

Mystery object in Warwick sky

WARWICK, Thurs.—For about half an hour this afternoon a number of residents gazed skywards watching a mystery object moving slowly around at high altitude

Among the first to see it were Mr and Mrs. J. Windle, of Guy-street.

Mrs. Windle said her attention was first drawn to it about 3 p.m. It resembled a long white streak in the west. It was at a great height and moving slowly

It appeared at first to be a plane on fire. However, this idea was dispelled as it continued to move slowly south. Suddenly it moved almost vertically upward and turned and came straight down before seemingly to flatten out.

Then it moved slowly across the city to the north-north-east where it performed an evolution resembling a plane doing a slow motion somersault.

It appeared to flatten out again and when last seen about 3.30 p.m. was moving eastward.
