GALACTIC FEDERATION UPDATE: HAS THE CAVALRY FAILED TO SHOW UP?

Questioner: The first question would be concerning the discussion between the Interpreter and myself. Could you give an update on the Galactic Federation for the membership please?

Cosmic Awareness: The Galactic Federation is still out there, but what is most frustrating for many who understand that the Galactic Federation is also part of the overall formula, is the question of why it appears that while there are very many promises to assist and to appear, there does not seem to be an actualization of that promise. In other words, many times the Galactic Federation have spoken of coming to the assistance of mankind, of appearing and showing the world that there are extraterrestrial beings out there, and that others also exist on the planet in the form of the Orions and Reptilians who have so long controlled the events of mankind, who have so long manipulated things to their way, and who have been in charge at the highest levels for eons.

The Galactic Federation: Do They Really Exist?

There is a degree of frustration with those extra-Galactic forces, those Galactic Federation Beings who have said so often that they are part of the unfolding at this time. This frustration has led many of those who are the spiritual seekers, the Light Workers, the Wanderers to resist what is being said by them, for they have not yet appeared, they have not yet intervened, and they have seemingly forgotten their promises. Indeed, there are many who are angered by the offers of help that are given, when apparently no such help arrives. Many are beginning to question whether these beings are real in nature or not, or if this too is all part of the tremendous con game that those who have the power and are in charge are playing on mankind, and on womankind.

Humanity is being duped by these Orion/Reptilian types and this level of deception is so pronounced and so deep that it is hard to tell the difference between the truth and a lie. This Awareness understands how many of the Light Workers, Wanderers, and spiritual seekers are indeed frustrated and angry. Despite the grand promises and even despite the contracts that were made with those Light Workers, still nothing has come to pass. It must be remembered that the majority of all Light Workers, Wanderers and spiritual seekers, are extraterrestrial themselves in their origin; they are star beings who have come onto the planet to help mankind evolve at this time, to help humanity make the quantum leap to that which is an ascended consciousness.

Many of the Star Beings who agreed to come to the planet and to take human form knew what they were getting into, and knew how difficult it would be to exist on a planet that is so toxic in nature, is so degraded in consciousness and limited in its perception of the truth, and so easily manipulated and controlled by those beings who have claimed dominion, and who have held control for eons and eons. Yet many knew, even though they were coming into such a highly volatile and even oppressive energy, that they were needed to help create the new pathways of consciousness that would lead many to their higher states of awareness and prepare the masses for Ascension.

Many Light Workers are frustrated, Feel Betrayed

However, things have not quite gone according to plan. The Galactic Federation was supposed to have shown itself before now, but there have been hiccups along the way and the expectation that humanity would awaken quicker than it is doing has prolonged the task at hand of helping humanity awaken to its inner nature. Many of the Light Workers, spiritual seekers and the Wanderers are at points in their lives where they are now questioning very deeply whether or not they are even correct anymore in their thoughts and beliefs that the extraterrestrial beings of the Galactic Federation would be available to assist them in the grand operation of Ascension.

There are many who are frustrated now, for it feels that they have been betrayed, and it feels to many who have come from the stars themselves, and who have sacrificed themselves to be on the planet to help humanity ascend, in this time of greatest need, that they have been forgotten, and that the cavalry which was to arrive at the 11th hour forgot to show up and it is now two minutes before midnight. This very expression was spoken by the Interpreter in his own frustration at this time to what is happening, or perhaps more accurately, what is not happening at this time.

Many Light Workers have left or gone underground

Many have risked their own spiritual development, and have even risked falling back in their spiritual development by putting themselves on a corrupted planet that has not yet broken free of the corruption and deceit. Many of the Light workers have given up and have left the planet, not being able to stand the poisonous atmosphere of the planet- and by atmosphere this Awareness is not talking of the physical atmosphere, but the vibrational atmosphere that exists on the planet. Many of the Light Workers have gone underground, so to speak, and many have retreated and become reclusive, feeling that this is the only option for them, for to be out there is so difficult for so many Light Workers who are extremely sensitive in their being, and who are extremely sensitive to the energies they are in.

Thus it is that many of the Light Workers who have become reclusive are coming to a place in their personal lives where there are great questions, due to the failure of the Galactic Federation forces to meet their obligation and their contract. This is another reason why so many are questioning whether or not what they have so long believed in has any validation or validity at all, and many of the Light Workers are ready to drop their assignments and their tasks, and are even ready to leave the planet and join those others that have already done so.

They still plan to intervene but not while millions could die

This seems on the surface to be a troubling set of affairs, a troubling turn of affairs, but the truth is that the Galactic Beings ARE still out there, and the plan is still for the intervention to occur, but those forces that have had control and sway for so long have been fanatical in their resistance, and have created situations where those who would come forward, who would show themselves, and who would proclaim themselves as those who are the Galactic Federation, are fearful that by doing so it will cause great harm, death, and destruction, for they have now seen how prepared those who are in charge truly are to destroy life on the planet if they are threatened, and if it seems that the Galactic forces will come to the rescue.

The rescue is such that the Galactic Forces have no intention of doing the rescuing, in that they are not here to do it for mankind, they are not here to oppose the Orion/Reptilian faction in open warfare nor cause the deaths of many humans on the planet, because in their arrogance they decided to be the cowboys in white hats: the cavalry come charging in. They understand that mankind must be at a certain level of consciousness before they can appear in force, before coming onto the planet can be achieved in safety and in harmony.

The problem is that they are also aware that the longer they wait, the stronger the hold of the oppressive forces becomes and those oppressive forces are indeed slaughtering many, many beings. This is a difficult situation for the Galactic Federation. They are deeply affected to see the results of the misuse of power on this planet and the misuse of technology such as HAARP technology that is being misdirected and causing at this time literally hundreds of thousands of deaths on the planet. This is coming to a crisis point, to a place where there will be some degree of intervention even though it is preferred that mankind reaches a higher state.

A "Catch 22" Conundrum is happening

There is a catch 22 conundrum that is playing itself out at this time and the appearance of those Galactic Beings that would help humanity escalate their spiritual growth and development must come at great cost. This means that those who would come to help humanity are at the same time limited in their intervention because they are fearful that doing so will cost many lives, but not doing so, equally is reaching a crisis point where many lives are being lost because they are not coming forward- they being the Galactic beings who gave themselves to this task to help mankind ascend.

The conundrum is that which they are doing is not good enough, it seems, but to do something else may create an even worse situation. Thus, there is a delicate situation here that those who are part of the Galactic Federation are constantly striving to resolve. They are constantly attempting to bring their energies to the planet through less obvious ways, through interventions and First Contact at a lower degree and level. Thus it is that in the past two years since the proclamation of the entity Blossom Goodchild, there have been more and more experiences on a personal level with extraterrestrial beings and vessels.

Vortexes are beginning to appear in the sky, such as the famous vortex that appeared in the skies of Norway this last December. The intention is still to be available for the advancement of humanity in their spiritual growth and development. They do not wish to be the preliminary cause of death for the many who might yet advance and who are not yet in as much danger as they would be if the Galactic Federation showed up in a mass appearance of a First Contact. This may still happen if the level of consciousness that is being worked on reaches a certain point.

They intervened when the HINI virus was released

These beings do not see their role as finished and they do not think that they have failed in their role, for they see themselves as still being part of the game until that point of Ascension, helping where they can, especially in those areas which are not always seen or recognized, such as their intervention last year with the HINI virus and the vaccinations that were being put out. They destroyed and altered many of the vaccinations, thus neutralizing them. This of course was never fully recognized and understood, although this Awareness did state that it was the case. These too are the types of actions that they have been involved in.

It is also seen that there has been intervention from them in the oil spill in the Gulf Coast. They have helped break up some of the oil that has been spilling to the surface, although they could not become as involved in this matter as they would have liked to, for this would have meant that their vessels would have to appear in the skies and effectively work at the oil spill, which they could indeed clean if there had been a more active participation with the extraterrestrial Galactic Beings. However, they have done what they could and will continue to do so.

Be Patient! They ARE Coming!

What this Awareness would say to those who have voiced their frustration, those who are feeling despair at not seeing their Space Brothers finally appear, is to be patient. The cause is not yet lost. Indeed, this Awareness sees that there are energies on the move that will make that mass First Contact a reality in the next several months to a year, especially in that period where there is the next release of the energies of consciousness that have to do with the Ra-Ta experiment. This is still ahead and the possibilities are still grand as to the results of the intervention and appearance of the Galactic Federation when the timing is right. To push something where the energies are not flowing, and where the timing is off is but to waste one's time and one's energies.

The Galactic Forces know this and the leaders of the Galactic Forces are trying to work with this universal Cosmic Law and principle. While it is so that they had expected to be more active at a sooner time, they also understood that there were many versions of reality, and that in the version that many are experiencing now where they have not yet appeared, it does not mean that they will not appear. It simply means that the energies were not quite as well placed and in place as they hoped they would be in the realities of this time that the majority is still experiencing.

This does mean that in other reality streams the Galactic Federation forces have indeed appeared already. Those who are having the experience of this particular Galactic Federation operation being not as valid and apparent as in other time/ space continuums, time/space realities, must understand that there still is a reason why they, the individuals, have not experienced this, have not called this in, and are not in that particular type of time stream of consciousness. This, of course, becomes more convoluted and complicated, but basically, returning to the main question, the Galactic Federation forces have not been entirely successful in achieving their goals, but they have not abandoned those goals.

