

Has E.T. landed in NT?

Dozens of Outback UFO sightings

By GLENN MORRISON

Coloured lights in the sky, cigar-shaped and hat-like objects moving erratically and a spate of triangular-shaped aircraft.

These are just some of the sightings reported in the Territory Outback by tourists and residents in the past month.

One woman even said she was approached by three silvery creatures after a triangle-shaped craft landed in a paddock about 30km south of Wycliffe Well.

So has E.T. finally landed in the NT?

Roadhouse manager Lou Farkis said workers on the Alice Springs to Darwin railway had had many sightings.

There have been reports of UFOs at Wycliffe Wells for years.

"There are sightings here all the time ... but in the last month it has been almost nightly," Mr Farkis said.

"About five years ago we had a landing just 10km west of here every night for 28 days in a row. One guy filmed it and a TV channel bought the film from him."

Mr Farkis said one ADrail bridge worker inadvertently photographed a UFO while taking pictures of work at a nearby bridge.

"When he got the photograph of a bridge girder developed in Darwin, there was an object, like a big, black ball, in the background," he said.

Mr Farkis also said an Alice Springs woman was driving home last month when she saw a light in a paddock 30km south of Wycliffe Well, just off the Stuart Highway.

"She realised it was not the railway workers or the military and stopped," he said. "She told me she saw a triangular-shaped craft and then three silvery beings came out of it and walked towards her - it was then that she panicked and drove off."

Mr Farkis said Aboriginal elders had told him UFOs were common.

He said he had also seen a landing about five years ago.

"We had one that had portholes. It came down virtually on top of the park."

But most commonly seen, he claimed, was a pulsating orange light with little green lights all around it.
