can choose to have a physical experience for as long as they wish, need or desire, but they can equally choose to go back into their pure energy bodies and become non-corporeal in nature. This occurs each and every night as the middle self leaves the body, for it is not corporeal in nature and needs to return to its source, to the spiritual 5th dimensional level of consciousness. When one has created the Light Body, they can by choice pop back into that strata of consciousness and enjoy the pleasures of non-corporeal 5th dimensional reality, but they may also choose to experience and enjoy the physical level, for there are certain qualities of the physical experience that are not available to those who are in pure incorporeal form.

It will be a free choice. At this time the choice to be born in physical carbon-based reality and form is one that one enters into the physical experience and remains for a certain set time. When one leaves, they leave through that which is known as the death process. They must die in the physical form for their incorporeal form to be fully released. The physical carbon-based form, the body, is released and it decays down to the components that define the human body, the carbon-based organic mineral components. Thus it is that the concept that is expressed as "ashes to ashes, dust to dust" in effect is a description of the carbon-based body returning back to its component form and being reintegrated back into the physicality of the earth itself. It is returned back into the essence of that which is Mother Earth.

The entity herself, Vera K. is correct in her description, and it will lead to further questions, for this is, as this Awareness sees it, a concept that will motivate others to deeper thoughts on this matter. This is a good question for consideration. This Awareness is complete.

SHE SUES HER PSYCHIATRIST & HOSPITAL (Repressed Memory Therapy Says She Was a Cannibal)

QUESTION:

This is more of a commentary, and it asks for a comment. It came from Larry Kell and Avaton, and it concerns a psychiatrist misdiagnosis and related lawsuit. You might find it humorous. "Patricia Burgus, 42, has won a $10.6 million settlement in a lawsuit against her psychiatrist and a hospital. Her suit alleged that when she sought treatment for depression from Dr. Bennett Braun, he used "repressed memory therapy" to convince her that she had 300 personalities, was a cannibal who made meatloaf out of her friends, had molested her children and was the high priestess of a satanic cult. She says she was committed to a psychiatric hospital for two years and her two children for three years, after she was misdiagnosed as having a split personality disorder, but her own common sense prevailed. "I began to add a few things up and realized that there was no way I could come from a little town in Iowa and be eating 2,000 people a year and nobody said anything about it," Burgus said. On the other hand, sometimes even your best friends won't tell you about your shortcomings." Any comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is a much more serious matter than the humorous commentary leads one to think. The reason this Awareness says this is because it has to do with the nature of psychiatry and the direction it has taken and the power it has been given over the last 100 years. In the early days of psychiatry, in the days of Freud, there were but a few psychiatric conditions. There are now hundreds of thousands of psychiatric conditions that individuals can be labeled by. This Awareness has spoken of this before. It will not comment on this matter at this time. What It wishes to comment on is the power that psychiatrists have been given, and that part of their power is to label individuals in certain ways and that they have the power then to commit those individuals.

Improbable and Ridiculous Suggestions Were Implanted

While this story has a happy ending, many do not. There are literally thousands of individuals who are incarcerated wrongly. They also begin to believe their conditions, for such is the power of a doctor, or in this case a psychiatrist, to convince one through various means such as hypnosis as well as drugs that are given, that the individual has this situation. The absurdity of this individual is that he implanted in the minds of the patient and her children improbable and ridiculous suggestions, such as being a cannibal who ate up to 2000 individuals a year. The psychiatrist himself was somewhat delusional and suffered his own certain personality disorders. Perhaps he too had been to see another psychiatrist.

The fact remains, and this is why this is somewhat serious, that there are many psychiatrists who put away other sound individuals who are going through temporarily mental conditions or breakdowns, that are then locked up, sometimes permanently. This is not a good situation. Then again, it is what it is at this time and is part of the system that exists, a system that is breaking down and will soon come to a conclusion. This Awareness is pleased to hear that the individual did finally get released and was financially compensated for the harm that was done to her and the evil intent that the psychiatrist held towards her.

This Awareness is complete.

QUESTIONER:

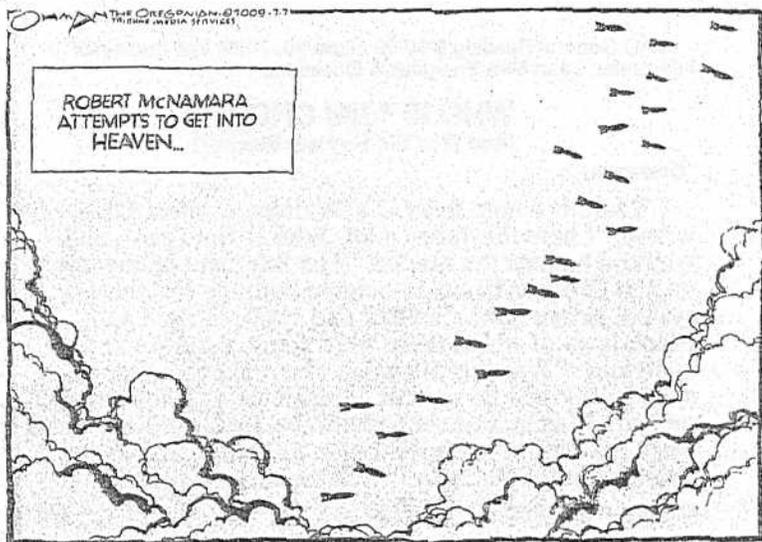

Thank you very much. We are at the end of the tape)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Then this Awareness is complete for today.

WHO IS "JIM CROW"?

(And Why Did He Hate Blacks?)

