

Sunday book reviews

UFOs: are they figments of overwrought imaginations, or are we really visited by spacecraft piloted by Aliens? Two people who "lost" two hours of their lives revealed under hypnosis that they were abducted and examined by Aliens. Ron Evans reviews an account of their experience; Malcolm Miller reviews a book about modern rail developments; Lyn Frost reviews a selection of new paperbacks.

