

Flying Saucer Seen at Marvel Loch

Marvel Loch, July 17.—During the height of a terrific windstorm on Friday night, a resident was horrified to see a vast circular shape bearing down on him in the gloom.

The “saucer” landed with an awful crash in scrub by the roadside. The man did not wait on the order for his going, for a few minutes later he was demanding a double brandy and exclaiming, as glass chattered against teeth: “I’ve nearly been knocked by a flying saucer.”

One curious soul investigated the locality where the alleged “saucer” had landed, and found it to be all too true.

The wind had lifted the conical top of a 1000-gallon tank and hurled it through the air to its resting place a hundred yards away.
