

'FLYING SAUCER' WAS WEATHER BALLOON

NEW YORK, Wednesday: A "flying disc" which the Army Air Force reported had been found on a ranch near Roswell, New Mexico, was described later by a weather officer at Fort Worth as a ray wind target used to determine the direction and velocity of high winds.

He added that there were about 80 weather stations in the United States using this type of balloon.