AN OVERALL VIEW OF PLANETS "A" & "B"

QUESTION:

The first question is my question. It relates to Planet A and B. I would like to read this so that Awareness will have a gist or overall view, if I may please. It is understood that reference to Planet A and B was a simplified example of a more complex matter, however confirmation or expansion concerning information from the latest 'Messages from Matthew' dated May 26, 2009 related to #27 is requested. It reads, "No, earth is not ascending as two worlds, one that will reach a higher density than the other. Earth a soul with one planetary body and it is rapidly and steadily moving out of the third dimension toward her destination in the 5th. The physical bodies of her residents who refuse the light that would enable them to accompany her will die, and the souls automatically will go to any one of a number of different worlds, whichever has the same energy make-up of each soul's lifetime energy registration."

That concludes the commentary by Matthew. Okay, my understanding and perhaps many others is that earth comprises the third dimension or density, that of physicality. Souls/Spirits incarnate into Mother Earth's third dimension for the various experiences and knowledge that can be and are available to them. Mother Earth will shortly be no longer able to host or sustain humanity as she is evolving. Those who refuse the Light will remain in the third dimension to eventually evolve due to the harsh conditions discussed over the past year, and will continue to experience the present Orion Empire scenario.

Those who accept the Light, their Souls/Spirit will ascend to the higher 4th dimension or 5th dimension, or return to earth for as long as is desired if this is chosen, or the choice of going home to any of the different planets they resonate to, or alternately to remain in the third dimension with Mother Earth for those dismal and challenging experiences. Questions: At present it is understood that the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, and higher dimensions coexist with the third dimension, that of Mother Earth and each is separated by a veil or layers so that not all of mankind can see these while inhabiting the third dimension. After the Ascension process and when Mother Earth has evolved past the point of no return, will these higher dimensions still be able to coexist with the third dimension, if not, would these release completely from the third dimension, and if so, where would these higher dimensions go?

And related to this, if the Galactic Federation considers earth as the "child planet" and they are presently close by observing, is it part of their mandate to eventually restore the "child planet" to its fullest beauty and higher vibration? Is this where those involved in the Ascension process will actually go, to that higher vibration and dimension which is the Ascended Mother Earth, located in the 5th dimension separated by the veil from the deteriorating third dimension so that all still exist together, but each separated by that veil, each dimension possibly unaware of the other?

Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There are many areas that this Awareness could comment on. There is that which is the commentary and opinions expressed by that channeled source Matthew as well as the questions that were presented by the energizer herself, but this Awareness chooses to work backwards, to begin with the last question, moving back into Its own commentary of the Matthew material. The energizer asked this Awareness if the Galactic Federation is working with the energies of the child planet earth. This Awareness wishes to start at this point first by commenting and suggesting that it is not the planetary consciousness that defines planet Earth Gaia as the child planet, but rather its inhabitants of humanity.

Galactic Federation Considers Humanity as the Child Energies

Humanity is that which has been considered by those of the Galactic Federation as the child energies, of those Terran beings, those who have started their soul incarnations on this planet. There are many who have that child innocence and ignorance to the truth of reality as defined from the higher multidimensional levels of consciousness. Many of the held views of the collective of humanity are not enlightened views. They are very restricted in their understanding and awareness, and the Ascension process basically offers the chance for those who have been advancing themselves, those who have been working over many lifetimes to finally come to a point where they can advance to the next level or layer of consciousness, eclipsing that which is the child state of awareness.

As An Adult We Put Away Those Toys of Childhood

There was and is the quote that, "As a child I played with the things of a child. As an adult I put away those toys of childhood." This simply means that as one grows and evolves, that which preoccupied one once before when they were younger or less aware no longer necessarily holds the fascination or the focus that they once did. There are new toys to play with, new endeavors to concern oneself with, and this is similar in a way to the Ascension process. Those who are ready to step beyond the limiting beliefs that have been held by humanity for eons can do so now, evolving into a much more enlightened awareness, a much more harmonious conjunction with the planetary consciousness of Gaia herself and of the higher strata and levels and layers of consciousness that lie in the 4th dimension, the 5th dimension and beyond.

The Ascended Planet Gaia Starts on the 4th Dimension

The upper 4th dimension is a new probable starting place of that which is the evolved planet Gaia, the Ascended Planet, and of course, beyond that. This is what is referred to by this Awareness when It spoke of the child planet, that being the consciousness or the conscious level of awareness that is held by the inhabitants of the planet, the collective consciousness of humanity. That is what is the child consciousness. That is what this Awareness was speaking of. It wishes it to be understood that the assistance of the Galactic Federation is to help those who are ready to move beyond the previous layers and levels of limited consciousness into more universal layers and levels, into a more harmonized complementary expression of consciousness that is held by those other planets of the Galactic Federation that will allow humanity to take its place on the Federation councils and boards.

This is what this Awareness was speaking of. It asks if that answers the part of the question regarding the child planet that the energizer presented this Awareness.

QUESTIONER:

Yes, it did. I understand, and I'm sure others will as well. I had an entirely different concept of the meaning of the child planet. I thank you for that.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Can the latter part of the question be briefly restated for this Awareness?

WHERE DO THOSE INVOLVED IN THE ASCENSION PROCESS GO?

QUESTIONER:

Is this where those involved in the Ascension process will go? To that higher vibration and dimension which is the Ascended Mother Earth located in the 5th dimension, separated by the veil from the deteriorating 3rd dimension so that all still exist together, but each separated by that veil, each dimension possibly unaware of the other?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to present an image for consideration that may make this more understandable. Most of the individuals who are party to the organization Cosmic Awareness Communications know the educational system that is used in North America. Those who are readers in other nations also have progressive educational systems. This Awareness refers to the fact that the child starts at a lower level and moves forward over the subsequent years. With successful completion of a grade or a level, that child moves forward to higher and higher echelons of education, until that which is known as graduation occurs, indicating the individual has reached the pinnacle of the educational system.

In High School Some Graduate Some Move Back

In North America this usually involves the graduation from that level of education that is known as grade 12, or high school. Along the way there are those who fail to make the grade, who do not pass to the next level, who are held back for one reason or another. If it were to occur that this individual had particular problems with the educational system, the individual may fail several grades so that entities that started out with this particular person, who have moved on, lose touch with this individual. This person who failed to move on may even decide somewhere along the line that he or she has had enough of the educational system and drop out of it completely, never completing high school, never graduating.

The Multidimensional Nature of the Journey

The individual who had gone through successfully will often think back to those years of progressions that defined the route and the journey and may even think back on an individual who was once part of their journey but perhaps never completed it, or perhaps the family moved away and were not part of the eventually successful completion of that educational journey. Simply because one has moved on and has graduated does not mean that they fail to remember on one level, their journey. They can in fact, remember other levels of the journey. Thus it is with the multidimensional nature of the journey. Those who have moved on often can, if they choose, remember individuals that they were journeying with. They can remember different levels of consciousness or layers of consciousness.

It has been spoken in the past that with the Ascension process, some who do not ascend are simply forgotten. Those who do not continue the journey are put aside and not remembered. This is true to a degree, but this has more to do with the focus of the individuals. As one focuses on something, those who may have once been part of a focus but no longer are, simply are not thought of often if they were not close enough or connected enough. If an individual chooses to remember, they can do so if they desire. If an individual having graduated from high school chooses to remember Johnny Q in grade one who they used to be best buddies with, but who they were separated from along the way, then memories may come forward if they choose, but on the whole, by the time high school is completed or university is commenced, that individual who was the friend in grade one simply is no longer part of the individual's life at that time and thus there is no real necessity to remember that individual. Thus it is somewhat with the remembrance of those who do not ascend.

Those who have ascended have a different focus and others are in their lives, as part of their focus. They occupy the attentions and the focus of the individual. It can be remembered. It is not lost, those earlier years, those lower levels, those different grades, but it is simple enough that there is a different present moment focus that is engaged in versus that which was a past focus. Does this help to explain the question, or is there a need to explain it differently?

QUESTIONER:

It does explain. Just one other question to that; in other words all of the dimensions stay put? They don't, the 3rd, 4th, and 5th are where they were before any of this happened. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is correct. The other dimensions do not disappear or change around. They continue to exist. Each is a unique level or layer unto itself, but they are still interrelated to each other. That which is the veil is there only if necessary. There was a previous question regarding this that this Awareness would ask to be regiven at this time so that this Awareness can go deeper into this concept.

QUESTIONER:

(Okay) That was the first question which started off: At present it is understood that the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, and higher dimensions coexist with the third dimension, that of Mother Earth and each is separated by a veil or layers so that not all of mankind can see these while inhabiting the third dimension. After the Ascension process and when Mother Earth has evolved past the point of no return, will these higher dimensions still be able to continue to coexist with the third dimension, if not, would these release completely from the third dimension, and if so, where would these higher dimensions go?

I believe you have answered that question.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed. This Awareness has answered it. They go nowhere. They continue to exist.

QUESTIONER:

(Okay) The reference to Mother Earth being evolved, is this a correct terminology, or does Mother Earth in fact not evolve?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Mother Earth does evolve; consciousness evolves. Again, the concept of moving forward in the educational system somewhat applies here. When Mother Earth has reached the completion of her educational journey in the educational system that brings her to graduate from high school, this means that she is now free to move forward into other life educational opportunities. She is free to now enter university and to have new experiences, new teachings. In this sense it is exactly the same as individual consciousnesses that move forward also in their own progressive journey, expanding always, receiving more and more understanding and awareness, raising one's level of consciousness, expanding also into multidimensional consciousness.

The planet earth, that which is Gaia is going through a very similar process, as are those who are individually and in a sense also collectively moving along.

Will Humanity & Mother Earth Reunite?

QUESTION:

Will the two, humanity and Mother Earth again come together, or would this be a different scenario completely?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is not seen that they separate at all in the sense of humanity departing Mother Earth. There will be those who depart the planet for they choose to have alternative experiences and they choose to continue their journey on another planet or at another level of consciousness. Part of the Ascension process is a return to the state of awareness that humanity started in when they were given guardianship of the planet, and there was to be a harmonious interrelationship between Gaia and those who were her guardians, the human populace that coexisted with her on her surface.

This has largely been lost as humanity followed a different path that separated itself from that intimate knowledge and connection with Mother Earth, Gaia, and as mankind developed its ego and its sense of separateness to such a degree that it felt it was not connected to the earth, that it could subjugate earth to mankind's wishes, that schism, that chasm between Mother Earth and humanity grew and grew. There have always been those who have held a much stronger affinity for the planet and have always sought to work in harmony with her and to be unity with the consciousness that is Gaia.

