

He WAS real

LONDON, Wed.—The mystery of the Norwegian flying saucer and its spaceman pilot has been solved.

Yesterday, two Norwegian sisters reported they had found a spaceman in the hills above Mosjoen, North Norway.

But he was not a spaceman. He was an American airman. Air Force authorities reported today, according to the Daily Mail's Oslo correspondent.

And the airman was in a helicopter—not a flying saucer, as the sisters thought.