You have the right to abandon your Life Purpose

There is still room for growth and development of individuals who know that they are part of the Star Nations People, the Galactic Federation forces, and they should not give up hope on this, for that is one of the victories of the Orion/Reptilian factions, when those who are here to be of service in conjunction with the Galactic Federation forces abandon their roles and their chosen destinies. Yet this is the right of each and every sentient being to abandon their life purpose or to hang in there until something is resolved.

Part of what is also needed is that deepest trust and faith that all will still happen and will unfold as is planned. This will be the hardest thing for many to achieve when it does not seem that there is evidence that is apparent in their lives to prove this is so, and yet what is the nature of faith and trust but to believe something can still be so, even though evidence to support this is lacking? Therefore, in the end this Awareness says to not abandon hope, to not give up faith, but to trust and to know within themselves at the deepest level of their being that they are connected to those Galactic forces that are part of the unfolding of consciousness that is taking place at this time.

What you can do at this time to help

Those who feel inclined to take part in a personal dialogue and projection of energies to the Galactic Federation forces can send this energy to them and believe that the energies they send will be received and can be used to increase the objective of consciousness being raised that is the true objective for the Galactic forces and all that have part of that and are involved in this. This is what each and every individual can do at this time and this personal action may help each individual feel more connected to their space brothers and sisters. They will even begin to experience at the dream level more connection to them, a feeling of remembrance of who they are at deeper levels, a remembrance of their roles on the ships they once used to pilot and fly in, and even their memory restoration, and the remembrance of their chosen roles and why they chose to be here.

Many will start to see the Mother Ships through the clouds

This too will come when one starts to send those energies to the Galactic Federation forces in the Mother Ships that are floating in the skies above. Many will even start to see the ships in the skies, and will see them through the clouds that are obscuring them and cloaking them right now. Indeed, many often go outside and look up at the skies and sense their presence. When one sends energy to those ships that they sense up in the sky, one will increase the connection, and will be able to establish a stronger bond. It is not simply leaving it at unconscious levels, but bringing it into conscious awareness. This too is part of what is awaited by those of the Galactic Federation. They are waiting to sense the increased awareness of them by the masses.

You must realize you are a Star Child and have a specific role

It must start with those of the Galactic Federation who volunteered in the first place to come into human consciousness. It must involve those selfsame beings awakening to a fuller awareness of their Star Nations origin, and of the commencement of their spiritual journeys on planets many light-years away. As more and more become aware that they are Star Children here to fulfill a specific role, and to be part of the unfolding of consciousness that is to be so with Ascension, then they will be able to feel their own destiny, and they will wake up to a truth of their own being that largely lies beneath the deep surface of the subconscious.

When this is brought to the surface of the subconscious and then emerges into consciousness, there will be a quickening of the actions and those who are on the planet have the right to call for an intervention from the Galactic Federation. As long as the many who are part of those who have been born on this planet fail to wake up, and fail to call to their brothers and sisters, then those who wait above must also be limited and restricted, and they must wait until the awakening occurs. This too is part of that which has not fully manifested. Therefore, it is not simply that the Galactic Federation forces have not done their jobs, but it is also to be understood that many who were expected to awaken by now are still caught up in the delusion and the dreams of physical reality that is inflicted on all who live on this planet.

Many must now awaken to their Stellar Nature

Many are indeed awakening to their spiritual nature, but they must now also awaken to their stellar nature, their nature as extraterrestrial beings that have chosen to come to this planet at this time to assist in the great unfolding of consciousness that is occurring. This Awareness will end by again stating that the plan is still afoot, and that the design is one of awakening humanity, first from within and then from outside, from above. It is still the biggest plan of all to have that which would be known as First Contact occur, and it is still an event that is seen as not far off by this Awareness.

IS A SUPERBUG COMING?

Questioner: (Thank you for that profound message)

On a side note, where the H1N1 virus was mentioned and the vaccination for it, the World Health Organization made the announcement yesterday or the day before that the H1N1 is no longer a threat. However there is a superbug from India which was brought into Canada by a chap who was visiting there and it was referred to as a superbug, which obviously is going to become H1N1 2 pretty soon. Do you think that the Galactic Federation would be able to neutralize any vaccine that might be encouraged on people to have?

Cosmic Awareness: It is seen that the Galactic Federation will continue their sabotaging efforts to countermand the efforts of those who have power, and who have an ongoing program. The H1N1 was not the success that it was hoped to be, but this does not mean that those powers have totally abandoned their efforts or their own plans. They are still in the process of developing other pandemics, other causes that they can foist on the people, and that they frighten the people with. The superbug from India is but their latest attempt at this and this Awareness suggests that more news coverage will be given to this superbug in the weeks and months ahead, and as the flu season approaches in North America and in the northern hemisphere, the attempt will be again to introduce a vaccination program against this new threat from India.

Be vigilant and resist the next attempt to vaccinate

This is all simply still part of an ongoing program of deception and destruction, death and mayhem being part and parcel of this plan. But more than that, it is to sucker in those who are the gullible ones, who did not fall into their plans and into line with the first pandemic. This Awareness would say to still be vigilant and resist the next attempt at producing a pandemic and a worldwide fear of a disease being released on humanity.

Questioner: (Thank you for the information) It sort of boils down to having a strong immune system, is that correct?

Cosmic Awareness: Ultimately this is so. It is known by the Powers That Be that individuals with a strong immune system will be able to resist quite well the viruses and bacteria and superbugs that they are releasing. They may become ill; those who have a good immune system who encounter these infections, but it will not necessarily kill them. This is one of the reasons why the Powers That Be have been trying for so long to destroy the health and well-being of the world's population through such attempts as mass starvation in poor countries. But ironically, in the richer lands, using opposite techniques of obesity and bad nutrition, all of this is by design.

Creating mass obesity was designed by the PTB

It is not an accident that North Americans are overweight, but rather part of the plan to decrease the immunity of these people by creating bad health over good health. There is an awareness of this now, and many are starting to look deeply into the matter of what they eat and how they live, by looking deeply into the matter of increasing their immune systems. Be aware that the Powers That Be do not want this realization and they work very hard indeed to countermand it as much as they can, and yet there are others who are given to bringing forth this information and this understanding of how to live a healthy life, and how to reinforce the immune system against illness and disease.

LIFE IN THE 5TH DIMENSION AFTER THE ASCENSION

Questioner: (Thank you. We have a question from Lloyd Arrd concerning the fifth dimension. He writes: "I am trying to understand the range or levels of experience in the fifth dimension after Ascension. To my understanding, at the lower levels of the fifth dimension we would still be living in boxes with doors and windows on them, imagining that we own property and focusing mainly on life in a physical body. At the highest levels of the fifth we would be living in our light bodies with no need for anything physical, although anything physical we desired could be manifested instantly. Would Awareness please expand on the range of experiences in the fifth dimension? Thank you.")

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness would start Its explanation by stating that while the entity Lloyd Arrd has stated it is his understanding that at the lower 5th the people would still live in boxes with windows and doors and have a physical experience-- this is not actually so. What this Awareness would say to this is this could be so if one decided to create such an illusion of reality in the lower 5th. They could continue in that manner, creating until they became aware that they did not need to live in this box as they did in earthly existence.

The majority will not be living in boxes, for they will decide to live a different type of reality, but some may well wish to continue their physical experience into the instant levels of manifestation that are available in the fifth dimension. Thus the assumption and assertion that many would live in the physical state of experience in the fifth is not entirely correct, as this Awareness has said. It is simply one of many choices, and it is a choice that could be made if so desired, but it would not be the same as living in the third dimensional reality, where their ability to create instantly is not available while in physical form.

How Manifestation works on our Third Dimension

Manifestation is still occurring but two things affect manifestation on the third dimension. First, it is done unconsciously without an understanding or perception that the individual is creating reality, and secondly it is done in slow motion. Therefore, that which is being manifested may take days, weeks, months or even years to actually bring it into being, whereas in the lower fifth levels it is instantaneous, so one does not have to work a long hard life in order to pay off the house, the box one is living in. One simply wishes to live in that box, a mansion if you will, a hut if you desire, and it will be instantly so. This, of course, makes this a quite different experience than manifesting in physical reality.

With Ascension many who will choose to expand to fifth dimension will be able to come back into the third dimension, but hold the ability of the fifth in the third. This means that they will be consciously aware of their ability to manifest and they will consciously be able to do this instantly, versus the long prolonged experience of manifesting as it is now experienced in the third dimension before Ascension occurs, before those who are aware of how it works can make it to be so. This Awareness is referring to the masses on this planet that are still asleep and are totally unaware of how to manifest and how to raise consciousness. They are stuck in their sleep state at a low third dimensional level.

Some on this plane have already figured it out

There are already some on the third dimensional plane of existence who have figured it out, who have raised their consciousness and their awareness and are starting to see that they can manifest their realities while still in third dimensional form. It is a slow-motion event, but for many it is actually starting to speed up and even with the realization that they can manifest on the third dimension, they are not as confined to letting it drag out as is normally the case. They can speed up the process. This is what distinguishes the lower fifth with the third dimension. This Awareness hopes that this Awareness has explained this clearly and sufficiently.

