AN ILLUMINATED BALLOON.

Two Narracoorte residents were motoring on the Narracoorte and Robe road last week and just near Konetta Station they observed a strange light in the sky. It was travelling slowly and suddenly it descended near Woolleigh and burst into flame. They were informed that Mr. John Watson, of Konetta, had a man on the station who had made a balloon, and Mr. Watson and a party had decided to let it go. It was a striking sight, being lit inside by a methylated wick.
