

OBJECT OVER PARIS

PARIS, February 18
(A.A.P.-Reuter). — An unidentified object twice as big as a normal airliner hovered over Paris last night, radar men at Orley airport reported today.

They estimated that the object, which showed up on their radar screens, moved at about 1700 miles an hour, in between hovering at various points over the capital.

An Air Force pilot heading for London from Paris reported that he saw a red light winking above his plane, after being warned by the Orley sky control tower of an unidentified object.
