Alien antics no cause for alarm

SPACE aliens are friendly creatures and the public should not be alarmed by space ship abductions, according to a UFO investigator.

Jeff Spiro told the Sunshine Coast branch of UFO Research Queensland: "People should have no fears that extra-terrestrials will harm them or manipulate them. There is a powerful galactic organisation which will not allow for abuse."

He said that in the three years he had been investigating "temporary detentions" not one subject, to his knowledge, had been placed in danger.
