

'Flying Saucers' As Seen In Victoria

Two Victorian railway men, who saw what they described as a "flying saucer" recently while driving and firing a train between Duverney and Berrybank, drew these pictures of the object they saw.

The drawings were made while