Light Phenomena:

Late on Wednesday evening several residents were interested in the strange light in the southern sky, which at first looked like a bad bush fire reflection, but on continued observation strongly suggested something in the nature of an aurora. The phenomenon did not appear to vary much in color, so much as in intensity, and was marred somewhat by the heavy clouds. Later on, in the early hours of the morning, there was slight thunder, and the weather developed into a heavy easterly, which continued throughout yesterday.