This type of understanding and awareness will indeed follow those who ascend and choose to remain on the planet earth, to continue a journey that is harmonic with the planet's evolution as well as their own, where they return back into more of the guardianship of the planet, but now in a way that is mutually beneficial to both, where those who still choose to have experiences of the beauty and grandeur that is Gaia, Mother Earth, can continue to do so.

Planet "B" Awaits Those Who Choose Not to Ascend

Those who choose not to be in such harmony are free to break away and to have other experiences. They are even free to have an experience of a planet that does not move forward in a manner of speaking to that Ascended state of Mother Earth that is possible for her Ascension, but rather to move into a deteriorated state where those conditions that once were favorable to human life are radically altered, and human life will be a scavenger life, will be a life where those who choose to experience it will be an extreme struggle and difficulty, for that consciousness of that Mother Earth will be such that it seeks to have such experiences of those physical extremes, and those who would experience this with her are free to do so.

This of course implies another Mother Earth, another consciousness that is Gaia, having a different experience than that which is the Ascended Gaia which will move onward to that new level of consciousness. Again, this is all part of the multidimensional reality that exists beyond that which is the limited third dimensional concept of reality, which is largely based on illusion, Maya. Does this answer the question, or are there aspects to the questions presented that still need to be expressed?

QUESTIONER:

I think I got it! I think I understand.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Veil That Was Mentioned Is Explained

There is one area that this Awareness would speak to still; that is what is known as the veil that was mentioned in the commentary and question of the energizer. In particular, the veil that exists between 3rd dimensional reality as opposed to veils that may exist between 4th and 5th, 5th and 6th, 6th and 7th, and so on. Largely speaking, the only real veil that exists is between the third dimension and the 4th and higher dimensions of reality. This was created as a way of focusing the physical experience that was to be had on the 3rd dimensional reality.

It was a way by which those who entered the 3rd dimension largely forgot their own origins and their own reason for coming into physical existence. This was done so that once a soul aspect entered into physical life they could become completely immersed in the physical life, the physical drama that they were experiencing. They would not be distracted by thoughts of how it is beyond the 3rd dimension, thus they would stay focused in their 3rd dimensional experience, for there was nothing but the 3rd dimension.

The Christian Concept of Heaven and Hell is Introduced

Even those who had been given some understanding of that concept which was known as heaven and parallel to this the concept of hell, still did not truly understand this other than it was a place that they might go to if and when they died, if they had met all of the criteria. This Christian concept was one of many that were present on planet earth once the individual aspect entered into that state of human consciousness that defined the 3rd dimensional experience.

The Veil of Forgetfulness

Once the individual died, the truth of the matter is that they returned always back to their soul essence, back to their soul family, back into a higher dimensional consciousness. It is at that time that they are able to review their lives, to look back at the very focused physical experience for its lessons to determine whether they were successful in completing that which they had proposed to experience in the first place. Often on return back into this spiritual realm, there is the realization that they were not successful in accomplishing the goals that had been set for themselves before entering physical experience. This is a result of that veil of forgetfulness, because upon entering the physical experience, the memory of the existence before physical life, and even the memory of the purpose of that life, why one entered into the life, are forgotten.

Free Will and Other Choices That Prevent "Destiny"

Part of the criteria of the physical experience is that which is known as free will, thus even though an individual may have as the spiritual purpose the attainment of a higher level of awareness in one's life, does not mean that this will be accomplished. Many factors will intervene. That which was the blueprint for the life may never be remembered or discovered. Other choices may be presented. Fear, doubt, and guilt all may affect an individual's choices so that they move away from that line that is the perfect line of their own journey, their own development in the physical, and find that they wind up far adrift of that which was their original line of purpose, their "destiny."

Often Karma is the Desire to Get it Right

Thus, when they die and review the life, they may often see how far adrift they were from that goal and that purpose and they may decide at a later point to re-enter physical experience again and to try to attain that which was not accomplished in the first lifetime, or in a lifetime where there was a purpose and a choice that simply was not accomplished. This too is part of that concept that is known as karma. Often karma is the desire to get it right, to have that experience, to achieve the goals that were once set for oneself that were not entirely achieved.

Other energies enter into this of course. There is that which is the understanding of a lesson that needs to be learned as a result of something done in another lifetime, but largely karma is that desire and intent to get it right, to have the experience and to advance the soul or spirit that was the original intent and design of the soul in the first place. This veil of forgetfulness is largely in place in that which is between the 3rd and 4th dimensions. Veils do not exist in the same way that they do in that which is the 3rd dimension, thus between the 4th and 5th dimension there is far less forgetfulness to that which is beyond the 4th to the 5th, or the 5th to the 6th and so on.

Why Would One Choose to Come Into a Life of Pain?

It is primarily between the 3rd and that which constitute the dimensions of consciousness beyond 3rd. Finally, there is a slight reciprocal action that is occasioned by that which is the veil of forgetfulness to those entities who re-enter the higher states of consciousness, especially the 4th dimension and lower 5th dimensional states. By this reciprocal action, what this Awareness is stating has to do with an often-asked question that many of the Light Workers ask, and many who contemplate this matter ask. The question is simple enough and usually evolves around that concept of why one would choose that lifetime, why one would choose to come into a life of pain and misfortune, sorrow and anguish, why one would choose to have a negative life.

The realities of the 3rd dimensional level by those who are Light Workers are often seen and deemed to be very harsh and trying, and many Light Workers often state that their choice is that they will never come back, and this is the last time they will return into this physical reality, or any other.

The Nature of the Reciprocal Veil of Forgetfulness

The nature of this reciprocal veil of forgetfulness is that while on the other side, the intensity of that which is the 3rd dimensional reality is largely forgotten. The overriding connection to the higher consciousness, to the soul, demands experiences of growth and development, and sees the fuller picture that the journey is about expanding consciousness, raising consciousness, and that the difficulties, the hardships of physical reality are often grossly diminished in that spiritual state. They are not completely remembered, so that those who contemplate a physical experience often do so from that highest level of optimism.

The Reason The Soul Seeks Out the Physical Experience

They have that life goal, that life plan, that lifeline that they wish to accomplish in the physical reality they are about to enter. Doing so will promote the growth of the soul and advance it tremendously. There is that which is available in physicality that is not available in that which is a purer state of consciousness that is not bound in a physical manner. It is this intense experience that is desired by the soul for it is a cauldron of intensity that will rapidly accelerate soul growth. This is known and it is for this reason that the soul seeks out the physical experience, for on the physical plane the journey of consciousness expansion and evolving rapidly is indeed accelerated tremendously.

Thus it is seen of great value to go back into a physical condition and have a physical life and the hardships of that physical life that are experienced by the soul on the journey of life are not even thought of or considered as being of importance. It is from this state of optimism that one can look at a probable life and truly sense and feel and think that they will be able to handle the hardships and difficulties that lie of the other side of the veil. This is that which this Awareness is referring to when It suggests there is a reciprocal energy of forgetfulness to a degree that exists on the other side of the veil.

If the soul was to have the exact same reaction that often occurs through the entity who is living a physical life, then far less aspects of the soul would choose to come into physical incarnation, for if they understood and felt the pain and remembered even more acutely, then it is more than possible that many would simply not come into the physical experience and they would avoid the crucible of physicality and stay in that more blissful and serene state that is presented to the soul in the non-corporeal states of consciousness. However, it is the intense desire to grow and expand that drives the soul and causes it to seek out physical experiences, even though they will be intense, and even though they will often challenge the individual to the extreme. This concludes this Awareness' discussion on the veil of forgetfulness, both in terms of its operational qualities between the 3rd and higher dimensions as well as any other veils that exist between other dimensions of consciousness.

A DIFFERENCE WITH SPIRIT MATTHEW?

QUESTION:

Thank you) That was wonderful. Shall I reread the part of Matthew's now?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed.

QUESTIONER:

It reads, "No, earth is not ascending as two worlds, one that will reach a higher density than the other. Earth a soul with one planetary body and it is rapidly and steadily moving out of the third dimension toward her destination in the 5th." Your comment please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This concept is held differently by this Awareness. It is not the purpose or the point of this Awareness to justify that which It presents to the readers and the members. It simply presents the truth as it is seen and understood by this Awareness. That which is described by Matthew is that which this Awareness has always called Planet A, the Planet of Ascension. It is moving forward, and evolving and expanding to that which is the 5th dimensional level of reality, of consciousness. "Reality" is a subjective term.

This Awareness has no disagreement with that comment. Where this Awareness would see it differently is that in a multidimensional reality there are many aspects to that concept. There are many expressions of individuality. While one form of the planet is indeed moving to the 5th dimension, there are other aspects of Mother Earth/Gaia, that are seeking different experiences in different streams of consciousness, in different realities. Thus it is possible that there might be another stream of reality that could house a reality of a planet that is in crisis, that is deteriorating, that is having an extreme experience that is not uplifting but rather destructive and debilitating.

Planet B is a Planet De-Evolving

This could be that which this Awareness has often described as the experiences of devolution, of a planet de-evolving, of that which this Awareness has called Planet B. This would also give to that which is the consciousness of the planet a unique set of experiences other than that which is the Ascension experience. It does not invalidate those experiences. It is simply a different set of experiences, and those who would seek to share those different experiences, those more extreme physical experiences are free to do so, as there are also parts of the soul that would choose to have the higher ascended experience.

Awareness Uses the Image of a Comet to Explain Planet 'A'

The soul can have both experiences as well as the many that lie between the two extremes. In a conversation that took place between the Interpreter and the energizer before the beginning of the session, the Interpreter used an example that this Awareness was already sending to him, and that was the example of a comet. This Awareness suggests the image of a comet be viewed as that which had the head of a comet, the body of the comet with a long tail lying behind it, following it, trailing it. The tail of the comet contains many particles of the comet and is dragged along with the comet, and yet they are not entirely of the body of the comet, yet they are part of the comet.

Thus it is that Planet A may have a tail behind her of many different experiences that represent the overall body of experiences. By this, this Awareness is saying that those who are on Planet A may have a unique theme of experiences, that being the Ascension theme, that being a new level of consciousness that defines reality much differently than it once was defined, yet there are others who have not yet progressed far enough along, who while having the desire to experience new realities, are not quite ready to go the distance, to develop and accelerate to the degree that others would. Thus, they may have part of the overall experience of Ascension, but they may experience their own unique representation of Ascension.

Equally, there may be those who choose to be part of another comet that split off from the original one, having a different set of experiences, and there may be many who choose to be more tied into those experiences, to have those alternative experiences, thus there may be some who choose to fully experience the most extreme expression of a planet that is harsh and difficult in the extremes, and yet they do not wish to have that fullest experience. There may be others who do not want such an extreme experience, but do so still want a physical dominated experience. Thus, it may be for them to be part of the tail of a comet that allows them to have lesser experiences, but still of that physical nature.

