Does Awareness have an opening message please?

HOW TO DEAL WITH CHAOTIC & STRESSFUL ENERGIES AT THIS TIME

Personal and Collective Agitation That Are Bombarding Our Entire Planet at This Particular Time

This Awareness does indeed have an opening message that wishes to focus on the energies of this time. Many are experiencing very chaotic and even stressful energies at this time. The Interpreter most definitely has been experiencing his own upheaval and chaos over the last few weeks, especially over the weekend and this was a very physical experience for him. It is one that is being matched by many of the readers, the Light Workers and Wanderers, not only the readers of this newsletter and those who hear the words of this Awareness but many who are following a different path.

Physical Ailments and Anxieties & Inner Turmoil

Those who have spiritual sensitivity are finding these times very trying and even difficult: physical ailments and anxieties coming to the forefront, a sense of disquiet, and a sense of inner turmoil. These and many other physical components of a general anxiety are being felt at very personal levels by many individuals. This Awareness wishes it to be noted that this is a subjective way that each and every individual is experiencing the transitory energies that are occurring at this time.

This Awareness spoke of this months before, when It said that the time period from the midpoint in October to the end of November and into December would be chaotic and turbulent times. It spoke that there might even be financial problems once again and the financial market is indeed very chaotic, going up and down very rapidly. There is no stability at this time.

The Swine Flu Manipulation of the Will of People

This is being also reflected in the energies of the manipulation of the will of people to take the vaccination for the swine flu. There is much fear and anxiety that has been created amongst people that is stampeding many to receive their vaccination. This has largely passed, and the energies are somewhat quieter in this regard, but the general agitation on a psychic level that was associated with this event is definitely an energy that is felt across the board by those who have psychic, spiritual sensitivity.

This too is part of the reason why there has been such a stressful and agitated energy that has affected many, mostly on a level that is personal versus that which is collective. Saying this, there is very much a collective agitation that is also occurring at this time and is very observable. What this Awareness would say to this is that this is one reflection of the changing energies of the changing times, that when one begins to have the agitated energies, and feels that their lives are starting to go topsy-turvy, and finds the stress levels in their lives increasing: that is an indication that they are indeed in the midst of the swaying and changing energies.

It's Not Simply a Personal Thing Happening to You (The Dark Force is Amping Up Its Efforts to Control You)

It is imperative at these times now to remember that it is not simply a personal thing that is happening to them, but rather also the manifestation of the chaotic energies, the stressful energies, the fearful energies that are bombarding this planet at this time, that are being amplified on this planet at this time, especially through the activities of those who have charge, those who have power, as they are amping up their efforts to create a situation on the planet where many will start to falter.

Their need to control and be in control is escalating as that moment of acceleration to the Ascension does indeed increase. In other words, as the acceleration moves forward into high gear, those who have dominion, who are in charge, recognize the importance of gaining even greater control in the next months ahead. This has been a time period where there has been a concerted, focused effort to gain an even greater level of control.

The Second Wave of Ra-Ta Energies is Adding to the Chaos

At the same time, this is a period where the consciousness of the second wave of the Ra Ta expression or project was released. This too is cause for a new agitation, a new understanding and awareness because many are starting to awaken to the manipulation, to the false truth that is being projected to the masses. They are uncertain of what to do about this and their own lives are now starting to be affected as their questions grow, and their resolve to understand grows.

These are all part and parcel of the greater picture that is occurring at this time. This Awareness wishes to express that while many are feeling these energies in a personal way, in levels of high stress and agitation where personal physical circumstances are pressing them to the point of distraction, to a point where they might be questioning their own truth and beliefs that they are part of the greater movement of consciousness, the movement toward Ascension; this must be seen as a distraction.

This Awareness fully realizes and understands that when one is going through an anxiety attack, or one is having a physical concern go into an acute situation, it is sometimes difficult to view this event as a distraction, as something that is taking one's attention away from the deeper truth of what is occurring on the planet at this time. It is as if one becomes wrapped up in the moment, so much so that the physical distress that one might be feeling takes precedence over a deeper level of knowing what is ahead, knowing that when one passes through that which is the physical distress of the moment, one will come to the other side, and one will achieve a new level of awareness and understanding which will then reflect itself in a new level of one's own physical experience.

Seek Out Natural Solutions at Health Food Stores & Naturopaths When Distressed, Ill or Having a Panic Attack

It is difficult to hold the higher more lofty ideals in mind and in front of one when one is going through a panic attack, when one is ill, or when one is finding that they are in physical distress or discomfort. There are remedies and solutions to these situations, and this Awareness does recommend that many who are finding themselves in such a situation go to the health farms, the health food stores, the naturopaths, those who would help with natural alternative solutions.

The use of vitamin D at this time is very important to bring the energies of the sun into the body, that there are other natural remedies, minerals and vitamins that are very beneficial to those who are going through high stress at this time, and a visit to a health food store or a naturopath will bring to one these remedies.

There are many that can be taken to assist the individual in the journey at this time, but what is most important is that one takes the time when one is feeling in such a stressful situation to meditate and relax, to soothe one's anxieties by deeply breathing, going deeper within, even praying to that which is the highest Source, that which is Almighty God, Creator and Source of all; to the divine aspect and element that is the Godhead, the God force, All That Is; to re-pledge one's self to one's spiritual purpose, spiritual destiny, to reaffirm that despite the physical situation that they do need to stay focused to the greater picture, they do need to see beyond the wall.

Confronting the Wall: The Final Barrier to Ascension

It is as if many have come to the wall that is the final barrier to Ascension, the wall that separates one from the new reality, the new paradigms of belief that will define that which is Ascension and that will mark that which is the ascended state of consciousness. Standing at the wall, nose to the wall prevents individuals sometimes from understanding how to get through the wall.

They see it as the immediate obstacle that is in their face that blocks them and prevents them at this moment. It is a total focus on the momentary experience of being blocked, being distracted, being prevented from moving forward. This can very much be a stressful experience for those experiencing that blocked energy and disruptive energy.

The trick is not to focus on the wall immediately in front, not to be totally immersed in the experience of the moment, especially a physical distracting chaotic experience; but rather to see beyond the wall, to see oneself in that state of advanced consciousness, of Ascension, and to understand that by projecting the imagination forward and beyond the wall is the best way to go through the block and the barricade.

By seeing oneself on the other side and holding this to be the truth that defies the physical block in front of one that is the impediment to one's progress, one will transcend the blocking wall, and one will go across the chasm and the precipice, the edge of which the individual may be standing at. These are seen as ways forward in this time when there is a concerted effort by those who have charge to disrupt totally and completely those Light Workers and Wanderers, those spiritual adventurers who have reached such an advanced point that they are ready to transcend, even ascend at this time.

Why We Can't Let Physical Circumstances Block or Let Us Forget Our Spiritual Purpose and Chosen Path

If one can be blocked by physical circumstances, a physical experience that distracts them to such a degree that they forget what their spiritual purpose is, then those who have charge and dominion, who are trying to prevent the evolution of human consciousness, are indeed the victors, they are those who have won the war. However, this is simply not so. This Awareness says that these are exciting times, that even with the high level of personal distress one may experience, even though one is standing with their nose flush against that hard wall of what is called reality, even if one stands at the edge of the precipice that they need to leap over, that they need to step out into; it is still a point of arrival.

These stressful times and the events of the planet as well as personal events are actually indicative of the fact that one has progressed to this point. It shows that things are indeed happening, and that one is in an attunement to the times themselves if they are feeling stressed out or disturbed by their personal lives and the events of the world. These must be seen for what they are: indicators that things are moving forward, things are shifting into high degree.

This is the time now where it would be very easy to be distracted, it would be very easy to take a safer route, one that is less stressful, one that does not demand so much of the individual. It would be easy to simply say: I give up, I do not wish to struggle so, and I do not wish to be in such pain. This is the easy route at this time and one that most definitely will be a lure to many.