How Imagination Plays Into All This

Questioner: (I believe so. There's just one question). With the imagination playing into this in the sense of being limited only by our own imagination and ability to shift our reality into different frequencies; does that play into it?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness would say that the power of the gift that is imagination is perhaps the most important power that humanity possesses, and yet it is the least understood and the most demeaned and debased of all powers and gifts and talents that humans have. It is unfortunate that humans do not understand that it is through imagination, through the power of imaging, imagining that anything at all is manifested and created. By demeaning the power of imagination, most individuals do not see this as a relevant power or a meaningful state of affairs, and they are very quick in their condemnation that "it is only in one's imagination." This infers that imagination is illusionary, and has no power and no effect on altering one's life and reality, when nothing could be further from the truth.

Indeed, it is only by being able to image a thought and to imagine an event, that the energies will be released that cause that or manifest that. This Awareness must be also clear here: that simply imagining something does not guarantee its instant manifestation, but as one learns to control this process, and up the energy in it, making it stronger and more relevant, then this would help that imagining process to create instantly. On the fifth plane it is through the imagination that one creates and manifests that which is being imagined. This occurs on the earthly plane but in a much more watered-down version, and because the concept of one's imagination as being illusory also exists, this further limits the power of the imagination.

Magic and Imagination

However, if it was not for the ability to imagine, one would never have even come into physical form, for it was an act of imagination at the higher levels of consciousness that began a process of manifesting the soul into a physical form and body. Thus it is that if one does not appreciate, accept or understand the power, the magic, that is in imagination -- and it is pointed out that magic and imagination have the same root word -- that if one does not understand this and recognize this, then one certainly cannot bring magic into their lives, for they simply would not believe it; they would not believe it possible. Thus, your assumption that understanding imagination and not limiting it is very important to bring the energies of fifth dimensional manifestation to work here in the third dimension that most humans are finding themselves in.

How a Thought is Born

Questioner: (That was most helpful) Another question arises: when a person imagines, is this done in the third dimension or is it done on a different frequency than the third, or where actually does that little light bulb take place?

Cosmic Awareness: The imagination process happens in the mind, that which is the middle self. The middle self is spiritual in nature. It does not exactly have a physical form, although it resides in a physical container that is known as the body. Therefore, the thought is born in a dimension other than third, but it is housed in a third dimensional reality, and thus interpreted in third dimensional form. One could say that the thought comes from the fifth dimension but must still be translated into physical expression, even though it is born in the mind, which is not necessarily physical but will be translated into physicality.

Questioner: Wow! That's amazing. Thank you. That really explains it. That is fantastic. Thank you.

Cosmic Awareness: Further to this, when one becomes aware of their fifth dimensional nature as the mind, that the middle self is of the fifth dimension, and one understands the imaginative process of allowing the thought to materialize in the physical, one can also begin to open up more and more to their higher nature. Ultimately, Ascension is this process: to realize that one is not confined to third dimensional reality, but already is stepping across the void into fifth dimensional reality, and that one has a foot in the fifth dimension at all times, and as one begins to realize this, their ability to imagine and manifest what is imagined will accelerate and it will indeed become more powerful and profound.

Also, as one begins to understand their higher aspect of being, they can indeed become more receptive to the guidance offered by the High Self, and the process becomes one of unifying with the High Self and the low self. Thus, the manifestation that can take place in third dimension will be of a very high nature indeed and will eventually exceed anything that exists at this time, even by spiritually aware beings that have not quite figured it all out. This is still that which is unfolding, and this is that which is to still take place.

Questioner: And for some it's starting to take place, is that correct?

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed, it is starting to take place for many. This Awareness in Its opening message in the last session did declare that it is time for individuals to become much more aware of the strange and weird events in their lives and the manifestations that will start to appear in their lives.

Questioner: You know, you did say that these are exciting times and indeed they are.

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed they are.

Questioner: Thank you. I'm sure the information will be appreciated by the membership very, very much.

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness would simply add that the membership should imagine it and it will be so.

BILL GATES & OTHER BILLIONAIRES: WHY WOULD THEY SHARE THEIR WEALTH WITH THE POOR PEONS?

Questioner: The next question is something from Avaton. It concerned... he writes, "Recently the New York Times reported that billionaire Bill Gates has convinced 40 billionaires to give away at least half their fortunes to those less fortunate. The list includes Warren Buffett, George Lucas, New York Mayor Michael Bloomberg, Larry Ellison, etc. These entities are all mainly Jews who built vast fortunes in various ways. They are from the Elite and probably part of the Powers That Be. My question is: why? What is the true motivation? Most must surely know about the changes coming in 2012. I would think the Powers That Be would have no interest in sharing their wealth with those they consider slaves. It makes good PR for the wealthy to let us know they plan to share their wealth, but I smell a rat." Is there any comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: Basically this is not what it seems to be, in that these are not altruistic individuals who have come together to combine their monies for the benefit of the poor and needy. Most of the monies that will be invested will go into certain companies and projects that are serving the Elite, and not helping the poor. They are seen often as charitable accomplishments and organizations that are serving those less well off, but ultimately there is seen by this Awareness a deception here, and the Elite are doing this for ulterior motives. One of those motives, as was suggested, is that it is good PR and people who see this and hear of the magnanimous act of these wealthy individuals may think they must be truly good individuals. Thus, they are more gullible to what they are told and will follow even more easily because they believe that these individuals are truthful individuals, who have high morals and high standards, but this is only a small part of it.

For those who are super rich that are still engaged in the machinations of their countries, there are such practical matters as tax credits and tax relief. The monies given also come with this perk, and that it is a way for many of them to gain good publicity and PR, as well as the advantage of getting tax relief and tax credit. Therefore, their acts of generosity are indeed qualified by their own reception of a benefit in the matter. Finally, there is a less understood reason why this is happening. The Elite are indeed in charge and they work secretly through their politicians and those of power and prestige, not only in the entertainment industry, in the communications field, and in high business and even the military. The unfortunate truth for them is that because they are working surreptitiously through their stooges, sometimes they cannot move as quickly on matters as they would like to.

Why the Gates Foundation was created

The creation of the Gates foundation and the investment of millions, even billions of dollars into this foundation gives the Elite a quicker way to cut through the red tape that exists because of politics. They are a corporate entity and they do not have to deal with many of the political restrictions that they would have to deal with if they were acting through the agency of their government or any government interacting with another government. It is as if doors are open now that would still be locked to them. Thus, they can get into regions and areas putting their plans into play without the bothersome task of having to get legal permission and to do so. This is a factor that many do not see or understand as to why this has been something that was deemed by the Elite as a matter that would suit their needs, a way of dealing with things more expediently than is sometimes the case when they have to do it through the secret way.

It is almost as if they are out in the open, having declared themselves as benefactors of the poor and the needy, and yet truly it is simply a con and a ruse to get into places and situations that they can exert themselves in and gain even more power and control as a result. The only good thing this Awareness can say is sometimes there is a beneficial effect for some of those who are in need and are of the lower-level, and who have not enough resources for themselves. This is more of an accepted consequence of the advantage of working through the Gates foundation, than the intent and purpose of that foundation.

Questioner: There was a comment. Is it a good thing to encourage widespread tax evasion by our richest citizens at a time of rising government deficits, referring to the policeman and teachers' layoffs, etc. because tax revenues are down, yet Gates and Buffett are telling the rich not to pay taxes. That doesn't sound very patriotic or responsible... sounds a tad hypocritical because both Gates and Buffett are strong advocates of the inheritance tax, and are telling rich people to donate their money to charity, which is exempt from the inheritance tax ... and it carries on. But this was an observation, an excerpt of View email mail by jdangjenn21 of Omaha, Nebraska. Do you agree with this?

Cosmic Awareness: This simply endorses that which this Awareness has already spoken of-- that the rich will often seek ways of avoiding to pay taxes. Those who have the most benefit of their society often wish to contribute the least and because they are those who are in power- often find many creative ways of avoiding the payment of taxes. At the same time, many who are less fortunate are expected to pay the brunt of the taxes that drive the engines of government, but really truly are simply new revenues for those who are the super rich and the super powerful. The con here is that by investing in a charity that is not really a charity, but has ulterior motives, this will provide the super rich with yet another way of avoiding to pay taxes. Again, by giving money they will be given tax credits they can then use these against other earnings and revenues that they have created. In the end it is simply another way of doing what the rich have always tried to do in modern times, and that is to get away without paying much in taxes at all.

Questioner: Thank you. So Avaton was correct.

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed. Avaton did indeed smell a rat.

WHY DO BIRDS WAKE UP EARLY?

Questioner: (Thank you). We have something from Larry Kell, on phenomena. It's on early birds. He writes: "I am often up until 4 AM and this is when the birds start singing very loudly. I walked outside and it was louder than any other time of the day. Why do birds wake up two hours before daylight and sing?" Your comments please?

The Crack Between the Worlds

Cosmic Awareness: There are two times of the day when there is a shift in the dimension of the planet. This has been called in shamanic teachings "the crack between the worlds." This occurs just as the sun has set at sunset and just as it begins to rise, even just before it begins to rise, at sunrise. At this time there is an adjusting of the vibrational energies of that region that is going into darkness or coming in to daylight, and this can even be seen by those who have a sensitivity to such things. One can look at the horizon at either of those two times in that which is known as soft focus, and what might be perceived by those who are sensitive is a shimmering and a slight vibrational shaking, as this event, the crack between the worlds occurs.

