

FLYING SAUCER PHOTOS SHOWN

New York, June 12.— Three pictures purporting to show a flying saucer in action were published today by the "New York Journal-American." The paper said the photographs were taken by a farmer as a Saucer zipped over his barn near Dayton (Oregon).

One of the pictures showed a dome like object in the sky, another gave a close up side view, and the third showed the underside of the object.

The pictures were captioned "Do Saucers fly?—farmers' photos answer 'yes.'" Captain Eddie Risenbaker, aviation expert, be-kenbaker, aviation expert, believes Flying Saucers are real.

He said in Indianapolis today that too many good men had seen them—too many good men who did not have hallucinations.

“And if they exist, you can bet they belong to the United States air force,” he said. “They are not from Mars or Russia.”

Captain Rickenbaker is President of Eastern Airlines.
