MYSTERY still surrounds several strange orange lights seen burning through the night sky across Port Phillip Bay early yesterday.

The police emergency line 000 received scores of calls, with residents from Altona to Geelong reporting the unidentified flying objects about 1.40am.

The lights were first thought to be distress flares but water police and UFO hotline spokesman Ross Dowe cast doubts on that theory.

"They must have been caused by space junk or meteors burning up in the atmosphere," a police spokesman said.

Mr Dowe said they were probably meteorites.
