

Believes In "Saucers"

"I would not discount all flying saucer reports as imagination," said the Rev.

Imagination," said the Rev. D. O'Connell when he sailed this week to take charge of the world's oldest observatory—the Vatican observatory at Castel Gandolfo. Fr. O'Connell, who has been at River-view Observatory for 30 years and director since 1938, added, however, that many American reports of "flying saucers" were merely imagination.
