

ALIAS A "FLYING SAUCER"

COSMIC RAY researchers at Melbourne University released this balloon with scientific apparatus attached to get data on the strato-sphere.

THE RESEARCHERS fill the 8ft balloon with hydrogen before it soars off on its 1000ft a minute upward trip. Similar balloons released by the team have caused a flood of flying saucer reports in Melbourne. Four balloons have been released this month—two recovered.