QUESTION:

There is a note from C.V. Walters, Canton, Ohio. She writes, "I hear this name a lot. Who is Jim Crow, and why did he hate the blacks?" The Internet commentary on Jim Crow as being associated with the racial caste system active between 1877 and 1960, of rigid anti-Black laws of which there were many. Additional questions: "Was this the name of a real person, or an alien? Why was he so bent on segregation, violence and racism? Was he associated with the Ku Klux Klan and is there any additional information on this person that could be helpful? Cathy." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Basically, this individual was an extreme racist, one of the many who have always been around. Racism and prejudice are not anything new. There are many layers to this question and to the individual. On the most basic level, this individual was in need of a deep experience of racism and prejudice and thus the soul chose to incarnate into this individual for the sake of having such an experience. The soul also has another aspect of its own being that incarnated in other lifetimes as a person who was the object of racism and prejudice. He had also been a black man in another lifetime who received harsh punishment, who was the victim of extreme racism.

A Soul Seeking to Understand Extreme Prejudice

In order to ever understand an individual who seems to be of a certain type, or seems to be of an extreme nature, one must always understand that this is simply an aspect of the soul expressing itself in a human experience, and it also expresses itself in its opposite as well as all layers and levels in between. Thus the individual Jim Crow was that expression of the soul seeking to understand extreme prejudice and what would be gained from such energy. It was and is also part of a play or a role that has merit in the sense that the human experience is so multifaceted that there are many roles to be played and to be experienced. This was one that the soul chose to use.

This entity was a leader in an extreme movement that this Awareness does not see as being the Ku Klux Klan, but an affiliate association. It was also meant to be exemplary for others who upon seeing such an individual's actions may decide and determine that such extreme bias and prejudice are not for them. Unfortunately there are other individuals who are impressed by such an individual, and become followers of such an individual. All are part of the human drama. All are part of the human experience, and one cannot truly judge an individual simply on the merit of one lifetime, for to do so would be to judge from a limited perspective, without a deeper understanding or awareness of the soul's deeper reason and purpose for having such an experience.

Question: "How Could Such an Innocent Child be Murdered So?"

One must always understand that there are other counterbalancing lifetimes that will provide an overall awareness and understanding of the issue at hand, in this case, the issue of prejudice and racism and even hatred of another who is different. Thus it is that an individual sees on the television news or reads in the paper of a child being murdered or another vile act occurring and asks the question: "Why could this happen? How could such an innocent child be murdered so?"

One must also remember that that child has other aspects of its soul/being, that have been a murderer in other lifetimes, or have had other roles in other lifetimes, and the soul seeks the whole answer, the complete answer. This Awareness is not asking one to stop being compassionate for a child that is murdered or for the parents and family of that child. This is not what this Awareness is saying. What this Awareness is saying is that for each individual, be he a saint or a sinner, there is always much more involved in the whole purpose of that being than simply one lifetime.

Furthermore, if an individual ever becomes aware of other lifetimes, they will begin to understand and see that not only were they perhaps such a character having such an experience in one life, but they were also another character having another experience in another life. Thus, as individuals seek to understand their whole being, they will find that not only have they had lifetimes where they were pure and of the Light, but they will have also had lifetimes that were dark and full of hatred. This is all part of the greater picture.

Everyone Has Been Saint & Sinner and Everything In between

This individual, Jim Crow is but one expression of the human experience that the soul was seeking to have. At another time, the same individual may experience or would have already experienced the life of extreme prejudice and hatred directed towards him, and at another time in the individual's journey to seek to understand their whole being, they will come to the fullest realization that one has been everything: saint and sinner, and everything in between.

This Awareness is complete with Its answer.

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you. That was really interesting. The material on him on the net is also very interesting.)

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness did not seek to go deeply into the individual's life for It does not feel that part was of most importance to the question. Those who wish to study more about him can indeed do such research. This Awareness was more concerned with helping the members understand that in the review of their own being and their own lives, that they will find those parts of themselves that were not of the highest quality, but in order to attain full spiritual enlightenment and illumination one must look at the dark as well as the light, and it is for this reason this Awareness went on a tangent of this nature.

AN UPDATE ON THE PHILOSOPHER STONE

(Here's a Guy Who Has Successfully Made It!)

QUESTION:

Our next question is from M.W. (Name and location withheld) He writes concerning the Philosopher's Stone Update. It is quite lengthy. It starts, "I am a regular subscriber to CAC and a couple of years back you asked Cosmic Awareness some questions concerning how to make the Philosopher's Stone. (CAC Issues: 79-12, 86-1, 88-1, 94-51, 95-2,6 & 11, 97-9, 2003-2,6 & 9) I think that you and Avaton even tried to make it. As I recall, something happened that prevented you from completing the task. Well, guess what, I've done it! (I think!) Here are the details:

A close trusted friend and I followed Cosmic Awareness' instructions for making the Philosopher's Stone exactly at the full lunar eclipse last March, 2007. Each of us buried a hermetically sealed 500 ml flask containing about 300 ml of our urine into sand that was heated to 85 degrees F. and we were able to successfully keep the cooler and sand heated at that temperature continuously for 15 months. Last week we dug them out and here's what we found: my flask had 2 inches by 2 inches by 1/4 inch "oval" of white precipitate at the bottom and it was covered by about 300ml of very light amber liquid. My friend's flask had the same amount of white precipitate; only his was covered by deep red burgundy colored liquid.

Could you please ask Cosmic Awareness for an update on this subject? Have we actually been successful at creating the Philosopher's Stone? Do we need to do more? Where do we go from here? Are we done? Can we do any more to the white precipitate- like make the "red lion"? Or is the white precipitate THE very legendary Red Lion? Why the different colors of fluid in each of our flasks? What can/should we do with it? Can we indeed make more simply by pouring off the overlying liquid in the flask, putting more of our urine on top of the precipitate and letting it stand for several weeks without heating, as I think were Cosmic Awareness' instructions on how to make more? Do we need to heat it again?

I would really appreciate any input and/or updated information that Cosmic Awareness wishes to share on this subject at this point. Maybe you would want to publish our progress and Cosmic Awareness' responses to these questions in the newsletter. I'm sure many would like to hear of someone's "apparent" success and read about an update on this subject. Of course, my sharing my progress may be a VERY sensitive subject to some of the more private alchemists, so I would request you not quote my name and address in the newsletter just yet, as a protection against any "mad scientists."

