

● X-RAY VISION

Off-the-wall invention

A British company has developed a backpacked-sized machine that lets you see through walls.

When held against a solid wall, the Prism 200c shows any movement on the other side on a hand-held screen using ultra-wideband radio frequencies.

Makers Cambridge Consultants expect it will be used by police and emergency services.

*My News (Sydney) Australia
4 May 2011 John Palazzi*