

£1000

FOR A PICTURE Argus "Saucer" offer still stands

The Argus offer of £1,000 for the first really authentic picture of a flying saucer, taken in Victoria, is still open.

Since the offer was first made in Thursday's issue, no satisfactory picture has been submitted.

To qualify for the £1,000 the picture must be reasonably clear and must stand clear and must stand the test of the closest expert examination to establish its genuineness.

The negative must be handed in with the print, and accurate details must be supplied regarding the time the picture the time the picture was taken and the precise location.

As far as possible descriptions should be supplied of the weather and sky conditions operating at the time, apparent height of the object, its direction of flight, color, light pattern, &c.