Does Awareness have an update and/or additional comments to offer? Thank you.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does have a comment to make. The white material that was formed is that which is basically that substance known as the Philosopher's Stone. The liquid that is atop of the white material is to be poured off. It can be further used in a similar fashion in the sandbox with new urine added to it to duplicate the procedure. The difference in the colors of the two liquids is purely because of the biochemistry of each individual producing a different colored liquid. Doing this will create more of the white precipitate that has been mentioned by the individual, and this can be added to the original Philosopher's Stone substance.

There are other things one can do with the Philosopher's Stone material. One can put a small amount (it does not take a large amount) into a glass of water. An individual can then drink this for the effects of the Philosopher's Stone. It works along the homeopathic principle of a small amount carrying the resonance and the purity of the substance. A simple amount or grain even would be sufficient. Thus, a little will indeed go a long way. One can also put some of the Philosopher's Stone in fresh urine which will act as a catalyst and create new material after a sufficient period of time has gone by that will be more intense than that which was previously the case.

One can also use the Philosopher's Stone material to infuse water, which then could be added to the urine. It does not even have to be the actual white material itself that is used. The pure refinement and the more expensive refining of the materials will create stronger and stronger formulations of that which this Awareness is calling the Philosopher's Stone.

The Philosopher's Stone Not Really About Turning Lead to ~~Stone~~ ^{Gold}

In some ways this is a repetitive process until a stage is reached where the purer substance can thus be made available. This would take several distillations to reach, but each level and each production of that material that is the Philosopher's Stone will have its own power and its own capacity to create health and well being, to bring forward that state of illumination that was the ultimate quest of the alchemists. It was not simply about turning lead into gold. This is a materialistic goal that was attributed to alchemists to those who later came and held as important materialistic wealth versus spiritual wealth.

Thus the lead that is to be transformed is the individual, him or her self. The urine is a product of a refinement process within the human body and despite social taboo against and around, urine is of a relatively pure nature. Indeed, most of the toxins have been removed from the urine in the distillation process of the body as it reduces the liquids of the body down into the pure urine, and the purest urine of all is the urine that is available in the morning upon getting up and first going to the bathroom. This would be the urine that this Awareness would recommend to use in further distillations.

There Are Other Ways of Reaching Enlightenment

This process can indeed take a number of years to complete in this way, but there are other ways of reaching enlightenment and illumination where one does not simply rely on the ingesting of a substance, even the substance of the Philosopher's Stone, but one learns how to go within oneself and through a process of inner distillation, or working from within, one can refine one's character and also reach a place of spiritual purity and enlightenment. The substance created through the formulation of the Philosopher's Stone has its own merit. This Awareness will not at this time express all of the effects of the white powder of the Philosopher's Stone and its use and benefit, for It asks the individual himself to share it with others when he feels that this is appropriate and correct.

As the different colored liquid that formed on top of the surface suggests the different biochemical attributes of each individual, so will the Philosopher's Stone produced through this process have individual differences and different effects. Thus a process of experimentation with the powder is that which this Awareness would recommend to the individual to see what he finds in his journey towards his own spiritual enhancement and purification. It may be used before meditation, a small amount being put in liquid so that it enhances the actual experience of going within. This may be one use of it, but there are many uses.

Congratulations From Awareness

This is an accelerator, a catalyst to help the individual on that process of self-awareness, self-enlightenment, and self-realization. This Awareness congratulates the two individuals upon achieving the Philosopher's Stone. It is not an easy path to follow, nor is it a path for everyone. Those who accomplish this have indeed shown tenacity and perseverance and have as their goal ultimately their own highest spiritual purification. This Awareness is now complete

THE MYSTERY OF MACHU PICCHU (Some Age-Old Questions Are Finally Answered)

QUESTION:

Our next question concerns the mysterious Machu Picchu, in the Andes. This comes from Avaton. It is part of an article that was in the Wall Street Journal.

It reads, "Why Machu Picchu was abandoned by the Incans in less than 100 years is not known. The Spanish never set foot here. Did its inhabitants, who numbered perhaps 1,000, leave suddenly, as some scholars have proposed, or is that a myth too? Even a casual visitor however, can see one thing: Machu Picchu is an engineering marvel. It's 200-plus buildings were hauled huge distances, probably using ramps. Those terrace walls and houses are mortared, but the special places, like the Temple of the Sun are not. They are made of precisely cut blocks that fit together perfectly without mortar, like Lego pieces.

More impressive, the pieces also fit snugly against irregular rock formations. Some questions: "Did the Incans really leave suddenly? If so, why, and where did they go?" The next one: "How were the precisely cut blocks fitted together without mortar and then placed snugly up against irregular rock formations?" "What was the real purpose of Machu Picchu?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The real purpose of Machu Picchu went beyond the Incans themselves. This was an inherited site by the later Incans. The Inca people themselves did not originally build the sites where the closely fit blocks existed. They created some of the later buildings, but those buildings that are renown for the exactness and the precision of fit were created by extraterrestrial beings who were in that area.

This was a solar observation as well as an observation location for solstice events and equinox events. There are certain alignments of portals and vortices that are within the Machu Picchu area that are specifically aligned to astronomical events, certain alignments of planets and the stars that could be observed from the various points within Machu Picchu itself. The solstice sun in the summer, that being opposite to the solstice in the northern hemisphere, as the reversal of seasons is prevalent in this matter, would be such that the Winter Solstice in the North, the Summer Solstice in the South could be observed as the sun came up on the one edge of the portal or gateway in certain rooms of the site and over a span of three days could be traced, until on the third and final day it existed on the other side of the portal. "Existed" is not the right word, in that it left anywhere.

