Hangar 18 (CIC Taft).

Should a UFO land on Earth, would our government release information or would they, as many believe, keep it top secret to avert national panic? This is the question raised with the making of this film.

As two astronauts are deploying a satellite from the space shuttle it collides with a UFO.

It lands in the south western US where it is taken under cover to Hangar 18.

Meanwhile, the two astronauts are anxious to discover what has happened but no one is talking.

The government will stop at nothing to keep them from the truth, and what will be done with Hangar 18?

Starring Darren McGavin, Robert Vaughn.

Trading Places (Dan Ackroyd, Blues Brothers, Eddie Murphy, 48 hours).

Dan Ackroyd, as Lewis Winthorpe III, trades places with Murphy (Billy Ray Valentine) as an experiment by the Duke Brothers, a wealthy Wall Street firm.

They take bets as to whether a down and outer like Valentine would be successful given the right environment, and will Winthorpe III, if he were deprived of all he takes for granted, turn to a life of crime?

The Duke Brothers arrange for this to

The Duke Brothers arrange for this to happen with hilarious results as Murphy becomes the golden boy of Wall Street until Winthrop and Valentine meet by chance and compare notes then decide to turn the tables and revenge is sweet.

Take two strangers, make one rich and one poor, and watch the fun while they trade places.

Comedy, available in VHS and Beta.

Condorman, starring Michael Crawford (Some Mothers Do Have Em), a Walt Disney home move.

A cartoonist adopts the identity of his own winged creation, Condorman, and suddenly his life explodes into high flying adventure with more fantasy and excitement than all of the comic strips put together.

The amazing special effects typical of Disney, combined with a series of hair-raising chases and mad-cap plots, is a wonderful crazy comedy for the whole family.

Available in VHS and Beta, 87 minutes.