This is simply one image that this Awareness presents. It hopes that this helps people to understand that concept of multidimensional realities that are individual in nature, but still are part of a body or a theme that is present and presented. Does this help to explain this matter somewhat?

QUESTIONER:

Yes it does. And on behalf of the membership I thank you very much!

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to continue Its comments on the Matthew material. Please read the next part?

QUESTIONER:

"The physical bodies of her residents who refuse the light that would enable them to accompany her will die, and the souls automatically will go to any one of a number of different worlds, whichever has the same energy make-up of each soul's lifetime energy registration."

That concludes the commentary by Matthew. Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has presented similar information in the past. It has suggested that not everyone will be ready to Ascend, not everyone will have let go of their physicality or their need for a present-day physical experience based on a monetary experience, based on a physical experience, based on a reality that holds the collective beliefs that an individual may still be attached to. There are many variations of a theme. Those who have not developed a high enough vibrational energy or that which is often called the Light Body, may simply not be able to withstand the high vibrational sweep of energy that will pass through the planet, over the planet, around the planet at that time of Ascension.

Those who die in the physical will indeed move elsewhere, but where this Awareness would disagree with Matthew is that It suggests that those who "die" in the physical will still return back to their spirit form, their soul essence. They will integrate back into that soul essence, and it is from that place that if there is a desire to move on to another planet that has their soul registry or vibration, that they can make such a choice and can have another experience on another planet. However, this Awareness would also point out that time as it is understood and experienced on the physical plane does not exist in that which is the 4th, 5th and 6th dimensions.

Thus the soul returning back to the Soul Essence may determine and decide that they want another physical experience in that which is known as the past. Thus they may choose to be born again on Mother Earth, but this time at a different vibrational moment, thus experiencing ancient Egypt or experiencing a lifetime on the Polynesian Islands before Captain Cooke arrived, or experiencing a life as a caveman before the dawn of time. There are an infinite amount of options that will be available. One of the options will even be to experience Planet B and what it may feel like to be on a physical planet that is even more extreme, where there is no connection to that spiritual essence. It is part of the next level of the physical experience, that which will be represented by Planet B to have no spiritual understanding or connection.

There Will Be No Spiritual Connection On Planet 'B'

The present planet always had a spiritual connection. There was always that trust and belief that there were powers higher, that there was a God or gods. There have been many variations on that theme. That which is Planet B will have none of this. There will simply be a physical state of existence that is completely tied in the physical circumstances and those who may have power in those circumstances. This would be a completely different and unique experience of a physical form and reality that some souls may wish to experience also, while other fragments or aspects of the soul may be free to have other experiences.

It is a very complex matter, far more complex than is suggested by a simple consciousness form in Mother Earth ascending only to that 5th dimension and that those who would travel with her would have that experience while others would then go to other planets. This is not quite as evolved in its nature as this Awareness is trying to put out, yet there is a validity to that explanation also, and there are many who choose to favor the Matthew material, for the Matthew material is much more flowery in its descriptions, much more simplistic, yet there is a different way that allows the individuals to indulge themselves in concepts that are not as troubling or as demanding as this Awareness often presents.

This does not make this incorrect. It is simple enough that there is much more to it than what is often presented by Matthew. Matthew is a voice that is often valid, but not always as complex as that which is presented by this Awareness. This Awareness does not disagree with this nor does It disagree that Matthew should be reviewed by those who have interest. In the end one must always determine for themselves what speaks to them, what speaks to their heart: that which is the truth to them. Many often do not accept that which is presented by this Awareness for it challenges too deeply and is too hard for many to accept.

Many prefer the easier understanding, the more simplistic understandings of perhaps Matthew or others. This Awareness has often spoken that It expects those who take information in to question this information, and to question the source of the information, to not simply believe one thing and one thing only. It has always used these criteria for Its own information that It has presented. It expects the membership to apply these criteria equally to any and all other sources as well. This of course includes Matthew or any other source.

In the end it is entirely up to the individual to relate to that which for them makes more sense or touches something deeper in them. If it is the more simplistic information that is provided by Matthew, and this is what works for the individual, then so be it, but be aware that there may be more to it. The objective of questioning still applies so that one can always move forward and be open to any other further information, even if it is not from Matthew, that may more define and declare any and all situations.

This Awareness supports the Matthew material. It supports the Abraham material, the Tobias material, for all of those sources and others have information, but mostly this Awareness supports each and every individual's right and responsibility to access the information, to investigate it, to question it, to work it, to experience it, and in the end to make up their own minds and to follow their own hearts, no matter who has given the information. This Awareness is complete.

THE ONGOING BATTLE BETWEEN THE DARK AND LIGHT FORCES
(Is This All Part of the Game Plan?)

QUESTION:

(That was very excellent. Thank you. It was much appreciated) This next question is from Tim Gray. I don't have an address for him. He writes, "Awareness has stated that there are approximately 170 billion universes the size of ours, and that our universe alone has trillions of stars and trillions of planets with life on them. Awareness has also stated, and I don't have this in front of me, that the current battle between the Orion-originated Dark Forces, and the Galactic Federation, Pleiadians, earth et al, has been going on for something like over 500 thousand years. Awareness, in the Development Courses has also emphasized the importance of attitudes, such as every being is lovable and the importance of communication."

That is the end of his statement. Tim doesn't have an actual question but the thought rises why this battle between the Light and Dark Forces has been going for quite a while. Is this part of the overall game plan that such take place? Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Strictly speaking, there is no "game plan" but rather an unfolding, a constant continual infinite unfolding of that single thought that originated all, that thought of the Prime Source, that thought that sought to know itself and in that thought, in that desire, in that intent, the door was opened for the Prime Source, the Creator Almighty, to commence an action that would have infinite possibilities. It is as if the Creator Almighty wished to see Itself from various angles and alternate viewpoints, thus It created other versions of Itself, versions that would see It from other angles. It would be Itself, as well as that viewing Itself. It would be both and yet at the same time, would be One with Itself.

An Exercise In Separation of the Creator From Itself

As the intent and desire expanded, it became an exercise in separation, the separation of Creator from Itself. It desired a way of not knowing Itself, of seeking out such an experience of what it might feel like to be separate from Itself, or at least to create the illusion of separateness. As this began to unfold, there was that which was the unfolding of duality, of the separateness of the Creator from Itself. All is an expression of the Creator, but in the Grand Experiment of Duality and Separation, an illusion had to be created that there was not a connection, that there were extreme differences between one or another, between that which is black and that which white, between that which is male and that which is female, that which is known and that which is unknown.

This dualistic paradigm became a norm that exhibited itself in large parts of the universe and in other universes, also of different galaxies, of different solar systems on different planets amongst different people and races. Thus, one version of the separation and the dualism was that separation that occurred between those who are part of the Galactic Federation and those who are part of the Orion Empire. For the sake of understanding one is considered the good, and one is considered the bad.

This is of course relative, for if you were part of the Orion Empire, it would be seen that those who shared such philosophies and thoughts and values as are held by the Galactic Federation would be opposing to the good thoughts, the good way of thinking that is held by the Orion Empire. It is a matter of perspective, but ultimately, the division between the two sources, even in the length of time this has existed, these 500 thousand years of opposition represent nothing more than Prime Source seeking to understand Itself from two different variant perspectives.

The Creator Gives Free Will to Its Creation to Branch Off
(The Myth of the Fallen Angels Begins)

This is part of the dualism and separation that when totally lived will bring to the Creator the variety of experiences that It seeks in order to know Itself totally and completely. It therefore gave free will to Its creation to branch off and to go in new directions. It asked at one point for a group to choose to go into physical reality and to have physical experiences which further emphasized the separation from the Prime Source, Prime Creator, and thus the myth of the Fallen Angels, the angels who were given the task by the Creator Itself to separate themselves from Source and to put themselves up as ultimate powers, to even challenge the Creator.

This too is very strong in that root consciousness of humanity, that Fall From Grace, that sense that Paradise was once held by all but somehow lost and that in the battle between the angelic forces, separation occurred and the wicked dark ones under Lucifer were thrown down, thus creating Satan and hell and further concepts of separation, all part of the Grand Scheme, all part of that intent by the Creator to create an infinite variety of scenarios, scenes and options so that It would see Itself differently and from those different angles and perspectives that It originally sought to see Itself from, to promote Its knowing of Itself at even deeper levels.

This Awareness pauses for any questions the energizer might have of It.

QUESTIONER:

Not at this point, thank you. That was very interesting. Do you have any other comment on it?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Basically this Awareness is complete. It could ramble on and on infinitely, but It chooses to separate Itself from this question at this time.

WORMWOOD OR TIAMAT TO APPEAR SOON

(Occupied by the Anunnaki: Reptilians or Cloned Soldiers?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) There are several questions here from Antonio Alvarez from Brooklyn, NY. The first one concerns Wormwood or Tiamat. He writes, "The planetary body known as Wormwood or Tiamat will soon appear and Awareness has stated that it is occupied by the Anunnaki. Are the Anunnaki the same as Reptilians or a different race? Maybe they are cloned soldiers? Since Wormwood is occupied by the Anunnaki, is an invasion possible? I doubt if the Reptilians and their allies will give up control of the earth without a fight."

Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness first of all wishes to comment that the Anunnaki are those that this Awareness refers to as Orjons and Orion allies. There are Reptilians upon the 12th Planet, the Anunnaki rogue planet as it wanders through the solar system and beyond, but basically it is the Orjons this Awareness is referring to when It speaks of the Anunnaki and not the Reptilians. They are part of the empire that is known as the Orion Empire, and a major component to it, but those who originated life on planet earth, those who had the original ties and claims to it as they saw it, were Orion in nature. The Reptilians came later as enforcers to the plans of the Orjons, became their military might and strong arm.

This Awareness is complete.

WILL THE ANUNNAKI BATTLE EARTH ?

QUESTION:

Okay. He was questioning in the second part about giving up control of the earth without a fight. Will there be a battle by the Anunnaki or the Reptilians rather, and the inhabitants of earth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There will be a fight in a manner of speaking, but that fight is already underway. Much that is occurring at this time on the planet, that battle between those who are in charge, who have control, those who are the Elite, those who are the 13 Families, the Illuminati, the Cabal, the various names that are used, are part of the Orion Empire. The Reptilians have often been involved as emissaries to their Orion Masters, but strictly speaking, it is the Orion Empire that is in charge.

Most of Humanity Does Not Know That a Battle is Raging Here

The battle is for complete domination and regaining that which the Orjons feel was originally theirs, but through the evolutionary process of mankind as well as the interloping by those of the Galactic Federation as seen by Orjons that the thinking of humanity has shifted and needs to be brought back into more direct control. This would be opposed by those who do not feel that the Orjons have the right to further subjugate humanity as they have in the past. It is a subtle battle, for most of humanity does not even know that there is a battle raging. Most of humanity is very much asleep to the truth of who is in charge and in control of the planet, and those who are in opposition are relatively few in number and comprise mostly those who have awakened from the stupor, who have sensed and seen that there is a greater truth beyond that which they have been force-fed since they have been children, even since they have been infants.

