

UFO man from U.S. on visit

SYDNEY, Sunday. — A professor of the Atmospheric Physics Institute of the Arizona University arrived in Sydney last night to investigate Australian reports of flying saucers.

Professor J. B. McDonald, said he would meet leading scientists in Sydney, Melbourne and Canberra, and interview people who claimed to have sighted unidentified flying objects.

He refused to speak about his visit when questioned at Kingsford-Smith Airport last night.

"I have certain objectives and it is not my habit to talk about them until they are accomplished", he said.