This Awareness cannot say to each and every individual that they must press on, that they must endure. For for some it may simply be too much, and this Awareness honors and respects each individual and the choice that they must make for themselves. However, this Awareness does wish all to understand that exactly at the time where the path becomes the hardest, where the challenges are the greatest is the time of biggest gain, the time for true breakthroughs.

At this time there are those guides and forces that are external to the human condition, to the physical state of being that are seeking to guide and assist those who have reached this point, this point of entrapment, this point where it is necessary to burst through the bubble of delusion that has always surrounded them, and that surrounds human consciousness. It is the time to break free of the box of reality that most people reside in, a time to truly question the paradigms of belief that govern the reality of these times.

All of this is necessary to burst through to that which lies beyond, that which is the new state of affairs that await those who have made the transition, and who will make the transition; so that these times, even though stressful, even though demanding, even though challenging, must also be seen as exciting, for they indicate how far the individual has come, how far the collective has come and how close now one and all are to breaking through.

Now Grab Hold of the Hand of Cosmic Awareness

Therefore, at this time of personal challenge, even crisis, this Awareness extends Its energetic hand to one and all, asking that they grab hold, allowing those forces of this Awareness, those forces of the Divine that are seeking to assist those who are ready to shift and move, to be assisted, to allow the hand of the Divine to pull them through the barrier so that they can exceed that which blocks them, so that they can break through that which holds them back.

These are exciting times, even though they may be challenging times. They are indeed times of great hope and great upliftment. This Awareness asks one and all to remember this as they go through these challenging, exciting times. Remember also that it is at this point that one must truly begin to believe that they will be okay, that all will be fine, and that even with the challenges that one faces, one can indeed go through them, and can be successful in times of challenge.

Equally, it is a time where those who have power would hope to delude those who seek the higher levels of consciousness; would trap once again those who are seeking to depart that which is mankind's standard level of awareness or consciousness. It is easily done. There is much information available on the television, on the radio, and over the Internet that would hold one to a belief system that there is no great beyond, there is only pain and suffering, there is only loss and disease and distress and despair.

This is part of the problem of becoming too absorbed in the moment the times themselves, for it is easy to lose sight of the fact that there is a higher redemption available, that there is a higher destination available to those who feel it and know it within, and to become entrapped in the momentary illusion of the chaotic energies that surround one and all, and that are part of the collective fabric of these times.

Don't Focus on These Chaotic Times, Focus on Ascension

By focusing on these chaotic events, by believing the leaders of the nations, by putting into their hands one's fate and one's destiny, there is the direct possibility that's one will indeed become entrapped in the chaos of the times, and will believe that reality is what is being defined and shown to them every day over the media, every day in the events that are unfolding around them. This is to be caught up again in the illusion of physical reality, and to be lost in that is to lose one's way.

It is for this reason that this Awareness says that these are times of great choices also; not to be distracted, not to allow even one's own personal situations of challenge to disrupt the individual in their attempt to move forward. The choice needs to be made always that one will stay focused on that which is ahead, even though that which is ahead has not proven itself yet in a physical way. That which proves itself every day as the physical reality is indeed the illusion, even though it parades as the truth and as the reality that most people adhere to and cling to.

It is a time of juxtaposition, where that which is called reality is illusion, and that which is considered not yet realized, untrue. Yet that which is untrue for it is not realized, does not mean it is not the truth of what lies ahead, and one must stay focused to what will be, and not apparently what is. For to hold to what is, is to subscribe to the illusion of this mass fantasy, this mass illusion that so many hold as the real thing.

It is not the real thing, it is simply a momentary experience of an illusionary nature, and it is important to remember this and not to focus on what is told to one over the newscast, through the press, over the radio or even through the lips of friends and colleagues. It is indeed a very exciting time, but it is also a challenging time.

Have faith, and hold to that which is the deepest truth within one, and know that there are many who are seeking to assist in this process of Ascension, this breakthrough period of time that many are going through at the moment. The times are changing, and this Awareness asks you always to remember this, and to hold to this, and to know that that which is around you presently is that which is in the process of also changing, and that is that. This Awareness is complete with Its opening message.

BENJAMIN FULFORD: HOW VALID IS HIS LATEST INFORMATION?

QUESTION:

Obama's Rule Will End in January or February?

Thank you. That was very meaningful and will help many members understand just what is going on. Thank you.)

I have some questions here that came from Avaton and Ted Helinski. Could you please offer comments regarding the validity of the Benjamin Fulford findings?

I'll go through it one at a time and if you could offer comments if there are any. The first one is: Obama's rule will end in January or February as part of the desperate Fed gambit. Any comment on that one?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

As this Awareness spoke Its opening message about the crisis of the times, the challenge of the times, the chaos of this time; that there is indeed a stream of thought that is seeking manifestation. There are those who are still opponents to that individual who is the current president of the United States of America and who would seek to destroy him and assassinate him.

This is one scenario that is possible in these chaotic times. This Awareness does not give full energy to this event, but It does see it as a possibility by those who are oppositional to the president. This Awareness is not simply speaking about Republicans who would seek to have the president eliminated, but rather by those factions within the governments themselves who are opposed to the plans that one group has been effecting over the last several months.

Many Factions Want Obama Out—Like the Vulturites

There are factions within factions, and groups within groups. There are those who are called the Vulturites, those who would seek to throw over the existing president for they were never in support of him. This political fight was that which one saw between the entity Hillary Clinton and Obama. It was in truth two different groups coming together and opposing each other for control and leadership.

Removing Obama Could Make Hillary Clinton President

After the election apparently all was settled, and the two groups came back together, and yet this is not entirely the truth. The defeated group, the camp that supported Hillary Clinton is still seeking a way to regain power and to put their individual, Hillary Clinton into power; and the assassination of President Obama is one such planned action. It is not seen entirely that it will be a successful action. It is seen simply as one of the actions that are planned at this time, and there is some energy to the original statement presented to this Awareness.

THE NAZI-ZIONIST PLAN TO TAKE DOWN OBAMA

QUESTIONER:

Thank you. This next paragraph could offer additional information, I don't know if it is correct. It reads: The Nazis and the Zionists who have taken over the US government are planning to take down President Obama in either January or February according to both CIA and MI6 sources. The takedown will either be through a trial about his citizenship due on January 26 (MI6) or else through "acute terminal cancer" (CIA).

VP Biden may also suffer from a heart attack around the same time, opening the way for Mossad agent Nancy Pelosi to be president and Mossad agent Rahm Emanuel to be vice president, the two sources concur. Comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Again this Awareness is saying that there are factions fighting against each other for the complete control of the US government from the highest level down, in particular around the office of the president of the United States as well as the vice president position. The difference that this Awareness is seeing is that the plan would still be to put the entity Hillary Clinton into power, versus the speaker of the house, Nancy Pelosi. This is not seen as accurate by this Awareness nor the true plan. There are many variations on the theme. This Awareness still recommends that those who are seeking the spiritual ascension stay focused on their own personal journey before they get drawn too deeply into these politically muddied waters. It is imperative and important to know of these events but not to become obsessed by these events. If such events do occur, one is to see that this is evidence that there is political infighting and that there is a war raging amongst those who are in charge and who have control.

Why the Infighting is a Positive Thing

This is indeed a positive fact, not a negative one; positive in that it means that those who have power are not united in their actions, are not united as a front that would bulldoze their way forward, irregardless of anything else. Because there is infighting, because there is corruption and manipulation from within, it makes it possible to overcome the very people who are in charge. It is an Achilles' heel, for they always fight amongst themselves and this can indeed be turned to the greater advantage, for it means that there will not be an organized, unified front at these times of deep and powerful change.

Again, this is one of the reasons that this Awareness says these are exciting times, even to see and hear of such political infighting that is most definitely very serious in nature, serious to the point where there are plans for assassination and overthrow of the existing government. But if such events happen, again one needs to be more focused on their own personal journey and self discovery, as opposed to becoming totally fanatical about the events in government, for this is part of the distraction that this Awareness spoke of earlier.