The 5% Who Are Awakening Can Change Consciousness
(The Final Goal Needed is 25%)

The battle is more one to awaken those who do not yet understand or perceive the truth of the situation. This ties into that which is the Ascension process, for as the Ascension process proceeds, awareness and consciousness evolves, an awakening is occurring amongst the masses, and more and more are starting to ask certain questions. The degree of those awakening may seem relatively small to those who are still asleep, but relatively speaking, the 5% who are now awaking represent a significant number of humans who will then have the capacity to change the direction of consciousness. It is not a democratic system where majority rules.

In other words, it will not take the majority of humanity to awaken before deep and profound changes occur which all of humanity must engage in or entertain. Rather it will simply take approximately 25% of all humanity to awaken, for new thoughts and ideas to become available to those who are still asleep. When this process begins, it will quickly expand and many who have been asleep will awaken to the degree that will allow them to look differently upon the planet. This acceleration in the awakening of human consciousness is part of the evolutionary process of Ascension into higher states of consciousness.

In the End 50% Will Choose Not to Evolve

In the end, not everyone will proceed to those higher levels of consciousness. It is seen that perhaps 50% will still choose not to move forward, not to evolve, and rather retain some semblance of normality as they understand and hold it, thus those do not choose to evolve for one reason or another, being it a soul reason or what could even be called personal reasons, will still experience a physical reality but it may be quite altered from that physical reality that is being experienced at this time by the majority of humanity.

Those who have chosen to move forward will find that the world does indeed change to them and for them to one degree or another, being more spiritually involved and affected than was previously the case, for part of the evolutionary process is that those who choose Ascension will recognize themselves as first and foremost spiritual beings having a physical experience versus the opposite view that is currently held that the beings on the planet, humanity is largely physical in nature, physical beings wondering if they have a spiritual aspect at all, and questioning if they have a soul or if they will even exist after their physical deaths.

That is part of the descended and unevolved level of consciousness that some will hold to, but many will expand their awareness and move on in that continuum of human spiritual consciousness, and will move forward and upward and onward. This Awareness is complete.

WILL THE CLONED UNDERGROUND ARMY STILL BE NEEDED BY THE GREYS?

(Like with the Pentagon Many Possible Scenarios Exist)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) That was very good) Another question from Antonio is, "I also study the Cassiopaeon material. They have stated that over two million humans have been cloned underground and have been programmed by the Greys and their allies to be their army if needed by them. Is this still a possibility?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This still could be a possibility. There are many variations on the theme that are being prepared for. This is not unlike the War Department that has many scenarios prepared for all the events of human experience in the political and military realms of the planet. In other words there are many variations on the theme of how the USSR, the former Soviet Union could attack and would have attacked the United States of America. There was preparedness for various scenarios. This still exists, and there are scenarios that involve a third World War starting in the Middle East for example, or perhaps a World War that is triggered by the Koreans as they break out of their country and establish an action against the civilized world.

There are many scenarios. Iran, including its present violence and upheaval is also one of the scenarios that is being prepared for and what this could lead to. The fact that the Greys have a cloned army is simply a response to a possible variation on the theme. This Awareness has spoken on this so many times before, and yet It still says the same: It will depend on what you choose to believe and focus on. If the individual chooses to believe that they wish to be part of a reality that will involve a major war and battle, even with Reptilians and Greys and cloned human beings, then they may well experience such a reality.

If they choose to start that process of changing such negative focus, or removing themselves from such possible scenarios and instead focusing only on those scenarios that will be uplifting and provide a true Ascension experience without conflict or violence, then they will remove themselves from such possible outcomes and possibilities and not experience them at all. This is why it is so important to always monitor one's belief. While one can look at such possibilities, this Awareness most certainly recommends one does not focus on them, nor endorse them completely. This Awareness is complete.

IF WORMWOOD APPEARS

(Will the Next Elected President be the Last?)

QUESTION:

Antonio's next question is, "If Wormwood appears and causes much damage, is it possible the next elected president will be the LAST elected president under our present system?" Comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

As a possible scenario, this Awareness says, "Why not?" It is simply one choice of possibilities. This Awareness cannot endorse it above any other. It simply says, "Why not?" It is as good a scenario to entertain yourselves with as any other. It is also possible that Wormwood will not arrive, such a conflict will not occur, and the Ascension process will be much more positive in nature, taking one away from those formerly held beliefs and possibilities into a whole new broad spectrum of beliefs and possibilities other than those formerly envisioned or energized.

This Awareness is complete with this question.

CAN REPTILIANS FALL IN LOVE WITH A HUMAN NOT REPTILIAN?

QUESTION:

His next one, "Awareness stated that Reptilians can incarnate into human bodies. My question is: Can they fall in love with a human who is not Reptilian?" Your comment please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wishes to state also that humans can incarnate as Reptilians. The broad choices available once one leaves a specific life, be it a Reptilian life or a human life, returns one back to the spiritual fabric of their being, to their Soul Essence. In other incarnations, the soul is free to have whatever experience it wishes, be it as a Reptilian or as a human. Should a being choose to have a human experience, for all intents and purposes they are free to have the fullest range of experience possible to them as human beings. Thus, if they chose to have an experience of love with another human being, then that would very much be a possibility.

Therefore the answer at the most simplest level is yes, it is possible for one who was once Reptilian to become human and to fall in love with a human, for they are a human being having a human experience.

ENTITIES WHO DO NOT HAVE SOULS?

(One Channel Says Half the Human Race Do Not)

QUESTION:

(That makes sense!) His last question is, "In the Cassiopaeon material they stated that approximately half the human race are what they classify as "organic portals" and they were not originally part of the bridge between second and third density, and that they do not have souls. Excluding the Wanderers, does this mean that those humans that do not have souls are entities whose souls originated from other planets?" Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is a complex question. This Awareness wishes to start by saying those who are human are those who have souls. Part of the way into being born as a human being is a spiritual entrance that each and every soul decides upon before entry into the physical plane and into a human host body. This does not mean, as this Awareness spoke a moment ago, that the essence of the soul is not perhaps of a different order or from a different race. Thus it is that a Pleiadian, a Sirian, or an Arcturian could choose to incarnate as a human being with all the rights and privileges of a human being while at the same time having that soul essence, that beginning point that doesn't come from Terra, Gaia, Mother Earth.

Any and All Humans Have a Soul

Many Terrans have chosen as souls to begin their soul journey on this planet and are born with a soul that has its initial and primary experiences of physicality as a human Terran, a being who chooses to start their soul growth journey as a human or a physical being on the planet earth, but those who are born human are still humans, even if they were Reptilians once upon a time, or Arcturian or Taurian. Any and all humans have a soul. This Awareness does not see quite what the statement refers to when it says that half of the human beings do not have a soul, for this Awareness sees that ALL human beings have a soul.

It does not quite understand what is referred to as second and third density in this question, and therefore this Awareness cannot answer adequately that part of the question, simply stating that all human beings have souls and are part of a soul essence, or expressions of the Greater Soul. There are those concepts such as "soul families" which separate souls somewhat into different groups of consciousness with similar traits and attributes, but it is not seen that this is what is being referred to in the individual's question. If the energizer has a point to make, or a further question, this Awareness invites her to speak at this time.

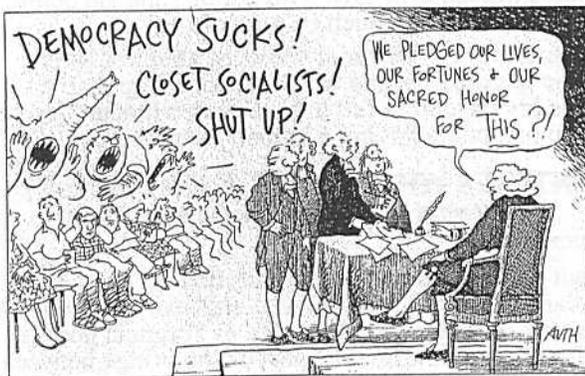

QUESTIONER:

Not at this time. We are coming to the end of the tape.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness feels complete with this individual's questions and asks to move on.

Thank you) (The Law of Gratitude is given)

Excerpt from a Personal Reading of Bob B. May 15, 2009

THE AWAKENING OF THE MUMMIES

QUESTION:

In the last reading, regarding the Egyptian mummies and the release of the information and energies stored in them thousands of years ago, can you tell me when this year that that energy release will happen, and what can we expect of the consequences that will lead.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is seen that there is another release in the Fall period of the present year, the year being 2009. That it is seen that in the month of November preceding into the month of December that this next influx of energy and of consciousness will be released onto the planet and into the fabric of human consciousness. That what can be expected from this is more chaos, is more upheaval, for these energies, this new awareness will indeed be in opposition to the paradigm of belief that is consciously held at a collective level on the planet at this time. It is to be remembered that the consciousness is being molded and shaped at this time in accordance to the plan of those who have the power, those who have the greater picture, who understand how the forces of energy and consciousness work, that they have long manipulated consciousness on this planet, molded it to their design and directed it in the directions that they wished it to proceed. That of course this Awareness is talking about those energies of that which is the Orion/Reptilian configuration, that which is the Orion/Reptilian faction, and that these extraterrestrial beings have used humans for many eons to be their servants and to create the situation on Earth that is in accordance with their design and their plan. That this same faction is that which brought down that continent and state known as Atlantis as they infiltrated and used many of the top politicians and leaders and scientists to create for them that which proved to be the destruction and downfall of Atlantis for, in the end, the continent could not hold those energies for they were of a destructive nature. That this same group, this same faction is again at the helm and has been for some time now. As the new levels of consciousness are released there will become that which is a conflicting energy to those who are in charge, a contrasting energy, an oppositional energy, and thus it is when these two forces meet there will be chaos, there will be upheaval. It is seen that it is during this timeframe that the final collapse of the financial markets may well occur, although there is seen as ups-and-downs between that period and this. That there are also other more positive results that will occur with the release of the next flux of consciousness; that being, that many who are at this time sitting on the fence who have not yet truly shifted their view; yet hold that power within themselves of a deeper comprehension, a deeper awareness will indeed wake up. That many who are moving toward it will also be accelerated in their movement towards full conscious awareness; thus, more will be available for the ascension process than is currently the state. The other aspect that could well occur at this time is that many of those secrets that are held by the powers-that-be will be exposed and many of the top players will also be exposed, and that there will be a backlash against those who formerly were considered the nation's top politicians and leaders on all levels and that many will be disposed of, many will be dispelled. This is not simply that this Awareness is saying they will be killed, it is more that they will be driven from office, they will be pulled down from their towers and exposed for who and what they really are. It will start a period of social rebellion as more and more individuals, especially in the United States of America become aware of the lies that have been fed to them for so long of the travesty of leadership that has led them down the garden path. This is by no means the end of this process. It is seen that the next release of the consciousness from that period of the Ra times that will be released will help the social rebellion, will help the awakening of spiritual consciousness to those who are here to awaken but at this time are still somewhat asleep. These are seen as some of the more major results that will be noticeable when that next flux of released energy, released consciousness, does indeed occur.