It is simple enough that the transition or transit of the sun across the space of the portal lasted three days, being sighted on one edge of the portal gateway first, followed up by two more days of observation until it had crossed the space from one side of the doorway to the other, and the energy of the solstice observation was complete. There were other areas within the site where there were vortices that were infused by the energies available during the equinox and solstice events. Thus it was paramount for those who used the sites originally to know exactly the beginning and the ending of these particular events so that the vortices could be used to their fullest effect.

It is also seen that there was a Star Gate available on that ancient site, but that it had been removed at a point before the Incans arrived, although there seems there was a legend of such before the Incans. The Incans became the inheritors of the site and of the mythology of those who preceded them. They became so identified with the site that there is no speculation that they were anything other than the builders of the site and indeed, they did enhance the site using techniques that were passed on to them from those who had been the originators of the site.

This is similar to the Celts who arrived in that which is England, Ireland, Wales, and Scotland as well as part of the continent, who took over for those who preceded them, those who were called the Megalith Builders, those who had built Stonehenge as well as other sites and circles. The Celts and the Druids inherited this knowledge and this wisdom and did forward it and use it. This is so with the Incans themselves. Those who followed those original inhabitants did forward the knowledge that they gained and continued the practices that they were given by their forefathers, their ancestors. They did do the work and continued to energize the site.

Much of the energy that was harvested during the events was transferred to the lower regions and lands through techniques and processes that are no longer known. Thus, these stellar events, these equinox and solstice sun risings would infuse the land itself. This is also so with the original sites of Stonehenge as well as other stone circles in the Celtic lands, but this has been largely lost. The matter of the Star Gate was also that which has been lost. The Machu Picchu site was unique in that it received various alignments of energy throughout the year, thus that which is the Star Gate was available for use the year long, not simply during times of a solstice event for example.

The Rapid Departure of the Incans is Explained

These were all ancient technologies known by the Incans, having received this understanding and wisdom from their ancestors. As to the matter of their departure, one thing that needs to be understood is that while those who had preceded them had already gone, the Incans themselves were still party to a connection to these people through their site and through their channeling, their communication and connection to those who went first. The rapid departure was because it had been ordered to be so. In other words, the Incans of the site were told to leave the site for it was seen and known that when the Spanish came, if the Incans still remained in Machu Picchu, it would eventually draw the interest of the Spaniards who then would go and destroy the site.

Those who were the originators of the site, from a different plane of consciousness, from the 5th dimensional state, were able to convey to the Incan Shamans and wise men the need to leave that site when it was ordered so that the site itself would be lost even to the Incans in their memory, and thus was not subject to discovery by the Spanish for the Incans themselves did not fully remember it. It became part of their mythology. Thus the site was able to remain hidden in those early years of death and destruction that the Spaniards rained down upon the Incans. The site is still available and somewhat functioning, and it is seen by this Awareness that certain information will be made available soon.

It ain't the age. It's the darn mileage.

A Star Gate Will once Again be Revised on the Site

This Awareness sees that certain information has already been made available to certain individuals, which will bring back this site to its former glory. It will once again be used as a location of extraordinary circumstance and purpose. It is seen that a Star Gate will once again be revived and brought back to this site to be used once again. This is not seen as an immediate event, but it is seen as an event that is proposed. It is seen that this has connection to those who are known as the Galactic Federation, for some of these beings were amongst the originators of the site, the builders of that site. This is all yet to manifest in the next several years, especially after the Ascension process is complete. At this time it is not seen that this is actively available for public discernment or understanding.

This will come.

THE ORIGIN OF THE MEGALITH BUILDERS

QUESTIONER:

Were the originators the megalith builders, and if they were, what planet would they have been from?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

They are that which in England and the Celtic lands became known as the Megalith Builders. They were also Atlanteans in nature. This was one of the outposts of Atlantis at a time when the Atlanteans were spread throughout the world in different regions and areas. Those who built the megalithic wonders in the Celtic lands were Atlantean in nature and extraterrestrial as well, for Atlantis did have active participation with extraterrestrial beings, both to their detriment and to their betterment.

This is where most of the ancient technologies came from, from extraterrestrial sources that infused the Atlantean culture and became part of Atlantis. This was in the end misused by those who are now known as the Orions, causing the ultimate destruction of that region that is known as Atlantis due to the corruption of the technologies that were used at that time, especially the intense energy vortices that were created through crystal work and the destruction of the substructure of the continent which caused its sinking in the end.

Vortex Energies Used in Atlantis Also Used in Machu Picchu

Further to this, it is seen that there were such technologies in Machu Picchu also. Part of the reasons for the need for such precision to understand when certain vortex energies were at their highest was so that the technologies of the time, especially those that used crystals to power the Star Gate as well as other events and circumstances that were fulfilled through the use of crystals, would be accomplished. This is an area that is only starting to be opened up. Much more information will be made available in the next several years, not only from this Awareness, but from others who will make certain discoveries that will bring back the ancient technologies that were not mechanical in nature as such but were much broader in scope with more far-reaching power and application.

This Awareness is complete with this question unless there are further questions.

WHO WERE THE WHITE-SKINNED CLOUD PEOPLE OF PERU?

QUESTION:

(Not on this one) There is another question on Peru from Avaton. It concerns the ancient city discovered deep in the Amazonian rain forest linked to the legendary white-skinned Cloud People of Peru.

He has some pictures here.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The first comment, even before observing the pictures that this Awareness does wish to make is that these white-skinned Cloud People were those extraterrestrial beings that this Awareness has mentioned in the previous question. These beings did not only exist in the high Andes and in Machu Picchu, they also helped construct the temple sites in the city of Cuzco as well as the cities found in the Amazon that are pictured.

QUESTIONER:

I had read this through and my immediate question was, did these people originate from the Pleiades?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed they did, these particular individuals, but as this Awareness has said, they were also Atlantean in nature as well as some of the other varieties of extraterrestrials that are found in the Galactic Federation. The particular individuals who were the white-skinned pale haired beings are those who were Pleiadian in nature.

