

We've identified that UFO which has appeared in front of Air Niugini House and will be officially unveiled today by the Minister for Transport and Civil Aviation, Mr Wingti, to launch Transport Week. It's a DC3 called C.B. Grey.

The powers that be decided that the historic DC3 should be named after the general manager of Air Niugini for the significant contribution he has made to aviation in PNG.

Talking of UFOs, what is grey and flies up Port Moresby's Three Mile Hill upside down? A grey Brownbuilt desk. The other day it slipped off a truck upside down and clobbered a passing car driven by a 22-year-old man.

And talking of slipping loads, which seems to be endemic among vehicles negotiating Port Moresby's hills, a big truck steamed through the red lights at Taurama the other day with a seven tonne compressor. The compressor wasn't on the truck tray. It had fallen off the truck and for a while this substantial unguided missile kept pace with the truck. The driver wasn't amused and neither were motorists in the immediate vicinity.

AND here's one for politicians. The time to stop talking is when the other person nods his head in the affirmative but says nothing.

Hats off to Israel Edoni, the popular secretary of the Department of Public Utilities retary of the Department of Public Utilities and his boys at P&T. A letter posted in Ireland on January 27 was delivered to Tom Gleeson in Port Moresby on February 6. Whats unusual about that? The letter was addressed to "Mr Tom Gleeson, C/- Pilot, Fokker Friendship Plane, New Guinea." Incidentally Israel recently scored another victory. He was elected president of the Port Moresby Golf Club.

LIVING on a budget is the same as living beyond your means except that you have a record of it.

A reminder for motorists:
You watch the bloke who drives ahead
And the bloke who drives behind.
You watch the right, and watch the left
And drive with a clear calm mind.
But the bloke you really have to watch
On the highway you will find
Is the bloke behind the bloke ahead
And ahead of the bloke behind.