THE PHONY GOLD THE FED SOLD THE CHINESE

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you). On the economic part, his next paragraph, "In the meantime, the Federal Reserve crime syndicate and the Bank of England are trying to prolong their lives by lying once again about the gold-coated tungsten bars shipped to the Chinese and elsewhere. The story is now "those tungsten bars were just for security and the real gold is located somewhere else. Don't worry, we will get it for you soon". Now the feds are scouring the earth trying to locate people who are dumb enough to trade gold for their toxic financial waste.

The owners of the world's gold are determined not to give them even an ounce. They have been receiving desperate calls from the World Bank, the IMF and many central banks, but none of them will get gold, the gold owners say. So meetings due on January 6 and January 29 about settling gold future contracts may well trigger the bankruptcy of the Federal Reserve Board and the Bank of England. And on an aside of this, there was a mention in our paper that there was missing gold from the Royal Canadian mint, not stolen as indicated by the RCMP: approximately $15.3 million dollars. And I'm wondering: did this by chance go to China's new financial system or to help this other situation just spoken of?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

First, in relation to the last question, it went to those who are holding back the gold for themselves. It must be remembered that all national banks are owned by those who have power, those who are the Elite. It is this group who is seeking not to honor certain agreements to pay back certain debts.

Why George H. Bush Began the Ft Hood Shooting (The "Berserk Psychiatrist Was a Mind-Control Coverup)

This is why the entity George H. Bush, Senior Bush, did engage an action at Fort Hood where they attempted to steal gold that was destined for China. This caused a military action to occur, an armed action where individuals were killed. It was for this reason that the mind control agent was activated; the psychiatrist who allegedly went berserk and who allegedly killed people in the name of the Muslim cause, the terrorist cause.

This was but a cover-up to the real action that was taking place to stave off giving gold over to the Chinese. In a manner of speaking, these are desperate actions by those who have power, and it is indicative of their losing the control and the power that they have had for so long. It is a shift of power to the Chinese and to other power players and other groups that are now playing the game, and those who were the power brokers for so long are sore losers. They do not wish to lose their hold. They do not wish to lose their power.

Therefore they do not wish to honor their debts or shift power to the new player on the block: China. As a result, they are taking many actions against paying off these debts; they are handing over tungsten bars that are coated with gold, in the hopes that the Chinese would not discover this action, assuming that they were being paid in pure gold.

$15 Million Has Been Stolen From the Canadian Mint

They are also stealing money from the Canadian mint, $15 million at this time, offering the excuse that it was a miscalculation of the amount of gold in the mint. This is a fabrication; this is a lie. The money was indeed stolen by those who have power, those who are the Elite.

The action in Fort Hood has already been discussed, but this too is an action of defiance, an action of desperation against losing power at this time. It is as if the game that was assumed to be theirs for so long, which is now close to conclusion is slipping away from them, causing desperate measures to be taken, measures that are meant to delay the loss, for they understand and realize also that there is a point coming soon where the world will collapse totally and completely, and they wish to still stay in charge of their patch, if you will, and to take as many with them as possible to serve them, and to be used by them. And yet so much is slipping, so much is coming apart at the seams.

This is Exciting and Welcome News!

This is exciting news and news that should be welcomed by those who are being told of these events, those who are becoming aware of the machinations of power behind the scenes, and the disruption of those powers.

MORE WARS BEING PLANNED?

(But Wars Cost Money and the U.S. is Broke)

QUESTIONER:

This one is: "US military faction seeks to start new wars in order to solve financial crisis. With the bankruptcy of the Federal Reserve Board imminent, a powerful faction in the Pentagon and the CIA would like to start several wars in a desperate attempt to keep the United States of America Corporation going, a CIA source says. The problem with this plan, of course, is that wars cost money and the US has no money to pay for them." And on the radio as I was driving over it mentioned that President Obama does in fact have plans and he's going to address the nation on Tuesday, this coming Tuesday. Your comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The plans of the US military economic/ industrial power structure would indeed favor the commencement of war at an escalated level. This is a time-honored solution that has been played several times in the past, most notably with the first and second world wars, both wars coming hard on the heels of major depression and recession times.

The Military Industrialists are Also The Elite—The Powers-That-Be

These times are most definitely times where a military action would be favored by the military/industrial complex as the best solution. It would gear up production of arms, which would make those who are the arms manufacturers much money. But of course those who are the military industrialists are those who are also the Elite: the Rockefellers, the Rothschilds, the Windsors and the Bushes and other such families.

However, this is the old paradigm solution, and it would not work at this time, for unlike previous times the Powers-That-Be who once controlled the banks are now losing control of the banks. The monies are not in the banks, but are in the Federal Reserve at this time, and they have been liquidated through the actions of the Bush family and others who have had power over the last 20 – 30 years. Therefore the planned action of the US military/industrial complex could not achieve the results that previous wars once achieved.

Orion Reptilians Behind the Scenes Feed on Bloody Events

Another reason for the option of going to war being seen as a favorable option is that many would die; many would be maimed and injured. It is to be remembered that the reptilian energies are best served when there are many victims, when there is much pain and much sorrow and much devastation. Those extraterrestrials that are behind the scenes feed off of such events. It is as if they are feasting in times of desperation, despair, mayhem and chaos. This is something that they would wish to do once again, at the same time restoring the coffers and asserting even greater power and control. This simply is not seen by this Awareness as an effective action in the times as they are now, and yet is also part of the old way thinking that marks the Elite, the Powers-That-Be, that marks the military/industrial complex that is the power of the land.

THE BLACK DRAGON SOCIETY

(Who Are These Guys? And What are they Up to?)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you.) There is reference that the Black Dragon Society is offering a much better alternative: $6 trillion to invest in developing the over 6000 patents suppressed by the Washington DC satanic establishment. The fund would be available only after the criminal organization known as the Federal Reserve Board is dismantled.

Questions on this: First of all, who is the Black Dragon Society? Who are they associated with, and what is their premise?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness will answer this question first. It is seen that this is a group of individuals who see from a very enlightened angle that which would be a truly favorable path to follow, a path that would introduce many new ideas, much new technology, and a shift in consciousness to the planet at this time. It is seen that there are enlightened beings behind the Black Dragon organization that wish to remain anonymous at this time, and this Awareness will not divulge further the identity of the Black Dragon Society. Be it known however, that they are members who are working for the freeing of the world and the citizens of the planet.

QUESTIONER:

So they are worldwide rather than centered from one country then, is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed this is so.

THE GENIE OF NEW TECHNOLOGY

(Releasing Long-Repressed Technology Will Change the World?)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you) It carries on with this particular part: "The shortsighted, criminally insane gangsters who infiltrated and took over the United States have held back human progress by 100 years. Once they are gone, the genie of new technology will be released from its bottle.

Do you have comments on the overall, the release of patents and the other part, new technology?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has a comment. When has this Awareness failed to have a comment? (Energizer is laughing). This Awareness would say that the viewing of a technological route to salvation is but one variation of the theme that this Awareness has spoken on previously.

This Awareness has said there will be many ways forward in the times ahead, that the Ascension process will extend from that which is the purest level of Ascension, the Ascension of consciousness into the multidimensional layers and levels that each individual can access, that this level of pure ascension will see a transformation of the world from the point of personal evolution. This would be that which is the highest level of ascension to that which this Awareness has called planet A, or the philosophy, the mindset of Ascension that will govern planet A.

It has also said that there will be many variations on the theme, and that which is presented here is but one of the variations that would see evolution in technological terms, that salvation will come through the onrush of technology that is being suppressed at this time, that technology will make for a better lifestyle, a higher standard of living that will free one and all from the drudgery that is the human condition at this time.

This Approach Omits the Spiritual Understanding

However, the failing here is that this approach does not incorporate the spiritual understanding and awareness of mankind's true nature; it is simply an artificial way of making life better. It would be closer to the midpoint of the continuum of evolution between that which this Awareness has called planet A and that which this Awareness has called planet B. It is being favored by many who are true advocates of technology as the way forward. But these individuals fail to comprehend the significance of spiritual development and the breaking free and the breaking through of the barriers of restriction of the physical third dimensional realm.