In light of the question itself, birds have an ability to know that the crack is happening and not only do they sing loudly in the morning to welcome the new day, but they often also sing in the evening as sunset is occurring. It is simply that in the dawn's energy there is a certain stillness, for this day is waking up and the birds are helping to awake the planet to the new surge of solar energies that will flood that part of the world. It is more a wave action, for as all know, there is a sunrise and a sunset at any given moment somewhere on the planet as the planet itself spins around in orbit around the sun as well. This is why birds sing in the morning and in the evening -- they are sensing the energies, they are waking up, they are heralds of the energy stream that is coming through at the crack between the dimensions that is occurring.

Questioner: Interesting. And they do sing beautifully, thank you.

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness also wishes to add that the crack does not happen when it becomes dark or when it becomes light, it happens an hour to two hours before the light is completely gone in the skies at night or completely available in the morning. It is often also called the false dawn in the morning, when the skies are light enough now to see around one, but not quite light enough because the sun has not come over the horizon. The crack is at that point; it is not at the actual point where the sun has completely departed below the horizon or risen above it. It is a time just before this occurrence or before that which is the sun's movement across the skies under the horizon and then back above the horizon.

HOW TO LEARN YOUR SOUL NAME

Questioner: (Thank you for that clarification). We have something on philosophy here from Noah Phillips, in Pennsylvania. He asks: "Would Awareness please offer information on how a person can learn the name of their personal soul? What steps can be taken?" Your comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness would suggest that the best way to proceed with this is to go into a deep meditation, but before one has entered into the deepest levels of meditation that one puts out the request that one is given their soul name. This is not always an advantage in physical form, for sometimes the knowing of one's soul name is actually a burden on one, for it causes an energy shift that if one is not truly and totally ready, could be detrimental in the living of a physical life.

Benefits of knowing your soul name

One must have attained a higher level of conscious awareness before one is ready to receive the soul name, but when one is ready, knowing their soul name will hold for them a binding power with the soul itself. It will not only open the door to the soul, it will be that wedge that keeps the door open, that allows the individual even in third dimensionality to live in total harmony and awareness of their soul being. Why this has to do with the higher level of consciousness that is needed is because if one were not ready to live with the higher awareness that is the soul's awareness, then one would find living in a physical reality very stressful indeed.

When one has that quietness of mind, and when one sees and knows themselves at the deepest level, then they can still partake in the physical reality but many of the events of physicality will be dropped, for they will simply be understood to be useless and meaningless, simply endeavors to distract the mind, the middle self, and the deepest connection of the soul level will cause a deep separation from that which is normal reality for most. This is not a bad thing, but it is simply an area that this Awareness is saying one must be truly ready for. Indeed, one will not get the name of their own soul if one truly is not spiritually ready. Therefore, one could even ask for the name of the soul and it will never truly be given.

Furthermore, the name of the soul is more a sound than a name such as Tom, Dick, Sally or Mary. It may be a very deep and profound sound that when heard will resonate the body, the mind and the soul and all will be in a frequency that will be very high indeed. Again, if that which is the individual asking for this to occur is not fully advanced or highly spiritually aware, they will simply not hear the sound or hear the name of their soul aspect. Therefore, in relation to what this Awareness was saying, when one asks for their soul name, be prepared to hear the vibration of the soul versus the name of the soul. This Awareness is complete.

Questioner: Thank you) I was going to ask... One you would hear and the other one the vibration you would feel, is that correct?

Cosmic Awareness: Not entirely. One would hear it and feel it and know it and be it all at the same time.

FEMALE CIRCUMCISION

Questioner: Ok, here have another one on philosophy. It's from Dmitri Yefremov. He asks, "Where and when did the tradition of female circumcision originate and why is it presently continued? What rationale is considered justification for the mutilation of the body of young girls?" Your comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: This matter actually has much to do with the suppression of female enjoyment and pleasure and is deeply rooted in false Christian concepts that have been promoted amongst some people, especially the concept of the woman being the temptress, the woman who led Adam astray and condemned mankind to be imprisoned in this physical reality of hard work and little pleasure. In line with this type of thinking, it was also thought that the man deserved the lion's share of the pleasure, whereas the temptress woman should be denied, and therefore the female circumcision became a reality amongst those people of limited thought on this matter.

Female circumcision is nothing other than the brutalization and castration of the clitoris of the woman's genitalia, and this is not something that this Awareness would ever endorse. Unfortunately, it is the byproduct of limited consciousness and limited awareness. As mankind/womankind/ humanity awakens to higher precepts and concepts, female castration as well as male castration will finally disappear.

Questioner: Very barbaric.

MALE CIRCUMCISION & JEHOVAH

Cosmic Awareness: This is indeed so. This Awareness now wishes to talk about that which is male castration. Male castration began at a very early time in the history of the Jewish peoples. It was demanded by their God, Jehovah, as a way of identifying male Jewish members of the Elite chosen people, and it was a way that was mostly hidden from view. Becoming circumcised was a commitment to the slavery that was actually the case when those who were the chosen ones came to be under the power of their warlord and their God Jehovah. It was not seen as slavery, but rather seen as a wondrous way of pledging oneself and then one's male child to the service of one's God.

The deception was not understood or known, and this entity that presented itself as Jehovah, as God, was but an extraterrestrial being who was seeking to have a force that would work for him in the affairs of the planet. Thus he brought his people forth and brought them a point of power, so to speak, in a very select region. He saw them through their 40 years, but the 40 years itself was a deep period of indoctrination and a binding of the people to the new God. The circumcision of the male simply was a way of identifying one another, if ever this was needed. It was also a proclamation of one's faith to the God Jehovah.

Circumcision causes deep extreme pain for the infant

Modern times have seen circumcision having become a very popular form of sanitation for young male children, the logic being that washing 'down there' would not work for most kids, but with circumcision that they would always be clean and the penis would also stay strong and hygienically clean. This, however, is simply not the truth. What this really represents now is the machinations of those in power to create a traumatic event for male children. This procedure causes a deep, extreme pain for the infant. It is a pain that goes deeply into the subconscious and is worked upon for the rest of the life of that child. It is the second trauma that the infant experiences in short order, the first being the actual birth trauma that for many is a very deeply disturbing event in the way it is still practiced at this time. Imagine going through this initial trauma of the spirit/soul finding itself emerging in into a cruel, cold world after a very painful experience of birth, only to then a short while later having to endure an even more traumatic event in the pain that is experienced in circumcision.

This becomes part of the subconscious mind, the subconscious interpretation of physical reality. It takes on board the early lesson that life is painful and everything about life is about pain and suffering. Birth is a necessary trauma that could be lightened, but is not. Circumcision is a voluntary experience that is suffered by the infant male child, voluntary in the sense that coming into society knowing what is coming, each Spirit soul knows the family it is coming into as being those who would promote this experience or not, and still choosing it. There are many who are born who do not have to experience this trauma, but for those who do, this trauma stays embedded in their subconscious and is reinforced throughout life in a society that holds that pain is the way to best learn, as evidenced by the motto, "no pain no, gain". This completes this Awareness' discussion of circumcision.

Questioner: Thank you. That was most informative. A lot of people probably are not aware of this)

MILITARY USING A SPACE MISSION?

Cathy Walters of Canton, Ohio writes: "From a CNN report- why did the military take a space plane on a mission into space? I saw this on TV today on CNN news, on the bottom of the screen where they have subtitles sometimes. Was there any particular reason for that?" This is dated April 24, 2010.

Cosmic Awareness: This is simply an expansion of the military's capacity to use subspace vehicles to transport their troops much quicker. This is also part of that which is the plan to create the high stratosphere travel that is being projected into the future, where there are planes that will go high into the upper reaches of the stratosphere, just under the level of emerging from the atmosphere altogether, and then coming down. It would use the world's rotation at the same time to speed up a trip. Thus, a trip from Europe to North America would simply take about an hour to two hours, versus the 8 to 10, even 12 hour trips that are now the case. This is seen at this time to be something that the military is working with first and foremost so that they can speed up troop deployment. It is what this experiment was all about that the entity Cathy Walters saw on CNN.

Questioner: Was it successful?

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed, it was successful.

Questioner: So travel between Europe and North America then can possibly at one time in the future take only about an hour?

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed. It is seen there are certain airports that are being created on the five continents. The airport at Colorado is the designated airport for North America, where planes of this nature, these suborbital flights, will land and then from that one airport will go out to other regional flights throughout the continent. It is a way of creating a faster transport system amongst the five continents of the planet. This is not seen as something that ever will come into play in a way that is envisioned at this time, but this does not mean that that the Powers That Be are not still playing with this and experimenting with this form of transport.

Questioner: They have a lot of toys, don't they?

Cosmic Awareness: They indeed have a lot of toys, but toys seem to fascinate humans generally and the latest toys, of course, are toys of technology. They particularly fascinate the male mind.

Questioner: That's interesting. Thank you. Is there additional?

Cosmic Awareness: The additional is simply that technology most suits the rational mind, the logical mind, the mind of practical solutions and practical gadgets. This is more important to men than it is to women, who are more emotionally inclined and seek to have things come forward that will support them and their families and loved ones on a more emotional level. Men, however seek to build things and to play with things, thus the gadgets are more to their liking.

