

STRANGE OBJECT OVER ST. KILDA

Melbourne—A Melbourne astronomer has reported seeing an “unidentifiable object like a rectangular sheet of aluminium” flying over the southern suburbs.

He is Mr. John W. Boyle, 41-years-old vice-president of the Victorian branch of the British Astronomical Association.

Mr. Boyle, who is a cartographer with the Lands Department, has been interested in astronomy for about 26 years. He said tonight:

“I’ve never before seen anything in daylight that has been as puzzling to me.

“I have always kept an open mind on the things that people claim to have seen in the sky. Now I am convinced that there is something peculiar going on.”

Mr. Boyle sighted the object from St. Kilda at 11 a.m. on Sunday and kept it in view for 15 to 20 seconds.

“My first impression was

"My first impression was that it looked like a piece of paper being blown along by the wind; but it was a calm day, with little wind." he said.

"As it rocked from side to side it flashed in the sunlight like a sheet of aluminium. Each time it flashed a purplish halo appeared round it. I am certain it did not give off any light of its own and there were no vapor trails or jets."