QUESTIONER:

Well, that sounds really good. I have been waiting for that information to become more public, so that sounds wonderful.

What will it mean to the people that were, the ones that were mummified, how will it affect us when that energy is released?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is seen that in some ways all that will happen for those who have given themselves to this assignment, this task, that they will be released to return back into the fabric of the soul realm, they will be released to go through the beak of the eagle, the aperture, the Golden Tunnel of Light, or the Rainbow Bridge. That some will seek to be reborn quickly so that they can be part of the new times ahead, so that they can be part of the process of ascension and part of the new world that will be formed. Others will choose to carry on with their education on that other side, on the spiritual level, and will remain there; others will go to other dimensions, other levels of consciousness and proceed on their own individual courses from that point on. It is as if there has been a hiatus for them as they have waited to be fully incorporated once again with that release of information and consciousness that will occur as the mummies release the energy of their consciousness. That there have been many who have stayed somewhat involved in physical matters even incarnating into physical bodies but they have not been fully present for a major chunk of their soul fabric, their soul consciousness was in stasis, was in hibernation, that they will be able to participate now in full consciousness and with full awareness. Does this answer your question?

QUESTIONER:

Yes, thank you very much.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There is not seen to be as great an affect on others other than, and by others this Awareness means those who are in physical incarnation other than what has already been described as the events themselves that occur on the planet affecting those others. That it is more a personal journey that those who have chosen to be involved in this experiment and in this assignment will find that they are free to move on versus waiting until history had reached this point and they could complete their mission. Some individuals will be aware because of information such as this that is now being released of these beings, may even encounter these beings, they will know them for they are also aware of them and have had contact and connection with them when they themselves were in existence in those times.

But this is a personal, more on a personal individual level than on a group level or a collective level.

QUESTIONER:

I see. I am working towards and am hoping to go back Abadiania, Brazil in August to the middle of September. Does this sound like a good idea, is it a safe time to be traveling, and would this be advised?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed it is seen as a safe time, it is before that which this Awareness is seeing as a possible time of upheaval, thus it is still falling within that time of safety where there is still a level of ignorance that is on the planet that is a protection of sorts at this time; however, these levels of ignorance are about to be stripped away and consciousness is to shift and move. This of course must be understood that not all will shift, many will be in denial, many will continue to buy into the audacity of those who are in power for they simply will not be able to understand or comprehend that they have been deceived so thoroughly and for so long and will choose not to see this as the deception, will choose to stay asleep. In terms of the energies of the planet at that time, they will remain somewhat the same as they are now, even the stemming of that which has recently been introduced that being the swine flu, the H1 N1 virus, will not be rampant at that time for it is seen that the plan is to reintroduce it in later fall period, but this is not seen as a particular danger to you if you travel at the times you have mentioned. Plus, as you well know, that which you are indeed dealing with, the healing powers of the individual you are seeking in the region are such that they shift you and bring you to a higher awareness and a higher level of protection. Therefore, this Awareness does say to you that this will be a good time and a safe time for you to travel.

Irresponsible mountain goats

QUESTIONER:

This is a continuation of questions started on June 23. The Law of Love and countdown have been given. Our first question is from Adrian Alexander. He has background information and some questions. Avaton has requested that all be read, so I'll go through and then go back to the actual questions if this is okay.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is okay with this Awareness.

THE WINGMAKERS MATERIAL ON THE INTERNET: HOW VALID IS IT?

(Dr. Neruda and the Ancient Arrow Project)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) Adrian writes, "My first two questions have to do with the Wingmakers stuff that's buzzing the Internet. There is an interview with a Dr. Neruda relating to a so-called "Ancient Arrow Project." My last question is more personal but I think the response may be of benefit to those who have deluded themselves into believing they are "Wanderers" and/or "Light Workers."

Background information: In a nutshell, the whole Ancient Arrow Project has to do with some "ancient artifacts from the future (if you can believe it) that were found by a super secret group that supposedly sits atop all the US secret services, who don't even know it exists and whose membership Dr. Neruda defected from in order to spill the beans to the masses. This group is now in possession of these ancient future artifacts. Long story short: These artifacts are supposed to have been placed in this ancient site by earthlings from the future; some 750 years in the future, in order for us to find them and learn so we can rise from our current predicaments (I guess we made it if these Wingmaker guys are from the future!)

He carries on, "The crux of the matter is that this super secret group, along with some benevolent alien race are working on some extremely advanced computer program and process they call BST (Blank State Technology), which basically would be used in conjunction with time travel to change the direction of future events by erasing them from memory as if the events never took place. This technology would be used to erase memories of certain events in order for them not to trigger undesirable outcomes.

In this particular case, this technology would be used to save earth and its people from a massive alien invasion from some far off civilization whose probes have now allegedly found our planet. The super secret group would find an insertion point to use the BST technology to erase any indication that our planet even exists, therefore saving the earth from invasion by simply erasing any memory of its discovery on the would-be invaders' minds. Therefore, no invasion! No war, no suffering, no nothing! Fantastic!

This all sounds to me too much like science fiction. Well, to tell you the truth, the Planet A and B split also sounds too much like science fiction to me, although it has more a pipe dream feel to it. But that's just me, and it's a whole different ball game.

Question 1) From an Awareness perspective, how valid is this Wingmakers Ancient Arrow Project hoopla?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness wonders why this individual seeks this information when he has already basically judged it as "hoopla." Nothing this Awareness can offer him would be more than spurious and outlandish to him, part of a pipedream. This Awareness on many occasions has spoken that there are many versions of reality. In fact, there are an infinite amount of versions. Perhaps the individual should ask himself why he is even concerned with other versions of reality when he does not even consider them as relevant or even worthy of serious consideration.

He has obviously made up his own mind as to what it is that will befall humanity and what the future will hold. This Awareness simply will point out that he has his own version, one of the infinite versions of the future that is held by humanity at this time, and yet he still asks these questions which seems to indicate there still is an uncertainty on his part. There is a part of him that would hold that perhaps there are alternative solutions or possibilities than the rather bleak and strict ones that this Awareness senses this individual holds himself.

The Wingmakers Scenario Just One Possibility of Future Events

Therefore, this Awareness will proceed to answer the question by stating that the Wingmakers scenario is one of the possibilities of future events. For those who chose in one way or another to go forward, to have an experience that would open up the future in the way described by the Wingmakers, that there would be an alien invasion and that the Wingmakers future people needed to provide a solution, by sending artifacts back into time so that they would be discovered and utilized when the time came. This is one scenario of a possibility of a future event.

Another is that mankind might ascend in a spiritual manner and leave behind the need for such conflict or such a version of reality. Those who choose not to go in the direction plotted by those who have laid down a possible scenario will have a quite different experience of the future, and will travel an alternate future to those who travel to a future where there is an alien invasion.

There is still merit in being open to the material that is found at the site of the Wingmakers' hidden caverns and there is still a mystery to it, but in the end, this is simply one focus of reality, and those who stay too focused on that which is presented by the Wingmakers, those few travelers of the future who have returned to the past, will find themselves set upon a course of actions and beliefs that would eventually lead them or their descendants to that future or that lack of future, however one wished to experience it.

In other words, some might wish to experience an alien invasion in the future, and thus the Wingmakers' attempts would have been futile in preventing this, while others may have experienced a positive result of the Wingmakers' actions, and by sending those tools and weapons from the future they somehow altered their future and altered this encounter with an alien race. This is also a possibility amongst the infinite amount of possibilities available. This Awareness is complete with this first question.

Ed's Note: For more information go to Google and type in "Wingmakers."

HE DOUBTS WANDERERS EVEN EXIST

(A Bitter Man Questions the Cosmic Awareness' Predictions")
Feels He's Only a Part of a Feel-Good Illusion

QUESTION:

(Thank you) The second question, and again Avaton asks that it all be read: "If this time travel Ancient Arrow Project tale were true, is this also on top of everything the Awareness and all the goody-two-shoes, like Matthew, have been trumpeting regarding the Planet A and B transition?"

He carries on to explain this question. "The reason I may sound a little sarcastic about all this is because after being a member of the Awareness (bowel) movement for about 30 years, I have yet to see evidence of some of those dire predictions and most of the other "New Age Stuff" that the newsletter has described during these 30 years! I guess when the Awareness warns us not to believe anything we read, It means it gang!" I believe the Awareness has said that people should question for confirmation.

Anyway, "What's most disturbing to me at this point in the game of life is the fact that the Awareness talks about the Wanderers and the Light Workers as if they were real. I say this only because somehow I feel as if I might be one of those Wanderers, based on criteria described by the Cosmic Awareness. However again, I see no evidence of this being the case since I have absolutely zero power or capability to help change things in any significant way in my current position in life other than being part of a big "feel good" delusion.

Very disappointing! Not only that, but my deep involvement in the Cosmic Awareness runaway train of thought has distracted me in a very significant way in the sense that I have not paid enough attention to building any material wealth in the normal way. Same thing for my personal relationships. This is a high price to pay. Are most of you in the readership in the same boat? (This is a question for the readership and you guys, not for the Awareness.) I have already been ridiculed one too many times when I have spoken about the Awareness stuff to others. In fact, one of the main reasons for my former wife's disrespect for me was my affinity for the Awareness messages, which I myself value highly, but have found through the years, that most others do not.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The individual is indeed embittered for having followed in his life beliefs contrary to those held by the majority of individuals, and he somehow seeks to blame this Awareness for that which is seen by him as a life lost because of choices that he made to follow the information provided by this Awareness. This Awareness does not apologize for the information that It has shared with the membership over the many years. The organization Cosmic Awareness Communications has chosen to share with the membership, to print for those to read to decide for themselves what they believe to be the truth of their lives and what to base their lives on.

The Victim Mentality at Work

This Awareness has never said that one must sacrifice everything, relationships, financial prosperity, or anything else in order to be a follower, a zealot of this Awareness, for this Awareness does not wish to have a cult following. It has no need of this or a desire for it. It has always been available to provide information to those who seek alternative ways of understanding the events of the times. To accuse this Awareness or the organization of misleading one and causing them such difficulty is to deny the responsibility that each individual has in living their own life.

