

Hypotheses Discounted

SYDNEY: Until somebody "captured" a "flying saucer" or one fell to the ground any hypotheses that they were space ships from another planet were worth very little. Professor O. U. von Willer said today.

Professor von Willer is emeritus Professor of Physics of the University of Sydney

He was commenting on a claim by former Information Chief for the Aeronautics Branch of the U.S. Commerce Department (Mr. Donald Keyhoe) that "flying saucers" seen over America during the past two years were space-vehicles subjecting the earth to observation by living, intelligent beings from another planet.
