

SAUCER OR MUSHROOM?

A resident of Macarthur street saw a strange light appear in the sky shortly after 8 p.m. on Friday. He watched it for a while and was struck by the changing shape and color. Rather than have his story doubted, he immediately called some other residents to have a look. They, too, were intrigued.

Away to the north north-east at a height hard to estimate but a great deal below the normal height of visible stars, there was an orange or crimson glow. It faded, grew bright again and turned a wispy green. It seemed to be corrugated across the top. The light changed from green back to crimson and the object disappeared.

On Saturday evening, a number of other residents took up their position to watch but nothing of the saucer or mushroom shape appeared.

Mr. Bob Cobain junior was the one who first saw the glowing object but he stated that it was too far away to really describe its shape. It was the glow and the changing color that attracted his attention.