This approach could equally fall on the negative side of the continuum from the midpoint. In other words, technology could then also be corrupted, to be used against mankind and indeed used to entrap them even further in the physical material spectrum of existence. This too could be a variation on the theme that could easily develop by those who have a negative mindset or are corrupted by those who would seek to hold power as a way of experiencing the physical material realm.

A Delightful Variation but Don't Become Too Focused On It

This Awareness says simply: as far as a variation of the theme goes, this one is a delightful one to be aware of, but not to become too focused, too stuck in it as the true solution, for this will only lead a technological answer, and not to a true spiritual experience, not to the true ascension of one's spirit and soul.

CHINA TO REPLACE U.S. DOLLAR

(And Federal Reserve Note to Fall to Three Cents)

QUESTIONER:

I see). There are two other headings. The first one is:

"China is proposing to replace the US dollar with the Hong Kong dollar or yen. And the other one: The Federal Reserve Note will fall to three cents by January." Is there any validity to both of these?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There is indeed validity to both statements. The Chinese do indeed propose a new currency based on their gold reserves that they are starting to collect, and as they have achieved much of the gold of the world already, it is a valid currency that could well replace the American currency which is in a very weak state and a very tentative state. As for the American dollar falling to such a low level, it is not seen at this time that this will manifest itself in the month of January.

U.S. Dollar Will Collapse When the Amero is Introduced

It is seen that a devaluation of the American dollar is already progressing, but it is not seen that it will collapse so. It will collapse to this level once that which is the Amero is introduced, for the American dollar will be abandoned in favor of the Amero, and therefore there will be an exchange of American dollars to a unit of financial measure that is the Amero, where the exchange may be 5 to 1, or something of this nature.

The Amero will then take over for that which is the American dollar, the Canadian dollar and the Mexican peso, and it will become the currency of North America. This is the plan at this time, that it is seen by this Awareness as the former currencies of the three nations will not have any value, and will still be available, but at such a reduced level that it is not viable to trade in those currencies beyond that point.

The American dollar will be the most affected of the three currencies; the Canadian dollar is seen growing in strength and may indeed still be available as an alternate currency in the country of Canada, the Amero a secondary currency that could also be used at the same time. A similar situation exists in the nation of the United Kingdom, where the British pound still is used, but the Euros also are available for those who wish to pay with Euros, the European currency that is also used in England aside from the British pound.

QUESTIONER:

So that the Yen, the Euro, the Amero would be the main currency...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Chinese plan is to create a similar currency as the Euro or the Amero that would be applicable for Asia.

QUESTIONER:

I see. That wouldn't be the yen then, is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is not seen what it would be called at this point. It may be the yen, but it would not be the yen in its present format.

QUESTIONER:

So all of these people who are coin collectors then, is this all irrelevant?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is an entirely different matter. Collecting anything puts value on that object because it is desired by those who give it value. It is seen that coin collections, the collecting of rare and unique coins will still hold value to those who collect such things, and will still be traded and have value.

It is the same as baseball cards. They mean nothing to a majority of individuals but those who favor these cards, and who hold them as precious, will pay great amounts of money for exceptionally rare trading cards. Yet many would not understand why the fascination exists, when they are simply old pictures of old ballplayers from previous times. This is not how a true trading card collector would see it.

QUESTIONER:

The same as antiques then?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Indeed, antiques are yet another way of putting value on objects that not all would value.

1 MILLION TROOPS RECALLED TO PREPARE FOR A CIVIL WAR IN U.S.

(Violence to Explode When People Learn Economy Is Bankrupt)

QUESTIONER:

(I see) Okay, another one from Avaton and Ted Helinski this Wednesday's headlines, this comes as reported by Sorcha Faal and as reported to her Western subscribers. The headline is: "Obama orders 1 million US troops to prepare for Civil War." And this is quite interesting: "Russian military analysts are reporting to Prime Minister Putin today that U.S. President Barack Obama has issued orders to his Northern Commands top leader, U.S. Air Force General Gene Renuart, to "begin immediately" increasing his military forces to 1 million troops by January 30, 2010 and what these reports warn is an expected outbreak of civil war within the United States before the end of winter."

The next paragraph is also applicable: "According to these reports, Obama has had over these past weeks "numerous" meetings with his war council about how best to manage the expected implosion of his nation's banking system while at the same time attempting to keep the United States military hegemony over the world in what Russian military analysts state is a "last-ditch gambit" whose success is "far from certain".

It carries on. Do you want to hear the rest first?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Please proceed.

(Thank you.) And to Obama's "last-ditch gambit", these reports continue, "He is to announce in a nationwide address to his people this coming week that he is going to extend the level of US military forces in Afghanistan by tens of thousands of troops, while at the same time using the deployment of these soldiers as a "cover" for returning to the United States over 200,000 additional American soldiers from the over 800 bases in over 39 countries they have stationed around the globe, bringing the level of these forces in America to over 1 million, a number the US military believes will be able to contain the "explosion of violence" expected to roil these peoples when they learn their economy has been bankrupted."

Shall I carry on?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is a possible scenario, and this Awareness wishes to emphasize this: a possible scenario. Indeed, the collapsing of the financial system will cause tremendous disparity in the United States of America, and will cause situations where many will lose all and be desperate to lash out at those who they call the perpetrators of these crimes, for it will be seen as crimes by the governments that were elected previously, the governments that were entrusted with the futures and the lives of the citizens of the United States, and many will want blood. Many will want to see the criminals brought down and justice be served.

It is seen that in its ultimate expression a state of anarchy could erupt, and it is this that the leaders and the government wishes to be prepared for, for they are indeed the criminals who have been perpetuating and controlling a situation, advancing the situation toward the total collapse of the banking system and the economy, and forcing the nation into the One World Government economy that is currently planned.

For this reason, the statements have validity, and these are simply preparations that are being undertaken to ensure that if this explodes the way that it is forecast to explode, they would have the troops on the ground needed to suppress such actions. However, in alignment with what this Awareness says continuously, It asks those who know of these events and this prediction, to not obsess over it, not to focus on it, and not to believe in its validity to the degree that one awaits for this to occur.

Don't Wait For This to Occur—Take a Different Perspective

It is now that one must stand in a different position on the ladder of events, and must look at it from a different perspective, to change one's own experiencing of the experiences of the individual life. In other words, one can stay focused on such reports, can buy into them and become so obsessed by them that they are simply awaiting this to unfold in the belief that it will be so.

This Awareness says it is a possible scenario, not the scenario. Those who hold it as the scenario for it makes such sense of things that are unfolding in the presses and over the airwaves, must be careful, lest they forget they have the power to shift their focus, and that they have the power to energize a different possible future for themselves, a different set of scenarios.

Therefore, it is recommended that even though this may be one possibility, that one continues to remember that one can choose not to be at the full effect of this experience, and that one can say, "No, this will NOT be my reality. It is a possibility, and even if it does occur, I do not have to participate in the anarchy, in the overthrow, in the retaliatory actions of our own troops on our own citizens. I do not have to be part of this. I do not have to experience this reality. I will choose to stay focused in my reality, where the possibility is much different, where the outcome will be completely different."

This is important to realize at this point, for it is at this point that one can make an effective choice in the matter. It was once said that given a lever long enough, one could move the planet, and disrupt the planet from its orbit even. That statement applies here, for if one wishes to hold the lever, and to shift one's focus away from the planned set of events that many are buying into, this would be a time when it would be easier, for the leverage is there to shift one's consciousness and one's focus versus when the lever becomes shorter and shorter as you become more entrapped in the illusion of reality that is guided by those who have power, those who would seek to control how one sees events and how one believes in events, so that it supports their version of reality.

It is as if those who have power understand this fully and completely and wish to persuade many to accept their beliefs, so that they are supported and energized by those who would buy into the belief system, and thus make it so. This is a very essential moment, a point of leverage where one can shift their focus away from what they are reading and hearing and are exposed to, to one that is in alignment to a deeper understanding and awareness, guided from higher sources, from multidimensional sources of Spirit, of the Divine Itself, of God Almighty Itself.