Questioner: That makes sense. Thank you. Yes, is there a closing message please?

Cosmic Awareness: There is no closing message at this time. This Awareness feels complete with what It has given.

Questioner: (Thank you) It was an excellent session. The membership will thoroughly enjoy. Thank you again.

CAC General Reading 8-26-10 (August 26, 2010) Will Berlinghof Interpreter, Joan Mills Questioner & Energizer

Questioner: Does Awareness have an opening message or any topic or current event It would like to discuss at this time or is there any matter we should be aware of that is coming up shortly?

Cosmic Awareness: There is nothing that this Awareness wishes to talk of at this time nor any matter that It wishes to bring up. It wishes rather to move into the questions directly.

HITLER'S SECRET WEAPONS

Questioner: (Thank you)The topic for today to start off with is politics. It comes from Larry Kell. He writes, "I was looking at the first book on this list at Borders. It was shocking how close the world came to being destroyed or permanently under the control of the Nazis." The book he is referring to is Hitler's Secret Weapons. "For curious reasons my computer will not let me click on this book and send a link from it using Firefox. I can with Avant but can't send links from that browser anymore. Another mystery, the e-mail client is properly checked so it should work, but doesn't. You can check the details of it, and all kinds of horrendous bombs and beam weapons were under development. What do you suppose is being developed now in secret government programs 70 years later?" Your comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: The first comment that this Awareness wishes to make on this matter is that there is indeed a reason why these particular books are hard to access. Part of the reason has to do with much of the research and technology that was brought over to America and also taken to Russia after the war when the German researchers and scientists were divided up amongst the allies, particularly the Americans and the Russians. Figures such as Von Braun, who came and then was put into the development of the space program for the Americans. Others came and were immediately employed in the research and development of the nuclear bomb that was used to end the war with Japan.

Much of the book is material that would help the people realize how advanced not only the Germans were, but the Americans and to a lesser degree the Russians, and if they were already that far ahead at that time, then where would they be now? just as the question of the entity Larry Kell suggests. This is seen by this Awareness as the primary reason why the material in the book and why the books themselves cannot be readily accessed, although it is still possible to track them down and to find the books that had to do with the research, and the science that was available at the end of World War II. This Awareness feels complete with this question. However, It is aware there is more to the question, It asks for the Energizer to present further questions.

Why the Warnings on Internet Websites?

Questioner: (Thank you). There have recently been several occurrences where following links on e-mail programs have been blacked out by a warning that the site is unsafe, etc. and access to that site is not available. This also affected the CAC website, my own computer as well and I am sure, possibly quite a few others. Is there any comment on what is going on please?

Cosmic Awareness: It is seen by this Awareness that this is an attempt by those in power to start to control certain sites and access to sites that are dangerous to those in power in the sense that they are the sites that support the information that is available about those who are in charge and what their plans are. It is known by those in power that the Internet is the biggest threat of all to them and they are working on many plans to shut down the Internet, or at least bring it more under control. This is what has happened to those who have noticed that when they have gone to certain websites and found they are closed down or unavailable or that their own e-mails are being affected, both in sending and receiving, as well as many other curiosities that are occurring. It must be understood that this is an indication that those in power are starting to gain some measure of control.

It is not seen that those in power will ever gain complete and total control, but it is seen that there may well come quickly now a state of affairs where many sites that do not pass a certain criteria will be shut down or blocked, and if this proves to be the case then this Awareness simply says this also indicates how close to the end things truly are. It does not see that the complete control of the Internet will ever be gained; it is too vast an organism of consciousness, a sharing of consciousness, to completely shut down the Internet without tremendous backlash. But to deal with the more threatening sites to those Powers That Be, the more controversial sites that are speaking the truth -- this is seen as something that is an attainable goal.

Don't be surprised if certain sites disappear

Therefore, do not be surprised if sites disappear or one's access is blocked. Simply keep moving forward as well as one can, and one must also remember that the truth is within one. As the unfolding of consciousness advances, many of the inner answers need to be appreciated and honored to a degree more than the finding of external answers and validation. In other words, it may well come to the point where one must completely and truly honor one's own inner understandings of one's own personal truth, for those who are in charge may have shut down those strongest voices.

If this were to occur, would one totally be at the mercies of those in power? Is it so that one needs to go to external sources in order to know the internal truth? The major part and the most important part of the spiritual journey is not simply relying on what is obtained from outside sources, what validates what one believes and thinks, but rather coming to that point of internalization of the awareness that one is already truly connected to a superhighway of consciousness that outstrips even the Internet. In the times ahead, the Ascension process will bring one and all to this place where each and every individual must accept for himself or herself that they are privy to this internal source of communication, this heightened level of awareness and consciousness.

Once this plateau is reached, then the need for any external sources of information is eliminated. One might still go to such sources, but one would most definitely rely primarily on what one receives from within. All other external sources are to be but sources that can present to the individual information that they must validate for themselves. In other words, upon reading anything anywhere, one must always ask, "Does this feel right to me? Does this resonate with my internal truth?" If the external sources of information that so many have relied on to prompt their own journey and their own search fails or are taken out of commission, is the individual also taken out of commission? Or has the individual reached a point in their own growth and their own development where they can simply say that, "I have an internal barometer of the truth. I am receiving the inner information and I will simply observe the world and those events around me as they unfold to indicate whether my barometer of truth is correct or not."

This too is coming and if one has reached this place of inner trust and inner comprehension, then one will not be as affected by the loss of any external source of information, any website that might have been a favorite, any means by which one obtains information or knowledge from an external source, be it over the computer Internet or through books or magazines or even just chatting with certain individuals; it must eventually all come from within.

Is Snopes.com reliable?

Questioner: (Thank you). There's a side question to that. At the present time there are many people in my circle who place great faith in Snopes.com. Is this particular group, are they valid? This is where a lot of people go to find out if something is true or false.

Cosmic Awareness: There is, of course, a problem in such an organization that has gained the reputation of always giving the truth out. If an organization such as Snopes is infiltrated and disinformation is then delivered because it has the reputation of being a place to go for the truth, then when disinformation is passed out it would not be caught on or recognized as being disinformation. Even though this Awareness can say that the information on this website is fairly accurate, it is not always entirely 100% accurate, and if one does not use one's own discernment, their own internal barometer for the truth, if one only accepts that this site is totally valid and 100% correct all of the time, then that individual would be setting him or herself up for a great fall, or they would be captured in the lies and deceptions, and then begin to spread the lies and deceptions, always thinking that they are passing on the truth, for it was, after all, on the Snopes site.

This is equivalent to those who still watch the evening news on television and believe everything that is presented on the news. There is, of course, the danger that if the news portrays someone as guilty of a crime, whether they were guilty or not, it is assumed by those watching the news that the individual is guilty. This happened to the football player O.J. Simpson and many to this day are entirely convinced that he was guilty, because it was so presented on the news.* Therefore, whether one is watching the news on television or going to a site like Snopes, one still must always practice discernment, and one must still go within and ask, "Is this correct? Does this feel right to me?"

Even if it feels correct and one has the sense there is truth here, one must still always be open yet, for the truth changes, and that which is so now may not be so tomorrow. Therefore, one accepts what one feels is correct, but always adds the proviso that it is so until it is not so, until it does not feel right, or one is still open and if alternate information is presented that contradicts what was originally presented, one would still be open to what is being presented instead of being closed-minded to any other information. This is the greatest problem in accepting blindly the truth of another. Once one makes it one's own truth there is a reluctance to be open to changing that truth, to re-examining it, and to be open to contradictory information.

When one has what they deem to be the truth, then one is often reluctant to abandon their truth, or abandon that which they hold to be true. It is a universal problem long suffered by humanity, and it is the reason why many refuse to move forward in their thinking or in their concepts, because they simply believe that the truth they have held for a period of time is the only truth, even though a new truth may be facing them, and even though a new truth may be presenting itself for consideration.

It is sometimes a difficult thing to question the truth that one holds, but it is ultimately the only way one stays free, and one is then able to move forward in their thinking and in their beliefs. This is a requirement that is very much part of the Ascension process, for to become stuck in one's ingrained thoughts and beliefs and patterns of behavior will always be the anchor around the leg that would prevent movement forward, and that would prevent one from ascending. This is something that this Awareness wishes all to always consider when they hold something to be irrefutable and ultimate, and when they hold something to be the truth beyond all other truths, to then ask, "But is this true?"

This Awareness is complete.

JESSE VENTURA: A TRUE PATRIOT?

Questioner: (Thank you) Excellent advice). We have something from Ruth of Roseburg. She writes: "I think one of our present-day heroes is Jesse Ventura. He has awakened a lot of people that wouldn't have awoken otherwise, and he reminds me of Bill Cooper, bless him! Also could you tell us more about President Fernando Marcos of the Philippines? Weren't the Illuminati in back of his demise?" Your comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: First, this Awareness would say of Jesse Ventura that he is a true patriot and a true seeker of the highest truths, and at the same time he is a very clever man. He understands the opposition, and he understands what he can present and what he must not present. He could present the most controversial evidence against those in power, and present evidence that would shake the establishment and the foundation of beliefs held by so many. But he knows that if he does this that he would be taken off the airwaves very quickly and that his own life may well be in danger. His plan is to reach as many as possible, presenting information that is already well available. Since it is so available it lessens the threat he imposes on those in power, and they allow him to present material that anyone can obtain on the Internet and he knows this to be so.