This is called a victim mentality. There was something in the material presented by this Awareness that spoke to the individual to the degree that he took it in, that he responded to it, that it had relevancy in his life. This does not alter the truth that perhaps that which this Awareness shared with others, while not always being 100% correct or provable, is still nonetheless the truth. This Awareness has always asked for the membership to question that which they have read in the pages of Cosmic Awareness Communications, in the newsletters that have been faithfully delivered for over 30 years. A service has been provided both by the organization itself, as well as by those who have been involved with this organization, a service of bringing truth and Light and Spirit into the darkness of the planet that very much masked the alternative understanding of what was truly happening. This was one alternative, for there are many variations on a theme and many versions of the truth, but in the end this Awareness holds to that axiom that the truth shall set you free.

"The Truth Shall Set You Free"

This does not mean that being open to the truth, or holding the truth or trying to live the truth will make one's life easier. Often the truth is held in direct opposition to that which is the commonly held belief of the masses, the majority, by the collective. When one holds a truth or sees a truth or feels a truth that goes contrary to what is held by the masses, often one puts oneself in a place of ridicule and danger. This has always been the case and will continue to be the case as long as there are those who believe that what is held by the majority is the truth and nothing but the truth. Those who hold alternate truths and who speak out and share their truths may be labeled lunatics, may be labeled as eccentric, and may even be denied and branded as crazy and absurd, yet it is those who see the truth and speak the truth who are the visionaries, even if they are labeled as fools.

It is those who see the truth and speak the truth who are often eventually proven to hold that which is where the collective eventually will go. The truth shall set you free, but it will also often define the future. Thus it is that at one time the majority held that the earth was flat, and anyone who would sail out into those seas was a lunatic if they proceeded beyond a certain point, and yet an individual by the name of Christopher Columbus broke that myth, for his truth was different. He too was considered a fool, a lunatic, until he proved, and others behind him proved that the world was a globe, a sphere, and not a flat disk. One did not sail off the edge into oblivion. Yet, where would the world be had it not been for a man such as Christopher Columbus, or others?

When Galileo Was Forced to Recant the Truth

At one point it was considered heretical if one said that the earth was not the center of everything, and that the sun did not spin around the earth, but rather the earth spun around the sun. Galileo spoke this truth and his very life was threatened. He wisely chose to recant for he knew that even though he himself, by recanting, seemed to prove himself weak, that his thought, his truth, would in the end be proven valid. This Awareness has never said that someone must hold to the truth at the point of a gun, for if one needs to die for a truth then one must question whether that truth is worth dying for. There are those who feel that even this is not too high a sacrifice.

The individual is indeed embittered and this saddens this Awareness, but this Awareness makes no apologies for the truth that It has shared with the membership for so many years. It points out that It has often stated that upon sharing truth and information, that the very complexity of the planet and of the consciousness on the planet is changed. When information was given out about the Gathering Storm many years ago, that while events did not prove to be as predicted, the very act of sharing these truths and putting it into human consciousness at a public mass level, is what began to change the events that had previously been given and foreseen.

It has always been this way. A true visionary can see that holding one's truth and belief, by the very act of sharing, will change that vision and that truth, and one adapts the vision and the truth, always proceeding with the newer versions that then present themselves. There are indeed Wanderers and Light Workers, for they are simply individuals who have come into planetary consciousness who have been born on the planet known as Earth to help bring a sense of truth to the planet, who are of a higher spiritual understanding and have chosen to come into lower vibrational energies in order to assist and help others who seek that evolutionary experience of knowing a greater truth and manifesting that truth in their lives and in human consciousness.

There Are Lessons in Failures and Disappointments

The individual ironically is himself a Wanderer, is himself one who came onto the planet at this time to help share the truth with others, to help share alternative visions and realities and possibilities. The fact that he has been shot down so often, the fact that his ex-wife could not accept his truth, the fact that it has caused him hardship is not necessarily a bad thing, for there are lessons in such failures, such disappointments, such adversity. There is truth to be found even in the experience that he has had. Many of the Light Workers and Wanderers are at this time coming to a place of deep questioning, of questioning of whether or not that which they have held for so long is indeed the truth, or a pipe dream, as the individual expressed.

Even the Interpreter Has Questioned Awareness

Even the Interpreter has had many such thoughts, has had many dark moments where he has severely questioned that which he himself has accepted as his truth. He has even questioned the truth that this Awareness speaks through his own lips and wonders if there is any validity in what this Awareness has shared through him, yet he stands ready still to continue the journey and to play it out, to see where it will lead. He does not choose to lose his own personal identification with life and how he sees it, and instead holds ready always to change his truth, to adapt the truth, to see the greater truth, a deeper truth, for it is always an evolving experience, an evolution of consciousness. Yet he too has been severely tested in those beliefs that he has always held that have differentiated him from the masses, from the norm.

It has not always been an easy road that he has walked, and yet he does see and understand at the deepest level of his being that it is why he is here. It is his life purpose. He will not abandon his purpose and destiny. This Awareness would conclude by stating to the individual that there are indeed challenges. It is not always easy to speak the truth, to live the truth, or even to believe in the truth, but if he checks in at the deepest level of his being that he can access, he will see that there simply was no other way for him but to live this life, despite all of the adversity and hardship, and in the end he may yet find that all that he has looked into and chosen to experience in this life was valid and worthwhile. He may yet find that the truth that this Awareness has spoken to him is ultimately the one that holds the highest truth and the highest light and in the end was well worth his adversity, his hardships and his difficulties.

This Awareness is complete and is open to any further question on the question.

WHAT GIVES WITH CURRENT WIFE GINA?

(And the "Grand Divine Plan" Awareness Speaks About?)

QUESTION:

(Thank you) He had one final question. I believe you answered it already. I will read it just in case there is additional commentary. He writes, "Awareness please put me out of my misery. Would you please give me a run-down on what the deal is with me? Particularly in my relationship to my current wife Gina and the "Grand Divine Plan" you speak so much about?"

Is there any additional comment?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

What is involved in each individual journey is what their soul plan or mission was for their lives. Often one enters into physical experience, physical life, needing to encounter opposition as a way of holding true to their inner truth, their inner understanding of who and what they are. Simply sacrificing one's morals, one's principles, one's truths so that one fits in or so that one does not have opposition from a spouse or friends and family does not necessarily mean that one is successful in one's life, for upon reviewing that life one may well find that by giving up their truth, their beliefs, that they have lost themselves, and they see this upon crossing over, upon reviewing their lives.

The Purpose of One's Life

The purpose of one's life is to hold strong and hold true, not to break before opposition, but to bend to it, and still hold their own truth. While the entity Galileo may have recanted his position when threatened with torture and death, he did not abandon his truth; he simply chose to hold it within himself as his truth. Sometimes the better part of discretion is understanding when to share one's truth with someone and when not to. Often individuals who have certain truths or certain perspectives and understandings, certain information, actually come from an ego place where they feel somehow superior in sharing their truth with others, of providing them with information.

This Awareness has given the membership much information that is controversial and in direct opposition to what is commonly held as being so. Those who see beyond the vale of prescribed beliefs that is held by society and enforced by society often feel themselves superior to those who are still ignorant of the truth. Thus one must always question one's own intent and desire upon needing to share the truth with someone else, if that someone else does not seek it, does not desire it, and does not wish it. Unfortunately, there are still many who would seek rather to stay ignorant and asleep than to have shock therapy performed on them where they are forced to believe new truths of their world, a world that was previously comfortable to them, even if they were ignorant of the truth that lies behind the façade.

Those who have access to such truths as this Awareness has shared over the years often feel the need to shock others into wakefulness and do not do so in a light-handed manner, but are heavy-handed in their approach. All must question their own motives upon needing to force others to listen to them, for in such a desire, one would see that the ego is rampant, that the ego holds sway and seeks to be acknowledged for its superiority and its capacity to know the truth. This is not always the case, but often when there is opposition by others to one, that perhaps the better part of discretion would be to not force one's thoughts and opinions on another, and seek to find a place of balance where both parties feel comfortable with each other.

Controversial Information Need Not Affect a Relationship

Should it be however, that in doing so, one needs to sacrifice their own personality, their own character needs to become something that they are not so that the other is appeased, then this Awareness would suggest that the price is too high and that ultimately the breakdown in the relationship has nothing to do with whether or not one holds truths that are controversial, but has more to do with the character of the individuals as well as their karmic roles with each other and why they have come into each other's lives. Controversial information is simply that, and it need not affect a relationship. A relationship will ultimately be affected more because of karmic matters, or that there is something to be gained and learned from the opposition, for the individuals involved in such opposition.

This Awareness is complete in Its answer.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Awareness Thanks Adrian for Sharing From his Heart

This Awareness does have a closing statement on the matter. While much pain was expressed by the individual, this Awareness thanks the individual Adrian for sharing from his heart, for being as open and blunt as he was, as truthful as he was, for this has actually shown a great deal of courage. He is not the only Light Worker, spiritual worker, or evolved worker who questions the purpose of his or her life. Many have wondered deeply what the point is, when continuously it appears that those Elite Forces that are in charge seem to always be moving forward, and those who would see a different truth, a different reality manifest, have no results.

There are many organizations that promise great results. That organization known as Nazira (sp?) being one in point, where predictions were made of events happening, of the impeachment of the former President Bush, and of other events, and yet nothing happening, and yet many read these comments and felt that this would be so, only to be disappointed when they failed to be so. This again is part of the journey and part of the energies of these times. The way forward is not abandoning that which resounds deeply within the heart and soul of an individual as their truth, as their reality, but rather to understand that the reality is defined by the beliefs and when one questions one's beliefs or has problems with one's beliefs because of the opposition of others, then it is that their own beliefs are faulty or in question somehow, and there is a level of mistrust in themselves to their own beliefs which can create an even deeper schism, and deeper problems.

Ultimately these times necessitate that all those who seek the higher consciousness that this Awareness has so often spoken of must separate themselves truly from that which is held by the majority, the collective masses. This is not always an easy event. This Awareness can at least say that those times that are coming will quicken this process up and will begin to prove itself more and more as that moment of separation, that shift in consciousness that is known as the Ascension moment approaches and finally dawns on humanity.

Wondering What the Miracle of the Day Will Be?

Many are starting to see that the thoughts that they have are instantly manifesting: curious little thoughts, such as the thought of an individual not seen for some time, or a thought of wishing to see a certain movie that was once a favorite but not seen for many years, suddenly appearing on the television. Many such small events are starting to occur more and more for individuals. These must also be seen and recognized as evidence that there are changes that are happening.