It is a choice, and it is a crucial choice to be understood and made at this time. It will be easier from this point at this time to decline the opportunity to believe in the projected scenarios that are being offered by the media and the press, and to see another way forward, a way that each individual can find their own level of expanded awareness and consciousness and their own level of ascension.

FOR THOSE WHO "WILL STAND UP AND FIGHT FOR FREEDOM!"

QUESTIONER:

Question please. Being aware of this, is it also applicable to say that Canada, the British Isles, Australia or any other continents would be also so afflicted?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

A Degree of Absurdity When You Buy the Rhetoric of the Elite

Indeed, this is so. Ultimately one can choose to see power outside of themselves in the hands of those who have power, who have traditionally manipulated events, and have told the people that this is what is happening and that one must stand up and fight for freedom. One must go to another land and fight for democracy, to save democracy in one's own land. There is a degree of absurdity to the concept of going to another country to protect democracy in one's own land, of being an aggressor, an invader of another nation and its sovereignty in order to protect freedom in one's own land.

Those Who Believe Become Cannon Fodder & Pawns in the Game

And yet, many believe this is so, for they have bought into the rhetoric that those who have power, those who are the spin-doctors have presented to the people. They believe that to be patriotic is to go to war in Iraq or Afghanistan or anywhere else that the government says they must fight in order to protect democracy. The absurdity of this is such, that to those who see through it, it is all but too obvious. Those who do not see through it are then subject to being the pawns of the game, the fodder for the cannons that will destroy them when they go to the nations, returning home without any thanks and/or support from the very ones who used them as cannon fodder.

Those With Higher Consciousness See This as a Totally Absurd and Unsupportable Illusion

This is a situation that those on higher levels of consciousness see as totally absurd and unsupportable, and it is why there is such a push to help many see through this illusion, this distortion of reality, and to ask questions, to look deeply within themselves, to become self-centered and focused on their own growth and development towards a higher capacity of awareness, and a higher level of consciousness.

When one reaches the higher levels of awareness and consciousness, it becomes all too obvious. The absurdity becomes too plain, and they cannot support the actions of those who have power, but stand then in opposition, even in the lack of supporting such a concept or reality and such belief systems. Opposition does not necessarily mean military action, it simply means that one takes their energy away from those who control, those who manipulate, those who design the events and would have all believe that they are unavoidable, inescapable.

They most definitely are avoidable, they are most definitely escapable; and the escape, the avoidance comes by not supporting, not believing, and not choosing to become immersed in the paradigms of beliefs that are being offered in these matters.

President Obama Just a Figurehead, A Puppet On a String

This Awareness wishes to make a further comment about President Obama. The report did say that President Obama was committing tens of thousands. What this Awareness would like to point out is that Obama, even though he is the president, is but a figurehead, a puppet on a string. He will indeed make announcements to this nature and to this issue, but it is not President Obama who is making the decisions, he is simply the figurehead leader who will then implement those decisions made by the faction of power that control him, that have the true power behind him.

QUESTIONER:

He's actually powerless then, is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

To a degree this individual is somewhat powerless. This Awareness has long maintained that he is a puppet on a string, and has been under control by the Powers-That-Be. It has also maintained that this man has certain powers within him, certain energies of Spirit within him, and that if he were released from the strings, you would see him rise to his truest power, his truest integrity.

He does have a capacity for this, it is simply not yet seen by this Awareness whether this will become so or not. It is seen that there are certain actions on his part that are somewhat defiant against the very powers that control and manipulate through him, but he must be very careful, for he can easily be replaced, his family exterminated, and the efforts he would achieve totally obliterated and nullified. He has only a very narrow window of opportunity within which to act.

QUESTIONER:

You really have to respect this man! You know, having that held over him.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness does not say that the president is an evil man, a dark man. It does say that he does come from a place where he was seeking his own best interests and did subscribe to the power structure that is in existence in the United States and in the world. This is a man in the know; this is not an ignorant man. This is a man who might achieve great things, and yet it is not yet seen that this will be so.

ZETA REPTOIDS WORKING FOR THE LIGHT—(ZETA TALK REPORTS)

QUESTIONER

I see. Thank you. Now we go on to a question from Ted Helinski? This is an entirely different topic. It concerns the e-mail list of Zeta Talk by Godlike Production Live. Several pertinent questions have been activated by Ted for Awareness' comments and are broken down as follows. He writes:

"I've been monitoring this site for some time and they seem to be very accurate about things that later appear in the news. My question is: What is the source of their knowledge? Is it Zetas who are the "good guys" as they claim? Even CA has said that some Zeta/Reptoids are working for the Light both in the newsletter and in my personal readings through Will. So that's not entirely out of the question. The question:

Are those involved with this group sincere in their presentations or have they become infiltrated by those with a hidden agenda? Comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is seen largely that those who are behind this organization are sincere in their actions. They are part of that which could be called the Fifth Column, the fifth estate; that group of individuals of extraterrestrial order as well as human order, who are seeking to oppose those who have power, those who are in charge. It is a very secretive organization. It does include that which was previously referred to as the Black Dragon, as well as others who are part of other groups.

Therefore, the information that they receive often comes from sources deep within the organization that are then released to those who would release it through the newscast, the newsletter, the website.

QUESTIONER:

I see) He carries on: "However, you then have the problem of so many areas where this source says something much different than Cosmic Awareness and many other channels who are supposedly coming from a high source. For example, the Zetas claim that many of the other sources for channels (it mentions specifically the Pleiadians) don't have the heart to tell humans the truth about what is about to happen to them."

Comment please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Again, this is beginning to become apparent to those who can see and discern what this Awareness has long been talking about, as various themes that are available, various scenarios that could become a focus if one wished. It is not seen that this group is without distractors, without those who would misdirect; there are those within the organization. It does have some high-level sources from which it gains its information and then releases it. But at the same time this is one variation on the theme. They see things in a certain way, and if you subscribe to the points of view and beliefs that are offered by these beings, then they will be different to those held by the Pleiadians who have no heart to express the truth. This is not necessarily correct. The Pleiadians are sharing with those who wish to hear a truth of a very profound nature, for they are making available to those who are subject to Pleiadian sources, insights and awareness of how to shift their realities, and how to not become embroiled in such controversial and stereotypical views and patterns of belief.

As such, this Awareness is suggesting that one be very diligent and careful in believing too deeply any one source; that one taste from here, taste from there, taste from everywhere else and see what one feels is that which supports them as individuals in their own journey of growth and development.

When one subscribes only to one source, the danger is that if there are any factions within that source that would cause a misdirection of the truth, when one has subscribed to that truth already, the misdirection will take them further afield, will detour them away from the truth of the matter, and the truth of the matter is not what is happening out there, but what is happening within oneself.

When one puts their power to events outside of themselves, when they define themselves and their reality by those events, by those actors in the scenarios themselves, and when they put too much attention and focus to them, they are prone to be trapped in the realities that are presented, becoming players in that reality, their beliefs become completely immersed in that which is the truth presented by the group that they are most occupied with.

When one tastes from many sources and develops their own understanding of the events that are unfolding, and when one seeks to grow within, expanding one's consciousness and one's awareness, one will come to a point where they can truly see the truth that is being presented as valid or invalid. One could read the information provided by the Zetas, one could read the newsletters of the Black Dragon group or any other factions that are presenting information, and make a judgment based on an inner sense of truth, an inner alignment to higher truths and higher consciousness.

This is the best way of freeing oneself of ever being entrapped by those who profess to hold the truth and speak only the true truth. This is not seen as a valid approach, to simply believe one group or one individual and forgo one's own inner growth and development, one's own inner journey.

QUESTIONER:

Okay, on the theme of if in fact humanity creates its own reality...

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness will intrude on the statement the Energizer has made. It would be more valid to say if the individual creates his own reality, for it is ultimately each and every individual who makes the choice of what they wish to believe in. That which is believed is that which will manifest itself, and show itself; that which will be supported by the actions and beliefs of others, that which society will show as the paradigms of belief that support the reality that most tie into.

