

"FLYING SAUCERS" MAY CAUSE SCARE TO-DAY

SYDNEY, Monday.

Army authorities issued warning to-night against a possible "flying saucer" scare to-morrow.

The army will release about 100 meteorological balloons and Sydney people are asked not to panic into a belief that they may be "flying saucers."

An army colonel and six men made a trial launching of four of the balloons in Centennial Park to-day.