But he also knows that due to his reputation and his popularity, he will reach people who do not go on the Internet, and may never have heard of any of the conspiracy theories or alternate thoughts of reality that he presents on his show, and therefore he knows that he will be reaching a substantial audience that may then pursue the matter further and start to look on the Internet, when they may never have looked on the Internet before for such information. He works within his capacity and within his means to reach those whom he feels he can reach without endangering himself unduly.

Saying this, there is always a risk that someone who speaks the truth and has the public attention can be considered a threat, and can be eliminated and this is a personal truth of his own life that Jesse Ventura is well aware of and has accepted as a burden he is willing to shoulder, and willing to carry in the attempt to bring the truth to those many who are still asleep. This Awareness has nothing but praise for this Light Worker and this courageous man.

Ed's Note: Conspiracy Theory with Jesse Ventura can be found each Friday night from 10-11PM on TRUTV.

Questioner: Thank you! This is a side question: Is Bill Cooper settled now in the afterlife?

Cosmic Awareness: This would be affirmative. This Awareness asks for the second part of the question to be presented now.

President Marcos of the Philippines

Questioner: She is asking about President Fernando Marcos of the Philippines. Weren't the Illuminati in back of his demise?

Cosmic Awareness: The Illuminati are seen to be behind his demise, but it is because the individual was no longer fully subscribing to his role, and he was going against his political masters, against the Illuminati, and was by their standards out of control, and therefore they brought him down.

THE 1920 DEPRESSION

Questioner: (Thank you). There is something again from Larry Kell. He writes concerning the 1920 depression, Jim Powell, the Cato Institute and commentary. He asks, "Have you ever heard of the 1920 depression? The Elkhart school system was said to be very good when I attended, but I never heard of this depression until Glenn Beck told the story on his radio show. Reduced government spending and lowering taxes on businesses created the massive growth in jobs and prosperity that people still call the Roaring Twenties. Presidents Kennedy and Reagan also created millions of new jobs by lowering taxes. Lowering the operating costs of businesses so they can afford to expand and hire more workers isn't rocket science. It's just common sense to reward what creates a desired outcome instead of punishing and taxing it more. The question everyone needs to ask themselves is how are people who can't understand such basic logic getting elected to government offices?" Your observations on Larry's comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: There are many things this Awareness could comment on. For example, It could comment on the last statement of how it is that people who do not observe such things are being elected to office. It must be remembered that a majority of individuals seeking office, especially federal positions, are individuals who have been placed there by their backers, by those in power. The democracy that one assumes is available in the United States of America is not as free as it is believed to be. There is a high degree of manipulation of who will come to power and who will not. It is more often the case that the individual who is elected was already chosen in advance by those who are behind such matters and then the actual election simply gives the pretense that a democratic process was followed and the individual who was elected was chosen by a majority of people in that district. This is simply not always the case.

It must always be understood that the political process is a hollow one indeed. It is hoped by this Awareness that after the Ascension that many will experience a true democratic process if they choose to continue experiencing reality where they are part of a huge democracy. This would be one of many types of available scenarios of reality for those who desire such, but it does not exist fully at this time. The most honest elections are usually those at the lower levels, but even those can be manipulated and controlled, such as the mayoralty races in a big city. Smaller cities and towns are less affected and yet again even there corruption exists. Please repeat the first part of the question.

Questioner: He was referring to the 1920 depression: "the Eckhart school system was said to be very good when I attended but I never heard of this depression until Glenn Beck told the story on his radio show.

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness has enough information for Its comments. This Awareness would also point out that not only are politicians pre-chosen and controlled, but so are the economic situations that occur. The planning that goes into such matters is not planning of only a limited amount of time a short period before events occur but often decades in advance. For example, there was the infamous notes found shortly after the first world war of the plans for the world, especially Europe, plans that clearly showed the rise of fascism and the loss of power in the United Kingdom by one group so that another would come to power -- many detailed plans that were then brought to be by those powers in charge at that time. The Protocols of Zion are seen by this Awareness as somehow involved.

Stock market fortunes made before 911 bombings

Before the bombing of the world trade buildings there were those who sold their shares in the air industry with the advance knowledge that the air industry would be closed down and that the stock would take a tremendous hit. Many times over there are those who have prior knowledge of what is about to go down and take measures to ensure that first and foremost they do not lose their savings, their earnings, and their investments and that they then are in a position to buy back when the market starts to recover. The Roaring 20's was a period of time when it was already known that there would be a mass collapse of the market at a certain point, the purpose of which would be to destroy many fortunes and establish certain individuals and certain groups in even stronger positions of power, which is exactly what happened. Those who had prior knowledge were able to avoid the major collapse of the stock market and were in positions to buy back and regain stocks, regain companies, and regain power at an even higher level than before the crash.

At the same time the ones in charge were making tremendous profits during that period of time known as the Roaring 20's. The irony here is these were the same ones who were also bringing the illegal alcohol across the border from Canada, and making huge amounts of money on this activity, money that was then put into the stock market. The Canadian family Seagram, for example, made huge profits during the 1920s during the Prohibition years. They did not suffer at all with the collapse of the market because they simply reinvested in other areas, as did other families such as the Rothschild's and the Rockefellers. These are of course amongst the controlling families that had power then and still have power now.

Their tried and true methods have been duplicated many times over, as mentioned in the presentation and it must finally be understood and seen that the economics of this nation, the economics of the world are flowing exactly as intended by those who have the control and power. If they wish to drop taxes and increase work they will do so to attain a certain goal or a certain end. But they already know how long this will last. They already know what will come in the future, and they are always prepared and ready for the reversal of fortunes. They themselves are not the ones that would suffer hugely through that reversal as others would.

When the reversal comes they are already ensured that their own fortunes will not necessarily tumble and if they need to, because they are part of the Power Elite, they will be replenished at a later date if there is a reason why a certain family must take a loss for whatever reason. Because they are still part of a Power Elite they will always come back into power. Then when the crash happens it is not a surprise to those who planned it in the first place, but it is always a surprise to those who do not look deeper into this matter, and who simply believe that everything is on the up and up and that this is simply an adverse reversal of fortunes of the stock market or of the economy.

How greed caused the recent financial collapse

The most recent collapse, of course, was all completely and totally manipulated. Greed of course was also used by those in charge who knew that the avarice that was running amok was so great that it would be easy to parade certain things forward as being big opportunities to make huge profits, even though that which was being presented: the mortgages and the other avenues to gain money were temporary at the least and totally without foundation, and were not solid investments. Yet even though this was known, their greed was so great that many went forward seeking to make their fortunes, even more so seeking to increase their already huge fortunes. This finally led to the collapse, but the collapse was already planned. Again, it simply was not an accident. This has been so for hundreds of years and until all finally collapses, until all comes to an end, will continue to be so for many.

Questioner: Thank you for that commentary. The Elite then will never have cause to sing that song "Brother Can You Spare a Dime?" Is that correct?

Cosmic Awareness: Not as long as they are the ones who mint the dime and hand it out and ensure that everyone else uses their dime to buy a cup of coffee.

This Awareness wishes it to be understood that what lies ahead is the total collapse of the systems that now exist. The Elite know this is coming and are scrambling to ensure that the realities that they occupy afterwards will still see them in charge. As this Awareness has said in the past, there are many possible realities that will occur when the shift happens and the planet moves into higher levels of consciousness. There are many who simply will not make the shift and will continue experiencing realities where those who are in charge now will still be in charge.

This would apply mostly to those who are unaware, who are still asleep, and who have no interest in asking questions, of expanding their consciousness, of expanding their awareness. They love the physical reality they know now and simply do not want to let go of it, and do not want to wake up from it. Those who are the Elite in charge now know that there are many in this position and they are trying to create possible realities where they still are in charge and those who have not awoken will simply pass through that period of transition, reentering realities that still see those political masters still in charge.

This is simply one of many infinite levels of consciousness, many infinite variations on the themes that will be available after Ascension is complete. One who reads these words, who hears the words of this Awareness will most likely not experience such a reality, for they have already awoken and are aware beyond the level that a majority of individuals are asleep, for the majority are still asleep. Therefore, when this Awareness speaks of this as a probable reality, It is not saying that those who are reading these words will experience these realities, but rather it is more than likely they will experience a much higher level of consciousness and participation in realities that show greater awareness and consciousness.

EVERYONE ALREADY KNOWS?

Questioner: (Thank you) A side question please? Is it more than likely that all of humanity has chosen their own path as to whether they would like to ascend or not at this point prior?

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed this is so. No one has entered this planet, as far as this Awareness is aware, without having a plan, without having a purpose, and without understanding what they are entering into. It is because they have made choices that bring them at this time into the Earth plane of consciousness that exists at this moment, including the multiple variations of themes that exist at this present moment. There are billions of versions of reality that exist even now. The reality of the Interpreter living in Canada is quite different than the reality of the person reading what this Awareness is saying in the United States or in Australia or in Germany. Each individual experiences the reality to the degree that they have set it up for themselves, and that they have desired it.