Most individuals do not come from a place of inner inspection or that understanding that the power lies within them. They give their own power away, and they believe the reports, the outside events that surround them, never ever realizing or seeing that as the individual creator gods they are, they create their reality through the focus of their beliefs.

QUESTIONER:

Okay. That's their reality that this is not going to happen to them, but when the rug is pulled out from under the feet, so to speak, how can a person not acknowledge or be aware of the suffering of others while remaining smug or complacent in their own comfort zone of the reality that has been created by them, that such does not occur?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

The Energizer is indeed confused on what this Awareness is saying. This Awareness is not suggesting that one have a smug, complacent attitude towards the sufferings of other human beings, for this would not show an enlightened attitude or an evolved understanding of the situation. This Awareness is also not advocating the rescuing of others at the cost of oneself.

It must be fully understood and realized that as creator beings one creates those around one to a degree that they are within one's life as reflections of an overall experience of reality. There are those who would need to be rescued, but to rescue would indeed sometimes pull one off track, would pull one down to that level, and would prevent the individual from pursuing their own growth and development.

One must be very careful in the rescuing of another, for each and every individual has the capacity to rescue themselves, and to help themselves. This Awareness is not saying one cannot help or assist another. One cannot take responsibility for another's life. In this matter, it is easy to become emotionally involved, for the Christian way of thinking is that one needs to get in there, and to rescue and assist one to understand; whereas this Awareness is saying one must rescue oneself first.

One must understand from within, recognize the power and strength they have to create their realities around them. This is for many a very emotional area indeed, and one that is hard to understand or appreciate. Does this help the Energizer understand what this Awareness is attempting to share?

ENERGIZER:

Yes, yes indeed. It makes a lot of sense. Thank you.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A CREATOR BEINGCOSMIC AWARENESS:

It is finally time for each and every individual to understand what it means to be a creator being, and to take total responsibility for one's own creation, the creation of their life. There are times when it is appropriate to share and to assist, and there are times when it is inappropriate to jump in, to rescue one, to rescue another, to take responsibility for another. It is this that is very pertinent and needs to be understood at this time and it will assist one to comprehend and to understand what one is responsible for, and what one is not responsible for, and to take on the true responsibility of one's life and that reality which one is creating.

This Awareness is aware that this matter may indeed provoke much discussion and much reaction and It welcomes further questions on this very important point.

"THE WHOLE SCENARIO IS PREPOSTEROUS"
So What Are You To Believe?*QUESTIONER:

(Thank you.) Ted's questions carries on: "To many the whole scenario seems preposterous, yet what would most think of a scenario that says that we're going to actually ascend to the fifth dimension? Well, some of us are, but some will stay in the third dimension and experience all this upheaval. They both sound far out with the secondary scenario probably sounding the most far out. So, what are you supposed to believe? I guess time is getting short for both scenarios, so it should become apparent which one is true real soon."

Is there additional information for Ted and the members?

COSMIC AWARENESS:Bad News Coming For Those Who Don't Ask Questions

The entity Ted Helinski is correct in that a time is coming soon where that which is real and which is not real will become much more apparent for those who are seeking this answer, who are asking the questions. For those who do not seek the answers or the truth, it may not become apparent, for they will simply blunder on in the manner and the way that they have always blundered on and moved forward on this matter and in life itself.

But for those who do ask the questions, and who are seeking to understand the reality of these times as applied to that concept of Ascension, then it is indeed coming to the time of the obvious finally showing itself. That which is at this time still hidden, is not obvious, but the absurdity of these times seen from a higher perspective is so obvious that as those who are asking questions are seeking to understand deeper, and to be aware and move forward in their comprehension of the matter of things, they too will see the obvious, and they will also understand how to move forward in times of apparent contradiction and chaos.

This is all part of the unfolding of the times, of these times of Ascension.

SO MANY DIFFERING CHANNELS...
MUST WE "THROW OUT OUR CONSCIOUS REASONING MIND?"*QUESTIONER:

(That's interesting, thank you.) Here's one more point, one other thing about this Zeta source. When so many channels were saying that the aliens would likely have a "First Contact" event on October 14, 2008 they immediately said it would absolutely not happen. They didn't hedge it one bit and they turned out to be correct. They also said that there will be no "First Contact" until after a pole shift but that sightings will continue to increase in number worldwide, which so far also appears to be true. So I just don't know what to make of all of this. I know we're supposed to have some faith and to use our intuition but that doesn't mean that we should totally throw out our conscious reasoning or logical mind too, does it?" Comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

There is indeed a danger here in the statement presented by Ted Helinski. It doesn't mean that the conscious mind should be thrown out. That which is the conscious mind is the rational and logical mind, and has dominated mankind's thinking for thousands of years, and can be associated and connected to the masculine expression of energy and the masculine way of thinking of things.

The conscious mind, based on intellectual prowess and rationalization will always provide reasons why things cannot be, because they defy the paradigms of beliefs that have been constructed, and that the conscious mental mind holds to be true. This being so, one does not then follow the intuitive, does not feel the truth of statements, and indeed is divorced from this ability because they are relying on the conscious rational mind to sort things out.

Feeling the Truth at the Gut Level – The Bullshit Detector

Things are the way they are after all. But when one starts to operate from the level of the heart, from that which is the feeling emotional state, and the feminine interpretation of reality and truth, one begins to often derive a very different picture indeed. One can feel the truth at a gut level, at that very primal level where everything in the body and in the feelings of that which is being perceived may say, "This does not feel right. This does not support what I feel".

One needs to pay greater attention to the receptive nature of one's feelings about something. When one truly develops this, they develop that which this Awareness would call a bullshit detector. They would be able to feel and sense and intuit that which is bullshit, and that which are lies, that which is a fabrication upon the truth, or a fabrication of the truth.

The mind does not have such a bullshit detector. The mind will often state that this must be true, for it fits the paradigm of belief, the parameters of belief that are held by one, and will easily try to dissuade one from trusting one's feelings about an event, a person, or a presentation of the truth. When this occurs, and one suppresses that which is the feeling receptive state, that which is the feminine reception of information through intuition and feelings, one is dismantling that which is the primary bullshit detector that mankind was provided with. This becomes detrimental to one's growth and development.

One must fully develop one's capacity of intuitively perceiving and receiving the truth of things. Then one can go to the mind and analyze things, not to displace that which was initially perceived and received, but rather to help understand it to the fullest degree. When one goes to the mind to discount that which is the intuitive perception of the truth, or the perception of the matter, then one disengages that which is the primary bullshit detector, the primary source of understanding of what is true and what is not, and this becomes a very dangerous situation.

In his assertion that one must still follow one's conscious mind on matters and to observe what is being presented as truthful, this Awareness would say to the entity Ted Helinski, "Be very careful that you do not disengage that which is the intuitive, feeling, sensing side of things."

This Awareness happens to know that the entity Ted Helinski has a very strong intuitive capacity, but that he sometimes does not follow his own intuition, choosing rather to follow that which is the conscious perception of truth, and this can lead him down a garden path, if you will. But on the whole, he does indeed have a very strong intuitive component that he is seeking to trust more and to learn from; that this completes the answer to this question and to the observations of Ted Helinski.

JOSEPH MOSHE JAILED FOR EXPOSING A DELIBERATE PLAN TO SPREAD PLAGUE FROM UKRANIAN LAB

(Big Medical group Baxter International Named in Broadcast)

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you. That was most appreciated and very informative.)

We have here something about Joseph Moshe. I'll just hold up this picture here.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness asks for a pause while the picture is examined.

QUESTIONER:

Joseph Moshe was the person who was arrested. He actually is a dual national Israeli-American Mossad biowar expert and was attacked and seized by federal agents and the LAPD in his office in California after speaking to Dr. True Ott on his national radio program, warning of a plot by Baxter International to spread a plague from Baxter's Ukrainian lab. He is being held in the Patton state mental hospital in California. His next court date is January 25, 2010.

