

FLYING SAUCER THEORY

NEW YORK, Monday.

So-called flying saucers were really spent cartridges of guided missiles, Kenneth de Courcy, editor of Intelligence Digest, and the man who claims to have correctly forecast atomic explosions in Russia, told the Rotary Club of Philadelphia.