

LIKE TO LIVE IN A FLYING SAUCER?

★ LEFT: It's not really a ship from outer space, of course. It's a plastic house built in woods near Helsinki, Finland. But the black, ellipse-shaped windows are not unlike eyes staring maliciously at the curious onlooker, and it's a little bit frightening—particularly if you run into it unexpectedly. ABOVE: The specially constructed chairs in the "saucer" house are of plastic, of course. They can be drawn down to use as beds.