The question: Will Mr. Moshe survive his ordeal? Can this misdemeanor charge be justified in a court of law for speaking out the truth? Mr. Moshe was speaking out warning of a plot by Baxter International to spread a plague from their Ukrainian lab. Is this what is in store for anyone who mentions President Obama and Baxter International in the same sentence? They are immediately portrayed as unbalanced and sent to a mental hospital? Despite President Obama having $50,000 worth of stock in Baxter International."

Comments please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is indeed one way to gag those who would speak the truth. This is a very time-honored response. Often those who speak the truth are arrested, those who speak the truth are detained and imprisoned, put in mental institutes, anything that is needed to ensure that the truth these individuals are expressing is suppressed, and that it does not reach the masses and is not validated by them.

It is seen that there may be an attempt on this individual's life while he is in custody to fully suppress this individual, to prevent him from ever speaking out on this matter. Generally speaking, there are gagging orders out at this time against the officials in the health services of different countries and lands, states and provinces that ensure any negative reports about the swine flu vaccination do not reach the press, and do not get reported on the six o'clock news.

They do not wish individuals to know that there are many negative effects to the vaccination, for it is necessary that the majority become vaccinated to accept the chips, to accept the Mark of the Beast, to accept that programming that will nullify them in those times when they need to be nullified. The reporting of this by too many who are in positions of authority would be detrimental to their plans, and therefore a gagging order is in effect in most countries.

Those who seek to go beyond this, and who feel they must speak the truth may be arrested for defying this gagging order, and may even be eliminated for defying the gagging order, and yet they need to be recognized as true heroes, true patriots who are speaking out, and who are unable to comply with the insidious plans that are currently being carried out in terms of the vaccination against a flu that has truly no power.

As to the matter of the strain of the flu from the Ukraine, there is some truth that it is the desire to release this strain of the flu, which is very deadly indeed. There are powers that are working to defuse this situation, and to infiltrate the manufacturers of this virus, who have already been at work for many months and even years on this matter.

Many have heard, for example, that batches of the vaccination for the present swine flu have been sent back, and have been designated as spoiled batches not to be used. These are the actions of those who are already sabotaging and interfering with the present program. They too will respond to any increased threat, any other viral attacks, or any other attacks through mutated forms of swine flu. There are those who are involved in this action.

This Awareness is not asking that individuals put their head in the sand, It is simply saying that there are others who are in opposition to that which is occurring, and that they will interfere with this process and this program.

This Awareness asks if the question has been fully answered.

PROFITING ON THE MARK OF THE BEAST CHIP (VeriChip Co. Pushing For Law to Force Everyone to Take Mark)

QUESTIONER:

(I think you have.) There's another one concerning, "Buying and Selling In an RFID Chip for the first time ever." A positive ID Chip is what it's called. The story is by Jim Edwards, and this is also sent by Ted. The VeriChip, the company that markets the microchip implant that links to online health records, has acquired SteelVault, a credit monitoring and anti-identity theft company. This combined company will operate under a new name, PositiveID. The stock transaction will leave PositiveID in charge of a burgeoning empire of identity, health and microchip implant businesses that will only encourage its critics.

BNET previously noted that some regard the company as part of a prophecy of the Book of Revelation, referring here to Revelation 13, verses 15 to 18. Because the health link chip carries an RFID number that can be used as both money and proof of ID. And it carries on and on. Are the American people aware of this?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

It is not seen that the majority of the American people are aware of this. More accurately, they are not aware of the more insidious aspects to this plan. It is easy to present, and indeed the marketing of this product will be such that this is a godsend. This is the ultimate security, a chip implanted in the body that will keep one's personal identity safe, and that will make sure that one cannot steal one's identity or derive information of one's bank account or credit cards or anything else of value.

One can have all their medical records there on the chip, so that if there is an emergency, they are never without those records, and a doctor could access them and find out what the individual might be allergic to, or any medical history that would be pertinent to the doctor.

All of this will be marketed in a positive manner to ensure those who would buy into it feel that this is indeed something they cannot do without, and that this is the way forward into the future. What they will not say is that the chips themselves also contain information and technology that will mark you. It is for this reason that this is often called by many who are in opposition, after the Revelation and the writings in Revelation, as the Mark of the Beast.

This Awareness suggests that the Mark of the Beast, the chip being processed, has already commenced with the microchips, the nanochips that are involved in the vaccination to the H1N1 virus. But to those who are not aware, the process of selling this product in its most positive nature is such that it will be very lucrative to buy into this company, for it is thought this is a new technology, a new edge that many will make money from.

Cosmic Awareness Sees Irony in this Technology

This Awareness finds it somewhat ironic that a technology that will enslave humanity, and that will make it virtually impossible for the individuals so marked to be free, is one that would also make money for those who would buy into the company. There are many of the Elite who have also bought into this, who are the CEOs and heads of these companies who are making money from this most dastardly technology that will enslave mankind if one submits to this process.

QUESTIONER:

There's also a note here: Verichip TV Advertisement Confirms Critics' Worst Fears, They Want Everyone Implanted.

Won't the citizens have a say in this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness proposes a scenario, a way of seeing how to get past the objections of the masses in this matter. One creates a reason why one must have such chips implanted. One creates a virus that is a pandemic, that is flogged to death on the television, and that is made to appear to be such a deadly menace that many flock to the vaccination stations to receive the vaccination that will save their lives, and that will prevent them from getting the virus.

Unknown to them, in the vaccination will be nanotechnology, a microchip that will be inserted into the body of the individual receiving this chip. Does this not sound familiar?

QUESTIONER:

It certainly does.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is already proceeding. This is new technology that has been around to those who have had power for many years. The chipping process is that which has been ready to go for the last 20 years. They simply had to come up with a way of mass distribution. The additional company and the chips that they wish to implant are but extra levels of technology since it is seen that the nanotechnology that is in the vaccination is for the future when there are rioting mobs that need to be controlled and that the switch can be thrown that will dumb them down, subdue them.

Convincing Arguments to be Used Why One Should be Chipped

The technical chips that are being advocated by the identification companies would be such that no individual would ever have freedom. If one individual who was a proponent against the government was needed to be found, but already had such a chip, it would be an easy matter to find this individual. This is why the different scenarios are being presented. Such a chip would make it impossible for a child ever to be kidnapped and not found quickly, for if it is chipped then they could indeed find that child before it came to any ill. An individual with Alzheimer's might have such a chip and then this individual could be found whenever he or she strayed away from their care facility or home. These are all very convincing arguments in favor of why one should be chipped.

Further to this, there is that which is identity theft that has become rampant in the last several years to such a degree that many are negatively impacted by having their identity and their personal information tapped into and used against them. If you produce a chip that only you have access to or that only has your information, every time you swipe your hand under a reader, it would be confirmed that your account had $27,000 in it, and therefore you could pay the bill at the grocers.

It is touted as the most logical system because then you would not have to worry about credit cards or debit cards or any other card that could be stolen and used -- any identity theft that would give thieves access to one's personal bank account and finances. This too is being touted as a reason why such technology should be accepted by each and every individual.

This would be the voluntary stage of affairs, but as matters progressed, as matters became degraded in the world itself, this may move to a mandatory compliance, one where individuals would no longer have a choice to be chipped or not, and when this happens this would be the final indications that the Powers That Be have indeed gone the full distance in their plans and are ready to take the final drastic actions and to chip all of mankind.

This is only a proposed scenario. Again, as always this Awareness says: Do not believe this to the fullest extent. To be aware of it would give one the ability to say no to it. As more and more say no, the likelihood of this occurring becomes less and less. It must also be understood there is a window of opportunity that is available to those who have power in which time this action must be completed by.

As more and more object to this action, that window of opportunity becomes narrower and narrower until it finally is closed altogether. At that point, those who have not been chipped, those who have not simply played into the hands of those who have power will be safe, in that they will never be chipped. They will not suffer a fate that is of their choosing by complying with those who have power.

It must be remembered, that this is still a matter of choice for each and every individual, even if they are suckered into accepting the chip, or accepting the vaccination. There is still a choice that occurs. Mankind has always been given freedom of choice. The lack of questioning, the lack of discernment, the lack of intuitive response may preclude the fullest working of an intelligence to understand that there is a choice, and may preclude a choice being seen as having been made.