THE DISCOVERY OF A LOST CITY IN THE RAINFOREST OF PERU

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) He had some underlines here. The article says, "A lost city discovered deep in the Amazon rainforest could unlock the secrets of a legendary tribe. Little is known about the Cloud People of Peru, an ancient white-skinned civilization wiped out by disease and war in the 16th Century, but now archaeologists have uncovered a fortified citadel in a remote mountainous area of Peru known for its isolated natural beauty. It is thought this settlement may finally help historians unlock the secrets of the White Warriors of the Clouds."

The tribe had white skin and blonde hair, features which intrigue historians, as there is no known European ancestry in the region, where more inhabitants are dark-skinned. The citadel is tucked away in one of the most far-flung areas of the Amazon. It sits at the edge of a chasm, which the tribe may have used as a lookout to spy on enemies. The Cloud People once commanded a vast kingdom stretching across the Andes to the fringes of Peru's northern Amazon jungle, before it was conquered by the Incas. Named because they lived in rainforests filled with cloud-like mist, the tribe later sided with the Spanish colonialists to defeat the Incas, but they were killed by epidemics of European diseases, such as measles and smallpox.

Much of their way of life, dating back to the 9th Century was also destroyed by pillaging, leaving little for archaeologists to examine. Until recently, much of what was known about the lost civilization was from Inca legends. Even the name they called themselves is unknown. The term Chachapoyas, or 'Cloud People' was given to them by the Incas. Their culture is best known for the Kuellap fortress on the top of a mountain in Utcubamba, which can only be compared to the Incas' Machu Picchu retreat, built hundreds of years later.

Two years ago, archaeologists found an underground burial vault inside a cave with 5 mummies, two intact with skin and hair. Chachapoyas chronicler Pedro Cieza de Leon wrote of the tribe: "They are the whitest most handsome of all the people that I have seen, and their wives were so beautiful because of their gentleness, many of them deserved to be the Incas' wives and to be taken to the Sun Temple. The women and their husbands always dressed in woolen clothes and in their heads they wear their llautos (a woolen turban) which are a sign they wear to be known everywhere."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Role of the Pleiadians

Further to what this Awareness has already said, that these people were the remnants of the original beings that lived in that area; they were no longer those who had come and built the structures and created the trade routes and created a civilization. Those were, as this Awareness has said, Pleiadians who had associations with the Atlanteans and were considered, because they had become part of Atlantis and the Atlantean culture: Atlanteans.

When the continent of Atlantis sank, they were cut off from their homeland and from their people and from colonies throughout the world. This became akin to a decline in civilization and a journey into a dark age. Much was lost over those centuries. The people themselves forgot most of their own background and history, even losing the means by which to work their technology, yet they still had enough memory that they could apply their knowledge to their lives and to that technological equipment that they still possessed and used to some degree. But with time, as this technology broke down, those who could repair the instruments and tools were no longer available, thus gradually the knowledge was lost.

In the end the technologies that remained were those primary technologies that did not rely on advanced mechanical technology such as alignments to planets based on angles of doorways and the like. This was what was continually passed down and eventually even handed over to the Incans themselves. Thus it was that those pale-skinned, blonde-haired beings who fought the Incans were not the original beings who formed the sites, and that as this Awareness has said, the connections that the Incans had with the ancestors were connections that were interdimensional in nature.

An Existing Tribe of These People Still Live in Rainforest

Those people who were the remnants of the originators lost their own connection to their own people and thus, as history recorded, became enemies of the Incans themselves. There is much that is still hidden and it is seen by this Awareness that there is still an existing tribe of these people hidden deep in the recesses of the Andes and even deep in the Amazon itself. They have stayed hidden not only through physical means, but rather also by use of certain energy devices that create that which might popularly be known as a cloaking technology around their sites, thus staying invisible to those who might have found them otherwise.

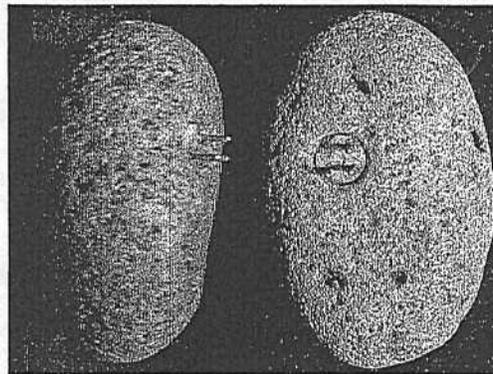

They remain in extremely remote situations similar to this settlement that has been recently been found. They will come forward when the time is right. That time is not now. It is seen that this will be a few years in the future, when those technologies are restored and revived that this Awareness spoke of earlier. This Awareness is complete with this answer.

AN ELECTRICAL CONNECTOR FOUND DEEPLY EMBEDDED IN ROCK (How Did It Get There and Why?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) We have one from Larry Kell, in Indiana. It concerns a mystery rock-embedded electrical part, alien artifact, lost advanced civilization. He writes to Vikki, "If you scroll down a little you will see photos of the strange rock with a 3 pin connector embedded in it that was found by John Williams. The connector is different from any known electrical connector. My question for Awareness is: Who made this? For what purpose? When was it made? Did it become embedded in the rock after it was made? Or was the rock part of the original design? Thank you. Larry."

I have two pages of pictures for you. Any comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is seen by this Awareness that this three-pinned plug if you will, this connector, originated in times immemorial, in times of the most distant past of this planet, before mankind even was created as a being that became the enslaved race of that race known as the Anunnaki. It was the Anunnaki who used these connectors in mining operations that they were involved in. It was a connector that did serve a similar function to an electric plug that is used nowadays, that was then used to carry a current to illuminate certain lighting devices that were used at the time.

It is seen that this particular connector was inadvertently transported into the stone in which it was found. There was a transportation type device that was used during those times, more primarily used to cause the molecular transportation of inanimate devices and materials, for it was not as reliable with human subjects, often creating serious complications for biological beings such as an Anunnaki or a human, but inanimate objects where there was no worry if they were fused or mis-transported were often teleported by these devices that the Anunnaki used.

