

U.F.O. "was meteorite"

The unidentified flying object reported over Eyre Peninsula last week was a fairly large meteorite, Ian and John Penna of Mount Wedge said in a letter to the "Times" this week.

They said they had a clear view of the object and agreed that it was a meteorite.

"It was a rather spectacular one in that it fragmented while burning up," they reported.

"Naturally it was very bright, however it burnt out miles from earth in the southern skies."