

Flying Saucer?

Can any reader explain what this was? One afternoon recently I saw an object in the sky the size, colour, and shape of a full moon. It went towards the east slowly and at a low altitude. I was not "seeing things."

I read recently of a flying saucer seen by a resident of Ringarooma and heading south. I saw what appeared to be a star, throwing off red, blue, and green sparks. It was towards the north and might have been the phenomenon seen by others.