Connector Was Accidentally Teleported Into the Stone

As this Awareness said, there was an accident in that one of the connectors, the one shown in the picture, was teleported into stone and lost. This was no great deal for those who transported those devices. They were not expensive. They were not hard to replace, and thus things simply went on, but this is how many objects that have been found in stone in the depths of a mine for example, got into the stone in the first place. There was in the 1940's that which was known as the Philadelphia Experiment*. This was also trying to use a similar technology and as has been reported in various books and papers, with unforeseen and even deadly consequences to those men who were part of this experiment.

After Ascension Teleportation Will be Common

Thus it is that the use of this teleportation type technology has, even though it was used millennia ago, still has many bugs to it that would need to be sorted out before this type of technology could be used successfully. This Awareness however adds to this that there will be no reason to do so and to use this technology, for that which is Ascension will provide those who have an understanding of the ways to transport consciousness, the availability to do so without a technology being involved. In other words, through the use of consciousness individuals will be able to transfer themselves to other locations by disassembling their consciousness in one position or spot or place, and reassembling themselves, thinking themselves to another spot, another place.

This is also part of that which will be available to those who have developed their consciousness to that higher level, who have developed their Light Bodies, who move beyond the temporal rules of a third-dimensional reality. Previously in the distant past, one way to try to do so was through the use of technology. This was never 100% successful. This Awareness is complete.

*For more on the Philadelphia Experiment, please refer to Revelations of Awareness issues 80-9, 82-24, 90-07, 91-11.

THE VOYNICH MANUSCRIPT (What is it and Why Can't It Be Decoded?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you, that was really interesting.) Here's another one from Larry Kell. It concerns the Voynich Manuscript. He writes, "I saw a book about this mysterious manuscript at Borders. It was written in the Middle Ages in an unknown language or code. Maybe you can make history and decode some of it or all of it with the help of Awareness. Can you please ask Awareness who wrote it and why in a language unknown to everyone who has been studying it for hundreds of years? What language is it? Was it used by more people than the author? What information does it contain that would be useful to us now?" And he signs it "Thanks, Larry." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The question should not be who wrote it, but who rewrote it, and who rewrote it before that, and who rewrote it before that. This is an ancient Atlantean document that even by Atlantean standards of their own history of their own continent comes from their prehistory even. This was a document written by those who may be called the Elohim originally, the original text was verbal in nature and was in existence for an extreme long period of time before it was initially written out and recorded. Then this document was rewritten many times over, even having copies in the Library of Alexandria, as well as other ancient libraries that are still available around the world, but hidden.

The Book Was Originated By the Elohim

Thus it is that the language that is written is a language that no longer exists. Thus it is that those who seek to interpret it cannot do so for they have no historical context by which to compare the language that they are looking at in this book to any known language or dialect that is available to them. This Awareness has no interest or desire to help decode this book, for it is not necessary. The information that is contained within is available if one were to make those connections at that deeper level of consciousness to those who were the originators of this book, in this case, those people who are referred to as the Elohim, those who were some of the original beings that lived on this planet earth many millennia ago.

There have been several races upon this planet, modern humans being the latest. There were those who came before them, who completed their total journey and left the planet. Although they were humanoid in nature, they are not closely related to modern humans, only in but the loosest of terms and ways. That is as much as this Awareness has to share on this matter at this time, as It wishes to. This Awareness is complete on this subject.

HIDDEN SLAVERY (And Violations of Our Free Will)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Our next question is from Tim Gray. He writes about free will violations. He starts, "Part of my journey of awakening, which only began in 2002, so I realize many of your subscribers have been aware of these issues for significantly longer, has been learning about a tremendous amount of violations to individual's free will at this time, including issues such as trauma-based mind control slavery, Satanic ritual abuse and remote harassment of non-lethal weaponry. There are many beings, many children in positions of slavery in our world at this time. Much of this hidden slavery is covered up by National Security and various intelligence agencies. Therefore, the vast majority of the public is unaware of these issues." Your comments on his observation please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

His observations are essentially correct. This has nothing to do with the length of time that he has been seeking out this information, seeking out his own understanding of matters that go beyond him, that are part of him, that are what attracts him and draws him forward. He is an old soul. He is opening up doors once again that he has already studied and known in the past, including the oppressive and violent nature of those who have power, who use power and misuse power. His journey now needs to come to an expansion of his understanding of the point of why individuals may give themselves to such experiences.

Why Entities Choose to Have Certain Experiences in Their Lives

Free will notwithstanding, individuals choose to have their experiences in life, for it is part of their own design, part of their own plan before any individual incarnates onto the planet. There are many reasons why an individual may choose to have that which would be deemed as a negative life experience, even a violent and horrific experience. While it may seem that one's free will is being subjugated and denied, the truth is there is that which goes beyond the free will if that individual's intent and desire was to have a certain experience.

It is a complex matter, for free will is an essential part of the human character, but what is also part of the human character is that which perceives the personal human experience, that being the essential quality of understanding and consciousness that exists before that aspect of the soul incarnates into a human body to have the human experience. That aspect of the being, that part of the soul requests to have certain experiences for the greater understanding of the soul, thus it is that often when one reads of an individual being treated in a certain way or having certain things happen to them, or sees this on the evening news, or receives this information over the Internet, there is shock and indignation, there is horror and repulsion that such things could happen to individuals by others who inflict this upon another human being.

Why Moral Outrage is Necessary When Violations Occur

This moral outrage is necessary for this will always help an individual shy away and move away from such treatment of another human being, but one must always temper this will with that awareness and that understanding that at some level, even though the individual himself or herself cannot see it or understand it, there is a reason why the individual may have called this into their lives. This is important so that if the individual himself or herself ever reaches a point where events happen to them that they cannot quite fathom or understand, that they have then the capacity to go beyond the perpetrators of these events and to ask for the deeper understanding and awareness to be presented to them so that they can see and understand the whole picture and find their way through that picture, that event.