This Awareness recently gave information about wishing for a miracle, more exactly not "wishing" for a miracle, but simply asking what the miracle of the day will be. Already reports are starting to filter in from individuals who are starting to have experiences of small miracles, even some large miracles. Upon sharing this with others, especially through the organization, it will reinforce more and more that positive belief that those changes are happening and that miracles are happening and magic is becoming the order of the day, and Spirit is intervening and showing Itself more and more.

The way forward is not simply to fall into despair and despondency, no matter how easy it is to do so, but rather, to keep continually telling oneself that even though today may not be such a brilliant day, that tomorrow a miracle will perhaps occur, or that tomorrow will hold a better energy and be a better day, and to keep going forward. What is also important to realize is that this is an experience that is best shared. This Awareness is referring to the fact that many of the Light Workers and Wanderers are solitary in their experience, and do not have others who share their visions, their thoughts, their beliefs, and their truths. This makes the journey an even more difficult one, especially when those who do not share the journey are those who are the closest to an individual: a spouse, a mother, a father, a sister, a brother, or a close friend.

This does not mean that the individual is wrong in their own beliefs and what they hold as their truths, it simply makes the journey that much more difficult. This Awareness would suggest that they seek out others of like-mind and like-spirit, or that they at least share more with that which is the organization Cosmic Awareness Communications. It was for this reason that this Awareness suggested that those who have examples of the miracles that start to befall them share with the members so that others in the membership also get the feeling that things are moving forward, things are changing and progressing, and they can develop a sense of that positive possibility that this Awareness has so often spoken of: that things are progressing, that humanity and the planet itself are evolving and are moving towards Ascension:

To have others that one can share with and one can relate to will always lighten the burden and make the journey that much easier. This Awareness is complete.

QUESTIONER:

Is This Like Energizing St. Twinkle?

A quick question please. Is this similar to energizing Saint Twinkle that was done many years ago?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is exactly the same principle. When energy is given to something, that eventually whether that something was true or not, it becomes the truth that is held by everyone who holds that truth. Thus, the masses holding things to be a certain way will create an energy around it being that way and it is difficult to break free from how it is held energetically by the masses, by collective consciousness. As this Awareness spoke many years ago, when one begins to energize a concept, a belief, a truth, that energy makes it more and more possible, more and more real.

By putting energy into that entity known as Saint Twinkle, a truth was created, an energy was created that brings about the truth that is Saint Twinkle. This roundabout explanation is still trying to say that when one puts energy towards something and holds it to be so, that it is then so. As one opens up to the miracles of one's life, miracles can begin to happen in one's life, which makes the whole thing even more positive and real. Thus the energizer is totally correct in her assertion that this is indeed the same energy that created Saint Twinkle.

THE GREATEST MASS-MURDER OF ALL TIME: THE EXTINCTION OF MOST PLANTS AND ANIMALS ON OUR PLANET

QUESTION:

This is a question from Avaton, which concerns a report August 31, 2008 in the Olympian. It has the headline: "Scientists Close in On Mass Killer from 251 Million Years Ago!" Part of it is highlighted. The whole article is quite lengthy. It's by Robert S. Boyd of McClatchy Newspapers and comes out of Washington. It reads, "It was the greatest mass-murder of all time--poison everywhere, billions slain-- but the killer or killers have never been positively identified. An estimated 95 percent of all marine species and up to 85 percent of land creatures perished, according to Peter Ward, a paleobiologist at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Scientists call it "The Great Dying." Life took millions of years to recover. Scientific sleuths however, now think that they're making progress towards pinning down what caused the extinction of most plants and animals on earth about 251 millions years ago. The perpetrator wasn't an asteroid or comet, like the impact that wiped out the dinosaurs 65 million years ago and inspired movies such as "Deep Impact" and "Armageddon." Instead it was a cascade of events that began with a monstrous outpouring of hot, reeking lava in Siberia. Repeated floods of lava released massive amounts of carbon dioxide, which produced a runaway greenhouse effect, starved oceans of oxygen and poisoned the atmosphere.

The slaughter is formerly known as the Permian-Triassic Mass Extinction because it marked the end of a multimillion-year geologic period, the Permian, and the beginning of another, the Triassic." It carries on to the very end where Avaton asks the question: "What happened to snuff out life on earth? It is still debated." Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness basically supports that which is presented: a mass-event, a mass-eruption occurred in a region that caused the heavy pollution of the earth's atmosphere with carbon-dioxide, and this was an event that occurred on several locations of the planet, not only on that which is the landmass of Siberia, but it is also seen that another event occurred in that which is the region of the Yellowstone National Park, in a timeframe relatively close, but not simultaneous to the first event.

A One-Two Knockout Punch was Delivered to Our Planet

Both events were a one-two knockout punch that created a hostile atmosphere for most of the life forms indigenous to the planet at that time. It was the ending of a phase if you will, that saw the extinction of life as it was known, but also presented the possibility of new life forming. It should also be noted that while on a geological level this may have been what occurred that pre-empted life on the planet at that time, that caused the extinction of life on the planet at that time, that there have been several distinct periods of life on planet earth that have held various levels of consciousness, even advanced consciousness, and that when an epoch ends, it is as if once the destruction is complete, it never existed in the first place.

A High Race of Beings Evolved—The Elohim

There was a race of beings that evolved to such a high level of consciousness that they were ascended in a process that took them beyond their physicality and their physical existence. These beings are still known as the Elohim and have connections to the Angelic Realm. They were the gods of primitive mankind, and yet their race, their species, their time was before the event described in this article. It is as if their experiment was complete and the board was wiped clean so that a new experiment could begin, a new journey could commence with different life forms.

The dinosaurs also represented a form of consciousness that was perhaps primitive in nature. At that time there were also humans who lived during the times of the dinosaurs and these were those that this Awareness has called the Anunnaki or the Orion-Reptilian breeds, and they had their own civilization at that time which also disappeared when the asteroid that hit the Yucatan peninsula crashed into the earth. It was after this time that a new phase of the experiment began, which is known as the 'modern times', and yet even these modern times have aspects to them that are not recognized as part of recent history, for recent history stretches back only 10 thousand years.

Thus it is that the continent known as Atlantis is not considered, strictly speaking, part of recent history, for many would dispute that such a continent, such a civilization even existed. It is not questionable, for Atlantis and even that which was known as Lemuria existed before the recent history of mankind, and yet because there is not outstanding evidence yet to support that such a continent as Atlantis existed, many hold that such a continent simply did not exist, such a civilization did not exist.

Even recent histories, even going back to those who were the originators of the races that are presently on the planet, much of the histories of these people: the Sumerians, the Indus Valley inhabitants, many of those times are seen as vague reflections in the vales of history and even those people at that time were connected to extraterrestrial beings. The Sumerians literally lived in the shadow of their gods. The Anunnaki built their temples and resided at the top of their Ziggurats so that they could control the masses and the peoples and direct them, and yet none of this is held as real or pertinent by those who hold a revisionist theory of history, who hold that history is something different altogether.

All this Awareness is saying is that there have been many phases to the planet and to her history. There was a mass-extinction many millions of years ago, but this is simply one of many endings that have occurred along the course of the history of this planet. It will not end there either for there is that event that is coming shortly that will also represent an ending to life as it is now known, and when those who inherit the world afterwards look back it will be at one time as if none of those who currently reside on this planet ever truly existed and they will be hard pressed to know there was a mass-civilization here as is currently so.

It is all part of the continual unfolding, the continual drama that is the human experience, but is also the experience of the planet herself: that which is known as Gaia, that which is known as Mother Earth, for she too has had a history and has a history, and she too has a future.

QUESTION:

Fascinating! One question comes to mind. When all is said and done and the future race of humanity referred to- what would they be like? Would they be far advanced? What would they be?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This would indeed depend on which stream of consciousness one would choose to follow. If one would choose to follow along a stream of consciousness that will develop into the experience of that which this Awareness has called Planet B, then one's experiencing of that future timeline will be an extreme one, one of brutality and violence, as one seeks to survive in a harsh landscape and environment, yet the experience of one who would choose to pursue the evolved consciousness of Ascension, who would choose a physical experience more from one's spiritual vibration, only occasionally experiencing physical reality when one chooses to, would be quite a different frame of reference and quite a different experience of a physical future life.

There are also many many variations on the theme that may be experienced by the individual soul as it chooses to have yet another physical experience.

QUESTIONER:

So they too, should they come across anything existing in this 'now', would probably be quite puzzled by what it was used for; would it be safe to say that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Some would. There are others who have a continuance of the human experience that would allow them to reach back, to bring back in time certain tools and apparatus that they could then bury in caverns, could then create as a possible future. This is what the Wingmaker material is about: one timeline that some may experience and some may be part of. It is still not truly understood how expansive consciousness is and what is truly meant by multidimensional consciousness, multidimensional realities.

There are an infinite amount of possibilities. One could take all the sands on this present planet, could take all the sands of all beaches and areas that contain sand right from the dawn of time, and yet this would still not hold all the infinite possibilities that are in existence. It is simply too difficult for the majority of the humanity to truly conceive how complex infinite possibility is, how each individual is in him or herself a collection of infinite possibilities. Even the choices made from day to day will define what will be experienced in the next moment or the next day.

One's tomorrow will be quite different for one if one chose to turn left when walking home, instead of going straight on. Turning left and going an alternate route might take one into a different experience that would set up a different tomorrow than if one had decided to proceed home by a straight-on route. Does this make sense of what this Awareness is trying to say here?

QUESTIONER:

It does, and I was going to ask you to perhaps give a further example of multidimensionality and how this relates to parallel universes.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Parallel universes are universes of other choices that may have been made. As one proceeds along that avenue that is the journey of life, every time there is a choice that is made, in truth, not one individual carries on down the same path, but rather, through the choice, two individuals are created of the same individual. Thus it is that as one needs to make a choice over something, there will be that part of the individual who will have one experience of that choice, but there will also be that other part that has the parallel experience and their lives lead in another direction.

This fragmenting is never noticed. It is not perceived in any physical way. It is as if a piece of consciousness chooses to have an alternate experience and it moves down an alternate timeline, if you will. Even then, each timeline further fractures a myriad amount of times. It is as if one starts off as a trunk of a tree, singular, moving upwards, reaching the first branching of choice, and in that first branch, a new branch begins. The tree trunk continues up, but continues dividing. Each branch continues dividing all along the way. Ultimately a tree is formed, and it is the product of not one single stem, but of a multiple branching.

When one takes this image and extends it downwards, a similar event happens in the roots of the tree, with many branchings underneath the surface. One's life must be viewed in the end as not just one tree trunk, but the entire tree. One needs to see an entire life as an infinite amount of branchings and other choices taken that produce the overall image of a tree, or the overall image of a life. Does this help explain the situation?

