

CANADA MAKING FLYING SAUCER

MONTREAL, Thurs. — Under Government supervision, a flying saucer is being made in Canada.

The blue prints have been prepared and already the aircraft has reached the drawing board stage.

British Air Ministry officials who inspected the blue prints said that the "saucer" would travel at 1500 miles per hour.