There are indeed common threads that may tie many realities together but each and every reality is unique and different. What binds all is that each soul, each being of the soul, each aspect of the soul that chooses to have the physical experience comes into physicality, comes into reality with a purpose and a plan, including the plan to be part of the times when a process will occur which has the possibility of shifting consciousness or not. The choice of having the experience of Ascension, of shifting one's consciousness, and of increasing one's awareness is as valid a choice as the choice of someone choosing to have a physical experience where they do not shift, and they do not increase their consciousness, and they stay in a physical technological reality that they wish to experience. One is not better than the other, one is simply different than the other. Each individual will choose what is right for the individual to experience. This Awareness is complete.

WAS FORCE & AGGRESSION JUSTIFIED IN WORLD WAR II?

OBAMA'S NOBEL PRIZE FOR 'PEACE' AND THE EMOTIONALITY OF PATRIOTISM

Questioner: (Thank you). Carrying on with politics, we have something from Hans Wilhelm. He writes, "I have one question with regard to Awareness' comment in last Revelations on page 15. Awareness says: "This Awareness points out the incongruity of a president who is a war president receiving the Nobel Prize for peace, to stand in front of the world and proclaim that sometimes there is a need for force and aggression to squelch that which is opposition to the perceived good of the world. This is indeed hypocritical... and yet reflective of the nature of consciousness that is held on the planet at this time." My question is: According to Awareness, how should USA and Britain have acted upon the rapidly expanding Nazi invasions and attacks during World War II? Should they have gone the "French route" and simply surrendered? According to Awareness's reply the D-Day invasion by America would have been wrong or at least a low nature of consciousness at the time." Your comments please?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness understands that the individual because he has held the truth of the actions at that time to have been the correct and right ones, would find it difficult to understand the comments of this Awareness. As this Awareness understands it, It made no comment on the D-Day invasion or the response of America or Britain to the Nazi Fascist threat. It did not say that it was incorrect to respond to a military aggression with aggression. It did not say that it was incorrect to defend oneself from an aggressor. It was simply speaking on the incongruity of a man receiving the Nobel Peace Prize when he had not done anything to show the world that he was the man of peace who took his nation away from aggressive policies and military options, and instead presented excuses for military action.

In one reality the Nazis DID win the war

This was hypocrisy, in a manner of speaking, but again this Awareness did not speak of the Nazis or the Americans or the British in World War II. For one thing, that which was experienced was one of countless probable realities that were experienced at that time. This Awareness knows of another stream of consciousness, another reality stream where the Nazis won the war and became the world dominators in unison with their Japanese allies and in that time stream it is a quite different scenario of physical experience that is experienced by those aspects of the soul choosing to participate in that stream of reality, that stream of consciousness.

One Lives One's Truth

In another reality, the Americans went on after the war and invaded Russia because there were those at the time who understood that the Russians would be the next big threat and were heard by those in power and indeed did go forward to aggressively attack Russia after the war, thus canceling the Communist threat and indeed America became the victors of the planet and the controllers of the world. There are other scenarios that also occurred, but this is all simply other timelines, other realities that one could imagine for oneself. What this Awareness is saying, and has always said, is that it is important to understand that one lives one's truth, and that one always stands for the highest principle, the highest truths, for when one is in truth, when one is the embodiment of one's truth that they are always then in alignment to Spirit and to the requests of Spirit as are correct for them.

If that means that someone must go to war because their truth is that they feel they need to protect democracy, that they are carrying out an action that will keep their family and friends safe in the United States by taking part in aggressive war in another nation, another continent -- then that would be the individual's truth. But equally, if one chose to walk the streets at home carrying a protest sign against this war, against such military aggression and such hypocrisy -- that would be correct and right for that individual. Again, it is simply a matter of choice and as one becomes more enlightened and more aware and more detached from the sentimentality and emotionality of patriotism, of saying that one is there to fight the great war because one needs to protect democracy for one's nation, then one will start to see the high level of hypocrisy that is involved, one might even start to see that much is manipulated and planned well in advance.

Saddam Hussein was put into power by the CIA

Saddam Hussein, for example, was put into power by the CIA. He was always a puppet to be used to direct the nation in a certain direction which was then used by the Powers That Be at a later stage. This was all done in advance and yet many still believe that fighting a war in Iraq or Afghanistan is somehow protecting democracy for those who live in the United States. When one starts to ask questions and is not simply swallowed up with the emotionality of patriotism, but is a true patriot who can stand up and say, "This does not make sense! I cannot accept this!" then one will start to see that there is much behind the scenes that needs to be looked at. This Awareness has no personal agenda against President Barack Obama, It has no personal agenda against the American people or the British people or the Iraqi people. It is simply stating certain concepts and certain truths that will help those who are ready to open to them to see the truth at a much different level.

Questioner: Fascinating. Is there additional, please?

Cosmic Awareness: There is always additional, but this Awareness is complete for now.

GRAPHIC WARNINGS FROM BENJAMIN FULFORD

Questioner: (Thank you). This is from Ted Helinski. He writes, "In the latest article (this was written in March 2010) from Ben Fulford, he makes some pretty amazing statements. According to Fulford, he has received word that a major breakthrough in the 'financial log-jam is imminent'. Fulford says that a very powerful group has emerged and that this group has warned the European royal families to 'back off and relinquish control of the US and European financial systems.' According to Fulford sources, this group has also given the Pentagon an ultimatum that it will be forced to obey.

In addition, it is stated that the world financial system is to be reset to 1916 levels in a major Jubilee. This would abolish all World War I and World War II related restitution payments among other things.

Fulford goes on to say that a Chinese Politburo source says that vast amounts of funding would be made available to a variety of groups, including the Black Dragon Society, to be invested in, among other things, 'turning deserts green'. Fulford says that another major development is that the Serbian Black Hand society has affiliated itself with the Black Dragon Society. This means the Slavic gangs that control much of the European drug trade, and who are the same people or their descendents who caused the Nazis so much trouble in World War II are ready again to battle the Nazis. They see the current US government as the modern-day Nazis and they are eager for revenge for what the US did to Yugoslavia." And that's the basis of it.

Does Awareness see this report as being accurate? Who is this group that is so powerful that it can give ultimatums to the Pentagon that it will have to obey and also tell the European royal families to relinquish control of the US and European financial systems? Also, if the past is any indicator of the future, those in power in this country will not have been willing to give up their power and control. If Fulford is correct then it seems that some very powerful forces are aligning against the US and this could have very serious consequences in the future unless those running the US have a change of heart." Would you please comment on this?

Cosmic Awareness: The first thing this Awareness would say on this is that there have been other reports in the past of ultimatums being given to those in power, those in charge. While President George W. Bush was in office, many reports came out that he was to be impeached, and that actions were being taken against him and that his cabinet would be suspended and charged with crimes against humanity unless they stopped their actions. This is not seen to be what occurred and the President not only completed his second term of office, but went on to be able to lecture about his years in power and has never been charged with any crimes, nor have those who served him.

Therefore, this Awareness suggests that before one believes the reports that are being quoted here, one should always hold to the attitude and opinion that this remains to be seen. There is seen by this Awareness oppositional powers that are trying to intervene, and that are trying to bring those who are in charge at this time down. But it is not seen that they are yet quite as far along as the reports seem to be suggesting. Therefore, this Awareness would advocate that one take these reports with a grain of salt, holding that they may yet appear, they may yet occur and that one is open to these events and is allowing of them in their own personal reality and simply see where this takes them. One would be better advised to put most of their attention into their own personal growth and development, falling away from these types of reports, this type of obsession with the Powers That Be, for as this Awareness has so often said, that the Power Elite are also aware of what is occurring and often are several steps ahead.

Therefore, to simply find one's own inner connection and to understand that one creates from within would be more advantageous than abdicating one's power to those forces on the outside who seem to have so much power and control. Rather than waiting for others to do for them what is the right thing, it is more recommended by this Awareness that each and every individual seek within themselves their own understanding and their own truth, and seek to expand their own consciousness and their own awareness and to create their reality from this point and not from that outside point.

The world WILL change because YOU have changed

The reports are very enticing. So much so it is easy to fall into them and to wait for these events to occur, so that the world will change. The thought being that the world will change because those in power will be forced to change and that saviors and rescuers will appear and make everything all right, make everything correct. Yet this Awareness says the world will change because you have changed from within, because you have changed your concepts and perceptions of reality and what it is that you expect and believe in. When you are successful in this, the outside world by necessity will change for you because the outside reality that surrounds you is but a reflection of that which is the truth within, the belief, that knowledge and knowing from within.

When one states "This is the truth"...

It is as if a vacuum is there that needs to be filled and is filled from that which is held in one's beliefs and concepts that are from within. They are often influenced by what is outside. It is as if by viewing outside events one says, "This is the truth!" not even realizing by making such a statement, and holding this to be so, one automatically then creates the reality that supports that truth. The outside truth is internalized, in a manner of speaking, and the internalized concept of the outside truth is then created by the low self as an interaction with the collective consciousness; with the reality of physicality that one finds themselves in.

This is how the outside version of reality is supported, because no one ever stopped to ask if what was being seen and experienced on the outside was in actuality the truth from within. When one accepts the external version of reality as the truth, then one continues to reinforce it, to re-create it over and over, never ever seeing how it is so. One assumes that it is the reality and that one has no control, no power over the external events of the world and one is simply a victim to them, and one must simply experience them as they happen to one. One never realizes that one is creating the reality they are experiencing because it is the way of it, and that one has that power as the Creator God to create the reality one experiences and then one forgets this, denies this, and does not even accept this could be close to being so.