QUESTIONER:

Okay. So that's how it relates then to the multidimensional aspect as well. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is true. "As above, so below." As the individual has their own experiencing of the multi-branching of their life's journey, so it is on all levels of consciousness: on the collective level as well as the planetary level, as well as the galactic level, and as well as the universal level.

Questioner:

So when everything is said and done and a person has passed, and they're in spirit...do they recall all of the multidimensionalism or is that not part of their memory?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is part of the overall review. Most individuals are comfortable with a linear way of thinking about this matter. Upon crossing over, one will simply reflect that life that they saw and experienced, thinking it to be a linear process starting from A and advancing to B and beyond B, back into Spirit. In truth, Spirit is infinite in its capacity to see Its multidimensionality. It can see the whole life. This is a difficult concept to conceptualize, and yet it is a concept that is factual to each and every soul as they seek to understand the totality of the life experience.

This Awareness does invite further questions of this most complex theme.

HUBBLE SPACE TELESCOPE SEES STELLAR DESTRUCTION

QUESTION:

I'm sure there will be some. Okay, we have something concerning the Hubble telescope. This is another newspaper article. The headline is "Spacecam Snaps Galaxy Smash-ups." It comes from Washington and reads, "Images of colliding galaxies show them spinning, sliding and slipping into one another, wreaking stellar destruction that will give birth to new and larger galaxies. The Maryland-based Space Telescope Science Institute released 59 new images from the Hubble Space Telescope yesterday to celebrate the 18th anniversary of its launch.

"This new Hubble atlas dramatically illustrates how galaxy collisions produce a remarkable variety of intricate structures in never-before-seen detail," the Institute said in a statement: "Astronomers only observe one out of a million galaxies in the nearby universe in the act of colliding. However, galaxy mergers were much more common long ago when they were closer together, because the expanding universe was smaller."

And it gives the website where this can be found. (<http://hubblesite.org/news/2008/16>.) It takes hundreds of millions of years for galaxies to merge and the light from their stars has traveled for hundreds of millions of years across space. Is this galaxy smash-up true? Is this what happens?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is a true action and observation of an action, even if, by the standards of the speed of light these actions took place millions, even billions of years ago. This Awareness would present it in a different framework that may be more understandable to individuals. For those who have lived by the ocean or visited an ocean, there is a continual surge of water as the waters of the ocean crash in continuously to the beaches and the rocks of the beach. On the surface perhaps it appears that nothing is happening, and yet the continuous wave action against the rocks eventually breaks down those rocks, eventually creates smaller and smaller particles until the grains of sand of the beach are what is left.

While one does not necessarily see this action in a more direct manner, still this action is always occurring. The continual crashing of the waters into the rocks is creating something new. This is the same, in a manner of speaking, as the crashing surging energies of the cosmos, of the galaxies, of the universes, as they continually pound into each other, the ebb and flow of cosmic energies, universal energies, Divine energies, Spiritual energies. The universe and all energies are spiritual energies of the highest nature. The crashing into one another simply creates new life, new possibilities, new scenarios that are part of an ongoing continuous process that is both instantaneous as well as everlasting.

The universe is paradox, and all of life is paradox. If it cannot be understood, it is always about ebb and flow. Nothing remains static, and nothing remains the same. There is always a continual destruction of that which once was so that that which will be can find form, and can be created. Previously this Awareness spoke of another time and place on the planet, another civilization that was eradicated through a mass-act of destruction on the planet that destroyed that which went before, but it also made possible that which followed, that which replaced that which went before.

Ultimately, nothing is lost, for everything still continues and is still held at that level of consciousness that is the Divine, that is the Creator, that is God Almighty, the Prime Source. All of the grandeur, the magic, the splendor, the fury and the upheaval that is the cosmos, that is the galaxy, that is the universe, that is life itself is held at the deepest core level of the Creator, of God Supreme.

Does this explain this concept to a degree that is understandable to the energizer?

IS IT TRUE THERE ARE TWO HUBBLES?

(More on UFOs and the Hidden Government)

QUESTIONER:

(I think it does! Yes.) With regard to the Hubble, this can be a very in-depth type answer, but just true or false, if I may: There is information by John Lear that there is not one Hubble, but there are two. Is this true or false?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is true. There is another Hubble-like telescope that is pointed in a different direction. This Hubble telescope is observing those extraterrestrial forces that are out there. It has the capacity to see into those regions and areas where the extraterrestrial beings that are party to the events on the planet come from. Thus, it can see into the Pleiadean system. It can see into the Orion system, and it can see into the closer planets, such as Mars, where there are still underground bases. It can observe the surface activities in these regions.

A Whole Secret Secondary Organization Exists at NASA

The pointing of this second Hubble is to support the purpose of the hidden government and the Powers That Be. There is a whole secondary organization at NASA with an ulterior hidden agenda, and there are secondary uses for the technology. For example, the shuttlecrafts; it has long been that there are superior space vehicles that have been used by the NASA organization, and that which is presented to humanity, such as the shuttle program is of a limited nature and inferior to that which is actually being used to ferry pilots and crews to the moon, for example. This is so the masses believe that their government has only reached a certain stage of space exploration or even possible space travel when in fact it has already exceeded by a long shot that which is presented as the reality at this time of the space program.

As the present space program comes to a conclusion and the shuttlecrafts are downsized and stored in mothballs, there is already technology that could replace it and will be introduced as if it has just now been produced to replace the aging vessels that have been used over the last several decades, but in truth, those vessels are already available to be used. They simply will not be brought forward until NASA deems that it is the right time. It must also be understood that there will be other ships in advance of the ships that will be produced for mass-consumption, and that there are already vessels and spaceships that employ alien technology.

Most UFOs Have Been Built in Underground Facilities

Most of those vessels that are known as UFO's are actually vessels that have been constructed in underground plants and hangars and facilities on earth. There is an entirely hidden face to that organization known as NASA as well as other equivalent organizations such as the Russian space program also.

IS JOHN LEAR'S INFORMATION TRUE?

QUESTIONER:

So, basically then, all the information, or the majority of information offered by John Lear, whose dad was involved with the Lear jet; he is doing an expose on the Internet, giving some very explosive information, or unusual unique information...this is basically credible then?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Much of that which this individual presents is credible, but it must also be understood that he is being allowed to present such information. If the government that is in control, the hidden government, the Powers That Be truly did not want this information released, then he would simply be removed from the situation.

QUESTIONER:

I wondered about that.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There is a reason why some of this information is being released through such individuals as John Lear, so that when it is needed that technology can jump quickly forward, that those vessels that this Awareness spoke of a moment ago need to be introduced quickly, they can be introduced, because that information was already released, and those who know this information will be able to step forward and point out that this was so, that these ships and vessels, this technology was already available.

It is not seen that strictly speaking John Lear is a source of disinformation, but it is seen that he is a source that is being used, sometimes to even dis-inform. Thus it is that this Awareness would again recommend that even though much of what he is reporting is credible, that questions still be asked. One can be open to what is spoken, but this does not mean that one must then totally accept it all as 100% true.

WHO'S REALLY TELLING THE TRUTH?

QUESTIONER:

There are a lot of sources, a lot of people are speaking, and I sometimes wonder, are they really telling the truth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Many are telling the truth as they understand the truth and as they see the truth. As this Awareness has said previously, basically one must accept that there are many sources of truth and many levels of truth. In the end, each and every individual must sift through the various presentations of truth that are presented to them and choose those truths that work for them as they experience their own individual life and their own individual life journey. The truth shall set you free, but the truth that will set one free will not necessarily set another free.

By being able to sift through truth and truly respond to it at that deepest level of consciousness will determine how an individual advances toward the ultimate truth, if there is such a thing.

QUESTIONER:

So basically it has to resonate with each person individually.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Ultimate Truth VS Personal Truth

This is so. At this time, the Ultimate Truth is that which is comprehended by that which is the Prime Source. When one reaches that level of ultimate truth and understanding, that one will re-merge with that which is the Divine Creator, and there are many versions between Ultimate Truth and that which is personal truth.

QUESTIONER:

Yes. That is understood. Definitely. Wow. We have about 5 minutes left. Would you like to do a closing message?

CLOSING MESSAGE:

THE RESONANCE OF TRUTH

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has been involved today with much discussion about truth, about the seeking of truth, about holding that which may be accepted by others as truth, or may be rejected by others as absurdity and lies. As the energizer spoke a moment ago, the resonance of truth is that which is the most important in one's life and to always go to that which resonates to the individual as a guide to understanding one's personal truth. As one always seeks to refine themselves, they will always seek to refine the truth of their lives.

That which may have been a truth for a majority of one's life may no longer apply. The truth that was held by one's grandparents at the turn of the century is not the truth that guided their children or perhaps now their grandchildren and their great grandchildren. This is not to say that the truth that led a generation several decades ago was the wrong truth, it was simply the truth that was understood and followed at that time. In the times passed there was a more traditional understanding of the Divine. God and Country were considered the truth of one's life, and yet in these times, the consideration of God and Country is again quite different to what it once was.

There Are New Truth and Concepts Today

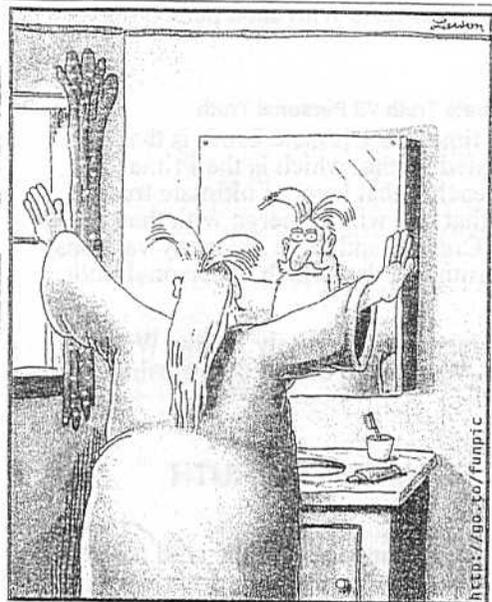

While there are those who try to return to previous truths and the resonance of those truths, this is not possible on a continuing scale, for not everyone chooses to go back to traditional truth and values. There are new truths and concepts and understandings that motivate people at this time. In the end, all that one can truly do is to respond to that which resonates within them, and in responding to this new truth they may find that they will be led forward, and in that forward motion, they will encounter new truth. It is always in a state of evolution, a state of unfolding.

This Awareness does seek to challenge individuals when It shares information with them so that they will question their truth, so that they will revise their truth, so that they will move forward, so that they will evolve, and so that they will eventually ascend. This Awareness does not require that anyone accept the truth of this Awareness for It too is always seeking to understand Its own truth and to advance Itself and evolve Its own consciousness.

This Awareness is complete at this time.

Thank you, that was beautiful and most informative. (The Law of Gratitude is given)