If an individual upon watching on the news events of violence and oppression and comes to a place where it depresses them, where it depletes them, there is a necessity to take that and to look at it directly. This Awareness is not saying that one needs to lose their human compassion, It is simply saying that it is necessary to also understand that there is always a bigger picture, and it is to be a motivator for the individual not to partake in those energies, not to call those energies into one's life, but also not to become immersed and embroiled in them either; to see it, to know that this exists, that these events are occurring is necessary, but to become focused on this, to become intent to the degree one suffers personal depression or despair, or one becomes so obsessed by these matters that one becomes militant in their response and wishes to battle those oppressors, will not serve the individual. This will entrap them.

The Fine Line Between Seeing and Knowing

It is for this reason that the fine line exists between seeing and knowing that these events occur with purpose and leaving it at that, moving beyond that into a region and area of one's own personal growth and expansion in consciousness and awareness. When one understands the events but is not swallowed up by them and focuses on their own growth and a concentration of the highest energies in one's life, that one eventually achieves that higher consciousness that takes them beyond the lower energy level that is prevalent on this planet at this time.

This Awareness is complete with this question, unless there are more questions to it.

QUESTIONER:

(Not that I can see. I thought that it was covered very well. Thank you)

VIEWS FROM A PAST-LIFE REGRESSIONIST

(He Differs With Awareness That the Future Is Not Fixed)

QUESTION:

The next question is quite long. It's a full typed page and Avaton asks that it all be read. It comes from Hosel, and it concerns past life regression. "Dear Vikki, As a past life regression therapist, I beg to differ with the idea that the future isn't fixed. From my observations in helping others to pry open their memory banks from prior existence, I'd say that one thing leads to another. Some call that the Law of Karma. Having myself recalled back to the moment of the Big Bang, or leaving the Godhead experience, or however anyone wants to refer to that birthing experience, it's easy to see how the initial misperceptions of the experience itself causes emotional reactions in the being, which then get denied and repressed, which in turn creates a "subconscious mind" to contain those feelings and thoughts, and we all know what happens from there.

What a person stuffs into their subconscious mind doesn't go away, it eventually manifests itself in the world of form. It creates a situation that the same being has to confront and resolve, or deny once again, add more energy to it and continue on with the same cycle. Eventually the original denial and repression manifests in a situation when and where the being will confront what it is they originally suppressed, and then the issue will be resolved. Personally I feel that 2012 is the time established for the transient experience of evolving back out of the physical plane, by the beings that originally created the physical plane, which was an explosion/compression event that from my point of view was the true end of the war in the heavens. I originally sent a diagram to your organization that showed that.

I'll continue to tune in to your website because I like to monitor what spirit plane is saying to the earth plane. The ultimate solution is for each individual to tune within themselves, to get their own answers to any questions they may have. All is contained within. That's the whole bottom line of deep past life regression. Someone starts with a question, and they end up with the answer, an answer from within themselves, from a question I had. I quit doing regression therapy years ago because of two reasons. Number one concern do to the fact that people, no matter what they say, are not generally genuinely interested in going deeply inside themselves to answer questions, because then the hard part comes, the application of those answers in a person's present lifetime situation, and people simply do not want to change. They want all the good stuff, without any real effort. Like the words of a song of a friend of mine, when he wrote, "having to walk your talk." That was a song by Sid Weiss and sung by Jackie Wilson.

The number two reason I quit doing regression therapy except under very special circumstances was because the beings on the planet aren't going anywhere, but where they're supposed to go. A spiritual being cannot die. All events are in motion, and will be coming to a major common culmination point in the year 2012. People need the experience of watching their houses that they have built upon sand crumble under their feet. It's unfortunate, but spiritual beings seem to be slow learners, but then what else do we have to do in creation, but create one reality, and then shift to another, and then to another?

I'm currently working on getting funding for the not-for-profit business corporation that concerns itself with humanistic economics. People have very little money, and in near future they will have a lot less. That's all an illusion, based on some lines that were allowed to be put into motion by a very few people that thought up and instigated the creation of the Federal Reserve System. The interesting thing about having little money, people also have very little common sense, very little inner knowledge, and very little peace of mind. Money is the outer reflection of internal power, and internal power is known as the Kundalini. That's the end of my spiel for now. I'm a cat person myself."

Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has very little comment. This Awareness does not understand completely what is required from this Awareness, when the individual has provided his own commentary, and drawn his own conclusions and made his own assumptions. This Awareness is rather surprised that an individual who has worked with regression therapy, other lives, is so linear in his thinking and is not multidimensional in his thinking and is so judgmental in his thinking. There is much more involved in regression therapy than a linear tracking over various past lives.

There are lives lived parallel to other lives. There are those future lives. There are multiple possibilities for each and every choice that is made. Furthermore, there is the tracking of a life beyond the actual physical life back into the spiritual realm, back to the soul level that could be used to give the individual more complete understanding and awareness as to why an individual has a life and the experiences of that life. Also, it is at this multidimensional level that healing work can be done on the soul as well as the individual who is having the regression experience.

There is so much more involved than this Awareness heard in the commentary of this individual. In the end, this individual has expressed his viewpoints, his judgments. They have their own validity, especially to the individual or to others of his kind who share a similar thought or a similar understanding. This Awareness suggests that there is much more involved than has been stated by the individual and It does not hold such pessimism as the individual does in Its understanding of the potential of each and every human being and their ability to change, their ability to do the deep inner work to find their understanding and their answers, not only through regressive work, but through any other type of inner examination, inner processing.

Cosmic Awareness Is Not so Pessimistic

This Awareness sees that many are completing the processing of the inner quality of their own being, their inner experiences, their inner understandings. Many are expanding their consciousness, expanding their Light Bodies, and many are changing. To hold such a pessimistic view that it is simply not possible, and that is why this individual has stopped doing regression therapy, may be a conclusion that he himself has reached, but it is not a conclusion that this Awareness sees as entirely valid.

