

250 to attend London UFO conference

LONDON, Friday (AAP-AP).
— More than 250 delegates from 14 countries will be studying new evidence of unidentified flying objects during a two-day international congress beginning on Sunday.

The organisers, the British UFO Research Association, said yesterday they expected around 300 might eventually turn up.

Among the speakers is Dr J. Allen Hynek, one of America's leading ufologists, as UFO-investigators are called. Dr Hynek is director of the Centre for UFO Studies at Evanston, Illinois, and for about 20 years was scientific consultant to the US Air Force on UFOs.

He is director of the Lindheiner Observatory in Illinois and has written two best-selling books — 'The UFO Experience' and 'The Hynek UFO Report'.

Another American ufologist addressing the congress is Dr Leo Sprinkle, a psychologist at the University of Wyoming.

The organisers said in a statement that the congress would discuss ways of improving the study of UFOs and re-examine the mounting worldwide evidence for close humanoid encounevidence for close humanoid encounters.
