

PHENOMENON IN THE HEAVENS.

Mrs F. E. Honey, of Lindisfarne, reports that on Wednesday evening, at about 8 o'clock, she, her husband, and two others saw an extraordinary aerial object. From their back verandah they saw in the eastern heavens, not far above the horizon, a bright object something about the size of the moon, when its appearance is at its smallest. It rose gradually, and then, after hovering for a few seconds, made a big dive. It rose again, and then moved northerly until it disappeared. The impression it created upon Mr Honey's mind was that it was like looking through an open door into a room where a bright fire was burning.