What the Powers That Be don't want you to ever understand

One simply lives in the world ignorant of the capacity that one has to define the world, to create the world. This is exactly what the powers that have control wish all to believe, because they know how to manipulate the externalization of the truth so that the majority believe that they are victims and that life is happening to them, instead of them happening to life, instead of them creating their lives. It is in the vested interests of those in power to keep people asleep and ignorant to this most basic of truths- that one creates their own reality versus the belief that one is at the mercy of the external, one is at the control of those who understand this truth. The Powers That Be simply do not wish you to ever understand this and do everything in their power to keep one dumbed down and asleep.

MASS EVACUATION OF EMBASSIES

Questioner: (Thank you). We have something here again from Ted. It comes from Kavkazcenter.com. It concerns radiation, plague and fires: foreign embassies urgently evacuate staff from Russia. The commentary excerpted, "A hasty evacuation of diplomatic staff from foreign embassies like a stampede began in Moscow. Many embassies are trying to hide the evacuation for political reasons. Mass evacuation from the embassies of Canada and Poland was officially reported at night on August 7. The Austrian Embassy in Moscow, the US State Department, foreign ministries of Germany, Bulgaria, France, Italy, Austria and the US, of course, and other countries also appealed to their citizens not to travel to Russia." Is this correct or is there an update on the situation, and can you see from the picture that there is mass smoke and fog?

Cosmic Awareness: It appears that the report that was not reported in the main press and on the news channels is indeed correct. This Awareness has no further update on this matter.

Questioner: Very good. We didn't hear anything about it at all.

Edgar Cayce's Prediction: "Russia will be the hope of the world"

Cosmic Awareness: The one thing this Awareness will say is that there are certain things happening against those nations that have control and power in Russia. There is an underground uprising against those powers, but at this time it would be presumptuous of this Awareness to make further comment on this because it is not that which is available to any large degree. Simply keep an eye open with the mind that prophecies have been delivered in the past, even by the prophet Edgar Cayce that Mother Russia would hold hope and salvation in the times ahead.

Questioner: Yes that's true, I remember that.

Cosmic Awareness: There have always been underground actions that have existed in Russia that have worked with different agencies, so to speak, against world domination by the Orions and the reptilians, that these are amongst those forces that are starting to come forward at this time. Again, this Awareness is not at liberty to express more at this moment.

THE "NESSKI" SEA MONSTER

(Thank you, we appreciate that). Still with Russia, there was a report of a "Siberian Lake Monster" 'Nesski' linked to missing Russian fishermen. The commentary again, excerpted: Russian fishermen are demanding a probe into a creature resembling the Loch Ness monster in a remote Siberian lake. Locals say that 'Nesski' has devoured anglers who have been pulled into the murky waters of Lake Chany in Siberia from their boats. Those claiming to have glimpsed the creature say it resembles the classic long-necked image of Scotland's fabled monster. It has also been called 'snakelike', while other accounts suggest a large fin and huge tail. There is a picture in the circle there of what it looks like. Ok? Is there any comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness has spoken on this matter previously, where It expressed that these lakes such as Loch Ness, such as Lake Okanagan, such as Lake Chany in Russia are all connected at deep, deep levels, subterranean levels and are connected to an underground ocean where these creatures, these prehistoric type sea monsters, sea creatures still exist. Occasionally one may make its way to the surface and is sighted, as has been the case over many sightings of the Loch Ness monster or the monster in Russia or Okanagan, the creature in Lake Okanagan, Ogoopogo is the name seen. There are other lakes around the world that have had similar sightings. Because of this it is to be understood there is indeed something to these sightings and as this Awareness said, it is a creature that resides normally in deep subterranean seas and oceans that occasionally finds its way to the surface.

There are indeed dangerous creatures, as exemplified by the report that fishermen have been taken by this particular monster. They are not creatures that one would want to come upon on a lonely night on the lake by oneself.

Questioner: No, I don't think so. Thank you.

Cosmic Awareness: One further comment. These creatures have been seen in these lakes historically. There are reports, for example, by the Indians who live around Lake Okanagan, of the Ogoopogo sea monster. There are Siberians who have seen, historically in the past, the same monster that is being sighted now. This also lends credence to the fact that there is something there, this something being this subterranean dinosaur type creature.

Dolores Cannon's Hypnotherapy Technique

Questioner: Ok, just off-topic now, going into Phenomena. This comes from Joe P. He writes, "There is an entity by the name of Dolores Cannon that in her profession of hypnotherapy has seemed to access various levels of consciousness with her clients. Many of her clients in this deep state have remembered past lives as ETs from other planets and densities. Also many of them have communicated with her from the state between Earth incarnations. Her clients do not remember what they spoke of when they came out of these deep hypnotic states, which seemed eerily similar to deep trance levels as experienced by various Cosmic Awareness Interpreters. Although I know they perhaps did not go so deep as to access Awareness, they did go deep enough to have laid aside emotion and current personality to allow information to come forth that sounds very close to what Awareness has spoken in the past. It seems that she can reach different levels of the soul of her clients. That being said, the questions I have are: what levels is she accessing with her clients and is this something new as a result of the higher vibratory frequencies here on earth at this time? And is there any additional information you can give with regard to this entity Dolores Cannon and her source of information? Thank you."

Cosmic Awareness: First this Awareness would say that she is able to regress her clients into those states of consciousness where they are open to receive the information. It does not need to be that the client, the individual being regressed needs to be taken into a deep trance where they cannot remember what was spoken, but it does seem that this is the way this individual works and feels most comfortable. There are certain perceptions on her part that hold that the experience is more valid if the individual, herself included, has gone into the deepest trance level where memory of the experience no longer is available upon returning back into full consciousness. Waking consciousness would be more correct in this matter. It is simply a belief system around how to do this work.

The current Interpreter does similar regression work

The Interpreter of course does similar regression work but it is not seen by him as a requirement that the individual must be taken into such a deep state. He regresses his individual in a lighter state of consciousness and opens to them that level of conscious imagination that allows the individual to let the information flow, the memories, the thoughts of the experience of another lifetime or of earlier stages in the present lifetime. Neither way is the right way, it is simply a way of choice by each individual. It is not that the individual ... this Awareness asks the first and second name please.

Questioner: Dolores Cannon.

Cosmic Awareness: It is not that the individual Dolores Cannon is going to deeper stages or frequencies but she is going to a place, a pool of consciousness in the soul of the individual, where it is possible to bring forth the thoughts and memories, the experiences of the soul that had the life experience. It must be understood that an individual experiencing a lifetime is unique in that lifetime, and is not another individual from another lifetime. The primary supposition here is that one person was the other person also in another lifetime, indeed was many other people. This would be somewhat erroneous, and this is not how it works.

How the Soul works in a Regression

There is that which is the soul; the soul decides it wishes to have a certain physical experience and sends an aspect of itself, a finger if you will, of itself into a reality stream of consciousness. Consciousness has an experience at a certain time of consciousness or a certain framework in consciousness. That framework would be construed as a past framework, or a future framework or an extraterrestrial framework by one who is being regressed to it. But one is not necessarily regressed to the lifetime, one is taken to a place within the mind itself, that they can access the soul, and they can access the aspect of the soul that had that experience within the time framework of consciousness.

It is part of the soul that the individual, him or herself, is also part of. Therefore, it is part of their soul makeup but it would be in a sense erroneous to say that the individual was that person, whereas the individual is part of the soul that had that personal experience in that timeframe, in that time consciousness. The individual Dolores Cannon helps individuals go to a level where they can access the soul memory and draw to them a lifetime that may have had significance. In this the individual is told it was their previous lifetime or another lifetime from another frame of reference. This would be valid as the recalled experience, but what again is not completely valid is thinking that this means that the individual was that person. They are connected, it is part of the essence of their being, of their soul, but it was still a different unique individualized aspect of the soul that had that experience that each individual can access by going back into the soul memory, the mind of the soul.

THE 9 ASPECTS OF THE SOUL

Questioner: That's interesting. So that's where the nine parts of the soul comes in, is that correct?

Cosmic Awareness: This is also involved but this becomes even more complicated. This Awareness asks the reader to imagine an amoeba type cell, and that this could be considered similar to the soul. This amoeba like cell, the soul cell extends a proboscis, a finger of itself outward. This would be like an aspect of the soul somewhat separating itself from the main body but not completely separating itself. The concept of the silver cord represents the connection that the soul aspect still has to the soul body. At the same time each aspect has nine aspects that extend themselves also. It is as if at the bottom of the proboscis of the aperture there is a ball with nine further apertures extending each of the same apertures, but each being a different expression of the soul aspect seeking to have an experience in a singular timeframe or time consciousness.

These nine aspects all go back into the main soul, and the aperture eventually being withdrawn and brought back into the soul body. If this is so it would be hard to ever say that the soul had extended itself, for those experiences of the nine aspects of the one aspect have all been returned into the body of the soul. Later another aperture extends itself with nine aspects again. When one is in this aperture one could go back into the body of the soul and retrieve memories of the other aperture or life experiences and it would be correct to assume that one was part of that, for one is still part of the greater soul or the amoeba of the soul. This is simply a way of helping one to image this concept.

Questioner: Thank you. It was an excellent session, truly an excellent session.

The Law of Gratitude is given.