Given free will in this matter, each and every individual has the choice of whether or not they wish to dig deeper, to go deeper. If they determine and decide that it is not their choice, then this Awareness has no problem with this, for each being will return back to its own soul eventually and will determine whether or not one wishes to determine with another experience to gain the lessons and to gain the success that may not have occurred in a lifetime. This is one reason that there are multiple lifetimes available along certain themes that present themselves to the individual to investigate.

It is not about success in one life or another. It is about achieving an understanding and an awareness of the totality of the experience, not simply having a life experience that must lead to success and to a successful advancement. Sometimes there is as much to be learned in failure and mistakes of a life or lifetimes as there is to be learned in the success of a life or a life purpose or reason. Finally, this Awareness wishes all to remember that they are each part of an eternal consciousness. There are many opportunities in eternity to gain experience and learn a lesson or lessons, and to have the results that come both through success and failure.

What Does It Mean To Be Eternal?

It is a concept that is difficult sometimes, for what does it mean to be Eternal? The best that this Awareness can offer at this moment is that to be Eternal means that there are many opportunities to have any and all experiences: experiences in the Light, experiences in the Dark, and experiences of everything that exists between the two extremes. To simply profess that the individual is not capable of truly changing because they do not desire the deepest change is erroneous in its nature, for ultimately the soul is desirous of change, of growth, of expansion on all levels. That is why this Awareness cannot fully endorse or agree with the comments that the individual made, and points out they are but his own opinions on the matter.

This is indeed a far-reaching issue, but this Awareness feels It has spoken enough on the matter for now. This Awareness is complete.

ZOEY'S 'MUST-SEE' BAD NEWS VIDEOS

(Should We Revels in These Or Listen to Mozart?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you. That was a very interesting commentary) This next question is from Zoey Zen in California. She has written, "Must see videos!" and she gives four names, and your comments are requested if these truly reflect the related situation. The first one is The Future of Food. (It concerns Monsanto, who brought us Agent Orange... Cheney, Rumsfeld, forget exactly who profited.) Then, Poison Dust about depleted uranium, cause of Gulf War Sickness, being used in Iraq at 22 times the amount. Life And Debt, How the World Bank bankrupted Jamaica. HBO Special: Recount: How exactly the Gore/Bush election was stolen in Florida. Great acting..."Any comment on any of these please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

These are all worthwhile videos/movies to watch if one wishes to understand some of the machinations of evil or deception that are being used in the world at this time. One must always be aware that while these are the players and these are the ways by which the deceptions have been played out, one is not to become immersed in this or swallowed up by this. It is useful to have such information. It is not useful to be obsessed by such information. Therefore, ultimately, this Awareness suggests that it is each and every person's choice of whether or not they feel such information would be beneficial to them in the long run or not.

If such information would cause one to become depressed and obsessed with this information, this Awareness would suggest that they do not view this information. If one could see these movies and not become totally obsessed by this information or affected by it and can use it as background information by which they can see what is happening in the world and who the main players are, then this Awareness would advocate the watching of these and other similar videos and movies.

CATHOLIC NUNS BEING USED AS SEX SLAVES IN THEIR CONVENTS

(Was This Information Ever Allowed to Come Out?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) Our last question is from Cathy Walters, and she's written on a card. It starts off with, Sermons of Sister June Kelly on www.linktv.org, aired January 12, 2008. She writes, "She tells it like it is and is a feisty nun. It's a good film about first time priests having sex with young men, how all this started, also was on direct channel 375. Did it ever come out as nuns being used as sex slaves in the convents? After reading The Awful Truth About Maria, I do not like the Catholic religion." She is not asking a question. I wondered if you had any comments as to the validity of such?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Main Reason For Creating Convents for Women

There is indeed validity. In earlier times the main reason for creating a convent of women was for the personal sexual use of the priests and clergy, but the women saw this as an honorable role; this being in earlier times. They saw themselves as being Brides of Jesus. As such, they were brides to those who were the disciples of Jesus as well, thus in earlier times when there was not the same sexual tension over this matter, women would see this as an honorable expression of their own devotion to God and Jesus.

This became corrupted with time. The women were then eventually put in positions where they were coerced to have sex with the priests that came to them, and they did not have a choice in the matter. At this point, that which may have started with a powerful intent to be of service in a positive way became a corruption of the very principles that had started off this practice. Ultimately, this is not an area that is of neither the highest nature, nor a point in the history of the Catholic Church that is one of their highlight moments. There are many lowlight moments in the Catholic Church and this is simply one of those moments.

The Catholic Church Manipulated Consciousness for Eons

It is to be remembered that the Catholic Church was a manipulator of consciousness for many hundreds, even thousands of years. The point of the matter is that while it does not have the power any longer, that those who had power are similar to those who have power in these times. This existed before the advent of the Roman Catholic Church in other ways and forms and it still exists now. The Roman Catholic Church no longer has a great deal of power, the way it once did. It still has much power and this must not be forgotten. It is still part of the game of the manipulation of consciousness. It simply is not as powerful as it once was.

QUESTIONER:

Yet there is still so many people who receive much strength through the Catholic religion, is that not so?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is so, and there are those who receive strength through their individual religious persuasions and beliefs, be they Judaic, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhists or whatever they might be. There is always that essence to the faith itself that ties them into a power that is greater than they are, a higher source of consciousness, of beingness that will often infuse their lives with purpose and meaning. The drawback of religions however is that they limit an individual from taking on board the next level of the spiritual quest, which would be to go within oneself to find the inner connection directly, versus having to go through a third party, but this is another matter that this Awareness welcomes further questions on.

QUESTIONER:

I would have a whole bunch, but we're just about at the end of the tape. Is there any closing message please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is complete at this time.