Yet this Awareness still says that each and every human being has a choice when they are of a certain age and have a certain level of awareness. The child who has no understanding is a different matter, and their parents would make choice for them, but at another level there is still an agreement by the child to have such an experience.

This opens another door completely, one that this Awareness chooses not to open at this time. It ends by stating that in these times when chipping becomes possible and where microchips could be implanted, one must be very diligent in their choice against having this occur in their own personal life, of saying no to such an event, of refusing to comply to the brainwashing that would spin this matter into something that is acceptable by the masses.

One must exceed the masses; one must go beyond the collective mass thinking on this matter. One must ask questions and one must look deeply into the matter, and one must in the end say no, for to say yes would lead one into a completely different reality, a different path, and a different destiny.

"RE-EDUCATION CAMPS" ARE ALL READY NOW

QUESTIONER:

You know, there's one more question from Ted Helinski. He mentioned that the National Guard were presently training to put people in "re-education camps". Does this tie in with this chip thing at all?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This ties in not only with the chip thing, it ties in with everything that has been discussed today. It ties into the fact that things are indeed accelerating, the chaos is increasing and the desperation of those in power to remain in power, to complete their control is rising to such a level that they are ready to initiate their actions on a mass scale.

These Are the Same Concentration Camps Awareness Warned of 20 Years Ago in 'The Gathering Storm' Readings

The re-education camps that are mentioned by the entity Ted Helinski are the very same concentration camps that this Awareness spoke of 20 years ago. They have not disappeared; it is just that the times are now approaching for the implementation of this action. Again, this Awareness while making comment on this does not fully support this as the only reality to be experienced.

It is but a reality, but a line of action that one could experience if one chooses to truly believe one will be arrested and taken to a re-education camp to be re-educated. This is of course not the truth of the matter, for these are extermination camps. There is little value in extermination from an educational point, and therefore this becomes a ludicrous, ironic name for such camps. But it is a way of dumbing down any concern, for if one is labeled as a terrorist and arrested by the police and taken to a re-education camp, the masses will not have to be upset over this, the neighbors will not be frightened that their neighbor is being taken away to be exterminated.

They are, after all, only being taken away to be re-educated. This is simply not the truth of the matter. But saying all of this, this Awareness still holds that while these are possibilities, they remain only possibilities and not actualities. Not until one truly focuses to the degree that nothing else presents itself; only this is truth, only this is valid, will this become for one the true reality as a true experiencing of their life.

It is for this reason that this Awareness so strongly advocates that one does not endorse these possible future scenarios as the one that the individual himself will experience. It is as if one can hear of these and say, "This is interesting, but this is not my truth. It is not the reality I choose to focus on, it is not the reality I choose to bring into my life." This Awareness cannot overstate how important it is not to energize these scenarios.

Why Awareness Addresses Questions Like This

This Awareness is even being put in a very difficult position by continually speaking of such events, when It does not hold that they will be the true events that one experiences. Yet the questions are asked, and this Awareness does attempt to give awareness and understanding on such matters, and it is for this reason that this Awareness does answer these questions in a way that sometimes seems to give validity and credence to these possible scenarios manifesting in the future.

QUESTIONER:

This is sort of a variety of statements that are out there right now that are causing concern. And I think your discussion this afternoon will help people realize that what is said does not have to be. And we thank you for that.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is truly the intent of this Awareness at this time. Simply because one paints a certain scenario and it seems that this is what is occurring, does not mean it will affect the individual. It could affect the individual if they choose to focus on it, but it is not a guarantee. This must be completely understood at the deepest level for each and every individual who reads these words or hears the voice of this Awareness. This is of primary concern to this Awareness, to convey this understanding, and this awareness.

IT'S TIME FOR EVERY ENTITY ON THIS PLANET TO EXPERIENCE THE END TIMES

QUESTIONER:

(Thank you. That was very interesting.)

Do you have a closing message please?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness started this session by expressing that these are challenging times, chaotic times, and that many of the Light Workers and Wanderers are going through their own personal experiences that are deeply challenging them at levels that are immediate to them, and even distressful in some cases.

This Awareness said that these are, despite the challenges, the chaos, and even the distress, indeed exciting times, for they truly are showing things are moving forward. Things are moving toward the accomplishment of these times, the ending of these times. It is now a time for many to pull their heads out of the sand.

So Many Are Too Comfortable in Their Box of Reality

The time of ignoring the circumstances and events of life needs to be overcome by the many who choose not to look at life as it truly is. This is still a difficult thing to accomplish, for many are so comfortable in their boxes of reality, their boxes of their own comfort zone and their own paradigms of belief, that they refuse to come out of the box, they refuse to look at life in any way other than what they have been given, and what is traditional for them to believe in and to understand.

In the end, this Awareness understands that it is not the time for each and every being on this planet to evolve, it is not the time for each and every being to move into the Ascension process and to step into higher levels of awareness and consciousness. It is however, the time for each and every individual on this planet to experience the End Times, the ending of one way of reality and the experiencing of new beginnings, new ways, new approaches, and new themes.

In these times of chaos, confusion, and upheaval many will lose their way, many will suffer, and many will find themselves in desperate situations. It will be a natural impulse to step into the breach, to go down into those lower regions of consciousness to assist people to get up into the higher level of understanding and awareness, but unless an individual seeks this from within themselves, for it is part of their divine destiny, part of their own plan of their own evolution to go into the breach, to go into the deeper denser energies; this will not benefit those who have achieved a higher level of awareness and understanding.

How to Extend a Hand Without Being Dragged Down?

This too is part of the challenge of these times: how to extend a hand to help bring people to the higher levels without being dragged into the lower levels, and without jumping down into the denser level of consciousness where one can become embroiled, one can get stuck once again, and thus by necessity be forced into a karmic cycle of physical experiences once again that many have striven so hard to rise above.

Again, this Awareness does not say one cannot extend a hand, It is simply saying that in these challenging times, it would not behoove the individual to jump into the frigid cold waters to help save someone. They may find that they themselves freeze and drown in the waters. It would be more prudent and advisable to stay on the ice and extend a hand down to those who are in the water, and to help pull those out who are ready to be pulled out, as opposed to sacrificing oneself for those whose divine destiny is not to move forward or to advance at this stage to the level of Ascension that this Awareness has often talked about.

This will be a great challenge to many, and yet it is a challenge that also indicates one's own level of awareness. It is hard for many to understand this concept, for many would assume that this lacks compassion, this lacks any degree of sympathy or heart to help those who need help. But this Awareness says that only those who are seeking that within themselves, are seeking to help themselves, are reaching up and trying to get out of their situation; only those are the ones that can be helped, those who are not even putting the hand up, who are not even aware they are in such waters, are beyond help of this nature at this time, but they are indeed not beyond the help of that which is God, that which is Divine, that which will always hold the smallest child to Its energies, to Its heart, and always have a space and a place for them.

This is a difficult concept for many, for many do believe that it is imperative that one jump into the breach and help others, and yet it is a very important concept to understand, a very important action in the journey of and towards enlightenment. This Awareness stands fully prepared to answer deeper questions on this matter when those who have such questions wish to present them.

This Awareness concludes by once again affirming that these are exciting times, and even those events that seem so negative and desperate are indicative of the shifting of consciousness, the shifting of realities that are occurring at this time. Remember this always, to become excited by the events that are unfolding, and remember that it is all illusion anyway. Even those who apparently seem to be suffering, those will come to endings of life in the times ahead – are all but players on the stage, and that when the play is over, one drops the role and returns to a natural state, their natural state of life, their natural lives. That is so for any and all individuals.

Once the game is complete, the player can take off the mask, the player can take off the armor, the player can step outside of the arena, step off the stage and return back into the higher expression of one's life, into the true expressions of one's spiritual nature. Enjoy these times. Remember, they are but illusory and the truth will set one free. Seek within the truth, seek to know the truth. This is what is most important at this time. This Awareness is complete and asks that this session be brought to conclusion.

QUESTIONER: (Thank you. That was beautiful.)
